Junior high gets rostrum

Durable, solid oak was chosen as the material for the rostrum recently presented to the Forest Hills Junior High School by its student council. It is, according to the principal Clarence Boerman, an especially appropriate gift in view of the forthcoming dedication of the new junior high school building.

The podium, valued in excess of $100, was constructed by Elmer Northuis. His son, Junior High Student Council Advisor Paul Northuis, sanded the rostrum and applied the finish.

Ann Alexander, Roderick Black exchange vows

The marriage of Mrs. Ann Withey Alexander to Roderick N. Black, son of Mr. and Mrs. Noel K. Black of Ada Drive, Ada, took place Saturday in the chapel of the First Congregational Church, Ada, in the presence of the immediate families.

The Rev. Lee Dalrymple performed the ceremony.

Host family Christmas Day

The Robert Van Sluyters of 7100 Driftwood will entertain Mrs. Van Sluyters family at their home Christmas Day.

Instead of journeying over the snow to grandmother's house, as in days of old, grandmother and grandfather, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ross of St. Joseph will make the journey to Ada.

Also arriving in the Christmas tradition will be Mr. and Mrs. George Ratterman and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Wagner, aunts and uncles who will come from Chicago. Son, Rick, is home for the holidays from the Illinois College of Optometry.

Joining the family festivities on Sunday, will be Mrs. VanSluyters' sister and family, the F. W. Smiths of St. Joseph.

A festival of Christmas music

A Christmas Festival of Music will be presented at Trinity Lutheran Church, 2700 E. Fulton Street at Cascade Road, on Sunday, December 26, 7:30 p. m.

The service will include congregational singing of favorite Christmas carols and hymns and organ meditations. The organ will be played by Ronald R. McMahon, Trinity's Director of Music.

The organ selections to be included in the service are:

Overture from "For Us a Child is Born", by J. S. Bach; "In Dulci Jubilo", by J. S. Bach; "Von himmel hoch da komm' ich her", by Pachelbel; "March of the Wise Men", by Charles Black.

"Greensleeves", English Traditional Melody, arranged by R. Purvis; Pastorale from "Le Prologue de Jesus" by Clokey; "Alleluia," by Mozart; and "Tidings of Joy", by J. S. Bach.

Ski Club hopes for more snow

As soon as the snow flies, Thornapple Slopes will be a busy place. Every Tuesday, Mr. Hendrickson, Ski Club advisor for Forest Hills High School Ski Club, will conduct classes for beginners and those skiers who don't consider themselves advanced.

On Wednesdays advanced skiers will have a free run of the hill to practice and hopefully improve. Thursdays will be devoted to open skiing for anyone from the Ski Club. Also the ski team will practice and make itself ready for upcoming meets.

What the Ski Club needs is snow and more snow, if only the weatherman would cooperate a little Forest Hills could have a good ski team.

Scouts share Christmas with children at the Mary Free Bed Hospital

Troop 269 of Orchard View School held their annual Christmas party Monday evening.

It has become a custom for the boys to bring 2 gifts; one they exchange with each other and the other is sent to Mary Free Bed where they are distributed to the children there.

Scoutmaster, Albert Hulsapple is very proud of this worthwhile gift his boys are giving to the Mary Free Bed Hospital.

Amway pins 16 at awards banquet

Back row: Robert Rooker, plant manager; Hendrik VandeKemp, liquid production leadman; Gordon Haga, supervisor, building and grounds maintenance; Joseph Vezino, manager materials control; Jay VanAndel, chairman of the board; Richard DeVos, president; Walter Buttrick, manager sales promotion; James Koster, director of operations; and Jack Kennedy, director of manufacturing. Absent from the picture was Martha Washburn.

The Amway Corporation, Ada, held its first service-award banquet December 15th. Although numbering over 500 employees at present, Amway has been one of the fastest-growing firms in the state. Only 16 "old-timers," including the founders Jay Van Andel, Chairman of the Board, and Richard DeVos, President, qualified for five-year pins.

Amway was formally incorporated in November, 1959. Production began in a vacated industrial building on M-21, with the first plant expansion coming a few months later. The 22nd and 23rd expansions are now underway, bringing total floor space under roof to 180,000 sq. feet—a 100,000 sq. foot increase since 1964.

The firm produces almost 100 household cleaners and personal care products, all of which are handled exclusively on a direct-selling basis by more than 75,000 distributors in the U. S. and Canada. Total sales are over $36 million in 1965—up from $24 million in 1964. The firm has 23 warehouses in the U. S. and Canada.

Receiving 5-year service pins, besides Van Andel and DeVos, were Executive Secretary Kay Evans, Ada; Director of Operations James P. Koster, Grand Rapids; Director of Manufacturing Jack Kennedy, Lowell; Supervisor of Order Processing Carole Sandy, Lowell; Manager of Manufacturing Materials Control Joseph Vezino, Lowell; Payroll Clerk Dorthy Hecker, Rockford; Sales Promotion Manager Walter Buttrick, Ada; Supervisor of Buildings and Grounds Maintenance Gordon Haga, Ada; Production personel Jo Visser, Ada; Rose Steed, Grand Rapids; Martha Washburn, Grand Rapids; and Naomi Kelly, Ada; Liquid Production Lead Man Hendrick VandeKamp, Lake Odessa; and Plant Manager Robert Rooker, Ada.

New guard rail is installed at Cascade

The Cascade Pharmacy now has more protection, and it is hoped by Chuck Weston, that the new remodeling that has been going on, necessary after the September incident of an auto going through the front window, will stay intact.

The new guardrail is an 84 foot steel band on 28th Street approaching Cascade Road. Gerald C. Stiles, traffic engineer for the Kent County Road Commission said "If somebody can hop both the 9 inch divider and the 2 foot high guardrail he'll really be going".

Mr. Weston has completely redone the front of the store. The window that the car traveled through has been replaced with wood paneling with carriage lights and deacons benches flanked by two pine trees in black wooden barrels. The remaining large window is now all paned and makes a very charming setting. The interior has also been remodeled. The snack bar has been removed and a canteen service has been installed with tables and chairs to accommodate 12 people at a time.

Misrepresent violation of Ada Beef Co. claims

Evidence brought to the attention of this newspaper by John VanderBoon, who was charged with violation of child labor, back wages, etc., under the labors standards act does not truly represent the violations.

VanderBoon revealed that the statement that he failed to pay nine employees minimum wages or overtime did not represent the facts. Of the nine employees mentioned, one is a high school youth that was paid $1.50 for some work and $1.00 an hour for other but on the average would exceed the minimum wages. The eight men who are regular employees, VanderBoon stated, were paid the equivilent of overtime but figured in a way not acceptable to the labors standards act. the lowest paid man in the group made $7,400 last year.

No Complaint

The investigation of the Ada Beef Co. the VanderBoon Brothers operate came about through a routine check, not any complaint, the owners informed the paper. All of the men who are claimed to have been shorted $6,549 over the past two years have told the owners that if the company has to pay them this amount they will return the checks to the owners.

VanderBoon's complained of gestapo like methods used in questioning employees and unfair tactics and procedures. His violations were all of a technical nature, John VanderBoon pointed out. The employees have all backed the companies fairness to them, mot of the employees have been working here for many years.

For 20 pfennigs (about five cents), German postmen will wake you by phone, tell you the time, weather, news and even polling results, cooking recipes, theater programs, train schedules.

The first organizational meeting for all new and old chairmen of community programs is scheduled for Wednesday, January 12, 1966 at 9:30 a. m. at the Health Department at 1619 Walker, NW.

Wrestling...

Forest Hills grapplers remained in contention for the O-K conference wrestling championship title by defeating Byron Center, 53 to 5, last week.

Scoring pins for Forest Hills were Mark Bolhuis 95-lbs., Mark Smith 112-lbs., Jack Zoodsma 120-lbs., Dean Richards 127-lbs., Gary Crinion 133-lbs., and Gary Brooks 138-lbs.

Helping to push Forest Hills' total points to 53, were pins by Mark Smith 145-lbs., Gary Wingeier 180-lbs., and Jim Hill, heavyweight.

Best year ever

One hundred and forty-six children in the Forest Hills area are having a better and brighter Christmas this year, all because of an effort known locally as Operation Santa Claus.

In its eighth year of service to the community, dear 'old Santa contacted 32 homes bringing Christmas cheer and joy. In most all instances, each child received a new jacket, socks, mittens, a stuffed animal and candy. Food baskets, including a turkey, went to each of the homes.

We are most appreciative for the help and support of several schools in the Forest Hills district. A check for $172.62 came from junior high; $41.60 from the Senior high; and $28.25 from Cascade School. In addition, the children of Ada and Cascde Schools sent along many sox, mittens and toys.

Not reported as yet were gifts from the following groups:$46.50 from the Thornapple Lions; $25 from the Vesta Chapter, OES; $10 from the CAMS and $10 from the Baby Mine Company.

It is impossible to relate all personal checks and gifts, although the monetary giving has now gone past thirteen hundred dollars as church and community have opened hearts and pocketbooks to us as never before.

Mr. and Mrs. John Titsworth, co-chairmen, wish to thank all who served and sacrificed to make this a merrier Christmas. The next issue of Suburban Life will carry a financial summary and recap of the 1965 Operation Santa Claus project.

Whose Birthday?

Judging by the gifts that are given and received we might come to the conclusion that all of us have a birthday on December 25. Some people were born on that date, but they are a small percentage of the total population. Actually it is the birth of Jesus in Bethlehem of Judea that we should be celebrating as the word "Christmas" indicates. It is regrettable that many of our "Christmas" customs and practices have no room for Christ.

The birthday of Jesus is highly remarkable. It is celebrated all over the world. History itself is divided into B. C. (Before Christ) and A. D. (Anno Domini, the Year of our Lord). The commemoration of the birth of Christ goes on from age to age throughout history. There are now over 1200 languages and dialects in which the story of the birth of Jsus is recorded.

The birthday of Jesus is most remarkable because Jesus was born of the virgin Mary, and because His name indicates that He saves His people from their sins. There is no other name under heaven given among men whereby we must be saved. (Acts 4:12) Let us then celebrate Christmas as the birthday of Jesus, the Savior of sinners! May your Christmas be Christian! —John Guichelaar

"You mean R as in rabbit?" inquired the Iowan.

"No, ma'am," replied the Georgian. "Ah like in iris."

Congressional Record

By Joe Crump

WHAT ABOUT CREEPING SOCIALISM?

Senator Frank Church (Idaho) . . . "The cries of 'creeping socialism' and the 'welfare state' fill the air as a shorthand way of criticising the work of the Congress. How much truth is there in the charge? How close are we to socialism? I discussed this question . . . at Georgetown University." (The Senator's condensed discourse follows)

"Ever since I can remember, I have been hearing about 'creeping socialism' in the United States. After all these years, I am prepared to admit there is something to the argument. Since the end of the Second World War, socialism has been creeping, not into, but out of, our national life.

" 'Socialism is defined by Webster as 'The collective of government ownership—of essential means of production of goods.' Just how does our Government stack up against that definition?

'Immediately following the war, the Federal Government commenced to divest itself of manufacturing plants, food processing establishments, warehouses, and other holdings of a business character . . . The program of divestment, under both Democratic and Republican administrations, has been a direct repudiation of socialism, and a deliberate endeavor to bolster and enlarge the private sector of our economy.

"Indeed, we are now engaged in an effort to close down Government-owned Navy yards —Socialist operations going back nearly a hundred years—for the purpose of strengthening the private shipbuilding industry.

"While other industrialized countries put the Government in the business of building most of the housing, we chose a system of tax incentives and an FHA program of low interest loan guarantees, which left the vast majority of building and lending in private hands. The Federal Government now finances housing projects almost exclusively in those areas of low income where private capital cannot, or will not venture.

'Whpe other countries have nationalized their power systems, in the United States, 76 percent of our power is today generated by private industry, with only 13 percent generated by the Federal Government.

"It is true that our economy is a mixture of things. There is a certain amount of Government ownership, particularly at the State and local level. We also have our farm cooperatives, our REA's and our non-profit associations. But the essential character of our economy has been sturdily preserved. Even public transportation—railroads, airlines, buses, steamships and public communication, telephones, telegrams, radio, television, all have remained largely in private hands.

"By any standard of measurement, free enterprise in America is just doing fine."

A GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

Free enterprise in America should continue to "do just fine."

It will, just as long as the citizenry are alert to any drift towards government operation of tax-producing business.—J.C.

The class was having a discussion about the Last Judgment. The teacher stressed that all bodies would rise that day—those of Washington, Lincoln, Caesar, Napoleon, even the Beatles.

"Wow!" one student interrupted. "I'm going to bring my autograph book!"

"And it came to pass in those days..."

So begins in St. Luke the story that has stirred the world for two thousand years. Four hundred and fourteen simple words that tell good tidings of great joy and stir our hearts still, no matter what our faith may be. It is well to take time to pause in this season to read again Luke's account of the birth of a Child in a Stable; and then do as the Child's Mother did: keep these things and ponder them in our hearts. May the good cheer, hope and peace of the season abundantly bless you and your loved ones. Sincere Season's Greetings from Manager Robert L.
