Further Report On Consolidation Procedures

Attention has been focused, in the proposed school consolidation, mainly upon its advantages and the procedures necessary to bring this plan before the voters of the 12district area.

At an evening meeting, Septem- ahead. ber 14, in the Ada school, the various school boards were presented, along with the report in book form of Harold S. Chambers, technical consultant for the district survey, a mimeographed copy of various procedures necessary in making, this consolidation possible. Besides the procedures already presented again in operation. Once more in Suburban Life, a section of the from 3:00 to 4:15 the warning copy deals with annexation procedures.

Assuming that the consolidation is approved by the voters of several districts at a special election, it is still possible for districts not approving the plan at that time can be transmitted to the second to be included at a later date in the consolidated area. This can be pleted as soon as possible. done by annexation.

The district or districts can, after deciding to join the consolidated area, approach the annexing district and seek their approval. Approval must also be gained from the County Superintendent of Public Education.

If approval from both the annexing district and the county superintendent is received, the district seeking the merger must then present the request to the electors of their district. If a majority of the electors of that district desire the step, that district then becomes a part of the consolidated area.

If the district seeking entry into the larger group has a bonded indebtedness, the identity of that district shall not be lost and its territory shall remain as the assessing unit. If the question of assuming the indebtedness is not submitted to the annexing district the identity of the annexed district shall remain expressed surprise that the prountil the indebtedness has been retired or the outstanding bonds refunded by the annexing district.

If the district to be annexed has no indebtedness, the school electors must approve an increase in millage up to the amount of the millage in the annexing district. The board of education shall see to it that the tax levy shall be uniform in all the combined districts.

It is important to again point out board. that these steps cannot be taken without the approval of the majority of school electors.

Flasher Signals Set At Cascade School

The flasher signals for the Cascade school were installed on US-16 this past week. The school board, concerned with the potential danger existing for children near the heavily traveled road, voted earlier for their pur chase. The flashers are located in the familiar yellow diamond shaped signs that warn approaching motorists of a school area,

The flashers are completely automatic, being operated by a time clock mounted on the rear of the sign. The amber colored lights go on at 8:00 a. m. and continue to flash until 9:15 From 11:15 till 1:15 they are signal is on silent duty. During the week-ends, the signals are not in operation. Gove School Plans Conservation Program For Coming Year

Typical of the few one-room schools remaining in the ACE area is Gove, located on 30th street near Buttrick avenue. Miss Adrianna Niemeyer, present teacher, is the latest in a long line of devoted "School Marms" who taught many Cascade area adults their three R's.

Miss Niemeyer, conscious of the rural background of her pupils, is planning, along with the usual three R's, an ambitious project this semester on Conservation. The pupils are going to be introduced to Soil study and if the enthusiasm of their teacher is any indication, the project will be far from boring and certain to be of great benefit to them in later years.

The study will be divided into three phases—Soil Erosion, Soil Contour and Soil Profile. The children will keep notebooks and the purpose of the study will by to stress the direct relation between soil conservation and the economy of our country. Realizing the value of practical observ, ation, Miss Niemeyer has plans for three field trips to study the subject at close range.

Pupils and teacher alike are proud of the large display of butterflys and moths which occupies a prominent spot in the classroom. According to Miss, Niemeyer the collection is the work of Walter and Richardy Buttrick who spent several months capturing and mounting the display. Each specimen is properly labeled, complete with Latin names, and the boys, striv-ing for neatness, carefully typed the identifying labels.

Twenty-two students attend class at Gove and the grades carry through the eighth year. This semester there are no pupils in the second grade.

Rezoning Proposal Needs New Petition

Fifty people came to the public hearing before the Cascade Township Zoning board Saturday evening at the town hall on the question of rezoning the Walker property on Laraway Lake road from Class B residential to Commercial purposes.

MacDonald-Osmer Post No. 451 American Legion is buying the fifteen acres and proposes to build a clubhouse for legion and community meetings, and to open the grounds to civic and youth groups. Some adjacent property owners oppose the change to commercial rating on the ground that such zoning, once acquired, means loss of long-range control of the area's use.

Opinion seemed to be about equally divided. Decision of the zoning board was to ask that interested persons circulate a new petition, containing restrictions on the Csborne; vice president, Barbara use of the property.

FRESH DRESSED

Letter to Editor

Dear Editor-

I certainly feel sorry for those inconvenienced residents on US-16, in regards to the barrier obstacles, that put them through so much trouble. I read that these unfortunate people have to travel 384 miles a year to: reach a definite opening in the buffer strip beyond their driveways. Well, if I recall correctly, we had a vote on blacktopping roads throughout the county or shall I say township. Evidently, it was turned down.

I heartily feel, that it was the fault of the people with good tide in their favor, for the simple reason it would cost them a few, measly mills in taxes. They don't realize or care, that we with the washboard roads have to contribute in taxes toward building up their good roads. By the way, getting back to their inconvenience and adding mileage to their cars; do they realize deep down in their hearts, what it costs us for upkeep of our cars, driving on these washboard roads day in and out? I wish very honestly and sincerely, that this will be some food for their thoughts and that they will quit complaining.

To be truthful, I believe we have quite a few selfish people' in this township, which is wrong. After all I generally like to go along with this proverb, "De unto others as you would have them do unto you", or otherwise, "what's good for the goose is good for the gander."

Believe me, what we need in this area are more broad minded people and a good five cent cigar to keep 'em satisfied.

I don't in any way, want to mislead you and have you think' that I am a sorehead, as I think, ctherwise. Just like to give credit where credit is due. If folk's' in this area expect it to grow, they certainly will have to change their views and attitudes. Yours truly,

Leon Danielski. 1955 Laraway Lake rd.

P. S. If you ask me, we could, have had our roads blacktopped and also the high school built if the certain people put their minds to it.

Owing to an injured foot and unable to drive, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Rooker accompanied their son Melvin to his home in Battle Creek for the week end, returning home with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rooker and baby who were Sunday guests of Melvin and family.

Still being unable to print any organized opposition on the school consolidation, we will do readers in on some of the "off the record" remarks we have picked up in our conversations with Ace area citizens. In this way we are not putting anyone on the "spot" and yet we are definitely bringing both sides of the issue to the foreground. The majority of those opposed to the consolidation are not against the idea of a high school as such In fact if a vote were taken at the present time on the need for a local high school, I'm sure the large majority of the local voters would be in favor of the project. Other factors, however, cause an undercurrent of dissatisfaction with the proposed and sisters. plans.

Higher taxes are the major cause for lack of enthusiasm on the part of many. The farmers in certain districts feel that the necessary millage to build and operate the proposed high school would raise their taxes to the burdensome stage. Others have stated that they are satisfied with the present system of paying transportation and tuition to other school districts. These persons also feel that the talk about discarding this method in the future could change if a new administration were installed in Lansing. Others, on the fringe areas are satisfied with the present setup and have remarked that annexation with districts not in the present 12 district area might be more desirable for them. Most of the smaller districts fear that under the 7-man board system, their ideas will be ignored, and feel, also, that the larger districts will be able, by force of sheer numbers, to manage things according to their viewpoints. There are other ideas also that are prevalent but those mentioned will serve the purpose of this section of your ACE Reports. × To us on the staff of Suburhan Life, there is growing evidence of the fact that the residents of this area are beginning to feel that the ACE area is real. ly one community. Through the advertising in our paper, people are becoming aware of the value of trading with local merchants. Various comunity events are drawing more and more people from the entire area. There is still a certain amount of uncof operativeness between the communities. This is to be expected, in a certain sense, but as time, goes on, I'm certain that community events will be planned so that they do not conflict with one being held on the same date in a neighboring village. Subur ban Life, can, with your help, eliminate many of these minor problems. We do not of course want to discourage competition or local pride in your community but we do feel that certain projects could well be shared by the entire area.
