Nurse from Vietnam Visits Ada

Mrs. Laura Yergan, a Lt. Cmdr. in the Nurse Officer Reserve Corps, US Public Health Service, relaxes at the Ada home of Mrs. Max Pearse, Thornapple River dr. Arriving by plane in Grand Rapids Tuesday afternoon at 1 p. m., Mrs. Yergan was the speaker at a well attended meeting in the Ada Town Hall Tuesday evening. She spoke of her experiences in Viet Nam, Indo China.

Visiting the home of Mrs. Max Pearse, Thornapple River dr., Ada, this past week was Mrs. Laura Yergan, a Lt. Cmdr. in the Nurse Officer Reserve Corps of the US Public Health Service.

Arriving from Saigon, Vietnam, Mrs. Yergan was met at the Grand Rapids airport by Mrs. Pearse. A reception was held in the Ada Town Hall Tuesday evening and Mrs. Yergan spoke about her experiences in the Far East.

While a nursing instructor and medical missionary in Liberia, West Africa, Mrs. Yergan became acquainted with Rev. Max Pearse jr., who was also serving in that country.

Since that time Mrs. Pearse and Mrs. Yergan have corresponded regularly although Tuesday's meeting was their first.

Before the partition of Indo China in October, 1953, Mrs. Yergan was stationed in Hanoi. Following the mass transfer of hundreds of thousands of refugees when the partition was decided upon, she went to Saigon where she was Nursing School Advisor to Vietnam.

Five American nurses made up the staff there and two separate schools were set up, one in Central and the other in South Vietnam. Purpose of the schools, said Mrs. Yergan, were to improve basic nursing education and to raise the status of the nursing profession in that country.

Mrs. Yergan will be in the US until the end of August and her next assignment will take her to Nepal, a small country in the Himalayan mountains north of India.

Well qualified for her task, Mrs. Yergan organized a nursery for children of leprosy parents while stationed in Liberia. At that time she was associated with the National Council of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

Ground Breaking Ceremonies Sunday For Cascade Christian Church

This coming Sunday, June 24, groundbreaking ceremonies for the new Educational Building of the Cascade Christian Church will take place after the morning service.

According to Rev. H. Barnard, pastor of the Church each member attending the morning service will bring a shovel. When the morning worship is ended the congregation will file out of the church, singing a hymn, and will line up outside, forming the outline of the new building. At a signal from the two building program chairmen, Robert Cribley and Carl Keck, the members will turn a shovelful of earth.

This unusual ceremony will mark the end of many months of planning and work for the local congregation and the next phase of the program is up to the building contractor Maynard Vander Wal, Jenison, who has built many churches throughout the Western Michigan area.

Besides Cribley, chairman of the Building Fund and Keck, who headed the Building Plans committee and is now chairman of the construction committee, other members include Tommy Ray, John Hamer and Mrs. Rue Osmer who is the Building Fund Treasurer.

The new 2 story building, of brick veneer and cement block construction will be approximately 60 by 40 feet and will contain a large Fellowship Hall, 47 by 38 feet where where various church and community affairs will be held. Cost will be between $45,000 and $50,000.

Rev. Barnard extended an invitation to all persons in the community who are interested in the church and it's plans for the future to attend the services next Sunday and the ceremony which follows. Morning worship will begin at 11 a.m.

Architects for the new building are J. and G. Daverman. Fred Burger, local heavy equipment operator, will begin excavation work next Monday morning.

Ada Second Team Has Two Wins

Two games played at the Ada field in the last two weeks have spelled victory each time for Ada's second team, managed by Herm Heemstra, Sr.

Last week Wednesday Herm Heemstra, Jr., was the winning pitcher as Ada clobbered Freeport 18 to 17.

This past Tuesday Ada played Clarksville under the lights and the score, once again favoring the local team, was 8 to 7. Ron Boersma was the winning pitcher.

School Board Lists Plans For Future

In the first of what will be a regular series of news bulletins, sent to school electors in the recently consolidated districts, the temporary Board of Education and Harold S. Chambers, newly appointed superintendent of the district, notified the people of the latest developments and plans for the future that have been undertaken by the board.

In abbreviated form the news bulletin is as follows.

A temporary office for the superintendent has been set up in the Martin School building. Mrs. Velma Kayser is serving as office secretary and will be in the office for the remainder of this month during the morning hours only.

Chambers will work, both out of this office and his home. Persons having any questions or problems regarding the new school set up are urged to call the office GL1-3681, or CH5-9461 which is the phone number at the home of Mr. Chambers.

Next month, July 9, five school board members will be elected. Those elected will serve as the permanent Board of Education for the new district. At this election, salaries of the board members will be voted. Terms of office are as follows; one for 1 year, two for 2 years, and two for 3 years.

The present "interim" Board is taking action at the present time only on urgent matters. Such far reaching matters as the selection of a site for the high school, hiring an architect, choosing a name for the new district, setting up a permanent office, planning an operating budget, etc., will be decided by the permanent board.

The "interim" Board has approved a plan of providing insurance for students while at school and also while engaged in school activities. It is hoped that these policies will be ready for the opening of the new school term next September.

Present custodians of the various schools and the bus drivers have been invited to attend a training conference at Michigan State University on June 27, 28, and 29.

The Board stated that use of the school buildings by Mother's Clubs and other groups, transportation matters, present personnel, etc., will be managed in the same way as they have been in the past except where money savings can be effected or where there is room for definite improvement. Very few changes will be made and past relationship of electors to their neighborhood schools will remain virtually unchanged.

Fred Sherk, Cascade rd., has been engaged as auditor. At the present time he is merging all operating funds and debt funds of each of the former 9 districts. When his work is finished, a complete report will be published. Sherk will also set up a bookkeeping and disbursement plan.

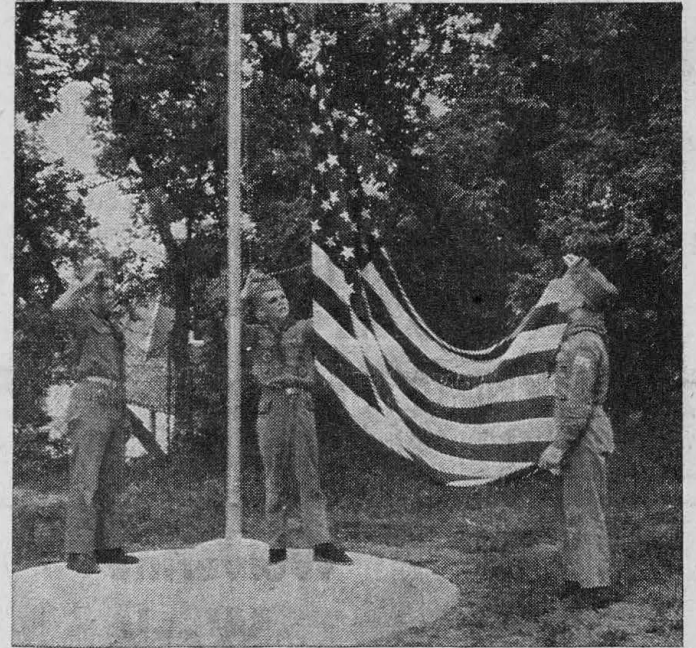

Under the new State School Code, an Annual Meeting is not authorized for Districts like the new one. The Board however, is extending an invitation to all interested citizens to come to the voting precinct at 8 p.m., July 9, when the election is over, for coffee and an informal discussion.

Details of the election; time, place and other details will of course be printed in Suburban Life.

Extend Sympathy

People in the Cascade area wish to extend their sympathy to the family of Andrew Fleischman who died last Friday, June 15. Mr. Fleischman was buried in Resurrection Cemetery.

Ada Boy Scouts Celebrate Flag Day

Last week Thursday Ada area Boy Scouts commemorated Flag Day by marching through the village from the corner of Thornapple River dr., to the Ada School grounds where Old Glory was raised on the newly erected flag pole. In the upper scene, Joe Cooper, with the American Flag and Donald Dietz, holding the troop flag, present the colors while other members stand at attention. Lower picture shows Jerry Boomers, Color Bearer and Robert Perrin, Jr., and Tom Huekels, Color Guards, preparing to raise the flag. Bob Perrin, Scout Master, is to the left in the upper view.

GOC Gets New Windometer

Members of the Thornapple Valley GOC post have purchased a Windometer with proceeds from a dance put on by the post last January. A Windometer is a precision instrument which records the speed and velocity of the wind and also records outside temperatures.

The Post plans a paper sale in the near future and profits from this project will be used to purchase a barometer. These two instruments will be of great help to the post and the entire community in the weather reporting which most GOC posts are doing in addition to the usual aircraft spotting.

Fractures Leg In Fall

This past Wednesday, June 13, John H. Smith, 4638 Ada dr., suffered fractures of his leg, ankle and foot when a scaffold on which he was working broke.

Smith, a carpenter, was working near the Grand Rapids Osteopathic Hospital when the accident occurred. When the scaffold broke, Smith fell to the ground, landing on concrete. He was taken to the Osteopathic Hospital for treatment.

Ada Merchants Win and Lose

Keeping up their .500 average, the Ada Merchants lost and won their last two ball games. Last Thursday's game with C and O Railroad was a close one, the final score being 5 to 4.

In spite of two homers, one by Stan Osmolinski, manager of the local team, the other by Pat Bigelow, the Merchants could not make the grade. Persons attending the game stated that Bigelow's four bagger was the longest ball ever hit at the Ada field. John Sytsma was the losing pitcher in spite of a beautiful performance. Sytsma held the hits down to 4 for the entire game.

Monday night's game with Calvary Reformed was a walk away for the local boys, the final score being 7 to 2. Herm Heemstra had his second victory of the season and showed a definite improvement in control.

No homers were belted in this game and the hardest hit ball was a triple by Garner Collins of the Merchants who drove in two runs in the 6th inning.

An added attraction for the spectators was the concession stand which will be a permanent fixture at all games this season.

Toot! Toot! 1956 Showboat Gathers Steam Tenth Annual Talent Night Will Be Saturday, July 14; 15 Acts Already In

Plans for the Tenth Annual Talent Night, to be held on July 14 at 8 p. m. in the Showboat stadium, are now underway, according to C. H. Runciman, Showboat Interlocutor and chairman for the event.

Mr. Runciman reports that about fifteen acts have already registered with him, and each day's mail brings more applications. He stresses, however, that early registration is desirable, as the number of acts will be limited to fifty this year. Mr. Runciman also advised that music and dance teachers enter only those pupils who are likely winners. This will enable the Amateur Night audience to witness a greater variety of talent.

Amateur Night Growing

A check back into the Ledger files indicates that the annual search for amateur talent to play featured spots in the Showboat program has been a growing project. In 1949 only twenty-five acts were expected. And then there was last year! The number of amateurs desiring a "claim to fame" was so large that officials decided to present the acts in two evening shows, a week apart. This year, however, the one-night plan is being re-adopted. Dave Clark Jr., local American Legion commander, expressed the opinion that one night would probably be more successful and profitable than two.

"The popcorn business will be better, too," he said.

Working jointly with the American Legion is the Lowell Board of Trade, headed this year by Jerald Roth. Proceeds from the sale of tickets will be divided between the two organizations. Admission price is 60 cents.

Wide-Spread Talent

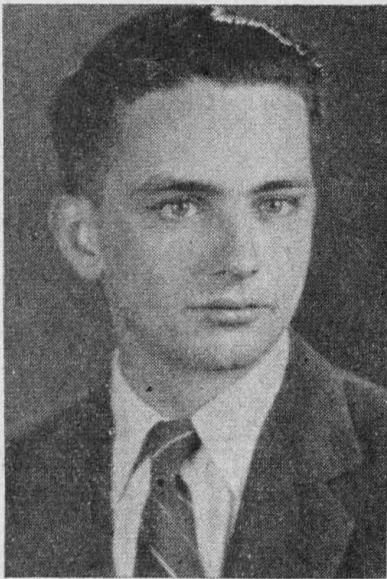

Talent for Amateur Night comes from all over the state. Last year's winners came from Portland, Alma, Ithaca, Grand Rapids, Lansing and Freeport. This year even more wide-spread interest is anticipated. Performers entering the contest should write a letter to C. H. Runciman, Lowell, Michigan, listing correct names and addresses, and ages of all members in the act, and the type of act to be presented. Contestants will appear on the program in the order in which the applications are received.

Others serving with Chairman Runciman on the Amateur Night committee are Walter Gumser, Jack Howe, Ed Kiel, Theron Richmond, Cary Stiff Jr., and Dan Walker.

Showboat Dates

The 1956 edition of the Lowell Showboat will be presented from July 23 through 28. All seats this year will be reserved, with prices starting at one dollar. For reservations, write or call the Showboat Ticket Office, Lowell, Michigan. Phone TW 7-9257. Make checks or money orders payable to Lowell Showboat.

David Stiff Receives Medical Degree

David Parker Stiff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cary P. Stiff of 620 Dogwood Ave., Ada, graduated last Saturday afternoon from the University of Michigan Medical School in Ann Arbor, climaxing seven years of higher education.

A graduate of Lowell High School, David was the co-salutatorian of the class of 1949. He entered Dartmouth College, from which institution his father graduated, and in 1953 received his Bachelor of Arts degree with Magna Cum Laude recognition.

While only a junior in college he was elected to the Phi Beta Kappa honorary scholastic society. In his senior year he became a member of Alpha Kappa Kappa, the national medical fraternity.

After graduating from the two-year medical school at Dartmouth in 1954, Dr. Stiff attended the University of Michigan Medical School where he was recently elected to Alpha Omega Alpha, the honorary medical society, in recognition of his outstanding record. On June 29, Dr. Stiff will report to Pennsylvania Hospital in Philadelphia where he will begin his year-long internship.

Your Washington Review

by
Congressman
JERRY FORD

One important piece of legislation passing the House of Representatives last week involved an attack on water pollution. The purpose of this bill, known as the Water Pollution Control Act, is to continue and improve cooperative programs now carried on by the Public Health Service with state and interstate water pollution control agencies. The program was enacted originally in the 80th Congress.

Provision is made in the bill for increased technical assistance to states on new and complex problems and to broaden research programs for determining the effects of pollution on public health. The bill also calls for development of better and more economical methods of waste treatment and increased assistance through federal grants-in-aid.

Under one section of the bill as approved by the House $500 million is authorized for allotment over a 10-year period to states, municipalities, and interstate agencies to assist in the construction of sewage treatment plants. The Senate version, passed on July 17, 1955 doesn't include this provision. The federal share of the expense for these local projects would be allotted to the states by the Surgeon General on the basis of population, extent of the pollution and the local financial needs.

This particular section raised some controversy during debate but was retained by a vote of 213 to 165 with your Congressman in opposition. Many cities of Kent and Ottawa Counties have already met water pollution and sewage problems as a purely local obligation with their own funds. There is no provision in the bill to reimburse those communities which have gone ahead and constructed their own plants without federal assistance. In addition, opponents of this section argue that it opens up an entirely new federal activity with the bill providing for the expenditure of half a billion dollars. It seems that once this initial appropriation is made and some municipalities receive aid, greater demands will be forthcoming on the federal treasury to extend this program. With these thoughts in mind I did not believe that this controversial section would benefit the taxpayers or cities of the Fifth District. On final passage I supported the bill although I disapproved of the one provision. Perhaps in conference the Senate version will prevail.

Michigan Interest in Washington

As a result of seasonal unemployment problems confronting Michigan's automotive industry, Representative Louis C. Rabaut and I were selected as a bi-partisan committee on behalf of the 18 Members of the Michigan delegation to contact the Department of Defense and emphasize the necessity for immediate action to bolster our state's economic conditions. On June 13th Rep. Rabaut and I drove to the Pentagon where we were assured by the Assistant Secretary of Defense, Thomas P. Pike, that his Department is acutely aware of these problems besetting Michigan industry. He informed us that the Army, Navy, and Air Force procurement offices have been alerted to aid and assist Michigan industry and labor in seeking defense contracts. All told, within a three-month period starting 30 days ago approximately $100 million in new military procurement orders will be in Michigan factories.

Stronger Anti-Trust Law

The House of Representatives passed a bill to strengthen our Nation's anti-trust law last week by a vote of 393-3. According to the sponsor of H. R. 11 (H. R. 1840) the original intent of anti-trust legislation was to provide equal opportunity to small merchants and independent businessmen by prohibiting preferential discounts, secret rebates and under-the-counter deals discriminatory to the hometown merchants. The bill just passed is intended to guarantee to the retailer purchasing goods for resale the same price from the supplier that this supplier grants to his competitors under similar terms and conditions. After questioning the sponsor of this bill during the debate I was assured that it would in no way effect present delivered pricing or freight absorption rates on goods shipped by distant suppliers to manufacturers and fabricators in the Fifth District of Michigan.

Helping Service Dependents

Children of armed forces personnel who died in the line of duty during World War II or the Korean conflict will soon be able to receive federal help toward a college education from the provisions of a bill approved by the Congress last week. Known as "War Orphans' Educational Assistance Act of 1956" it will entitle eligible persons to financial assistance while attending college for periods of up to 36 months.

For Distribution

I have 100 copies of a booklet titled "The Prayer Room in the United States Capitol" which I will be happy to distribute on a "first-come-first-serve" basis. This booklet does an excellent job of describing this quiet place set aside in the Capitol for meditation by Members of Congress.

REGARDLESS OF their position in the final standings, the Tigers have done more to show that the American League pennant race is far from a "one team" race than anything that has yet happened this season.

By whipping the Yankees in their own back yard three straight games recently, the Bengals made it perfectly clear to the other teams that the Yanks, far from the traditional New York steamroller, are just "nine guys out there."

Taking heart from the drubbing administered by the Tigers, who seemingly almost always give the Yankees a rough time, other clubs have been adding a few licks of their own.

Weak Pitching

Although it remains true that the Yankees can still beat you over the head with their power, their pitching and fielding reveal some glaring deficiencies.

Particularly on the mound are the New Yorkers weak, a situation that Manager Casey Stengel freely admits has him worried. Outside of Whitey Ford, who's taken a few good raps himself recently, Ol' Case has no one he can depend upon.

Don Larsen should be his number two pitcher, but Larsen walks a lot of batters. His trouble is that he seeks too fine a control. As a consequence, many of his pitches just miss the corners.

Bob Turley has proved a major disappointment. Turley throws just as hard as ever, but it doesn't mean much when you can't get the ball over the plate.

Balls Dropping In

Tommy Byrne was ill for quite awhile and has not regained full effectiveness. Young Johnny Kuecks has slipped from his fine performances of last year. And so it goes in the pitching department.

In fielding, both the Yankee infield and outfield are letting balls drop for hits that Yankee teams of other years would surely have caught.

The 1956 Yankees' greatest asset is their superb bench strength. Stengel can call for any one of a number of good players to come in, in a tight spot, and belt the long ball.

Can He Continue?

Moreover, Mickey Mantle has come into his own this year and Yogi Berra remains the old reliable.

Mantle's explanation for his phenomenal hitting is that he isn't swinging at as many bad balls, particularly those coming in high and low. He's making the pitchers come across with some good ones and he's belting them.

However, it seems unlikely that Mickey can maintain such a scorching pace. If he did, he would rewrite virtually every hitting record in the book.

Stengel still firmly believes his team will win the pennant, but should Mantle taper off and the pitching and fielding fail to improve, what then?

Legion Elects Officers; Plans Dance

McDonald-Osmer American Legion Post No. 451 of Cascade had the installation of their newly elected officers at the club house June 15 at eight o'clock.

The officers are Commander Russell Knox, First Vice-Commander Bernard Nickel, Second Vice-Commander Sybrant Dykhouse, Chaplain Carl Fletcher, Finance Officer Al Mally, Sergeant-at-Arms Arthur Hunter, Service Officer Ben Waskiewicz, Historian and Adjutant Bob Warners.

Post No. 451 also announces they will sponsor a dance June 23 at 8:30 o'clock in the evening. It will be held at the Amvets Post (formerly Night Hawk Casino) at Campau Lake with Ma Loveless and Her Boys playing. This dance is being given to benefit the building fund.

Riding Your Bicycle? Use These Safety Rules

Does your child know his bicycle safety rules? One of the most important laws for young bike riders to follow is to stay on the right side of the road, moving with traffic.

Automobile Club of Michigan also reminds parents to urge their children to (1) ride one to the bike (2) signal when turning (3) to make sure the bike has all safety equipment like reflector lights, a headlight and a good horn or bell.

State's Servicemen Should Act Now to Insure Vote This Year

New and simpler procedures for voting by Michigan servicemen are in force in 1956 according to Secretary of State James M. Hare.

"The Legislature combined the processes of registration and application for an absentee ballot. It is not too early for parents, relatives and close friends of servicemen and women to take steps necessary to assure them of their opportunity to cast their ballots," said Hare.

Applications should be made to the clerk of the city or township in which he is a resident. This should be made to the clerk of the city or township in which he is a resident. This should be done by a letter to the clerk asking for an absentee ballot, and if the serviceman is not a registered voter, it should ask for registration forms.

The city or township clerk will then send the registration forms and the ballot to the person in the service. The forms should be filled according to the directions, and returned to the clerk who sent them out.

Applications should be sent to the city or township clerk so that they are received about a month before the election.

"Parent should start now to remind their servicemen to write their letters to city or township clerks. The procedure is simple enough so that anybody in the service can make sure of his opportunity to vote, if only he will take the time to write the letter of request," says Mr. Hare.

You're proud of our beautiful peninsula and feel privileged to live in Michigan and to celebrate MICHIGAN WEEK.

We have scenery, industry, commerce, finance, recreational facilities and everything that makes up a better way of life.

As citizens of a sovereign state of the United States we are not only governed by the federal constitution, but also by the Michigan constitution.

In fact, Michigan has had three constitutions since acquiring statehood.

The first was drafted in 1835 when the people of Michigan Territory applied for statehood under the old Northwest Ordinance. In this first document, adopted in 1836, the geographical limits of the state could not be defined because of the boundary disputes with Ohio and Wisconsin—but the framers spelled out the rights to liberty and equality in Article I, entitled A Bill of Rights. This article was more complete than the corresponding federal declaration containing 21 sections.

In 1849, as the state grew and settled her "border wars" with her neighbors, the voters chose to revise the constitution and elected delegates to prepare the constitution of 1850. Although the boundaries were described accurately, the bill of rights disappeared. Instead, the framers prepared a stilted document which dealt generally with the system and mechanics of government.

In 1907, the people again voted to revise their constitution. Delegates from all walks of life completely re-wrote the old document. Desiring to reaffirm the old-established principles for the protection of life and liberty and to provide for government of equal benefits to all, a declaration of rights was inserted as Article II. Again, there were 21 sections.

This constitution of 1908 has served as the basis for our state government since January 1, 1909 and preserves for Michigan the free republican form of government which our forefathers fought so hard to gain.

Cascade Man Takes Fishing Trip

Getting the big ones out of the Canadian wilderness takes a lot of doing but Earl Blakeslee, Cascade and 5 companions made limit catches of speckled and grey trout on a recent fishing trip to the Algoma area in Ontario. Top view shows the start of one of the many portages necessary to get to the best spots. Lower view shows two of the group with some of the fine trout they took out of the isolated lakes in that region.

Earl Blakeslee, 2915 Thornapple River dr. and five companions returned this past week from a successful fishing trip in the Canadian wilderness. Each member of the party caught and took home their legal limit of both Speckled and Grey trout.

Leaving Grand Rapids with two canoes atop the Blakeslee station wagon, the group left civilization behind at Iron Bridge, Ontario, the last town before the Canadian wilds begin. Iron Bridge is about 180 miles north of the Soo.

For 100 miles, over an old logging trail, the station wagon bumped and jolted. At roads end, the men set up their base camp in an old cabin and from this isolated point they ranged in various directions, fishing several lakes and streams which dot the area.

Reaching these lakes involved several portages and overnight sleepouts. Using sleeping bags when the day's trip ended miles from the cabin, the men enjoyed a few nights in the same manner in which the early trappers and hunters of that region lived. Under the stars, far from even the faintest trace of civilization, the cares and pressures of our everyday life were almost forgotten.

To reach these scattered lakes, many portages were necessary, one of them involving the back breaking task of toting canoes and fishing equipment for over a mile through the woods.

No guide was hired for the trip as Blakeslee had been in the area several times and was familiar with the country.

Blakeslee took many colored pictures of the trip as proof that the fish were not boughten ones. Last year Earl's wife Gerry, who also likes the wide open spaces and their son Skip, 13, went up to the same area.

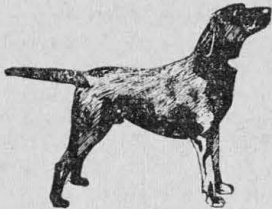

TEACHING YOUR DOG GOOD MANNERS

By Bob Bartos
Prominent Dog Authority

Overnight that roly-poly puppy of yours has become a grown dog and some of those "cute" tricks of his are bordering on bad manners. It's time you set about "civilizing" him.

This involves making lots of corrections. Remember, corrections will never get results unless they are given in a firm, unmistakable tone, every time. Be consistent.

A stern "no, no!" and a light slap will soon show him what areas are out of bounds. Setting a mousetrap on favorite sleeping spots on furniture is a good way of teaching, without injuring, a dog who has this annoying habit. (Just be sure your rich uncle doesn't sit on one of these "obstacles" by mistake!)

When your dog jumps on you, or guests, he will soon stop if he is met with a knee in his chest and gets a tumble for his trouble. This can be done so gently it almost seems accidental.

There are times, of course, when it's all right for a dog to bark, but he should always stop on command. Say "Quiet" or "Hush" and for the first few times startle him by dropping a book or piece of chain behind him. If he barks when the door bell rings, practice with a friend at the door.

The best cure for breaking the car-chasing habit is drastic, but effective. Tie a 50-foot rope to his collar, wait at the curb till a car or bicycle comes by, hold on tight, and let the dog go. He won't like the rude surprise waiting for him at the end of his run, but a jolt like this is much kinder than an auto wheel.

Feeding Tip: Dogs fed entirely on table scraps may suffer from poor bones and teeth, due to lack of vitamin D, the sunshine vitamin. Top-grade dog foods like Friskies contain generous amounts of irradiated yeast and other vitamin D sources.

Gumser Files For State Post In Legislature

Supt. W. W. Gumser has filed nominating petitions to enter the race for state representative from Kent county district No. 2, which includes the southern two tiers of townships. The primaries will be held on August 7.

In talking the matter over with the local Board of Education, it was agreed that it would not be necessary for Mr. Gumser to resign his position as superintendent. If defeated at the primaries his contract will automatically remain in force. If he should happen to become the nominee, then the Board will wait to see what happens at the November election.

If nominated and elected, it is possible that Mr. Gumser would still be connected with the local system in a capacity to be decided by the Board of Education.

The last resident of Lowell to be a member of the State Legislature was D. G. Look who completed his term in 1934. Harry Briggs ran for state representative in the late 1930's on the Democratic ticket, but was defeated.

PUBLIC NOTICES

To the qualifiec electors of the Township of Cascade, County of Kent, Michigan:

This is to notify you that I will accept registrations for the primary election to be held Tuesday, August 7, 1956, up to July 9, 1956, at my home, 2510 Thornapple River dr., any time from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. with the exception of Sundays.

Notice is further given that Monday, July 9, 1956 is the last day for registration for the Primary election.

Because of the recent division of Cascade Township into two precincts, each legal voter whether or not registered, must register on a master file card. To avoid all possible confusion on election day, please arrange to come in before 8 p.m., July 9, 1956, to make your registration.

ACE report

While writing up this week's news on this mighty hot Wednesday afternoon, a friend who had the day off dropped in and informed us that he was about to go water skiing. He drew such an inviting picture of the cool breezes and refreshing water that we almost forced him to leave. Trapped here at the typewriter, unable to leave the office for any reason short of a holocaust, we were in no mood to listen to things like that.

Coming home from work the other night we were informed that two of the children had been missing for a long time. Finally found them about three miles from home, returning from the old Hall st. dump, laden down with "treasures". An old paint pail, a rusty toy car and several unidentifiable objects, precious only to a child. Even a gift for Dad and Mother. For Dad-one brick hard paint brush. For Mother-one slightly used tooth brush.

Renewal subscriptions are still coming in our office. We certainly hope those of you who like the paper will not delay sending your renewal in as soon as possible.

We wish to thank those who sent notes of appreciation along with their renewals. In the newspaper business words of thanks are few and far between. We do not expect them of course because we are only doing a job of reporting what has happened or what is about to happen. Thanks are not necessary, but when someone takes the time to express their appreciation we do feel rather good about it. Just the fact that you think enough of the paper to resubscribe is thanks enough.

Next week we print two papers. Vacation week here at the Ledger office is the week of the Fourth and the entire staff of both papers will scatter over the entire state. So in order to send you your Suburban Life on time we will print the July 5 issue next week Thursday as soon as June 28th's is off the press.

It will be a four pager again and although we are working in our spare time on material for it, we promise you it will not contain much news. We plan to use feature articles and pictures and hope you will bear with us. It's the only way we can get a week's vacation.

Summer months are bad as far as news goes. We hope you will help us out with pictures and news stories. Perhaps some of you are planning an unusual vacation. Let us know about it. We'll be glad to let your neighbors know about your experiences.

Deadline time is almost here so we'll sign off till next week.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank all my many customers and friends in the ACE area for the business they have given me while I operated my Service Station on US-16 in Cascade village. Each of you helped to make my work a pleasant experience and once again I wish to thank you for your patronage.

Elect Officers at Fire Meeting

This past Monday new officers were elected at the meeting of the Cascade Fire Department. Grover Buttrick was appointed chairman, Julius Boersma, vice chairman, Ray Rheinout, secy., and Eddie Vander Laan is the new treasurer.

Besides the election of officers, the members discussed the purchase of a new fire truck. The firemen claim the present big truck, the department's newest, is too heavily loaded with necessary equipment and especially in the Spring is in danger of becoming bogged down on the gravel roads.

Another reason advanced was the danger of two or three fires breaking out simultaneously during a severe electrical storm. The firemen stated that outside help would have to be called if this happened.

As a result of the recently formed mutual aid agreement with surrounding townships it would be necessary to send Cascade's fully equipped truck to fires outside of the township and in this event local residents would be left with an inadequate standby vehicle.

It was also decided at Monday's meeting to hold an additional fire meeting each month. One of these meetings, which will be held on the first and third Monday of each month will be a training meeting.

COMING EVENTS

The Ladies Auxiliary of the American Legion, McDonald-Osmer Post No. 451, will hold an Auxiliary meeting this Friday evening, June 22, at 8 p. m. in the Cascade Town Hall. Election of officers will be held at this time.
