Choose Colors for Forest Hills School

The "Forest Hills Rangers", will in the future wear Forest Green and White as their official school colors. Both colors and nickname, stated Harold S. Chambers, superintendent of the new school district, were chosen by the board at their meeting Monday evening.

The Board also gave approval to the architects to submit detailed drawings of the new Forest Hills High School.

Chambers stated that the building will contain 16 classrooms and a gymnasium. There will also be administrative offices for the high school principal and office workers.

The gymnasium is planned for future expansion which, due to rapid growth in the area, will be enlarged when conditions and finances warrant. The new East Grand Rapids school has built their gym under the same plan. Chambers emphasized that the "one half" gymnasium will definitely not be a make shift affair and will be suitable for basketball games and physical education classes.

Choice of colors and nickname is the most recent proof that the board and the citizen's advisory committee are active in all phases of the new district's plans to make this the most progressive and up to date school district in this part of Michigan.

When the new high school is completed, the groundwork laid since the consolidation was approved and bond issue passed, will leave only a minimum of final planning to be done.

Perhaps the most important immediate result of the color choice will be the fact that students will feel stronger ties towards their district, and school spirit will be increased. Pride in the school system to which they belong plays an important, but usually unrealized, part in the entire educational period of each youngster, be they first graders or high school seniors.

The board will, in the next few weeks, be able to release tentative plans for the new school building. This paper will, with their cooperation show you the basic plans as soon as they are available.

Low Bid $445,682.02 For Ada Bridge Approach

Hertel-Deyo Company of Grand Rapids were low bidders on the 1.091 miles of relocation on M-21 at Ada, for the approach to the new bridge over the Grand River.

The bids were opened in Lansing on January 9, and the Grand Rapids company's bid was for $445,682.02.

The work to be done consists of grading and drainage structures, and a dual 22-foot-wide concrete pavement from Ada drive southeast to the existing M-21. The completion date for the road project is August 15.

Work on the bridge is far ahead of its scheduled completion date of November 3. The last of the six 90 by 24 foot piers for the bridge is almost completed.

The low-bidding firm is the same one which did the highway widening work on Main st. and Hudson in the summer of 1955.

Local Skaters Hope Cold Weather Stays

The Ada Athletic Field skating rink has been in tip top condition for the last week and each night volunteers from the Ada Athletic Association spend a couple of very frigid hours spraying another coat over the large, glassy surface. Each day dozens of local youngsters spend their after school hours on the ice and under the floodlights in the evening, entire families whip up an appetite for a cozy midnight snack when they return home. The photographer caught this young lady gracefully demonstrating her skill for several admiring friends.

Martin - Collins Form Scout Troop

Mr. Dick C. Smith of Scout Headquarters met with a group of fathers interested in scouting Sunday afternoon at the home of Ed. Groening, Forest Hills Road, and a new Martin-Collins Area Boy Scout Troop No. 284 was formed.

At present there are 23 eligible boys eager to join the new troop. The new leaders are sending out a plea to any father with or without children of scouting age who are interested in working as committee men. Volunteers are asked to attend a meeting at Martin school Monday, January 21st at 7:30 p. m. Remember the boys are depending on you to help make their new troop a success.

Fire Dept. To Buy Lighting Plant

At Monday evening's meeting of the Ada Fire Department, a demonstration of a portable lighting plant was given by a representative of the company making the equipment.

Howard Butts, assistant Ada fire chief, stated the department has decided to purchase the equipment. Butts said the portable lighting plant which includes spotlights and 250 ft. of electrical cord, will be paid for jointly by the department and the Ada township board. The equipment will be used at the scene of night fires and also in the event of any emergency in this area. A chain saw will also be purchased at a later date.

Butts also mentioned that Saturday, February 9, has been set as the date for a chicken dinner for members of the fire department. The event will be held at the Egypt Grange Hall.

More Students For Local Schools?

This past Monday evening the Kent County board of education received a petition bearing 50 signatures from persons residing in Breton Downs school district No. 11 seeking annexation with the Forest Hills school district.

District 11, located in Paris township has been closed since 1950 and must, under the new state ruling, either annex to an active district by June 30 or face an order to annex by the county board.

Districts 11's board is seeking annexation with East Grand Rapids district but action on the part of those seeking entry to Forest Hills might result in a split district for 11; half going to East and half coming to the local district.

Immediate action on the matter was not taken and all boards concerned are studying the matter.

Keeping Bridge A Lion's Project

This past Monday evening the Thornapple Valley Lion's club held their regular meeting at St. Robert's church. According to Gordon Campau, president of the club, a resolution asking the Kent County Road Commission to assume the care and maintenance of the old M 21 bridge was passed. Included in the resolution was a petition for the installation of a traffic light at the Ada dr., M 21 intersection.

The local Lion's club were active in seeking construction of the new $640,000 M 21 bridge and action was taken by the State Highway department soon after the second of two letters from the club was forwarded to Zeigler's office.

Maintaining in the resolution that removal of the old structure would cut the Ada community in half and create a definite traffic problem for those attempting to turn onto Pettis, Honey Creek, Vergennes rd. and Bailey dr., the group feels that use of the old structure for local traffic would prevent many traffic accidents.

The Road Commission has agreed to make a survey of the old bridge to determine its condition and cost of repair. Final decision on the matter rests with the Commission. The State Highway department has already agreed to place the bridge's care with the county. This step was taken after a delegation from the Lion's club met with Charles Zeigler, State Highway commissioner.

Fire Fighters Hold Meeting

This past Monday evening, approximately 90 members of the Cooperative Volunteer Fire Fighter's Association met with members of the Cascade township firemen at the Cascade fire barns. According to Chief Sy Dykhous, 20 departments from Kent, Ottawa and Allegan counties were represented.

Elmer Boerman, Kent County Conservation officer showed two films to the group and the fire chief and six men from Alto fire department were guests for the evening.

A local quartet composed of Sy Dykhous, Jack Buys, Ray Reinhout and Lyle Dykhuizen sang a few numbers and refreshments were served. Wives of the Cascade firemen made cakes and the large group was well supplied with cake, barbecue and coffee.

Will Study Survey Re Financing of Public Parks

The state Conservation Commission, meeting January 10-11 in Lansing, plans to study a recently-published survey which indicates the public is willing to finance state parks through direct user fees.

The survey, conducted during the past summer by Michigan State University's bureau of business research, showed 85 per cent of the park visitors questioned selected some type of use fee as the answer to park finance problems.

At present, state parks are financed by legislative appropriation of general state funds.

In the addition to the 85 per cent in favor of a user fee, another seven per cent suggested fees only for certain services. Only eight per cent opposed any fee for park use.

Of the 85 per cent, 36 per cent favored a daily admission charge, 27 per cent favored a car sticker good for one year at all parks, and 22 per cent favored either the daily or annual fee without preference.

A $2 annual charge was most often selected by those favoring the car sticker proposal.

Other facts revealed by the survey included:

Michigan's state parks serve mainly Michigan residents—about 84 per cent of the total park visitors.

The average park user makes four visits per year and visits an average of 2.2 parks.

Parks attendance is growing while parks are not adequate for present use. More than half of the users found three parks inadequate; another 30-50 per cent reported eight other parks inadequate. Objections seldom were to quality or upkeep of facilities, but referred to shortage of facilities in relation to attendance.

Dr. David J. Luck, who headed the MSU survey, said the findings were based on personal interviews and voluntary questionnaires at various parks throughout the state.

Frozen potato puffs are made from mashed potatoes, mixed with wheat flour, eggs and seasoning; formed into croquettes; and fried in deep fat before freezing.

Prepare for Inaugural Next Week

Representative Gerald R. Ford, Jr. and Senator Charles E. Potter point out to four members of the Grand Rapids Food Market Authority the stands constructed for the inauguration ceremony on January 21. (L-R: Gerrit Gritter, City Commissioner, Don O'Keefe, Mayor of East Grand Rapids, John Martin, attorney for the Authority, and Arthur Hannah, Chairman) The men later met with Secretary of Agriculture Benson to discuss financing of the construction of a wholesale market for Grand Rapids and Western Michigan.

The Nation's Capitol these days, as viewed from the front, is a maze of wood, resembling something between a football stadium and a large reviewing stand. It cost 133,000 dollars to build this platform, the undertaking of which has been contracted every year since 1923 by the Skinker and Garratt Construction Co. of Washington, D. C. Supporting the platform upon which Dwight D. Eisenhower will be inaugurated January 21st, are large structural steel columns, which belong to the government. In the middle of the vast sprawl of seats out to each side of the Capitol is a rostrum affixed with the emblem of the President of the United States. At all other times this emblem hangs in the hearing room of the House Committee of Veterans' Affairs. On this rostrum the actual swearing-in ceremony will take place.

Watching the historic moment on January 21st in the Capitol plaza, including the two large plots of lawn that form half-moons in front of the building, will be several thousand spectators, sitting and standing. People having priority to be seated on each side of the rostrum will get their tickets from members of Congress. The second allocation of seats goes to the President and Vice President; third to members of the Republican National Committee; and fourth to the Diplomatic Corps. 14,000 people, who will obtain tickets at no cost, will be seated around the rostrum.

This coming Sunday Seminarian Donald Van Ghent will occupy the pulpit during both the morning and evening service. Rev. Verberg, the regular pastor has a classical appointment in Lansing on that day.

Mrs. Grace Whaley attended a birthday dinner party Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Freyermuth in Grand Rapids in honor of his father, John Freyermuth.

GO AHEAD! PASS IT! NOBODY'S WATCHING

But note this: nearly 42,000 men, women and children will die in traffic accidents this year, if the present rate continues!

Help Prevent Traffic Deaths

FIRST—Drive safely and courteously. Observe speed limits and warning-signs. Where traffic laws are obeyed, deaths go DOWN!

SECOND—Insist on strict enforcement of all traffic laws. Where traffic laws are strictly enforced, deaths go DOWN!

For instance the experts tell us that three things are involved in traffic accidents, namely; the vehicle, the prevailing conditions (roads, surroundings, etc.) and the people. Of these three things the one most responsible for the accidents is the latter, i.e., people. And usually "the people" in this case is the driver of the automobile. His errors or omissions account for approximately 90 per cent of the accidents, I'm told.

The Michigan legislature must have had this in mind when in November 1955, in special session, it passed the Driver Education Law. This law has three outstanding features. They are:

1. Beginning February 1, 1957, no person under the age of 18 will be licensed to drive on Michigan highways unless he or she has passed an approved course in driver education.

2. Driver education will be made available without cost to all high school students under the age of 18. This includes all public, private and parochial students enrolled in high school grades.

3. Every holder of a Michigan driver's license will contribute to the cost of teaching young people to drive safely. This amounts to $1.00 for each applicant examined for an original license or an operator's license, and 35 cents for a chauffeur's license, the money being deposited in a special driver education and training fund by the state treasurer. Out of this fund each public school district receives $25.00 for each student enrolled in the driver education courses for children enrolled in the high school grades of public, parochial or private schools.

Well, that's the story. The effects of the law we hope will be felt in a lowering of the accident rate. Its big effect will be in the years to come because experience shows that graduates of these courses have a much lower rate of accidents over a period of years. (This column is an informational service of the State Bar of Michigan.)

Not Just "Anything" Can Go in Sausage Says Michigan Law

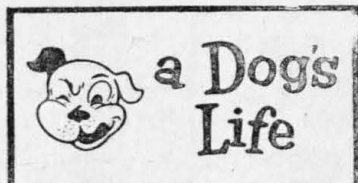

Such meats as lungs, snouts, stomachs, spleens or skins are unlawful ingredients for any type of sausage sold in Michigan as one Detroit wholesaler learned recently when jailed for selling a sausage canned in the south that contained those ingredients.

The wholesaler was spotted with illegal sausage by representatives of the Michigan Department of Agriculture's division of foods and standards, who placed the merchandise under seizure. He was arrested for moving 28 cases of the merchandise after it was under seizure.

Arraigned in a Pontiac court, the distributor was found guilty. He was sentenced to serve 10 days in jail and pay a $100 fine with an additional 20 days in jail if he failed to pay the fine.

Under Michigan's strict law only skeletal meats of animals may legally be used in sausage or ground meats sold in this state. Some other states permit use of the ingredients contained in the sausage seized. These also are legal under the Federal law. The cans of sausage bore the stamp of Federal approval, and also stated the ingredients on the label.

Some of the sausage under seizure was manufactured in Mississippi by a firm that is unlicensed by the Michigan Department of Agriculture to market its products in this state. Sausage from two Georgia manufacturers and one from Alabama were seized for similar reasons.

THE GARBAGE CAN DOG

By Dr. E. M. Gildow, D.V.M.

There is an old superstition that a dog, given too much food, will know by instinct when to stop eating. This simply isn't true. So it's a good idea to safeguard your pet's eating habits by keeping extra food and throw-aways out of reach.

This brings us to the garbage can—a favorite "restaurant" for some dogs when given the

Dog of the Week: Scottish Terrier

Average weight: 20 pounds. Height at shoulder: 10 inches. Coat: About two inches in length with a dense undercoat and an intensely harsh, wiry outercoat. Colors: Steel or iron gray, brindled or grizzled, black, sandy or wheaten.

chance. The garbage can is no place for your dog to rummage, and it's your job to see he stays away from it. Enclose, elevate or otherwise make your garbage can inaccessible to your dog, to neighbors' dogs and to scavenger dogs.

Another useful suggestion for keeping your pet away from garbage is to sprinkle the top layer of the can's contents with pepper. Be generous with the pepper and do it for about a week or more until you're sure the dog has suffered through his lesson.

It is a good idea, if possible, to keep your dog away from the area of the garbage can from the time he is a pup. It is important at all times, to impress on him the fact that he should not go near the garbage can.

Feeding Tip: Just because a dog teases for food is no reason to give him something to eat, any more than you would a child begging for a lollipop. With proper nutritional content, one meal a day of a quality dog food like Friskies, rationed correctly for his size, weight, and years, is enough.

Henry Wallace Will Speak to Farmers

Henry A. Wallace, former U. S. Vice-President, is one of the featured speakers for Farmers' Week at Michigan State University, Jan. 28-Feb. 1.

He will speak at the farm management banquet to be held at 6 p. m., Thursday, January 31. Wallace served as U. S. Secretary of Agriculture and Secretary of Commerce and is now doing research in plant science.

Leaders of Michigan's three major farm organizations, ten outstanding Michigan farmers, M. S. U. agricultural economists and many others will be featured also in the program being planned by the department of agricultural economics as part of Farmers' Week.

All morning sessions will begin at 10 a. m.; all afternoon sessions at 1:30 p. m.

The first morning program on Tuesday, January 29, will consider the question of whether young folks should stay in or get out of farming with today's not-so-favorable farm earnings.

Views on this problem will be given by an agricultural economist, a banker, a Farmers' Home Administration supervisor, a young farmer, and a farmer's wife.

On Tuesday afternoon, the leaders of Michigan's Grange, Farmer's Union and Farm Bureau will explain where their organizations stand on vital public issues. Members of five Michigan farm families will question them.

The topic for Wednesday morning will be, "State Control of Milk Prices." Pros and Cons, opinions of some marketing leaders, and the experiences of another state with this kind of program will be given. The president of the Michigan Milk Producers association will speak then along with representatives of a large dairy cooperative and the M. S. U. department of agricultural economics.

Will the thousands of small farms in Michigan survive in our highly competitive farm economy? This question will be discussed in Thursday morning's program.

Talks will be given on the influence of the Soil Bank on small farms; income, investments, expenses and loans for the small-scale operator; and the possibility of going into part-time farming.

Tips to help you save time and money through wise use of machinery and buildings will be given on Thursday afternoon. Two top-notch farmers, a commercial farm manager, and extension worker and an M. S. U. researcher will speak and answer questions.

An exhibit entitled "Farmer or Wage Earner" will be located on the east side of Macklin Stadium throughout the week. The exhibit will deal with a decision facing thousands of boys—whether or not to move away from the farm.

POULTRYMEN, ATTENTION

You are cordially invited to attend our poultry nutrition meeting 8:00 p. m. Friday night, Jan. 25, at Alto Grange Hall. Entertaining movie will be shown, followed by a discussion pertaining to the poultry business. An excellent lunch will be served and a drawing for door prizes will be held.

Coach Gotschall Has Eye Surgery

Lowell High school's basketball coach, Norman "Buck" Gotschall entered University Hospital at Ann Arbor Monday for surgery on his eye.

Buck says his eye has been bothering him since the Christmas holiday, and it appears he is suffering a retina separation—it is expected that he will undergo surgery sometime this week and will be hospitalized about ten days.

Even after he returns home, Buck will be unable to use either of his eyes for at least a week or two.

His address in Ann Arbor is in care of University Hospital, 5 West. He certainly will appreciate hearing from his Lowell friends.

Arrows Hope For Advantage in Home Court to Overrule Lack of Height

After being "pushed around" the first half of the cage season, the Arrows, with a 0-8 record, would like nothing better than to pull an upset victory when they play host to the Godwin Wolves this Friday, January 18.

The Arrows cagers will again be at a height disadvantage but will have a home court advantage. The last meeting of these two clubs this season ended in an 83-58 loss for the Arrows, their biggest margin of defeat thus far. Reserve action begins at 7:30.

Lack of Height

Lack of height again proved the Arrows' downfall against Wyoming Park as the Redbirds came close but not close enough to victory. The Vikings jumped to an early lead and were never behind from that point.

Lowell	14	14	12	6-46
Wyoming	16	13	13	10-52

Surprising Jim Carr, hitting 6 field goals and 4 out of 4 charity tosses, led all scorers with 16 points as he played probably the best game of his career. Sophomore Chuck Ryder followed with 10 points in the losing cause. Leonard Fase had 8 points; John Norton, 6; and Orison Abel, George Henderson and Bernie Collins, 2 when they were defeated by the junior Vikings 50-39. Jim Lawrence and Guy Watrous netted 10 points apiece for the Lowell club.

The Arrows frosh, paced by Freddie Wissman with 16 points, took a 32-31 victory from the Wyoming freshmen.

We imagine that the city manager and mayor of Grand Rapids have been receiving an unusual number of sidelong glances since the new telephone books were distributed. The inadvertent omission of a telephone number in the new book has been the cause of many a hearty chuckle down in the City Hall recently.

We are sure Bell Telephone company won't mind too much if we reprint their little joke. Taken directly from page 97 in the new phone book, we read the following sad tale.

City Manager.....GL 8-5681
Mayor.....GL 8-5681
Night, Saturdays and Sundays call Alcoholism Rehabilitation Center, 620 Fuller, etc. . . .

Perhaps an appropriate title would be "Drunk With Power?"

All joking aside, we sympathize with Messrs. Goebels and Oakes and know that both of them are capable of "taking it." A joke that is.

Wow! Winter has really set in. And aren't those plastic seat covers cold early in the morning? But the youngsters aren't complaining. Local ponds and skating rinks are really getting a workout and stores in this area stocking ankle supports are doing a landoffice business.

We urge all readers to use extreme care with their heating plants. Fire, in below normal temperatures, is an ever-present threat. Don't let it happen to you.

We still warn all youngsters to stay off the river ice. Only those who know the river can venture safely on the ice and youngsters playing could, without noticing it, venture quickly out to an unsafe spot. By skating on safe rinks, and there are plenty available this year,

'58 Marks Century of Education in Area

If the new Forest Hills School is completed in 1958 (and it is well possible) a century of education in this area will have been reached. The first schoolhouse in this area was built in 1858 and total cost of the frame structure was $600. The building pictured above, was built in 1872 at a cost of $5,000. It stood where the present Ada school now stands. It is believed that two tramps, seen in the area, spent the night in the school and set it afire. It burned to the ground on October 9, 1914.

THE DRIVER'S SEAT

The driver who drinks even one drink and then takes his car down the highway should be called "The Life and Death of the Party."

Alcohol slows down reflexes the way efficient brakes slow down a car with this difference: a driver controls his brakes, but alcohol controls the driver.

Take a look, for a moment, at some figures that show what reflexes really mean. They mean, of course, the difference between life and death, but these National Safety Council Data on "stopping distances" give a new sharpness to this meaning:

A car going 20 miles per hour travels 52 feet between the time a driver sees the danger, applies the brakes, and brings it to a stop. A driver's "thinking distance" at 60 mph—that is, the time it takes him to see danger and apply brakes—is 66 feet, and the car itself, going at a mile-a-minute speed, will travel 336 feet before being stopped by average brakes.

At 70 miles an hour—the speed at which so many reflex-fuzzy drivers travel after bending an elbow—the "thinking distance" is 77 feet, and the stopping distance 332 feet, with good brakes, and 445 with "passable" brakes.

There is no way to laugh off these facts. Nor is there any way to laugh off the tragic results caused by ignoring them.

Put it this way: if you're going 70 miles an hour, you will cover more ground than the length of a football field before you can stop your car. And this holds true only when your reflexes are normally keen and efficient.

A driver whose mind is fuzzy with alcohol will take far more time to see danger and stop his car—if, indeed, he stops it at all before hitting a train, an embankment, or another car.

Danger signals—such as a pedestrian suddenly stepping into the street, or an automobile cutting recklessly out of its proper traffic lane—don't register automatically in a befuddled brain. There must be a dual process of recognition and transmission. This may only take a few seconds, but these few are generally the difference between life and death on the highway.

Obviously, the ritual of "one for the road" can be a prelude to disaster. It is often the choice between taking a drink and taking a life.

Without milk, it is very difficult to get enough calcium in your diet. To insure your daily calcium supply serve adults in your family three cups of milk or two cups and one to two ounces of cheese. Children need three to six cups milk daily.

Giving Children Shots? Don't Forget Pooch — He's Important Too!

When scheduling vaccinations and immunizations for members of your family don't forget the family canine pet, the Michigan Department of Health advised today.

This is the best time of year to have your dog vaccinated against rabies, the health department said, because rabies spreads most rapidly in dogs in the "dog days" of February, March and April.

Some counties in Michigan require anti-rabies vaccination before dogs can be licensed. Compulsory vaccination plus elimination of strays have resulted in a sharp drop in rabies in recent years, but the disease will make a comeback as soon as dog vaccinations start to lag, the health department said.

Last year 23 confirmed cases of rabies in animals were reported to the state health department. The last case of rabies in a human in Michigan occurred in 1948.

Having your dog vaccinated may save your own life as well as his, the health department said. Rabies is always fatal in humans as well as in animals.

Army Days Over

SP 3 Jack Alexander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Alexander of Grand River drive has completed his two years service in the U. S. Army. He received his 6 months' basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., after which he was sent to Metz, France, where he served 18 months. He arrived home Dec. 26 by plane, and later received his discharge at Fort Sheridan, Ill.

It pays to read the Suburban Life want ads.

Sick List

Mrs. Max Souser, who has been very ill in the MacDill Air Force Base hospital at Tampa, Fla., is slightly improved, so as to be home in Tampa. Her daughter, Mrs. Mildred Harter, who went by plane to help care for her, came home last Friday.

Mrs. Lidia Miller of Fase st., was taken very ill Monday morning and was taken to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Leo Jasperse.

Grover Hill, who was a patient in Butterworth hospital last week with a heart condition was able to come home last Sunday.

Herman Stukkie Sr., who underwent surgery at Butterworth hospital last week Wednesday, came home this week Tuesday.

It's a Boy!
