Crippled Children Need Your Help

Every year during the lenten and pre-Easter season, the Kent County Chapter of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., joins with the national association in selling Easter Seals to earn much-needed funds for aiding the crippled of our land.

The chairman of Kent County is Jack F. VanLandeghem who says the 1957 drive is making good progress towards replenishing the nearly exhausted funds from the 1956 drive.

Easter Seal contributions are spent entirely on the crippled children and adults who want to become contributing members of the community, and to help themselves toward a life of independence. State aid for the crippled ceases at the age of 21, and the Easter Seal Society serves a worthy function in offering rehabilitation aid to those over 21 as well as to crippled children of every race, religion and nationality.

Easter Seal contributions are used to purchase such equipment for the needy as artificial legs, wheelchairs, braces, Stryker frames, hearing aids, electric page turners, muscolators, crutches, lifters, mechanical beds, and dozens of other vital rehabilitative aids for those crippled by every type of disease and accident.

Letter to Editor

Taxpayers of Cascade Township—Are you happy with the roads of Cascade Township?? If you are—stop reading this letter right now!! But if you are not happy with them and would like to have something done about the miserable condition of most of our dirt roads—read on!

Approximately a year ago the township taxpayers voted down a proposal to pave about twenty of the remaining thirty or so miles of unpaved roads. We honestly believe this happened because the vast majority were not fully informed as to costs to individual taxpayers and to general information.

The proposal at that time was to bond the township for twenty years at seven mills—a must requirement for those who will buy municipal bonds. This does not mean that the township has to levy seven mills per year for 20 years but it is more or less an insurance for the bond buyers so that they will regain the principal they have invested. In the case of Cascade Township the gas tax receipts returned to the township would take care of the principal and interest of the bond issue.

Another requirement is that a reserve fund must be set up during the first two years of the bond issue and it is for this and no other reason that we would have to have the millage assessed against our property for these two years. At the time we voted on this issue before, it would cost the average taxpayer only six (6) dollars per year to have hard surfaced roads. This would have been the total tax on our property. The remainder of our bonded indebtedness would have been paid off from gas tax receipts.

At present the township pays

$2,500.00 for chloriding, grading, graveling and scraping each year. If we vote to blacktop our roads this $2,500.00 could be used to blacktop the remaining roads. In the case of our particular road the gravel and scraping is entirely inadequate—it's like a washboard road a great share of the time. The chloride, aside from alaying some of the dust, eats up the metal in our cars, trucks, and school buses. The expense of body repairs, mufflers, and tailpipes, etc. would be so greatly reduced by hard surfaced roads that the savings on repairs alone would about pay for the tax assessment for hard surfaced roads. At present, the wear and tear and upkeep on school buses is terrific—ask a bus driver.

Approximately one thousand dollars was expended by the township gathering data, hiring a lawyer, getting the approval of various commissions, etc. before the issue was placed on the ballot. We propose to save the township this expense by putting this issue up to a straw vote this next election, April 1, to find out the sentiment of the taxpayers. If the sentiment of the taxpayers is for this proposal—as we hope—the township will then have this bonding issue again placed on the ballot and put for a final vote.

We do not see how the forward thinking people of our community can fail to boost our township with better roads and less upkeep to our autos for ourselves.

Yours for better roads,
Stuart L. Bradley

Would-be Highway Commissioner Speaks

A new area in highway construction has arrived in Michigan, according to George M. Foster, Republican Candidate for state Highway Commissioner. Last August unprecedented sums of money, both for state and federal construction became available, Foster says, and these monies, together with bond provisions, make an immediate, vast highway construction program of modern highways for our state not only financially possible, but obligatory to Michigan people. Foster says:

"To appreciate what the highway department has accomplished to date, look at the record. In 1951 our construction program was only $43 million dollars. In 1955 it jumped to $72 million, the highest ever reached at that time. The 1956 program ran considerably over $150 million dollars. And the program for 1957 will run at least $185 million.

"Self styled critics of the State Highway Department are either totally unaware of scope of Michigan's highway construction program, or are deliberately distorting the facts for political reasons.

"I feel that my 25 years of service to Michigan people in the capacity of administering, designing and supervising the construction of our highway system quali-

Now's the Time To Force Plants To Bloom Early

Like to snare a bit of blossoming spring right now to enhance the drab winter look of your home.

"You can anticipate spring by cutting branches of your favorite shrubs and bringing them indoors for forcing." "There are numbers of these which may be easily and successfully forced so you can enjoy their out-of-season beauty."

Rules for forcing are very simple and the results rewarding. "Branches should be cut after the buds have begun to swell, but before they show signs of blooming." "Crushing the ends with a hammer or cutting the lower ends diagonally are not essential.

"Put the branches in lukewarm water. The air should be somewhat moist and cool. The branches should be sprayed with water every few days to keep the buds from drying out."

"First to come out under indoor forcing will be forsythia, with its much-loved brilliant yellow flower, and the silky-grey pussy willow.

"The silver maple, with its small clusters of reddish flowers growing close to the stem, also has fine decorative value.

"Cottonwoods and other poplars may be enjoyed for the novelty effect of their brilliant red or greenish-colored catkins. The alder's long tasseling catkins, consisting of many minute brownish flowers, may be used to add a gay touch.

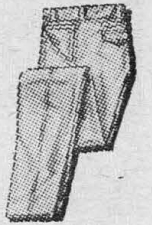

The Conservation Department's game division operates four wildlife experiment stations in the state where year 'round studies of birds and animals are made to obtain information valuable in establishing hunting seasons and regulations. The stations are located at Swan Creek, Allegan county; Rose Lake, near East Lansing; Houghton Lake; and Cusino, Schoolcraft county.

Allow More Time To Sell Residence

A man who sells his home at a profit will, in most instances, be freed from paying a capital gains tax, under a bill introduced today by Senator Charles E. Potter, Republican of Michigan.

The Potter bill would "amend section 1034 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 so as to allow a taxpayer who sells his residence five years in which to purchase a new residence."

The Senator pointed out that the average home owner in the United States in 1954 had an income of $5,000 before taxes. He described this as "too modest to bear the wallop of a capital gains tax."

Kent Tree Planters Will Set New Record

Landowners are going to set a new record in the number of trees planted in Kent County this spring, says Dick Drullinger of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service at Rockford.

Over one-half million trees have already been ordered for planting next month. These pine and spruce seedlings will be set out for reforestation of hillside or sandy areas, for improvement of wildlife areas, or for farm windbreaks.

Kenneth Anderson, chairman of the forestry committee of the Kent Soil Conservation Districts, reports that the districts still have some planting stock for sale. Red pine, Austrian pine, Scotch pine, and a few white pine are still available.

The districts also have a limited number of multiflora rose for planting as wildlife borders, living fences, or clump plantings in reforested areas.

Mr. Anderson points out that Kent land-owners still desiring planting stock can write or call the Kent Soil Conservation District's office at Rockford, phone VO6-2501.

Fishing Season Opens Soon, Get Your License

Thousands of Michigan fishermen soon will be testing their skills as spring fishing seasons get under way. Do not delay in getting your license.

Thirteen Michigan residents recently discovered they could have saved an average of $13.65 each—by spending $1.50.

The 13 persons, convicted of fishing without a license, paid an average of $15.15 in fines and court costs. An annual resident fishing license costs $1.50 and is required of all persons 17 and older for fishing on inland waters.

Bear cubs are about the size of rats at birth. Cubs usually are born while the mother is denning up for the winter and often she does not even awaken.

Call Otter Woodland Clown

That woodland clown, the otter, is always willing to help, it seems, and usually where he isn't wanted.

Otters are fun-loving creatures, noted for sliding down icy river banks and doing water acrobatics just for enjoyment.

Perhaps the pair now troubling park manager Irving Anthony at the upper peninsula's Palms Book state park, however, are of a more serious turn of mind.

These two apparently know the multiple use theory of conservation. This theory holds that a piece of land, a wildlife species or any other resources should find use in two or more ways. A state park, for example, is often used for picnicking, camping, fishing, and hunting.

So Mr. Anthony's otters are now making use of big trout in the park's famous Big Spring Lake.

Park visitors view trout in the Big Spring's crystal clear water all summer, and thus, it's only reasonable that otters be allowed to eat these trout in the winter.

Or so reason the otters.

Attempts to save the fish from these animals have been hampered by the otter's general intelligence and wariness.

Veterans Spark Face-Lifting of Our Home State

First general meeting of the veterans Michigan Week committee will be held in Lansing on Thursday, March 14, to complete plans for continuation of "operation face lift" which was inaugurated during Michigan Week last year.

Lawrence J. LaLone, veterans trust fund executive secretary and state chairman of the veterans committee for Michigan Week, May 19-25, said all organizations are represented on the committee and he expects all to be represented at the meeting scheduled for 8 p. m. tonight at the Veterans Trust Fund offices, 300 E. Michigan Ave., Lansing.

"The program 'operation face lift, adopted last year, and which met with such cooperative approval, will again be our principal project", Mr. LaLone said. The plan was endorsed by every major organization of ex-service men. Many projects were carried out to eliminate eyesores and bring about worthwhile public and private improvements in a number of communities.

A new project "The Michigan Veterans Hall of Fame" which will require a year of research and study, will also be discussed at the Lansing meeting.

SOTHERN'S NOT COMFORTED

Ann Sothern is still annoyed because her show was omitted from the Emmy Awards voting list. Ironically, Ann was one of the five nominees for best Comedienne. But Ann isn't ready to kiss and make up. "While I'm gratified at receiving this personal nomination, my feelings haven't changed a bit."

TV'S FAIR-HAIRED BOY

George Brent insists he isn't good "copy". "There's only one small interesting thing about me, and the studio wouldn't let me mention it. This white hair of mine. It started turning when I was only 15, but the studio always dyed it. But in Wire Service (his TV series) they're letting me be myself."

Where did TV's Emmy Awards get their name? According to TV Guide, the name "Emmy" is a distortion of "immy"—TV jargon for the image orthicon camera.

Viewers may feel inclined to re-line if a new TV series get underway. It is reported that the ABC network has optioned Personalis, a panel show dealing with psychology.

Latest Team for a projected TV series is Florence (Mama Bronson) Halop and Evelyn (Eloise) Rudie.

Following Eric Sevareid's tiff with CBS (over his right to editorialize on the air) came a report that Studio One, also on CBS, will postpone "The Newscaster," a play about a similar fight between a newsman and a network.

Empire bodices, cummerbunds, pale colors like mauve, soft and delicate prints, chiffons, sheers and eyelets all describe the fair lady look—spring's most important fashion. It is named for a famous New York musical play based on "Pygmalion." The play's costumes recreate the soft and feminine Empire silhouette of 1912 complete with floating panels and pretty sashes.

Fourth Annual Michigan Week, May 19 - 25, To Set New Record

With nearly 4,000 citizens working on committees in every county and community . . . throughout the state . . . all indications are that the FOURTH ANNUAL MICHIGAN WEEK CELEBRATION, May 19-25, will surpass all others. It will focus national attention on the state! It will advertise Michigan's industrial products and resources. The state's agricultural products and tourist industry will be promoted. The cultural and educational advantages of the state will be pointed out.

Established in 1954 to better acquaint the state's 7,500,000 citizens with the many advantages of the state as a great place to live, work and play—the 1957 MICHIGAN WEEK will gain wider recognition for the manufactured products of industry, the produce of farms and processing plants and the Water Wonderland which attracts thousands of visitors from other states and countries.

Scores of events and promotions on a community and county level are being planned, with a broader participation by citizens of all ages from kindergarten to retirement. Michigan Week will be observed on a larger scale than ever in the schools and colleges. Many leaders of the Chamber of Commerce and of wholesale and retail groups are now actively engaged in the planning of events for the week.

Widespread use of the state flag with the Michigan coat-of-arms on a blue field will be realized. The state Junior Chamber of Commerce has taken over the task of selling thousands of the flags to business, industry, institutions and individuals throughout the state. Organizations are planning special projects in which they will donate Michigan flags to schools as their part of the celebration. The flag and its historical background is receiving much publicity.

Five hundred cities and villages of Michigan will be invited to participate in the annual "exchange of mayors and village presidents" on May 20. This event, which has accomplished much in getting communities of the state better acquainted with the resources, government and problems of each other, will be bigger than ever.

Opening Sunday, May 19 with "Spiritual Foundations Day", the Michigan Week will continue through the "New Frontiers Day." Committees are actively planning special programs for each day on state, county and local levels. Monday will be "Exchange of Mayors Day"; Tuesday: "Hospitality Day" Wednesday: "Our Livelihood Day" Thursday: "Education Day", and Friday: "Our Heritage Day."

Committee chairmen report that meetings everywhere are being well attended by citizens in all walks of life who are enthused over their part in "selling their state to its people and to millions who live outside its borders."

"It's Great to Live in Michigan" the official slogan of Michigan Week will be widely advertised. It will appear on automobiles, billboards, in store windows, in schools and other institutions, in homes and in fact almost everywhere.

The slogan is on buttons with a replica of the state bird, the Robin. The slogan will appear on bumper strips, placards, posters, decals, streamers.

More Land for Public Hunting

Sportsmen will find at least 624 additional acres of land open to public hunting this fall, following recent action by the state Conservation Commission.

The Commission, which met March 14-15 in Lansing, approved purchase of several tracts formerly under private ownership. The purchases are financed by the Game Protection Fund, created by revenue from hunting licenses; and Pittman-Robertson funds, money from federal taxes on hunting equipment.

The new public hunting lands include 137 acres added to Allegan state forest, Allegan county; and 120 added to Hardwood state forest, Cheboygan county. Also included are additions to the following state game areas: Deford, 80 acres; Flat River, 80 acres; Shiawassee River, 80 acres; Dansville, 55 acres; Sharonville, 30 acres; Vassar, 30 acres; and Waterloo recreation area, 12 acres.

Our cars and roads have been improved. Now let's improve our driving.—DRIVE SAFELY

Veterans Plan for Michigan Week

Operation "face lift" inaugurated in 1956 by veterans organizations as their part in the observance of Michigan Week, will be continued this year, according to Lawrence J. LaLone, executive secretary of the Veterans Trust Fund.

Mr. LaLone, who is chairman of the veterans Michigan Week committee, said all organizations of ex-service men and women in the state are being urged to cooperate with local Michigan Week committees and continue the program of community betterment which they started in May last year.

Eliminations of eyesores, beautification of parks and river banks, and other civic undertakings to make their communities better places in which to live, work and play will all be a part of the program sponsored by veterans groups for Michigan Week, May 19 to 25.

Work is progressing on another project in which a veterans "hall of fame" will be established to honor Michigan heroes dating back to the earliest wars—men who contributed to the betterment of their state and nation.

Members of the state veterans committee for Michigan Week include all state organizations of those who served in the armed forces.

It pays to read the Suburban Life want ads.

The American golden-eye duck is commonly known as the whistler because of the sound made by its wings during flight. The whistler, a common migrant of Michigan, is an expert diver and is able to remain under water for nearly a minute in some instances.

The 1956 record catch by U. S. commercial fisherman was worth $363 million to the fisherman, according to the Department of Interior. The catch of 5.2 billion pounds surpassed the previous record of 4.9 billion pounds taken in 1941.

Editorial

Why You Should Vote Monday, April 1

Can you think of anything more important in your daily life than the education of your children, the courts which interpret the laws passed by your elected representatives, and good roads which are a necessary part of our economy?

We, the voters, go to the polls in swarms in a national election (96 per cent of the electorate of Lowell township voted in the 1956 fall election).

It is now 1957, the national election is now past history, and most voters will sit on their hands and wait for 1960 before they vote again.

Yet the offices to be filled in this spring election probably will have a more direct effect upon your daily life than any person voted into office in a national election.

VOTE—For your children.

VOTE—For the Judges of your own choosing, don't let your neighbor do it for you.

VOTE—For good roads to take you to your job each day, to recreation areas over the week ends, and to make our highways safer in this age of modern transportation.

VOTE, VOTE, VOTE

Now is time to buy large eggs, it's this time of year when you get more for your money. Start sooner, drive slower, live longer, be home for the holidays. —DRIVE SAFELY

KATIE'S KORNER

Regardless of the number of fire-hazard warnings, "It can't happen to me" seems to be the general feeling. Seven of the eight fires the department have been alerted are caused by burning trash. Let us all take extra precautions whether at home or driving.

Suburban Life is celebrating its second birthday this week as the date line on the first pages rolls around to Vol. 3, Issue 1. A lot of changes have taken place in the two short years of its existence in the area but Suburban Life is almost unchanged, still limping along. For loyal readers it has no lack, it is indeed gratifying to find that this newspaper has found a place in the growing community and every week there are more subscribers.

The big thing in keeping a small publication alive is enough advertising to balance with the subscribers. It is not possible to charge enough for subscriptions to pay for producing a newspaper. The advertisers we do have are helping as much as they feel they can; what we need is a few more. If any of our readers have a friend who is an attorney or handles estates it would be appreciated if they would request him to send his legal publications to Suburban Life. This and other means of increasing our income would aid in assisting this paper in paying its own way.

Enough of our sad story, I suppose everyone could relate one to top this. Let's all hope for a bigger and better year for our community newspaper, and with your help we will be writing a 3rd birthday column a year from now.

"By the time a man understands women, his wife won't let him out of the house nights."
