Giant Turn-Out To Fight Relocation Of Airport In Cascade

After the sound of the siren, Gerrit Baker, Township Supervisor, brought the meeting to order with the gavel (hatchet with a broken handle) used by firemen for their meetings.

The fire hall was overflowing. Approximately 500 residents responded at this open meeting with a very definite "NO" to the relocation of the Kent County Airport in Cascade Township.

John F. Meacham, Director of Aeronautics at the Kent Airport, presented the advantages of relocation. Following the advice of the L. Fisher Associates of South Bend, Indiana, Wyoming Township was ruled out because of thickly populated area; Ottawa County because of distance of transporting from Grand Rapids—20 miles instead of the ten miles to the Cascade site. In presenting the why's and wherefore's, Meacham gave data to support the move.

When the proposal of an airport in Cascade Township was first announced, it was a shock to the residents in the area. Most of these people had moved to this suburban area to get away from the hustle and bustle of the city yet within easy commuting distance.

The residents said "common sense" was leading them in their decision to either make way for a tri-county airport and make it large enough to serve long distance flights or continue with patching the present airport even at an estimated higher cost.

Cheers and applause greeted Russel Hershberger, representing the Coopersville Chamber of Commerce proposal for a tri-county airport west of Grand Rapids. He said that there were 3200 acres of cleared farm land available for an airport. The new US-16 Expressway goes next to this property, plenty of power is available and a railroad is only a half mile away. Cascade citizens rose to speak out for this tri-county installation, pointing out that a few miles with good roads are only a few minutes with modern transportation.

B. L. Gordon, Vice-Chairman of the Airport Board of Control, said an airport no matter where it is located will hurt someone. The recommendation for Cascade location was made after a 1½-year study.

Henry Lathrop, a member of the Board of Control, told the citizens that the Cascade site was the best in Kent County.

Baker ended the meeting with a question to the assembled group, "How shall I vote at the meeting of the board of supervisors on April 15?" The crowd roared its answer . . . "NO NO NO."

Following the meeting a committee was named to work with Supervisor Baker to fight placing the airport in Cascade Township. The committee are: William C. Thorn, Roger I. Wykes, jr., William Dangel and Mrs. W. L. Schram.

Pointed out to the citizens by distressed property owners in the immediate area of the proposed airport is that the only apparent weapon in the hands of Cascade residents is in influencing the county to vote down special taxes to pay for relocation of the airport.

TO HOLD GUIDANCE TESTS FOR 8TH AND 9TH GRADERS

A representative from the University of Michigan visited the Superintendent's office of the Forest Hills Public Schools on Wednesday for the purpose of setting up a program of testing students for guidance purposes.

These tests will be given to children of various grades especially to those in the eighth and ninth grades to assist them in choosing their courses of study in high school. With the aid of these tests, children will be helped in their course of college as well as vocations.

Boys to Register For Little League

On Saturday afternoon, March 22, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 1 p. m. there will be someone at the Cascade Town Hall and the Collins school who will register all boys between the ages of 9 and 12, who wish to participate in the Little League Baseball this season. This includes all boys in Cascade and Ada Townships, as well as the Forest Hills School District.

If a boy becomes 12 years old prior to July 31, he cannot play that year, but if he is 12 after August 1, he can play with the older boys.

The Fifth Little League team, to be known as the "Yankees" is to be sponsored by the Cascade IGA store. Our thanks to them for this generous offer.

New Bank Planned For Cascade Area

A progressive community, to be sure, the Cascade businessmen, have been working overtime for the past two months. You will find petitions in all the business places which we are encouraging you to sign. The Old Kent Bank will establish a branch bank at Cascade within the year, it is announced by Gerrit Baker, chairman of the committee.

The businessmen will be proud to offer another service thereby contributing to the progress of the Cascade area. Instead of traveling twenty miles to and from a bank this time can now be devoted here at Cascade. Sign! Sign! Sign!

Cascade Cubs To Meet With Fathers

The Cascade Cub Scout Pack meeting will be held on Thursday, March 27 at 7:30 p. m. in Fellowship Hall of the Cascade Christian Church.

The boys and their fathers have been making small wooden racing cars this month, and the big race is to be held at the pack meeting. There will be a silver trophy given to the winner of the race.

To Sponsor Little League Baseball Team

At the meeting, Tuesday, March 11 of the Cascade Business Association, secretary "Bob" Martin reminded us, "spring is just around the corner." Little League baseball teams will soon be starting practice. The Cascade Businessmen will again sponsor a team. New sponsor will be the Cascade IGA Food-liner.

This year long range plans are forming for the fireworks celebration (July 4th). Canisters will soon be found in the business places for those who wish to contribute and help defray expenses.

A group of Cascade girls, called "The Cascadettes," won third place in the 4-H club talent competition "share the fun" contest held at Ada on Thursday evening, March 13. They did a tap dance routine. The dancers were Robin Smith, Bea Lynn Dykhouse, Judy Rogers and Mary Moore. There are two other girls in the "Cascadettes", but are too young to belong to the 4-H, so could not dance in the competition. They are Donna Mollitor and Karen Stiles.

These girls have been taking lessons since October in Grand Rapids, and have been dancing together since Christmas. Mrs. Eldon Rogers rehearses them once or twice a week.

These girls have been asked to dance at the S. E. district 4-H style show at Lowell High School on Saturday, March 29, and at the Masonic Temple on Friday, March 28.

The first six winning groups of the "share the fun" contest will go to Michigan State university on August 7th and 8th, to compete in the district 4-H contest, and a chance to appear in the finals of the Michigan State 4-H Share-the-Fun Festival.

Mrs. Robert Smith and Mrs. Herbert Flynn are the 4-H leaders.

Your Washington Review

by Congressman JERRY FORD

My Committee on Astronautics and Space Exploration has held its initial or organizational meetings and will soon move into hearings on the many problems facing the Congress and our Nation in this New Age. In the months ahead all of us will be seeing more and more evidence of U. S. satellites, but with these technical developments come a multitude of problems. It is certain before too long that U. S. scientists will have us probing and probably hitting the moon. It is the responsibility of this committee and the Congress to analyze the effects of such advancements from a long-range and overall point of view.

Employment and Government: We in government are concerned that unemployment in mid-February stood at 5,173,000. This number represents 7.7 per cent of the nation's labor forces or about the same percentage as were unemployed during the winter of 1949-50. While Michigan followed the national average in 1949-50, today about 11.4 per cent of our people are out of work. This is largely due to the fact that our State is closely associated with the automotive industry.

Some leaders, both in and out of government, are advocating a "crash program" of public works and increased defense spending. Others recommend a $5 billion cut in Federal taxes as the means for reviving the economy.

It is true that Uncle Sam can go on a wild spending spree, and at the same time the Congress could slash Federal taxes recklessly. But we know, from our experience in the Great Depression of the 1930's, that uncontrolled increase in government spending is no road to a stable and prosperous economy. In 1938, after years of unbalanced budgets and increased Federal spending, there were still 10 million people unemployed. And at that time the labor force totaled 54.6 million while today the figure stands at 67 million. Moreover, a huge reduction in Federal revenue can only lead to deficit financing, a greater public debt, and a strong tendency to fiscal irresponsibility.

I do think that we should speed up activity on those public works projects, including the highway program, for which the planning is about complete, the need well-established, and which could be under way in a comparatively short time. This would be a sound approach and would give that temporary boost which the economy appears to need right now.

I also feel that any tax reduction should be on a selective basis, and that at this particular time any tax legislation should be considered largely with a view to halting the economic recession. As an example, I am urging the elimination or reduction of the excise tax on automobiles. Such action would give the automotive industry a necessary "shot-in-the-arm" and go a long way in relieving the unemployment situation in Michigan. It is important to realize that by a selective approach to tax reduction the immediate loss of revenue to the federal treasury would be relatively small but the benefits to the economy could be significant.

A sound and responsible approach to remedies for the recession must recognize the problem of limiting the stimulus to what is needed and retaining a tax structure that can quickly restore a balanced budget when business recovers.

What About State and Local Taxes: Will a Federal tax reduction be of any benefit as a "pump-priming" device if State and local governments continue to increase their tax levies? This question was raised recently by one of my constituents and must be seriously considered if the purpose of tax reduction is to stimulate business by putting more purchasing power in the hands of consumers. As you know, the Michigan State Legislature is wrestling with its budget and a state income tax has been mentioned. The State of Maryland just last week increased the state income tax and the sales tax by 50 per cent. Numerous local governmental units are increasing their taxes. If this continues it would appear to destroy any advantage that might result from a Federal tax reduction. If a Federal tax cut is to stimulate business it must be accompanied by a successful effort by state and local governments in holding the line on taxes or likewise making reductions.

Sadlak-Herlong Bill: Rep. Sadlak of Connecticut and Rep. Herlong of Florida have introduced a fairly detailed bill outlining one approach to a reduction in the Federal income tax. I have received many letters endorsing the Sadlak-Herlong bill but none of them have indicated the fervor and pessimism of a friend who last week wrote, "The Sadlak-Herlong Bill is aptly named. It is sadly lacking and will be herlong time in passing."

Cherry Blossoms: Washington's Cherry Blossom Festival this year is scheduled for March 25-30, but whether 600 cherry trees around the Tidal Basin will co-operate by being in full bloom at that time is problematical. At this writing Washington is again covered with a blanket of snow but we know that with Spring, Easter, and the cherry blossoms thousands of visitors will be in the Capitol. We extend to all from the Fifth District a sincere invitation to write, telephone, or personally call at our office (351 House Office Building; telephone number Capitol 4-3121, extension 3831) so we may be helpful in every possible way.

Senior Classes: We are especially eager to know when our high school senior classes or other school groups are going to be in Washington. It is always a real pleasure to meet the students, and if it is desired we are in a good position to help plan their activities in the Nation's Capitol.

GET THAT VOICE

Claude Rains is one of America's most talented and versatile actors. He has been receiving the applause of stage, movie and TV patrons for years. Rains recalled his favorite story for readers. Although Rains had won fame on Broadway in the 1920's and early '30's as the Theater Guild's leading character actor, it was his first movie role in 1933 that brought him into national prominence. And Rains won that, the title role in H. G. Wells' "The Invisible Man," merely because the director liked his voice. "As you know," Rains said with amusement, "the actor's face in that movie was never seen."

ROLLING STOCK

George Schaefer, "Hallmark Hall of Fame" director, has attracted quite a bit of comment because he directs all his productions from a wheelchair. Many have described him as eccentric. "Not so," says Schaefer, who told a reporter that he picked up the habit of directing his TV shows from a wheelchair last fall while staging "On Borrowed Time." A Yale man, Schaefer had sprained his back cheering for the Blue in a football game against Cornell. The wheelchair, Schaefer discovered, made him mobile. Saved him getting up and down all the time. "So I decided to use it, even if it does look eccentric," Schaefer says.

Small Business Should Attract Farm Operators

Long-term solution of America's farm surplus problem may depend largely on finding an attractive place in industrial society for the small commercial farmer.

That's the opinion of Kenneth E. Boulding, a University of Michigan economist. In the past 10 years, he notes, nearly a million Americans have given up farming for city life. But this has done little to relieve the surplus problem.

The reason: nearly all those who moved were subsistence farmers. They contributed relatively little to the nation's total farm output. Commercial farmers—those who raise food in volume for a profit—more than made up this loss through increased productivity.

Where farm laborers may not have found it too difficult to enter the industrial work force, however, a commercial farmer with capital of his own may not find the transition as easy. Comments Boulding:

"Of course, no one would expect a farmer to start a steel mill or auto plant. But there are many areas of industry where small capitalists are important: retailing, construction, personal services and the professions, to name a few.

I like to see a man proud of the place in which he lives; and so live that the place will be proud of him.

—Abraham Lincoln

'Alluring Alaska' Is Last Travelogue

The last travel series will be presented Monday, March 24, by the Thornapple Lions Club. The title of the film is "Alluring Alaska," and will be narrated by Fred Machetanz. The movie will be shown in the Ada High School auditorium and tickets will be on sale at the door.

The Lions Club has already decided that it will sponsor a similar series next fall to be held in the new Forest Hills auditorium.

"Alluring Alaska"

Fred Machetanz

Few men in America are as well versed in Alaskan lore as is Fred Machetanz. He, and his beautiful wife, Sara, live there much of each year. This famous team has written seven books on Alaskan subjects, and Mr. Machetanz is one of the nation's foremost artists. He has produced a number of movie films covering various phases of this area, and he is now on the staff of Walt Disney. His latest production for Disney is the Cinemascope movie "Alaska Sled Dog,"—a recent release to the countries' important theaters. We have persuaded Mr. Machetanz to edit a film especially for our audience from the thousands of feet in his library. This glorious film will give a very complete picture of modern Alaska as well as much of its excitement—animals, fishing, logging, lumbering, gold mining, etc. It will show the famous Alaska Highway, Ketchikan, Juneau, Glacier Bay, Fairbanks, the Aleutians, Anchorage, Matanuska Valley and other points of interest. At our request it will include Lake George, and the famous "Disappearing Lake"—a body of water 14 miles long and 120 feet deep, which completely vanishes when the Knik Glacier, which holds it back, disintegrates in one of the most exciting sequences ever filmed. Mrs. Machetanz and their famous sled dog "Seego" will appear with her husband when he conducts us on a tour of this fascinating section of our country.
