Michigan's Old Capitol Still One of State's Top Sightseeing Attractions

Shadows of the past linger in Michigan. And as they cast their flickering patterns over the land, here and there a shape emerges to bridge the span between the state's romantic past and its ever-changing present.

One of the best known of such tangible links with Michigan's history is the state capitol building in Lansing, Michigan's capital city. A dome-shaped baroque building—generally considered unlovely in appearance, although representative of its period—this crusty old building holds a curious fascination for visitors. Year in and year out it remains among the top tourist attractions of the state, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

More than 100,000 sightseers yearly go poking through the old building in which the bustle of the state's center of government continues in an atmosphere charged with the lore of Michigan's past.

From the museum on the ground floor to the quiet dignity of the executive offices on the second floor and the hum of accounting machines on the top level, they find strange contrast between the old and the new.

Standing sentinel before the Capitol building is a weathered statue of Michigan's Civil War governor, Austin Blair; although he's been dead for nearly a century he is without a doubt the most photographed man in the state. No tourist worth his film can resist snapping a picture of family or friends before the old statue. And it really is an impressive sight, with the stern visage of Gov. Blair silhouetted against the gleaming white of the Capitol dome in the background.

But, of course, top tourist billing goes to the building itself, and during the annual session of the legislature it teems with school children on hand to watch their government in action. During the rest of the year "capitol bugs" and the garden variety of tourists keep old Gov. Blair busy.

"There are thousands of tourists who 'collect' capitol," says Robert J. Furlong, executive secretary of the Tourist Council. "It has become a hobby. They visit as many states as they can, on each trip photographing the building and landmarks just as many persons collect stamps."

"And today the travel trend is to blend a bit of history into sightseeing," the tourist chief adds. "The traveler then must include the capitol in his itinerary, for that is the logical place to begin."

Actually the dome-capped four story building is Michigan's third capitol. It replaced a frame building erected nearby which was erected in 1847 when the state capitol was moved to Lansing from Detroit. Construction of the present capitol building began in 1872, and was

More Pools Built Now

Resorts and motels in Michigan apparently are going to build more swimming pools this year than ever before.

So far this year, the Michigan Department of Health has issued permits for nine new resort and motel pools. A year ago the department had issued five. The 12 resort and motel pools built last year set a new Michigan record for this category.

Public and semi-public swimming pools in Michigan have increased by about 60 per cent in the last 10 years. As of May 1, there were 450 public and semi-public pools in the state, compared with 283 in 1948.

Resorts and motels, together with schools, have accounted for most of this increase.

Pool construction by schools has been at a high level for the last several years but may be tapering off this year. New school pools totaled 13 in 1957, 10 in 1956 and 13 in 1955. So far this year, four schools have applied for construction permits, as against seven a year ago.

Plans for all public and semi-public pools in Michigan must be approved by the state health department before they are built. Owners of pools also must obtain permits from the state health department to operate the pools. These permits are issued on the basis of inspections made by health department engineers.

Purpose of these services is to protect pool users against such health hazards as waterborne intestinal disease and skin infections as well as safety hazards.

Health department requirements for pools include filtering and recirculating all the pool water at continuous chlorination of the water, and continuous supervision of bathers and pool equipment.

The department also recommends that bathers be allowed to enter pools only after taking a shower and only when wearing suits that don't produce lint.

Semi-public pools are those at resorts, motels, apartment houses, camps, country clubs and similar semi-public places. Public pools include those at schools, parks and other public places.

In 1957, 1,330 Americans were killed in train-car crashes.

Centuries See Little Change in Fish Hooks

Fishing with a hook, one of man's oldest ways of catching food, has changed little since its beginning, a University of Michigan fish expert says.

"We now have accessories that our ancestors didn't have, but we still use hooks," Prof. John E. Bardach notes.

What about power? "Yes, we have power for finding fish, that is we can use powerboats to go out where the fish are biting," but we still don't use it directly for catching fish."

What can fishermen do to get themselves off the hook? Bardach suggests electricity as a possible fishing tool, but he hastily adds that "much research would have to be done first."

Meantime, hang onto your safety pins—you never know when they'll come in handy to "hook" a nice trout or two.

There's some confusion over who should get polio vaccine. The Grand Rapids-Kent County Health Departments strongly urges polio shots for everyone from three-month-old babies on up. Don't take a chance with crippling.

Dog Laws Worth Knowing

Kent County Dog Pound manager, Raymond J. Mathews calls dog owners attention to dog laws that should be known to all dog owners:

All dogs over 4 months of age must be licensed and carry the tag on its collar at all times.

Every dog shall be confined each day between sunset and sunrise. Any person may kill any dog which he sees in the act of pursuing, worrying or wounding any livestock or attacking persons. Any dog that enters any field or enclosure, outside of an incorporated city, unaccompanied by owner may be killed while it is in the field or enclosure without liability. Except as provided above it shall be unlawful for any person except a police officer to kill any dog that bears a license tag for the current year.

A justice may order a dog killed and the expense charged to the owner if at large without license, destroys property, attacks a person, molests passersby on public roads.

Dog stealing carries fines up to $100 and up to 60 days in jail.

ASCENSION DAY SERVICE

Ascension Day services will be held at the Cascade Christian Reformed Church on Thursday, May 15th at 8 p. m.

Rev. John Bratt, Professor of Bible at Calvin College will be the speaker. An offering will be taken for Bethesda Sanitarium of Denver, Colorado.

BEHIND THE SCENES

Things to Come—A combined wood filler and glazing putty repairs window sills and holds glass panes in place.

For the gardener who doesn't like to stoop over there's a new garden hoe that fits on the end of a shoe.

A boat made of fibrous glass folds up to become its own automobile trailer.

THINGS TO COME

Now that fountain pens have gone high-fashion, gold-plated hand tools designed for housewives will soon appear in department stores in kits retailing from $10 to $50. A foldaway bicycle that can be carried in a car trunk and assembled in 15 second and "four movements" is adjustable for either children or adults. A mattress about to be marketed contains a heating grid similar to that of an electric blanket.

Scientists who are even now searching desperately for a means to prevent cancer must be somewhat disheartened when they see so many people failing to take advantage of already known preventives such as polio vaccine. Have you been immunized?

HOME SWIMMING POOL!

Despite his great TV success, Richard Boone is a frugal man to whom high living is meaningless. It is revealed that he has just two extravagances—a sports car and a small swimming pool. Construction of the pool was fraught with problems but it was finally completed; a hose weighted to the bottom and the water turned on. "Three days after the thing was filled," Boone relates, "we suddenly realized there was water still running somewhere. We could hear it going through the house pipes but we couldn't find it.

It turned out to be in the basement. Peter (Boone's five-year-old son) had run the hose down there and tied a brick to it. The water was a good four foot up to the wall, with trunks and old furniture and packing cases floating all over the place. He said he was just trying to make a swimming pool."

PRIVATE JOKE

through his roles in such productions as "Peter Pan" and "Aladdin." "I'm the kind of cad that children like," Ritchard says, "because my villains are fake villains, and the children—who are much more perceptive than their adults—realize this. It's as though the whole thing were one great joke the children and I are playing on their parents."

TV BRIEFS

Edward R. Murrow: "Due to the nature of TV, are the big corporations justified in spending money in TV exclusively to sell goods and services? Do they not also have a responsibility to spend perhaps 10 percent of their budgets on shows not designed to reach the greatest number of people at the lowest cost?"

TV star Myrna Fahey: "To become to an actress, it's not necessary to romp in leopard skins or leotards."

Driver error accounted for the vast majority of accidents, with excessive speeding being the greatest single error. A total of 13,200 died and 837,000 were injured in speeding accidents alone.

Invite Public to Kent Co. Library

Kent County Library staff members cordially invite the public to an open-house Monday, May 19 from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 p. m. at 740 Fuller N. E., Stanley B. Carman, Assistant Director announced.

"We are anxious that those who use one of Kent County Library's 14 branches, or who are served by its school service department, have a chance to visit us," he said.

An open-house last month was by invitation only to supervisors, library and county officials. Carman said Miss Joyce Pleune, head of school service department, will invite teachers from 171 rural county schools serviced by three bookmobiles.

Carman said that summer bookmobile schedules would be distributed during the open house so that people from the 26 communities serviced by the bookmobiles could know when to expect them this summer.

The assistant director emphasized that the Kent County Library Headquarters is a service and administrative agency only. It is not a public library in the sense that people can come to it and check out books. It serves the public directly through its 14 branch libraries and its school service department.

"We expect many teachers, mothers and children to come Monday afternoon to see how the headquarters library operates," Carman said.

Branch librarians will be on hand to conduct tours through the building and introduce visitors to staff members. He said the office staff would show how its book mending department operates and how new books are processed through various stages until they are ready for the public.

Mrs. W. W. Plummer, director of cataloging, will explain how books are selected, indexed and classified, Mrs. Estelle Killinger, reference librarian and branch supervisor, will display reference tools in her office and give people some idea of the hundreds of requests received from the branch libraries.

At 7:30 and 8:30 p. m., during the evening open-house, slides will be shown and a talk given describing the background, growth and development of the county library. Current circulation reached more than 256,000 in 1957, branch membership numbered more than 12,000 while school service concentrated on 171 rural schools attended by 21,000 children.

Get-Acquainted Tea For Mothers, Kindergarteners

New kindergarten pupils of the Ada Christian School, who will start school in the fall, with their mothers are invited to a "get acquainted" tea to be held at the Ada Christian Reformed Church on Friday, May 16th.

The tea will be held from 2:30 to 3:30 p. m.

All mothers having children starting kindergarten in the fall are cordially invited to attend.

Kent County Library to Hold Special Open House

Invitations to an open house at the new Kent County Library Headquarters Wednesday evening, April 30, were mailed Friday to County Officials and special guests. Stanley Carman, Assistant Director, said. Open house for the general public will be held later this spring.

Carman emphasized that the Library Headquarters facilities are not open to the general public for charging out books. The headquarters library is maintained to service its 14 branches and the School Service Department with books and a reference and consultation service. In addition a limited number of films are available for community groups. Records are available only to branches for children's programs.

"We are especially happy that the move to expanded quarters came at this time for it means continuation of our community bookmobile service this summer, instead of curtailing it," Carman noted. He said it had been feared the summer bookmobile program would be discontinued due to lack of space for book processing at the old headquarters location.

Over 95 per cent of the vehicles involved in accidents were in apparently good condition. More than 85 per cent of the fatal accidents came during clear weather, 79.6 per cent on dry roads. These facts emphasize the factor of driver responsibility.

Berrien county has one of the greatest concentrations of fruit and vegetable production in America.

to having visitors come and see our new headquarters and the spacious grounds in which we are located," Carman said. "Those who visited us at the old headquarters will be happy to see the contrast at Fuller N. E., where we have approximately twice the floor space, better equipment, excellent light and generally vastly improved working conditions," he concluded.

Thornapple Valley Little League Opens Monday

The opening night of the Thornapple Valley Little League will be held on Monday night May 19th at the Little League field at Lions Park on Thornapple River Dr., S. E.

C. H. Runciman

The master of ceremonies for the opening night pre-game festivities will be Carlton Runciman Sr., Admiral of the Lowell Showboat. Mr. Runciman will introduce John B. Martin of Grand Rapids, who will give a short speech and throw out the first ball of the 1958 season.

John B. Martin

Martin is president of the Kent County Mental Health Center, projects chairman of the Michigan Crime and Delinquency Council, Chairman of the Michigan Legislative Advisory Council on Problems of the Aging, President of the Grand Rapids Rotary Club, a member of the American, Michigan, and Grand Rapids Bar Associations, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, AMVETS, the Grange and the Farm Bureau.

In 1934, he married the former Helen Hickam. They have four children and live in Grand Rapids at 345 Plymouth, S. E. His business address is 1107 Peoples National Bank Building in the same city.

Also to be recognized at the opening ceremonies, will be those people who make Little League baseball in our area possible.

Sponsors of all the teams will be introduced as well as coaches, umpires, and Little League officials.

All six teams along with their coaches will be in attendance in full uniform.

The first game will be between the Cardinals and the Braves with opening ceremonies starting at 5:45 p. m.

Everyone is invited out to the opening night game and it is hoped that this year's Little League program can be a huge success.

St. Robert's Parish Participate In Diocesan Fund Drive

Members of St. Robert's parish in Ada will participate in the fourth annual Diocesan Development Fund Campaign starting Sunday and continuing for one week.

Local parishioners will be uniting with 179 other congregations in the 29-county area of the Grand Rapids diocese to raise revenues at the request of Bishop Allen J. Babcock.

The solicitation will climax approximately seven weeks of preparation for the drive.

Although no quota has been set either for the local parish or for the diocese as a whole, campaign leaders are hopeful that this year's returns will match the $450,500 collected in 1957.

Projects to be supported from the funds raised this year will include the construction of a chapel and student activities building at Ferris Institute in Big Rapids and a program of religious instruction for children from the parishes at Mancelona, Bellaire, Kalkaska and Fife Lake.

George E. Ludwig of Muskegon is general chairman for the project.

For entertainment of the evening the men will engage in a softball game, and if they have any energy left, other games will be played.

The young men of the church are also invited to attend this picnic.

Fall Enrollment For Kindergarten

Kindergarten children who will begin starting to school this Fall will be enrolled on the first two days of school in September. By alphabetical arrangement, half of the children will enroll the first day and second half the next day. This will give time for each Kindergarten teacher to learn to know the child and the parent.

In the near future, after the annual census has been taken, letters will be sent from the Superintendent's office giving details about the enrollment of the children and inclosing a special booklet entitled "We Begin School." Included also, will be a health blank which the family will take to their doctor.

The traditional "round-up" will not be held this year, it was decided last week in a meeting of Kindergarten teachers and parents in the Forest Hills Administration office.

The plan described above was thought to be the best way to introduce children to the Kindergarten and to enroll them. However, if parents wish to take their children to visit a kindergarten for the experience they may do so by appointment with the teacher.
