Barbara Heaven is June Bride

Miss Barbara Jeanne Heaven, 7249 Denison Dr., S. E. was united in marriage to Roy Barton Reynolds, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Reynolds, Point Pleasant, West Virginia, on Saturday afternoon, June 14, at 2 p. m. in the Cascade Christian Church.

Palms, Candelabra, and bouquets of white snapdragons, carnations and glads decorated the church.

Rev. Raymond Gaylord performed the marriage ceremony. Verne Stilwell was the organist, who accompanied Donald Fink who sang "Oh Perfect Love," "The Wedding Benediction," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride chose a gown of chantilly lace featuring a fitted bodice with a scalloped scoop neckline and long sleeves. The lace skirt cascaded down over flounces of of net and terminated in a chapel length train. A crown of pearls and sequins secured the fingertip length veil of French illusion. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid with swainsonia and ivy streamers.

Miss Carol Heitz of Cleveland, Ohio, was the honor attendant. She wore a bouffant ballerina length gown of yellow nylon organza. The bodice, designed with a square neckline and short sleeves was trimmed with white Venetian embroidery. A flower petal hat with a circular veil, which matched the dress, completed her attire. She carried a crescent bouquet of white daisies.

The best man was Donald Henry of Geauga Lake, Ohio. The guests were ushered to their seats by Donald L. Heaven, brother of the bride and Albert Andrews.

Fellowship Hall of the Cascade Christian Church was the scene of the reception which followed the ceremony. Master and mistress of ceremonies were Mr. and Mrs. R. Dale Charters. Assisting about the room were Mrs. Albert Andrews,

Miss Sally Cutler and Mrs. James Scripps.

The bride's mother chose a light blue lace dress with white accessories, and a pink sweetheart rosebud corsage.

For travel Mrs. Reynolds wore a coral silk chemise, white linen duster and white accessories, and wore an orchid corsage.

After June 18, the couple will reside at 223 Park Drive, Point Pleasant, West Virginia.

Out of town guests besides the maid of honor and best man were Mr. and Mrs. John Drlik, Jane, Jack and Leslie of Durand; Miss Eva Kingsley of Durand, Miss Cynthia Thompson of Ann Arbor, Mrs. James Duncan of Ypsilanti, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Heaven, Linda, Susan and David of Ypsilanti, Mrs. Russell Pell and Jerrilyn of Plainwell, and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Lyons, Howard, Roger and Kathy of Trufant.

Market Prices Important In Wool Program

Farmers who sell wool below the national average price for the 1958 marketing year will wind up getting less for their wool than the national incentive price of 62 cents per pound, according to Chairman Joseph Schweitzer of the Kent County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Mr. Schweitzer cited the following example to show how the wool payment program works:

For the 1956 marketing year (for which payments were made in the summer of 1957), the national average wool price was 44.3 cents per pound. The incentive payment rate was 40 percent to bring the average price up to the incentive level.

A farmer who sold his wool for 35 cents per pound received a payment of 40 percent of this amount, or 14 cents. This gave him a total return of 49 cents per pound.

More than 80 million motorists in the United States and Canada will be asked to "SLOW DOWN AND LIVE" this summer, and those who persistently ignore the request will find, in many areas, stepped-up law enforcement programs to forcibly remind them of it.

This summer will mark the seventh annual "SLOW DOWN AND LIVE" campaign, created by the Ass'n of State and Provincial Safety Coordinators, composed of the official representatives primarily responsible for coordination of highway safety activities in their respective areas.

Hurry-up driving is the target of the joint Driver Education-Law Enforcement drive, which will continue through Labor Day.

In Michigan alone, during 1957, speed was responsible for deaths and injuries in over 40% of the reported fatal accidents!

"By 'hurry-up' we just don't mean excessive speed, although that's a big part of the picture," explains Gerald W. Shipman, Executive Secretary, State Safety Commission and a member of the sponsoring association.

"Dangerous haste takes other forms, too, such as driving too close, failure to yield the right-of-way, passing without a clear distance ahead, all symptoms of hurry-up driving, which figures in more than 90% of the nationwide fatalities on the open road."

Now's the time of year when people get restive and road maps and travel brochures become required reading. It's the time when we plan that auto trip. The well-organized traveler has a check list. He checks the road maps, checks reservations for accommodations, checks the condition of the car; brakes, lights, tires, and checks the family pup into a kennel. We'd like to recommend one more item for that check list, an item traffic statistics indicate is too often neglected.

Check your speed, too. Check the distance you plan to travel against a reasonable time to cover it. Check your speed in light of the realities of traffic congestion, rain, darkness and other factors you know you'll meet. Check your speed in light of the common sense precautions of safe driving. There's no better insurance for a happy holiday.

Everyone's Job

"Traffic safety is everybody's job." That statement is so elementary it is almost trite. Yet, the accident statistics would indicate that a lot more people are giving that thought lip service only. Traffic safety is team work, it requires all the efforts of highway engineers, law enforcement officers, driver education teachers in our schools and many others, working together.

Yet, too frequently, the other essential member of that team is missing. He's you, the individual driver. No highway can be so engineered that dangerous haste can't get you killed on it, no police force can be everywhere to prevent accidents from happening. We'll really dent the traffic toll when the individual driver everywhere joins the team.

'Good Samaritan Fund Progressing

The first report meeting on the progress of the Good Samaritan fund campaign was held Tuesday noon, June 3, at Butterworth Hospital. Special gifts progress in the men's division of the campaign were computed at that time.

J. Francis Fentress, co-chairman of the drive, emphasized, "Because of the emergency caused by lack of funds for hospital free work, speed of campaigning is a necessity. All Good Samaritan fund workers are urged to complete their contacts as quickly as possible and be ready with a solid report June 3."

Lee M. Woodruff, campaign co-chairman with Fentress, stressed the need for the Good Samaritan drive Tuesday at a kick-off meeting for the men's special gifts division at the Fountain Street Church. At that meeting Woodruff pointed out, "the drive is for the man who a year ago was employed and taking care of all the needs of his family. Today he is one of the 19,000 unemployed in this area. His unemployment check or part time income pays only for bare necessities. When illness strikes his family he has no way to meet hospital costs. He's not eligible for welfare aid because of his unemployment check or small income. He has no way to turn except to the community for help."

The Community Chest hospital free work fund of $65,000 has been exhausted due to large unemployment. $105,000 is being asked to carry on this humanitarian work for the remainder of 1958. The drive started May 26 and will run through the first week of June.

The design and manufacture of packages alone has grown into a $12-billion-a-year industry.

WRITERS HELP

Robert Young, who portrays Jim Anderson on TV's "Father Knows Best," always seems to have the answers to his TV family's problems. This situation causes some confusion among his off-camera brood—a wife and five daughters. When Young recently said, "I don't know" as a logical answer to a question asked by one of his daughters, she bridled a bit and said, "But Jim Anderson always knows." "Jim Anderson," Young replied, not without a trace of bitterness, "has two writers. Bob Young doesn't have any."

NEW DEAL

Gracie Allen, who recently retired from show business, says her new found freedom will be full of surprises. "I told someone that I probably would have lunch with the girls and play gin rummy all afternoon," Gracie reports. "That would be a terrible rut to get into," the friend answered. "I said maybe it would be to her, but I'd never done it before," Gracie replied. It might be a lot of fun."

TV BRIEFS

A TV industry brass hat's definition of a TV critic: "Any former obituary writer who happens to own a television set."

Ward Bond, on why he objects to heavy make-up: "All that junk on my puss makes me look like a juvenile."

A scented pair of ladies' stockings will invariably outsell the unscented of the same quality.

FFC Recommends Educational TV

Michigan State University's attempt to obtain television Channel 10 for educational programming in Michigan on a shared-time basis has cleared its biggest hurdle.

The Federal Communications Commission has announced its tentative approval of the combined use of Channel 10 by M. S. U. and Television Corporation of Michigan. The plan will make Channel 10 the first to offer a full schedule of both educational and commercial TV programs.

Dr. Armand L. Hunter, director of the university's station WKAR-TV, was notified that the commission is requesting its staff to draw up a legal decision granting final approval to the proposal.

A favorable final decision, expected within weeks, will allow M. S. U. to construct transmitter and studio facilities at Onondaga, near the center of the Lansing-Jackson-Battle Creek triangle. Studios will be maintained also in East Lansing and Jackson. The station conceivably could be in operation by the first of next year. Michigan State will operate as a self-sustaining educational station from 9:30 a. m. to 2 p. m. and 6 to 7:30 p. m. weekdays, and during mid-day hours on week-ends, a total of about 38½ hours a week.

Television Corp. will operate during the remainder of the broadcasting day as a commercial station with separate call letters, broadcasting about 60 hours a week. It probably will be affiliated with a national network.

The decision apparently signals the near end to one of the longest cases in FCC history, which went to 97 volumes of testimony.
