Ada Church Bible School Begins

The Ada Community Reformed Church will hold its annual Vacation Bible School at the church beginning on Monday, July 28, and will continue through Friday, August 1. The Bible School is under the sponsorship of the Rural Bible Mission, and the director will be Melvin Nelson.

Teachers for the school will be Mrs. Arthur DeJong, Ruth Ann DeGood, Mrs. Max Scanlon, Mrs. James Stevens, Mrs. Hans Tichelaar, Mrs. Herman Heemstra, Mrs. John Postema, Mrs. Raymond Slayton, Mrs. Shirley Yarolimek and Mrs. John Adrianse.

There will be a program at the church on Friday evening, August 1, at 8 p. m., to climax the weeks study. Everyone is welcome to attend.

The bus route scheduled to pick up children will go up Thornapple River Drive to Cascade; Vergennes Road to Boynton School, and Grand River Drive to the Carl School.

Anyone wanting further information may call the student pastor, Arthur DeJong, OR 6-5361.

Cascade Horse Show Big Success

The Cascade Wranglers second annual horse show held on Saturday, July 19, at the Glenwood Dodgson's farm on Kraft Avenue, was a big success.

Mary Ann Walma and Janet Kossen were the flag bearers, leading the thirteen contestants. Henry Walma was the announcer of events. Everett Snyder was Ring Master. Gene Gleason was judge, and Orrie Kossen assisted.

A good time was had by all, with a very good attendance of spectators. Mally's Popcorn Wagon served refreshments.

Ronald Viermaker Buys Cascade Barbershop

We'd like to introduce Ronald Viermaker, the new owner of the Cascade Barbershop. Mr. Viermaker and his wife, Marcia, live at 1850 Haines, Grand Rapids. They have two children; a son Ronald L., 2½ and a daughter, Amy Marcia, 1½.

A native of Grand Rapids, he was graduated from Catholic Central high school and LaMar Barber College in Detroit. The name of the Cascade Barbershop at 6813 Cascade Road, will remain the same. It was formerly owned by Martin C. VanderJagt.

The Viermakers' future plans: to move to the Cascade area as soon as possible.

We extend a welcome to the Viermakers and hope they like it in Cascade.

Functional Committee to Be Held Monday, July 28

Lee Patterson, Chairman of the Board of the Cascade Christian Church, has called a Functional Committee meeting for Monday evening, July 28, at 8 p. m., at Fellowship Hall.

This meeting is for the chairman of the functional committees and the executive committee of the board to establish the functional committees for the coming church year.

Thornapple Valley Baseball League Race Still Close

The Cougars remain on top in the scramble for first place this week despite a tie with the Lancers in Monday's game. Mike Ruffin pitched a nice two-hitter. However, one of the hits was a home run by Dave Burkhead, with a man on in the third inning. The Cougars got their two on three walks, a sacrifice and an error.

The Braves and Bear Cats were rained out in their scheduled game for Tuesday.

Wednesday the Cougars rallied for four runs in the fifth inning to add to their one, to win five to four over the Braves. Doug Stiles (L) 1-11 pitched for the Braves while Spencer Wilcox picked up his fourth win against one loss for the Cougars.

Bear Cats-Lancers
Jim Lawrence came back from vacation to pitch for the Bear Cats Thursday against the Lancers. Jim (Zorro) struck out 15 batters, gave up only four hits and lost 6 to 2. Errors accounted for all of the runs but one. John Pellerito (W) 2-1 pitched a nice game for the Lancers to win.

One correction please; last week this reporter gave a loss to John Pellerito. My apologies please. Dave Burkhead started the game and was relieved by Pellerito in the early innings. With a one run lead and one on in the 7th, Burkhead came in and gave up the winning run.

The standings as of Thursday, July 17, are:

	W	L	T	Pct	Pts
Cougars	6	3	1	.667	13
Lancers	5	4	1	.556	11
Braves	5	4	0	.556	10
Bear Cats	2	7	0	.222	4

The schedule for the coming week:

Mon. Jul. 28-Cougars vs. Braves
Tues. Jul. 29-Bear Cats vs. Lancers
Wed. Jul. 30-Cougars vs. Bear Cats
Thurs. Jul. 31 - Braves vs. Lancers

The managers and coaches wish to invite anyone interested in kids' baseball to come out and see the games. They are all played at Forest Hills High School on Hall St. We also wish to thank the umpires for their services. Don't forget now; we expect to see bigger crowds there. There is also a concession stand in operation to satisfy hunger and thirst.

NEIGHBORS HOLD PICNIC

On Friday evening, July 18, neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Dale Charters for a picnic supper. Those in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Ward Geib, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fosner and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles King and son.

Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Leuhrs and son, Mrs. Jack Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Heaven, Leroy Heaven and Mrs. Ralph Schurtz.

Gossip is what no one claims to like but everyone enjoys.

All-Star Game to Be Played Friday

On Friday evening, July 26, there will be a game between the Franklin Park All-Stars of Grand Rapids, and the Thornapple Valley Little League All-Stars.

The players selected will, for the most, be playing their last game of the season.

All boys were picked and assigned to their playing position by their player agent, Bob Burkhead, sr.

This should be an exceptionally good game. Game time will be 6 p. m. Coaches for the team will be H. Parrish and Norv. Clifford. Let's have a real turnout.

Managers Plan All-Star Games

In a meeting this past week the managers of the Thornapple Valley Baseball League planned two all-star games. The players will be picked from the first and last teams and the second and third team in the standings this Friday.

The two teams will play Saturday, August 16, at 2 p. m. at the Forest Hills baseball diamond. The winner of this all-star game will play the managers the following Saturday.

All interested parents, friends and players are invited to plan now to attend these games. The purpose of these games is to have parents come and show interest in their children.

A collection will be taken at both games. The money will be used to meet the many expenses involved in an undertaking such as this. Plan now to attend.

YOUTH DAY A SUCCESS

Youth day at the Cascade Christian Church was a success on Sunday, July 20. There were 12 in the choir and a goodly number of teen-agers in the audience to hear Rev. Raymond Gaylord's sermon on "Summer Trouble Spots."

About 30 youth and their leaders enjoyed a weiner roast at Townsend Park. After their weiner roast they went swimming at Bostwick Lake.

The rest of the day was spent by playing ball and watermelon was had at night.

G. O. C. POST OPENED ON TUESDAY, JULY 15

The G. O. C. Post at Cascade was opened on Tuesday, July 15, at the request of Chief Observer, Mrs. Ann Spaulding, at noon by Don Heaven, as there were severe storm warnings and heavy wind forecast.

Don was assisted later by James Atherton, and Frank Atherton.

98TH WRIDE REUNION

The 98th Wride Reunion will be held on Sunday, August 3, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Heaven, 7249 Denison Dr., S. E.

There will be a pot-luck dinner at 1 p. m. with coffee and ice-cream provided.

Tri-Cees Bible Class

The Tri-Cees Bible Class of the Cascade Christian Church will meet on Wednesday evening, July 30, at the Fellowship Hall.

The lesson is from Acts 2, "The Power of the Holy Spirit," and will be led by Mrs. Carroll MacInness.

Mr. and Mrs. James Banta are the host and hostess for the evening.

Chordettes Will Star at Ionia Free Fair

Four lovely young ladies, currently at the pinnacle of show business popularity, have succeeded in blending their voices into the world's finest harmony. The Chordettes, as they are known, were voted the leading female recording group for 1957. They have starred on radio, television, records and in night clubs, and their mail is swarming with requests for personal appearances. They will appear as the stars of the premier showing of the State Fair Revue of 1958 at the Ionia Free Fair, August 4 through 9.

Four comely girls currently at the pinnacle of show business popularity because their haunting voices blend into the world's finest harmony will set the entertainment pace of the State Fair Revue of 1958 at the Ionia Free Fair, August 4 through 9.

Known throughout the world, the Chordettes have produced barber-shop albums that are collectors items as well as pop tunes and arrangements of old songs that will never die.

Play School To Hold Mexican Fiesta

The thirty-five youngsters who attend the Cascade Play School every morning from 10 to 12 are busy making preparations for a Mexican fiesta. This will be held on the last day of the school, Friday, August 1.

At that time Mrs. Spadetti, the instructor, hopes to present a puppet show and break a Mexican "Pinata" of toys, which the children will bring from home and exchange with each other.

The parents are invited to attend this fiesta from 10 to 12, on August 1.

Visit Son In Indiana

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Matthews, Thornapple River Dr., spent the week end in their former home town of Liberty, Indiana, visiting their son, Richard, who is working there this summer.

Richard preached in the Methodist church in Liberty, on Sunday.

Hard to say which is the nicer sign of spring... the flowers coming up or the heating bills going down.

Stars of radio, television, night clubs and records, the Chordettes first aroused the music world with their record of "Mr. Sandman" and they have been the hottest property in the entertainment industry ever since. The nation's teenagers recently voted them the leading female recording group for 1957.

"Mr. Sandman" sold two million copies and marked only the second time in Hit Parade history that a tune remained in first place for 21 weeks.

Swamped by hundreds of requests for personal appearances the Chordettes have been extremely busy filling the engagements. Included in their personal appearance schedule have been the Annual TV and Radio Correspondents Dinner in Washington, D. C., where President Eisenhower enjoyed their harmony, an appearance with Victor Borge at the Chicagoland Music Festival, and other famous and exclusive spots, where every appearance broke attendance records.

They have been special guests at the Mrs. America Contest and recent credits include the Robert Q. Lewis TV Show, Ed Sullivan, Perry Como, Eddie Fisher, Vaughn Monroe, Russ Morgan, Sammy Kaye and the Jack Paar Tonight Show.

The Midwest State Fair Circuit and the Ionia Free Fair were fortunate in being able to secure the services of such an outstanding group of girl singers. They will undoubtedly prove the greatest single attraction of the Free Fair grandstand show in many years.

The Chordettes will headline a cast of professional dancing, musical, acrobatic and animal acts which will appear in the premier showing of the State Fair Revue of 1958 before the grandstand at the Ionia Free Fair, August 4 through 9.

Ruffed Grouse Struts, Drums Up His Spouse

The drumming sound, which is part of the display by which the male ruffed grouse seeks to attract the female, will carry a quarter of a mile, particularly on a humid morning, according to George Hunt, assistant professor of wildlife management at The University of Michigan.

"He selects an old log, or rock, or raised place on the ground to set up his headquarters for strutting and drumming. This begins early in the morning and stops with the sunrise.

"First he fluffs out his feathers, spreads his tail and his wings, pushes in his neck and extends the 'ruff' of neck feathers from which he takes his name. After he has strutted a bit, he will drum with his wings. Clapping his wing tips slowly together, he steps up the rhythm until it is a rapid drumming. This sound always reminds me of an old tractor with a one-cylinder engine," says Professor Hunt. "The drumming usually takes place in a woodland area where there is quite a bit of cover.

"The ruffed grouse is gray with brown mottlings, or it may be reddish brown with brown markings. It weighs from one to one and 3/4 pounds. The tail, when spread out, is broad and fairly long.

"It's quite a trick to shoot this bird, as it flies off into the timber in a most erratic way. And the explosive burst with which it gets off the ground can be quite startling. They are good fliers from the standpoint of short bursts of speed and strength, but a quarter of a mile is about their distance limit. You seldom find them in groups of more than eight or ten—usually two to four.

"The ruffed grouse is a valuable game species, depending on where it may be in the population cycle. The cycle is every ten years, going from high to low and then to high again. When it is abundant here in the three lake states—Michigan, Wisconsin, and Minnesota—several hundred thousand are shot each year.

"The bird nests on the ground in woodland areas. Almost always the nest is placed at the base of a stump or rock, and usually it is quite close to an opening. Since the female does all the incubating, she apparently likes to have her back protected.

"The nest is usually a small hollow with a few leaves pushed carelessly around. Anywhere from five to 27 eggs are laid, with the average around 12. The young have been known to fly at the age of eight to 10 days," Professor Hunt says.

Older Persons Need Good Food

Older persons need nourishing food just as much as younger persons do, the Michigan Department of Health said today.

In a food service guide prepared for distribution to all nursing homes and homes for the aged in the state, the department says: "Older persons require fewer calories but just as many body-building and regulating substances as do young adults. Regardless of age, everyone needs good muscle tone, a clear skin, good digestion, good elimination, steady nerves and a sense of well-being.

"Proper foods well prepared and attractively served will help older persons retain good health, and for this reason meal preparation is an important part of nursing home care," said Mrs. Alice H. Smith, chief of the department's Nutrition Section.

"Suitable meals," Mrs. Smith added, "constitute as important a part of nursing home care as careful nursing and skilled medical attention."

The state health department is the state licensing authority for nursing homes and homes for the aged.

The guide explains and defines "suitable meals" by outlining daily food requirements of nursing home patients, and by suggesting ways of improving food selection, food preparation and food service.

The minimum daily food requirements of older persons include:

Three cups of milk either as a beverage or in foods.

Two two-ounce servings of a protein-rich food such as meat, fish, cheese, dried peas and beans, and peanut butter.

One egg a day, or at least four a week.

Three to five servings of fruits and vegetables. One of the fruits should be green or yellow. Citrus fruits are a good source of vitamin C, which often is short in older persons' diets. Potatoes, if cooked in skins before they are peeled, contribute some vitamin C but can't provide the entire daily requirement.

Three to four servings of bread or cereal, preferably whole grain or enriched and some fat (butter or margarine.)

Raspberry Crop in State to Be Large

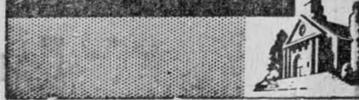

Black raspberries, the fruit that was always found in the old-fashioned garden, is going to be a heavy crop in Michigan this year, and red raspberries are not going to be far behind, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Raspberries begin to appear in the fresh fruit markets shortly after July 1, and continue to find favor as a dessert fruit or for jam and jelly until mid-summer.

Michigan is the chief source in the middle west of both red and black raspberries. The most recent census placed Michigan third in production, the largest source east of the Pacific northwest. In fact about a seventh of the total national crop comes from Berrien and Van Buren counties, down in the extreme southwestern corner of the state.

Trees Can Be Used As Frames for House

"Trees can be used as frames and backgrounds to buildings in a comparatively simple manner provided a few rules and regulations are followed," says Prof. Harlow O. Whittemore, chairman of the Department of Landscape Architecture at The University of Michigan.

"If your house is near the street, there usually is no room for additional trees in front without overshadowing and crowding. But if your home is back 30 to 40 feet or more, additional framing in front is desirable.

"With a large house it is best to use two trees, one on either side of the house, and locate them diagonally off the corners, 15 to 20 feet away from the corners. If the house is a small one, one tree may be enough, located off one corner and repeated by a small flowering tree of similar form off the other corner.

"If two trees are used, they should be those which have canopy form—spreading top with trunk and branches revealed below—so as not to hide the house, but frame it. Theoretically, the trees should rise above the house and spread out above it so as to encompass the whole frame. A tall house calls for a tall tree, a low house for a medium-sized or low tree.

"Some trees that make good frame trees are American elm, honey locust, tulip tree, white ash, red oak for large houses. For smaller houses, scarlet oak, white oak, European linden, red bud, and Japanese lilac are good.

"In addition to the frame, there should be background trees, located at two distances, first those located immediately back of the house, and second, those at the back end of the property. In the case of a large house, there might be two trees off each of the rear corners, balancing those in front; for the small house, off the rear corner, diagonally opposite the one framing tree in front.

"In any case, a mass of trees across the rear would be satisfactory. Background trees can be more solid and with lower branches such as sugar maple, American linden, burr oak, red oak, red gum and such pines as white, Austrian or red."

THINGS TO COME—Man made emeralds produced in the lab for $125 a carat are said to have the same properties as natural ones worth $1,000 a carat. . . Young children ordinarily forbidden to visit hospital patients may now see and hear them via a closed-circuit TV system which operates from the lobby to any room for a 25 cent charge. . . A special type of margarine for persons on a low-fat diet is now being handled by drug stores.

"Today's dollar seems built more for speed than endurance."

GREEN STAMPS

The fighting black bass provides some of Michigan's finest fishing during summer and fall months for thousands of anglers.

Both largemouth and smallmouth varieties are found throughout most of the state in inland lakes and along Great Lakes shorelines. The largemouth gets its name because in adult fish the upper jaw extends for a considerable distance behind the eye—not so in the smallmouth. Another characteristic of the largemouth is the deep notch between the dorsal (back) fin. The color pattern usually is greenish with a broad black band running the length of the body, this band tending to fade out in bigger fish.

The smallmouth is distinguished by the small size of the mouth, of course; the lack of a deep notch between the two parts of the dorsal fin; and a marked difference in color. A brown to greenish-brown color is characteristic of the smallmouth and the fish often has a series of dark, vertical bars along the side.

Both varieties normally reach legal size of 10 inches in three

THE DRIVER'S SEAT

If you're like a lot of people in the Driver's Seat and drive sometimes with children in the car—here's a way to keep the youngsters from becoming fretful during long drives. ("Long drives," in the vernacular of the young-young set, is anything longer than an hour.)

The game is called "Out-of-State Plates" or "License Plate Watching." In some places it's called "Places and Plates."

But the rules generally are the same: the person who spots the most out-of-state plates during a given period is the victor.

Some parents add an extra requirement: the youngster spotting the plate must also name the capital of its state. (But this has not proved too popular, because few grown-ups can name all capitals with complete certainty.)

However, if you're like many parents and want to amuse and inform your young passengers, here are a few little-known facts about license plates that you may want to pass on when you suggest that they play "Out-of-State Plates." (It will make the game a little more interesting for them.)

License plates of 27 states have slogans on them. You can make the game more exciting by giving extra points for these plates. Some slogans: "Water Wonderland" (Michigan), "famous Potatoes" (Idaho), "Drive Safely" (Indiana), "Scenic" (New Hampshire) and "10,000 Lakes" (Minnesota).

Special bonus scores can be awarded for plates from Maine, North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota, Delaware, Louisiana and Wyoming. Plates issued by these states gleam with a special brilliance in the light of auto headlights. Lots of people ask questions about these tags, and in case your children do: the plates have a reflective material on them to insure protection against rear-end collisions at night.

Any way you look at it, "license plate watching" can be fun for the family—and is a good way for grown-ups to "keep their eyes on the road" for safety's sake.

Irrigate Home Garden With a Deep Soaking

If you need to irrigate your home garden, it's best to do it well or not at all, advises Fred Widmoyer, extension horticulture specialist at Michigan State University.

A shallow watering will cause the roots of the plants to grow near the surface and be subject to drought damage. On the other hand a long soaking that goes down into the ground several inches promotes deep growth of roots, making the plants more resistant to drought.

The specialists suggest that the sprinkler or hose be allowed to operate in one place until the soil has been soaked to a depth of at least six inches. Apply the water only as fast as it can be absorbed by the soil. Water soaks into sandy soils much faster than clayed soils, so it can be applied at a much faster rate for a shorter time. But you'll need to apply water more often than on finer-textured soils.

For finer-textured soils, apply water slowly and for a longer period of time. It might also be a good idea to cultivate or hoe the surface of finely-textured soils after they have dried sufficiently after irrigation. These soils often tend to bake or crack.

You can apply water to your garden with an automatic sprinkler or by removing the hose nozzle and letting the water run onto a flat board or stone, thus preventing washing. Shallow furrows running along the plant rows can distribute the water

Book Circulation Hits Record High

More books circulated in Kent County's 14 branch libraries during the first six months of 1958 than in any previous comparable period, according to statistics released Saturday by Stanley B. Carman, assistant director of the county library.

During the first six months of 1957 total circulation in the county branches was 92,937, in the same period in 1958 circulation hit 104,793, an average increase of 12.75 percent, Carman said.

Annual statistics have shown a steady increase also, Carman noted, moving from a circulation of 104,573 in 1954 to 181,565 in 1957.

"From the looks of things 1958 is going to be the biggest year we've ever had," he added.

"It would appear from these statistics that readers are turning more often to the public library for the information they need to keep informed in a rapidly moving post-Sputnik world," the assistant director commented.

He explained that the county's five major branches at Lowell, Grandville, Paris, Wyoming and North Park, has climbed from a circulation of 53,080 in the first six months of 1957 to 62,976 at the end of June 1958, an increase of 18.6 percent.

Six Injured In 3 Accidents

Six persons were injured in three accidents in this area Sunday.

Joseph Verkerke, 26, of Alto, received a possible skull fracture when his car collided with a parked car at 76th Street and Thornapple Drive. Richard F. Krzykaw, 29, of Grand Rapids was behind the wheel of the parked auto at the time.

Jack Verkerke of Morley, a passenger in his brother's car, incurred a possible hip fracture. The report said that the Verkerke car went out of control at the time of the accident and hit a tree. Both were taken to Blodgett hospital.

In another accident at M-50 on 92nd Street S. E., Mr. and Mrs. Ward Hecker of Lake Drive, S. E., and Charles M. Fancher, 18, of Grand Ledge were injured in a two-car collision and taken to Blodgett hospital.

Hecker suffered possible back injuries. Mrs. Hecker received a fractured right hip and back injuries. Fancher incurred cuts and bruises; he was treated and released.

A car which overturned on M-21 east of Forest Hills Road, S. E., resulted in injury to Norm Hoose, 23, of Route 3, Lowell, late Sunday. He suffered chest and foot injuries. Driver of the car, Miss Doris Batey, 19, of Lowell, escaped injury.

Water Craft Accidents Reveal New Information

Valuable information for the improvement of water safety is expected to be obtained under the terms of the new state law which requires persons involved in water craft accidents to submit a report if there is death or injury or damage exceeds $50.

The report may be made to any law enforcement officer and, in turn, must then be sent to State Police headquarters in East Lansing, where the data will be compiled and made available for research and study into the cause of such accidents and possible preventative measures.

The operator of a watercraft also must give his name and other identification to the person struck or occupants of a boat that is struck, and provide reasonable assistance to the injured. Powered craft must be registered with the sheriff or other agents as may be designated by the Secretary of State.

Failure to comply with the provisions is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine or jail sentence or both.

In addition, the law provides that any person who operates a watercraft or steers or controls himself while on skis, water sleds, surfboards or similar contrivances in disregard of the safety of others also is guilty of a misdemeanor.

State Police, who have been working closely with the Water Safety Commission, look upon the new measure as a definite advance

'Work for Safety, Safety Works for You'

"When you work for safety, safety works for you." The phases of National Farm Safety Week, July 20 to 26, are built around this theme. Between 12,000 to 15,000 farm people lose their lives in accidents every year. Because of this, Dr. W. B. Prothro, City-County Health Director, suggested that during Farm Safety Week, farm home owners should take stock not only of the safety of their farm equipment but of their farms as well. In this instance, it means the safety of the family members.

Human failure, not motor vehicles, farm machinery and equipment and animals, is the basic cause of accidents. In nearly every case, human failure to recognize and correct a hazard is the real cause of accidental death and injury. Human failures include: hurry, lack of common sense, improper equipment, improper care and use of equipment, procrastination, false confidence, and lack of knowledge.

Two groups of people, the young and the old are more likely to be accident victims and therefore, need special care. Very young children often creep, and they grab at anything available and put it in their mouth. They climb and they get under foot. Babies and small children must be protected against dangers until they have learned how to handle them safely.

Older people are more prone to the unexpected hazards in the home. For example, water spilled on the floor may be a special hazard to an older person. Scatter rugs should have rubber mats underneath them.

Obviously most, if not all, farm accidents can be prevented. It is a fact that in states where good safety committees with well planned, active programs are in existence, accident rates have been reduced. National Farm Safety Week has been an important factor in bringing about this reduction, and each year the effectiveness of this week-long campaign becomes more and more apparent.

Every word we speak requires the use of 72 muscles.

THANKS - BUT NO THANKS

"The Tracer," syndicated film series based on the exploits of the famous New York firm of private investigators, the Tracers Company of America, is now billed as TV's biggest jackpot program. Viewers have already collected $1,682,500 through the efforts of the show. In return Tracers has received several thank-you notes, some pressed flowers, and, from a widow who collected several thousands of dollars, a box of cookies every Christmas—but no cash.

TV BRIEFS—

Lucille Ball's self appraisal: "The real me? Like Lucy, I'm a well-meaning bumbler. And I'm a career girl, not a stay-at-home. I'm a homebody. I love my family and my work. I thank God I'm in a business where I can spend so much time at both."

A TV Director on today's Westerns: "...The rocks are phony, the guns all shoot blanks, half the actors couldn't ride their way around a ring—but the horses are for real. I'll say that—those horses know their stuff."

Kathleen Crowley, one of TV's most versatile actresses, admits she is absorbed in being just two things: herself and a good actress. "I want," Kathleen says thoughtfully, "to be a woman instead of a female."

in providing greater safety now and in the future on state lakes and streams. The law does not apply to the Great Lakes and connecting waters.

"A lot of talk about the educational crisis in our schools, but not a word about the immediate danger—soon they'll be out for the summer."
