Forest Hills Boosters Club Organize For Coming Year

On the evening of September 3, the Forest Hills Boosters Club held their first meeting, it being the "kick-off" for the coming work and support for the athletic program of the Forest Hills educational system. President Fred Sytsma opened the meeting with the introduction of all members. Many new members were present and it is hoped that many more men in the area with an interest in seeing a well-planned and coordinated athletic program will be present at the future meetings.

Plans for the projects for the future were discussed along with the accomplishments of the past year. Ed Shy, athletic director, showed colored slides of last years football team and discussed the team for the coming year. Dean Van Landingham, principal of Forest Hills High School, discussed the necessity of properly integrating a good athletic program with the advanced educational program so as to properly develop today's students.

The following committee chairman were appointed by Fred Sytsma: Bill Thorn, Bob Bushouse, fund raising co-chairmen; Gus Asendoulis, program; Bob Woodrick, phone; Bob Paine, publicity.

Officers for the coming year are: Fred Sytsma, president; Nick Duiwen, vice president; Frank Clark, secretary; and Henry Riemersma, treasurer.

The next meeting will be at the Forest Hills High School on Wednesday, October 1.

The Tri-Cees of the Cascade Christian Church will end their summer Bible study class with a spiritual retreat on Friday evening, September 12, at the Snow Methodist Church, beginning with supper, served by the WSCS group at 6:30 p. m. sharp. Rev. Eric White, of the Central Christian Church in Grand Rapids, will be the speaker for the evening.

A monthly study group is now being organized, which will meet on the third Sunday evening of the month, beginning September 21, at 8:30 p. m., at the church. The group plans to study the book on "Plain Christianity," by J. B. Phillips.

Sixteen hundred eleven students have registered in the Forest Hills High School System as of Friday, September 5, according to Superintendent Harold Chambers.

The high school has 471 students registered in the 7th, 8th, 9th and 10th grades. The new high school building was built to accommodate 425 students, and already they are having to accommodate more than that amount of students.

Don't Forget Open House

Don't forget that Friday night, September 12, is the open house at the new Forest Hills high school. Tours of the buildings will begin at 7 p. m.

All in the ACE area are invited to attend, whether or not you have any children attending the school.

It has been planned that on Sunday, October 5, a second Sunday School session to include children through the 3rd grade, will be held at 11 a. m., and the time of the second worship service. This is being done to alleviate present crowded classes and limitation of facilities.

The Cascade Planning Commission held a special meeting on Monday, August 24, to study recommendations made by Mr. Shoemaker's committee on Traffic Control and Street Development.

The committee consisted of Carl McDanold, Mr. Marvin, Mr. Keck.

The old law required stopping only from the rear. State Police are urging motorists to be exceptionally cautious to avoid rear end collisions during the changeover in the law.

New Series Encourages Industry

Expansion of existing local industry affords every community best opportunity for improvement of the area's economy. This is emphasized in the third series of advertisements on industrial development being carried by this newspaper and 300 daily and weekly newspapers in Michigan as a public service. This week's advertisement features the drawing of a hand holding a modern industrial plant with the caption "A Bird in the Hand is Worth Two in the Bush!" carried below. It stresses the importance of existing industry to every community.

The entire ad is directed toward the appreciation of present industry and efforts to assist it to expand. It stresses the fact that industry located in any town is more important than industry located somewhere else which the community might like to attract.

"It's a hundred to one that the best opportunity your town has for more industrial payroll lies in expansion of its present industry," the ad states.

The local industrial payroll is referred to as a "priceless possession" that other towns would like to get.

"Don't take the industry in your town for granted. Show your pride in it. Help it expand. There's no better payroll than the homegrown variety and it is, by all odds, the easiest to grow," the ad points out.

The idea brought out in this advertisement has been emphasized in many Michigan communities where local industry has been recognized in special appreciation programs and community events.

A public hearing is scheduled September 9 in Lansing to provide interested persons an opportunity to express views on proposed revisions in rules and regulations for administration of Great Lakes submerged lands.

The hearing will begin at 1:30 p. m. in the House Chamber of the State Capitol, according to the Conservation Department.

Revision of the rules and regulations is necessary because the original Submerged Lands Act 247 was amended by passage of Act 94 earlier this year.

The public hearing will cover regulations pertaining to several submerged lands matters, including establishment and operation of marinas, and straightening of Great Lakes shorelines where excessive erosion or property damage has occurred.

It is recommended that views and data on the proposed revisions be submitted in writing and supplemented orally at the hearing. Copies of the proposed rules and regulations may be obtained from: Michigan Conservation Department, Lands Division, Lansing 26, Michigan.

MEDICAL FACILITIES FOR DOGS

by Dr. E. M. Gildow
Director, Friskies Research Kennels

Dogs never had it so good, medically speaking. When sick, they have available the same medical facilities as people. Up-to-date clinics with examining rooms equipped with X-ray machines, fluoroscopes and operating rooms are available. They are complete with sterilizers, surgical instruments, anesthesia gear and oxygen supply.

And the veterinarian of today is as different from his counterpart of forty years ago as the skilled physician is to the horse and buggy doctor. He copes daily with many of the same problems as MDs. He removes tonsils, performs Caesareans, sets compound fractures, treats slipped discs, arthritis, burstitis and respiratory infections. Available to him are the life-saving aids MDs have at their disposal: blood for transfusions, antibiotics, hydrocortisone, vitamins and tranquilizers, to name a few.

Actually the dog has his fellow dogs to thank for this happy state of affairs. Many of the developments in medicine and surgery are proven with animals before being applied to humans. Oftentimes, veterinarians are able to make use of such advance knowledge to the advantage of their canine patients before this knowledge is available to human patients.

Feeding Tip: When your dog is sick, it is of the utmost importance that you keep him eating. There's nothing like a top grade of commercially prepared dog food, for nourishment. But you may find that your dog will eat it more readily if you give him a little bit at a time every few hours.

The deepest known water in Michigan is Lake Superior with a depth of 1,290 feet which is found at a point about 40 miles north and 10 miles east of Munising.

Ignorance is so hard to conceal because people always try to hide it in a public place.

TV NEWS

WHAT'LL YOU HAVE?

A San Francisco bar has installed a closed circuit TV set-up that allows customers to act as TV cameramen. Push-button control over a roof-top camera enables patrons to pick their own shots of the nearby bay and city. The tavern and do-it-yourself TV mix well—but, as one customer put it, "When San Francisco begins to look like Casablanca, I know it's time to go home."

THE LITTLE BOY'S BLUE

Actor Tod Andrews, currently appearing in the lead role in TV's "The Gray Ghost," is generally met with enthusiastic acceptance when he goes on personal appearance tours. Tod said that he does encounter a partisan dissenter occasionally, however. An 11-year-old boy in Boston once told Andrews: "I sure do like you, but I wish you wore a blue uniform."

BADMEN BUILD BANKROLLS

Frank Gruber, noted writer of Western novels and story consultant for "Tales of Wells Fargo," reveals that he learned long ago that there are only seven basic Western story plots. "I tried for months to invent an eighth and met with failure." Now reconciled to the dilemma, Gruber says, "No Jesse James or Bill the Kid motion picture has ever lost money. You can do Jesse James once ev-

Colleges Seek Ambitious Students

Most colleges now are actively hunting for youngsters with the ambition, but not the cash, to pay the skyrocketing cost of today's education.

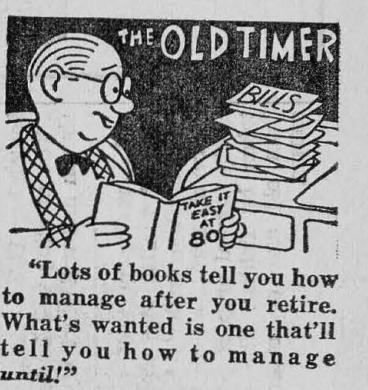

"They need us and we need them," a dean told Frances V. Rummell, who reports on the new crop of working students. Five out of every seven undergraduates now earn at least part of their expenses; one in seven pays his way in full. And year in, year out, the workers get better grades than non-workers. The working student is better motivated, college officials say. He learns how to budget his time.

To help such youngsters, most colleges now have efficient undergraduate employment bureaus. Arizona State College actually sends out academic scouts to show poor but promising youngsters how they can afford to study, with jobs and loans arranged by the college. Colgate gives scholarships only to boys willing to work part-time to close the gap between what they have and what they need.

There is more variety in undergraduate jobs today. A pre-medical student at the University of California in Berkeley does magic tricks for children's parties; another pre-med, at Arizona State, gives blood-alcohol tests to suspected drunk drivers for the local police; a Southern Methodist student averaged $400 a year for three years, selling cemetery lots.

Employers are beginning to demand significant work experience of new graduates. Standard Oil of California is typical. It asks its applicants how much of their expenses they earned, and what work they did. Several corporations provide jobs for undergraduates, tailoring the work hours to fit courses of study.

Ordinary soda straws and a bowl of liquid detergent—that's all you need for a "soap bubble party" for the small youngsters in your house. Use it in the kitchen or bathroom or better still, out-of-doors. Besides making bubbles it may satisfy little children who insist on getting into water, suggests Lennah Backus, extension specialist in parent education and child development at Michigan State University.

"Lots of books tell you how to manage after you retire. What's wanted is one that'll tell you how to manage until!"

Select Tools To Help the Outdoor Cook

Outdoor cookery calls for some special culinary accessories, say Anita Dean and Robert Rust, food and meat specialists at Michigan State University. They suggest some items that will come in mighty handy, when you're cooking over your outdoor grill this summer. One of the first things you'll want to get is a pair of tongs; in fact, you could get two pair, according to Mrs. Dean and Rust. Use one for handling burning charcoal and the other for turning foods on the grill.

You could also use asbestos mittens. You'll find them handier and safer than pot holders for managing hot foods and equipment.

You need long-handled skewers for cooking those outdoor food favorites—kabobs. You can buy some equipped with wooden handles or make your own out of a heavy piece of wire—loop the end to form a handle.

For safety's sake, it's important to keep away from the fire when you're cooking. This is virtually impossible unless you have some long-handled cooking tools. The minimum three are a knife, fork and spatula.

Mrs. Dean and Rust suggest such things as a small shovel and fire rake, a hinged broiler and spit baskets for the "nice-to-have-but-not-necessary" department.

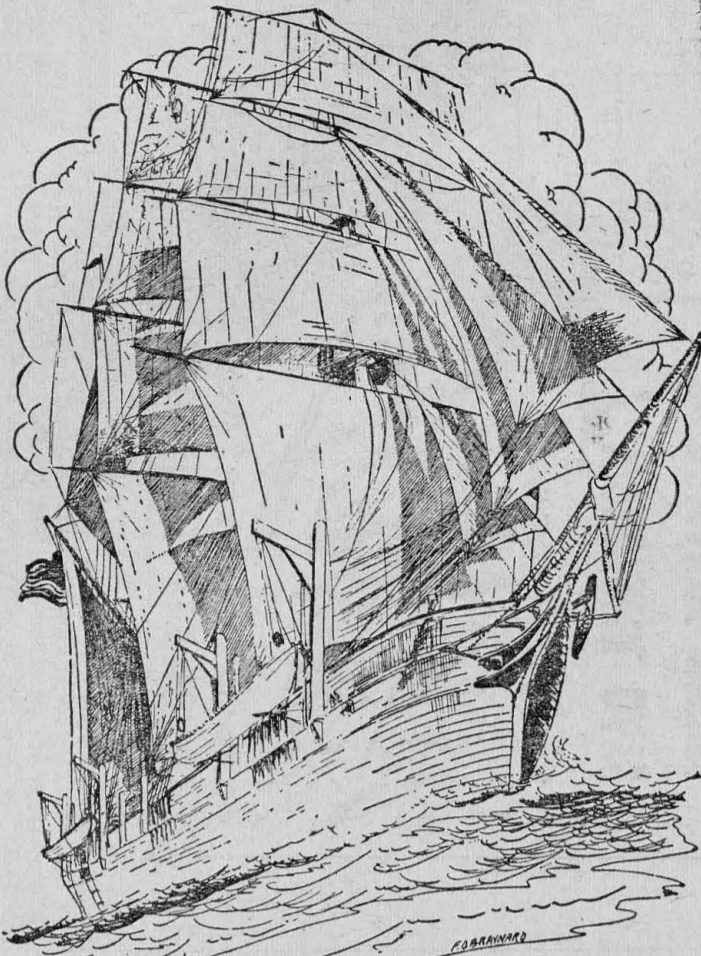

The broiler is a set of two grills hinged together. You place the food between them and simply flip them over to turn the food. They're especially nice for foods that are likely to break apart such as fish and hamburgers.

Spit baskets are designed to hold foods like spare ribs and pork sausages. Because they are attached to the spit, they eliminate hand turning.

THINGS TO COME—For the host who likes to play tricks on his guests, there's a "crazy clock" with a very innocent-seeming face that reads backwards and runs backwards. And for the more serious type who gets his fun out of handyman chores, there's a new wood sealer that eliminates the added use of filler on raw, close-grained woods; it dries in less than 20 minutes and is said to be waterproof and slip-proof. For the careless guest, there's a wrist-watch-type cigarette case that has its own lighter and built-in ash-tray.

A bee moves at the rate of 35 miles per hour; loaded with honey, 10 miles per hour.

A Famous American Ship

The Charles W. Morgan, built in 1841 and perhaps America's most famous whaling ship, remains today, tall and beautiful, a monument to America's maritime past. Now queen of the bustling maritime museum fleet of the Marine Historical Association, Mystic, Conn., she once sailed every sea in search of whale oil for fuel, bone for clothing, and perfume for fashions. Like the men of our modern American Merchant Marine, the men who served aboard the Morgan were American ambassadors in every foreign seaport. Today's merchant fleet, always available in time of emergency to supply our Armed Forces and transport our troops, is equally important in peacetime. The American Merchant Marine Institute, representing our modern oil tankers, colliers, cargo liners and passenger ships, is proud to salute the Morgan, and wish her another century of life at her pier at Mystic Seaport.

St. Patrick H. S. Awarded Honors for Year Book

St. Patrick High School, Parnell, recently was awarded top honors for the 1958-59 edition of their yearbook, the Shamrock, from the National Catholic Press Association, Marquette University, Milwaukee, Wis.

According to the judges the cover of the yearbook was notable for the single gold shamrock on an Irish green background because it reflected the special ideals and history of the school. Commendation was also given for the fine photography which especially noted the clear cuts and adequate size.

The theme, "Build Tomorrow's World For Christ" as stated in the foreword received special praise.

The Shamrock staff was headed by Betsy Byrne and Arnold Raaymakers, co-editors. Others were: Paul Pattok, photographer; Mary McCormick, copy editor; Diane Spruit and Jean Jakeway, layout editors; and Roger Hurley, patron manager. The advisor of the yearbook staff was Sister Mary Consilium, R. S. M.

Mrs. VanderJagt and Son Return to England

Mrs. Martin VanderJagt and son, Robert, of 6640—28th Street, will leave next week for England to make their home with her family for awhile. Their new address will be 60 Cromwell Avenue, Chestnut, Hertfordshire, England. Mrs. VanderJagt would like to express her thanks to friends and neighbors who have befriended her the 12 years she has been in the Cascade community. She hopes that the community will not forget them and above all that Martin's memory will live on here even though his body has been shipped to England at his request.

She would like to have her friends read a copy of the letter, Robert, age 12, wrote as a tribute to his dad, and placed in his pocket after his death.

Dear Dad:

I love you dad, but hope God takes care of you, and I will be thinking of you, dad. Don't forget me, but I know you are asleep, but mom and I are thinking of you. I hope you like it up there, dad. Mom misses you a lot just like me, but you still have mom and me and grandma and grandpa, we love as much as anything on earth. But you will have us always, Dad, and God knows it to. Don't, please don't forget me and mom.

With love from Mom and Me.

Hue and Cry

Kahalelaukoa and Sims

Miss Hawaii was born to be a champion.

The slender brunette who is equally at home when hailed as Georgiette Parker or Kahalelaukoa became a champion the minute she first breathed life in this world 18 years ago, and she has gone right on winning.

For Georgiette was the first New Year's baby born in Honolulu, January 1, 1940. This, according to a tradition which is not limited to the Islands, brought her gifts, prizes, and recognition.

Now, 18 years later, she is bidding for her biggest prize, Miss America.

To reach this three time winner level she has already been selected as Miss Honolulu, and Miss 49th State, as well as Miss Hawaii. The middle title was not a venture into Alaskan competition however. It was an award given annually at an Island Festival which now must be either re-titled or abandoned.

Currently Georgiette is away from the Islands for the first time. She styles herself as a "Mainland Hopper", and when one realizes that United Airlines have her scheduled to visit 14 typically American cities in almost as many days enroute to the final judging in Atlantic City, one accepts her self styling as genuine.

Busy Junket

"So far American cities are a mass of television cameras, microphones and airports" she said. Her busy junket embraces a series of personal appearances, such as her visit to Frank Sims "Across the Plate" broadcast from Yeamans' Knife and Fork Club in Detroit.

"Americans are just as friendly as Islanders," was her appraisal of the stateside people. This is the judgment of a comely girl born a champion on an island where the dominant characteristic is the friendliness of its people.

You Can Help With News Reporting

With the starting of school and the ending of vacation time for all parents of school children, various lodge, club, church and school activities will resume in full swing. The activities of all these groups make news—the kind of news that we want and like to print.

However, it is economically impossible for our staff to keep track of every organization in the Forest Hills area. No weekly paper, nor daily for that matter, is sufficiently staffed to give the news coverage to these organizations that they warrant without full cooperation from the group. Yet the news of these various organizations belong in our paper, both from a view of publicity for the organization, and interesting reading for the subscribers.

I'd like to again suggest that, during the next few weeks, the heads of the various organizations in the Forest Hills area, appoint someone in their organization to be responsible for publicity. This person need not be able to write. If the information is furnished us, we'll be glad to write it, but the person delegated should be active enough in the organization to have a complete knowledge of its activities.

In the past, some groups, by providing this information, have received the publicity they need and want. Others, just as important, have been slighted through no intent or knowledge, but simply because there was no one to inform us of their activities.

We have a list of the organizations in the Forest Hills area but would like to add to this list the names of the persons who are in charge of the publicity for the organizations. We would also like to make sure our list is complete. With the cooperation of these people we will be able to serve their publicity needs better.

Sally Cutler, Mr. Osborn Wed Saturday

Cascade Christian Church was the scene of the marriage of Miss Sally Aileen Cutler to Fredrick M. Osborn on Saturday afternoon.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Cutler, Cascade Springs Dr., and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Osborn, Sarasota SE, are the parents of the bridegroom.

Rev. Raymond Gaylord officiated at the ceremony before the altar decorated with palms, candelabra and baskets of white gladioli and pompons. Mrs. Roy B. Reynolds of Huntington, West Virginia, sang "O, Promise Me," and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Verne Stillwell at the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown of rose point lace and tulle, featuring a bouffant skirt and Sabrina neckline trimmed in sequins. Her French illusion veil was held in place by a poke bonnet of sequin and pearl trimmed lace.

Mrs. Donald Manning, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor, and wore a mint green dress with a scoop neck with small scalloped sleeves and a bouffant skirt with a taffeta cummerbund. A small hat with a nose veil matched the dress, and she carried a crescent bouquet of bronze daisy pompons.

The Misses Sue Hunter and Anna Schatz were bridesmaids, and their ensembles, identical in style with that of the matron of honor, but in orchid, carried crescent bouquets of yellow pompons. Bonnie Hunter was flower girl.

Best man was Frederick Schatz; and Jerry Hadden and Steven DeVries seated the guests.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. Mr. and Mrs. James Scripps were master and mistress of ceremonies. Those assisting about the rooms were the Misses Sandra Snow, Kay Snow, Jan Schatz and Pamela Hadden.

Mrs. Cutler chose a bottle green matelasse sheath with a Quaker Maid sweetheart rose corsage for her daughter's wedding. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy dress trimmed with white lace, white accessories, and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

For traveling the bride wore a green wool sheath dress with brown accessories and a brown orchid.

After a honeymoon at Niagara Falls and the Eastern states, the couple will reside at 730 Madison S. E., after September 13.

Thornapple Valley Baseball League Elects Officers
