First Move in Airport Fight Friday

The first move in the fight to keep the airport out of Cascade Township will come Friday, December 26 when a hearing on an injunction to halt the taking of options of land in Cascade Township will be held in Circuit Court.

The injunction requested by Lloyd Cogswell as an individual taxpayer, is being made on the basis that the Airport Board of Control has been given broad power to spend millions of dollars and get Kent County too deep in moving the airport to Cascade Township.

Attorney Clifford Murphy represents Mr. Cogswell in his move to force the county to produce concrete plans on how the airport is to be financed and all other information before committing the taxpayers of Kent County to expend millions on a new airport in a new location.

Now on the market is a perfume said to "smell like crisp, new dollar bills."

A soya bean extract in an aerosol container can be fine-sprayed on any cooking surface to keep food from sticking, is tasteless, and contains no fat or calories.

For nervous waiters, there's a nickel-plated tray with magnetic stay-on glasses.

"Yankee" comes from the Dutch word "yanku" meaning to snarl.

Wonders Ahead For Food Shoppers

You are going to see some amazing changes in supermarkets and greater emphasis on smaller grocery stores in the future, forecast the editors of Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine.

All sorts of technical innovations to make your shopping easier are now in use or in the planning stage. There is a machine that bags your purchases. Specially designed racks replace packaged goods when an item is removed. A unique device automatically carries away bottle empties and gives you a receipt for them. The latest in cash registers shows how much change is due you.

Within another ten years, you may be able to shop by punch cards, where electronic machines select and collect your groceries. You won't have to push that grocery cart—it will be motorized. You'll step on a moving sidewalk once out of your car, and be whisked right to the store door. Automatic check-out counters will add up your bill, pack your groceries and deliver your change—all without human guidance.

Even while merchants blueprint bigger and bigger supermarkets, other enterprising operators are proving there's plenty of room for relatively small groceries, space-age version. You'll find these stores easy to shop in. You can usually drive right up to the edge of the store and park. You can shop fast since the stores concentrate on the fast-moving staples, vegetables and meats. They are open late and on Sundays. They are intended as a place where you can pick up a few items, not a whole week's food purchases.

You'll be able to satisfy that 2 a. m. yen for strawberries in the near future, when all-night selling by vending machines gets underway. Already some stores have banks of vending machines outside their doors with over 100 products.

Rabbits can run faster up hill than down because the hind legs are longer than the forelegs.

Auto Industry Popular With Tourists

Michigan's industrial colossus—the Rouge—also rates as one of its top tourist attractions.

In a poll of more than 30 University of Michigan faculty members, the auto industry in general and the Rouge in particular rated second only to the Straits of Mackinac bridge as a place to see in Michigan.

Historically, the two spots have a common tie. In early colonial times, the Rouge area was the first shipbuilding site in the Upper Great Lakes, according to F. Clever Bald of the U-M Historical Collections.

One of the two ships built there—the 70-ton schooner Tracy—sailed up through the Straits in 1803.

Predict 10% Drop in 1958 Traffic Deaths

The State Police are forecasting a total traffic death toll of 1,375 in 1958, continuing the downward trend in fatalities for the third consecutive year.

The prediction is based on figures for the 11 month period through November and studies of the experience in past years. The death toll at the end of the 11 months was 1,065 compared with 1,246 in the same period last year.

Forecasts in previous years have been unusually accurate and if the 1958 prediction holds up, the year will end with a reduction in deaths of 10.5 per cent under the toll of 1,537 in 1957. The goal was 10 per cent. Final figures are expected when all reports are received and compiled at the end of January.

The downward cycle in deaths began in 1956, and was sparked by a new comprehensive safety program approved by the legislature following a disastrous year in 1955, when 2,016 persons died. Compared with 1955, the death toll this year will be 32 percent less, a saving of 641 lives.

As its part in the program, all enforcement agencies have been bearing down on safety, with the death toll being reduced in both city and rural areas.

On the state level, State Police personnel including all activities has increased from 721 to 1,129, or 57 percent, while combined traffic arrests and oral warnings have increased from 324,544 in 1955 to 661,956 in 1958, or 104 percent.

In addition to more enforcement strength as the quickest way to get results, the program provided for expanded highway construction, driver training in all high schools, tighter driver permit regulations and a public education program.

The program has received strong press and radio support and the help of safety groups.

Aboard was Capt. John Whistler, builder of Ft. Dearborn and commander of the military garrison from Detroit which settled Chicago that year.

The ship yard, located just East of the present Rouge property, was given to the U-M by the U. S. government after Congress authorized a "seminary of learning" in the territory in 1826. The Woodmere Cemetery now stands on this land.

In modern times, Henry Ford turned out ships on assembly lines at the Rouge before automobiles were built there. These were the World War I submarine chasers known as "Eagle boats."

Ford's early fear of dependence on outside suppliers led him to build the world's largest integrated complex of factories at the Rouge. In 1956, the gift of his 210-acre estate, Fair Lane, brought the U-M back to the surrounding area.

Spread over some 1,200 acres of land, the Rouge has a work force of 60,000 in normal times, with a daily payroll in excess of $1 million. Its popularity as a tourist attraction is attested by nearly 200,000 persons who visit its assembly lines every year.

Use Extra Police For Christmas

The Michigan State Police will work 10-hour traffic patrol shifts from 12 noon Wednesday, December 24, to 12 midnight, Sunday, December 28, in a special effort to help make Christmas safe as well as merry.

Assisting them will be 50 National Guardsmen who will be assigned from 1 p. m. to midnight on December 24.

Another 50 National Guardsmen are being assigned to sheriffs. State Police detectives will be used on desk assignments to relieve uniform troopers for patrol. Maximum enforcement will be scheduled for heavier traffic periods. All radar speed meters will be in service during daylight hours.

Twelve persons were killed in traffic during the 30-hour period from 6 p. m. December 24 to midnight December 25 last year. In 1955 there were 50 persons killed during the 78-hour Christmas period.

"The holiday season, of course, is doubly hazardous because of winter weather conditions, the rush and partying of the season, and the effort to compress long trips into short periods of time," said Commissioner Joseph A. Childs.

"We hope drivers will use common sense and remember that it's just as important to drive safely at this season as at any other time—

Ice Fishing Time is Here

Ice fishing will soon join Michigan's wide-ranged list of winter outdoor activities.

Panfish—particularly bluegills and perch—are among the favorite catches of ice fishermen, with no closed season on non-trout waters throughout the state.

Other species open to year-round fishing on non-trout waters include white bass, sunfish, crappie, rock bass, warmouth bass and whitefish.

Anglers also may take muskellunge, northern pike and walleyed pike on all non-trout inland waters through March 15. Seasons on these species vary somewhat in the Great Lakes and connecting waters.

Spearing through the ice also is popular with fishermen, especially during the February sturgeon season on non-trout inland waters.

Spearing is permitted during January and February on inland non-trout waters—and some designated trout waters—for carp, suckers, mullet, redhorse, sheepshead, lake trout, smelt, northern pike, muskellunge, whitefish, ciscoes, pilottish or Menominee whitefish, catfish, bullheads, dogfish and garpike.

Ice fishermen are reminded that all shanties must be identified on the outside with the owner's name and address in at least two-inch letters of insoluble material. All

Let Children Trim Own Tree For More Christmas Enthusiasm

The little hands which "help" to trim the family Christmas tree are often more of a hindrance than a help. But who can resist the enthusiasm of a small child at Christmas time?

A solution might be to let the children make their own "fair-land sugar-plum" tree, suggests Dorothy Russell, instructor in child development at Michigan State University.

First, pick a well-supported tree that the child can reach easily. You can add "snow" to the branches by spreading stiffly beaten egg whites on them, says Miss Russell.

For decorations, children can string dough-nut-like candies on four-inch lengths of thin wire and fasten them in circles to hang on the tree.

They can also make "cinnamon chains" by pressing cinnamon candies to the sticky side of long strips of cellophane tape, adds Miss Russell. These chains can then be shelters must be removed before ice becomes unsafe.

As a safety precaution, fishermen are advised:

Beware of thin ice near shorelines, where rapid and strong undertows make ice hazardous.

Beware of discolored ice. This is a sign that ice is weakened and dangerous.

Tax Return Due For Farmers, Feb. 16

Farmers, another year has passed and it is just about income tax filing time again.

To find out when your income tax return is due, answer the following two questions: (1) Is at least two-thirds of your gross income from farming? (2) Does your taxable year begin on January 1st?

If the answer to both these questions is Yes, you have two choices:

1. File your return and pay the tax by February 16th; or

2. File an estimate of the tax due and pay it by January 15th, then wait until April 15th, to file the tax return itself.

So, if you file the estimate and pay the tax by January 15th, you have an additional three months to file your income tax return. If not, both the tax return and tax are due February 16th.

Ask Guests to Look For Fire Hazards Are you having a Christmas tree trimming party at your home? If you are, the National Board of Fire Underwriters urges you to dispose immediately of packaging and wrappings, after the tree has been set up.

Then, before your guests settle down to admire their handiwork, ask them to make a fire safety check of the Christmas tree which they have just helped to decorate.

1. Is the tree standing in a tub or pail of moist earth or water?
2. Has it been set in a cool part of the house, away from radiators, heaters and fireplaces?
3. Does it block an exit?
4. Is every lighting set and electric cord you use in good condition—no worn or frayed wires, no loose sockets? (Naturally, you never use candles!)
5. Do the sets or cords bear the UL label? The ones that bear it have passed Underwriters' Laboratories tests for fire and shock hazards.
6. Is a switch provided some distance from the tree for turning tree lights on and off?
7. Are the ornaments made of fireproof materials, like metal or glass? Never decorate with cotton or paper unless they are labeled "fireproof" or "flameproof."
8. Are electric trains set up a good distance from the tree? Never set up electric trains under the tree.
9. Have all gift wrappings been disposed of?

Productivity is Prime Reason For Development, Expansion of Industry

A community's reputation for productivity is a prime reason for its development as an industrial area. Reputation for productivity, in all its aspects, is one of the most important factors a community has to offer as it seeks a new industry or encourages an existing industry to expand locally. Productivity extends to all elements that comprise industry. There must be "full measure" from money, men, machines and materials. The productivity of Michigan workers has brought them a high standard of living. It reduces unit cost of production, erations, but most municipal functions as well. It is a reputation build not only by those in industry, but through efforts of everyone in town. It is a factor which is important when a manufacturer makes a decision on plant location. How "productivity pays everyone in town" is the theme of an advertisement in this newspaper.

It is another in the series of industrial advertisements sponsored by the Michigan Press Association and the Michigan Economic Development Department which appear in this and 305 other Michigan newspapers as a public service. Communities have a responsibility to promote continuing productivity by workers. With the advancement in machinery, there must be opportunity for further education and provision for training facilities. Where necessary and possible available plants for new industries must be suited to the modern concept of industry. In some instances, it is possible for local groups to make changes which would make older buildings suitable for modern operations. Reputation for productivity encompasses not only industrial operations but also manufacturing operations. It pays to read the Suburban Life want ads.

PRODUCTIVITY PAY WINDOW

PRODUCTIVITY PAYS EVERYBODY IN TOWN

Productivity is a great quality to possess. It can do more to make a town prosperous than almost anything.

Productivity is the delivery of a full measure by machines, money, men or materials. The best productivity results from constant striving to better past performance. Productivity pays off for everybody whenever everybody works at it.

When it comes to attracting business, a new industry for example, the very reputation for productivity will give your town a special pulling power. Competition these days makes it necessary for a company, or town, to have productivity around in plain sight. Otherwise the company or the town won't be in plain sight very long.

Join hands with your local industrial development organization and the Michigan Economic Development Department to help your community prosper.

First Christmas Tree Lights

Some years ago—and many of us can remember when candles were used to decorate their Christmas trees. The burning tapers cast a beautiful but dangerous glow among the pine needles.

It took a New England telephone man to think of a safer way to light a Christmas tree.

A busy switchboard was his inspiration—especially after his little boy upset a burning candle. Luckily it only singed the lad's hair, but his father at once decreed: "No more lighted candles on the Christmas tree."

As an employee of the New England Telephone Company, the father was able to buy several dozen switchboard lamps. He soldered them to wires, covered them with colored paper and plugged the string of lights into an electrical outlet. The new decorations were admired by everyone and soon started a trend.

Though little is known, the story is true. It was reported by Leavitt Morris, travel editor for the Christian Science Monitor. The inventive telephone man was Ralph E. Morris, his father.

Keep the Cork In The Bottle

Memo to tossers of Christmas office parties:

"Keep the cork in the bottle—the family happiness you save may be your own."

That reminder went out from the National Safety Council today in its campaign urging business and industry to keep office parties dry during the holidays.

"Office togetherness is okay," the Council said, "but not if it jeopardizes family togetherness."

"There can't be peace on the highway and good will in the home when Dad gets woozy at the office," the Council reminded its 8,000 business and industrial members.

And the same goes for career girls. "The secretary struck down in the rush home may have been the one standing under the office mistletoe a few minutes earlier," the Council said.

Churches of all faiths and creeds were asked to join hands and help hold down the drinking hazard through the long four-day Christmas weekend.

"The religious message of Christmas is the promise of life," the Council said. "Churchmen and employers should do all in their power to help those in their care keep that promise."

Surveys reveal the deadliest traffic hour of Christmas is between 6 and 7 Christmas eve when workers are rushing home.

And don't depend on the coffee urn to sober up, the council warned. "Time—not coffee—is the only cure. It takes three hours to recover from just two cocktails."

For all drinkers, office or otherwise, the Council had this to say: "55 percent of Christmas deaths in traffic in 1957 involved drinking drivers—ample evidence that the cocktail hour should not precede the driving home hour, whether from office or neighborhood party."

Does a man with a mustache do better with women than a man without?

Peace At Christmas

Through all his history man has sought peace, prayed for it, worked for it, lost it, and painfully renewed the struggle to achieve and hold on to it.

The greatest news ever told, first received by shepherds watching their flocks, proclaimed the Divine promise of peace for man—peace with his Maker, himself and his fellow men.

The greatest Christmas gift ever given, the Babe born in Bethlehem, taught the way to peace—through supreme love of God and all human beings.

At this Christmas season of 1958 this newspaper joins in the universal wish for peace on earth, good will among men.

New Building And Rules For Animal Shelter

The Kent County Board of Supervisors, at a meeting held Monday, December 8, 1958, officially changed the name of the Kent County Dog Pound to Kent County Animal Shelter. The change was effective immediately. The new address effective on or about January 1, 1959, will be 711 Ball Ave. N. E., Grand Rapids 3, Michigan.

The new building will be located directly back of the new County Jail. Also approved by the Kent County Finance Comm., of the Board of Supervisors, was a change effecting the length of time stray dogs are kept before disposing of them. Beginning January 1, 1959, all stray dogs will be held four days instead of seven days for the owner to recover. Experience has shown that only a small percentage of dogs picked up by the Animal Shelter are reclaimed by their rightful owners. Since the Shelter has a large waiting list of people wanting dogs, a more rapid turnover is desired.

Any dogs found with their proper dog tags, will be kept until the owner claims the dog, but will pay a charge of twenty-five cents for every day over four days. The owner will be notified if a dog is found with the license.

For the first time in the history of the operation of the Kent County Animal Shelter, the deputies will issue violation tickets to dog owners, for violating the Michigan State Dog Laws. The violations that will be enforced are permitting a dog to run at large, failure to buy a license, permitting a female dog in heat to run at large, cruelty to animals, failure to observe quarantine in animal bite cases, harboring any animal showing vicious habits and molesting passerbys when lawfully on the public highway, owning any dog at any time licensed or unlicensed that has destroyed property or habitually trespasses in a damaging way on property of persons other than the owner, operating a kennel without a license, and other violations listed in the Michigan State Dog Laws.

Violation tickets will only be issued as a last resort. The owner will be warned the first time, but if the owner fails to cooperate, a ticket will then be written. The violator receiving a ticket must report to the Justice of the Peace within 48 hours or a warrant for their arrest will be issued.

The large increasing number of deliberate violations and failure by the dog owners to cooperate with appeals from our office has forced our department to take drastic action. It is regrettable but necessary in order to maintain some system of animal control in Kent County.

Once again the Kent County Animal Shelter asks all dog owners not permit their dogs to follow the children to school because of the large number of dog bites occurring on school grounds, while children are at play. Dogs running loose are a hazard.

New US-16 Super Highway Open Almost to Kent Line

Here is an air view of the new US-16 super highway as it approaches the Hastings Road overpass where it now ends. The divided section in the foreground is a bit of unusual engineering to go around a swamp in what would have been the highway. To make a change in the long straight stretch of highway of the previous 17 miles the highway engineers divided the highway going around the swamp on each side with the highway giving a break to the drivers and saving trying to fill the swamp. This section which is now open will be the termination point of the super highway until the next section now under construction to Whitneyville road opens about this time next year.

A total of 58 miles of the 165-mile Detroit-Muskegon expressway (U. S.-16) are now in use following the December 18 opening of a new 17-mile section of the expressway between Lansing and Grand Rapids.

This 17-mile section, costing $7 million was opened to traffic more than eight months ahead of the original completion date. It provides dual 24-foot-wide concrete roadways and six structures from Portland Rd., west of Portland, west to Hastings Rd.

Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie and civic leaders from Ionia, Portland, Lake Odessa, Sarnac, and Clarksville, participated in brief ribbon cutting ceremonies at the junction of the new expressway and M-66 (State rd.), midway point on the new section.

Only 11.3 miles remain to be completed on the 29-mile Portland-Cascade link of the expressway. The remaining 11.3 miles are now under construction in two contracts; one, a 2.7 mile Portland bypass from Market Rd., south of Portland, to Portland Rd., the eastern terminus of the newly-completed 17-mile section, and the final 8.6 miles of the link from the Ionia-Kent county line west to Cascade.

With the completion of the 2.7 mile Portland bypass, scheduled for June, 1959, a continuous 30-mile stretch of the expressway, from M-100 in Clinton county west to Hastings Rd. in Ionia County, will be open to traffic.

This latest 17-mile section of the expressway was built under three contracts. They were:

A 6-mile section from Portland separations to carry local traffic over the expressway at Sunfield Rd. and M-66, Lewis and Frisinger Co., Ann Arbor, was the contractor on this project at $2,886,484. This project was let February 19, 1958.

An 8.5-mile section from M-66 (State rd.) west to Nash highway and grade separations to carry local traffic over the expressway at Jordan Lake and Morrison Rds. and at Nash highway. L. W. Edison, Grand Rapids, was the contractor on this project at $3,048,312. This project was let December 11, 1957.

A 3.3-mile section from Nash highway west to the Kent-Ionia county line. However, only a 2.5 mile section, from the Nash highway to Hastings rd., will be opened to traffic now. New U. S.-16 traffic will be routed to old U. S.-16, approximately one-quarter of a mile north, at Hastings rd. Included in this project was a grade separation with ramps at Hastings rd. Sargent Construction Co., Saginaw, was the contractor under a $1,152,487 contract.

All 3 contracts were scheduled for completion on August 31, 1959.

Previously opened on the new Detroit-Muskegon expressway were a 23-mile section from Brighton to Farmington, an 8.5-mile section from M-100 west to Portland, and a 9.5-mile section from Marne to Coopersville.

Final contracts on the state-wide, east-west Detroit-Muskegon expressway are scheduled to be awarded by the fourth quarter of 1960, in the Highway Department's five-year, $1 1/4 billion construction program.

The superhighway will connect all major cities along its 165-mile route.

Gould-Speet Wedding

Saturday, December 13, Miss Charlene Gould, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gould of Chippewa Lake, was united in marriage to Gene Alan Speet.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Welch, 4871 Buttrick S. E.

The wedding was performed at the Woodward Baptist Church.

New Michigan Ski Map Lists 69 Winter Areas

The fourth annual edition of a statewide ski map and winter sports guide has been released by the Michigan Tourist Council, it was announced today.

Some 50,000 copies of the "Fun in the Snow" publication will be distributed throughout Michigan and the midwest during the season, according to Robert J. Furlong, Council executive secretary.

The winter travel folder maps the locations of the state's 69 winter sports centers and lists the facilities offered by each. Fifteen of the areas are in the upper peninsula, 24 in west Michigan, 24 in east Michigan and six in the southeast section of the state. Six of the centers are new this year.

Created in 1953 in the first year of the Eisenhower Administration, the Small Business Administration, in three years, made over 6,500 loans totaling $175 million, nearly 4,000 of which were for rehabilitation in disaster areas.

CHOOSE YOUR WEAPONS

In days of old, the kind of insults that Jack E. Leonard hurls at his friends would have probably resulted in many invitations to the field of honor at dawn. Called "master of insult" Jackie told Ed Sullivan, "Ed, since you came back from Vegas with a suntan you look great. There's nothing wrong with you that reincarnation wouldn't cure." Remarks like that have earned Leonard a standing invitation to appear on Sullivan's show at least once a month! Times have changed.

SARTORIAL SPLENDOR

That "lived-in" look, common to all TV cowboys' clothes, doesn't come easy. There are reports that the duds undergo certain time-tested break-in processes before they are seen on your favorite heroes. Jeans are soaked white in watering troughs and run over by automobiles to give them Panhandle freshness. Felt hats are rolled in dust and hair tonic. Flannel shirts are torn then hung near an elevator shaft so that location grime will cling to the splashes of oil they acquire from passing elevators. Whiskers still must be grown as needed.
