Highway Dept. Refuses to Make Egress From Super Highway at Whitneyville Rd.

A delegation from Cascade Township went to Lansing in September 1958, to request an egress from the new super US-16 at the Whitneyville Road.

The group met with Deputy Highway Commissioner C. A. Webber and revealed Cascade's need for traffic from the new US-16 which will entirely bypass the community when it is completed.

The committee asked the State Highway Department to provide for an egress at Whitneyville from the new highway as long as they had ruled against a complete interchange. An interchange is to be built on 28th St., about a mile southwest of Cascade.

A road will be constructed to provide access from Whitneyville Rd., while a bridge over Thornapple River and the remaining portion of the highway is under construction.

After many months of waiting, the State Highway Dept. gave a NO in answer to the Cascade Businessmen's request for an egress. However, the eager determined men have made plans to try an authority on the next level, the Federal Government.

Plans are in the making for a bigger affair than last year. What can your group do to help make this affair a big success for 1959?

Bobcat is Prime Target For Winter Sportsman

Michigan's sole wild survivor of the cat family—the bobcat—is the prime target of an adventurous group of hunters, especially during the winter when hunting is open throughout the state.

Increased interest in winter hunting and a decreasing bobcat population have brought protection to the 'cat in the lower peninsula. Nearly 40 percent of bobcats treed or brought to bay are purposely allowed to escape for breeding stock in this region, according to completed questionnaires returned to the Conservation Department by hunters.

Approximately 700-800 bobcats are bountied annually in the upper peninsula. Abundance of 'cats in this region attracted more than 25 percent of the lower peninsula's hunters across the Straits last year.

Bobcat hunting, itself, is invigorating whether for bounty, sport or both. Hunters must be well prepared and equipped to carry out their quest. Warm but light clothing, a pair of good snowshoes, an able weapon, enduring stamina and well trained hounds are listed by many as the essential ingredients for a successful hunt.

Two dogs are usually considered the right combination; too many dogs are liable to confuse the trail and cause delay.

Following the dogs means plunging through miles of swamp and seemingly impregnable thickets. Sometimes the 'cat is shot on the run, sometimes he is treed and sometimes he eludes his pursuers.

Whether victorious or empty-handed, most bobcat hunters consider the thrill of the chase an adequate reward for their efforts.

Jesus said unto him, if thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth. —(St. Mark 9:23.)

Those who are steadfast and firm in their faith—who constantly renew and re-assert their faith in the moments of weakness we all have—go through life strong, happy, useful, self respecting; confident in the truth of Jesus' words.

Past days have been active ones in these legislative halls. The first of 13 regular appropriations bills have passed the House. Others will follow shortly. The Hawaiian statehood bill has become law. The President has sent to the Congress his message on the Mutual Security Program and the House has approved an extension of the Temporary Unemployment Compensation Act, the Self-Employed Individuals' Retirement Act, and significant amendments to the Federal Airport Act.

TEMPORARY UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION: Last Spring Congress enacted legislation to assist the states in extending unemployment benefits to those who had exhausted their normal payments. In Michigan this meant that an unemployed person could receive benefits for 13 additional weeks following the normal payments of 26 weeks. Under last year's law however, many individuals currently entitled to benefits would have their benefits cut off after April 1st. The measure approved (H. R. 5640) continues the benefits of those who have established their first claim to unemployment payments prior to April 1, and may mean, if the person is otherwise qualified, continued supplemental benefits to not later than June 30th. This bill does not provide any additional benefits to those who have used up their 39 weeks nor will it help those who exhaust their regular benefits after March 30th. Of course, any state legislature on its own could amend its laws to handle such cases if this action seems necessary.

LIKE FATHER?
Don't be too surprised, if you have a teen-age son, to learn that he may not want to follow in your footsteps. A survey of some 3,000 Boy Scouts shows that only two percent of those whose fathers are business owners or managers want to become businessmen. Only 11 percent of the sons of doctors, lawyers and engineers want those vocations. But half of all those interviewed said they wanted to enter the medical, legal or engineering professions.

For young engineers graduating from college today, the demand is so great that their starting pay edge over other graduates is as much as $100 a month in many cases. From mid-1956 to mid-1958 the median salary of all engineers in the U. S. rose 13 percent. But the median figure—$8,750—supports the generally held belief that the starting advantage enjoyed by the young engineer levels off substantially in later years.

"WINNER, 14TH AAA TRAFFIC SAFETY POSTER CONTEST"

IT IS ESTIMATED that some 405,000 individuals will benefit from this action by the House and that the additional costs will be about $78 million. The financing of extended unemployment benefits is on the basis of a Federal loan. The original Act provides for the subsequent repayment of these loans by the States.

SELF-EMPLOYED INDIVIDUALS' RETIREMENT ACT: This bill (H. R. 10 in both 85th and 86th Congresses) also passed the House last year. Under its provisions self-employed persons will be permitted to deduct, in computing their adjusted gross income for income tax purposes, an amount up to 10 percent of their otherwise taxable income provided they invest such an amount in certain specified types of retirement funds, annuities, and insurance contracts. The deduction is limited to $2,500 in any one taxable year and may not exceed $50,000 during the lifetime of the self-employed person. The announced purpose of the bill "is to achieve greater equality of tax treatment between self-employed individuals and employees."

The bill has now twice passed the House under suspension of the rules requiring a two-thirds vote, but may be roadblocked in the Senate. The proposal is sound in principle but the Treasury Department, naturally apprehensive as it faces revenue and debt-financing problems is vigorously opposing H. R. 10, pointing out that its adoption would mean a revenue loss of about $365 million annually.

FEDERAL AID TO AIRPORTS: President Eisenhower's balanced budget called for a $197 million four-year ($65 million in fiscal 1960) program of federal aid to airports. The Administrator of the Federal Aviation Agency said he could do a proper job of encouraging the modernization and development of our nation's airports with that amount of money.

The bill reported by the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce and passed by the House however, proposes an expenditure of $297 million in 4 years, nearly $100 million in excess of the need stated by FAA and the amount recommended in the President's fiscal program. Furthermore, this specific bill (H. R. 1011) contains provisions to bypass the Committee on Appropriations and to open the "direct pipeline" into the Treasury.

APPROPRIATION BILLS: The House passed the first regular appropriations bill on March 16th when it approved an expenditure of $237.1 million for operation of the District of Columbia Government. This amount is $33.1 million above the 1959 appropriations but a reduction of $9.5 million from the budget recommendation. Only $27.2 million of the total amount comes out of the general revenue of the Federal Treasury; the remainder is from taxes levied locally in the District of Columbia.

The Committee on Appropriations which reviews budget requests and past performances in detail, cut $7 million from the amount requested from the Federal Treasury.

The House, endorsing the action of the Committee on Appropriations, also cut $60.2 million from the requests of the Treasury and Post Office Departments, and the Tax Court in approving their appropriation bill on March 20th. Nevertheless, the 1960 budget for these agencies will exceed their 1959 appropriations by $518.3 million. But the budget requests in these two instances were cut 3.8 percent and 1.3 percent respectively by my Committee on Appropriations.

An annual review of Department and Agency budgets by the Committee on Appropriations is essential to economy and sound fiscal policy, both of which are hampered by the "direct pipeline," "back-door approach" to taxpayers' funds in the Treasury.

OBSCENE MATERIAL IN THE MAIL: The House Committee on Post Office and Civil Service has announced that important hearings concerning the sending of obscene material through the mails will be held in mid-April. This is to be an investigative study not related to any specific bill but with the purpose of determining the need for further legislation to curb this apparent evil. As one who has consistently advocated strengthening of our federal statutes in this regard, I welcome pertinent recommendations presenting specific recommendations from groups or individuals in the Fifth District for submission to the Committee.

Leave a Will To Distribute Your Estate

Many a family suffers needless worry and delay and expense in settling of the estate of a father or other relative who dies without leaving a will—or who leaves one not properly drawn.

It happens all too often, according to Lucille Ketchum, extension home management specialist at Michigan State University. And with a little forethought and a relatively small fee, it should never happen at all.

If you die without leaving a properly drawn will that distributes your property as you want it distributed, inheritance laws of your state can take over. For instance, an estate might be divided by law among a wife and children when a father actually wanted his wife to have sole control of the funds to support and educate the children.

Drawing up a will should not be a do-it-yourself project. You need the help of a competent lawyer. He can tell you, for example, about the uncertainties and possible tax disadvantages that may go along with joint ownership of property and joint bank accounts—two things that many couples think make a will unnecessary. He can also tell you about the need for witnesses, and who they should not be—such as anyone named in the will to receive any legacy.

A lawyer's fee for drawing up a will is usually moderate, explains Miss Ketchum. It's even nominal in the case of small estates where the will contains no complicated provisions. Whether you are married or single, male or female, the cost of the lawyer's service can save your heirs unnecessary later expense and trouble. It provides the best guarantee that your own wishes about your estate will be carried out.

Master Four "B's" of Safety

People living in rural area should master the "Four B's" of farm injuries, according to a surgeon at The University of Michigan Medical Center.

Dr. C. Thomas Flotte said farmers and other persons who live some distance from professional medical care can save lives if they handle emergencies properly.

Treatment for most farm casualties involves the "Four B's" of breathing, bleeding, breaks and burns, Flotte reported. He offers a four-point program for the emergency control of such accidents:

1. Bleeding. "The best method for stopping the flow of blood is to apply pressure directly onto the wound. Simply put a piece of material on the wound and push." He claimed that pressure alone will stop bleeding in more than 90 percent of all accidents. "Tourniquets should be used sparingly, because they often result in the ultimate sacrifice of the limb."

2. Breathing. Corrective measures must be taken immediately because "an individual will rarely live more than five minutes without air." Any obstructions—foreign objects or false teeth—clogging the windpipe must be removed at once. "Another thing that is sometimes forgotten is that the tongue will slip back into the throat. Grab it forcibly and pull it forward."

If artificial respiration is necessary, "the best and simplest method is mouth-to-mouth respiration," Flotte said.

"Clamp the victim's nostrils to prevent the escape of air, then place your mouth directly over his. Force a lungful of air into him. He will exhale it as soon as you break the mouth-to-mouth contact because of the elasticity of his lungs."

3. Breaks. "The old saying of 'splint them where they lie' is just as true now as it was a hundred years ago." Dr. Flotte explained that emergency splinting simply immobilizes the limb. A professional splinting job will be done by the doctor. "You can immobilize the limb with any material available, including a rolled up newspaper."

4. Burns. "Any burn that covers more than 10 percent of the body surface must be considered serious. The only thing you should put on such a burn is a clean or sterile cloth. Only the doctor should decide whether to apply ointments, lotions or anything else to a major burn." Emergency treatment for burns, Dr. Flotte declared, should be designed exclusively to preventing further contamination. The human skin is an excellent defense against germs, but once the skin is burned the threat of infection is very great.

The U-M surgeon said that in all forms of farm injuries, there is serious danger of shock. It is highly important to take steps to prevent or delay the onset of shock.

Precautions include: elevating the legs above the head; giving warm fluids if there is no abdominal injury; and personal reassurance, because a certain part of shock is psychogenic in origin."

State Winning in Brucellosis Fight

Nearly a quarter of Michigan's 83 counties on the latest statewide tests disclosed no evidence of brucellosis, a highly infectious cattle disease that has cost consumers millions of dollars over the years. The disease is transmissible to mankind in the form of undulant fever.

The goal of the Michigan and U. S. Departments of Agriculture working jointly on the eradication program, is to make Michigan brucellosis-free in 1960.

The economic importance of stamping out the disease is great since there were about 1,800,000 head of cattle worth $255 million on Michigan farms on Jan. 1.

Last June 30 Michigan achieved modified certified status as having less than 1 percent cattle infection. Michigan was the 14th state to attain this status, which is awarded by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The federal government estimates it will be another 50 years before the entire United States has been adequately mapped.

College Growth Poses Problems For Educators

Five points for colleges to remember in dealing with steadily increased enrollments are suggested by a University of Michigan expert.

Prof. Algo Henderson, director of the U-M Center for the Study of Higher Education, lists these points:

1. "A college or university should be more than a composite of experts, however learned they may be. It should be a community of people, some more knowledgeable than others, gathered together to learn."

2. "Each boy or girl of 17-22 needs to feel a sense of belonging. If a boy does not find companions, intellectual as well as beer-drinking female as well as male, adult as well as adolescent within the institution, he will seek them elsewhere. And these companions will be his teachers too."

3. "Each student needs recognition for his individual merit, both to do justice—because if education occurs at all it must occur within him—and to lift his spirit. A pat on the back is more conducive to effort and learning than a sharp word. But the pat cannot be given unless the student is a personality to the professor."

4. "The differences among individuals increase as age increases, and this from earliest childhood. It says recent research. Learning differs for individuals, and so we need to diversify our programs and our methods of education."

5. "Education is a process of passing wisdom from generation to generation. Information can't be poured through a funnel from an older mouth into a young ear. Bridges of intercommunication and interaction must be built—as many as possible."

Michigan farmers today are getting nearly twice as many cucumbers per acre as they were five years ago, thanks to the use of better growing practices, many of which were developed by scientists at the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station.

Beets are poor vegetables to include in salads because they have a tendency to "bleed," or run, and discolor the other ingredients.

Lions Travel Series Final, March 30, "Vienna, Crossroad of the World"

The final presentation of the Thornapple Lions Club Travel series will be given Monday, March 30, at the Forest Hills High School Gym at 8 p. m. when Earl B. Brink, will show "Vienna—Cross-Roads of the World." Here is a fascinating film record of one of the world's most wonderful cities! A delightful mixture of the ancient and the modern; the Iron Curtain and the world of Mozart, Beethoven, Schubert and Strauss; architecture which predates Gothic; stained glass windows older than most countries; crown jewels in gem-laden splendor; the rebuilt opera house, with an actual performance; great palaces—inside and out; broad boulevards, and corkscrew lanes. And hundreds of beauty spots, all shimmering together in the flaming spectrum of Vienna!

Earl B. Brink

Earl B. Brink is in love with the innumerable beauty spots of our great, big, wonderful world, and he has photographed one hundred and four different countries and island groups. In fact, Mr. Brink has taken more than 450,000 feet of all-color film and he has traveled a mile for every foot of film that he has exposed! Vienna charmed and captivated Earl Brink into producing a truly fine travelogue. The flamboyant spectrum of Vienna has been recorded on shimmering all-color film by his cameras. He has traced and portrayed the development, history, and magnificent enchantment of Vienna for others to enjoy.

Rebuild Honey Creek Road This Spring

The state highway department will open bids April 8 on the improvement of Honeycreek av. from Knapp St. to Four Mile Rd., NE.

One and a half miles of grading, installation of drainage structures and a 26-foot-wide blacktopping will constitute the improvement.

This road is part of the federal aid secondary system in Kent County. The government will pay half of the cost, with the Kent County road commission paying the other half.

THINGS TO COME

Your boat is bailed automatically by a bilge pump that is actuated by waves or tide pulling on the mooring ring.

New epoxy adhesive kit eliminates mixing the base material and hardener prior to use, permits the user to squeeze equal lengths from two separate tubes on to the surface to be mended.

Yacht rental services, copying the rental system of drive-yourself auto agencies, provide a week of cruising for a family of four for weekly rates ranging from $150 to $250.

Fish Suffer Worst Winter Kill Since 1944-45 Season

Dissolved oxygen tests conducted by Conservation Department fisheries biologists indicate that fish in southern Michigan lakes may suffer their worst winter kill season since 1944-45.

Winter kill, or fish suffocation, is caused by a chain reaction initiated when deep snow covers ice on lakes.

The snow deprives lake vegetation of sunlight essential for survival. As the plants die, they decompose and, in the process, absorb oxygen from the water.

If these conditions persist, the supply of oxygen becomes so depleted that the fish eventually drown. Unfortunately, the most desirable game fish—bluegills, bass, perch and pike—usually die off first.

Winter kill reaps its heaviest toll in fertile lakes which have excessive aquatic plant life, lakes which lack inlets and outlets, and shallow lakes—chiefly those less than 15 feet deep.

What can be done to combat winter kill?

An artificial air pumping operation has brought favorable results in some lakes by producing open water through its churning action. However, this method cannot effectively cope with the problem when the threat is as widespread as this year.

The Department has also designated 33 traditionally crucial lakes as open to fishing throughout the year for all species and sizes as a stopgap measure to partially offset excessive winter kill losses. Unless conditions improve, it may be necessary to extend this liberalized law to other lakes.

Ultimately, the solution depends on the weather. A good thaw and melting snow, permitting water to seep into the lakes, is the best remedy.

The effects of winter kill are not always detrimental to fish populations. In a number of affected lakes where a large percentage of the fish populations were eliminated, appreciably larger fish and improved fishing were recorded within two or three years after the kill.

Former 4-H Club Members To Be Nominated For 1959 Awards

TWENTY million 4-H Club alumni are being saluted in nationwide observance of the 1959 National 4-H Club Week.

Among the former 4-H'ers are many who have been singled out for special awards given through the 4-H Alumni Recognition program directed by the Co-operative Extension Service.

They are the men and women who have successfully applied 4-H training and ideals to jobs, home, family, and community. These important citizens come from all walks of life — teachers, business men, homemakers, farmers, clergymen, doctors, public office holders and the like.

Here's your big chance to name a friend — a former 4-H Club member — to be considered for a worthwhile award. Nominations for this year's winners are now in order, and a convenient entry form is printed below. All you have to do is fill in, clip out, and mail as directed.

If eligible the candidate may be cited for county, state or national alumni awards which are provided by the Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation, Plant Food Division. All nominees will be contacted and verified by the county Extension office. More information can also be obtained there.

Two certificates of recognition will be awarded at the county level; four state winners will receive a distinctive copper plaque; eight persons (usually four men and four women) will be chosen for national honors and will be presented with the 4-H alumni gold key at the annual alumni banquet held in Chicago during the National 4-H Club Congress. The eight winners will be brought to Chicago as guests of Olin Mathieson.

Help give credit where credit is due. Send in the name of your 4-H candidate today!

Magazine Sale To Begin

The Forest Hills Student Council will be beginning a magazine sale drive in the Forest Hills School District starting Tuesday, March 24, and continuing through April 9. During this time students from the Forest Hills School will be conducting a house to house campaign for the purpose of selling magazine subscriptions.

This is the only student sales activity which the students will undertake. No other sales campaigns will be permitted. The Student Council of the school plan this magazine drive as a yearly activity to be conducted in the Spring of each year. Inasmuch as people purchase their magazines anyhow, it is hoped that they will purchase them from the students so that the proceeds can be used by the students to finance their activities. This year, the council will use the proceeds of the sale to purchase a juke box for their use in the gym for dances etc.

THREE MUSKETEERS

"Of course women make fools of men—but they get lots of co-operation."

Tornado Season Approaches

As the tornado season approaches, Superintendent, Harold Chambers of the Forest Hills School system has sent out bulletins to parents, teachers, bus drivers and P. T. A. Presidents, containing information as to their responsibility in seeing that school children are safely taken to their homes in case of a tornado alert.

It is necessary that children know about tornadoes, but they should not be frightened; explain to them that they will be less likely to be harmed if they do as they are told by their teachers, if in school, and go to the place prepared in their home which is the safest, if they are at home.

There are two radios installed in the school office, which will be tuned to the weather stations at all times, and if it is indicated that a tornado is possible, they will get word to each school, either by telephone or car. The teachers in each school will immediately get in touch with their bus drivers to take the children home. We will usually have about two hours advance notice; and if parents prefer to come and get their children, they may do so.

In case of failure of buses, teachers have been asked to organize an alternate plan to get the children home, by asking a committee of parents to have a number of cars in readiness to take children home. Parents should be home when the children arrive, but in case they are not, they should make arrangements for a place for their child to go, for the school cannot work out this problem.

You may be assured that your children will receive the best possible care in case of an emergency.
