Rangers Return to Action This Friday Night Against Cedar Springs Red Hawks

The resurging Forest Hills Rangers will travel to Cedar Springs on Friday night, Jan. 5, to play the Cedar Red Hawks. The Rangers are fresh from their first victory of the season, a 58-55 overtime win over Lee.

The Rangers appear headed for better things with their young, inexperienced squad. Of the eight boys who saw action in the Lee game, six of them were juniors. In fact, the entire team who played the overtime period against Lee were juniors. The team has been greatly strengthened by the addition of Spencer Wilcox at a guard position. Spence has been sidelined with an operation for a boyhood leg condition.

Jim Perrin, 6 ft. 3 in. junior center looked greatly improved against Lee and is expected to give the Rangers better rebound strength.

The Reserve game will be played at 7 p. m. with the varsity game starting at 8:15 p. m.

Forest Hills Meets Rockford

The Forest Hills Rangers will take to the road for their second game of 1962 on Tuesday, January 9th when they play at Rockford. The game will be played in the new Rockford High School gym. Rockford is a member of the new Tri-River league.

Coach Jerry Dangel will probably stick with a lot of juniors, as he continues to build for next year. However, three Seniors, Steve Bushouse, Joe Gillard and Bob Chambers will see a lot of action. The juniors who will see considerable action are Spencer Wilcox, John Pellerito, Jim Connors, Jim Jackson, Jim Perrin and Clarence Stiles. The Reserve game at Rockford will begin at 6:30.

List Kent County Business Population

Today Delbert G. Crowe, manager of the Grand Rapids office of Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., announced statement requests were mailed to 5535 businesses in Kent County. He said figures obtained from a physical count of the Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book for January 1962 totaled 5535 manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers in this area.

Mr. Crowe stated that during January business concerns in all parts of the United States are asked by Dun & Bradstreet for copies of their financial statements. This year requests are being sent to approximately three million business concerns—to the corner grocery store worth a few thousand dollars as well as to businesses worth millions.

The Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book lists those manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers who seek or grant commercial credit, but it does not include some of the service and professional businesses such as beauty and barber shops, security dealers, and real estate brokers. Therefore, the figures for total business in the United States would be higher than the three million quoted above.

When the owner or officer of a business enterprise (or his accountant) fills in and mails his financial statement to Dun & Bradstreet, it becomes part of the credit report on his business and a factor in determining the credit rating of his business. Mailing the statement, rather than waiting for the Dun & Bradstreet reporter's call means a concern's important suppliers will quickly have the latest facts on which to make credit and sales decisions. When the Dun & Bradstreet reporter receives a business man's financial statement in advance of his periodic call, he can make a more detailed analysis of the financial condition of the business and discuss its operation more intelligently.

Back of each listing of a business in the Reference Book is a Dun & Bradstreet credit report. The report includes the following: a history of the business (who owns it, who runs it, and how long it has been operating); a description of what the business does and how it does it; a financial section which usually includes the latest financial statement; and a record of how the business pays its bills.

While credit reports are primarily used by business men who want to evaluate the credit risk of a business before shipping or selling, insurance underwriters also use credit reports to review risks, rates, and coverage for fire and other types of insurance.

Ice Skating At Ada Ball Field

The Ada Athletic Association wishes to announce that there is now ice skating at the Ada Ball field.

The Association would like to take this opportunity to caution parents regarding their children skating on the backwater of the Ada dam. Shifting currents result in treacherous areas of thin ice, and past tragedies should remind parents to strictly forbid any skating on the backwater by their children.

Skating under the floodlights of the Ada Park offers safe and pleasant enjoyment for you and your family.

Those wishing to contribute to the support of public ice skating, financially or by donating your spare hours, call OR 6-4811.

May Appear at Con-Con

Gerrit Baker Presents Con-Con With Views on Property Tax

Grand Rapids, Michigan December 16, 1961 Committee on Taxation Constitutional Convention Lansing, Michigan Gentlemen:

During the past TWO years I have been concerned, as Supervisor of Cascade Township, with the manner of treatment of the assessments which I have made on the property in my Township by the Kent County Bureau of Equalization.

My comments are directed at Article X, Section 8 of the Constitution of 1908 which provides: "In the year 1911, every fifth year thereafter, and at such other times as the Legislature may direct, the Legislature may provide by law for an equalization of assessments by a State Board, on all taxable property, except that taxed under laws passed pursuant to Sections 4 and 5 of this Article."

I am aware that it may well be the intent of the Constitutional Convention to shorten the Constitution as much as the welfare of the people permits and I think this is a desirable aim. I want to point out to the Committee and the Convention, however, some of the problems which I think exist in the present equalization procedure with the thought that the Convention might be able, in some manner to remedy these problems:

1. The first requirement in equalizing tax assessments is that the persons who perform the equalization function should be people above reproach, people who place the duties of their office above all personalities or political expediences.

ADVANCE NOTICE OF OSTEOPATHIC GUILD MEETING

The Forest Hills Osteopathic Guild will meet at the auditorium of the Grand Rapids Osteopathic hospital on Wednesday evening, January 24, at 8 p. m.

"EVERY LITTER BIT HURTS"

Keep America Clean and Beautiful

This newspaper made a number of New Year's editorial resolutions. Haven't broken one yet. (Give us time.) Right at the top of this list is a sincere pledge to clean up this community—and once it's shining, to keep it beautiful. Doesn't seem too much to hope for, does it?

All over America, litterbugs are up to their same old dirty habits. Who are these trash-tossing terrorists? There are just about as many of them as there are Americans. It seems nearly everyone has a little litterbug in him. You think not? Read this—and remember:

1—Over 50 million tax dollars are spent each year to remove litter from major highways alone.
2—In one year, litter was the main cause of over 57,000 building fires, representing a loss of more than $22,000,000.
3—And litter is a rugged health menace. It creates a breeding ground for disease-carrying insects and rodents.
Can something be done about litterbugs? Definitely. Keep America Beautiful, Inc., a non-profit, public service organization, is now working with more than 7,000 communities throughout the nation. It has initiated an all-out war on the litterbug—with emphasis on community housecleaning.

What can we do here to help? Let's take a look at one case history:

The city of New Orleans launched its beautifying program with a civic parade and formal ceremonies. The Young Men's Business Club donated trash receptacles; Boy and Girl Scout troops and garden clubs distributed litterbags; a local theater staged a skit; and the Department of Sanitation hung a litterbug in effigy.

Every American has a stake in the beauty of his home town and country. Wherever you are, get rid of that trash and help keep this community, and America, beautiful.

2. The selection of properties for purpose of equalization should be on a strictly scientific level, not on the basis of the method which has been followed in the instance to which I refer whereby those persons performing the equalization function can select any parcel or group of parcels of land or properties from a Township and, by means of the samples selected, can arrive at almost any predetermined factor desired. If a sampling method is to be used in equalization it should be subject to the closest scrutiny and people in a Township whose assessment is in line should not be penalized because the equalization, based upon an unfortunate sampling, results in an erroneous conclusion that all of the property in a Township is under assessed.

3. The assessing official should be given an opportunity to explain and justify his assessments before any equalized valuation is determined by equalization officials. The system as followed in Kent County, where the Board of Supervisors has delegated its equalization function to the Kent County Bureau of Equalization, with the Bureau responsible to the full Board itself does not wish to take time to go into the details which are necessary to fully explore a problem of equalization. There should be some kind of public hearing available to a Township Supervisor or who feels that his equalized assessment is improper, at which equalization personnel should be required to defend the selection of properties which they use as the basis of the equalization figures, and the value placed upon each parcel. Such a hearing would be a protection to the taxpayer and the assessor and would be in accordance with the democratic principles of the American way of life.

4. The proceedings of equalization bodies and personnel should be completely open and no secret meeting should be held by any Equalization Committee, Bureau, or Sub-Committee. In my case, in 1960, the Kent County Board of Supervisors Equalization Sub-Committee met and ordered the Press reporter and the Supervisors of some of the smaller Townships of Kent County out of the room while the decisions on protested valuations were being made.

5. Every unit of government in which sampling for equalization is to be made should be represented on the Equalization Committee of a Board of Supervisors. Failure to include representation for the smaller units of a Township on such a Committee gives rise to suspicions between urban and rural groups and fosters the possible animosity that exists between urban and rural groups. Taxation and equalization should be above reproach and should not even have the appearance that the larger groups by population are in the position to pass an unequal share of the tax burden on to the smaller units.

6. It is my feeling that only people who actually perform assessments should be members of the Equalization Committees of the Boards of Supervisors, since only people who are experienced in assessing can understand the problems of property values and assessments. The selection and makeup of the Equalization Committee of the Board of Supervisors, related as it is to the apportionment of the tax over various units of the County, is a most important and sensitive job and the constitution of this Committee should be approved by the Board of Supervisors at large.

7. Unfair taxes, assessments, and unfair equalization are a reproach to any community. I am sure that with proper safeguards the conditions which I feel now exist can be corrected and a more equal balance be achieved between all taxpayers and specifically between taxpayers from rural and urban areas.

Very truly yours,
Gerrit Baker
Supervisor, Cascade Twp.

December 28, 1961

Mr. Gerrit Baker
Supervisor Cascade Township
Grand Rapids, Michigan

My dear Mr. Baker:

I have read your letter of December 16, with interest.

The time has passed for witnesses before the committee except when they are invited by the committee involved. I think we can get them to invite you for your presentation but prefer to have it when we are dealing with property tax provision of the constitution, and I probably will not know when that will be more than a day or two in advance. We will probably call you or write with an invitation shortly before the session at which we would like you to appear.

Very truly yours,
D. Hale Brake

March of Dimes Helps Dry Youngster's Tears of Pain

Anthony Ryan wasn't normally a crybaby. But at 10 months he began crying almost incessantly, and at times even screamed.

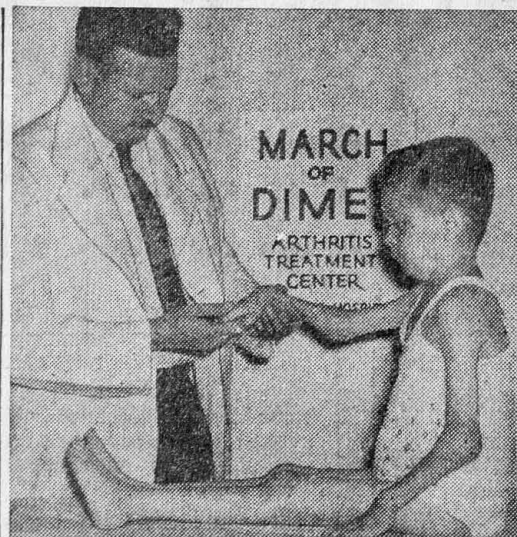

His loving parents in Philadelphia were nearly out of their minds. With four other small children, the household was pandemonium. No one appeared to know precisely what was causing the infant's dreadful paroxysms of pain.

Eight months and countless tears later, the cause of Anthony's agony was at last diagnosed as rheumatoid arthritis, seemingly afflicting every area of his tiny body.

It's 11 years now since Anthony was stricken. He will limp the rest of his life; he cannot play baseball today with the other boys in the block, and he is still in a great deal of pain. As a matter of fact, until just a short time ago he couldn't even turn his head.

Science has not yet licked the problem of Anthony and of thousands of children like him. There is still no simple, accurate test for the early diagnosis of rheumatoid arthritis, although the outlook is hopeful. But many rheumatologists would agree today that had modern diagnostic tools been available to him, and had Anthony been examined immediately by a "team" of specialists in the medical and allied professions—the group of orthopedists, pediatricians, laboratory research scientists, physical therapists and others now available in March of Dimes-financed treatment centers in many parts of the nation—Anthony today might be skating with the other kids on the frozen pond at the bottom of Prince Circle where he lives.

Although much of the injury done to Anthony in past years is irreparable, doctors at a new arthritis treatment center at Philadelphia Children's Hospital, sponsored by five March of Dimes chapters in the area, check him regularly to ease his pain and avoid further damage.

ON EAST COAST, Dr. John D. Bridgers, director of March of Dimes Arthritis Treatment Center at Children's Hospital, Philadelphia, examines Anthony Ryan, 12 years.

ON WEST COAST, identical twins Cathy and Carol Gile, 7 years, are greeted at March of Dimes Congenital Defects Clinic in University of Washington Hospital, Seattle.

This same "team approach" is also employed by the ever-growing number of National Foundation-March of Dimes chapter-sponsored clinics for treatment of birth defects, another area in which the health organization is concentrating. Infants with any of hundreds of major birth defects are now examined by as many as 12 specialists at each clinic, working together as a team that might include a pediatrician, neurosurgeon, urologist, orthopedist and internist as well as others.

For instance, consider the perils from one birth defect that surrounded Cathy and Carol Gile, identical 8-year-old twins of Vancouver, Wash. From birth, the children have been seriously ill with a succession of maladies—pneumonia (each six times), ear infections (again, each six times) and other disorders which have meant prolonged hospitalization. Both were found to be afflicted with an inherited lack of antibodies, the substances in the blood which combat bacteria.

At the University of Washington Hospital, Seattle, where 86 March of Dimes chapters in Washington, Idaho and Alaska have financed a birth defects clinic, the attractive little girls twice monthly are given injections which literally keep them alive.

The Seattle "team" at the March of Dimes clinic watches over the twins devotedly.

There are tens of thousands of Anthonys and Cathys and Carols in the United States today. One reason The National Foundation-March of Dimes turned to these diseases three years ago is that almost 700 babies are born each day in this country with significant birth defects, accounting for more than 21,000 deaths each year. Crippling rheumatoid arthritis affects 30,000 children and adolescents—apart from the overall toll of 11 million American victims of rheumatic diseases.

An increasing number of sufferers from these two cruel handicaps are receiving treatment from the specialist "teams" at March of Dimes-financed chapter clinics. As more funds become available, additional centers will be established to provide medical care for even more victims of chronic crippling diseases.

Postal Cards Still Popular After 100 Years

The 1860's were packed with significant events: the Civil War, of course; the establishment of the Department of Agriculture and the land-grant colleges; the Emancipation Proclamation—and the invention of the postal card.

This year marks the 100th anniversary of the introduction of this simplest of all mailing forms. Perhaps it is fitting that one of 1961's most spectacular news stories (the furor over Miss Margery Michelmore, Peace Corps member in Nigeria) involved a lost post card.

The patent for a new paper stock was granted in 1861 to John P. Charlton, an importer and manufacturer of stationery in Philadelphia. Later he sold his rights to production of the stock to Hyman Lipman, also a Philadelphia stationer. This marked the beginning of a traffic in what became known as "Lipman's Postal Cards".

Twelve years after Charlton's invention of the postal-card stock, the United States Post Office Department made this open-face mail form available to the public with the introduction of the penny postal card. (It costs three cents now.)

The speed, economy, and convenience of the postal card were quick to catch on with the public, and it became a major communication medium and profit-maker for the paper converter, wholesaler, and retailer.

Rainbow Fishing Know-How

One of the newest additions to Michigan's winter wonderland of outdoor sports is rainbow fishing. Opened for the first time in January of 1960 in about 205 lakes carefully picked by the Conservation Department, this new-found sport has since captured the fancy of thousands of fishermen. This winter, during December, January, and February, some 250 lakes will offer hook-and-line rainbow fishing. It shapes up as another exciting season for anglers bent on bringing in 'bows, especially for those who give these easy-to-follow pointers a try. Lists of waters open to rainbow fishing this winter may be obtained from the Department's Lansing office or any of its district headquarters.

Michigan Opens Record Highway Mileage in '61

Completion of major sections of Michigan's freeway network highlighted State Highway Department accomplishments during 1961.

Many routes opened during the year connected previously completed sections to form long cross-country superhighways.

A record 238 miles of new freeway were opened to traffic during 1961, State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said in a year-end report of State Highway Department activities.

"Michigan motorists are now driving on 801 miles of freeway that connect 12 of the state's largest cities," Mackie said. "This is nearly eight times more freeway than we had in use less than five years ago."

Michigan has opened more than 600 miles of freeway during the last four years—104 miles in 1958, 100 miles in 1959, 175 miles in 1960 and 238 miles during 1961.

In opening a record amount of new freeway, Michigan maintained its national road building lead for the second consecutive year.

The U. S. Bureau of Public Roads reports Michigan awarded contracts for construction of 169 miles of Interstate freeway during the first 10 months of the year. Texas was second with 96 miles.

Michigan and Texas also ranked first and second, respectively, in the same category during 1960 when Michigan awarded contracts for 126 miles of Interstate freeway and Texas for 124 miles.

Major freeway projects completed during 1961 now give motorists continuous divided four-lane highways—most of them built to freeway standards—between Flint and Lansing, Grand Rapids and Muskegon, Lansing and Grand Rapids, and between Flint, Saginaw, Bay City and Midland, all major Michigan cities.

In addition, the nation's longest toll-free Interstate highway—Interstate 94—was increased in length from 203 to 215 miles.

Construction of the Ohio-to-Mackinac Bridge Freeway passed the two-thirds mark with more than 250 miles of the 330-mile route open to traffic and the remaining sections under construction.

By the end of 1962, Mackie said, motorists will be able to drive non-stop on freeways extending from Detroit to New Buffalo near the Indiana state line, between Detroit, and Muskegon and between the Michigan-Ohio line and St. Ignace.

A milestone was reached in Detroit late in December when the first section of Southfield Freeway was opened to traffic. Detroit now has more than 25 miles of freeway. Another 14 miles is under construction and an additional 32

Joan Estelle, Fred Dykstra Married Friday

Miss Joan Carol Estelle and Frederick T. Dykstra were united in marriage on Friday evening at 8 p. m. in the Caledonia Chapel, with Rev. Charles Steenstra officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laurin Estelle, 8941 Kraft and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Dykstra, 3415 East Paris Rd. S. E.

The bride chose for her wedding a floor length satin and lace, wedding gown. Her tulle veil was held by a circlet of flowers. She carried a white Bible topped with carnations and ivy.

Miss Bonnie Holtrop was the maid of honor. She wore a light green gown of taffeta and lace. She wore a net headpiece and carried a bouquet of red carnations. The bridesmaids were Miss Ann Dykstra, sister of the bridegroom and Miss Darlene Lanning. Their dresses and bouquets were identical to the maid of honor.

Assisting the groom as best man was Kenneth Estelle, brother of the bride. Ushers were Don Estelle, brother of the bride and Wayne DeHaan.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. Mr. and Mrs. Henry DeGood, uncle and aunt of the bride, were master and mistress of ceremonies.

The couple will be leaving shortly for Alabama where Mr. Dykstra will be stationed in the Air Force.

THINGS TO COME

Already available in California are "throw-away" soap pads, designed to clean all dishes from one meal and having a smooth surface on one side to ease finger irritation; national distribution is being studied.

Mr. and Mrs. James Carew, 5414 Ada Drive, announce the marriage of their daughter, Judith to James Briesbrock, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Briesbrock of Wayland, at the First Congregational church of Ada, on Thursday evening, December 28.

Rev. Alvin Brewer officiated at the ceremony.

Attending the couple were Miss Janet Feitz and Robert Thompson.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Morley Carew, Ada Drive.

Assisting at the reception was Mrs. Carl Keelie, aunt of the bride.

Mr. Briesbrock is in the Marine Corps stationed in California.

Auld Lang Syne

During the New Year's celebrating we often heard the familiar strains of: Auld Lang Syne. The song begins with the question: "Should old acquaintance be forgot, and never bro't to mind?" We all know the answer should be: no. But we all know that in our busyness of life, old acquaintances are forgotten. That is the weakness and failings of us sinful men. But what a comfort to know that in Jesus, we have a Friend who will never leave nor forsake those who put their trust in Him. As we begin a new year, I wonder how many of us must admit that we have forgotten this Friend? I wonder how many of us have never come to know this Friend? He died to pay for our sins. He lives to be the Savior and Friend of all who trust in Him. Believe on Him today and know the joy of His friendship through the year ahead.
