1963 Showboat Berths On Schedule Despite Monday's Pre-Show Rains

It was "typical Showboat weather" in Lowell Monday evening as the Robert E. Lee XXXII made the first of its six nightly runs down the Flat River and around Cat-Tail Bend to the Showboat dock.

Monday afternoon, apprehensive Lowell residents were casting wary weather eyes toward the western horizons, searching for signs of rain that might mar the opening-night sailing of "the world's greatest minstrel show under the stars."

No threatening clouds appeared in the west, however, but the rains came anyway, moving in uncharacteristically from the east at 6:15 p. m. and dousing the town and Showboat grandstands until 7:25—five minutes before Wendell Christoff and his local water-ski troupe were scheduled to begin the pre-show entertainment.

Skies were completely clear once again, however, by the time the Showboat made its 146th trip down the river since 1932 and sidled up

State Police Seek Young Trainees

Sgt. O. Bergland, commanding officer of the Rockford, Michigan post of the State Police, has issued a "last call" for young men who desire to enroll in the training school for State Police officers scheduled this fall.

The application deadline is midnight July 28.

Young men 21 to 29 years of age, married or single, not less than five feet 10 inches in height and with a high school education or its equivalent are eligible to apply, he said. For full information and application forms they may go to any State Police post or write to the State Civil Service Commission in Lansing.

"This is an excellent opportunity to join this fine career service," Sgt. O. Bergland said. "And among many benefits are a new five-day week, new high pay scale, paid vacations and paid sick leave, a daily subsistence allowance, free uniforms and a pension plan that permits the officer to retire at the end of 25 years of service at half pay, with the same pension going to his wife if she survives him."

"But they must act now if they wish to enter this school."

Boy Scouts At Duck Lake Camp

This week, many of the Boy Scouts of Cascade Troop 334 are attending Camp Shawanodosee, which is located on Duck Lake just north of Muskegon.

This group of boys include Steve Banta, Douglas Boynton, Dan Bruins Slot, Bill Buell, Ralph Crosby, Douglas Dykhouse, Douglas Fosner, Dick Forrester, Jim Gurney, Jerry Gurney, Paul Jenks, Jim Johnson, Tom Nurnberger, Joe Smith, David Vekasi, Jim Vekasi, and their Scout Master, Bill Nurnberger.

Also accompanying the group is Mrs. Nurnberger, their daughter, Jane, and their son, Robert. These Boy Scouts will be kept busy working on scouting skills and advancements.

Ada Twp. Draws Cattlemen To Two Beef Field Events

Lessons in cattle grooming and stockmen's skills, judging contests, and promotional talks about the Angus and Hereford breeds highlighted separate cattle field days last weekend at two Ada Township stock farms.

Over 300 farmers and others connected with the Michigan Hereford Association and its junior counterpart attended the Hereford field day at the Egypt Valley Hereford Farm on Knapp Ave. Saturday.

Sunday a similar group met at Holiday Farm on Grand River Dr. for the Aberdeen Angus event.

At the Egypt Valley Hereford Farms stockmen judged typical classes of bulls, steers and Herefords. Among the winners of these events was Albert Dykstra of Ada, who won the junior contest title.

At noon, the Hereford cattlemen and their families lunched at the Egypt Valley Grange Hall and attended a program featuring officials of the various Hereford organizations.

Egypt Valley Grangers were also on hand Saturday morning to assist host Henry B. Davis, Jr., owner of the Egypt Valley Hereford Farm, in welcoming the visitors.

Those attending the event concluded the day with a tour of the farm and inspection of the cattle under the guidance of Robert Curie, farm manager.

At Holiday Farms the following day, Aberdeen Angus stockmen entered in the judging contests were asked to rate four pens of four bulls each in terms of their value. They then had to estimate the average weight of bulls in each pen.

Show halters and leather wallets were awarded as trophies to the winners.

Boatload of Fun

Among the professional entertainers on board this year are Ted Miller and his dead-pan partner Smiley, guitar-playing comedians; Max and Cherie, a husband-wife acrobatic team from Aberdeen, Scotland; the show-tune belting Ivy Five; banjoist Sandy Riner; comedian Dink Freeman; and a 6-member line of girls billed as the Lenore Sutton dancers.

Amateur Contest winners performing at the Monday night show were Judy Trye, 5, and Jeff Donaldson, 6, of Grand Rapids, who delivered their interpretation of "Ahab the Arab" and his seductive love, the Princess Fatima.

Filling out the show with jokes and songs were six local business and professional men who serve as Showboat endmen: Ron Holst, Richard McNeal, Stephen Nisbet, William Reynhout, Ronald Weeks, and Loren Wohlford.

And at 11:10 p. m.—with the skies still clear and a few stars glimmering faintly—it was all over.

Show Ends Saturday

Doris Boyd of the Lowell Showboat Ticket Office has announced that good seats are still available for the remaining performances of the show, which is scheduled to close after the 151st sailing Saturday evening.

Ticket prices are $1, $1.60, and $2.20. Mrs. Boyd said, and reservations may be made by calling the Main Street ticket office at TW 7-9237.

Wednesday has been designated as Grand Rapids Night, and 25 Western Michigan beauty queens will appear at the annual Queens' Night Thursday, Friday and Saturday have been set aside to honor Democrats and Republicans, respectively, with Congressman Gerald R. Ford and others slated to appear.

Pier Fishing

Old men, young men, girls and women; all fish from Michigan's coastal piers and breakwaters in the summertime. The traditional bait for such fishing is minnows; the traditional catch is yellow perch; the traditional equipment, a cane pole. The traditional angler, meanwhile, might be anybody, wearing anything from swim suits to dress suits. These scenes were at Grand Haven.

Second Evangelistic Rally To Be In Lowell Monday

The Second Western Michigan Back to God Evangelistic Rally will be held on Monday, July 29, at 8 p. m. at the Showboat Stadium.

Barnard was the former minister of the Cascade church. The title of his sermon will be "Sleeping Through a Revolution."

The children's choir, under the direction of Mrs. John Titsworth, will sing at the 9:45 a. m. service. Mrs. Milton Heaven will also be a soloist.

List Pointers In Land Shopping

There is just one way to get exactly the right house in exactly the right location: buy some land and build. This advice, includes the following twelve critical points which should be checked before a land purchase is made.

—The environment. The big point to remember is that the surroundings will not remain forever as they are when the lot first is viewed. Today's serene, pastoral setting can become tomorrow's cloverleaf interchange, oil tank farm or apartment development. Check the county planning office to find out what uses are proposed for all the land surrounding the property.

—Size and shape. Usually a plot looks larger in its natural state than it does after it is built upon. In rectangular lots, 65 feet across the front and 100 feet in depth is minimal. An irregular shape is not necessarily a problem, but it should be studied carefully to make certain it is not.

—Topography. Is the lay of the land suitable for the type structure to be built upon it? If extensive changes in grade levels will be necessary it may be wise to search further. Good drainage is essential—the land should be somewhat higher than streets or roads that give access to it.

—Soil and subsoil. Ideally, the soil should be stable and free of large rocks. If it will be necessary to install a septic system, have a percolation test made to determine whether the soil is suitable. Any doubts about subsoil conditions should be resolved by a civil engineer.

—Boundaries. Have a survey made and get permanent markers placed on the corners of the property. Surveying the typical lot only costs $50 or so and will re-

Bearcats Continue Winning Ways In Pony League

Guardsman Chemical Bearcats showed their first place power this week by clobbering R. D. Brooks twice this week by score of 19 to 1 and 16 to 3. In the first game, Tom Sysma pitched a one hitter while his team-mates collected ten hits off loser Don Krueger and Fred Bentley. For the winners, John Gromer had two home runs, one with bases full; and John Jackson and Randy Ashley both had two hits apiece.

Tom Sysma took the second win also on a three hitter. Don Krueger got two of the hits for the losers, while Jackson and Ashley again had two hits apiece.

The Lion's Club Cougars stuck in contention with two wins over the luckless Ada Service Station Braves. The Cougars took the first game 16 to 6 on a six hitter by Rick Osborn. Jeff Jones gave way to Biff Freeman in the first after allowing eleven runs without retiring one man, Freeman then gave up only 4 hits the rest of the game, but the lead was too great for the Braves to come back. Tim Moore was the big gun in the Cougar attack with 3 for 3 including a home run.

In the second game, Tim Moore pitched his way to a 5 to 1 win on a two hitter. Biff Freeman and Tim Gietzen each had a hit for the losers, while Dale Osmolinski and Rick Osborn both had two hits for the Cougars.

The Amway Migdets and the Chez Ami Lancers frustrated each other's title hopes with a split of their two game series.

Chez Ami won the first game 5 to 1 on a masterful 1 hitter by Ron Horstmanhof who collected two hits for his own cause. Wisniewski took the loss, giving up 4 runs in the three innings he pitched.

Not to be denied, the Migdets stormed back in the second game to win 3 to 2. Known affectionately around the league as the "hitless-wonders," Amway put together six hits while striking out eleven times for the win. Mike Smith had two hits for the winners while Greg Chapman doubled for the losers. Chris Taylor took the loss.

Western Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Heaven of Denison Drive returned home this past week-end from a two-weeks' camping trip in the western states; touring the national parks and monuments and places of interest.

They visited Mark Twain's home in Hannibal, Missouri; Rocky Mountain National Park; Dinosaur National Monument; Mormon Square Capital in Salt Lake City; Bingham Canyon where the world's largest open-pit copper mine is operating; Bryce and Zion National Parks; Cedar Breaks National Monument, and both the north and south rims of Grand Canyon where the high light of the trip was an airplane ride over and into the Canyon.

A visit to Wupatki National Monument and the Meramec Caverns was also made.

Two-Thirds Of Unemployed Are Without Diplomas

People without high school diplomas are in rough shape when it comes to the acid test of the labor market, Seymour L. Wolfbein, director of the Office of Manpower, Automation and Training, U.S. Department of Labor, said at The University of Michigan.

"Two out of every three people unemployed don't have a high school diploma," he said. Wolfbein spoke at a guidance workshop session sponsored by the School of Education.

"A high school diploma is becoming a requirement for an increasing number of occupations," Wolfbein noted. "In spite of the growing need for this level of education, the U.S. Department of Labor has estimated that about 7.5 million young persons will be entering the labor market during the 1960's without completing high school."

"About 1.5 million young men and women without a high school education, who may be entering the labor market in 1964 and 1965, will be competing for jobs. Many of these young persons will not even have completed grade school."

"One out of four dropouts was unemployed in 1962," Wolfbein said. "This is one of the highest unemployment rates for any group in the labor force. Unless these young persons are able to secure additional training, they will probably become the nucleus of the future hard core of unemployed workers."

Wolfbein said many dropouts occur because the vocational courses are not up to date and sensitive to what industry needs.

"In the vocational arena, we need more responsive communication. Anything you can do to endow the school with a communication system which tells it what is happening in the work-a-day world is tremendously important. Many dropouts, after experience in the cold world of work, are coming back and asking for more education," he added.

Noting the need for skilled manual workers in the country, Wolfbein said, "We need five million more of these people and we are not getting them. We need just as many manually talented as we need academically talented. We need to endow the vocational school with the status we want academic courses to have."

"Don't underestimate the skilled blue collar worker. He gets relatively high wages and is in tremendous demand. If something doesn't go off at Cape Canaveral it is not so much the scientific formulas that went wrong. It's the translation of those formulas into working models."

Discussing automation, Wolfbein said America is caught in a dilemma. "We have to support and accelerate automation or we will lose our competitive position among the other countries. For our own domestic growth, too, we have to keep up to date and even push ahead. Most of the trade unions feel the same way because they know their jobs will be lost if we don't keep up to date. We must push automation on the one hand; at the same time, we have to try to bring it about that there is as little hurt as possible to the workers."

Concluding, Wolfbein said current statistics show the average person will make six career changes during his working life. You can't prepare for an occupation and just go on in it. The changes occurring in our society are upending the occupational structure."

A man's home is his castle, and no king gets knocked off the throne oftener.

Cascade Woman Demonstrates That Good Neighbor Policy Still Works

In this fast-paced day and age some people still find time to be good neighbors.

Such is the case of Mrs. Dewey C. Prins of Route 2, Lowell.

Last Friday morning at 3 a. m. Mrs. Prins was called to the home of her neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peterson of 9610 Cascade Rd., because of the illness of the Peterson's 3-month-old daughter, Connie.

Even though she was in her pajamas, Dorothy Prins rushed with the child to Butterworth Hospital.

On the way she administered mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to the little girl, driving with one hand on the wheel and one hand holding the baby.

Twice she had to stop at the side of the road to aid the child further, and, even though Connie stopped breathing three times, she was alive when they arrived at the hospital.

Artists To Hold Business Meet

The Thornapple Valley Artists will hold a business meeting at the Cascade Town Hall on Tuesday evening at 8 p. m. on July 30. This meeting will consist primarily of discussions pertaining to plans and proposals in order to become better established as a fruitful organization.

Within three months, the T.V.A. membership has grown to over 20 people actively interested in art.

On Tuesday, August 6, David E. Carpenter of Thornapple River Drive has graciously consented to give a demonstration on wood carving. Mr. Carpenter is a well-known artist in this field with many outstanding achievements to his credit.

He will demonstrate his ability and display some of his works at this meeting. The public, as well as members, are invited to attend.

Jastifer-Gerke Rites Performed

Miss Kathleen Joan Jastifer and John Louis Gerke were married Saturday morning in St. Patrick's Church of Parnell with Rev. Edmund J. Farrell performing the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus M. Jastifer of Ada are parents of the bride, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Gerke of Chatham Street.

The bride chose for her wedding a floor-length gown of white eyelet embroidery with a detachable silk organza train. Her bouffant veil was secured with a crown of babies' breath, and she carried a mother-of-pearl missal adorned with white honeysuckle and babies' breath.

The matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Joel V. Jannenga of Ada. She wore a white eyelet over blue dress with matching head-dress and carried a fan complemented with white and blue carnations.

Misses Carolyn and Arlene Jastifer, sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids, and their pink gowns were similar to the matron of honor. They carried white and pink carnations. The flower girl was Carol Ann Hart.

Best man was Richard Kleff; and Robert and James Gerke, the groom's brothers, ushered.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Doege of Ada and Mr. and Mrs. William Gerke acted as masters and mistresses of ceremonies at the wedding breakfast and evening reception held in the Casino Club.

The couple are on a northern honeymoon.

Know YOUR MICHIGAN LAW
by Attorney General FRANK J. KELLEY

(This is one of a series of public articles explaining in general terms a provision of Michigan law. Individuals who wish to determine the effect of any law upon their private legal affairs should consult a private attorney.)

One of the legal problems that perplexes many people holding property on our lakes and streams has to do with what their rights are in relation to the lake beds and water which flows over them.

When a person buys a piece of property on a river, does he own any part of the bed of the river and can he keep the public from using the stream for boating, fishing and wading?

Many years ago our Supreme Court decided that it would be to the economic benefit of the State if the riparian owner, that is, one who owns property which touches the water of a river or lake, also own the bed. Ordinarily, his ownership extends to the middle of the stream or to a point in the middle of the lake. This does not mean, however, that he can impede or obstruct the public from navigating the stream and in some cases the lake.

We all know that our streams were used for the floating of logs during timber-cutting days. These logs were floated down to the lakes and from there sawed into lumber and shipped all over the country. This was possible because the Supreme Court also decided that even though the owners along our streams own title to the beds, the State has a public trust in the water for the purposes of navigation and commerce. Later in the 1920's the court decided that this trust also included the right of the public to fish and to wade up and down our streams, as is done by trout fishermen. The court said that this public trust was a high, solemn and inalienable trust. It based this decision on the fact that recreation is important to the economy of the State and that if the public were not allowed freely to use our rivers for recreational purposes, this important economic benefit would be impaired.

So as you wade up one of our streams, either to fish or just for the fun of it, or if you take a canoe trip on the mighty Au Sable, remember that you are protected in your right to do so by the public trust which the State has in its navigable waters.

Most hunting victims are shot by themselves or nearby companions. Pick your hunting buddies carefully. Hunt with the safety on, or keep your gun uncocked. Keep gun muzzles pointed away from other hunters and you all of the time. Keep loaded guns out of cars.

Just Married and Still Working?

Then you're looking for ways to prepare quick and tasty meals. Lucky are you that there are so many pre-cooked and frozen "convenience" foods on the market. The only trouble is that the ordinary package is just too much for two people, and you are stuck with a lot of left overs.

Processors and retailers are becoming aware of the problem of the family of two or the person who lives alone. They are offering more divided and small-size cartons and pastic bags that let you remove only as much as you need for a meal.

For instance, frozen fish steaks and sticks come in divided packages. You can use the top layer one day, and save the rest for later. Some cake mixes come in small packages holding just enough for a single layer. At least one muffin mix is already divided into portions for two bakings. You can also bake a single loaf of bread from one box of hot roll mix. Making a cobbler is a snap when you use prepared biscuit or pie mix with fruits or berries.

The bane of most brides is the everlasting left over. A freezer or freezing compartment in your refrigerator enables you to freeze them for a later time, but sooner or later, you get bogged down with an accumulation of them.

There's a good new publication of the United States Department of Agricultural Research Service, "Food for the Young Couple." If you'd like a copy, it's yours free from the Office of Information, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D.C. Just send a postcard asking for "Food for the Young Couple," HG 85.

"Leaflets Three, Let It Be"

That's what we were advised when as kids we roamed fields, woods, and streams. It meant poison ivy or poison oak. If you've ever suffered and scratched from contact with these common poisonous plants, you don't need a second reminder. You will be suspicious of all plants whose leaves grow in groups of three. The upper surface of the leaves is usually shiny. The flowers and fruits are in clusters on slender stems that originate at the axis of the leaves. The fruits usually have a white waxy appearance.

The form in which the plants grow, however, varies considerably throughout the United States. They may grow as a woody vine attached to a tree, as trailing shrubs mostly on the ground, or as erect woody shrubs.

They are often found along old fence rows and edges of paths and roadways, and they ramble over rock walls and climb posts and trees. They often grow with other shrubs and vines so that they are hardly noticeable.

So, it pays to watch for the three identifying leaves. Previous escape is no proof of immunity, so don't get careless.

Eileen Sewell Becomes Bride Of Dewayne Richard

Eileen Sewell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Sewell of Ada, and Dewayne Richard also of Ada, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Richard of Cadillac were united in marriage at noon on June 29.

The ceremony was performed before the immediate families of the couple by Rev. R. D. Marmion using the double ring ceremony.

The couple was attended by Georgia Darling of Portland and Bruce Sewell, brother of the bride. A reception was held in the afternoon at the Masonic Temple of Ada for a number of relatives and friends, coming from Owosso, Corunna, Durand, St. Johns, Portland, Cadillac, Detroit and surrounding areas.

Following a trip through Northern Michigan, the newlyweds returned to reside in Lowell.

Production in some lines lag, but the rumor factories are still running overtime.

We Invite You

What a pleasure it was last year to meet many of you readers for the first time at our Vacation Bible School. I enjoy it when you can talk back to me for a change. If you have children aged 4 to 12, we would like to meet with them at our Vacation Bible School, August 6 through 15. Here is an opportunity to give your children something to do which is not only fun but also can be a real blessing. If you have children who would like to attend, call 949-2655. We will be happy to pick them up and return them home again. We had a wonderful attendance last year. Why not join us this year?

New oil furnace

Iron Fireman CUSTOM Mark II oil furnace with instant clean flame. Unequaled for clean comfort, low fuel bills and trouble-free performance

Comfort
With the Iron Fireman CUSTOM Mark II furnace you use a super-sensitive thermostat which operates the furnace with the slightest variation of room temperature. This gives you remarkably uniform indoor temperature. No matter how often the furnace starts there is no smoke, no soot, no fouled combustion chamber, no wasted oil.

Cleanliness
With the instant clean flame there are no flecks of soot blowing from your chimney or escaping into your home. Hundreds of tests made with smoke-detecting instruments show a flame that's absolutely clean from the very moment it's turned on.

Down go fuel bills
Owners report remarkable fuel savings. There is no smoky warm-up period to foul the furnace and waste oil. Service calls are cut to the vanishing point.

Operates without chimney draft
The CUSTOM Mark II furnace provides its own positive induced draft with precision control. No natural chimney draft required.
