Auctioneer dies in local court

Funeral services for George VanderMeulen, 60, a well-known Kent County auctioneer, were held Monday afternoon at the DeVries Chapel in Grand Rap-

Mr. VanderMeulen, who lived at 6160 Broadmoor Avenue, Caledonia, died unexpectedly from a heart attack last Thursday while testifying in a civil case in the court of Justice Howard Rittenger of Lowell.

Born in the Netherlands, Mr. VanderMeulen came to Grand Rapids when he was nine and lived in the area the rest of his life with the exception of six years spent in Waupun, Wisconsin, during the 1930s.

Mr VanderMeulen had been an auctioneer for the past 18 years. He was a member of the National Auctioneers Association, the Kent County Farm Bureau, and the Western Michigan Swine Breeders Associa-

He is survived by his wife, Marie; three daughters, Mrs. Simon (Virginia; Klyn, jr., of Grand Rapids, Mrs. Lester (Betty) Maier of Caledonia and Mrs. Gordon (Joyce) VanElst of Wayland; one son, John, at home; nine grandchildren; and three brothers and two sisters, James, Peter and Lawrence of Grand Rapids, Mrs. Ben (Betty) Mackus of Jenison and Mrs. Jacob (Alice) DeVries of Grand

The Rev. Marlin VanderWilt officiated at the services Monday, and burial was made in the Garfield Park Cemetery.

Ada Taxpayers Committee reports on trip to State Tax Commission

by Special Correspondent

The fourth meeting of Ada at the meeting for making ap-Taxpayers Committee was held in the Town Hall last Thursday

Due to a conflict in the published day there was not as many in attendance as at former meetings. Nevertheless the hall was comfortably filled.

There were many who had not attended previous meetings and some comment that outside of the cooperation of the Ledger, there had not been enough general publicity.

A report was made by Roe Niles, the chairman of his trip, company with Fred Clancy to Lansing. They had a visit with the chairman of the State Tax Commission and chairman Niles gave a good account of what had been learned.

Most interesting was the statement of Niles that the Tax Commission Chairman had endorsed the view of many protesters that the value of farm and vacant land should not be appraised on "future potential" as projected by the assessing officer. It was the understanding that only after vacant or farm land had been sold could a proper "true market value" be set on which tax valuations could be placed based on the intended use.

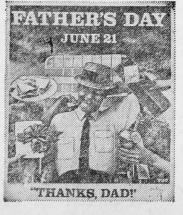

Another interesting statement by Niles was to the effect that the Tax Commission agreed that there had not been proper notice given by the township supervisor to those who desired to appeal or a proper hearing to those who did appeal. It was interpreted fro this that the State Tax Commission would recognize any appeals to it that were made within the time limit. This is understood to be July 1.

Blanks were made available

ed their Tenderfoot Badges. Scout Lifeguard Awards were given to Pat Hanes and Fritz Dygert. Merit Badges were awarded as follows: Pat Hanes, electricity; Dick Pullian, swimming; Tom Dygert, personal fitness, lifesaving, and farm arrangement; Fritz Dygert, personal fitness and lifesaving; John Free personal fitness, and Homer Spidell, personal fitness.

Cubbyhole Corner

Being particularly fond of the "Peanuts"-age child, we are dedicating this corner to increase his curiosity, avoid bore-dom, and avoid that "let-down feeling" of "Wherever did the summer go?" Herewith we dedicate to him "Fourteen Rules for a Fascinating Summer"!

(1) READ our Cubbyhole column, the Summer Weekly Reader, and at least one library book week. The bookmobile schedule was in SUBURBAN LIFE last week. Read to yourself or to the "small fry" in your family or neighborhood.

(2) KEEP a diary to record exciting events, books read, summer gains in height and weight, visits made, guests entertained and trips taken.

(3) WRITE letters, stories, crossword puzzles, and riddles. Write some one-sentence ngue twisters in which most of the words in a sentence begin with the same letter. Write short story every day. Make book of the stories to give to your grandmother or someone else to whom it would mean a great deal.

(4) LEARN to do something that you could not do beforeto weave, sketch cook, sew. paint, swim, grow flowers, make kites, create puppets, or carve

(5) LISTEN for the weather report and tell your family what the forecast is for each day.

(6) TALK with your parents about the meanings words as "responsibility," "cooperation," "patience," "play," and "self-control."

COLLECT stamps, old coins, buttons, seeds, colored rocks, shells, maps, unusual names of streets, state car license slogans, or nuts. Arrange these according to size, color and shape

(8) VISIT every museum, park, zoo, and historical place in the area. (9) MAKE a safety inspection of your house and surround-(10) PLAN a surprise for someone by doing a favor, making a gift, or arranging something he likes to do. (11) DECIDE on three things you will do to help your parents keep the house and yard in order every day.

(12) PRACTICE your addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division facts. (13) RUN errands, help with lawn care, set the table, do chores-without pay! (14) GO to church every Sunday. God does not take a vacation from you. Yours for a VACATION you will always remember,

Report progress on Cascade water supply plans

At the monthly meeting of The Cascade Township Board, the Somerville Construction Company made a report on the progress made in its plans to supply water in Cascade Township.

The company represented by Robert Somerville and Joseph Gillard, jr., reported on the work done to date by its en-gineering consultants, Williams and Works.

To date there has been com-pleted a preliminary water study of the entire township to determine the most probable location of a good supply of

A survey of the demand for water service was carried out by mail. Two hundred letters and reply cards were mailed to residents of various sections of the township.

On the basis of this information three test holes have been drilled. All of these tests have proven unsuccessful in finding water in sufficient quantity for public use.

During the early part of June two more test holes will be drill-

Preliminary meetings have been held to discuss health regulations, rate structures, and the financing of the water project. The Somerville Construction Company plans to continue to keep the Township Board informed of its progress in developing a water supply for Cas-

Boat trips boost river group's goal

Boat rides for Cascade-area residents who live along the Thornapple River between the Cascade Dam and the Alaska Bridge were provided last Sunday by the Cascade Thornapple Association in an effort to stimulate the interest of more people in the preservation and conservation of the river.

Many trips were made up-river from the Cascade Dam and were greatly enjoyed by both the passengers and the watercraft skippers. The event was organized by the Association's activities committee, headed by Don Ringwald.

The committee wishes to publicly thank all who donated their time and equipment.
The Cascade Thornapple Association has only one annual meeting, with much of its work being done at the committee lev' el. Anyone interested in becoming a member of any of the committees is urged to phone William Foy, the Association president, at 949-1475 for further

Our Flag

If Flag Day were a legal holiday, it would not pass unnoticed. But since it isn't except in Pennsylvania, some of us probably are not even aware that there is such a day. We may wonder, idly, why there are more flags flying than usual, but we shrug it off.

The first Flag Day was proclaimed in 1949, by President Truman. Since then, each president is expected to make a proclamation annually that June 14 be commemorated as Flag Day by the display of our national flag. We commemorate the adoption of the flag as our national banner on June 14, 1777, by the Continental Congress.

As you ride streets and highways on a national holiday, or on Flag Day, aren't you a little disappointed to see so few flags displayed? Two or three may be flying in one block of a city street, but there are blocks without even one. It gives one a good feeling to see one flying proudly at an occasional farm home. But some thirty or forty years ago things were so different! Flags were flying everywhere on 4th of July, Memorial Day, and Labor Day. Cars were decorated with them, and little children marched like solin parade waving the red-white-and-l

Can it be that we do not love our country and our flag as much as we used to? I hope not! Our flag is beautiful, and let's lift it to the breeze on every good occasion, in appreciation of the wonderful country which is ours by God's M. Schoolland

Smith-Schut vows spoken

Miss Nancy Lou Schut and David Lee Smith were united in marriage in Berean Baptist Church Saturday afternoon by the bride's father, Rev. Gerrit D. Schut. Parents of the couple are Rev. and Mrs. Schut, Borglum Ave., N. E., and Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Smith, Grand River Dr., N. E.

The bride selected a floorlength gown of chantilly lace. Pearls and sequins covered the bodice and sequins edged the bottom of the dress. A pearl queen's crown secured her fingertip-length veil, and she carried a white Bible adorned with phalaenopsis orchids and red sweetheart roses. Mrs. Charles Buffham of Columbus, Ohio, was the honor attendant. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Marlene Lemke of Clare, Miss Karen Kransi and Mrs. Lynn Youngblood of Appalachin, Y. They selected ballerinalength aqua blue chiffon and lace frocks with matching picture hats and carried fans topped with white and aqua carnations and stephanotis. Janet Abuhl and Terry DeBlaay were miniature bride and bridegroom.

Tom Scholtens assisted as best man. Ushers were Robert Smith Jr., James Lago, and Paul Pearson.

Rev. and Mrs. George White presided at the reception held in the church parlors. Following an eastern wedding trip, including the World's Fair, the couple will reside at 35 Michigan Carad Reside. gan, Grand Rapids.

SUBURBAN LIFE, JUNE 18, 1964

plans revealed Amateur Night Contest entries are being accepted for the Lowell Showboat, Dr. H. R. Mueller contest committee chairman, reported this week.

To handle the growing number of amateur entertainer entries more efficiently, semi-final contests will be held in Muskegon, Kalamazoo and Lansing this year. Dr. Mueller announc-

Winners in the three semi-final contests will qualify for the finals of the amateur contest, to be held at 7:30 p. m. on Saturday, July 11, on the Showboat stage in Lowell. A semifinals contest also will be held in Lowell at the C. H. Runciman Elementary School auditorium at 1 p. m. on July 11, and winners in this contest will also qualify for the finals that night, Dr. Mueller reported.

Six winning acts in the final Saturday night contest will win prizes as well as the right to appear on the Showboat program to be held July 20 to 25. One winning act in the Amateur Night Contest will appear in the Showboat on each of the six nights of its run. Dr. Muel-

How much can you expect from a little child?

Do you expect your child to be quiet and not disturb the family with noise? Do you expect him to understand everything you say to him? Do you expect him to meet strangers easily?

Perhaps you expect too much. Two new bulletins released by the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service offer parents guidance on dealing with their young children.

One discusses how much you can expect of a small child. The second helps parents to see the difference between a "naughty" child and a child that sometimes acts "naughty.

Both bulletins may be obtained free of charge from your county extension office. Or write to the Bulletin Office, 10 Agricultural Hall, Michigan State University East Lansing.

Ask for parents' newsletters, "Do You Expect Too Much?," E423-A, or "Naughty or Learning?," E423-B.
