Gas fumes fell three at Amway

"It was terrible," said Mrs. Delores Sielawa. "You just couldn't breathe. I just had to have air-I felt like I was just kind of drifting off."

Mrs. Sielawa, 35, of 312 Burton St., S. E., was one of three Amway Coporation employees who were hospitalized Tuesday night after an industrial accident at the Ada detergent-making plant filled the building with noxious fumes.

Fifty people were evacuated from the building when the accident occurred shortly after 8 p. m. Besides Mrs. Sielawa, Shirley Eickhoff, 26, of 9537 Vergennes Ada, and Delara Miller, 18, of Route 3, Lowell, were rushed to Blodgett Memorial Hospital in Grand Rapids by ambulance.

The three women were treated at the hospital and, after undergoing a series of tests, were later released.

According to a report by Ada Fire Department officials, tank of sodium hydrosulfate heated up" and spread the noxious fumes through the plant. Members of the Ada Fire Department was called to the scene and, with the aid of gas masks, were able to bring the fumes under control.

Kent County Sheriff's officers also investigated the accident. An Amway Corporation executive denied Wednesday morning that rumors of an "explosion" were true. He described the gas fumes as "just California smog.

Convicts lead police on merry chase in Ada bushes Monday; one at large

State Penitentiary ended the taking care, the spokesman said, first leg of a wild bid for free- not to fire in the vicinity of dom Monday night by crashing the stolen Ionia County Road Commission truck in which they were fleeing into a utility pole

Grand River Drive in Ada The end of the "freedom ride" came when State Police officers flattened the tires on the truck with bursts of fire from a .12gauge shotgun, fired from a police cruiser traveling in hot pursuit of the truck

One of the escapees-Philip Hobdy, 25-was captured as he lay hidden in nearby underbrush. The second-James Bryant. 20-was still at large at 8 a. m. Tuesday when State Police and Kent County Sheriff's officers abandoned their search of the area.

Describe Escapee

A spokesman at the State Police Post in Rockford said Tuesday morning that Bryant is 5 ft. 11 in. tall, weighs 170 lbs. and has brown hair and hazel eyes. He was serving a 3-15-year sentence in the Ionia prison for car theft in Genesee County. Hobdy was serving a 7-15-year sentence for breaking and entering in Berrien County. State police troopers stationed at the Ada bridge first spotted the fleeing truck at 10:21 p. m. as it sped west on M-21.

Flashing red lights atop the police cruiser failed to halt the vehicle, and the police officers then attempted to overtake the truck and force it to the side of the highway. The convicts forestalled this maneuver, however by swerving their truck back and forth in the path of the pursuing police car.

Shoot Tires The officers then began shoot-

The troopers reported that their first shots failed to halt the junction of M-21 and the truck, even though it was ious that the left rear tire of the vehicle had been hit.

The troopers then perforated the truck's right rear tire with another blast from the shotgun, and the truck swerved as the convicts fought to keep it under control

"A couple of times it looked like the truck was going to roll over," one of the troopers later reported. Smash Cement Curb At the junction of M-21 and Grand River Drive, the convicts swerved the truck sharply to the right in an attempt to elude the pursuing police. The vehicle went out of control, shattered a newly-laid section of cement curbing, and plowed into a near-

Electrical wires supported by the pole fell to the ground, barring the path of the cruiser. The troopers, however, drove under the wires. By this time the convicts despite orders to halt, had fled on foot. The police officers gave chase, however, and found Hobdy hiding not far away in some bushes

Other members of the Michigan State Police and the Kent County Sheriff's Department joined in the search for Bryant, using flashlights to light their way as they prowled through the underbrush near the Ada curve of the Grand Trunk railroad tracks.

Pie in the sky on the Forrth of July! Be it a campaign promise or a child's grant, it's technicolor reality on Indepen-

Each succeeding year the parade gets more complicated. Last year's floats had everyone in stitches! What planning, effort, and money went into the entry sponsored by the Wind-crest neighborhood! You could sense the rapport in this group, a feeling that each cared about his neighbor. Each year they've tackled something a little more ambitious, beginning with the times when they piled all the kids in a trailer and pulled them behind a car.

Remembering parades of other years, we recall Doug Cheney as the "Bring'em Back Alive" wild animal hunter, authentic in his garb and his drawn catch. The Cheney boys have always used imagination, making their assembled results worth the watching.

We are urging this year's entrants to dream a little. Talk it over with your parents to be sure it isn't outer space dream ing, shelve it awhile, and consider it again. This "stop and go" planning bring results wheyou are writing poetry, painting, or creating entries for Another suggestion from a satisfied customer of last year's Chicken Barbeque: made mom's day a real holiday and the family's day a gourmet treat by making reservations for the gastronomical event of the season. prought our chicken and all the trimmings back to our house in a covered roaster, enjoying our holiday repast on the back terrace overlooking the river that occupied a much dimished course in 1776. Having no dishes to wash or mess to clean up made it easy to be back at the center of activities to choose our spot for fireworks viewing.

We've been glorifying all the fun aspects of this great national holiday. Lest we continue to celebrate it just as a time for aerial displays, canoe races, crepe paper and frill consider the words of John Adams as quoted in the World Book Encyclopedia: "I am apt to believe that it will be celebrated by succeeding generations as the great anniversary festival. It ought to be commemorated as the day of deliverance, by solemn acts of devotion of God Almighty. It ought to be solemnized with pomp and parade, with shows, games, sports, guns, be bonfires, and illuminations, from one end of this continent to the other, from this time forward for evermore.'

May we all make sure our children realize it is "Independence Day" first, and the Fourth of July only because it was proclaimed to fall on that date. It was first observed in Philadelphia on July 6, 1776!

Hoping it's a magical day, safe and sane as a memorable day should be, With Love, Aunt Cubbyhole

Freedom!

We often let our canary fly through the house for an hour or two. How he loves to be free! He darts back and forth through the kitchen, and lately he ventures into the living room if we do not close the door. Sometimes he sits above a window and looks down at his little world for a few minutes, only to go sailing through the room again.

It's no wonder he loves to be out of his cage. Birds were not made to live in cages. They have wings, and they ought to be free to soar up to the sky and sing from the treetops. That is the life God intended them to live.

We, too, prize our freedom. That is probably why the Fourth of July has always been a favorite American holiday. We have a right to be free. Every one of God's creatures should be free to live the life God intended him to live. Did you notice that last phrase? It sort of puts a crimp in our demand for freedom, doesn't it? We have to know, first of all, what kind of life God wants us to live! We have no right to demand freedom for anything beyond that So what kind of life has God intended for us? Jesus has told us plainly: Love God above all, and your neighbor as yourself. Simple, isn't it? Yet profound. We'll stop in our tracks sometimes if we apply that test to the "freedom" we demand. On the other hand, nothing should stop us from demanding the freedom to do what Jesus said. Jesus once said, "If you continue in my word . . . you shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." (John 8:32). Walking in His ways, we become more and more the sort of creatures we were intended to be-and that's freedom! M. Schoolland

The prophet is describing a very uncomfortable position: a bed too short and coverings too narrow. He is addressing a people who were trusting to "refuges of lies," and warning them that these would yet fail them. His words form a good description of a religion which is inadequate.

No righteousness of our own will ever give us the comfort that we need. And why should we try to get comfort from that which can never provide it when we can have the perfect comfort; that is, the perfect righteousness of Jesus Christ? "For He God, the Father) hath made Him (Christ, the Son) to be sin for us who knew no sin that we might be made the righteousness of God in Him." II Corinthians 5:21.
