Forest Hills Boosters kick-off gridiron season September 10

The Forest Hills Athletic Boosters' Club will hold a potluck supper and meeting on Thursday evening, September 10. Each family attending is asked to provide two passing dishes. All parents, of every boy, are urged to participate in the football program to be presented.

After the supper, a short business meeting will be held, after which everyone will repair to the gym where the coaching staff will conduct a seminar on prospects for the coming year.

A tremendous turnout of prospects for the 1964-65 Ranger Team has been made and there is going to be quite a scramble for positions.

A large return of last year's sophomores, who put in a good year on the junior varsity team will be pushing some of the seniors from positions.

The Forest Hill High School will field a freshman team this year, and Coach Bob Dangel will be putting together a junior varsity team with only sophomore students. Mr. Blanchard has a good squad of freshman out, but inexperience is rampant

Social briefs

Frank Munger and three children of LaPlata, Maryland, has been visiting his sister and family, Mrs. Gerrit DeGood of 28th Street, S. E., and brother, Robert Munger of Morse Lake Rd., and other relatives and friends for the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hobson and children of Brookfield, Wisconsin, are visiting this week at the home of her parents, Rev. and Mrs. O. M. Smith of Cascade Road, S. E.

Pat Bigelow opens station

Patrick "Pat" Bigelow, 6570 4 Mile Road, is the manager of the new Marathon Service Station, just completed at the intersection of Cascade Road and East Paris Avenue.

Pat, a resident of Ada Township for over 25 years, is married and the father of four children. Residents will recall his frequent appearances on the ball field, where he starred as a member of the Ada Businessmen's team. This year he has been playing the "C" Bell Chevrolet team.

Before taking over the new Marathon Station he operated heavy road building equipment for the L. W. Edison Company during the previous ten years. The new station will offer top quality service to the local motorists and to the heavy traffic over the I-96 freeway.

Plan special Labor Day patrols

With a high traffic volume expected in Michigan over the Labor Day weekend, the summer's last major holiday, the State Police will operate special patrols from noon Friday, September 4, to midnight Monday, September 7, in an effort to hold down accidents. Commissioner Joseph A. Childs reports.

During the 78-hour holiday in 1963, six multiple death accidents killed 18 persons, more than half the weekend's toll of 35 which was the highest for a Labor Day period since 1949, when 38 died.

Childs emphasized that chances for multiple death accidents are greatly increased during the holidays because motoring trips are generally family affairs and there are many more cars on the roads.

"However, high holiday tolls are not inevitable," Childs said. "Michigan records show there were only 12 deaths for the Labor Day period in 1958 and 13 the year before. Drivers can assure themselves a safer holiday trip by driving courteously and reasonably at all times. Bring the family back alive."

The State Police special patrol schedule will be in effect from noon Friday to midnight Monday of the holiday period with maximum coverage scheduled from 3 to at least 9 p. m. each day. Pass days are cancelled.

The State Police will be assisted by 113 members of the Michigan National Guard Friday, Saturday and Monday, serving as second men on two-man patrols or on point controls.

SPEED HORSE MEET AT HOWARD CITY TRACK

The Horse City Chamber of Commerce has added a State-wide Speed Horse Meet to their Labor Day Celebration this year.

A complete afternoon of running horse races, lady barrel racing, and speed horse contests is scheduled.

SWSHA is noted for a fast-moving, crowd pleasing event. Local horsemen will have a chance to compete on equal terms with horses from throughout the midwest.

OPEN HORSE SHOW TO BE HELD SEPTEMBER 27

There will be an open horse show at 12:30 p. m. on September 27 at the corner of Three Mile Road and Dunnigan St.

There will be classes in halter, pleasure and contesting. All spectators are welcome and all are welcome to bring horses. Entry fees are 20c and 25c. This is a good show for young and old beginners and 4-Hers. Hat donations will be taken during the show. Call EM 1-0908.

ROOM MOTHERS NEEDED FOR COLLINS REGISTRATION

If you are interested in serving as a room mother this coming school year, please call Mae Preston at 949-0166.

The initial duty of the room mother will be to assist the teachers in the morning on registration day, Thursday, September 10, by collecting book rental fees, supply money, party money and milk money.

In addition, any other volunteers to help out that morning would be welcomed.

We should distinguish between a man's rights and his privileges. The we should distinguish between rights that are civil and those which are moral, religious, political or natural.

Edward Tofts, aged 71 dies suddenly Friday

Edward Tofts, aged 71, of 5880 Two Mile Road, N. E., Ada Township, passed away suddenly last Friday night.

Mr. Tofts is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Clarence (Marquerite) Underhill with whom he made his home; three grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. John F. Havelock of Winnepeg, Canada.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon at the VanStrien-Alman Mortuary with Rev. Fred P. Harris officiating.

Mary McPherson named 1964 Apple Queen

Mary McPherson, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. McPherson, Route 1, Lowell, was crowned 1964 Kent-Ottawa Apple Queen last Friday night, August 28.

The pageant held at the Sparta Civic Center was sponsored by the Kent-Ottawa Horticultural Society and assisted by Peach Ridge Fruit Growers Association, Grand Rapids Pomesters, Kenowa Pomesters and Sparta Chamber of Commerce.

Linda Gravelyn, Mark C. Chapin wed Saturday

Miss Linda K. Gravelyn and Mark Carl Chapin were united in marriage on Saturday morning, August 29, at 11:30.

A. D. Tanner, Justice of the Peace, performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate families at his Grand Rapids Township home.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Mary Gravelyn, 4815 Cannonburg Road, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Chapin, 5967 Knapp N. E., Ada.

The bride was attired in a street-length gown of white lace and brocade. Matching accessories completed her ensemble. Matron of honor was Mrs. Warren Lane, sister of the groom. Best man was the bridegroom's brother-in-law, Warren Lane.

Report from Democratic Convention

by John Clay

Editor's Note: John Clay, Route 2, Alto, attended the Democratic Convention at Atlantic City and volunteered to tell of colorful events in a special report. This was the second convention for this 15-year-old boy who also attended the Republican Convention in San Francisco, which he reported on in an earlier edition.

With only a few weeks rest from the Republican Convention, I was packed and on my way to watch the Democrats take their turn in Atlantic City, home of the Miss America Pageant, and the world's largest pipe organ, and the world-famous Monopoly game.

Though Atlantic City boasts of a convention hall of 350,000 square feet, there wasn't enough room Tuesday night when for several hours police blocked doors and refused entry to everyone, including delegates. In a situation almost identical to that of the Republicans in San Francisco, the fire marshal said that the crowd inside was too big already. A good number of late, (and indignant) delegates and newsmen were temporarily turned away.

Meanwhile, out on the boardwalk a huge picture of the Republican candidate Goldwater looked down on the convention hall from the world's largest billboard. With his picture were the word's "In your heart, you know he's right." Underneath, someone put an answer, "Yes... extreme right."

The sixty-odd girls at the Bell Telephone message center were supposed to know just about everything there was to know about the convention. Even before the proceedings had gotten officially under way, they had answered thousands of questions. However, there was one that still had them stumped. Who was going to be the candidate for Vice President?

"I'm sorry," said the patient voice after a long pause, "I'm not sure anyone knows that yet."

On Tuesday night there was a "free" lobster dinner for those who had contributed $1,000 to the party.

Sell football season tickets

The Forest Hills Boosters Club is busy selling Varsity football season tickets for all the home games. The price is $4 for four home games.

Proceeds of the ticket sale will go toward purchasing $3,300 worth of new football equipment and a $1,850 wrestling mat. Both projects were approved by the Boosters last May.

These expenditures were made necessary by the instituting of Freshman football and Varsity wrestling in the school athletic program for the first time. The Board of Education didn't feel they should use public funds for these acquisitions at this time, so they authorized the Boosters Club to subsidize these purchases.

Tickets are in the hands of Booster Club members. Anyone wishing to purchase a ticket but doesn't know who to contact may call Mr. Shy at the high school for information.

Potluck dinner

The Forest Hills Boosters Club will sponsor a potluck dinner in the Multi-purpose Building for all Booster members, football and cross-country candidates and their parents and families on Thursday, September 10 at 6 p. m.

Further information on the potluck will be forthcoming later. After the potluck a meeting will be held in the gym at which time all the coaches will present their plans for the season and answer questions.

The Varsity coaches will use some of the boys to demonstrate drills used in the practice sessions. The new football equipment will be demonstrated at this time.

All parents are urged to be in attendance.

LICENSE SUSPENDED

The driving license of Robert W. Richardson, 53, Grand River Drive, Ada, has been suspended for driving under the influence of liquor, according to the report of the Michigan Department of State.

Record football turnout

A record turnout of 110 football candidates reported for the official beginning of football practice at Forest Hills High School Monday morning.

Included in the group were 45 varsity candidates, 30 reserve and 35 Freshmen. Athletic Director Edward Shy attributed the large turnout to the growth of our student body, the inclusion of Freshman football for the first time, the graduation of only five seniors last year, and the unusual number of transfers.

Even more candidates are expected to report during the early days of practice. The varsity coaches will be Shy and Bernard VanArk. Reserve coach is Bob Dangel and John Blanchard will direct the freshmen.

Each squad will play a complete schedule of eight games. The first varsity game will be against Rockford on Friday, September 18, at 7:30 p. m. at Forest Hills, and the reserves will play at Rockford on Saturday night at 7:30.

The Varsity coaches Ed Shy and Bunk VanArk were met by 16 Forest Hills lettermen and two transfer lettermen. Also a good group of potential football players from last year's reserve squad reported.

Transfer lettermen are senior Dale McFarlan from Crown Point, Indiana, and Roger Scheifler from Grand Rapids Central, a junior. Senior lettermen Dennis Brown was unable to report because of an automobile accident in early August.

Baseball team has fine season

The Forest Hills entry into the Grand Rapids American Legion Class B (under 16 years of age) Baseball League has completed its season with a fine 6 won and 4 lost record.

The team lost its first two games but won 6 out of their last 8 games; including a four game win streak.

Competing in this very tough league were teams representing Grand Rapids and Christian high schools including most of the top freshman players. The Forest Hills' boys proved they could handle any team and practiced many hours to do so.

Team members included Tom Sytsma, Tim Moore, John Jackson, Jim Parrish, Randy Ashley, John Gromer, Dean Richards, Tom Mitterer, Dennis Nowack, Mike Coale, Greg Leach, Todd Johnson and Fred Bentley.

The team was sponsored by Amway and the Forest Hills Baseball League and managed by Don Jackson. It is expected the team will be back after the Grand Rapids teams again next year.

newest arrivals

Jill Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dangel of Windcrest Avenue, S. E., was born on August 25 at Butterworth Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cramer of 36th Street, S. E., are the parents of a son, Stephen Lloyd, born on August 28, at Butterworth Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Greenland of 4175 Lester, N. E., are the parents of a son, James Michael born on August 26.

The only gracious way to accept an insult is to ignore it. If you can't ignore it, top it. If you can't top it, laugh it off. If you can't laugh it off, it is probably deserved.

Area residents provide facilities for Presbyterian Church classes

Finding the need for a Presbyterian Church in this area, a group of Forest Hills residents have joined together to provide facilities for Sunday School and Adult discussion classes.

Under the leadership of Steven Peterson, the following chairman were appointed, William Prasse, chairman; Mrs. Gerald McMillian, secretary; Mrs. Dorothy Newcomer, treasurer; Mrs. Gordon Bowman, assistant Sunday School Superintendent and Robert Witzel, publicity.

With the sponsorship of Eastmont Presbyterian Church arrangements have been made for classes to be held in the Murphy School, East Paris and Burton, Sundays, 9:30 a. m. to 10:30.

A cordial invitation is extended to all. Further information maybe obtained by calling Mr. Prasse, 949-1406 or Mr. Witzel, 949-3814.

hospital notes

Rev. O. M. Smith, pastor of Eastmont Baptist Church, had a heart attack last week end and is a patient in Blodgett Memorial Hospital.

Jess Malling of 1617 Lotus, S. E., has been hospitalized at St. Mary's Hospital.

Mrs. Norman Farlee of Knapp Road, Ada, remains a patient at Blodgett Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Lloyd Stevens of Thornapple River Drive, S. E., is a surgical patient at Grand Rapids Osteopathic Hospital.

Clarence C. Brock of 5843 Ada Drive, S. E., is on the critical list at Butterworth Hospital.

Little three-month old Timothy VanHeyningen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Terry VanHeyningen has returned home from Holland Hospital where he underwent abdominal surgery last week.

A. W. (Pete) Hunter of 6691 Cascade Road, S. E. was seriously injured in an automobile accident on Sunday, August 23, on his way home from Detroit. He will be in the hospital for another six weeks. For those who would like to send him cards, his address is St. Mary's Hospital, Livonia, Michigan.

Alex McPherson wins 4-H public speaking

Chauncey Bader, retired circulation manager of the Grand Rapids Press, judged the Kent County 4-H Public Speaking Program at the North Oakview School on Wednesday, August 19.

From the participants, two were chosen to represent Kent County at the 4-H State Show in East Lansing, August 31-September 3. In the Boy's Division, Alex McPherson, 18, of Lowell, came in first place with his speech, "Will Our Nation Live?" Bill Simmerer, 17, of Ada was chosen as alternate for his speech, "Presidential Parallels."

In the Girls' Division, Sally Finkbeiner, 14, of Caledonia won with her speech, "United States—Unconcerned", while Colleen Doyle was chosen as alternate for her speech, "Come to the Fair".

Mr. Bader, a 14 year member of the Toastmasters International Club, commented on the importance of communication in the world. He was pleased that our young people are interested in communication and the proper use of language.

Mr. Bader worked 26 years for the Grand Rapids Herald and 4 1/2 years for the Grand Rapids Press before his retirement in July of this year. He is now editor of the Toastmasters weekly news bulletin, published for the benefit of the 35 Toastmaster members.

Choose 14 to appear in State 4-H demonstrations

Wednesday, August 19, was County 4-H Demonstration Day at North Oakview School, and 4-H'ers from all over Kent County came to "show and tell" what they had learned in their projects. Demonstrations were given in projects such as Creative Arts, Dog Care, Photography, Junior Leadership, Foods and Nutrition and others.

Fourteen members were chosen to participate in the Demonstrations Division at State 4-H Show in East Lansing. The senior members, 14 and over, will compete at State Show for various awards, most of which are educational trips.

Jodie Reath, 14, Comstock Park; Mary Moelker, 15, Grand Rapids; Pam Hooksema, 15, Comstock Park; and Maureen Brechtling, 15, Comstock Park, will give foods demonstrations.

Sally Finkbeiner, 14, Caledonia, will give her demonstration in junior leadership. "Understanding Younger Club Members," Kathy Ostrowski, 16, Comstock Park, will demonstrate techniques to use in photographing flowers. Chuck Dressel, 17, Grand Rapids, will do a demonstration to explain some of the mysteries of electricity.

Gerald Estes, 16, Grand Rapids will demonstrate how to plan a vegetable garden. Joanne Doty, 14, Comstock Park, along with two willing subjects, twins Martha and Mary Vandenberg, will show and tell methods of hair care. Monroe Davids, 17, Grand Rapids, will show how to make entomology shadow boxes.

In the junior division, Pat Estes, 12, Grand Rapids; Joanne Brechtling, 13, Grand Rapids; and Noreen Jost, 13, Comstock Park, will give foods demonstrations. Mary Ellen Ostrowski, 13, Comstock Park, will show how to teach one's dog to obey various obedience commands. Rita Brechtling, 13, Comstock Park, will show proper methods of facial care.

Winner in the Club Meeting Demonstration Division was the Rockford Pioneers 4-H Club. This activity provides the clubs with the opportunity to demonstrate parliamentary procedure and the educational and social aspects of 4-H Club meetings. A demonstration club consists of ten members or less and their leaders. Members of the Rockford Pioneer demonstration team were Kathy McKittrick, 14, Belmont; Dale Case, 15; Glen Perry, 18; Linda Baldwin, 14; Laura Wells, 16; Sherry Wells, 17; Mary Jo Torrey, 15, all of Rockford; and Tom Woodworth, 17, Grand Rapids; and the leader, Mrs. Harry Wells, Rockford.

This group will participate in the 4-H Club Meeting Demonstration Contest on Wednesday, September 2, at State Show in East Lansing.

begin Tuesday, October 6. A special meeting of parents and students of this class will be held on Tuesday, September 15. Second Year Class (8th graders) will be taught by Mrs. Walter Johnson, and Pastor Heine will teach the 9th grade.

Showboat on Mississippi becomes general store

Old Mississippi River stern-wheelers never die. Some become showboats or river museums. But one has become the busiest store on the old river, down around Memphis.

Bearing the scars of a long and active life as a river craft, the old sternwheeler today is brightly lighted and boasts air-conditioning, a telephone booth on its bow and a radio contact room to take orders from approaching river tows.

The towboatmen operating between New Orleans and Cairo, Illinois can get just about everything they need in the way of food and supplies from the floating store and at times, the store even helps round up deckhands who are needed for the towboats.

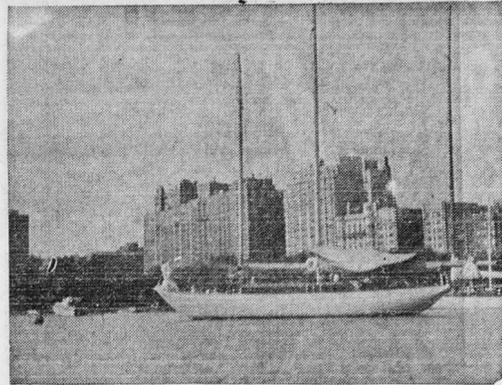

Approaching tows radio their orders to the store, where the needs are filled and the order then is taken to the towboat as she passes without holding up the tow a single minute on her run.

Operating around the clock, the store frequently has its busiest hours from midnight to dawn.

Aboard the Heather

By Mrs. Kreigh Collins

July 17—Friday, Everyday one who sails, hears and reads about sailing on Long Island Sound. There are so many accounts of both small boat racing and cruising stories that it is apparent there is a lot of sailing going on and that there always has been.

We spent one night anchored near the City Island Yacht Club. We were surrounded by sailboats of every conceivable type, large and small, luxurious to the beat up old hulk badly in need of a lot of work.

The weather continues very hot. Forecasts we kept hearing on the radio were for temperatures in nineties on land and temperatures in the eighties on the shoreline. Now in this pleasant anchorage it was cool and quiet after sunset. Then we became aware of something else.

About half of the cruising type boats were being used as summer cottages. Most of them did not use dinghies—they depended on the club launch for transportation between shore and boat. People were having their evening meal in the cockpit, and then would sit there to read the paper, for all the world like a porch or terrace. Then something else became apparent, no bugs, no flies or mosquitoes not even the kind that fly into the light. This was true only of the city area.

July 18—We sailed out with the tide and headed for Saugatuck Harbor in Westport, Conn. Long Island Sound is very narrow here. But the combination of heat and humidity produced a haze that reduced visibility to one to three miles, sometimes even less. The charts are very interesting and must be watched with most careful attention. There are harbors every few miles, and they are well marked with every type of navigation aid. There are lighthouses, bell buoys, gongs, whistle buoys and to mark rocks, or a channel, the usual red nun or black can. If you can read the number on them with your binoculars, you know exactly where you are on the chart.

On Lake Michigan we are so accustomed to the shore running north and south that when leaving New York, we think in terms of going north, but the Sound like Long Island runs east. So watch that compass, allow for deviation, and think in other terms. As we sailed down the shore watching the shoreline through the thick haze, there was a curious dappled appearance along the shore which couldn't be houses or a lot of white posts. In due course we passed Larchmont, one of the greatest centers of small boat racing there is. Looking through binoculars, Skipper exclaimed, "I'll bet there are 150 sailboats out there!" We saw by the paper next day that it was Race week, and there were 472 boats racing in 25 different classes, 155 raced in the morning, 317 in the afternoon. As usual Skipper's estimate was pretty close.

It was Saturday with a nice wind, hot ashore, wonderful on the water, and everyone was out. A pretty sight.

When we reached the markers indicating a turn from the Sound into the Saugatuck River channel, we wondered if we would have any trouble finding the particular club we had been asked to stop at. The entire area was awash with boats, but in the "bay" area were a large proportion of day sailers. Shortly one boat with a couple of men sailed along side, they read the name of the boat and the home port on the Transom—Heather—Holland, Mich., asked how long it took us to get here. We called back, "Five weeks."

"Like it here?" "Yes, fine!" Then, "where is the Saugatuck Harbor Yacht Club?" "Follow the channel up the river to the dridge and turn off there, that's it." We thanked them, then, "We like your boat. Want to trade?" We followed the well marked channel carefully. Every here and there in wide expanses of water we could see rocks barely wash or indications of very shallow water. It was a toruous course so we took down the sails and motored on. Sure enough there was a dredge right next to an entrance to a harbor. We tied up at the end of a floating dock where an attendant assigned us and looked around. This club was so new it was only in its fourth year of

"Cruising Guide to the New England Coast." It was nicer than any place we'd been for a long long time. There were no moorings, all ships on floating docks. These docks float on huge blocks of styrofoam, and they are held in place by collars around pilings. There was electricity and running fresh water on the docks, and we felt at home. We went to the club house and were shown around. It was simple, large, and only a snack bar instead of a dining room. A very nice bath with a tub and shower was appreciated. We liked all the painting on the walls, lots of artists illustrators and cartoonists in this area and in the membership too. For a boat Heather's size we were expected to make a $10 donation.

We phoned Charles Kline, the president of Metropolitan Sunday Newspapers, whose Comics Council had televised an interview with Krieh, that we were there, and he and his wife shortly came down to see us, the boat, and to offer us any help we might need. The help was gladly accepted, a trip to a shopping center a few miles away for supplies. Then they asked us for a back yard barbecue for the following evening and said they'd pick us up.

July 19—That was a busy Sunday afternoon, I phoned Walt and Ann Reed we were there, and they came down to say, "Hello." Walt used to live in the Ada area, and of course, we wanted to see them. Then Bud Sargent, who does the cartoon strip, "Pop Eye" came down with his wife and sister and a son and daughter. And eventually everyone was gone and we left too to go to Klines. We enjoyed this very much. They have a lovely home with about six acres of woodland which sloped down to the river in the rear. The river is pretty small here, but fine for the twins to swim in and fool around with floats. It was a satisfying evening, good food, good company.

July 20—Our next objective was Mystic Seaport, a seaport town recreated on the bank of the river to represent a port of a hundred and fifty years ago. We had a good sail down the Sound again very hazy. The shores seem to be plain jagged if the irregular contour of the land provides good harbors, that's fine, there will be towns. If the irregularities also place around a lot of islands, reefs, rock shallows, they are marked. So we watched our way carefully.

July 22—Arriving at Mystic, we were assigned a dock space and promptly took out a family membership for $15 in the Marine Historical Association. So frequently we have been let down upon close contact with some ballyhoo place. But not Mystic Seaport. Each of us just loved it. There is a winding wharf along the river front with irregular docks jutting out. Some docks are for yachts, some are for historic ships. They have a whaling ship, a square rigged training ship, fishing schomers, and McMillans Bowdoin which he used in his Arctic explorations. Along the waterfront and on the streets behind all of the shops and homes characteristic of the time. These shops are not replicas but the genuine article, sometimes brought from a considerable distance. There is a rope walk, an important item in a sea port. A sail loft, a ship smith, a general store, a tavern, an apothecary, homes, from the fine home of the ship builder, down to fairly simple ones, beautifully furnished with proper gardenias too. And buildings housing many types of marine articles. And so many boats from everywhere so many diverse types. Then too there was a church, and a small chapel also a one room school.

We just loved the place and were in no hurry to move on.

Emphasis on girls at State 4-H clothing projects

Girls, not garments or food products, will get the emphasis in the home economics division of the 49th annual State 4-H Show at Michigan State University, August 31 through Sept. 3.

Instead of displaying clothing or food projects they've completed, the 4-H members will wear garments they have made or participate in an "action" foods and nutrition exhibit.

Instead of a single annual "dress revue," there will be daily revues throughout the show to enable more members to take part in the clothing program. What's more, this new approach enables judges to consider the individual member in relation to the total clothing project—rather than focusing attention on garment construction or clothing selection and modeling.

Twenty-one Kent County girls will participate in State Show activities wearing garments they have sewed or knitted. The Senior Miss girls, 14 years of age and older, will be at State Show for the entire week participating in the daily dress revues. These girls are: Carol Hollemans, Sally Finkbeiner, Caledonia; Birdie Lou Detmers of Lowell; Sue Campau, Ada; Suzanne York, Comstock Park; Pat O'Rourke, Byron Center; Kathy Kellogg, Phyllis VanderLaan, Bette Lou Bosscher, Nancy Warren, Nancy Huizinga, Linda DeGraaf and Barbara Groendyke, Grand Rapids.

The Junior Miss Girls, 12 to 14 years of age, will attend the State Show on Wednesday, September 2. This day will be designed to recognize them for their achievements. They will attend a special clothing-knitting luncheon, attend the educational session that day which features the older delegates, and be guests at a clothing-knitting open house. These girls are: Gail Oele, Belmont; Ruth Van Assen, Judy Robinson, Pat Vandenberg, Lila Warner, Diane Boorsma, Grand Rapids; Sharon Wilyard, Caledonia; and Carol Wittenbach, Lowell.

The foods and nutrition action exhibits will emphasize the "what instead of how?" They are meant to make the audience aware of what the member has been doing and learning in 4-H Club work. The exhibits might take the form of a skit or a display. Six Kent County girls will participate in the foods and nutrition action exhibits on Wednesday, September 2, from 9 a. m. to 11 a. m. in the Union Building at Michigan State University. In the afternoon, they will tour Lansing's Edward W. Sparrow Hospital. There, they will have a chance to see how a large hospital kitchen is operated and hear about careers in hospital food service. They will also be guests at a special new Foods Buffet which will be served at Kellogg Center for 4-H members who take part in the foods and nutrition exhibits. The 4-H'ers from Kent County who will take part in these activities are Pam Hofacker, Kathi DeGenaro, Grand Rapids; Carol Wittenbach, Lynn Wittenbach, Lowell; and Annabelle Armock, Comstock Park.

There will be a Chicken Barbecue on Wednesday at State Show in which members in the Outdoor Meals projects will participate. Kent County's participants in this event will be: Laura Goodall, Belmont; Douglas Barnes, Comstock Park.

The new food and clothing programs are aimed at helping members evaluate their own achievements, according to Amalie Vasold, 4-H program assistant at MSU.

For the second year, two 4-H members from each county will have an opportunity to take part in a home design tour, attend a program at the Detroit Edison Building, and visit the Detroit Institute of Arts, Julie Butler and Linda Hess, both of Alto, will go on this tour. Julie Butler will also take her Home Design project to State Show for evaluation.

Gail Paepke, Rockford, will participate in State Show activities in the "Money in Your Life" project.

New oil furnace

Iron Fireman CUSTOM Mark II oil furnace with instant clean flame. Unequaled for clean comfort, low fuel bills and trouble-free performance

Comfort

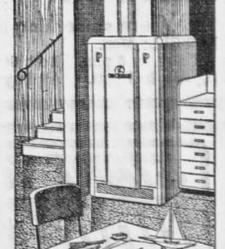

With the Iron Fireman CUSTOM Mark II furnace you use a super-sensitive thermostat which operates the furnace with the slightest variation of room temperature. This gives you remarkably uniform indoor temperature. No matter how often the furnace starts there is no smoke, no soot, no fouled combustion chamber, no wasted oil.

Cleanliness

With the instant clean flame there are no flecks of soot blowing from your chimney or escaping into your home. Hundreds of tests made with smoke-detecting instruments show a flame that's absolutely clean from the very moment it's turned on.

Down go fuel bills

Owners report remarkable fuel savings. There is no smoky warm-up period to foul the furnace and waste oil. Service calls are cut to the vanishing point.

Quiet easy-burning globular flame eliminates blowtorch roar. Fan has resilient mountings to dampen vibration and is sized for large capacity air flow, quiet speeds.

Operates without chimney draft

The CUSTOM Mark II furnace provides its own positive induced draft with precision control. No natural chimney draft required.

Arlene Kilmer becomes bride of Terry L. House

Miss Arlene Frances Kilmer became the bride last Friday evening of Terry Lee House. The ceremony took place in South Methodist Church with Rev. George Beacock officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orval L. Kilmer of 28th Street, S. E., and Mr. and Mrs. Russell House of Montebello Street, S. E., are the parents of the bridegroom.

The bride chose for her wedding a floor-length gown of silk organza and Chantilly lace with tiered bouffant skirt. A crown of sequins and pearls held the veil, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and yellow roses.

Miss Lynn Carlson was the maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Bonnie Retzliff and Mrs. Gordon Kilmer, sister-in-law of the bride. They wore aqua taffeta gowns with matching bow headpieces and carried cascades of carnations, aqua for the maid of honor and yellow for the bridesmaids.

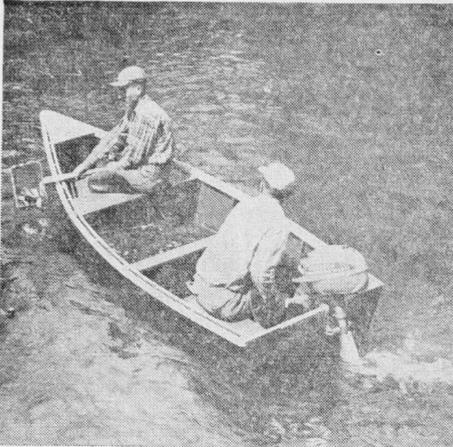

Roxanne Kilmer, niece of the bride, was the flower girl and the ring bearer was Donald Allen Warner, jr., nephew of the bride.

John DenBoer assisted the bridegroom as best man. Us-hers were Gordon Kilmer, brother of the bride, and Norman House, brother of the bridegroom.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors with Mr. and Mrs. Ron House, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom, serving as master and mistress of ceremonies.

The newly weds are on a northern wedding trip.

New Fish Planting Guideline

Once tied to the philosophy that the bigger the plantings the better, the Conservation Department's fish stocking program is being re-gear'd to the potential of waters for supporting fish. In the case of trout, the goal is to keep angling returns on hatchery fish at the present level in spite of planting cutbacks. This is to be done by concentrating plantings as shown here in waters where trout growth and survival is the greatest. Trout lakes are to come in for increased attention under the new plan. Taking a cue from the "single-species" idea of trout-only lakes, fish managers are moving ahead in the same direction with walleyes. Because they often fail to establish "walleye-only" lakes in waters which have had their fish populations removed by chemical treatment. For northern pike, the Department is preserving and improving spawning areas to increase these fish through natural reproduction instead of plantings. Pioneering research is being continued in a bid to make muskellunge stocking pay its way.—Mich. Dept. of Conservation

Fishing contest awards made

The Cascade Thornapple Association announced the winners of its first fishing contest Sunday at the annual river picnic which was blessed with fine weather and a large turnout.

Great fun was had by all—as the woods were filled with the clanging of horse shoes, pitched by the men—and the scent of hamburgers, scorched by the women.

Only two fish were entered in the contest: a 3.88 pound largemouth and a 2.11 pound smallmouth, both of which automatically took first prize in their respective categories.

Both fish were caught by Jack Dean, Burger Drive, S. E. He received a spincast reel and a spinning reel for his angling prowess. No entries were made in the northern pike division.

Interest was slow to develop in the contest announced June 1, but as the deadline neared, and news spread of the two lovely entries, several river residents set out to challenge Jack, but the fish just didn't cooperate.

Next year it is hoped the contest can be enlarged to include more species—and thus more fishermen. Several reported catching whopping catfish, but these were not eligible this year.

Fish caught after the picnic are eligible for awards at next year's picnic, but entries must be made in accordance with contest rules previously mailed to all members. New members and prospective members can obtain the rules by contacting William D. Pullen.

Junior Hereford Assoc. field day at Ada farm, Saturday, Sept. 19

Final plans have been completed for the Michigan Junior Hereford Association annual field day to be held Saturday, September 19, at the Grand Valley Hereford Farm, owned by Frederick Vogt and Fred Dykstra.

The 500-acre farm, located 5 miles north of Ada, on Pettis Road, is the home of 250 registered Hereford cows.

An outstanding program has been arranged that will be both interesting and educational to juniors and adults. All Hereford people in Michigan and surrounding states are cordially invited. County Agents and vocational agriculture instructors are invited to bring as many teams of four and individual judges as they wish. Five classes of Hereford breeding cattle and one of fat steers will be judged in the contest. Numerous bronze engraved trophies, plaques and other awards will be given the winning teams and individuals.

Grand Valley Hereford Farm will be an excellent place for our junior field day, said Richard Byrum, Onondaga, president of the Michigan Junior Hereford Association.

Lucy Dykstra of Ada will present the awards at the conclusion of the day.

Voelker-Barnes rites performed

Dr. Glenn Harris performed the wedding ceremony for Miss Valerie Sue Voelker and Gary Louis Barnes in the First Presbyterian Church of Birmingham last Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Voelker of Bloomfield Village, Birmingham, are the parents of the bride. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Louis F. Barnes of Grand River Drive, N. E.

The bride chose a gown of imported silk organza over taffeta designed with a fitted bodice and chapel train. A cabbage rose of silk organza secured her elbow-length veil of French illusion, and she carried a cascade arrangement of white gladioli and daisies.

Miss Dale Francis Kostere of Birmingham was the honor attendant. She wore a floor-length gown of gold liltique with Dior bow headpiece, and she carried a bouquet of gold and bronze mums and daisies. Wearing identical costumes were Miss Donna Jean Conrad of Birmingham, Mrs. Jesse L. Livermore, III, of Dearborn and Miss Wendy Dee Weidner of Oscoda.

Terry S. McDonald of Detroit assisted as best man, Donald W. Voelker of Birmingham, brother of the bride, Robert K. Martin of Monroe, and Joseph Callahan of Milford seated the guests.

Following a wedding trip to northern Michigan, the couple will live in Mt. Pleasant.

Yield a second, save a life

Have you noticed people being over the center line or straddling a lane, the State Safety Commission asks, jockeying people out of their right-of-way or disregarding stop signs and other traffic controls?

You may see some of them over the Labor Day week end, the Commission says. These are among the "seven deadly signs" cataloged from State Police reports as the cause of traffic tragedies.

Some of these may be self-conscious or unconscious. Mrs. X is a bit afraid of slipping off the edge of the road so she crowds in toward the center. Suddenly she sees some defect in the roadway or a bit of debris some litterbug threw out. She swerves over the line. A small violation perhaps—until she does it suddenly when someone is trying to pass or coming toward her.

Mr. X is a good driver. He gets impatient at all those stop signs, though. Lots of times there isn't a thing in sight. He gets in the habit of what he calls a rolling stop. Now, Mr. X, how can you be rolling and stopping at the same time? One time the glare of the sun or the glare of his wife makes him miss seeing a vehicle approaching on his blind side. Happens all the time.

To some people the yield sign is a synonym for "they shall not pass!" Actually the triangular yellow sign was put there to remind you that there is usually traffic moving on that cross street and the beholder should be prepared to give it the courtesy of free passage. If you are on the through street yourself, it is just as well to remember that a certain percentage of drivers may not believe this wholeheartedly. If too many people don't act civilized about it, the alternative is the less flexible octagonal stop sign that Mr. X too expects to. An even less agreeable alternative is a summons from the courteous gentlemen in the blue or tan coats. They are there to protect you—from yourself.

Arlene Heemstra, Jim Vandenberg exchange vows

Miss Arlene Heemstra and James E. Vandenberg were united in marriage last Thursday evening in a candlelight ceremony at the Ada Christian Reformed Church. The Rev. Sylvester Moths read the ceremony and Rev. Arthur Verburg was the organist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Heemstra of Buttrick Avenue, Ada, and Mr. and Mrs. John D. Vandenberg of Forest Hills Avenue, S. E., are the parents of the bridegroom.

An embroidered inset cummerbund accented the bride's taupe taffeta gown. Her veil fell from a pearl crown, and she carried a dozen long-stemmed red roses.

Blue silk organza and chantilly lace gowns with matching headpieces were worn by the honor attendant Mrs. Thomas Korhorn, and the bridesmaids, the Misses Pamela Runciman and Faith Vandenberg, sister of the bridegroom. The honor attendant and bridesmaids each carried a single long-stemmed red rose, and the junior bridesmaid carried a cluster of red roses and white pompons.

Attending his brother as best man was John Vandenberg, who also ushered with Alan Heemstra, brother of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rozema were master and mistress of ceremonies at the reception in the church parlors.

After a short wedding trip to Niagara Falls, the newlyweds will be at home at 1209 Patterson Avenue.

Local hunters selected for first Elk hunt

Only three from this area were lucky enough to be among the 300 names drawn for the thousands of applications to take part in Michigan's first elk hunt in the upper peninsula on December 5 to 13.

Selected by the data procession machines on August 26 were Albert Zigmont, II, Route 3, Lowell; Richard Schlernitzauer, 514 Monroe Street, Lowell, and Harold Walton, 9462 Whitneyville Road, Alto.

Others in the Forest Hills area drawn were John H. Forshar, 2151 Reeds Lake Blvd., and Henry Tepper, jr., 4360 Burton Street, S. E.

Love making hasn't changed much in 2,500 years, Greek maidens, too, used to sit all evening and listen to a lyre.
