PTA president killed in head-on collision

Donald G. Denison, jr., president of the Parent-Teachers' Association of Ada was killed outright in a head-on crash on M-46, just west of Casnovia, on Saturday night, December 12.

Denison, traveling alone, was returning home after closing the family cottage at White Lake in Muskegon County for the season.

The Denison car collided with an auto driven by Edward W. Windberg, 20, of Ravenna. Windberg is reported in critical condition at Muskegon's Mercy Hospital.

Muskegon County Deputies quoted Windberg as saying the Denison auto crossed the center line.

The 46-year-old Ada resident, 7980 Conservation Road, was secretary-treasurer of the Grand Rapids Casting Company. A sailing enthusiast, he was a member of the White Lake Yacht Club, where he competed in numerous sailing regattas.

Active in township and community affairs, Mr. Denison was a member of the Fountain St. Church.

Memorial services were held Tuesday afternoon in the Fountain Street Church. The Rev. Duncan E. Littlefair was the officiating clergyman.

Mr. Denison is survived by his wife, Elizabeth; 2 daughters, Susan and Anne, both at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. Denison, sr., of Grand Rapids; one sister, Mrs. Paul F. Kemper of Grand Rapids; and one brother, Richard of Winnetka, Illinois.

Christmas parties set for Ada-Thornapple

On Tuesday, December 22, Thornapple School will have its Christmas party at about 2 p. m. The children will have a gift exchange not to exceed 50 cents.

Ada will have its Christmas party the same day, but have decided on a stocking tree. They may bring 50 cents for the purchase of a pair of stockings.

Any mothers who can help with the hot lunch at Thornapple School, please contact Mrs. Sandy Rooker. She needs volunteers in case the regular helpers can't help.

The next regular meeting of the Association will be held on January 26 at 8 p. m. in Ada School with Robert Masten as the speaker.

Special pastor's classes to begin at Eastmont Reformed Church

Sunday, January 3, at 11:20 a. m. a special pastor's class will begin in the Eastmont Reformed Church. This class is designed particularly for those who wish to inquire into the Articles of the Christian Faith.

The class will be informal, encouraging discussion and participation so that questions may be asked and dealt with as they arise.

It is sad but true that far too many know far too little about Christianity, its true meaning, and its actual content. May try to build a certain faith on an uncertain knowledge, or try to trust and rely on something they know little about, and when their faith has crumbled and their trust broken, they blame what they thought was Christianity.

Christ took upon himself the form of a man, and so he understands us. He doesn't expect unreasonable dedication, nor senseless allegiance. He put forth great effort to ground the faith of his disciples in fact by spending 40 days after His resur-

Phone books to be delivered

Michigan Bell Telephone Company starts delivery of new Grand Rapids area telephone directories on Thursday, Dec. 17, announced Berle D. Slack, manager for the company.

Taking at least two weeks, some 240,000 copies will be distributed in Ada, Alto, Byron Center, Caledonia, Dorr, Dutton, Grattan, Hudsonville, Jamestown, Lowell, Marne, Moline, Rockford, Sparta, and Grand Rapids.

When the new directories arrive at the homes or business establishments, Slack said it's a good idea to check the old books to make certain they do not contain valuable family documents.

Slack reminds all Grand Rapids area telephone users that beginning at 8 a. m. December 17 there will be new telephone numbers for time of day and repair service.

He said the new numbers to be dialed will be: time of day, 459-1212, and telephone repair, 459-5141.

Slack said Michigan Bell's service representatives will answer any questions about the new directories, or about information printed inside.

"Providing phone systems tailored to each customer's need is a big part of our service representatives' jobs. However, they also answer all inquiries about equipment, pending orders, charges, and policies.

"These women receive weeks of training to prepare them for their telephone contacts with customers," Slack said, "and, 'continuation training' classes to keep them up to date on charges in the telephone business.

Crash claims businessman, teenager
Tangled wreckage is all that remains of two vehicles that collided head-on, on M-21, just east of Ada, Friday morning, claiming the lives of a Lowell businessman (left), and an Ada teenager (right).

Investigating officers said the accident occurred when John Rutherford, 203 N. Hudson St., Lowell, westbound on M-21, pulled out to pass a school bus, and apparently did not see the oncoming car driven by Edward A. Underhill, 5880 Two Mile Rd., N. E., Ada.

The force of the impact sent the Underhill car off the highway, where it rolled over down an embankment. The Rutherford car spun around, striking the bus.

Both occupants were pronounced dead on arrival at Blodgett Memorial Hospital in Grand Rapids.

Funeral services for the 17-year-old youth were held Tuesday morning, December 15, in Sacred Heart Church, Brown City, Sanilac County. Interment was made in Omard Cemetery, Brown City.

Underhill was a 12th grade student at Lowell High School, and was enroute to classes when the accident happened.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Marguerite Underhill; one sister, Kathleen; and one brother, Thomas, all of the same address.

John Rutherford, 55, president of the Rutherford Canning Co., was a lifelong resident of Lowell.

Born November 3, 1909, the son of the late Lawrence and Isabel Rutherford, John was graduated from Lowell High School in 1927. He took over the presidency of the family business in October of 1960, which manufactured mince meat, and at one time produced canned tomatoes.

His survivors include one brother, Richard of Lowell; two sisters, Mrs. Jean Martin of Grand Rapids and Mrs. Mary Jane Theobald of Northridge, California; two aunts, Miss Belle and Miss Inez Rutherford, both of Lowell, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Roth Funeral Home at 2 o'clock, under the auspices of Lowell Lodge No. 90, F & AM. Burial was made in Oakwood Cemetery.

Operation Santa support excellent

Residents of the Forest Hills vicinity are again displaying a wonderful spirit of cooperation and generosity in making it possible for Operation Santa Claus to reach and care for the less fortunate children and families of this area this coming Christmas holiday.

Thus far, $688.05 has been received on a thousand dollar monetary goal. Generosities in other areas include a large number of stockings, new clothing, and new shoes from a shoe manufacturer.

The traditional Christmas party, in connection with Operation Santa will be held this Saturday, with the Post-Hi young people of Cascade Christian Church in charge of the program and refreshments.

The families to be cared for have been contacted in advance and needs will be taken into consideration as Santa prepares for his annual visit. Most of the families have been recommended to us by the county nurses, and the families are cleared through Central Volunteers to exclude the possibility of duplications by other charitable organizations.

Following the Christmas season, a complete account of children served, funds received, and organizations participating will appear in the Suburban Life. In the meantime, gifts of money, new (or nearly new) articles of clothing, dolls and toys

Extension club

Mrs. Andrew Vander Wal of 32nd Street, SE, entertained the members of the Town and Country Extension Club at her home on December 8 for their annual Christmas gathering.

Mrs. Dave Dewesse, Mrs. Andrew Post and Mrs. William Hunefeld were the co-hostesses.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. William Hunefeld on 28th Street, SE, on January 19.

Family night carol

Mr. and Mrs. Herald Waldron of 5850 Hall St., SE, are to be the hosts for Mrs. Waldron's family in their annual traditional Family Carol Night. Following a buffet supper, there will be the singing of Christmas carols.

The guests will include Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor and family, Mrs. John Smith, Miss June Semeyn, and the Rev. and Mrs. Raymond Gaylord and children.

Cut down death rate

With Michigan near the end of one of its worst years for traffic deaths, Commissioner Joseph A. Childs is appealing for all-out driver and pedestrian cooperation in good safety practices to help special State Police patrols hold down accidents over the 78-hour Christmas and New Year holiday weekends.

The 33 persons killed in the two 30-hour periods a year ago, 17 at Christmas, 16 at New Year's, gave Michigan two of the highest hourly death rates for these holidays in recent years.

The Christmas rate of one death every hour and 48 minutes was topped only by that of 1955 when 50 were killed in 78 hours, an average of a fatality every one and a half hours.

The New Year rate of one death every hour and 52 minutes topped the previous high mark of 1959-60 when 36 were killed in 78 hours, an average of one death every two hours and 12 minutes.

Records show average tolls for the last five 78-hour holiday periods are 35 for Christmas and 18 for New Year's.

State Police patrols will be in effect on the Christmas weekend from noon Thursday, December 24, to midnight, Saturday December 27, and for the New Year period from noon Thursday, December 31, to midnight Sunday, January 3.

Maximum patrol coverage will be provided from 1 to at least 9 p. m. each day. Principal attention will be devoted to state trunkline highways and primary county roads having high accident experience and high traffic volume.

Detectives where available will take over desk assignments to relieve uniform officers for patrols.

Patrol officers have been instructed to be especially alert for persons driving under the influence of intoxicating liquors because of the high incidence of drinking during these holidays.

Assisting the State Police will be 106 members of the Michigan National Guard who will serve as second men on two-man patrols or on point control.

Leave Christmas tree lights burning only when someone is at home.

Patsy Wierenga Roger A. Berends married Friday

Allendale Reformed Church was the scene of the wedding last Friday evening of Miss Patsy Ann Wierenga and Roger Alan Berends, Rev. DeJong officiated at the service.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wierenga of Allendale, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Berends of Ada are the parents of the bridegroom.

An organza gown trimmed with Venise lace appliques around the square neckline and full length skirt was worn by the bride. A double crown of crystals and pearls secured her bouffant elbow-length veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. William Ruthven of Jamison, the bride's sister, wore a red brocade floor-length gown, as matron of honor. She wore a silver circular headpiece with red veiling, and she carried a bouquet of red and white silver-trimmed carnations.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Rudy O'Patik and Miss Lyla Berends of Ada, sisters of the bridegroom, Miss Diane Ruthven of Jamison was junior bridesmaid. Their gowns were identical with the matron of honor's.

Flower girl was Beth Ann Wierenga and Kurt Vander Molen was ringbearer.

The bridegroom's best man was Mr. O'Patik, the bride's brother, Robert Vander Molen, the bridegroom's brother-in-law, and Thomas Dewey were the ushers.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Overmyer presided at the reception which followed at the Allendale Township Hall.

Following their honeymoon, the couple will make their home at 619 E. Fulton Street, Grand Rapids.

Business education?

Can a woman of 40 find success and happiness in the world of work?

Would an employer hire a young girl just out of high school, or a woman of 40, who has her children through high school, for a position as a secretary? Who would you hire?

Would you hire a girl just out of high school for this position if you thought that she might stay just long enough to earn enough money to go to college? Would you hire a girl just out of college for this position? She will probably get married in a short time and start a family of her own. There goes that employee.

But, what about that woman of 40. Her children are already through high school. If she has the talent, you could hire her because she could work for you for the next 20 to 25 years.

This little tale brings me to this point. Our school has some of the nicest facilities there are available in typewriters, and a limited number of office machines. I wonder if it would be worthwhile to offer adult business education in the evening to those people who are ready to go back to work again and need to brush up on their typing, shorthand, transcription, etcetera.

I wonder if those people who are presently employed in office work would be interested in coming back to school to improve their skills, if they need it, so that they can get that promotion when it comes around?

I wonder what the people of our community would like to know about the business education program we offer.

Robert W. Ross, retired CPA, succumbs at 54

Rev. Edward A. Brigham, pastor of Eastminster Presbyterian Church, officiated at the funeral services at Metcalf Funeral home last Saturday for Robert W. Ross, aged 54. Mr. Ross, who retired last October because of ill health, died of cancer on December 8 at his home, 8897 Vergennes Road, SE.

Born in Jennings, Mr. Ross came to Grand Rapids in 1946 from Detroit.

As a licensed certified public accountant the last 12 years, he was associated with Lawrence Scudder and Company, was privately employed, and then became a partner in Ross, Schellenberg and Carter, predecessors of Schellenberg and Kregl.

Mr. Ross was a charter member of the Thornapple Valley Lions Club, a member of Eastminster Presbyterian Church, Elks Lodge No. 48, Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants and American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

Surviving Mr. Ross are his wife, Frances; his mother, Mrs. Robert L. Ross of Lansing, 3 sisters, Mrs. Harold (Eva) Crawford of Beaverton and Mrs. Loy (Margaret) Whitehead and Mrs. Dorothy Smith of Lansing; and several nieces and nephews.

Burial was in Chapel Hill Memorial Gardens.

Baptist Church will present a yule program

The Eastmont Baptist Church will present its annual Sunday School Christmas Program on Sunday, December 20, at 7 p. m.

The program entitled "The Characters of Christmas Speak" consists of shadowgraph scenes from the nativity, supported by narration and background music. Interspersed are interludes of appropriate recitations and songs presented by departmental groups. Beginning with the Christmas Story, the program moves on to the message of the Cross, the meaning of which is interpreted by brief sketches of the conversation experiences of Fanny Crosby, J. Hudson Taylor and George Mueller. The program closes by emphasizing the need for dedication on the part of believers.

The program is under the direction of Mrs. Richard Hawks, Mrs. Doug Gardner, Mrs. Earl Crystal and with the cooperation of the Sunday School Department.

Everyone in the community is cordially invited to share the evening with us. A nursery will be provided for babies and small children.

A place for everything and everything in its place. Make adequate storage available for all Christmas gifts. It will prevent a home accident.

Cub Scout pack receive awards

At a recent meeting of Cub Scout Pack 3284 in Collins School, Den 9 opened the meeting by leading with the flag ceremony.

The five new members of Den 9 who received their Bobcat Pins included Randy Acker, David Banta, Ted Banta, Tom Clark and Jeff Kimble.

Ralph Kimble, a third-year Cub Scout, received his Denner Bar. A Wolf Badge was also presented to Jeff Kimble.

The project of the month for Den 9 was on the subject of "genius." They built and had on display a sea chopper (Helicopter). Mrs. Virgil Kimble is the Den Mother.

Far East foods topic of extension meeting

The Thornapple Home Economic Extension group's meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Herman Stukkie of Ada.

The topic, highlighting the meeting, was "Foods of the Far East." The lesson was given by Mrs. Laurence Scott and Mrs. Marinus DeGood.

Interesting facts on what our friends and relatives are eating in other lands was brought out, and the strengthening of world ties was a major factor.

The Christmas party for the extension group will be held at the home of Mrs. Peter Paap.

There's a lot more to winterizing your car than just pouring a can of anti-freeze in the radiator!

Better bring your car in pronto and let us check the cooling system (won't cost you a red cent) then, if needed, we'll drain and flush the radiator, replace bad radiator or heater hoses and install the right amount of Texaco anti-freeze to protect you to just what you want. Your car will go smilin' through winter.

December Grouse Hunting

Another month of sport is in store for southern Michigan's ruffed grouse hunters, thanks to a law passed this year by the State Legislature. After a 16-day layoff during the firearm deer season, grouse shooting re-opens Dec. 1 and lasts until 1964 bows out. If there's little or no snow, southern sportsmen could enjoy their best hunting of the season. Compared with earlier outings, conditions afield will be cooler, quieter, and better for dogs to pick up the scent of birds during December. More than a foot or so of snow would add a real challenge to the staunchest of hunters. It would send the birds into the densest brush or evergreen trees. Snow or no snow, sportsmen will still have to "bust the brush" for action. Conservation Department game men would like to get a reading on shooting and flushing success during the December hunt. If you want to help them, write the Department's game section in Lansing for instructions and tips on best hunting areas. Mich. Dept. of Conservation

What's cookin'

Christmas is an international holiday and many of its favored traditions have been passed down through generations and trace their origin to many countries represented in this area. By careful planning and advance preparation, homemakers can avoid the last minute frantic rush and enjoy every moment of the holidays with your families.

Fruit Cake

- 1 lb. pitted dates
- 4 c. broken pecan meats
- 2 c. broken walnut meats
- 1 lb. glazed fruit and peels
- 1 lb. white raisins
- 1/2 lb. dark raisins
- 1/2 lb. white glazed cherries
- 1 4-oz. can coconut

- 7 c. flour
- 2 tsp. baking powder
- 2 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 1 tsp. nutmeg
- 1 tsp. ginger
- 4 c. sugar

- 1 lb. butter or margarine
- 1 doz. eggs
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 1 c. fruit juice (preferably orange juice)

Combine fruits, nuts and coconut in bowl and set aside. Combine flour, baking powder, salt and spices and set aside. Cream butter and sugar. Beat in eggs individually. Add vanilla and juice. Pour creamed mixture, one cup at a time until all is blended well. Add the fruit, nut mixture to the batter, one cup at a time. Blend thoroughly after each addition.

Line two angel cake pans with foil, so that none of the batter touches the pan. Divide the batter evenly and bake in a 300 degree oven for two or two and a half hours. Remove foil wrapped cake from pans immediately, add several slices of raw apple to top of cake and cover with additional foil to seal air tight. Cool cake for 6 to 8 hours, then remove and discard apple slices. Again wrap cake with foil to keep it air tight and store until ready to use. If desired pour about half a cup of brandy over each cake when apples are removed.

If you have a favorite recipe you would like to pass on to our readers, send it today to What's Cookin', Box 128, Lowell, Michigan.

Help to build a better tomorrow

Since my arrival in Europe, I have traveled thousands of miles through many countries, seeing the beautiful and interesting sites, experiencing new and unforgettable experiences. I believe of greatest value is the gain towards a better understanding and fuller knowledge of the people and their world. Also making new friends is one of the important parts of the trip.

I began in Munich, Germany, which is the capital of Bavaria. Here and in Tirol, Austria, a great part of my trip was spent. Bavaria is unique from the rest of Germany. Bavarian people are more carefree and merry in contrast to the industrial, serious minded Germans of the other regions. They live from day to day and are great beer hall lovers. The people of Northern Germany claim Bavaria isn't a part of their fast growing country, but the Bavarian reply always comes back 'that's ok as long as we enjoy our fun, we don't care if we ever are a part.'

The country side of both Tirol and Bavaria are the most picturesque in Europe. From the colorful, small villages in the valleys, to the beautiful green mountain side farms, to the magnificent snow-capped Alps, the beauty can hardly be described. When you first see these things, it almost seems like you're in dreamland.

While touring Austria, I stopped at Innsbruck to look around the 1964 Winter Olympic site. Just seeing the different areas, one can hardly imagine how exciting the winter games would have been. While viewing the ski jump, I thought to myself how lucky I was that our water ski jump was a mere 6 foot high.

On the way to Switzerland, passed through a small country of Liechtenstein. The population listed at 15,000 and main activity of stamp collecting? Switzerland is another very scenic country. I particularly liked the region along Lake Zurich and Lake Geneva. Once in a 25 year event, the Swiss National Exhibition was held this year in Luusanne.

The Fair's large display area covered hundreds of acres along Lake Geneva. It was very similar to our NY World's Fair, but enjoyed it even more since it displayed the history and actual progress of the people. Their displays featured everything from toys, women's fashions, new hydrofoil boats to restaurants, arts, and banking. Two especially interesting exhibitions were a complete saw mill and dairy company (from the plowed fields to producing ice cream and butter).

The country of France didn't particularly appeal to me, with the exception of Paris and the countryside in the southern part. The combination of the high cost and the poor attitude of the makes even the European stay French people towards travelers, out of France. I might add here that basically the price of things and living in Europe, is the same as the US. France is a little higher; Germany, Belgium, Holland and Switzerland about the same or slightly lower; Spain, Monaco and Italy are quite a bit lower. The great difference is the people don't earn near the salaries.

On the way to Italy, I spent a day in Monaco. The city of Monte Carlo is situated over a mountain side with the Palace of Princess Grace in the center, overlooking the Mediterranean. Italy is quite different from other countries. Almost the entire country is covered with vineyards. The cities of Florence, Pisa, Rome and Venice were of special interest. These societies were built and filled with statues, monuments, fountains, art masterpieces and fabulous buildings long before America was even discovered. I had the opportunity at Vatican City in Rome to attend a closed service in Saint Peter's Basilica with Pope Paul. The massive basilica is the most magnificent work of interior structure and art, I have ever seen. Like every tourist, the Leaning Tower in Pisa is a must. Venice, the city of canals, caught my eye. It stands on 16 islands and travel is by boat only—whether it's a grave stone or Coca Cola.

Then on my way through the Bremer Pass and Austria up to Northern German. Here I visited Mike Herwig, Peter Kahle, and Peter Berger (three of our past exchange students). This was the highlight of my whole trip. I had the chance to live in their homes, meet their friends, see their towns and to see their daily life. Mike's city of Essen was of great interest—mainly because very few tourists ever visit the industrial town. A place like this, you can really get to see the true people and their reaction to me—an American and how they view American. Different friends of Herwig's, invited me to their homes, concerts, to your museums, and I even had the opportunity to spend a day in a coal mine. When I first arrived, Mike mentioned he didn't know what we were going to see because there just wasn't anything, but I know when I left he saw more of his city than he had in the last year.

Kahle's live in a seaport town of Bremerhaven. They operate and own two drugstores there, which gave me an excellent change to study the business and commercial trade. I spent a couple days down at the docks watching shipping and the building at the drydocks. Here, as in Essen and also a few other towns, I attended school. This was very interesting to compare our system with theirs. The English classes were always the funniest. All the teachers wanted me to instruct but they learn English English and I spoke American English so most often there were quite a number of blank looks. My last visit was with Peter Berger. He lives in a small town about the size of Lowell called Lehrta. It's located in the heart of sugar beet country, and before Germany was divided, was the railroad center. Especially interesting, he and his sister took me on a tour of Hannover. This 'city of the forests' is very colorful and filled with parks, lakes and beautiful trees.

All three families were so wonderful and did so much for me, it was hard to say thanks. From the moment the door opened til goodbye was said, the warm atmosphere and friendly smiles were always greeting me. To a great extent, they wanted to show their appreciation for all the things given by our community to their son. As this plainly shows, you and I are helping to build a better tomorrow.

Sincerely,
Wendell Christoff

Where Is The Peace?

Is it a farce? All this to-do, at Christmas time, about "Peace on earth", is it just wishful talk? An annual repetition of a dream that never comes true? Almost two thousand years have gone by since Jesus was born; where is the peace He was supposed to bring? The world was never more uneasy and never closer to all-out war than it is today.

Yet I dare say that there is more peace in the world today than there was two thousand years ago. But you have to look for it within human hearts. Millions of hearts now have the peace of God, "the peace that passeth all understanding" (Phil. 4:6, 7). That is the peace Jesus came to establish, and all the troubles of the world cannot drown it out.

Peace HAS to begin in the heart. If it isn't there, we will never have it. War and all other kinds of trouble begin there, too. So the only way to attain the peace we long for and sing about is by way of faith which opens the door of the heart to Jesus. The love of God, which He revealed by sending Jesus to live and die for us, will crowd out hatred and envy and greed. Love, joy and peace will take possession.

Oh, it's wonderful to be a Christian at Christmas time, and have the peace we hear about and sing about! M. Schoolland
