New club formed . . .

Horseshoe pitching events slated to be held in Ada; league formed

The Covered Bridge Horseshoe Club set the wheels in motion for the 1966 season recently, by planning a handicap league for each of the following Western Michigan communities: Ada, Sparta, Muskegon, Byron Center, Grandville, and possibly Howard City and Reed City.

All members of the club will be eligible to participate in any or all of the various leagues.

The Ada courts will have their club event each Tuesday evening beginning May 3rd, although league games may be played on any other week day evening, if desired.

All WSHPA (Wolverine State Horseshoe Pitching Association) sanctioned play for the Western Michigan area will be held at the Ada and Byron Center courts.

The WSHPA will hold an open tournament at Ada on Saturday, May 14, beginning at 10 a. m. This will be the first state-wide event to be held at the local courts.

The Michigan Seniors Championships have been scheduled for the Ada courts for July 16. Players who have attained the age of 60 years are eligible for this tournament. Several of these old-timers are well over 75 years of age and a couple who are over the 80 mark are expected to be on hand.

The local horseshoe pitching enthusiasts hope to make the Michigan Seniors Championships, an annual fixture at the Ada courts. Several former Michigan residents, who have migrated to warmer climates since retirement, will make the long journey to Ada for a chance at this championship.

The Byron Center tournament will be a novel husband and wife mixed doubles event that is scheduled for July 17. Anyone desiring to participate in the handicap events are asked to contact Ruth Hammond, 676-5136.

The newly elected officers of the Covered Bridge Club are Menzo (Beau) Brummel, Grand Rapids, president; Donald Willison, Howard City, vice-president; and Eugene Poulias, Ada, secretary and treasurer.

Get permits to burn trash

Now that Spring is in the air everyone is anxious to get that yard & surrounding field cleaned up for Spring.

Just remember if you want a nice yard and field for Spring you can't obtain it by carelessly burning off trash and underbrush. Be sure to get your burning permits, watch the wind direction and be sure to have sand or water on hand in case a sudden gust of wind comes up and your fire gets out of control.

Burning permits are required. The residents of Cascade may obtain them from Dykhouse and Buys, Cascade Road and Thornapple River Drive.

Ada residents may obtain a permit from Howard Butts, fire chief, or at the Ada Hardware Store, Ada Drive.

The volunteer firemen have made several runs for grass fires in the past week.

Cascade Fire Department had a very large grass fire last Thursday at Snow Avenue and 52nd Street. Thirty acres of land burned. Other runs were made to 28th Street, 48th Street and Buttrick Road. They answered a call on Sheffield Drive when a fire was reported. This was not out of control, but burning was going on without a permit. Had a permit been issued, they would not have had to make this run.

The Ada Volunteer Fire Department made two runs last week, one on Conservation Rd., and one on Crampton Avenue.

The fire departments urge everyone burning to use extreme caution when burning & recommend early morning or early evening as the best time to burn when the wind is most likely to be at a minimum.

Snoring can be sign of serious health problems

Are you listening to a monosonorous nocturnal cantata at your house these days? Well, if you are, I'm pretty sure you're not enjoying it.

If you haven't guessed already, the impressive name simply means snoring, a common malady that affects an estimated 23,000,000 folks in the United States. Although snoring and snorers have been the butt of jokes for years, people who have chronic sufferers in the family don't think it's funny at all.

The snorer's doctor doesn't think it's much of a joke, either. Snoring can be a sign of more serious health problems, and can actually furnish some important clues to the person's general health. For instance, a child that snores may have enlarged adenoids or tonsils, or an allergy condition.

Snoring can also be an indication that you are smoking too much or that you are overweight and should be cutting your calorie intake. It may mean that you are working too hard, and are over-tired—or in some cases, it might point to a deterioration of general health. All these things, and more, can affect the tone of the tissues in the throat and result in snoring.

Now, why do people snore? Well, snoring is generated while breathing in or out during sleep by several structures in our noses and throats. These sounds are usually due to vibrations in the soft palate and other soft structures of the throat while breating. The frequency of the vibrations and the tone quality of the snore depends on the size, density and the elasticity of the affected tissues upon the force of the air flowing through them.

As well as being a possible forerunner of more serious physical health conditions, snoring can be a serious health problem in the area of emotional health. Here, snoring becomes a psychological problem for the innocent victim who must listen to the miscellaneous sounds that emit from a snorer's wide opened mouth.

Is snoring a hopeless condition you must learn to live with? No. many folks have been helped and others cured. In the case of children with enlarged adenoids and tonsils, removal of the offending glands will cure the child of snoring. Sometimes, surgery can help remove an obstruction in the blocked nose which has caused mouth breathing and snoring.

In some cases, special medicine can be prescribed to bring relief to a person suffering nasal congestion caused by a cold, sinus trouble, hay fever, and asthma.

In still other instances, persons have been cured of snoring by being taught to sleep on their sides or stomachs instead of on their backs, which seems to set off the snoring onslaught.

My general advice is this—if you have a snorer in your family, and the usual home remedies don't work, you should see that he or she gets to your doctor for a check up.

What's cookin'

The aroma of Apple Bread baking in the oven will whet any appetite. This is an ideal recipe to serve often with a meal or as a snack with coffee or milk when friends or family drop in.

The topping forms a glaze on the loaf as it bakes. The recipe can be doubled and one loaf stored in the freezer to have on hand when needed.

It is delicious served with butter or cheese spread, although many prefer the plain bread.

Apple Bread

½ c. margarine
1 c. sugar
2 eggs, beaten
½ tsp. salt
1 tsp. soda
1 tsp. vinegar
1 tsp. vanilla
2 Tbsp. milk
2 c. flour
2 c. apples, diced

Cream the margarine and sugar, add the rest of the ingredients and mix thoroughly and pour in a greased bread pan.

2 Tbsp. soft margarine
2 Tbsp. sugar
2 Tbsp. flour
1 tsp. cinnamon

Mix the topping ingredients and spread over the top of the batter.

Bake at 325 degrees for one hour.

Old Fashioned Southern Cake

The traditional "pork butchering" time provides the occasion to bake fruity old fashioned Southern Cake.

The cake is dark and spicy, similar in texture to fruit cake and stays moist for several days when wrapped in foil.

It may be frozen and thawed at room temperature, the taste and texture remain the same as when it was freshly baked.

Some family members may prefer a thin powdered sugar icing or a sauce over it, however, it is delicious served plain.

1 lb. pork sausage
1 lb. brown sugar
15 oz. pkg. raisins
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 c. chopped nutmeats
3 c. flour
1 tsp. each: salt, soda, baking powder, cloves, cinnamon, allspice and nutmeg

Cover raisins with water in a saucepan and cook for ten minutes. Drain juice off, reserving 1 cup.

Dissolve sausage with the 1 cup of juice, add brown sugar and eggs. Sift ingredients together and add to meat mixture. Add raisins and nutmeats. Mix well.

Grease and lightly dust with flour an angel food cake pan or 9 x 13" loaf pan. Pour batter in pan and bake at 350 degrees for one hour or until the cake pulls away from sides of pan.

Mockery

During the trial of the Lord Jesus Christ men revealed their attitude toward Him. In sharp contrast to the weeping of the daughters of Jerusalem was the terrible mockery of the Roman soldiers. Mockery means to make someone a subject of laughter, derision, or sport. The Roman soldiers mocked Jesus by making fun of His kingship. "They stripped him, and put on him a scarlet robe. And they plaited a crown of thorns and put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand; and they kneeled down before him, and mocked him, saying, Hail, King of the Jews!" Matthew 27:27-29. The soldiers made Jesus an object of ridicule. They had fun at his expense. In the Phillips translation we read: "And when they had finished their fun, they stripped the cloak off again, put his own clothes upon him and led him off for crucifixion." Matthew 27:31.

People are still revealing their attitude to Jesus Christ in the way of mockery. Whenever men make light of the claims of Jesus Christ, and act as if Christianity is something that is not worth considering over against the vast power systems of our twentieth century, they are thinking of Christ in essentially the same manner as the Roman soldiers. Of Herod we read that he with his soldiers "set him at nought, and mocked him."

What is Jesus to you? He is either nothing or everything!

Exchange students to speak

Diego Vegas and Horcio Percossi, exchange students at Forest Hills High School, will present the program at the regular Pilgrim Fellowship meeting on Sunday, March 27, at 4 p. m. in Fellowship Hall, Ada Congregational Church.

Diego, who is staying with the Harry Bowles family is one of the youngest students in the exchange program, he is 15-years-old.

He will tell of the history, schools, etc., of his homeland, Montevideo, the Capital city of Uruguay.

Horcio, who makes his home with the Cecil Houghton's is from Buenos Aires, Argentina. He will also tell of his people and how they live.

He is amazed at the lack of real poverty in this country, and is impressed by the informality of our people.

The Pilgrim Fellowship group from the Lowell Congregational Church will join the Ada PF and all interested high school students in hearing the two guest speakers.

The PF also wish residents of Ada and the Thornapple River area to save newspapers and magazines for their paper drive. They will be picked up on Saturday, April 2.

at Ada Town Hall—1:00 p. m.

FOR THE PURPOSE OF TRANSACTING SUCH BUSINESS AS SHALL PROPERLY COME BEFORE THE MEETING

A Public Hearing will be held on the Township BUDGET for the coming year

NEW MICHIGAN LAW, AMENDMENT PASSED IN 1956, REQUIRES:

(Compiled Laws—168.361. Act 104A Section 361) Townships, Annual Meetings, Time, Notice, Abolition—There shall be an annual meeting of the electors of each township on the Saturday preceding the first Monday in April of each year, between 1 o'clock and 8 o'clock p. m.; the time and place of such meeting shall be determined by the township board. The township clerk shall, at least 14 days but not more than 20 days before each such township meeting, post in at least 3 conspicious places in each precinct and publish at least twice in a newspaper of general circulation in the township, a notice designating the date, time and place such meeting shall be held.

the Cracker barrel

When Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bates decided to build their new home on the Thornapple River, Mrs. Bates made certain that her architect planned a space in the kitchen for her stand-up desk. This is an old piece, one of many which she has collected over the years.

Antique fanciers would find a wealth of collector's items there. The desk, for instance, is a tilt-top type with six carved pigeon holes for storage above, two drawers and a cupboard below. The original drawer pulls are still there and Mrs. Bates had them matched for the rest of the cupboards in her kitchen.

One of the prize possessions of the family is the Grandfather clock that stands in their living room. This magnificent piece was made by Jonathan Blasdel of Amesbury who lived between 1678-1748. The original rope pulls are still in the clock. These ropes were made of long pieces of string wound together by other thin pieces of string until a rope the thickness of a modern day clothes line was created. Whenever the clock needed repair, the jeweler wrote his name and the date inside of the door and although it is now in good working order, the Bates' do not keep it running because with each passing year it becomes more precious.

Also featured in their living room is the large gun table. Mr. Bates discovered a huge blacksmith's bellows in Wisconsin and brought it back here where he had it converted into a table that measures almost eight feet long and three and a half feet wide. In the center under plate glass he keeps his unusual collection of guns all marked with plaques describing each piece.

These hand guns illustrate the various types of ignition systems developed over the centuries. The earliest type, the hand cannon was succeeded by the matchlock, wheellock, snap hammer, Miquelet, flintlock, percussion, volcanic, and the modern cartridge gun. Mr. Bates has one of each type, some of which are extremely rare.

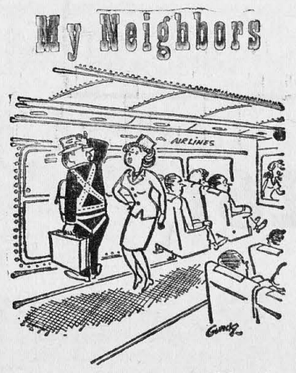
An old iron chandelier now in use by the Bates' has a wax pot in the center. This was the container into which the old stubs of candles were thrown wherever they burned too low. When enough stubs were in the pot, new candles were made from the remains.

Mrs. Bates has a candle mold and a collection of pewter plates, bowls, and mugs which she displays on the mantle. She also has a fine set of Spode china complete for four persons. She acquired it all except for the tea cups which must have been broken over the years. Her problem then was to replace these cups. It took some doing, but finally the plant in England did reproduce them by hand for her.

An old rope bed about three-quarter width size is Mrs. Bates' latest purchase. She plans to strip and refinish it so that it will be usable. Almost all of their antiques are either in use or on display throughout the house. A small favorite footstool which she has used for years needed a new cover so Mrs. Bates has just finished making a needlepoint piece for it. But she retained the material for the body of it, it is horsehair.

Certainly one of the enjoyable collectors' items is the large cylinder-type music box inlaid with a design made from different kinds of wood which is in their dining room. This was imported from Switzerland and was probably made in the late 1800's.

Although the Bates' home is a new one, an old world atmosphere predominates and for the visitor who delights in seeing their antiques, there is a plethora of material.



"Open up—I saw this picture—"

Few events begin on time and none ends on time, except via radio and television.

Twenty-five of our 50 states have parts of their area extending to sea level. Two, California and Louisana, have areas extending below sea level.

Local college hope for many jobless grads

The frustration of being denied admission to college and at the same time being ill-prepared to enter the world of work is one which thousands of "middle level" high school graduates are experiencing today," says Norman C. Harris, University of Michigan professor of technical education.

"In many states these youth have no resources but to remain unemployed, join the armed forces, or gradually infiltrate the labor force through part-time, pick-up jobs, says Harris.

He points out that in many Michigan communities, however, such youth have a much more acceptable alternative—further education at the local community college.

"Some of this 'middle group' may eventually move on to a four-year college and a baccalaureate degree. But most of them are best suited to community college occupational education programs.

"Tuition is low at Michigan's community colleges, most high school graduates are acceptable for entrance, and community colleges are rapidly increasing in numbers so that soon the youth of most areas of the state will have ready access to post-high school occupational education," Harris says.

He cites three troublesome factors in this otherwise favorable picture:

1. Most of these youth have little if any real understanding of the career opportunities available to them in the semi-professional and technical occupations
2. Most of these youth are not adequately prepared to enroll in and succeed with college-level technical studies;
3. Many youth (perhaps a third of the graduates of Michigan high schools each year) even though they completed a college-prep curriculum with a C average or less, still think of themselves as baccalaureate degree aspirants. With their parents as willimg accomplices, they insist on enrolling in university-parallel curriculums in community colleges even when all the facts (high school grades, standardized test scores) indicate that an associate degree objective would be a far wiser choice.

Harris points out that sociological pressures—lack of interest in non-professional jobs in educational programs—are in some ways at loggerheads with technological developments.

"Community college occupational education programs are thus trapped in the middle of a 'squeeze play' between these two contending forces," he says. The escape from the trap will involve two major moves:

1. Widespread dissemination of information about middle the working conditions and the salary or wage income, to young people and their parents, and
2. Re-structuring of the high school courses and counseling services so that it becomes possible for the student to see that there are other concepts of community college education and training than the traditional baccalaureate degree programs.

Miss Postema, J. C. Sweeris exchange vows

Friday evening, March 18, at 8 o'clock, Miss Patricia A. Postema, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Postema of 5900 Hall Street, SE, and Jack C. Sweeris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sweeris of 1980 Knapp Street, exchanged their wedding vows at the Cascade Christian Reformed Church. The Reverend John Guichelaar performed the ceremony.

The bride, escorted to the alter by her father, wore a floor-length gown of chipped imported chantilly lace with a fitted bodice, featuring a scoop neckline and long tapered sleeves. The full skirt was enhanced by layers of lace that feel into a chapel train. Miss Postema wore a waterfall princess crown of pearls and aurora crystals and her bouffant veil was of imported illusion. She carried a cascading bouquet of white jack frost roses, miniature carnations and hyacinth with ivy.

Kathryn J. Postema, sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor. She chose a street-length dress of rose brocade in emerald green, fashioned with a fitted bodice and a bell skirt with a bow in the back. Her headpiece was a crown of matching color with bouffant veiling, and she carried a cascading bouquet of white gardenias and ivy.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Cheryl Postema of Muskegon, sister-in-law of the bride. She chose a dress of emerald green and royal blue, identical in style with the Maid of Honor's with matching head piece and floral piece.

The bridesmaids were Charlene and Janice Suttorp, cousins of the groom. The junior bridesmaid was Mary Postema, sister of the bride.

They wore gowns similar to the senior attendents, royal blue in color with matching headpieces and carried cascading bouquets of white gardenias and ivy.

The miniature bride, Cindy Kay Klinge of Middleville, cousin of the bride, wore a floor-length gown of white satin with attached train and a crown of pearls and sequins with bouffant veiling. She carried a miniature of the bride's bouquet.

The flower girls were Pattie Lynn of Muskegon, niece of the bride, and Christie Klinge of Middleville, a cousin.

The miniature groom was Ronald Klinge of Middleville, cousin of the bride.

The bestman was James Val Dalsen, a friend of the groom. Jack, Robert and David Postema, brothers of the bride, and Charles Sweeris, cousin of the groom, acted as ushers.

A reception followed immediately after the wedding ceremony in the church parlors.

Master and mistress of ceremonies were Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Cooley of Middleville, cousins of the groom.

After a northern honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Sweeris will reside at 156 Coit Avenue, Grand Rapids.

Hold in-service teacher program

Through the efforts of Mrs. Marian Dygert, Kent County Curriculum Consultant, two class demonstration lessons and conferences in news reading will be held in the Forest Hills Elementary Schools on Thursday, March 31, as part of the in-service training program for teachers.

Demonstrations for grades kindergarten through third will be held at Orchard View School in the morning, while those for grades four through six will be held at the Collins School in the afternoon.

Schools outside the consolidation and adjacent areas have been invited to send representatives.

Miss Mary Ann Schuette, consultant for American Education Publications, Inc., Middletown, Connecticut, will conduct the demonstrations. She received her B. S. in Elementary Education and her M. A. in Curriculum and Instruction having done her graduate work in reading at the University of Minnesota.

Her services have been made available by "My Weekly Reader" series, "Current Events," and "Read Magazine."

This service is offered without charge or obligation to public, parochial and private school systems as well as to colleges and universities preparing students for the teaching profession.

Today, for millions of Americans, the newspaper is virtually the sole source of printed information. Therefore, children need to learn how to read a newspaper. One, written on their level with their interests in mind, keeps them abreast of world events of consequence to them and establishes the habit of being an informed citizen.

Mrs. Henricks, Forest Hills Elementary Coordinator, is in charge of local arrangements.

"Clean Heat"

Quite a large number of people have what amounts to a complete misconception about the relationship between a heating system and dirt and dust in the home.

The facts are that all modern heating systems, oil, gas and electricity—are clean, and that the fuel used has no connection whatever with interior dirt, streaking, wall film, etc.

In the case of oil heat, for example, the combustion chamber and flue system are air-tight. The flow of air into the combustion chamber is fan-supported; it cannot back up. Combustion products must go up and out the top of the flue. They cannot escape and become part of the warm air that a furnace circulates through the home to provide heat, nor can they escape from the heating plant itself.

Exhibit winning photography entries

Five of the six entries were taken specifically for company literature and package labels under LeRue Durrwachter's direction. Durrwachter is Amway's Marketing Director.

Long a believer in clear, graphic photographs and lots of them in all company communication, Durrwachter has built up one of the most complete photo studios, for its size, in the state.

Restore chapel; Hayes donate antique clock

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hayes has presented a gift of an antique clock to be used in the chapel as part of its restoration program, at the Cascade Christian Church.

All of one hundred and fifty years old, the clock was originally manufactured in Bristol, Conn. It runs with weights. Needless to ay, this is a collector's gem, to be added to the many gifts already made available to the church. The chapel, when completed, will be another added link to the past of the area.

Already many couples are expressing their desire to be married in the quaint chapel of a past era.

Harvey Comrie and his many volunteer helpers are doing an outstanding service not only to the church, but to the community by the many hours of hard labor going into this restoration program.

The week end of June 11 and 12 have been designated as a Chapel Week end. Saturday afternoon, June 11, there will be an auction of antiques, etc., to raise funds for restoration.

Sunday morning, June 12, there will be three services of re-dedication of the Chapel.

Medicare forms available at Ada Post Office

Milton Heine, Ada Postmaster, announced today that application blanks for supplemental Medicare benefits are available at the Ada Post Office.

The application blanks are being made available as the Social Security Administration seeks to contact 3.1 million senior citizens before a March 31 deadline imposed by the Medicare law.

President Johnson has proclaimed March as "National Medicare Enrollment Month". He urged all federal agencies and all citizens to cooperate in enrolling senior citizens in the program.

Through direct mailings and other means, the Social Security Administration has had contact with 16 of the 19.1 million citizens who will be 65 or over on July 1. Of the 16 million who replied, less than one million said they did not want to sign up for the supplemental program.

The supplemental program costs $3 a month and provides doctor bill and other benefits. Everyone 65 and over is eligible for the basic hospital benefits under Medicare. A copy of the Application blank is displayed on a lobby bulletin board of the Ada Post Office.

Senior citizens who reached 65 before 1966 face a two-year delay if they do not sign up by March 31. The application forms are preaddressed to the Social Security Administration in Baltimore, Maryland.
