CBA sets plans to celebrate 4th

Planning ahead for the 4th? Want to stay off the highways?

Cascade has events planned for every hour of the holiday. This annual celebration is being sponsored by the Cascade Thornapple Lion's Club and the Cascade Firemen as a civic non-profit function.

Last year Cascade was crowded from the morning until the beautiful evening fireworks set off by the local firemen.

Many people came from Grand Rapids and other communities to enjoy an old-fashioned Fourth of July filled with games; carnival booths; canoe races; water fights; refreshments and food of all kinds; baseball games; a parade, favors; drawings for prizes; an art show; fireworks; fun and excitement.

Cascade Thornapple Valley's non-profit organizations take part in this celebration including the churches; Lion's Club, CBA; Thornapple artists; Thornapple River Association & Cascade firemen. Any group interested in operating a concession or booth or sponsoring a game or competition may do so by contacting an officer of any of the above named groups.

CBA president, Bud Vierson, asks that every one who can help in the erection of the booths contact him at 949-0500 or be in Cascade this coming Saturday morning, June 25.

A complete schedule of events for the Cascade Fourth of July Celebration will appear in next week's issue of Suburban Life.

Box office opens for mail orders

Twenty-eight thousand eight hundred reserved seat tickets fresh off the presses have been received by Lowell Showboat ticket chairman, Bernard Baer, who advises that the Showboat ticket office in Lowell opens Friday, June 24. Prices are $3, $2 and $1 this year, he reports.

All mail orders, as well as local direct purchases, will be handled at the Lowell Box Office, located downtown in Lowell. Other box offices for direct sales in their localities will be opened on July 1 in Grand Rapids, Lansing, Battle Creek, Kalamazoo, Muskegon, Tomia and Hamung. Mail orders will be promptly filled.

Showboat performances will begin promptly at 8:30 six evenings, July 25 through 30. Baer advises those ordering by mail be sure to specify the date as well as the prices of tickets desired. He requests that all the checks and money orders be made out to The Lowell Showboat, and that a stamped self-addressed envelope be enclosed.

This year's headline stars for the Lowell Showboat will be Bob Newhart of television fame. Winner of the treasured TV Emmy Award for the Best Comedy Show, as well as making guest appearances on the top TV programs. Newhart also has made many comedy skit recordings that are frequently heard on radio.

In addition to Newhart, Showboat officials have been able to sign up the versatile four men of song known as the Vogues to be the co-stars on the Showboat dock stage. There are currently four of the Vogues recordings that are fast reaching the top of the list of hit tunes.

Showboat's Sherylette Dancers are also scheduled to entertain Showboat patrons, as well as the chorus of over 100 voices, the talent search winners and the traditional comedy of the End Men and Interlocutor.

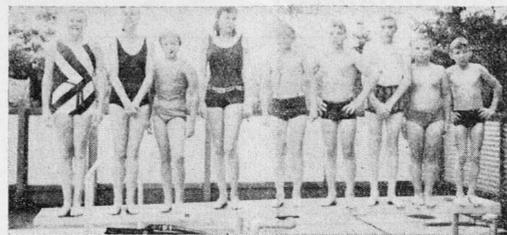

Advance sale of tickets is expected to be greater than last year, therefore, Mr. Baer recommends that mail orders be sent into the Lowell Box Office as soon as possible for the best seats. All seats are reserved.

We're going on vacation

The Suburban Life will close its doors on July 1, and take a leisurely vacation. The wheels of industry will be shut down until July 11.

There will be no Suburban Life printed that week, so area residents are reminded that Saturday, June 25, is the deadline for articles which should be published that week concerning up and coming events.

With the cooperation of you, the reader and correspondents, we can enjoy our vacation.

Swim team "tryout" a success

Monday, June 13, dawned clear and cold, and by evening it was plain chilly, but 23 hardy souls turned out for the swim team tryouts.

Girls and boys eight through 14, who came out were Dan Aveall, Georgia Woodrick, James Belding, Jean Herrity, Bob Devlieger, Dottie Bains, Holly Kapes, Gary Kapes, Barb Phillion, Tim Hanes, Allan & Jim Dygert, Dan Morris, Pat Comrie, Tracy and Mark Soyka, Margaret Herrity, Brian and Kris Bishop, John Devlieger, Linda Miller, Narna Herrity & Wendy Stirrdinant.

Each night it was colder and each night fewer swimmers appeared. There are some excellent swimmers who braved the cold and will undoubtedly go on through, and many of the others will be back now, that it is warmer.

This is an excellent way for children to improve their swimming skills. The practice is daily from 6:30 to 8 o'clock or 8:30 at the Phillion Pool.

GERRIT BAKER APPOINTED TO ROAD COMMITTEE

S. who received a scholarship grant to this National Science Foundation Institute; the lectures and seminars are conducted to assist college teachers in keeping abreast of the latest research in the changing field of biology.

The institute does not provide credits for participants. Mr. Ham has two Masters degrees from Michigan State University and the University of Michigan.

This summer of study will bring the participants the latest findings in the expanding field of bio-chemistry.

At their home in the woods, the Hams further pursue their interest in animals by trapping and banding birds as a part of the program of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Mr. Ham is also gathering and preserving a collection of birds for study; preservation is done by injection. Dead birds are brought to him by his students and he welcomes additions to the collection from anyone who picks up a good specimen.

The market features a take-out service of fresh fried fish or shrimp and french fries or chicken-to-go and french fries. This service should prove an excellent way to keep a cool kitchen in the hot summer.

Covered Bridge horseshoe courts to have lights

The Covered Bridge horseshoe courts will have lights installed within a few days. This will help many who have been unable to find enough daylight time to play before darkness sets in.

The novel handicap league is being well received and attended by both the veterans and newcomers alike. Newcomers are getting the basic fundamentals of good pitching practice from some of the state's top stars, many of whom are members of the local club.

Fritz Guenther of Parnell, who has only been at the ring-making game for about a month, got a few sage words of advice from state champ Roy Smith and has shown remarkable progress in a very short time.

Eugene Poulias of Ada is one of the rare "reverse turn" pitchers and is making the veterans take a second look with some real nice scores.

Don Rozela and his son, John, of Ada, are in the thick of the battle for the fifth place in the point standings. John is the only left hander who has played with the Covered Bridge group so far this year.

Mike Steibel, Flint, boy's 30 foot champion, took part in last week's activities, but found that he was burdened with a big handicap and lost twice to the regular club members.

Those who have been playing early in the season will have a decided advantage over those who have not yet started, but the league may add another night or two when the lights are installed.

The standings for the club, through June 18, are

Letter to the Editor Tragic death saddens church and community

What was to have been a "once in a lifetime" week end vacation for a group of orphans and youth from broken homes in Akron, Ohio, proved to be a sad and grief-stricken one instead. Some eighteen young people and five adult advisors made the trip to Cascade by bus and were to have sung in morning and evening services Sunday at the Cascade Christian Church.

A 25-minute dip and swim in the Thornapple River, prior to a rehearsal proved to be disastrous.

The youth were swimming, under the guidance of Mr. Robert Purkey, their program director from the Akron Children's Home. He is a life saver. Two other adult workers from the home, and two Cascade adults lined the bank to assist and keep a watchful eye.

The young man who drowned was nineteen years of age, a former high school football player, and an excellent swimmer. Home officials surmised either a heart attack or sudden cramp.

Cascade community rallied in our hour of need, as we have seldom seen before. In minutes, the Fire Department was on hand; the Sheriff's Water Patrol and many others. Boys and men searched the woods and surrounding area, feeling the young chap might have wandered off.

We shall never cease to be grateful to Dr. Bakeman who came instantly to attend to several near-hysterical children, to Mr. Baker, our supervisor who called to express sorrow and offer additional services. To the church homes that ministered to the need and sorrow of these youth, we owe a debt of real gratitude, as well as those who were prepared to carry forth a week end program which never materialized.

An invitation for a return engagement of the youth, who have a choir known as the "Note Climbers" has already been extended by the Cascade Church for another year.

Home officials expressed time and time again that they had never seen a community so concerned, so helpful, so kind as ours. We share this opinion.

Gratefully yours,
Raymond Gaylord

Set plans for fifth barbecue

For the fifth consecutive year, the CYF of the Cascade Christian Church, assisted by adult advisors and parents, will serve a chicken barbecue dinner on the church lawn beginning at 4 p. m. on July 4.

This dinner has been one of the primary money-raising fund drives of the youth to send their members to the annual International Affairs Seminar of Disciple young people, held in New York and Washington each year in the Spring.

There will be no advance ticket sales this year, but 325 half chickens have already been ordered; and the community is invited to come on a "first come first serve" basis.

In addition to a half chicken, the dinner will include cole slaw, potato chips, rolls and butter, beverage, orange or coffee, and homemade cake. The price is a $1.75.

Serving as the general chairman of the forthcoming dinner is Mrs. Harvey Monroe, with other committee members as follows:

Mrs. Don Crum, Gary Crum, Terry Simon, Miss Nancy Krebs and the pastor.

Good Time
TO ARRANGE FOR OIL HEAT BUDGET PAYMENT PLAN
With the sun beating down hot and heavy, most people don't give too much thought to next winter's heat. And, who can blame them?
But there is one simple step that can be taken by phone or by postcard that can make next winter a lot more pleasant for the homeowner. THE STEP: to request the oil heat dealer to convert the family's account to a convenient Budget Payment Plan.
The primary advantage of the Budget Plan is to divide heating costs over equal payments—most frequently for 10 months—and thus avoid the exceptionally heavy fuel bills which otherwise must be faced in January and February—just at the time everyone is buried under Christmas bills.

Letter to the Editor

The account in your recent issue of how your reporter had to stand on a pail and listen through an open window to get a story of the June 13 meeting of the Ada Township meeting is a good example of the difficulty the Ada Taxpayers Committee has had trying to get some facts about the $525,000 bond issue that was sold recently. The meeting was a mockery of our form of government.

This was public business and involved the largest amount of money ever levied on the taxpayers of Ada Township. The June 13 meeting was a public meeting of elective officials of the township and it would seem, in these United States, that citizens and taxpayers would still have a right to know what their elected officials are doing.

The meeting was well advertised and in public notices assurance was given that if the hall was crowded a loud speaker system would be installed so that any overflow could sit in their cars and hear the proceedings.

New automatic electric cooking equipment

When you see the Gold Medallion emblem on a home, you know in advance that you'll find modern, automatic electric cooking equipment in the kitchen.

It may be in the form of a built-in oven and separate cook top, or the surface units and oven may be all in one. Whichever type the builder has installed, it is bound to be one of the newest models, containing all of the latest advances in engineering design.

Today, almost all electric range manufacturers offer a choice of colors, to help make the kitchen pretty as well as practical. Some little beauties fit into amazingly small space. One 30-inch model comes with a matching exhaust-fan hood which also contains eye-level push button controls for the surface units.

But the most talked-of features in modern electric cooking equipment are found in the ovens. They come equipped with meat thermometers to eliminate all guesswork from roasting or broiling to the desired degree of "doneness." Electric ovens equipped with removable rotisseries make it possible to enjoy spit roasted meats and fowl right in your own kitchen. And electric ovens that clean themselves are now available in a wide variety of sizes—both as separate built-in units and as part of a free-standing range.

It is said that 85 per cent of all cooking is done on the surface of the range. That's why more and more homemakers prefer the accuracy and cleanliness of electric surface units. Just push a button or turn a knob and you know the correct heat will be maintained until you re-set the control. Electric surface units are the easiest of all to keep clean. Individual units lift easily, permitting drip pans to be removed and washed with the dishes. This also provides easy access to the space below for quick clean-up of excess spillage. On one range, the entire cook top can be raised. A hinged support props it up while the under-surface is cleaned.

When you're visiting the Gold Medallion Homes on display right now, be sure to take special note of the electric cooking equipment in each kitchen. Chances are each model house will have a different type—a good way to see the new models in actual home settings.

equipment in each kitchen. Chances are each model house will have a different type—a good way to see the new models in actual home settings.

When you see the Gold Medallion emblem on a home, you know in advance that you'll find modern, automatic electric cooking equipment in the kitchen.

It may be in the form of a built-in oven and separate cook top, or the surface units and oven may be all in one. Whichever type the builder has installed, it is bound to be one of the newest models, containing all of the latest advances in engineering design.

Today, almost all electric range manufacturers offer a choice of colors, to help make the kitchen pretty as well as practical. Some little beauties fit into amazingly small space. One 30-inch model comes with a matching exhaust-fan hood which also contains eye-level push button controls for the surface units.

But the most talked-of features in modern electric cooking equipment are found in the ovens. They come equipped with meat thermometers to eliminate all guesswork from roasting or broiling to the desired degree of "doneness." Electric ovens equipped with removable rotisseries make it possible to enjoy spit roasted meats and fowl right in your own kitchen. And electric ovens that clean themselves are now available in a wide variety of sizes—both as separate built-in units and as part of a free-standing range.

It is said that 85 per cent of all cooking is done on the surface of the range. That's why more and more homemakers prefer the accuracy and cleanliness of electric surface units. Just push a button or turn a knob and you know the correct heat will be maintained until you re-set the control. Electric surface units are the easiest of all to keep clean. Individual units lift easily, permitting drip pans to be removed and washed with the dishes. This also provides easy access to the space below for quick clean-up of excess spillage. On one range, the entire cook top can be raised. A hinged support props it up while the under-surface is cleaned.

When you're visiting the Gold Medallion Homes on display right now, be sure to take special note of the electric cooking

One Individual

The following message on the back page of the June issue of the Bible Society Record is worthy of our attention: "Each act of life writes its own history. In 1816—one hundred and fifty years ago—one man, from his sickbed, gathered together the leaders of many denominations to form a national Bible organization. For this Elias Boudinot will be remembered as long as there is an American Bible Society. One man... one act... history. The activity of the American Bible Society always has been and always will be built upon the SINGLE ACT OF A SINGLE INDIVIDUAL—multiplied by millions. Tomorrow's history of the American Bible Society is being written today. It awaits only the name of one individual... one act. Never underestimate what YOU, as a single human being, can do for the cause of the BIBLE. For the American Bible Society... for the Bible... a single act on its behalf may be the difference... for another human being... between ONE Bible... and NONE!
Did you ever hear of the Bible-a-month Club? No, it doesn't mean that you receive a new Bible each month, but that you give a Bible each month to someone who has none, by your donation(s) to the American Bible Society. Let's show that we really care about men's souls by sharing the Word of God with them!

In addition to the poison elements sometimes found in moonshine, the filth found around these illegal distilleries are in themselves hazards. Cockroaches, maggots & small insects are frequently found floating in fermenting mash.

The Cracker Barrel
Conduct class
in sandcasting

As Thornapple Valley grows so grows its cultural activities. An interesting series of classes in sandcasting is proving that artistic excitement can be developed in an otherwise conventional operation.

Mrs. Gladys Smith and her daughter, Lois Ann, lived for some time in Mexico where the native artists taught them the secret of making unusual papier-mache panels. They have added their own flair to this type of work and have produced brilliant displays which can be seen in their showcase shop, Donny's of Ada, under the professional name, San Feliz.

Now Mrs. Smith has brought her talents to sandcasting and is teaching interested pupils in groups throughout the summer. As every Boy Scout knows, sandcasting can be used to permanently keep a record of animal tracks and as every law officer and detective story fan knows, tire tracks and foot prints can be reserved for future study by this method. But to make a sandcasting with an artistic touch is something else and is much more complicated.

In the beginning the members of the class are asked to plan the designs they will use, keeping in mind that the results will be three-dimensional.

Many kinds of subjects can be used; fruit, flowers, sailboats, anything that strikes the fancy. Next, a cardboard box is brought to the class, the size and depth of which will determine the outside of the finished product.

Within this frame is placed a layer of special sand. Here, Mrs. Smith claims, is the crux of the matter. The sand should be found deep enough in the ground to be undisturbed and very wet. Its texture will be seen on the facing of the cast when finished. If it is too coarse, it will interfere with the design.

Now the sand is patted flat ready to receive the pattern. This is laid on the sand and pricked or poked through the paper for an outline. It is time for the fun of sculpting.

This time the artist makes the impressions in the sand. He must think in reverse for the plaster when finally poured will fill in any depressions carved or molded.

In the first class that Mrs. Smith conducted Mrs. Roger Sturdivant created a design of mushrooms while Mrs. William Idema used as her subject flying birds. Mrs. Glenn Stuart patterned a tree with her young sons walking away in the distance.

Mary Kay Zeilstra carved a deer and Mrs. William Seidman a bird. Mrs. Glenn Johnson made an interesting portrayal of her son's silhouette and a dog and Mrs. Carlton Run-ciman completed a primitive floral arrangement.

All of these designs were dug out of the sand while it was moist. Because the sand can be brushed away afterward, undercuts can be made as long as the material remains damp and will cling together.

When the original representation has been carved out of the sand and any portions built up where depth in the final casting is required, it is time for the plaster to be poured.

Mrs. Smith has her students use ordinary building plaster-of-paris. A more expensive plaster used to make ceramic molds can be purchased, but its texture is so smooth it will produce a Della Robbia effect. The plaster should be mixed with water until a whipped cream consistency is obtained.

Then it is poured into the mold and hardware mesh and a hanger wire are encased. Now the artist takes a huge breath, relaxes, and awaits the results. After the plaster is dry and the sand removed, the design is revealed.

Some of the members of the classes who are also building new homes are using their creations as permanent decorations on the interiors or exteriors of their houses.

Enthusiastic members of the second class were Mrs. Thomas Ford, Mrs. George Dootlittle, Mrs. Randel Dickenson, Mrs. Carl Willwerth, Mrs. Edward B. Rhodes, and Mary Ann Perry.

Future classes will be held during the summer and further information may be received by calling Mrs. Johnson at 676-1192. Examples of the students' work & of Mrs. Smith's sand-casting may be seen at Donny's in Ada. This can open a new direction of artistic ability for the uninitiated with resulting decorations worthy of wall space anywhere.

Women can now turn to the scents of summer for a delightful dessert dish. A combination of cream and flowers is the newest thing around. One Canadian housewife has come up with a recipe for Bavarian cream with marigold petals. She mixes one pint of milk, 3 egg yolks & gelatin and then adds it to a cup of pounded marigold petals. She then surrounds the mixed cream with marigold blossoms.

Kathleen Hogan,
Thomas Pawson
engaged to wed

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hogan, 1918 Observatory Drive, SE, Grand Rapids, wish to announce the engagement of their daughter, Kathleen Joan, to Thomas Glen Pawson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Pawson of 1251 Orville, SE, Grand Rapids, Michigan.

Miss Hogan is a graduate of Forest Hills high school, and her fiancé is a graduate of Ottawa Hills high school, and attended Grand Rapids Junior College.

A November wedding is being planned by the bride-elect and her fiancé.

Afternoon rites unite couple

Miss Sandra Kay Purcey was wed to Bruce N. VanWingen Saturday afternoon, June 11, in the Second Congregational Church.

The Joseph Purceys, Three Mile Road, NE, are the bride's parents. Mr. VanWingen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adrian VanWingen of Belmont, Michigan.

The bride entered the sanctuary in a ruffled empire-line gown of chantilly lace. A fingertip mantilla fell from a pill-box headpiece, and she carried a bridal arrangement of carnations and yellow roses.

Miss Kathy Purcey and Miss Carol Benson attended the bride. Their gowns were maize enchanted with lace. Circlets hats of daisies and baskets of white and yellow daisies completed their ensembles.

Paul VanWingen was the best man. Seating the guests were Larry Purcey of Jacksonville, Florida, and Robert Scherzer of Big Rapids, Michigan.

Following the afternoon ceremony, a reception was held at Finger's Restaurant.

Conservation plans made with dist. cooperators

Soil and water conservation plans have been made with the following Kent Soil and Water Conservation District cooperators: Kendall Porritt of Bowne Township and Mrs. George Baker of Cascade Township.

William Spitsbergen of Lowell Township; and William E. Janowiak and Carl C. Andrews of Vergennes Township.

An impetuous Russian student drew a ten-year sentence in jail for yelling "Khrushchev is a bum!" Granted an amnesty, he decided to get back into favor with the power that be. He ran into Red Square shouting, "Hooray for Khrushchev!"

Now he's back in jail for 20 years.
