Alice Brower, area pianist, dies; rites held

Mrs. H. W. (Alice) Brower, 59, who had achieved recognition as an accomplished pianist, passed away Thursday night at Blodgett Memorial Hospital after a long illness.

The wife of H. W. Brower, resident vice-president of Michigan Mutual Liability Insurance Company, they resided at 2685 Cascade Springs Dr., Cascade Surviving besides her husband, are two daughters, Miss Mary Brower, assistant dean of women at Bowling Green University, Blowing Green, Ohio, and Mrs. Robert (Susan) Allen of Washington, D. C.; a brother, Robert Olson of Pecatenia, Illinois; and two granddaughters.

Funeral services were held Monday at Metcalf Chapel, with the Rev. J. Clement Walker, pastor of East Congregational Church, officiating. Cremation

These children are all excellent swimmers and throughout the community there are so many 12 and 10 year class children who place high in the community pool meets and the city pool meets that Forest Hills High School could have an unbeatable swim team for both boys and girls, if only Forest Hills could have a swim team.

All these parents who have children so interested in swimming should band together and see what could be done about a swim team. Many city schools have swim teams and no pools, so it can be done without a pool at the immediate school.

Next Saturday, the city pools will have their pool meets with many area children taking part.

Like 22 will be the city wide July 22 will be the city-wide swim meets and August 5th Grand Rapids will host the State Swim meets.

Our list of servicemen's names and addresses grows and changes all the time, but one thing remains the same ... the boys love to get the cards and letters they receive bearing news from home.

Remember that even though they like to hear from you all, servicemen do not always have time to sit down and answer each letter immediately. Their time belongs first to Uncle Sam and last of all to themselves.

Anyone wishing to add a name and address or a birthdate to this list may do so by dropping the Suburban Life a card bearing the needed information. We will be glad to print

COUPLE HONORED ON 35TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Case LaMaire of Dutton were honored at a family get-together Sunday, Ju-9, at the Caledonia Lakeside Park, in observance of their 35th wedding anniversary.

Hosting the event were their five children and families, Mr. and Mrs. Don Cowell of South Haven, Mr. and Mrs. John King, Mr. and Mrs. Fred La-Maire, and Mr. and Mrs. Neal LaMaire, all of Grand Rapids, and Mr. & Mrs. John Austin of Kent City.

Attending from this area were Mr. and Mrs. Robert McWhinof Ada, Miss Patty Mc-Whinney and Mrs. Larry Lawrence and daughter, Lisa Lea, of Lowell.

Area drivers use caution

Now that school is recessed many area children who have horses are riding singly and in groups along the roads. Please use caution as you approach these riders. They are usually very aware of oncoming traffic and watch closely that which approaches from the rear.

These children are usually pretty good riders and have their steeds under control or their parents would not allow them on the road. If you will approach them with reduced speed and do not blare on your horn it will be of great value to the rider.

horses are sometimes startled by a loud blast of a car horn and will sometimes become very nervous. The horse could easily get out of control; where if you approach at a slow rate of speed without use of the horn, the rider will be aware of your presence and will keep its horse under better control

Parents of bike riding children: It is time to caution your children on the safety of bike riding: Many children are well aware of the rules, but now that school is out they have become rather careless. Many of the bike riders are seen riding double, going down the road on the wrong side, criss-crossing in and out of traffic and completely reckless in their ways of driving.

No one would want to hit a child on a bike, and many times it turns out to be children you know that are disobeying the common courtesy of bike riding. Many people who observe these known children hesitate to inform their parents as they don't want to get the child in trouble.

Seek jobs for area youth

Governor George Romney has again asked for assistance in finding summer employment opportunities for boys and girls.

There are more than 175,000 youth between the ages of 16 and 21 who need jobs. Many more between 14 and 16 are looking for part-time and full-time work. Not getting a job this summer will mean not returning to school this fall for many of these young students. The Michigan Employment Security Commission is trying vouth, but close to 20 percent of the 16 to 21 year olds will not find jobs. Anyone in the area who has a job for these young people can help by doing the follow-

to locate summer jobs for

Try to find ways of employing youth of your community in jobs that may be at your command this summer.

2. Ask individuals and companies of your acquaintance to employ youth in every way that

3. Contact the State Employment Service office serving our area to see if there is any special problem on which you can

4. Make any public appearances you can to promote youth employment and greater youth opportunity this summer. You can contribute a great deal by taking the lead in makthis summer one of real opportunity for Michigan youth.

Will any of us ever become the completely organized persons we think we ought to be? Will that great day eventually arrive when all the really important jobs are out of our way so we can just sit down to read that certain good book? Come on now, it's an impossible idea —you know that! Most of us have waited long enough, I say.

Let's settle for something less, like maybe paying just a bit more attention—in a systematic manner, of course-to all those routine or even those one-time specials and starting right now, let's devote a whole lot of interest to "the really worthwhile things."

For example, Summer Reading. Remember how last April you promised yourself at least a little time to linger with a good book? Since there are scarcely six or seven full weeks of summer left for leisurely loafing, why not get with it? If it's more time for just puttering at your hobby, for trips (a Short Overnighter, perhaps?) or for opening that certain book, let's go do it right now!

And far be it from me to tell you what you ought to read. if indeed reading is the thing you want most to do with what s left of this summer. But do let me tell you about a few of the delightful moments I've already managed so far. It was just a 95c paperback, too, with which I officially marked the beginning of summer.

A running commentary on one man's return to the soila Maine coast farm—after years in the Big City, 'One Man's Meat," by E. B. White, was my first treat. It is a wise, humorous and beautiful testament. Just as the cover promised, I discovered half-forgotten messages of earth and life, as well as some old assurances that are badly needed in the business of life. It was most pleasant to share this professional writer's "shining hour."

I've worked away, so to speak, at The Truman Presidency, by Cabell Phillips, a well written history of "a tri-umphant succession." I feel it's a good time to be reading it. After all, enough years have gone by to lend some perspective to those times and, with what the papers are now saying about the present incumbent, I think the book speaks eloquently for this very mo-

I'm spending time, too, with BY-Line: Ernest Hemingway, a big, gusty potpourri covering four decades of newspaper and magazine disptaches by the hairy author of a dozen bestsellers, such as The Old Man and The Sea, For Whom The Bell Tolls, The Sun Also Rises, Edited by William White, By-Line ideally suits my present reckless mood for something light and entertaining, a kind of book straight out of a life lived on a short fuse. Stuff right off the hip. Everday I turn an exciting leaf or three.

Particularly interesting is to-day's chapter. Originally pub-lished in Esquire, April, 1935, it has Hemingway in conversation with an ambitious, obviously (to Hemingway) untalented yet aspiring writer. The Great One unintentionally, I think, foretold his own future by about thirty years. After expounding at some length on what it takes to be a writer he closed the conversation by telling the hopeful youth to go ahead and write anyway, 'because even after five years of it if you find out you really can't write, you can always shoot yourself."

Just the other morning I had the occasion to mention the book to a friend My big, burly and bearded friend at once blanched and proceeded at once as well to tell me what he thought of the senseless killing of animal life which Hemingway seemed so easily to do and which he could describe with such wonderful detail. Reminiscent of One Man's Meat, I learned again that individual opinions differ widely, interestingly, and often.

Might 1 suggest you read a book and mention it to a friend? Have fun this week!

Amway pilots end 3 weeks jet training

Walter Buchko and George Krause, pilots for the Amway Corporation of Ada, have completed a three-wek jet training program at Aero Commander Jet Training School at Bethany, Oklahoma, the company announced.

Buchko, who is Amway's chief pilot, received Type Rating on Amway's new corporate jet aircraft. In the past two years of the company's amazing growth, he has been forced to adapt to corporate needs by learing special flying techniques as Amway changed from a Piper fourpassenger (plus crew) Aztec to modified six-passenger (plus crew) Beechcraft Queen Air.

Rapid expansion of company activities required trading the Queen Air after only 16 months of service for the new seven passenger (plus crew) Aero Commander Jet.

Increased speed of the jet allows executives at Amway to participate in as many as three sales meetings a day in different parts of the country.

"We Want You To Live"

Of all people, Christians should be deeply concerned and interested in the physical welfare of their fellowmen and of themselves. We must be in the forefront of those who promote and practice safe driving upon our highways and streets. And therefore the church of Jesus Christ also proclaims to the millions of automobile drivers: "We want you

We Christians are, however, not only concerned about the welfare of physical life, though we view the natural life of human beings as God-given. Christians are concerned about all of life-its spiritual dimension as well as its natural dimension. The life of the soul is still more important than that of the body, according to the teaching of Jesus Christ. We want you to live—life in all of its fullness! "And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent." John 17:3. ARE YOU ALIVE?

'Fourth in a nutshell

The Fourth of July was a bang up success inspite of the weatherman. The 10 a. m. parade at Cascade started the day long events with everyone doning sweaters. The children showed a great deal of imagination in decorating themselves and bikes, trikes, wagons, and anything that would roll.

The Volunteer Firemen had their equipment polished to the en-degree, and the American Legion had a color guard heading the parade

The Woodland Cars of Yesterday had a colorful old fashioned pop-corn wagon which created great interest and then proceeded to sell pop-corn from it at the termination of the parade.

All of Orange Street was blocked off and colorful booths were the delight of all the children, and the adults had great fun trying to dunk their friends of the fire department by throwing balls at them.

The events in Cascade were terminated with a black-top dance and a beautiful display of fireworks. The Cascade Businessmen sponsored the event.

In Ada the events didn't get underway until noon with a parade beginning at the Shoppers' Square, and terminating at the Ada Ball Park, where gay booths were set up for the enjoyment of old and young alike.
There were ball games for all.

A greased pig race and the crowd catcher the Ada and Cascade Fire Departments battling it out in a water fight, which is always one of the biggest events of the day. The Ada firemen presented their usual outstanding fireworks display as dark. Each year the crowd gets bigger, drawing people from Grand Rapids and Lowell, and many other surrounding communities. Anyone caught in the traffic jam knows this year the crowd was larger than ever before. The Ada Athletic Association sponsored the day's events in

It was a long day and parents didn't get children into bed much before 11 p. m., but they all went to bed happy and safe after spending a safe and sane fourth in their own communities, and seeing old friends, who return each year for the annual event.

The Thornapple Valley Artist's Association sponsored an art show in the Cascade Township Hall.

Many local artists had their works on display and the whole show was very well received. Alex Dillingham was so impressed by the local talent, that featured editorials on his WMAX program throughout the

There are many talented artists in the community and it is a joy to be able to see their fine work at local art shows.

Many of the local residents have their work displayed in various community art shows, throughout Michigan during the

River parade

The boat parade of the Thornapple River Association was the biggest event the Thornapple River has seen in many a year. This year a camera crew from Mort Neff's Michigan Outdoor's was on hand to record the event.

It was seen by over 200,000 viewer's on last Thursday night's program. There were over 30 boats participating this year, and competing for prizes in seven different categories.

Each entry received a pennant commerating the event and the winners get special ones with "Number One Boat, Thornapple River 1967" superimposed over an exploding firecracker emblazone in red.

The colored film that Dick Black shot of the complete aquaparade will be available to the members of the Thornapple River Association at a future meeting

The Seven Up Bottling Company of Western Michigan donated the prizes of countless cases of soft drinks for spectators and participants. They manned the official starting barge anchored below the island and some of the floats with collapsible decorations had to lower them to make it under the camel-humped bridge, the judges stand was at the dock of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Simkins

Of the many winners only a partial list is included. The Robert VanSluyters Family, the prettiest runabout: Al Terrell, Jim Krikhuff, Concert in the Park; Gene Good, John Durne, Weed Control; Glenn Crossman, pontoon boat.

Marilyn Darling, Happiness is a Safe Puppy; Harvey Comrie, Spirit of '76; and the Thornapple Queen was also a winner. Dave Wallace, Thornapple Waterfronter, was grand marshall of the parade.
