Highway study shows record M-21 traffic

officials cite critical need for road improvement

Reports prepared by the Michigan Department of State Highways indicate that the average daily traffic count on M-21 (Fulton Street), east of Grand Rapids through Ada and Lowell, has reached a figure that in some instances surpasses the number of vehicles traveling the I-96 Ex-

Concern over the safety of this route has been expressed by state, county and city law enforcement agencies who report it has been the scene of more than 250 accidents in 30 months. Citing nine deaths and 179 injuries, the highway department has labeled numerous sections of this route as critical: incapable of carrying this tremendous volume of traffic safely. At the same time, however, they indicate that a "lack of funds" prevents improvement.

M-21 is ...

Constructed in 1926, M-21 is marked by hills and sharp curves that restrict visibility by as much as 59 percent. Both the surface and the base of some sections, after inspection by state engineers, are said to require major reconstruction.

According to department estimates, although the work is needed immediately, this construction cannot be scheduled until the late 1970's.

Spurred by residential commercial and industrial development, M-21 is a primary thoroughfare for as many as 8,000 cars and trucks per day, according to official records.

One school district recently reported that it operates 75 school bus runs daily over and across this route.

They report that over 3,000 school children are exposed to hazards that could be eliminated. The drivers of these buses have stated that, because of the dangers, they would, if possible avoid this stretch of narrow highway completely. Area residents adjacent to M-21 have been alerted to the traffic dangers through a stepped up program of accident publicity in Suburban Life and the Lowell Ledger. Tourists and industrial truck drivers do not benefit from this action. Competing for driving room along this narrow corridor, employees of the many new companies bordering this route make approximately 5,000 trips weekly. Supplying their companies is an average of one heavy truck every 15 seconds.

These professional drivers are quoted as saying that because of the heavy traffic, hills, curves and the lack of safe passing zones, M-21 is one of the most dangerous and worst highways in the treacherous ...

Further complicating an already treacherous condition, planned residential construction is slated to bring hundreds of new families, new drivers and more school children into the area. Service companies are springing up to supply their needs. Industry in the area reports that their normal, minimum growth will cause an additional 10 to 15 percent increase in the use of this state maintained highway.

Unless the Department of State Highways focuses attention on this perilous stretch of road, they say that death, injury and destruction will surely increase as the price

At present we have one 1957 Class A 500 GPM pumper; one 1945 grass fire fighting truck; and one 1947 tanker which are doing a very good job and we are proud of.

Since the purchase of our pumper the valuation of our Township has approximately doubled, which has been mostly homes. This increases the occurance of two alarms or more at one time, which we are not equipped to cope with. We have proposed construction in the next two years that will more than triple the valuation of 1957. The reason for our request at this time is that after our order is placed it will take over a year for delivery.

A favorable vote will give us a 1,000 GPM pumper fully equipped and housing to protect your Township properties and lives. Your Cascade Firemen

At the present time organization is needed. In order to have good company the basic foundation and organization is of prime importance to make it a successful venture

Gerrit Lamain is the real promoter behind the summer theatre. And since the high school's two musicals were so well received and interest has run high with the adults, after seeing the fine productions, the high school students put on, un-

Supervisor Baker urges approval for fire department millage

On Tuesday, October 3, the cade Township will be asked to come to their respective polling places to vote on an extra millage proposition.

This is not a vote for increased salaries or pay for any public official or fireman.

I will attempt to give a specific reason for this request. 1. We are in need of additional fire equipment to meet our growing needs. Some of our equipment is getting old and requires constant maintenance to keep it in first class operating condition. Cascade Township is passing through an industrial growth period. This means so much in tax valuation and tax dollars for our schools. We must have adequate equipment to protect this property, besides leaving sufficient equipment to pro-

3. The voters will be asked to increase the tax rate by one mill per year for 3 years. This is maximum and may be reduced at the 3rd year due to increased valuation through our industrial growth, 4. I admit that an additional tax creates problems. But if every one was aware of the time, effort and sacrifices our volunteer firemen put into this work, I am certain they would agree with the Township officials and say WE ARE WITH

The Home

The story is told of a rich man who asked a contractor, who had lost a great deal of money, to build him a house. He gave the builder the authority to choose the materials of the house and to govern every part of its construction. The contractor felt that this was an opportunity for him to recover some of his lost fortune. He used the poorest material and built the house as cheaply as possible for very flimsy construction.

When the house was finished the rich man said: "This house is for you and your family. You may live in it. It is

Then the builder realized that he had built a house in which he himself must live. He thought he was cheating the rich man, but he had really been cheating himself. His house was just what he himself had made it.

Not all of us are builders of houses, but we are builders of homes. What kind of material are we putting into our home-building? How good is the construction of our homes? If we're cheating, we are only cheating ourselves of the blessing we should and could be receiving.

In this era in which there is a declining emphasis upon the value of the home, we must emphasize the importance of the CHRISTIAN HOME!

Student council officers

With the 1967-68 school year well underway, activities, football games, pep rallies, assemblies, and student projects are in full swing at Forest Hills Public Schools

In a recent election by the members of the student body, Nancy (Carrie) Seidman was elected to the presidency of the Forest Hills Junior high school student council.

The Junior high governmental body will also be served by Stephen Shuster, vice-president; Claire Horning, secretary; Larry Diebel, treasurer; and Theodore Zuiderveen, Chief of Po-

Under the faculty advisorship of Paul Northuis, twenty repre-sentatives, and twenty alternates from the seventh and eighth grades in the junior high will take part in the student council activities.

Representatives from the 7th grade are Robert Banta, Robin Smith, Jane Hillery, Wright Mc-Cargar, Margaret Herrity, Lar-aine Bone, Kimberly Preston, Jerilee Duthler, Marcia Richards and Jane DeLoof.

Seventh grade alternates include Kathy Osmolinski, Peter Bridge, Aaron Buchko, Jill Wall, Jeffery Shuster, Kimberly Zimmer, Ernest Schaefer, Mary Harrington, Diane Dalrymple, & Gary Novak.

From the eighth grade, the representatives will be Susan Titsworth, David Freihofer, Jeffray Carpenter, Terry Dosen-berry, Suzan Ginebaugh, Jeffery VanStrien, Donald Scott Berg, Robert Warner, Dana Wozinck and Mark Gardner.

Eighth grade alternates are Richard Troll, James VanHaren, Kathleen Fitzgerald, Caroline Robinson, Gregory Hoyle, Patricia Everse, Karen Laidlaw, Paula Elliot, Steven Monahan and Mary Bishop.

Marine private ends recruit training period

Marine Private Frank G. Osmolinski, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Osmolinski of 5701 Grand River Dr., Ada, was graduated from eight weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at San Diego, California.

Osmolinski will now undergo about three weeks of individual combat training and then, after leave at home, will report to his first Marine Corps assign-

The intensified Marine recruit training emphasizes rigid physical conditioning and survival techniques, both at sea and ashore, to develop self-confidence and endurance. Marksmanship with the M-14 rifle and 45-calibre pistol are equally stressed, and close order drill instills the traditions of Marine Corps teamwork.

A thorough study of basic military subjects; hygiene; first aid and sanitation; and the customs, courtesies, history and mission of the Marine Corps serve to polish the new Maraine's recruit education and prepare him to join Marine combat forces.

Iron Fireman CUSTOM Mark II oil furnace with instant clean flame. Unequaled for clean comfort, low fuel bills and trouble-free performance

Comfort

With the Iron Fireman CUSTOM Mark II furnace you use a super-sensitive thermostat which operates the furnace with the slightest variation of room temperature. This gives you remarkably uniform indoor temperature. No matter how often the furnace starts there is no smoke, no soot, no fouled combustion chamber, no wasted oil.

Cleanliness

With the instant clean flame there are no flecks of soot blowing from your chimney or escaping into your home. Hundreds of tests made with smoke-detecting instruments show a flame that's absolutely clean from the very moment it's turned on.

Down go fuel bills Owners report remarkable fuel savings. There is no smoky warm-up period to foul the furnace and waste oil. Service calls are cut to River Dr., and Bert Vosburg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vosburg 8755 Bolt Dr., were made Honorary Deputies of Kent County Sheriff's Department.

Sheriff Ronald Parsons presented the certificates to the boys for their action last summer in helping to apprehend 3 teen-age boys breaking into the concession stand at the Ada Ball Park.

Sheriff Parsons devoted most of his scheduled speech to lavish praise of the boys' actions and to the spirit of "involvement" which they represented. Ray and Bert saw the boys taking a large quantity of candy and goods from the concession stand and flee the scene. The two boys jumped on their bikes and were in hot pursuit of the three fleeing boys

The boys obtained the assistance of Jasper D. Spidell of 7606 Fase St. Through the combined efforts of Ray and Bert and Mr. Spidell, the three wanted boys were held and Mrs. Spidell called the Sheriff's Department.

"I hope your spirit of involve-ment rubs off on a few people a little bit older than you," Sheriff Parsons said to the boys, as he made the presentation. Cornelius A. Bishop, captain of the Traffic Squad presented the boys an award from the squad. He also made them honorary members of CHEC (Citizens Helping Eliminate Crime), sponsored in Grand Rapids by the squad. CHEC was set up to get people involved in reporting crime and helping police whenever possible

Mr. Bishop remarked to the boys, "As you know, those who don't want to become involved are comrades of crime.'

Couple wed in Colorado

A recent afternoon ceremony in Sheldon Jackson Memorial Chapel of Fairplay, Colorado, solemnized the marriage of Miss Carol Ann Wilcox and Cary Packard Stiff, II, both of Denver, Colorado.

Parents of the couple are Dr. and Mrs. Clyde W. Wilcox of Broken Bow, Nebraska, and Mr. and Mrs. Cary P. Stiff, I, of Ada.

Escorted into the sanctuary by her father, the bride was attired in her mother's wedding dress of pink silk lace styled with a square neck, fitted bodice and flounced hemline. Her headpiece was a pink lace hat. Mrs. Clyde W. Wilcox, jr., of

Omaha, Nebraska, was bride's only attendant. She chose wine colored velvet gown fashioned with a square neckline and A-line skirt. Dr. David Parker Stiff of Bridgeport, Connecticut, was his brother's best man. Mr. Wilcox seated the guests.

Following a wedding trip to Santa Fe and Taso, New Mexico, the couple will be at home in Denver, Colorado.

To coordinate water, sanitary sewer system

The job of coordinating vitally important plans for a water and sanitary sewer system has been placed in the hands of Albert Heemstra, Clerk, by the Cascade Township Board as the result of a special meeting held to consider the problem.

Mr. Heemstra will handle the additional duties for six months, coinciding with the close of the township's fiscal period. He was directed to coordinate the program in two major aspects including; 1. The urgent need of industry presently building up on the west boundary of the township; 2. The pressing need for adoption of a model contract for guidance of developers of private water systems in residential areas which are expected eventually to connect to the Cascade water system.

Cascade has an agreement with Grand Rapids under which the city will extend its water and sanitary sewer service to township areas as soon as practicable

The pressure areas for commercial and industrial development in Cascade are the 28th St. Section and the area in the vicinity of the new Kent County Airport

In making the assignment, the board agreed the new utility development coordinator will confer immediately with the Township Water Council and Planning Commission to determine a priority for questions to be acted upon.

The coordinator and other township units also will consider setting up time zones in the township for services based on present and anticipated needs for water and sewer.

A chief responsibility of the coordinator will be to keep the board and public informed on progress of the service program. Cascade has about $7 million in major construction projects pending in the immediate future, including a new Foremost Insurance Co. office building at 28th St. and Patterson Road.

Cascade officials hope to obtain sewer and water extensions from the core city as soon as possible to facilitate the new construction projects.

"Behold how great a matter a little fire kindleth!" -The Scriptures

Prometheus, the Greeks said, stole a little of it from the chariot of the sun and gave it to the world. Nothing else I know of is at once such a wonderfully fascinating thing, beautifully brilliant, so terribly destructive! Life without fire would be hard to bear, yet because of it man suffers untold misfortune every day.

In 1947 President Truman stated that no dollar value could ever be placed on the irreplaceable things which fire destroys. 'Who," he asked, "can count the value of a human life destroyed by fire?'

In the United States fire destroys more than 10,000 lives annually; many times this number suffer serious burns and injuries; thousands go through life horribly scarred and crippled because of fire. It wipes out not only life itself but business, credit, wages and profits as well. In sum, the economic loss from fire equals billions of dollars over the years.

We are told that roughly onethird of all fires are caused by the careless use of matches and smoking materials. The misuse of electricity has always been a serious hazard. It is interesting that while we often discuss the danger of rubbish, explosions and fireworks the combined effect of these three hazards is really the least important cause

The great Chicago fire which began on October 8, 1871, continued for three days, burned out over 31/2 square miles and took 250 lives. Making almost 100,000 persons homeless, it destroyed property valued at 175 million dollars. On the 40th anniversary of this catastrophe President Wilson proclaimed a Fire Prevention Day in 1911. Warren Gamaliel Harding, our next President, proclaimed Fire Prevention Week to bring home to the American people mounting destruction caused by fire. Each succeeding President has so designated the second week of October Today our nation necessarily is protected by a standing army of over a million firemen equipped with millions of dollars of equipment. Since the first five minutes of a fire is more important than the next fire hours is it any wonder they command so much of our respect? Particularly in communities which depend on volunteer fire brigades, the extreme emergency character of fire-fighting coupled as it is with disaster and life-saving work, demands the highest consideration and the concern of every resident. The thought suddenly strikes me that right now my easy chair, highly cumbustible itself, is surrounded by a host of equally flamable furnishings. My old home-like most-is really tinder trap, a concoction of wood and paper things. Is your home constructed of brick? Fine! That makes it as fireproof as a stove! Our little forest suburb is nestled in an opening of beautiful oaks and pines. Today my home is surrounded by a carpet of dried leaves, some gold, some reddish brown, all neatly set off by neighboring burnable black thickets of brush and vines. In honor of Fire Prevention Week I'm going to hang a particularly nice dried maple leaf above the local Fire Department's number on the kitchen wall. I'm voting for the new fire truck, too!

There are two exchange students on the rolls of Forest Hills High School this year, both from Europe. May Brith Medaas of Mysen, Norway, is making her home with Mr. and Mrs. John Luyendyk of 266 Shore Haven Drive, SE, and Alfred Stein of Berlin, Germany, is spending this year with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Horowitz of 4151 East Fulton Road.

May Brith Medaas, brighteyed and attractive Norweigan 18-year-old, has many varied inerests. She is anxious to learn American customs and language so that she can contrast them with her native Norway and also with those in Sweden where she has lived for two years.

May Brith feels that only by an understanding of people language, literature and customs will the world arrive at complete tolerance between coun-

At the end of the school year she will return to her family home in Norway where, besides her parents, she will join her 13-year-old brother, Svununng, and an 8-moth-old sister, Veslem. May Brith will attend the university in Mysen next year.
