'Camelot' Opens Tonight

Four performances of the Broadway smash hit "Camelot" are scheduled this weekend at Forest Hills High auditorium.

One of the most ambitious projects in school history, the musical will make its local debut tonight (Thursday) and continue with evening performances Friday and Saturday. All will begin at 8 p. m. A special Saturday matinee is scheduled at 1:30 p. m.

A final dress rehearsal was held Tuesday night under the direction of Gerrit Lamain, head of the high school music department.

Participating in the rehearsal (above) are student director Kai Sorenson, who with Dan Silver (right), Sue Shea and Rick Friehofer, who play the lead roles.

Students Make Up Lost Time

All but a handful of 172 students who walked out of classes without permission last week at Forest Hills High School had made up lost time today.

The students marched from their classes in protest against an administrative decision not to close school in memory of the late Dr. Martin Luther King.

An estimated 80 students quickly returned to school, but the remaining number stayed away from studies for the day, according to Superintendent Robert G. Masten.

All 172 were requested to make up lost time Tuesday of this week, which was part of an extended Easter vacation for the student body. Unofficially, 166 complied with the request.

"Those students who refused to come in voluntarily will not be permitted to return to classes until some provision has been made to make up the lost time," Masten declared late Tuesday.

Masten points out that students who remained in their classrooms during the walk-out were able to watch the national tribute to Dr. King via the school's closed-circuit television system.

Seniors who participated in the demonstration will now have to write final examinations, Masten said. Provisions had been made to excuse some of these from taking their finals, he explained.

The walk-out was orderly and the return to classes, both a week ago and again this past Tuesday, was equally as orderly, Masten said.

Locally Based Project Growing

Project Viet Nam, a program which was initiated in Michigan, is going nationwide.

The Christian Reformed Layman's League originated the idea and successfully raised more than $55,000 in Grand Rapids area in radio marathons held on WOOD and WLAV.

Monies raised are used to purchase, package and send to servicemen in Viet Nam such items and waterproof plastic bags, socks, pre-sweetened beverage mix and pre-medicated towelettes.

Ronald Plekker of Ada, owner of the Village Barber Shop, recently donated his vacation time to participate in marathons in Seattle and Colorado Springs, Colorado. He appeared on KRIO in Seattle, which has a listenership of two million, and on KSSS in Colorado Springs, which beams to 100,000 residents in that area.

Dr. Robert Plekker of the CRLL reports that the March 23 marathon held locally has resulted in approximately 100 letters a day from servicemen in Viet Nam who received some of the more than 150,000 packages distributed to date.

Various organizations have assisted in preparing the packages for distribution in Viet Nam and a list of others which may be interested in assisting is now being compiled. Interested organizations are asked to contact Ronald Plekker at 676-1808 for further information.

An additional 300,000 packages have been ordered.

Area residents who may wish to contribute to Project Viet Nam may do so by sending money to WOOD or by dropping their donations in canisters located in many business establishments located throughout the community.

Fred Sytsma Leaving Post on B. of E.

Fred Sytsma, who has been a member of the Forest Hills School District board of Education since 1960, announced today that he will not seek office in the June 10 school election.

Sytsma and his family plan to move from the district sometime in early summer following the graduation of son Tim.

Two other members of the Sytsma family are scheduled to graduate from college in June.

Fred, Jr., a 1961 graduate of Forest Hills High, will receive his law degree from the University of Michigan and Ann, a 1964 graduate, will matriculate from Hope College, where she is majoring in mathematics.

Camp Display Due at Mall

Some 100 exhibitors representing camper-trailer interests in the state will stage a "Discover" Travel Show April 22-27 at Woodland Mall, it was announced today.

Among the exhibitors will be Patrick J. McCaffrey, owner of the scenic Holiday Park Campgrounds near Traverse City.

McCaffrey comes to Woodland Mall from a highly successful appearance at the Detroit Camper and Travel Trailer Show where his display was adjudged best in an exposition that attracted more than 115,000 persons.

RELEASE DAM WATER TO PERMIT REPAIRS

The Cascade Thornapple Association announced that water above the Cascade Dam will be let out on April 26, 27 and 28 to allow residents to repair docks and rebuild river banks.

In case of rain, the water will be released the following weekend.

Cascade Value Up $2 Million; New Electrical Code Nears

The state equalized valuation of Cascade Township is growing so swiftly that its board invited a state electrical inspector and supervisor to its first mid-monthly meeting to advise in the establishment of a uniform code.

Township Supervisor Gerrit Baker announced the total SEV is now at $18,130,300 for a total tax roll increase of more than $2-million from the 1967 figures.

Charles Staples of Lansing, who was asked to address the board regarding local electrical codes, explained that any community over 5,000 in population must automatically operate under the National Electrical Code by state law.

Single family dwellings and farm buildings in communities less than 5,000 are not included in this code.

The population of Cascade Township was over 3,000 at its last census and is expected to be over the 5,000 mark in the 1970 tabulation.

The Cascade board felt that it should bring all wiring under one electrical ordinance immediately. It directed Township Clerk Al Heemstra to draw up such an ordinance to be worded approximately "all wiring in Cascade Township be done in conformity with the National Electrical Code and not less than state-set minimums."

Fee schedules to cover the cost of inspection will be drawn and adopted at the next meeting on May 6 at 7 p. m.

The 1968 road program will include black topping of Thornapple River Drive between 48th and 60th Sts., Gailbraith Dr. between Cascade Road and its terminating point, plus Goodwood Drive and Wendell Street.

Street lights have been approved for Cascade Terrace.

It was explained by Supervisor Baker that workmen's compensation insurance, which is a state-controlled insurance program, will cover part-time help at cemeteries. However, employees under 18 if injured, receive double insurance.

In other action, the supervisor and clerk were given authorization to sign a contract for purchase of a fire truck and two radio units out of previously-voted millage monies. The truck will cost $7,351.11 and will be operational in the near future.

NEW OBSERVATORY RISING BETWEEN CASCADE AND LOWELL

Observatory Nearing Completion in Area

Unknown to many surrounding residents, an interesting and somewhat unique building is slowly rising from the terrain on a remote hill between Cascade and Lowell.

It is the James C. Veen Observatory, a project of the Grand Rapids Amateur Astronomical Association and the Roger B. Chaffee Planetarium.

Leaders of the Astronomical Association and Planetarium staff members have long realized that there is a need for a well-equipped observing facility to supplement other methods of public education and popularization of astronomy.

Several years ago, plans were drawn up for a fully-equipped observatory, an installation that would be readily accessible for special public sky nights, and yet far enough away from city lights for serious observations to be made.

Today, through the dedication of project leaders, a number of timely financial and material donations, and a large amount of "elbow grease" on the part of association members, the James C. Veen Observatory is rapidly becoming a reality.

Named in honor of the man who founded the astronomical association 13 years ago, the two wings of the building that will house the principal telescopes are now nearing completion.

Workmen from Ash Manufacturing Company of Plainfield, Illinois will be on the site soon to install the revolving domes, which are the most important single components of the observation wings. The domes can be rotated so that the observing slit can be pointed to any part of the sky.

Numerous contributions have helped in making this dream become a reality. Local industrial foundations have chipped in and several large building firms have donated cement blocks and other construction materials.

With such community spirit, and liberal skilled labor resources, such as block layers, plumbers, electricians, etc. coming from within the 100-member association, the whole project should be completed for a figure somewhere around $10,000.

The largest dome at the observatory will house a fully equipped 12 1/2 inch reflecting telescope. All of the optical and mechanical parts for this instrument are being constructed by various members of the association. The intense pride exhibited by those involved in its construction should insure the installation of an instrument equal to and perhaps surpassing in quality any commercially built telescopes, and at a fraction of the cost. The smaller dome will house a six inch refracting telescope already in the possession of the association.

The central service building between the two telescope domes will house a lecture room and library, as well as restroom facilities.

In a basement area beneath the 12 1/2 inch telescope platform, there will be a photographic dark room.

It is anticipated that the first observations will be made with the telescopes late this summer.

Jack Bronkema, Kent County Clerk for the past seven years, today announced his candidacy to succeed himself in the August primary election.

The 62-year-old Bronkema, with a long and active life in public service, points to an unusual record probably not matched by any County Clerk in the State.

He has achieved a perfect attendance as clerk to meetings of 11 Kent County boards and commissions.

Since 1961, Bronkema has attended 770 meetings in his capacity as clerk of the circuit court, board of supervisors, weapons licensing board, county election commission, sinking fund commission, and board of canvassers.

Also school elections, jury commission meetings, tax allocation board, county plat board, and executive meetings of the board of supervisors.

In addition Bronkema devotes considerable time serving organizations such as the YMCA, Grand Rapids Old Newsboys, Michigan Township Association, and the Chamber of Commerce agriculture-business committee.

Bronkema is a former clerk of Walker Township; Justice of the Peace for Tallmadge Township; past-president of the Grand Rapids Optimist Club, and the Michigan Fair Association.

He was raised in Ottawa County, and educated in the Star School there, and the Berlin High School.

With his wife, Betty, and their three children, he resides at 836 Maynard N.W. in Grand Rapids.

Outbreak of Thefts Hits Area

Thieves who went on a rampage in the Alto area Saturday night are the objects today of an intense hunt by a team of detectives of the Kent County Sheriff's Department.

Hardest hit were four school buses of the Alto School, which are owned by the Lowell Area School district.

Taken from the school vehicles were 60 gallons of gasoline, flares, and batteries.

As there were numerous grass fires in the Alto area over the weekend, authorities suspect that the fires were deliberately ignited by the flares and gasoline.

Law enforcement officials today declared that setting fires is a serious offense, and have ordered extra patrols to cover the area in efforts to apprehend the criminals.

In other police action, the detectives are investigating a breaking and entering at Roy's Marathon Station, 68th and Whitneyville Rd., where two tires were stolen.

Car Flips; Lowell Driver Hurt

A 36-year-old Lowell woman, who was seriously injured last Friday night when her car went out of control on Hawley Rd., today was listed in good condition at Belding Community Hospital.

According to state police reports, Sally Fuhrman, of 705 N. Monroe, was driving on Hawley about a half mile north of M-21, when her car went out of control, and flipped over onto the roadway.

She was taken to the Belding Hospital and admitted for treatment of severe lacerations and fractures.

The state troopers were aided by Saranac police in handling the accident.

Antique Autos Here on May 4

An "antique festival," featuring a display of vintage automobiles, will be held at the 4-H Fairgrounds in Lowell on Saturday, May 4.

Antique cars and parts and other antiques of all sorts will be sold or swapped during the day, says Duke Thomet, chairman of the event for the Lowell Chamber of Commerce.

The festival will start at 10 a. m. following a parade thru town from Bowes Road and M-21 to the former Eberhard market on Main Street. The Lowell High School band will then lead the parade to the fairgrounds.

A free pony and other door prizes will be given away during the day.

One of the features will be a Model T popcorn wagon in operation. It is one of the few remaining relics of its type in the nation today.

Donations of $1.00 will be accepted. Children under 12 will be admitted free of charge.

OLD RAILROAD COACHES rarely hit the junk pile, they roll on and on. Like this old coach that sits on a siding in Lowell. After toting passengers over millions of miles of track, after carrying soldiers in wartime to all parts of the country, the oldtime railroader still is in service. It is presently used for housing C&O signal crews working in the area. The signal men look after the railroad's semaphores, switch lighting, and automatic controls which synchronize lights all along the C&O track system.

It seems like only yesterday... There were five desks, crammed into a room so small that we shared it with four chattering wire service machines and a succession of printers, photographers, advertising salesmen and press agents who scurried in and out on matters of business that were pertinent to publication of the old Daily Monitor Leader.

Seated at the No. 1 desk was W. B. MacLachlan, better known as "Mac." Directly opposite him were Des Arnsby, who wrote a fine column known as "It's All in a Day by D.A.," and Ed Racine.

Occupying the farthest point from Mac's command post were Mark McKee, Jr. and myself.

This was the editorial office... and, as you can determine from the foregoing, it was the busiest place in town.

This is recalled at this particular moment because word has just been received that Ed Racine passed away suddenly while on a vacation trip down south.

He joins Mac and Des, who no doubt are busy chronicling events taking place in Heaven.

I learned the business under these three gentlemen. I don't believe I could have found better teachers had I searched the earth.

Mac was a firm managing editor. Des was a master of the soft word, both written and spoken. And Ed was the "listening post," as befits a city editor. A firm man, but fair... though there were some, mainly politicians and police authorities, who thought otherwise upon frequent occasion.

Of the five who occupied the editorial room in the Fall of 1947, only Mark and I remain. He's now publisher of The Macomb Daily, which replaced the Monitor-Leader.

It seems like only yesterday... until I look at Mark and see a thicket of gray hair... and examine new wrinkles each day in my own face... and remember Mac and Des and Ed.

Farewell, old friends.

In the past week, there have been separate incidents in local schools that require comment.

On April 9, an estimated 172 students walked out at Forest Hills High in protest of an administration decision not to close school in tribute to the late Dr. Martin Luther King.

This past Monday, a crank call to Lowell High warning of a bomb hidden in the building forced officials to send students home just moments after classes convened.

In each instance, school officials took quick, strong disciplinary action.

Forest Hills students who walked out were given the opportunity to make up lost time Tuesday this week during Easter vacation. Seniors involved who might have been eligible under other regulations to skip year-end examinations, now will have to struggle through them.

Further incidents such as that of Monday, say Lowell officials, could cause an extension of the school year.

The men who guide the destinies of our schools are to be congratulated for their prompt action.

Any other course could lead to a breakdown of the educational processes that are so vital to a better community, state and nation.

Bomb Threat Hoax Curtails LHS Classes

Police and school officials today are seeking leads to determine the source of an apparent bomb threat hoax that disrupted classes Monday at Lowell Senior High.

Superintendent of Schools James Pace ordered the building vacated just as classes were getting underway following a call from an anonymous person, presumably male, who declared that a bomb would go off "between now and 3 o'clock... and this is no joke."

A diligent search of the building by Lowell police officers and school officials failed to uncover anything unusual. A total of 706 students were sent home, giving them an added day of Easter vacation.

"There was reason to believe it might have been a hoax," says Pace, "but we had no alternative except to release the senior high students from class as quickly as possible."

MICHIGAN ROAD MAPS OFFERED TO PUBLIC

State Representative Stanley M. Powell (R-Ionia) is offering official 1968 Michigan road maps to his constituents.

The official Highway Department map shows changes made in Michigan's highway system during 1967 and planned new construction for the future.

That boxcar on a C&O siding near the Main St. crossing with the name of "BAR" in bold white letters is NOT what you would think; certainly not for those who would quaff a bit of the brew.

This boxcar is used to haul potatoes over the Bangor & Aroostook Route from Maine.

Patrons of Levee Restaurant are veritably being given the "red carpet" treatment, soft and comfortable under foot, and colorful, too. Ditto The Village Inn, which has undergone extensive renovations under the new ownership of Erma and Chuck Bartlette.

Three teen-agers from Linden and their physical education instructor are expected to pass by Lowell and Ada sometime late this week as part of a cross-state canoe expedition in the Saginaw, Shiawassee, Maple and Grand rivers... from Bay City to Lake Michigan. Making the 400-mile trek are Thomas Kelly, John Walsh and Brad Alburts and instructor James Leighty.

A rural atmosphere prevailed along Main Street last Saturday afternoon when a renegade bovine was seen to swim the river and climb the steep bank into the city parking lot.

Bossy completed her stroll by wandering east on Main Street and part way up Monroe before city police played cowboy and returned the unwilling animal to her owners.

Ten Alarms Keep Fire Dept. Busy

Grass fires continued today to plague volunteers of the Lowell Fire Department.

The firemen responded to 10 alarms in the past few days, Fire Chief Frank Baker reports.

Most of the calls were from Vergennes Township, the report showed. Listed, the alarms included:

A grass fire on State property in Vergennes; a tree farm on Burroughs; the Joe Roudabush property, Vergennes Rd.; Benjamin Gratz property for a barn fire; and a rubbish fire at 2600 Bewell.

In other fire action, the volunteers responded to an alarm from Clark Hoxie, 2646 Lincoln Rd., where trees and stumps were burning; a grass and rubbish fire at the W. O. Shepard property, 9610 Bennett; and the George Witherell property at 11384 Grand River Dr.

In trying to right her car, Mrs. Hocksma bumped into the parked car several times, police reported. Damage to both cars were slight.

Apartment Plan Gets City's OK

Several matters pertaining to housing for the City of Lowell were considered at Monday night's meeting of city council.

Final approval was granted to Lowell Development Corporation to proceed on Valley Vista No. 4, a project calling for construction of two new four-unit apartment buildings on Deborah Drive near Valley Vista Drive.

A condition of the approval was made, however, that would restrict occupancy of the apartments until the developer, Douglas Dok, installs certain city improvements, including curbs and gutters.

The council set May 6 as the date for a public hearing on the proposed Subdivision Ordinance, which has been amended recently to conform to the new State Plat Act.

Dok also requested council action on a proposed new lift station to service the sewage needs of the western part of the city in the future.

The matter was turned over to City Manager Bernard C. Olson, who indicated he would determine cost factors and report back to council during the budget hearing on May 6.

4 Women Shaken in Accident

Four Grand Rapids women, all over 70 years old, were shaken up Easter Sunday in a car mishap which occurred in Lowell on East Main, near Jackson St.

According to Lowell police, Lila Catherine Hocksma, 72, of 2035 Oakwood N.E., was driving on East Main at about 1 p. m., when she ran into a parked car owned by Mabel Clara Scott, of 9859 60th St., Alto.

In trying to right her car, Mrs. Hocksma bumped into the parked car several times, police reported. Damage to both cars were slight.

DRAGGING OPERATIONS on the Grand River in search of a missing Lowell man, kept the Kent County Sheriff's Department and Lowell Police busy in a fruitless search Tuesday.

ARNOLD WITTENBACH

Retains Post as Mayor

Arnold Wittenbach, who has served as mayor for the City of Lowell for six years, was re-elected to the position by a vote of fellow council members at Monday night's meeting.

Selection of the mayor from among council members, plus other reorganizational matters, traditionally take place at the first meeting following the spring election.

The vote was 3-0 with Wittenbach abstaining. Newly-elected council member Mrs. Virginia Meyers was absent. She is vacationing in the south.

Herbert Reynolds, who had served for the past year in the same capacity, was re-elected Mayor Pro-Tem.

Harold F. Jefferies, also newly-elected, was named to a seat on the Kent County Board of Supervisors. He fills a vacancy created by the recent death of Elmer Schaefer.

Carlen Anderson was named to serve as council's representative on the city's Planning Commission. He succeeds Richard Schliernitauer, who did not seek re-election in the April 1 balloting.

Council also adopted a resolution of commendation to Schliernitauer and Phil Schneider, who also did not run for re-election, for their contribution to the community while serving on the council.

Search for Man in River

An intensive search for William Wierenga, 67, of 125 S. Division, Lowell, missing since 7 a. m., Tuesday, continued today from the banks of Grand River, south of the city.

The Kent County Sheriff's Department called to assist Lowell police the previous day, resumed dragging operations Wednesday morning at press time.

Officer Mike Harrington of the Lowell force, meanwhile, was recovering from painful wounds suffered when a grappling hook was accidentally imbedded in his hand while he was dragging the river.

Harrington was assisting Sgt. James Hutson and Officer Robert Perrin when the mishap occurred. The hook was removed by a bolt cutter rushed to the scene by Merle Hanson and Bill Ellison of Wittenbach Sales and Service.

He was rushed to Butterworth Hospital and released after treatment.

A team of Sheriff's Department officers joined in the search operation at the request of Lowell Chief Avery Block. They included Chief Deputy Sheriff William Richter and officers Robert Bishop, Ed Baker and Lucius Thompson.

The officers put out into a sheriff's rescue boat and began dragging along the banks of Grand River.

After dragging the river for several hours, Lt. Richter sent for skin divers. Two of the divers appeared at about 1 p. m. and searched the river bottom for several hours, but with no results.

Speeders Jam Court in March

Some 55 offenders appeared in the Lowell Justice Court during the month of March, Justice Howard J. Rittenger reports.

This is an increase of 11 cases heard in the month of February, the report shows.

Twenty-eight speeders showed up in court in March, six more than in February. More than half of the March court cases were comprised of heavy-footed motorists.

In other court action, four cases involved overtime parking; three were for careless driving; three failure to stop; three failure to yield; two for driving under the influence of alcohol; one each for driving on expired license, driving on revoked license, failure to stop at signal, and no license on person.

Two long-range projects, both designed to improve the city's waterfront recreational areas, today had been brought before the Lowell City Council.

Larry Wittenbach, appearing on behalf of both the Lowell Chamber of Commerce and Showboat, Inc., of which he is president and a director, respectively, requested council to consider:

The possibility of creating a new park on the Grand River at M-91 and the 4-H Fairgrounds, and Closing of Jefferson from a point just off Main Street to King Street to permit construction of permanent seating at the Lowell Showboat site, the first in a three-phase program that would create a new amphitheater for the world-renowned summer activity.

Wittenbach told the council members that eventual plans call for dredging and filling a portion of the east bank of the Flat River to create a new stage for Showboat and other civic functions.

The proposed new park, he said, would do much to beautify the area selected and would, in addition, give local residents a much-needed facility.

He suggested that a citizen's committee be appointed to study the matter.

Council appointed City Manager Bernard C. Olson and Councilman Herb Reynolds to meet with Chamber of Commerce officials to study the feasibility of creating the park.

The proposal to close off Jefferson was sent to the city's Planning Commission for study and recommendation.

Among other items of business brought to council's attention Monday, the city manager was instructed to contact the State Highway Department relative to possible installation of a new traffic light at the corner of Main and Monroe. Councilman Reynolds, who first proposed the idea several weeks ago, said that many citizens apparently are in favor of the plan.

A proposal from Lowell Light and Power for permission to initiate electric heating service in homes was tabled for study by Olsca.

Appointment of newly-elected Councilwoman Mrs. Virginia Meyers as liaison member to the Library Board followed appointment of the following to the board: Mrs. John Abraham and Mrs. David Coons for three-year terms, Mrs. Gerald Wells and Mrs. R. D. Hahn for two-year terms and Mrs. Algene Feuerstein, Mrs. John Gabriell and Mrs. Carl Hagen for one-year terms.

Plans for Mayor's Exchange Day during the May 19-25 observance of Michigan Week also was discussed. This year's exchange is with Tawas City. Postmaster Charles Doyle will serve as chairman for Lowell.

Mayor Arnold Wittenbach also proclaimed May as U. S. Mail Service Month. The anniversary of mail service will actually occur on May 15.

A petition signed by 12 residents was read and referred to the city manager for future action. The petitioners requested city intervention for removal or repair of property at 616 Chatham Street.

RED CROSS ASSISTS RECRUITS, DRAFTEES

Families and dependents of new recruits and draftees find that many questions arise through letters which remain unanswered concerning their husband, son or daughter's new role as a member of the armed forces.

In a joint effort, the military and the American Red Cross will attempt to answer some of these questions at an Armed Forces Family Night next Tuesday evening (April 23). The event will be held at the United States Army Reserve Center, 1234 Michigan N.E., from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m.

Rangers Drop 3 Straight

Failure to keep its opponents from scoring runs in bunches cost Forest Hills High three straight losses at the start of the 1968 baseball season.

The Rangers dropped a 12-4 decision to Greenville in the season lid-lifter, then suffered identical 6-4 reverses at the hands of Rockford and Kentwood.

Four consecutive walks by loser Scott Wingeler touched off a seven-run rally by Greenville in the fourth inning. Carl Justice relieved Wingeler and delivered a bases-loaded triple to Jerry Rood that put the game on ice.

A two-run double by Randy Simon was the lone encouraging note for the Rangers.

Stan Grochowiski's double and a single by Tom Teft sparked a three-run rally in the fifth inning against Rockford, but it was a case of too little, too late as the Rams put together five markers in the second for winner Vic Wolven.

Wingeler dropped his second decision of the season in the loss to Kentwood which saw the winners take a 4-2 lead in the third without benefit of a base hit.

Forest Hills rallied to earn a 4-4 tie in the sixth with the help of Gary Gromer's triple, but a two-run single by Kentwood's Jack Biouw in the bottom of the frame broke the deadlock. Justice went three-for-four at the plate to lead an eight-hit attack for Forest Hills.

Baptist Missionary at Lowell

Lowell Baptist Church will be host on Sunday, April 21st, to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Osburn, pioneer missionaries of South America.

Mr. Osburn will speak to the Bible Class at 10 a. m. and at both worship services.

He will tell of his work with the Warao Indians of the Orinoco Delta area of Venezuela. Mr. Osburn and his wife, Anne, were the first evangelical missionaries with the tribe. They have spent fifteen years in the field.

Their work consists of language analysis, translation and evangelism among the Indians and some responsibilities in visiting the Spanish speaking congregations of the regional Baptist Conference.

At this time there is one organized Indian church.

During his furlough year from Venezuela, he is teaching linguistics and anthropology at Grand Rapids Baptist College and Seminary.

The public is invited to attend the Lowell Baptist Church on Sunday to hear this most informative and interesting gentleman.

Set Dedication Service Sunday for New Church

A dedication service for the Thornwood Baptist Church will be held next Sunday (April 21) at 3 p. m. in Ada. Dr. David Otis Fuller of the Wealthy Street Baptist Church will be the speaker.

The service will be held in the Ada Township Hall at Ada Drive and Thornapple River Drive.

The group has purchased seven acres of land on Thornapple River Drive at Buttrick Road. The name of this church has been chosen after the Thornwood Development of new homes in the area.

Rev. John Yarworth, pastor of Faith Baptist Church in Grand Rapids, will lead the service. Rev. Yarworth is the chairman of the Missionary Committee of the Grand Rapids Association of Regular Baptist Churches, which has helped spearhead the new church being sponsored by the Galilean Baptist Mission of Grand Rapids.

Sunday services will be held in the Ada townhall temporarily. A colonial red brick building will be built on the new site in the near future.

John Hall will lead the musical program for the service. He is a ministerial student at the Baptist College in Grand Rapids. Marvin Buchholtz, another ministerial student, will report on the student response and interest in the new church. Students have surveyed the area and many are working with it as a part of their education for future Christian work.

No pastor has been chosen, but all the services will be conducted by students and faculty of the college and seminary until one arrives.

Live Band to Perform Saturday

The group has been experimenting with the new "psychedelic" sound and utilizes lighting effects along with other equipment to enhance performances.

If the weather is clear, the group will play outside with dancing in the open air on the church parking lot. In case of rain, the group will perform inside the coffee house.

Talking About Jesus

After Easter we ought to continue to think about the blessings of the resurrection of Jesus. The best way to do this is to keep in contact with Jesus by reading the Bible. We must also keep in touch with the followers of Jesus by attending the worship services in our church. And we should be talking with each other about "the things concerning Jesus", as two disciples did who were walking to the village of Emmaus, near Jerusalem. Read the story in Luke 24:13-35.

Jesus joined these two disciples. He explained to them what was written in the old testament about Him. What an interesting conversation that must have been as Jesus "beginning from Moses and from all the prophets, interpreted to them in all the scriptures the things concerning Himself."

After Jesus had left them, they said: "Was not our heart burning within us, while He spake to us in the way, while He opened to us the Scriptures?"

Jesus still opens the Scriptures and moves our hearts, as we read the Gospel accounts and the Epistles of the New Testament. Open your Bible frequently, ask Jesus to make it plain to you, and talk about Jesus with others.

Announcing Chevrolet's new Torque-Drive.

Nobody else offers anything like it at the price.

Torque-Drive does away with the clutch pedal. Most of the shifting, too. And for the most economy, it's available exclusively on all Camaro sixes and Chevy II

Nova 4- and 6-cylinder models.

Look how simple it is. You accelerate in 1st, then shift to Hi for cruising. That's all.

If you like, you can even start in Hi. And accelerate from standstill to cruising speed. It's just a little slower that way.

The shift lever is conveniently located on the steering column, and there's a selector quadrant with easy-to-read indications: Park-R-N-Hi-1st. Only your Chevrolet dealer has it—clutchless driving at only $68.65.

The first no clutch one shift $68.65***

transmission

Only Chevrolet has it.

*Manufacturer's suggested retail price including Federal Excise Tax. State and local taxes additional.
