ROBERT J. SPAANSTRA

Union Bank Appoints FH Manager

Robert J. Spaanstra has been named manager of the new Forest Hills office of Union Bank. The announcement came from Senior Vice-President Fred Dykstra.

Spaanstra has been with Union Bank since 1963 and was manager of the bank's Plainfield-Four Mile office. He is a graduate of South High School and Hope College and served in the U. S. Marine Corps during WWII.

Spaanstra said he hopes to open the office, Union Bank's 25th, on Monday, August 26th.

He said the new facility will offer all banking services, including a walk-in vault and safety deposit boxes, drive-in window, and parking space for forty cars. The structure will be of colonial design: red brick with a black roof, white trim and charcoal shutters with doors in Union Bank maroon. It is located on Cascade Road just east of Forest Hill Avenue.

Marine Killed in Combat

Word was received today of the death of Marine Corporal James W. Lyons, 20, a former student at Ada and Forest Hills schools.

Cpl. Lyons died Tuesday from wounds suffered on August 5 when he was hit by an exploding mine in combat near Quang Nan, Vietnam.

A veteran of 3 1/2 years with the Marines, this was his second tour of duty in the Vietnam theater of war.

He was the son of the late Campbell Lyons and the late Mrs. Merceda Lyons Hinzmann.

Prior to enlistment, Cpl. Lyons resided with his brother, Charles, in Wayland.

Services are pending the arrival of the body in the United States. Interment will be in Ada Cemetery.

Appointed President of Division

An Ada man has been named president of the Aircraft Division of Jervis Corporation, a multi-industry manufacturing company serving the aircraft, automotive, electronic and marine industries.

Edward Newhouse, who resides at 8730 Bailey Drive, Ada, with his wife Evelyn and their two children, was previously division general manager and company vice-president. He has been with Jervis since 1960.

Newhouse attended Grand Rapids Junior College and Michigan State University.

He will function as senior officer for the aircraft division with full responsibility for production, plant operations, and personnel.

The Aircraft Division manufacturing plant is located in Grandville.

Ada Man Gets Post

Management changes at two Belding-based fruit organizations have been made by W. H. Braman, president and chairman of the board of the Belding Fruit Storage Co. and Belding Fruit Sales.

Appointed general manager of the storage firm was Ronald H. Martin, Conservation Rd., Ada. Named to replace him as assistant to the general manager is Tom Braman.

Set Fight for Funds

Buster Mathis is returning to his home town August 17 to stage a benefit fight and boxing exhibition at the Civic Auditorium, with the purpose of establishing a scholarship fund to send inner city young people to college.

The heavyweight contender announced his plan to Task Force members at Central Christian High School gym, where he has been assisting the Task Force with activities for inner city youngsters during a short vacation in Grand Rapids.

Whistle's Colorful History

The famous Lowell Showboat whistle has a long and varied history.

It was originally purchased many years ago by the late Steve Marsh of Lowell at that time employed as an engineer on the Lowell and Hastings Railroad.

Later the whistle passed into the hands of the Lowell Cutter Company, one of Lowell's main industries at the time. It was installed on the factory roof and used to summon men to work and to mark the end of the day's labors.

Following the sale of the cutter factory in 1929, the whistle was put in use on the first edition of the Lowell Showboat in 1932.

From that day to this the first excitement of every Showboat performance is the far away toot of the deep-throated whistle approve the proposal.

The budget is now pegged at approximately $1,310,000, but could be trimmed to $1,200,000 by eliminating the entire athletic program, the nursing program as well as elementary music and gym... plus several other minor cutbacks.

If approved for one year, the extra 3.3 mills would be used to offset a deficit of $85,000 accrued during the 1967-68 school year.

The district presently is operating on seven mills approved a year ago for a three-year period.

Appointment of the district's administrative staff was approved.

Pace was retained as superintendent at a salary of $15,800; Carl Hagen returns as high school principal and John Gabrion as junior high principal. In addition, Don Kelly was elevated to assistant high school principal and athletic director. Their combined salaries were set at $36,450.

Dirk Venema was named principal at Runciman and Bushnell elementary schools and Mrs. Ila Swanson was named as principal at Alto School, where she also will continue in a teaching capacity.

A week ago, the board eliminated three members of the administrative staff. Though it approved increases averaging six percent annually to the holdover administrators, the actual expense has been reduced from $95,300 for 1967-68 to $64,195 for the coming year.

The board also was informed by Pace that transfer of property in the 28th Street-Buttrick area to Forest Hills School District, approved by the Kent Intermediate District last week, has been appealed by property owners in the area and probably will not take effect this year.

Board members also approved continuation of efforts to determine specifications and a site for a new middle school, but declined to set a date for placing the proposal before the public.

In other action, the board awarded contracts to low bidders for milk (Highland Hill Dairy), gasoline (Fairchild Oil); fuel oil (C. H. Runciman Company); and motor oil (Berwyne Kloosterman, Standard).

Referred to the transportation committee for study were bids from two local auto agencies... Jackson Motor and Wittenbach Sales... for rental of a nine-passenger station wagon.

Recommendations from the transportation committee on bus routes, policies and driver's pay were approved.

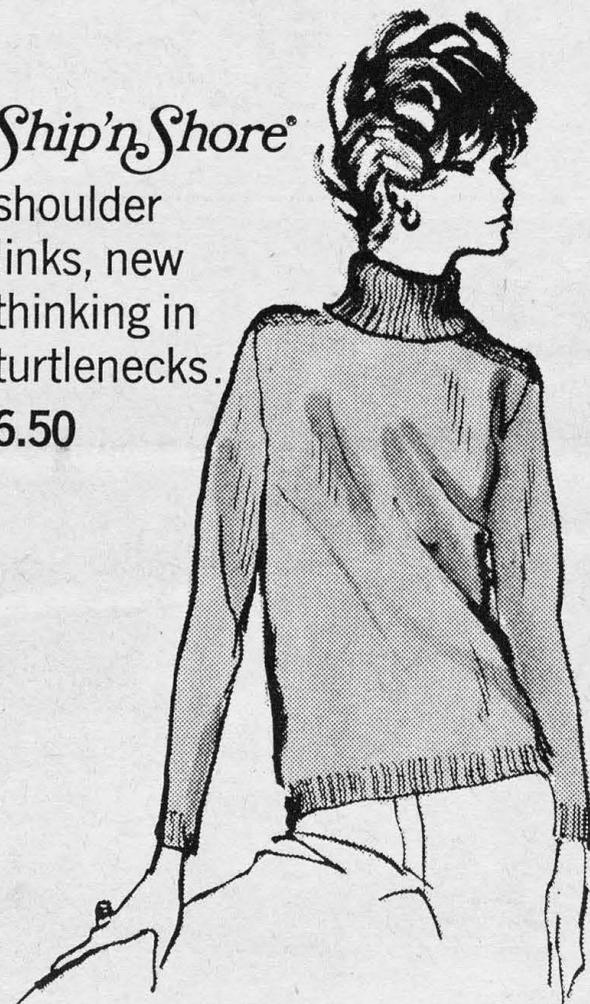

The board also approved a recommendation from administrators that the language "boys will have clean shaven faces at all times" be incorporated into the student's handbook, which serves as a guide to student behavior and activities.

LOWELL SHOWBOAT ROUNDS THE BEND

Showboat Prepares for 1968 Performance

BY FRAN SMITH

Shortly before sundown next Monday night, the Lowell Showboat will make its 176th trip down the Flat River to initiate the 33rd presentation of the famed mid-summer musical extravaganza.

Coming 'round Cattail Bend will be the Robert E. Lee XXXVI, fourth in Showboat fleet history.

Interrupted only by World War II, during which no performances were held in 1943, '44 and '45, Showboat for 1968 will feature Dinah Shore and the Dukes of Dixieland... plus other professional and amateur talent that is expected to attract all-time record crowds.

Nightly performances are scheduled Monday through Saturday with Sunday left open as a possible rain date.

Lady Luck has smiled on Showboat down through the years since its inception in 1932 with rain halting only two Saturday performances, both of which were held on the following Sunday.

The demand for late-week shows has been building steadily with few remaining for Saturday night. However, the choice seats remain for the five other performances and may be obtained in person at the Showboat ticket office on East Main or by calling 897-9237 for reservations.

In addition to Miss Shore and the Dukes of Dixieland, other professional entertainment will include comedian Rusty Ryan and the Gordon Raynor Dancers, whose choreography is arranged by Rich Rahn of the Cascade Academy of Dance.

Each night, finalists from the month-long Showboat Amateur Talent Search will perform, as follows:

Monday — The Maycroft Square Tappers; Tuesday — The Rich-Gales; Wednesday — The Goldyns; Thursday — The Casuals; Friday — John Twomey; and Saturday — Linda Askew.

Gordon Gould will serve as Showboat Captain and Interlocutor for the third year. He is but the sixth Interlocutor in Showboat history.

C. H. Runciman, one of the founding fathers of the event, served in this capacity from 1932 through 1957 and was followed by Ed Denkema (1958); William Jones (1959); Roy Westcott (1960-62); and Forrest Buck (1963-65).

At its inception, Showboat utilized local talent almost exclusively and the first "big

Call Aug. 25 Meet on School Budget

A rare Sunday afternoon public hearing has been called by the Board of Education of Lowell Area Schools for August 25.

The hearing, for the purpose of outlining the proposed 1968-69 budget, will be held in the senior high school auditorium at 2 p. m., just hours before district voters go to the polls to determine the fate of a board request for an additional 3.3 mills for operating expenses.

The vote is scheduled on

It All Started in 1932

BY CECILE CRONINGER

Did you ever have a $500,000 idea?

That's the kind of inspiration a small group of thinkers had back in the Spring of 1932.

Several Lowell businessmen, including Carlton H. Runciman and Norman E. Borgerson, meeting informally, in D. G. Look's Drug Store, were gloomily discussing the vicissitudes of the Depression.

"If only we could do something to take peoples' minds off their troubles," spoke one, half heartedly.

"Why couldn't we build a replica of the Old Mississippi River showboat?" asked another.

"Sure enough," another voice added, "We've got the river, a good place to dock the boat, and lots of unoccupied and talented people to put on a good Hometown Show."

A short time later the idea began to take form in the shape of a crude frame built on a raft of oil drums, with a housing on one side for a paddle wheel. Lumber was cheap and labor was cheaper. Men from town and neighboring communities were hired at $1 a day to construct the raft-boat and a block of 800 bleacher seats, to sell at 25c each.

Borgerson was elected to introduce the boat to the spectators, while Runciman agreed to sail with the entertainers, on the boat, from the loading dock a half mile up the west side of the river, around the island to dock at the stage on the east side. After debarking from the boat, Runciman was to take command of the program as master of ceremonies and interlocutor for the endmen.

Monday, August 26.

Board members, meeting Monday night, decided to hold the public hearing in advance of the millage election to better acquaint the public with district fiscal problems.

"The public has a right to know what this is all about," declared board member William Jones, who then moved to set the public hearing in advance of the millage vote rather than on August 28 as proposed earlier by Superintendent of Schools James Pace.

Board members also offered to meet with local groups to discuss the budget and, simultaneously, seek a representative turnout for the millage vote.

Though outwardly optimistic that district voters will support the additional millage request, the board also is prepared to act quickly in the event the public declines to

The Village Smithy

BY FRAN SMITH

No doubt there are some among our readers who, by this time, have scratched their heads and uttered words to the effect that the Village Smithy has gone off his rocker again!

It's true that this week's offering is different... but only because it serves to herald an event that has truly made this area stand head and shoulders above the rest of the state for at least one week each year.

We refer, of course, to the Lowell Showboat.

One of the intents of this particular edition is to present some of the history of Showboat... and to offer to the uninitiated a preview of the week that will put Lowell on the entertainment map of the world.

Not all the bases will be touched. That would be impossible except in encyclopedic form... for surely there will be many names omitted that should be included in a summation of what Showboat has meant to the community down through the years.

Perhaps the wonderment of it all is that the 1968 version of Showboat is about to become reality.

Just four short years ago, there was considerable talk about discontinuing the show. Several efforts of Showboat had produced deficit results and, to put it rather mildly, there were some who felt it might be best to call it quits before things got worse.

At this juncture, we will be quick to point out that there is no intent to demean the efforts of those who fostered Showboat and mother-henned it during some difficult times.

Showboat was born of adversity... during the Great Depression... and remained true to its heritage by surviving in a time of financial distress.

What really counts now is that the visionaries of the mid-'60s are to be complimented for their stick-to-itiveness... just as much as the pioneers of the early '30s without whose imagination, sacrifices of time and effort and community spirit there would be no Showboat at all.

What also matters, at least to an outsider awaiting with anticipation his first look at this mid-summer fantasy, is that there are some among us who take a "ho-hum" attitude toward the entire proceedings.

It may be, to use one of my favorite expressions, that these folks are standing too close to the forest to see the trees.

Each summer, thousands descend upon Lowell to witness Showboat when, in the opinion of a few critics, they might better spend their time... and money... elsewhere.

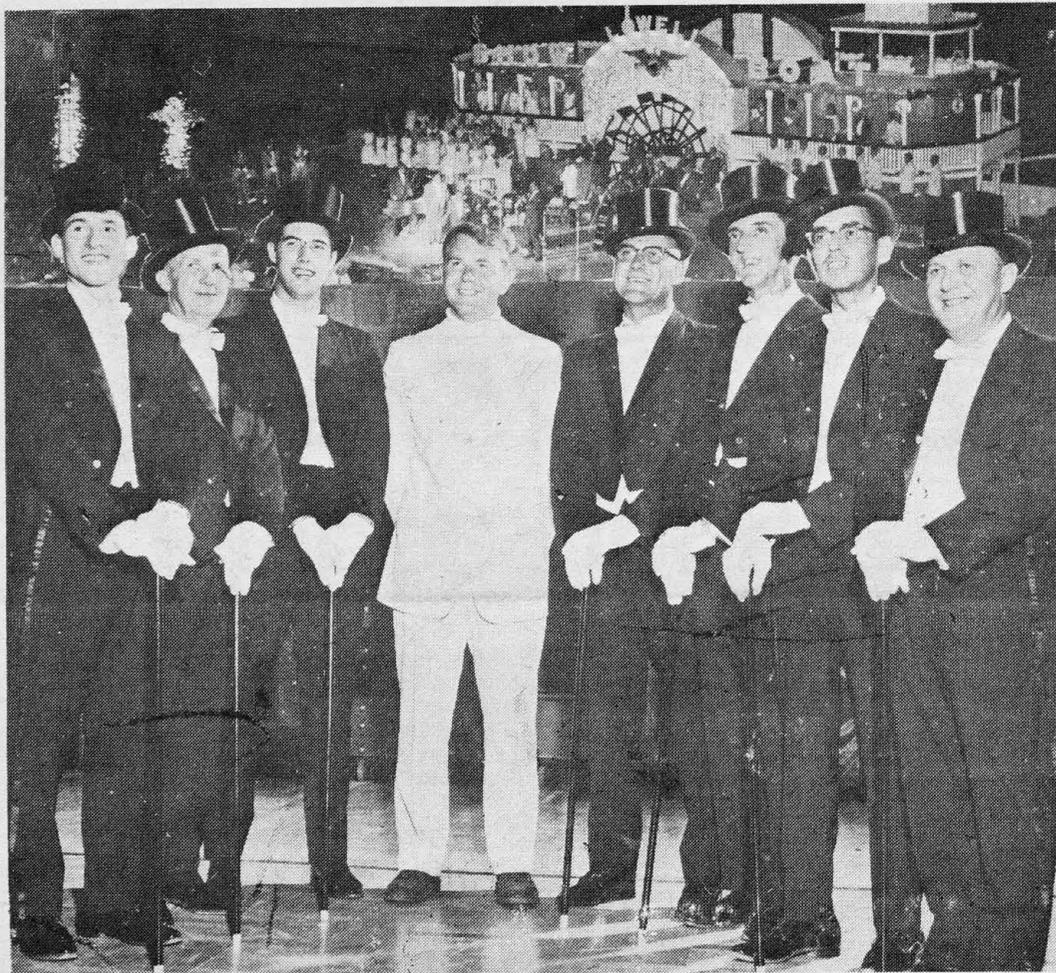

There are only a handful of communities in this state which can count their blessings... and Lowell is one of them.

Without Showboat... without the men and women who work for its success... without continued leadership that reflects in every facet of community life, Lowell might as well be called Podunk Corners or some such other nondescript name.

Before terminating this lecture, let us add one more thought: What Lowell now needs is a re-birth of its Main Street in the image of Showboat... an image that would live through the other 51 weeks of the year.

Granted that this would take even more imagination... more money... more hard work... and more guts, if you'll pardon the expression... than even we envision.

But it should be done. And soon.

ver, Forrest Buck, Curt Chadwick, Gould, Charles E. Hoffman, Loren C. Wohlford, Dick McNeal and Joseph Vezino. The Showboat runs August 19 through 24 in Lowell.

Busy Best Word to Describe Dinah

There is a rumor that there may be more than one Dinah Shore.

It would seem impossible for one person to be in so many places within such a short time between appearances.

One of those places will be in Lowell for the annual Lowell Showboat between August 19-24, where she will appear nightly with The Dukes of Dixieland, Rusty Ryan, The Gordon-Raynor Dancers and the big regular Showboat cast of End-men, Chorus, Talent Search winners and other entertainment.

To those who know and love the "Dixie Flyer" (as Frank Sinatra called her), Dinah is "doin' what comes naturally;" devouring life and taking from it the best of everything in true gourmet fashion.

"I couldn't imagine sitting back and letting life pass me by," she says. "There are so many things to do, so many things to learn about, so many things to enjoy, so many places to go!"

She has just completed seven benefits, four tennis tournaments, and a ten-day engagement at the Hilton Plaza in Miami Beach in close order.

Her appearance there was followed by a three-week record-breaking engagement at the Waldorf Astoria in New York, where she broke every record for attendance in the history of the distinguished Empire Room.

Dinah also was chairman of the Easter Seals campaign this year and visited President Johnson to kick off that campaign earlier in the year.

She spent two weeks in the Soviet Union last spring in order to perform in the Russian State Circus for a program to be aired in the United States. So enthusiastic were her Russian hosts that a State Department-sponsored tour is organized in which Dinah will sing to audiences in several major Russian cities in the near future.

After 444 fifteen minute and 140 hour-long TV shows, Dinah isn't eager to add a regular series again soon.

She's busy enough now!

The tempo of the city of Lowell is picking up with the activity of the 4-H Fair this week leading very nicely into the excitement of the 1968 Showboat week to follow.

— Toot —

Things are shaping up for the finest Showboat of all time according to interlocutor Gordie Gould. This year's boat, starring Dinah Shore and the Dukes of Dixieland, makes its maiden voyage of the year 1968 next Monday night when it comes around Cat-tail Bend to sail into Showboat history.

— Toot —

Monday night will be Jerry Ford Night according to Jack Kennedy, chairman of Special Events for the Showboat. Jerry, fresh from his chairmanship duties at the 1968 Republican Convention in Miami, will sail down the river on the Showboat with the endmen, chorus, etc., and will have a few words for the audience before the beginning of the show.

— Toot —

The Showboat ticket office is sporting a new coat of white paint giving it a bright, fresh appearance. The staff were pleased by the receipt of a beautiful floral arrangement from the Godfrey's of Birchwood Gardens which also served to brighten up the long hours they put in to make the Showboat tickets available to the public.

The ticket office number is 897-9237. If you don't have tickets—call today.

— Toot —

It's interesting to notice the ducks collecting on the river in larger amounts than usual. Seems these scene-stealers have the best seats in the house for Showboat... this year as every year.

Footlight Flashbacks

BY PATT BAMBRICK

The Robert E. Lee XXXVI has had three predecessors. The original Showboat was the George Washington. A new George Washington, propelled by three outboard motors and closely resembling a Mississippi river boat.

In 1935 the Robert E. Lee, a sidewheeler, replaced the George Washington. A new Robert E. Lee was built in 1938 at a cost of $8,000. The new two-deck sidewheeler, 90 feet long and 24 feet wide, was driven by eight reversible outboard engines and incorporated a power plant which lights the many bulbs which decorate the boat.

The showboat now in use is only one year old. Built on the plans of the original showboat, it is 90 feet long and 22 feet wide.

In 1932, Showboat entertained about 2,800 people a night and produced $1,200 in receipts. In 1967, the most successful year yet, Showboat averaged an attendance of roughly 3,100, with the final nights crowd reaching 4,433.

In 1967, Showboat's total income reached an unprecedented $51,243.77, more than the combined total income from 1963 and 1964.

Not only was 1967 the most successful year as far as total income was concerned, but net profit for the show was a whopping $14,076.71.

The first Showboat originally featured local talent, and included a barber, an ex-vaudevillean, and a preacher. There was some anxiety, and after much cajolery, the preacher was finally persuaded to shorten his 14 verse song.

And then there was the uproar occasioned when they decided to delete the traditional, and much loved, Battle Hymn of the Republic sung by Walter Gumser, in favor of his rendition of Lucky Ole Sun.

We understand that Mr. Gumser bowed to the public's desires, and returned to Battle Hymn of the Republic the following year.

Showboat has not been without its moments of anxiety and danger. There was, for example, that time in 1934 when too many people boarded the boat and nearly sank it, or those charged minutes in 1948 when a strong north wind blew it into a high tension wire.

We understand that popular endman of the past John Roth has donated his little black book, dust filled and moth laden as it was to posterity. There are many who would like to get hold of that little item.

Roth, 25-year-veteran of the Showboat, with over 130 trips down the river to his credit, lists the night when everyone else had gone home, and he heard a splash near the showboat platform and went to investigate as one of his most rewarding moments. Finding a young girl had fallen in, he managed to pull her up by the hair and thereby rescue her from sure drowning, for she did not know how to swim.

Who else but John would use a piece of calico to catch a calico fish!

And how about the night he caught that good sized carp that proved to be just too heavy for his 35-foot pole. In pulling the fish out, the pole broke. John managed to grab the second piece of it, only to have it break again. Not to be daunted, he again caught the broken piece, and landed his fish. That's a dedicated fisherman!

Trace elements—like iron, manganese and zinc—can often be applied much more efficiently and economically directly to the leaf instead of the soil, according to Dr. S. H. Wittwer, director of Michigan State University's Agricultural Experiment Station. For example, it would take five tons of ferric sulphate applied to the soil to get the same result on sorghum as five pounds applied to the leaf at the right time.

Michigan State University, with nearly 40,000 students on the East Lansing campus today, first opened its doors to six professors and 60 students in 1857, two years after being established.

Letters to the Editor

To my friends of Lowell area:

I would like to thank you for your support. I am learning a lot about Dutch customs and family life.

I live in Leeuwarden in the province of Friesland. I have a sixteen-year-old brother, Tjark; and a thirteen-year-old sister, Marion.

We live in a four story house and I share a room with Marion on the fourth floor. My dad has a drug store on the bottom floor.

For three weeks every summer my family goes to Vlieland, an island east of Friesland. It is a beautiful island and their summer house is not very far from the sea. We go swimming almost every day in the sea with the huge waves pushing us around as if we were mere grains of sand.

I have had many different types of food. Raw shrimp, for example, and corn flakes with yogurt. Chocolate sauce on bread or raw bacon on dark brown wheat bread is common for lunch. I have already gained some weight.

Many thanks again for the gifts and support. I send my greetings to all of you.

The Grand Rapids Press, hearing of the enterprise before the boat was completed, offered to take pictures to print in their papers before the premiere. That night a crowd of nearly 2,000 besieged the ticket booth, causing a mad scramble all over town for seats to accommodate them.

Expenses were light that year, with everyone welcoming a job to take his mind off his worries. And a profit of $800 was shared by the Chamber of Commerce and the local American Legion Post.

A short time later, the Showboat was incorporated with Borgerson as President and Runciman as Admiral, a name by which total strangers often greet him even in other towns and cities.

For several years the program was entirely local talent, with a chorus of thirty to forty voices. Volunteers from other communities gradually increased the number to 100. A few outside acts were added each year, but Eddie Peabody and his banjo was the first big-name to be imported.

With an imported act each year as a drawing card, things went very well until Runciman's retirement due to illness. A few years later, enthusiasm cooled when an audit revealed a loss for two successive years. The 1964 receipts showed a deficit of $3,500.

The committee was stumped! How could they continue without making expenses? Besides, it would cost more another year because the boat was in need of a complete overhaul for safety.

The committee voted to abandon ship.

The very next day a letter came from Chicago with a possible solution. Reg Vorhees, who, with his band from the Lake Shore Hotel, had furnished the music for the Showboat program for several years, offered his time to promote the 1965 show, guaranteeing $2,500 to the Showboat Corporation. The program would open with the usual amateur chorus, but Vorhees would produce the rest of the program without aid or suggestion from the committee.

The committee rejected the offer. Runciman explained: "Our policy has always been to run a clean show... All our jokes are censored and rehearsed over and over... but once in a while a little does get away from us."

Then he added, that since the committee was to have no control of the presentation, "We didn't know what might creep in to mar the public image, with a nightclub entertainer at the helm."

Many who had taken an active part throughout the Showboat history were loath to go on with it. But others—some who had benefited financially—were ready to lend their support without remuneration. An ad in the LEDGER brought many new ideas to an open committee meeting.

It wasn't long before a new board of directors was ready to go on with the show. And they all agreed that a popular stage and-or screen star, though expensive, was the best drawing card. George Goebel had been signed tentatively a few years earlier for $2,500, but had finally declined because of a prior commitment. This time he accepted at his own price, $8,500.

As a result, the 1965 show was a surprising success. In spite of the large fee paid Lonesome George, the week's profit was exceeded only once before, one year when the show netted $12,800. That year $6,045 was set aside for advertising alone, while some 500 members of various groups and their aides did their utmost to make the event the very best ever.

Though production costs have mounted over the years, the original dream has been realized. From the ticket proceeds, the Showboat Corporation has been able to contribute heavily to many deserving organizations—The Chamber of Commerce, the American Legion Post, the Boy Scouts, the 4-H Fair Association and many smaller groups.

Moreover, Runciman never failed to rehearse with his Endmen during all the 25 years of his "Admiralty." And once each year, he entertained the entire Showboat cast at his own expense.

Throughout the years, while Runciman was riding down the river on the resplendent boat, Borgerson stood at the microphone on the unadorned stage-dock in front of the bleachers directing a constant stream of repartee to the assembling audience. At the same time, Mrs. Runciman and Mrs. Borgerson were the most faithful attendants—neither of the ladies missed a single one of the first 105 performances of the now famous Lowell Showboat.

"And," laughed the Admiral, "I heard about the mistakes I'd made, when we got home."

Then his expression became more serious as he thoughtfully recalled, "It was really worth it. She was a wonderful critic, and very helpful."

Ex-Servicemen Urged to Apply for School Needs

Former servicemen are urged to apply now for Veterans Administration Certificates of Eligibility for schooling to avoid the Fall rush.

This particularly applies to veterans planning to enter school this year under the G. I. Bill, Robert M. Fitzgerald, Manager of VA's Regional Office in Detroit, said today.

Veterans already in training under the G.I. Bill, who plan to change programs or schools this fall must obtain new Certificates of Eligibility from VA.

The principal advantage to the veteran of heeding advice to apply now is that he can be certain that his G.I. Bill education allowance will be dated from the day school begins. If he fails to apply for the certificate until after school has started there may be a delay in payment of his allowance, according to VA.

To obtain a Certificate of Eligibility, a veteran planning to enter school or training for the first time under the G.I. Bill should get in touch with his nearest Veterans Administration Office.

A veteran who requires another certificate because of a change in program or school should contact the VA Regional Office which maintains his records on file.

4-H Fair Opens Here

4-H members from all of Kent County converged on Lowell this week to exhibit their year's project work.

The buildings filled with sewing, knitting and other projects while the barns and tents were filled to overflowing with animals. Each project represents the hopes and hard work of a 4-H member and leader and will be rewarded with, for the lucky, the coveted blue ribbon.

The fair swung into being as the rides slowly creaked into activity and the concession stands opened for business. Interested crowds of people are expected the rest of the week to enjoy the fair, demonstrations, judgings and the evening programs prepared by the 4-H members.

Grid Workouts Scheduled August 26

FH Sets 2-A-Day Sessions

Football practice for all Forest Hills High squads get underway officially on Monday, August 26, with two-a-day sessions scheduled by newly-appointed head coach Frank Rosengren.

In the meantime, conditioning and agility drills for the varsity squad will be held Monday through Thursday evenings next week (August 19-22) at 6:30 p. m. at the old practice field.

Rosengren and his staff have been issuing equipment to the various units. Any griddler who does not receive equipment before tomorrow (Friday) may pick up his gear between 10 a. m. and noon on Monday (August 19).

Varsity practice sessions will be from 8:45 a. m. to 10:30 a. m. and from 1:30 p. m. to 3 p. m. each day starting August 26. The junior varsity is Due to a shortage of locker room space, Rosengren urges members of their respective squads to report 15 minutes prior to practice drills.

No practices are scheduled for September 1-2, but Rosengren indicates that two-a-day drills will be resumed as often as possible starting September 3.

Rosengren hopes to hold a full-scale scrimmage during the second week of practice.

The season opener is scheduled against non-league opponent Rockford at Forest Hills on Friday, September 13, at 7:30 p. m.

Assisting Rosengren with the varsity is Bunk VanArk. Paul Northuis will handle the JVs with Paul Leavenworth assisting and Ed Shy and Leon Schaub will pilot the freshman eleven.

The battle for championship honors in the Southern Division of the Tri-County Baseball League heads into the homestretch with three solid contenders seeking the crown.

Lowell gained some solace on Sunday with an 8-2 win over Hubbardston as Roger Butcher hurled a brilliant game. Butcher had a no-hitter going until the ninth inning and fanned 11 batters enroute to the triumph. Tony Stormzand aided the winning effort with three hits.

Belding clinched a tie for the Northern Division flag in 1-2 conquest of Perrinton. It was the 10th win for Belding in 11 starts.

GRAPES AND SPICE AND EVERYTHING NICE

You're in for a sublime taste treat with our delectably different salad combining fresh grapes and chicken. The grapes appear in two tones: green and purple. A touch of curry mingled among the grapes and chicken blends pungently with the fruit.

Thompson Seedless is the principal green grape variety and there are many types of the dark grape from the bright red Cardinal to the jet-black Ribier.

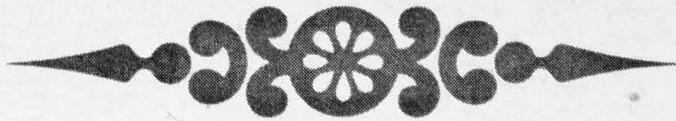

Our Curried Chicken with Fresh Grapes is a very cosmopolitan salad dish with a look of good taste. Plates will be back for seconds.

CURRIED CHICKEN GRAPE SALAD

Combine 3 cups diced cooked chicken, 1½ cups diced celery, 1 cup seedless or seeded grapes, ½ cup mayonnaise and 2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice. Sprinkle 1½ teaspoons curry powder, 1 teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper over chicken mixture. Toss lightly until ingredients are well blended. Chill thoroughly. To serve, arrange lettuce leaves on serving platter. Spoon chicken salad on serving platter. Garnish with 3 tablespoons toasted slivered almonds. Makes 6 servings.

Bills Payable:

General Fund	$6,412.09
Water Fund	617.26

COMMUNICATIONS

1. City Attorney re format of Ordinance No. 36. Read, suggestions incorporated in minutes of July 1, 1968.

2. Letter from United Nations Association asking the Mayor's appointment of a chairman for U.N. Day and issuance of a Proclamation. Councilman Jefferies was appointed; no further action was taken.

3. Chemical Bank New York Trust Company proposing to sell Convertible Capital Notes; stockholders of record as of July 11, 1968 would first be offered opportunity to purchase new shares. Manager Olson was directed to consult with the broker from whom recent purchases have been made for advice on the disposition of such Rights.

4. Letter of acknowledgment from Mrs. William Collins on receipt of resolution of sympathy adopted by the City. Read.

5. Letter from Vergennes Township Zoning Board re setting a hearing on receipt of property description from John Gerhart. Read. (See MOTIONS). Manager Olson added that July 18, 1968 had been set as the deadline for acceptance of the agreement but that the City is still not in receipt of a survey of the property.

YMCA Director Bambrick was spokesman for a group protesting the condition of the "Y" operated pool-grounds; to ask for $1,000 subsidy from the City, to ask regarding progress of Library Building repairs and fence installation, and to report that a tree blown down in a recent storm prohibited use of the tennis courts.

Manager Olson explained that the field house has been leased to the school and the YMCA, with the school having responsibility for upkeep and maintenance during nine months of the year, and the YMCA during three months of the year.

The Manager stated that $1,000 had been budgeted for YMCA use. The Manager was directed to first contact the School with an offer to purchase paint for the field house, for which the school and YMCA would later be billed, on a pro rata basis. The budgeted $1,000 would be paid, the Manager stated, promptly on receipt of such invoice from the YMCA.

Messrs. Roger Roberts and Larry Wittenbach, representing the Chamber of Commerce, were present to request that the City paint the inside of the Exhibition Building on Recreation Park grounds. They suggested forming a committee which would take over the maintenance of the Library building and grounds, as well as the Recreation Park area. They requested a "letter of intent" on the policy of the Library-YMCA building maintenance responsibility. Manager Olson stated such a letter would be furnished. (See MOTIONS re painting Exhibition Building).

Mrs. Mac Fonger, operator of "Rosie's Drive-in" on West Main Street, appeared before Council in response to a letter from the Building Inspector stating a second sign she had erected was in violation of the Zoning Ordinance. After inquiring what procedure she should follow, she was told to come to the city office and apply for a permit and action would follow as prescribed by the Zoning Ordinance.

Messrs. Thomet and Kropf were present in the matter of a non-conforming sign located at McQueen Motor Company. Thomet stated that he assumed that the permit to build included the sign and they installed one prescribed by the Chrysler company for all agencies. He requested that the Planning Commission and the Council review the section on "sign" in the ordinance. Manager Olson stated that being in the C-1 Limited Highway District created a worse problem because of sign limitations, and agreed revision should be considered. Councilman Reynolds stated he was not in favor of the section on "signs" when the Ordinance was adopted. (See MOTIONS)

Walter Graham, Grand Rapids builder, stated he was uncertain about many phases and requirements of our building ordinance. The Manager stated he could call the office at any time or pick up a copy of the Ordinance for his own use.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

1. A meeting of Council-Planning Commission originally scheduled for July 29 remains in effect pending confirmation of some Planning Commission members.

2. Consideration of lowering ceiling in Council room because of offer by an anonymous donor of $100 for the full complement of Council members.

3. Council members were of a consensus that the proposed cemetery ordinance was in essence satisfactory. The Manager will refer it to the City Attorney for approval prior to adoption.

NEW BUSINESS

1. Opening of bids on city's Workmen's Compensation and General Commercial Liability, as well as Fleet Insurance. Bids were received from Peter Speerstra Agency and Johnson, Carrington, Rittenger. (See MOTIONS). Philip Schneider of the Speerstra Agency reminded Council of the probable dividends that would be paid were his company given the award.

2. The Manager summarized present dump operations, setting forth interim charges being assessed until permanent rates are established.

3. A policy of regulating trimming or removal of hazardous trees on private property was discussed. Action deferred.

CITY MANAGER REPORTS

1. Manager recommended use of plastic liners for garbage cans and urged prohibition of use of paper bags as trash containers.

2. Request for water and sewer installation on newly extended Hudson Street. Manager will prepare cost estimates.

3. A recommendation for location of Showboat ticket office was precluded by early placement of the ticket office ahead of the meeting.

4. Possible installation of sanitary facility at Recreation Park to serve house trailers was dismissed because of the cost and infrequency of use.

5. The recommendation to locate sewer main across the south portion of Root-Lowell new industrial site was confirmed by the Manager, after a study by him and Root-Lowell representatives. A plan to install 10" water main rather than 6" to service Root-Lowell Company's sprinkler system calls for the latter to pay the cost of over-sizing.

6. The operation of the automatic water control installation, together with some of the adjustment problems, was related by the Manager.

7. Manager Olson recommended that in the future police officers share in the cost of police schooling which would be partly reimbursed after the first year of service, and a further percentage reimbursed after the second year of employment. Council concurred.

Roger Roberts of Root-Lowell Manufacturing Company requested that the rate of building permit costs be revised and put on a sliding scale, rather than the $1.00 per thousand as at present. He stated that the City of Grand Rapids does not have charges as high as Lowell. The Manager concurred in this suggestion and will present it for Planning Commission recommendation.

Named Head of Campaign for Nixon

Kent County Republicans today learned that Peter C. Cook, prominent Grand Rapids automobile distributor, has been named chairman of the Nixon-for-President campaign in the 5th Congressional district, which includes Kent and Ionia Counties.

Long active in Republican circles, Cook is presently serving as a member of the Kent County Republican Finance Committee.

In addition to his business and political activities, he is active in many religious and social groups, including membership of the boards of Bethany Christian Home and the Mel Trotter Mission, the Rotary Club, Cascade Hills Country Club, and South YMCA.

APPOINTS ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF STATE

Pool Talk

"Coho Fever" can be a fatal disease if you forget important rules of boating safety. Follow the Coast Guard recommendations and listen to the weather bulletins. Especially remember to carry an approved life jacket or preserver cushion for each swimmer, and if you are a non-swimmer, wear that life jacket. Don't just have it in the boat someplace. A few such simple safety precautions can ensure an enjoyable outing.

***

Next Thursday evening, August 15th, will be the annual water show at the Lowell YMCA pool. Entitled "Around the World," this aquatic spectacle will include presentations by the synchronized swimming groups, the swimming team, the lifesaving class, the various levels of instructional classes, and a few special numbers. The public is invited to see the many swimming skills which young people of Lowell have been learning at the 'Y' this summer.

Although Lowell swimmers were ineligible to enter the Grand Rapids City Championship Meet last Saturday, that meet did provide some indication of the quality of the Lowell YMCA's swimming program.

Sue DeBoer, who was crowned Grand Rapids champion with a new record time for 11-and-12 girls' 50-yard butterfly on Saturday, was defeated by a full second for that same event by Lowell's Nancie Gwatkin in a recent dual meet between the Lowell YMCA team and the Jolly Roger Swim Club of Grand Rapids.

***

The Lowell pool will close for the season following the 2 to 5 open swim on Sunday, August 25th.

Area 4-Hers At Conference

Several Kent County 4-H'ers were among the 250 members from eight states who attended a 4-H citizenship course in Washington D. C. last week.

The delegates examined the word "citizenship" from many angles, including political, social and economic, as well as in terms of personal, responsibility.

The young people went on many field trips while in Washington, and the high point of the visit to Capitol Hill was a meeting with Senator Philip Hart of Michigan.

Among the Michigan delegates were:

Carol Wittenbach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wittenbach, 10300 Bennet, Lowell; Barbara Bruininks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bruiniks, 6816 Byron Center Ave., Byron Center; Jacqueline Shade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Shade, 4706 Segwum, Lowell, and Diane Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bryce Smith, Route 1, Caledonia.
