Area Salutes Forest Hills '77':

Teamwork Pays Off With Title

FOREST HILLS HIGH SCHOOL'S CHAMPIONSHIP FOOTBALL TEAM - 1968

It takes more than good players to develop a championship football program.

Organization, determination and pride... these were the basic ingredients that went into the make-up of Forest Hills High's gridiron success in the recently-completed 1968 campaign.

Under new coach Frank Rosengren, all three facets came into prominence and, with new-found spirit from the student body, parents and alumni, the Rangers blossomed into a team that attracted state-wide attraction for the first time in school history.

That Forest Hills won seven of its eight games and came within a whisker of tying the

Year Makes Difference in Grid Fortunes

What a difference a year makes!

In 1967, Forest Hills High football teams managed to win just three games... and two of those were varsity triumphs in the last three games of the season.

The Rangers' overall record for 1968 was 20 wins, three losses and one tie with the varsity and junior varsity registering 7-1 records and the freshman squad posting a 6-1-1 effort.

other is now a matter of record. But the manner in which the transition was made is another story.

It started several weeks before practice got underway when Rosengren met with the members of the coaching staff to go over plans for the year.

"Those meetings probably were the most productive I've ever seen," explains Rosengren. "We spent hours reviewing game films of the 1967 team, then sat down to analyze our talent and what type of offense and defense could be developed to best take advantage of our strengths."

Rosengren followed by calling for a meeting of players and parents, during which he outlined plans for the season.

"When practice started," he declares, "you could sense an eagerness on the part of everyone... coaches, players and parents, to get started and see if what we had in mind would work."

Rosengren installed an intricate offense which stresses running, but which also calls for a passing quarterback. In senior Scott Wingeier, he had a willing and able student... one who could be the "sleeper" in this year's Class B signal-calling crop.

Most of Forest Hills' running plays demand time to form blocking, especially from the guards who pull out to lead interference. In many respect, it resembles the Green Bay Packer offense.

"We knew going into the

'Bunk' Lauded For Standout Defense at FH

Forest Hills High out-scored its opponents, 248-75, during the 1968 season... giving the Rangers an offensive average of 31 points per game and a defensive mark of 9.4 points per contest.

Credit for the defensive efforts go to assistant coach Bernard (Bunk) Van Ark.

"He's the man who makes it work," praises Head Coach Frank Rosengren. "And you can believe me when I say that Bunk has really helped me with the offense, too."

'ABOUT-FACE' STREAKS

Forest Hills High has a six-game winning streak to carry into the 1969 season and has won nine of its last 11 starts. Prior to that, Ranger teams had gone 18 straight games without a victory dating back to 1965.

season that it would take three or four games before the offense really got rolling. However, the guys responded so well that things started to jell even earlier than that," added Rosengren.

The 31-year-old native of Bay City, who served six years as assistant at St. Johns High before coming to Forest Hills, often refers to his players as "the guys." This is just one of his many departures from tradition... most other coaches using terms such as "kids," "boys" or simply "players" in referring to their charges.

Two of the "guys" who attracted most attention during the drive to Forest Hills' first football title in seven years were Tackle Dan Mosher and Fullback Randy Simon.

In Rosengren's estimation, all 26 members of the varsity contributed equally to the victorious campaign.

"There was hardly a time that each and every one of them didn't contribute when called upon to do so," he declares. "It was team effort... total team effort... that pulled us together."

Teamed with Wingeier and Simon in the basic starting backfield were Stan Grochowalski and either Brad Van Sluyters or Doug Griffith, the latter a junior.

Simon's specialty was a tackle... a play that produced the bulk of Forest Hills' 2,115 yards rushing for the eight games.

Grochowalski, Van Sluyters and Griffith were utilized most effectively on off-tackle slants or wide-sweeping reverses... all designed to keep the middle open for Simon's rushes or the passing threat of Wingeier to his two favorite receivers, seniors Tom Teft and Bob VandenBos.

The 6'2" quarterback connected on 51 percent of his pass attempts (49 for 96) for 891 yards and 10 touchdowns. Only five passes were intercepted.

The Rangers' offense might have been even more volatile had Wingeier been a more effective runner. As it was, he

Simon Stars on Defense; Mosher, Too

Fullback Randy Simon is being boomed for all-state honors on offense, but the 5'10", 195-pound Forest Hills High senior also rates a nod for his defensive work.

Final figures disclose that Simon was the No. 1 tackler on the Rangers squad with 86... four more than Tackle Dan Mosher, a 6'2", 195-pound senior who also is receiving considerable attention for Class B all-state laurels.

Not Rated at Start, Rangers Win 6 in Row

Few high school football observers felt when Forest Hills High opened the season with a 14-7 non-league win over Rockford on September 13 that they were watching two championship teams in action.

The Rangers, who lost their next game, went on to post an overall record of 7-1 and won the Ottawa-Kent Red Division championship handily with a 5-1 mark.

Rockford repeated as champion in the Tri-River Conference, winning all seven games following its loss to Forest Hills.

Here, in capsule form, is a run-down of the Rangers season:

Forest Hills 14, Rockford 7

Forest Hills scored twice in the first half, the clincher coming on 57-yard pass-run play from Wingeier to Griffith just 14 seconds before the half. Rockford scored early in the fourth quarter, but failed to muster a further threat as the Rangers broke a five-year jinx to defeat the Rams for the first time.

Kentwood 14, Forest Hills 13

The Rangers won the battle of statistics, but lost to the opportunistic Falcons. Kentwood's only pass completion of the night helped set up the go-ahead touchdown on the first play of the fourth quarter. With 31 seconds left, Forest Hills scored on a Wingeier-to-Teft pass, but Simon was stopped short of the goal line on a plunge for the extra point. A clipping penalty in the second quarter nullified another potential scoring drive for the Rangers.

Forest Hills 34, Wyoming Pk. 0

Two scoring passes by Wingeier, one to Van Sluyters and the other to Teft, plus a 67-yard runback of an interception by Teft, paced the lopsided victory over Wyoming Park. VandenBos was assigned the job of kicking for extra points and converted four of five attempts.

Forest Hills 39, W. Ottawa 20

Forest Hills nosed into a tie for the conference lead by routing previously-undefeated West Ottawa, considered by many as a pre-season choice for title honors. Simon scored three touchdowns and Grochowalski sparked an 80-yard drive on successive reverses good for 34 and 41 yards. Grochowalski scored the tying TD that left the teams deadlocked at halftime 14-14, before a capacity homecoming crowd.

Forest Hills 19, Godwin Hgts. 7

The Rangers went into the conference lead to stay with a 19-point rally in the second half after Godwin had taken a 7-0 lead at the start of the third quarter. Grochowalski scored the tying and winning TDs. Two other Forest Hills drives in the first half reached the Godwin one-yard line, only to be stopped by the Wolverines.

Forest Hills 39, Lee 7

Wingeier scored twice on the ground and passed to Teft for another TD in the non-conference win over the Rebels. Forest Hills went 99 yards for one of its scores with the assist of a fumbled punt by Lee. The Rangers had a shutout until less than three minutes remained when a long run produced Lee's only points.

Forest Hills 46, Hudsonville 6

Nothing less than a co-championship was assured following the romp over Hudsonville in the final home game of the campaign. The 46-point total, highest in school history, was sparked by Simon's four touchdown runs and two tallies by Teft, one on a pass from Wingeier and the other on a 60-yard runback of an intercepted pass. Grochowalski scored in his sixth straight game to produce the record-setting touchdown in the closing moments.

Forest Hills 44, Rogers 14

Forest Hills cheerleaders and fans, who had chanted all season long "We're No. 1," finally were able to back the claim as the Rangers rushed to a 19-0 lead in the first quarter and coasted to their sixth straight victory. Simon scored three touchdowns and gained 204 yards to raise his season total for the season above the 1,000 yard mark. VandenBos contributed to the victory by returning a Rogers interception 28 yards for a touchdown.

collected four additional six-pointers on the ground.

Simon was the leader in rushing and scoring, getting credit officially for 1,009 yards on 135 carries for an average of 7.5 yards per carry. He scored 13 touchdowns, several on long bursts up the middle against over-shifted defenses.

Grochowalski scampered to paydirt eight times and finished the season with 519 yards rushing on 74 carries for a 7.0 yard average. Griffith and Van Sluyters both posted mark of 6.0, the former carrying 33 times for 195 yards and the latter gaining 150 yards on 25 attempts.

Teft was the most proficient receiver for the Green and White, gathering in 26 passes for 554 yards (an average of 21 yards) and seven touchdowns. He also ran back two interceptions for TDs.

Grochowalski picked up 183 yards on 15 receptions and one six-pointer via the aerial route. VandenBos, whose scoring was limited to one interception runback and points-after-touchdown, caught four passes for 103 yards while Griffith scored one TD on a pass and caught two others for 69 yards. Van Sluyters reached paydirt once on two catches for 14 yards and senior end Tom Norman snared two for 23 yards.

Wingeier's understudy was Steve Cribley, a senior of whom Rosengren declares:

"I sure wish we had him coming back... he was just starting to come into his own about halfway through the season."

In all, 17 seniors will depart next June, leaving the Rangers with nine lettermen around which to mold the 1969 squad. Included among the future graduates, in addition to those mentioned previously, are guards Tom Dygert and Steve Grabarek; tackles Jim Witzel, Bill Buell, Paul Jenks and Mike Krause; end Gary Gromer; and halfback Kevin Gary Joining Griffith among those scheduled to return next year are halfback Joe Page, centers Rob Roy and Lyn Delake; guards Ron McCormick and Jim Meier; tackles Kurt Linscott and Ken Postema; and end Doug Hall.

All 26 players... plus members of the junior varsity and freshman squads... were honored Tuesday night at the annual fall sports banquet.

Way of Life Changes with Winner—Mom

(Editor's Note: Mrs. Fred (Shirley) Dygert is a regular contributor to Suburban Life. In the letter below to a friend, she reveals the transition that came with being associated this past season with Forest Hills High's championship football team.)

Dear Jeanne:

We're Number One! Our football team at Forest Hills High School took the Conference Championship. Unless this has happened to you, you can't imagine the excruciating thrill of watching a team climb out of a hole and rise to the top in just one season.

You've heard of Golf Widows? Well, I am a Football Mother, which is really something else! From the first time Tom met his new coach, I had a feeling that we were in for a different kind of fall. This is known as Mom's Intuition.

That very first game was like a curtain opening on a new play and when it rang down both the audience and the critics cheered. The whole school caught the fever and the grandstands were never without a huge crowd.

"Teamwork" could sound trite, but that's what happened. Among other duties as a Football Mother, I picked up a carload of boys after practice almost every night and I never heard a gripe. Everyone was for everyone.

Coach Rosengren instilled that spirit in the boys and then he got the fathers into the act as well. Every Monday night the mothers got left home by Football Fathers as they tripped off to school to watch the films of the previous game. Once the distaff side was invited to the Inner Sanctum, too, and it was fun to relive one of those whirlwind games.

I also know how dirty those uniforms can become when the team is ploughing down the field. But who cared? I actually didn't mind soaking those white pants in the new enzymes because I wanted them to look great. That never lasted beyond the first few minutes of play.

Most of the parents arrived at the games early and grabbed the fifty-yard line seats at the top of the grandstand. We made ourselves hoarse by trying to out-yell the student body and I pounded my poor husband so hard that he may carry the bruises throughout the winter.

One of the mothers told me that her son always slept before a game... how could he? Tom ate early and then sat around. I never did say "Good Luck"... oh, there is nothing superstitious about me, nosiree. A Football Mother has to be very careful of these delicate matters.

I certainly learned the meaning of being "UP" for a game. My only worry was that the other team was going to be further "up" as the reputation of the team and its coach began to spread. Football Mothers began to read the sports pages as avidly as their counterparts. When the team became rated, we could all be heard cheering Coach Rosengren who had inspired our sons.

One thing though, I don't believe that the boys ever felt overconfident; they may have gotten well ahead, but they kept right on working to the end of the game.

In fact, the season closed all too soon... the boys and their Football Mothers and Fathers were all so geared up that I think we would have had the strength to go on for another six spectacular games. We had all found out how it feels to win... and that's great.

I imagine that everyone of those boys will get a lot more out of this season of striving for the top than they now realize. If you want to get somewhere, you have to work for it. You can't do it alone. You can't do it protesting. Those kids wanted 40 points for the coach and they got them. Then they wanted the conference and they got that. If I sound like a thrilled Football Mother, why not?

But enough... in the words of Coach Rosengren:

"Keep your poise."

Scouting Proves Help

The team effort that marked Forest Hills High's football success in 1968 was not limited to just the players.

"It took a lot of time and effort on the part of everyone to produce this team," reflects Coach Frank Rosengren.

Special two-man scouting teams were assigned to look over future opponents at least twice... and these men then manned the press box phones or worked along the sidelines when the Rangers met the rival they had scouted.

The staff consisted of junior varsity coach Paul Northuis and assistant Paul Leavenworth, freshman coach and athletic director Ed Shy and assistant Leon Schaub as well as Jim Wagner and Ben Emden from the junior high.

Rosengren revealed that Forest Hills scouted Godwin Heights three times.

"That was one team we wanted to be certain we had a good 'book' on," he said.

Concern for Godwin Heights was well-founded. The Rangers scored a 19-7 decision... the closest margin of the conference season except for a 14-13 loss to Kentwood.

Rosengren also pointed to the efforts of team physicians Dr. Ronald Deem and Dr. Robert E. Bakeman.

"We didn't have a critical injury all season long," he said, "and the ones we did have were treated at once and efficiently."

He also had praise for student manager Kirt Leyndkye:

"We never had to worry about equipment... either at practice sessions or during games. He did a fine job."

Road Projects Slowed by Federal Cutbacks

The Department of State Highways has sharply curtailed plans for a $38 million bid letting in January because of new Federal restrictions on the allocation of federal funds for highway construction.

Henrik E. Stafseth, state highway director, said the restrictions, announced in Washington, mean that the January letting will be pared to a maximum of about $6 million.

This means it will be April at least before our contracting schedule gets back to normal, provided no further restrictions are imposed," Stafseth said.

"This sort of stop-and-go fi-ancing works a severe hardship on the highway department, the highway contractors, on all other segments of the highway industry, and on the people of Michigan. We cannot expect to function efficiently without a reasonably even flow of funds."

Department plans for the $38 million January letting were based on an announcement in Washington that more than $210 million in federal highway funds had been apportioned to Michigan for fiscal 1969-70 compared to an allocation of $145 million in 1968-69.

The January letting was to have included about $25 million in work originally scheduled to be put under contract in November and December. The November letting and most of the December letting were previously canceled because of a slowdown in federal spending announced in September.

Based on the new informain April and $28 million in May.

Stafseth said the Department still plans to take bids December 4 on a dozen projects totaling an estimated $1.5 million. This includes nine state-funded projects and three federal aid projects approved prior to the federal spending slowdown announced in September.

Take Steps to Immunize for Measles

Two cases of measles were reported in Kent County last month, according to Health Department records.

While this is not an alarming number, there may not have been any cases if a proper immunization program were followed, Dr. W. B. Prothro, Kent County Health Officer, points out.

Measles can be a serious disease to anyone who has not previously had the infection or been protected by vaccine. This is especially so in those suffering from chronic disease or who are under par physically.

The infant and preschool child are more prone to complications such as ear infection, pneumonia, and in rare instances nervous system involvement.

Measles, along with whooping cough, diphtheria, polio and small pox are all diseases that can be eradicated if proper immunization schedules are followed.

Kent County presently has forty-four cases of whooping cough. The last case of diphtheria was reported in 1961 and the last case of smallpox in 1943. The last cases of polio were reported in 1963.

While the county record is good, it will not remain so or improve, if we do not continue immunization on a regular basis especially among the children and newcomers to the community, Dr. Prothro said.

Persons not adequately immunized should see their family physician or visit one of the county Health Department immunization centers.
