Yes, Folks!
Winter
Is Just About Here

OL' MAN WINTER ARRIVED in the area over the weekend and staff photographer Scot Jefferies scoured the community

(sorry, no picnic today). In the center, an old wagon in Lowell is outlined in silhouette against a gray sky laden with snow and much of the wet stuff on the ground. The sign at the right recalls a time of warm sun and fair skies.

Proposed Ada Water System Seen as Spur

Accelerated development of Ada Township as a prime residential and industrial area may hinge on the creation of an independent water system.

Results of the study, backed by engineering surveys already well underway, are expected to be placed before township officials sometime after the first of the year.

Some preliminary estimates on the scope of the project were disclosed last week by township supervisor Fred Clancy and additional projections were revealed by George Welsh, member of the township water commission, in an interview this week.

The commission includes Welsh, Richard DeVos of the Ada-based Amway Corporation, Noel Black and Richard Somerville.

Based on a projection of 600 water users at the outset, plant construction would cost an estimated $1,200,000 of which 40 percent could be financed through Federal assistance, according to Welsh.

The balance would be financed through sale of revenue bonds, which would be retired from sale of water to area residents and businesses.

Creation of a system to carry the water to users would be financed by general obligation bonds, which would be paid off through special assessments to property owners availing themselves of water service.

Welsh noted that the plans calls for no expense on the part of township taxpayers other than in the form of direct payment for use of the projected system.

Eventually, the system could be expanded to include other prospective water users in Ada Township as well as portions of Cascade Township and areas to the east, including Lowell.

Preliminary engineering studies indicate that the system would use approximately 500,000 gallons of water per day, which would be drawn from Ada Dam reservoir. The present flowage is rated at 170-million gallons per day.

Negotiations for purchase of the dam, now owned by Consumers Power Company, have been underway for almost a year. Members of the Thornapple River Association, composed of property owners located along the backwaters, have indicated a willingness to buy the facility and to pay for its maintenance and its operation, providing that Kent County administrators to the latter.

According to Welsh, the cost to TRA members involved in a special assessment district for purchase and operation of the dam would be approximately $9,000 per year.

As tentatively outlined in the preliminary study, the water commission would take over ownership and operation of the dam as an integral part of the water system.

Many TRA members, plus several large residential developments now underway or in the planning stage, would be immediate beneficiaries of the proposed system.

Real estate developers, in particular, are likely to favor the plan inasmuch as most prospective home buyers are seeking full-service utilities, including water and sewers, in newly-created subdivisions.

Township officials have indicated they will seek reaction from as many prospective users of the system as possible before proceeding further.

ENGLEHARDT

WITTENBACH

Name 2 to Fill Bank Vacancies

Everett (Steve) Wittenbach, a life-long resident of Lowell, today had been elected to the Board of Directors of the State Savings Bank.

Wittenbach fills a seat on the eight-member board left vacant with the death on November 12 of board chairman C. H. Runciman, Sr.

Harold J. Englehardt was named to fill the position as chairman of the board. He will continue to serve as bank president, a position he has held since 1960.

Wittenbach, 54, has served as president of Wittenbach Sales and Service for nine years. The company recently completed its 24th year in the automotive business here.

A graduate of Lowell High School in 1932, Wittenbach

New Alto Fire No.: 451-2911

Use of a county-wide alert system to call for fire assistance has been extended in Bowne Township and portions of Lowell and Caledonia townships, it was announced by Chief Harold Metternick of the Alto Fire Department.

All calls to the department should be made to this number: 451-2911. The caller will be connected to the Kent County Sheriff's Department dispatcher, who in turn will alert Alto volunteers.

As a complement to the new system, nine monitors have been purchased at a cost of $1,700 by the department and Bowne Township board.

Form Advisory Group to Aid Millage Bid

A special citizens advisory committee, whose primary mission will be to secure signatures of at least 50 percent of the district's qualified electorate on petitions, was formed today in an effort to assist the financially-troubled Lowell Area School Board of Education.

David W. Miller of 221 Riverside Drive volunteered to head up the committee after hearing board president Dr. Robert Reagan outline the board's firm stand not to seek voter approval for much-needed millage without ample proof that a majority of electors would favor such a vote.

"We hope to be able to present the board with at least 1,500 signatures in time for the January meeting," said Miller.

Ten residents volunteered to help on the committee Monday night and Miller said other volunteers had agreed to attend the first meeting next Monday night at 7:30 p. m. at the high school.

Miller and his committee hope to be able to produce enough signatures to forestall a board move that will bring about half-day sessions and other educational cutbacks, perhaps as early as the second semester of the 1968-69 term.

Other members of the board include Ernest Foreman, Dan Vos, Herbert Elzinga, Lee Lampkin, King Doyle and R. E. Shivel.

and not later than next fall. The board declined to take this step Monday because, as noted by Dr. Reagan, "there still are some facts we need before this decision can be finally reached."

Readers Express Varied Opinions

To The Editor:

The small country school was a way of life; the center of the community and center of earth teachings of school curriculum (reading, writing, arithmetic). Here the flag was respected every day and Christ respected at Christmas time.

Higher educators, however, decided they knew what was better for our children. This legislation they produced (the K-12 bill) and with the help of Lowell Area School voters, forced us into the bigger school system, and did away with Christ in the schools.

In 1958 the educators followed the well-known authority on young people, Dr. Spock. They recommended "we must let the children have a voice in the schools with self expression, freedom of speech and actions and classes on sex and recreation? (golf, roller skating and fly fishing and etc.)

Now 1968—ten years later we see the results. Hippies, Free Love, Flower Children, self-expression in the schools and colleges to the point it takes police to restore order—and Dr. Spock where is he? Being tried in the courts for non-patriotic activities.

Let us as parents get down to the business of running the schools, restore teaching of fundamental school curriculum including love of God and country.

Not only will we have healthier minded and better disciplined children, but the tax payer will not be burdened unnecessarily paying for institutionalized future young citizens who are dissatisfied with life before they have begun to live it.

Let's let the tax dollar read in the school ledger under education and not sex and recreation.

To The Editor:

Your fine, courageous editorial of December 5 relative to the defeat of the school millage proposal, has prompted me to forget my pledge, upon retiring as superintendent in 1960, to never meddle in any way with the manner in which the schools were operated.

State aid per pupil provides a minimum financial program based upon a uniform millage levied on the state equalized value. Any levy in excess of this uniform millage contributes to the total per-pupil allowance.

For instance—the equalized value behind a pupil in Lowell is $9,689; in the county, $13,081 and in Grand Rapids, $19,805.

It can be seen that equal levies in these areas will provide widely divergent allowances per pupil.

The request of the Lowell board for an increase in millage was necessary if our pupils are to be provided with an adequate educational program. Even with the increase it can

Authority May Be The Answer

In the past few months, there have been several interesting developments pertaining to the Thornapple River and the "twin" dams located at Ada and Cascade.

Property owners along the backwater of the Ada Dam wish to maintain their man-made water wonderland. The water commission of Ada Township is now looking into the possibility of utilizing this same water source as a reservoir for a projected municipal system.

Land owners whose property abuts Cascade Dam have been waiting patiently to determine what, if any action, they should take to safeguard their waters and the attendant property values that go with such choice real estate. And Cascade Township officials, after several futile tries at negotiation to help resolve the problem, have adopted a "wait and see" attitude.

Thus there are four units... two of them governmental agencies, the other two associations composed of vitally interested residents of both governments... heading in seemingly opposite directions.

Each organization is well-intentioned. Of this there is little doubt. But the fact remains that their aims and ambitions are, apparently, worlds apart... even though only a long stone's throw separates them.

The Thornapple River is an outstanding natural resource. Through man's intervention, it also has become a vital human resource.

There are none, at least of record, who would wish to destroy either concept.

Why not form an authority that would, to a large degree, assist all in their quests?

The future of two outstanding communities deserves at least a nodding glance in this direction.

Benefit Fund Will Aid All Students

Creation of a special fund to honor the late C. H. Runciman, Sr., and appointment of a five-member committee to administer to it became official this week.

Named to the committee of the C. H. Runciman Student Benefit Fund were Harold Englehardt, chairman of the board and president of State Savings Bank of Lowell; William Jones, long-time associate of Mr. Runciman and a member of the present school board; Reverend Robert Weber, pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Lowell; Mrs. Gladys Bergin, representing the Lowell Education Association; and Fran Smith, editor and publisher of the Ledger-Suburban Life.

The committee hopes to establish a self-perpetuating trust fund from contributions received from friends and associates of Mr. Runciman, who served many years as president of the board.

A donation of $2,000 is expected to initiate the fund, which would be used to assist students of all ages and student-oriented activities.

Persons wishing to contribute to the fund are asked to contact Englehardt at 897-9277 or by contacting any of the committee members.

be seen that the allowance per pupil would be much less than in most districts and without additional funds we will be unable to retain many of our teachers.

Much has been said about the pupil-teacher ratio. I know that some teachers can teach forty or more pupils in a grade or class effectively. However, these same teachers could secure even better results in teaching fewer pupils. Times were, where forty or more pupils in a grade or class was considered satisfactory.

However, today a desirable teaching load does not exceed twenty-five or thereabouts. And, Boards of Education can do nothing about it because there is a scarcity of qualified teachers!

As citizens, who are interested in the welfare of our boys and girls, we must forget the past, accept the present and plan for the future.

As a superintendent for a total of 39 years, 34 in Lowell—I coached, taught, acted as business manager and I enjoyed my work. However, I am still interested in the welfare of our boys and girls, and to that end I implore the Board of Education and the Superintendent to present a millage proposal one more time before taking steps to curtail activities that contribute to the well-being of our most prized possessions—our boys and girls.

The world is moving at such a fast pace these days... and there is no slacking in the foreseeable future... that a man's efforts seldom draw more than a passing glance and are then lost for all time into oblivion.

Unless, of course, those efforts are placed, black upon white, in newsprint form for future generations to judge whether the efforts were right or wrong.

At the moment of effort, there are few who will not say that their motivation was pride. Pride in their nation, pride in their community, pride in their family, pride in their work.

Take an occasion and make a pick. There's bound to be a match-up somewhere along the line.

Such was the case in last week's rendering of the weekly happenings known as the Ledger-Suburban Life.

The Smithy, who writes much of the news and edits virtually every line, not to mention the countless other chores incumbent upon a small operation, authored an editorial that was not intended to be flattering to a great many residents of the Lowell School District.

It was an editorial written from the heart and backed by more than a quarter-century of observation of men who have been subject to far greater stresses than those heaped upon the collective shoulders of the Lowell Board of Education and its administrative appointees.

The reaction was immediate. We were scolded, in person or through associates, for siding with the board. We were derided by some who agreed in part with the editorial and disagreed vehemently with the remainder.

There were others who complimented the newspaper for taking a stand on an issue that is much more vital to the community than many suspect even at this moment in fleeting time.

To have done differently would have been a miscarriage of decent reporting.

We have stated publicly and privately that the day this newspaper fails to champion the cause of orderly growth and progress in the community at large is the day that the Smithy no longer serves in his present capacity.

We know now what the mosquito goes through in his few hours under the sun. Bite long enough and you'll stir people to action. Sting harder and they're ready to swat you.

But at least let them know you've been there! No one has a particular fondness for the lowly mosquito and few feel compassion for the editor. That's a fact we accepted when we first sat down to author lines of type designed to bring to people a greater awareness of what this life is all about.

We continue to accept this fact as a daily challenge in the oft-times unrewarding experience of assembling the words and pictures that go into producing 52 of these periodicals each year.

But don't feel sorry for me. I've been swatted before and managed to survive.

Feel sorry for the mosquito. He seldom has more than one chance.

aries. We are not sure the savings that could be made between now and next June would be worth it."

"However," he added, "the board will have no choice except to go on half-day sessions not later than next fall if the district continues in debt."

Miller said that his one fear is that there may not be enough time to acquire the needed signatures in time to set up the mechanics for an election by next March.

Dr. Reagan explained that failure to provide sufficient operating monies by March may cost the district the services of a number of teachers.

"We are negotiating for 1969-70 right now," he declared, "but I doubt we will be able to offer the kind of terms it will take to retain our teaching personnel."

A number of teachers reportedly are looking for employment elsewhere for the 1969-70 school term according to Dr. Reagan.

Board members were unanimous in their stand that lack of voted millage to help overcome the district's estimated $85,000 deficit by next June will lead to a curtailed educational program.

William Jones, former Lowell village and city official, was openly critical of the November 25 millage election that saw a 7-mill operating levy for one year go down to a 1,136-1,023 defeat.

"I've lived here many years and I have served in many different capacities. This is the first time I've been ashamed for the citizens of Lowell," he declared.

The district finished the 1967-68 fiscal year with an accumulated deficit of $114,000. Present estimates are that this will be reduced by about $19,000 with a semi-austerity budget imposed several months ago.

Cutbacks to half-days starting in January, plus reductions in other non-academic areas, could result in additional savings of about $15,000, it is estimated.

Much of the saving to date has been effected by failure to replace eight teachers at the start of the school term and elimination of several administrative and secretarial positions.

There were several minor vocal tiffs between proponents and opponents of the millage issue during the meeting, but they failed to shed any new light on means to resolve the financial dilemma.

The next board meeting is scheduled for January 13.

Four-Quarter System Eyed in Forest Hills

Results from a questionnaire sent out with the Forest Hills school's paper, Focus, show that the constituents in the district feel that the four-quarter plan should be thoroughly researched for possible institution into the system.

A three-member committee, composed of board of education members Mrs. William Seidman, Mrs. Peter Price, and James Banta, has been chosen to select a study committee from the attendance areas in the district to scrutinize the program as a possible solution to the space problem plaguing Forest Hills schools.

The study committee will take a detailed look at the system, and will take under advisement all the pros and cons attendant on such a change. It will also consider any new ideas presented to solve the demands for more rooms which are expected to occur in the next two years.

BEHIND the COUNTER with

CHARLES WESTON

There's a stage all children go through when they begin exploring the world about them. Everything has to be climbed up on or lifted or opened, or smelled or touched or tasted. This is how children learn that stoves burn and that chairs are heavy, and it's natural for them to encounter an occasional mishap.

But it also results in a half-million American children being poisoned each year. Once a youngster gets into the medicine cabinet and starts sampling the little bottles of "candy," there's trouble. Those adult sleeping pills, laxatives and pain killers can be dangerous — especially when the child can't tell you how many he has taken of which pill.

Also, there is that supply of common household products which are poisonous, even though they're not labeled as such: bleaches, lighter fluid, furniture polish and cleaning compounds. The child's undeveloped taste buds may not keep him from swallowing things that would taste awful to an older child.

Almost every pharmacist can tell you about the calls he has received from distraught mothers who want to know what to do in such an emergency. He can probably give you the advice you need and can rush over any necessary supplies. However, some complicated poisonings demand hospital attention, and you should have that telephone number handy.

We'll also be glad to give you suggestions on how to prevent poisonings, and how to minimize the danger from such an accident.

FH Debaters Set Sights on State Honors

There's no argument about it, the Forest Hills High School debate team is going great guns.

The team, coached by John Catzere, has had two league tournaments in which they have racked up 16 wins in 16 debates, and are aiming now towards district, regional and state honors.

Some of the outstanding orators on the team are Paul Silver, Mary Sneden, Bob Bunda, Rick Ianning, Skip Storm, Mark Bransdorfer, and George McCargar.

This is Forest Hill's second year in the winner's circle. Last year the team took league and district honors, and qualified in the regionals.

Oops! He Owes Extra Postage

An effort to educate Lowell Area School District voters during the recent school millage election build-up has cost one member of the board of education an extra $35.98 in out-of-pocket expenses.

An embarrassed Gould Rivette informed the board Monday night that he and officials of the First United Methodist Church of Lowell had erred in sending out a piece of educational literature to 1,125 mail patrons in the district without first checking postal regulations.

The church regularly sends bulletins to its membership of 343 on a non-profit organization permit.

Postal authorities informed Rivette, who had paid 1.4 cents to mail each of the 1,125 pieces, that he owed a differential of 4.6 cents on each of the remaining 782 pieces.

"I made an honest mistake," Rivette told the board and more than 80 persons in attendance at the meeting.

Mail Rush Underway for Xmas

The annual peak rush of mail began hitting area post offices this week as late Christmas shoppers lined up to send packages and to purchase stamps.

Postmasters remind all persons planning to send cards that each must carry at least six cents postage whether sealed or not. If less than the proper amount is used, recipients will be requested to assume postage due charges, they said.

Postmaster Charles R. Doyle at Lowell reported that demand for special commemorative Christmas stamps has almost depleted the original order for 25,000.

Growth in Ada Continues

At the regular semi-monthly meeting of the Ada Township Board on Tuesday, continued growth in the area was reflected in the building report for the month of November.

Fourteen permits were issued with a total valuation of $996,600. A large portion of this, $750,000, was for a new warehouse at Amway Corporation.

TerHorst and Rinsma, contractors, are planning on erecting a 70' x 40' office building at 602-E. Fulton, the valuation of which was set at $40,000.

Other permits were granted for five dwellings and a few small additions, remodelings, and garages.

Mrs. Mary Strong was sworn in by Supervisor Fred Clancy as deputy clerk. She has had experience in this job with Ada Township previously.

Approval was granted to Lloyd Dean and Dewey Sargeant for the transfer of the liquor license from Robert Wright, owner of Les's Bar.

The board appointed Ken Anderson, Neal VanderPeerle, and Orison Weaver to act as an advisory committee on sewer problems. They will meet quarterly to review the township needs.

The board also appointed Weaver and Carl Kenna as fenceviewers. In addition, Kenna was appointed as an assessor to view animals that have been killed by dogs and other unknown causes. It will be his duty to determine the value of the loss.

Prior to this time this function was held by local justices of the peace. With the passing of that office, a trustee of each township must take over this responsibility.

The Ada Fire Department will receive ten new monitors this week. Added to the seven presently in use, the monitors will cover the area. A call to 451-2911 with the address of the fire will be relayed to these monitors through the Kent County Sheriff's Department.

Boy Scouts Earn Top Award

Two Cascade Boy Scouts were the recipients of the coveted God and Country Award in a ceremony which took place Sunday at Cascade Christian Church.

David Banta, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Banta, and Jonathan Gaylord, 13, son of Rev. and Mrs. Raymond Gaylord, were presented with the award by Rev. Robert Cueni.

Each boy has contributed 500 volunteer hours, attended a meeting every Saturday in addition to their regular scout meeting, and put in two years of study and service to his church and community.

Ralph Kimble, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Kimble, received the same award in a ceremony held three weeks ago.

Jonathan is a star scout, and David and Ralph are first class scouts.

The boys are members of troop 334 under the leadership of scoutmaster Doug Stiles.

Near Final Drive for Needy Funds

Operating on the premise that a happy Christmas is the right of every child, Operation Santa Claus has started once again on their annual crusade to provide just that for every needy child in this area.

Donations for the project are now being taken by Rev. Raymond Gaylord of the Cascade Christian Church and Father Stanley of St. Michael's Episcopal Church.

The monies collected will be used to provide each child with a new large item of clothing, a new toy and a toy from among the many used toys in condition which are donated.

Now is the time to get into step behind the leaders of this most worthwhile holiday project.

Bad Drivers, Beware! New Law Is 'Toughie'

A revolutionary new method of dealing with persons who drive while under suspension and revocation in the form of a law which provides for impoundment of their vehicles is now in effect.

Secretary of State James M. Hare, who initiated the legislation, says that because this is a totally new concept and the first of its type in the country, that it will take Michigan courts a reasonable period of time to become experienced in administering the new law.

Provisions of the new law... P.L. 197... call for impoundment of a vehicle from 30 to 120 days for any person convicted of driving while under suspension revocation, or denial.

"It will take time for the courts to get geared up to handle this new law since they must set up impoundment procedures and provide storage areas for vehicles which will be taken out of service under the new law," said Hare.

Under this impoundment law, a convicted driver must pay all costs of impoundment. Owners not claiming their vehicles within 30 days of the end of the period of impoundment, will find vehicles treated as abandoned and disposed of. Vehicles which are unpaid for but sold under the abandoned provisions of the new law, must still be paid for, and the person owing on them will still be liable for payments to the lien holder.

"It's a revolutionary new concept in dealing with bad drivers and our Department doesn't know what volume of impoundments" to expect around the state."

It has been estimated, Hare said, that if the law is administered "rigidly" it could result in some 6,000 vehicles impounded annually.

UP, UP AND AWAY—Forward Curt Fonger, though surrounded by Greenville defenders, pops in a rebound for two of his 22 points in Lowell's win over the Yellow Jackets. At left is Steve Lessens of Arrows, who scored 17 after coming off the bench.

In his pre-season analysis, Coach Jack Kempker allowed that the 1968-69 Lowell High basketball team might have better balance and depth than any of his five previous squads.

The Arrows proved Kempker an early-season prophet in rushing to an 84-66 victory over Greenville in the opening Tri-River Conference game for both clubs on the home floor last Friday.

Lowell got expected scoring from Forward Curt Fonger with 20 points and Guard Denny DeWitt with a game-high 22, but it wasn't until Fonger ran into foul trouble midway in the third quarter that the Arrows first real test of the young season came about.

Kempker quickly inserted Steve Lessens into the lineup when Fonger picked up his fourth personal with 12 minutes left in the game.

The senior forward responded by netting 11 of his total 17 points in the final period, including three straight baskets that squelched Greenville's fading hopes.

The win was the second in as many starts for the Arrows, who have a critical meeting scheduled this Friday night at Rockford against the defending champion Rams.

Lowell finished second in the conference to unbeaten Rockford last season with an 8-2 mark.

The Red and White cagers actually produced their victory over Greenville at the foul line, canning 26 of 36 free throw attempts to eight one-pointers for the Yellow Jackets. Both team meshed 29 shots from the floor, Lowell hitting at 41 percent.

Lowell dominated the backboards at both ends of the floor with Center Steve Johnson, Forward Ken Roth and Lessens constantly out-manuevering Greenville for rebounds. Lessens had 14 and Roth 11 of Lowell's total 50 caroms.

Kempker's charges ran into a cold streak at the outset, going 2½ minutes without a point until DeWitt finally cashed a free throw. But in the next four minutes, Lowell rushed to a 15-14 lead on Guard

Bill Bennett's basket and remained in front thereafter.

DeWitt and Roth were the key men in the rally, each netting six points during the flurry.

Fonger took over the scoring burden in the second quarter, sinking 14 points. He scored six free throws during the stanza en route to a 10-for-14 night from the charity stripe.

DeWitt and Greenville's Bill Christen staged a two-man scoring duel at the outset of the third period, the former ringling up Lowell's first eight points and finishing the quarter with 12 markers in all.

"It was a fine team effort all the way around," summarized Kempker. "We were especially pleased with the way Lessens came through. He has the potential to help make us a strong team."

Kempker also cited Roth for his all-around effort. "He may not have the size, but Ken is a real tough competitor around the hoop at all times."

Coach Harry Peacock's junior varsity levelled its season mark at 1-1 with a 56-42 win over Greenville's reserves as Blake Johnson (17), Dennis Kissinger (12) and Dale Marshall (10) all hit double figures.

However, Guard Sid Haywood was the key man in the victory, grabbing 18 rebounds to go with nine points and generally sparking the junior Arrows' go-go fast break.

After trailing at the intermission, 25-24, the JV's struggled to gain a 33-30 lead at the third quarter break before rushing away to the well-earned triumph with a 21-point spree in the final session.

Forest Hills '5' Splits O-K Tilts

For 26 minutes it appeared that Forest Hills High's tough pressing defense was about to produce a second straight win last Friday night, but West Ottawa's polished veterans finally broke through to score a 72-60 win over Coach Don Kemp's Rangers in their O-K Red Division basketball tilt.

Forest Hills held tenaciously to a slim lead with six minutes remaining when the roof literally fell in as West Ottawa rallied to overcome a 55-52 deficit.

The defeat left Forest Hills with a 1-1 mark in conference play and a 1-2 mark overall in the young season. Earlier in the week, the Rangers scored a nifty 84-65 triumph over neighboring Kentwood in their conference opener on the home floor.

"I thought we might contain them after we had gotten that far," declared Kemp, "but West Ottawa has a fine team and their experience showed when they finally managed to break the press."

Les Zommermaand, who finished with a game-high 30 points, banged in three quick field goals to give the winners their go-ahead points. Zommermaand, got plenty of help from Len Loncki, with 15 points and Mike Jacobs with 11.

Dave Sherwood was the top point-getter for Forest Hills for the second straight game, netting 19. Dan Mosher chipped in with 17 and fast-improving Steve Grabarek added 12.

This Friday, Forest Hills plays host to Hudsonville, which dropped a 100-80 decision to powerful Godwin Hgts. despite a school record 42 points by Ron Bosch.

Rebounding and balanced scoring paid off with the victory over Kentwood.

"We played fine defense," noted Kemp in pointing out that the Rangers' press was largely responsible for 27 turnovers by Kentwood.

Sherwood chalked up a career-high 26 points in the victory and hauled in 10 rebounds as well. Mosher topped the rebounders with 18 and added 14 points while Tom Teff had 14 caroms and 13 tallies to his credit.

Grabarek scored 15 points and Glenn Collins came up with 12 rebounds. All 11 members of the varsity saw action.

Sherwood collected 10 of his points in the first quarter to spark Forest Hills to a commanding 20-12 lead and the Rangers gradually opened up the lead until the final horn, holding a 37-28 advantage at the intermission.

Following the home clash with Hudsonville, the Rangers will invade Rockford next Tuesday night to face the defending Tri-River Conference champions, who appear to have another fine team assembled around all-state candidate Bill Hart, rangy 6'5" center.

Rangers Post 4th Victory

Undeclared in four dual meets to date, Forest Hills High will open the O-K Red Division wrestling season with a home match this Thursday night against Wyoming Park at 7 p. m.

The Rangers picked up victories over Sparta and East Grand Rapids in a quadrangular meet last Saturday at East Grand Rapids and followed with another non-conference decision over Greenville Monday by a 26-16 margin.

Triple winners included Jim Leyndyke (103 pounds), Mark Mollo (120), Larry Cardinel (127), and Bob Roy (154).

One of Leyndyke's wins was by forfeit as Coach Chuck Matthews' team scored a narrow 24-22 decision over Sparta. The win over East Grand Rapids was slightly easier, going to Forest Hills by a 29-19 count.

A highlight of the Greenville match was Mollo's 13-0 decision over the Yellow Jackets' Randy Gottesleben, a consistent winner for the opponents.

Double winners among the Rangers for the three matches included Tee Wietke at 95 pounds, George McGarger at 133 pounds and Randy Simon in heavyweight. Simons dropped a close match with Larry Malinowski, defending Class B regional champion from Sparta.

Matthews feels that Wyoming Park may offer the stiffest test of the season for his wrestlers.

Smithy on Sports

BY FRAN SMITH

Early-season results would indicate that there has been little change in the strength of high school basketball teams around this area.

Defending champion Rockford, with Bill Hart the lone seasoned returnee, apparently will be the team to beat in the Tri-River Conference with perhaps three teams... Lowell, Coopersville and Comstock Park... chasing the Rams for the 1968-69 league title.

In the O-K Red Division, Godwin Heights has impressed with several substantial victories while Northview has demonstrated it may be a contender in the Blue Division.

Last year's Class B regional winner at Forest Hills... has bolted away from the starting line with many of the key personnel from last year's powerhouse.

The season should produce some fine basketball, especially when the top-flight teams collide. And one of the first of these clashes comes up this Friday night when Lowell invades Rockford.

We were more than a little impressed the other night by a pair of Lowell players who ordinarily do not share the limelight... namely, Steve Lessens and Ken Roth.

Lessens came off the bench to help keep Greenville at bay after Curt Fonger ran into early foul trouble. Roth, on the other hand, turned in a fine all-around game at both ends of the court.

Bill Bennett is another of those who do nothing spectacular as far as the box score is concerned... but he's the steadiest of them all on defense.

How do you like those Philadelphia Eagles? After losing 11 in a row, they appeared a lead-pipe cinch to get O. J. Simpson in the pro football

Announce 'Y' Basketball Program

The 1968-1969 basketball season has now opened with players meeting at the Junior High Gym, 320 N. Monroe, every Monday and Tuesday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30. This annual program, now in its 8th season, is open to men 18 years and up and will continue until the end of March.

Teams will be formed after three or four weeks conditioning with tournament play beginning just before the Christmas season. Tournament play, however, will depend upon whether or not referees can be secured to cover all games.

This tournament is open to men from the Lowell area and all surrounding communities. Interested parties are asked to register at either the "Y" office or at the gym. The cost for the program is $5 for "Y" members and $7 for non "Y" members.

Those interested in officiating are requested to call the "Y" office at 897-7375 or 897-7115.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Lula M. Manciu of South Hudson Street in Lowell and Mr. and Mrs. Linden C. Watkins of Kokomo.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Robert Zalsman, wore a yellow A-line dress with bell sleeves covered with white brocade lace. Her short veil was held in place with a pearl comb. A yellow rose corsage and white accessories completed her outfit.

Donna Potter, who acted as honor attendant, wore a blue outfit identical to the bride's.

Acting as best man was D. Daniel Tison of Lowell, uncle of the bride. The bride's brother, William Zalsman, seated the guests.

A reception honoring the newlyweds was held immediately following the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Wiernga of Vergennes Road, Lowell.

New Phone Books to be Distributed

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. will begin distribution of new area telephone directories next Tuesday.

Robert I. Thole, manager, said some 300,000 directories will be delivered in this area, including to customers in Ada, Alto, Grattan and Lowell.

Again this year, the covers of the new telephone books feature a color reproduction of an oil painting. "The Capital Moves to Lansing." This is one in the series of historical paintings done by Robert Thom under a commission from Michigan Bell.

As provided by the state constitution of 1835, Michigan legislators were to select a permanent location for the state capital—which was Detroit in 1847. Deadlocked over the choice of cities, the legislature finally picked a site "in the township of Lansing in the county of Ingham."

The artist portrays a white frame building under construction in a clearing chopped out of the woods. The new capital was ready for the legislature on January 3, 1848.

It will take nearly a week for all phone books to be distributed, Thole said.

For your wedding reception, personalized napkins, coasters, matches, place cards. Order early at the Ledger office.

Forest Hills Hi-Lites

BY SHIRLEY DYBERT

Party of the Week

As was expected the Cascade Community party was a giant success. Among those who thoroughly enjoyed themselves were fairly-new residents, Peter and Pat Penucci. They held a cocktail and hors d'oeuvre party prior to taking off for the evening's entertainment. Their guests included Don and Char McFarland, Don and Bev Ward, Chuck and Jean Enright, Dave and Phyllis Young, and Chuck and Elaine Losey.

Trophies of the Week

Reminiscent of Wrong-Way Corrigan's trip, was only more successful, was the weekend special made by Al Terrell. He flew to Walpole Island with friends for a spot of duck hunting in order to discover there were no such creatures. So he came home with pheasants instead.

Baby of the Week

David William Schuiling arrived last Sunday, weighing in at seven pounds, five ounces. His parents are Lt. (j.g.) Judson Schuiling and Susan (nee Stoval) Schuiling. She was a graduate of Forest Hills High School and met her husband at Michigan State. They are now living at the Naval Air Station in Millington, Tennessee. Proud grandmother, Phyl Stoval, took off for there in a trice.

House of the Week

Mary Jean, Barbara, and Steve Harrington and their houseguest, Jerilee Duthler, spent Saturday building a charming and edible edifice. It is made of vanilla wafer walls, peppermint shingles, and chocolate bar windows. Peppermint sticks outline the front door where a chocolate Santa stands. Christmas lights on the house are gumdrops, and berries on the wreath are red hot. The path is formed of candy patties, the snow is deep coconut, and the fence is chewy caramel. This architecture is not destined to be found by archeologists of the future!

Luncheon of the Week

Because her sister, Anne Walsum, has her birthday so close to Christmas, Marilyn Roe annually gives a luncheon for her with a theme other than that of these holidays. It is always a secret until the guests arrive.

This year's motif was "A String of Pearls." The centerpiece was built of shells that Marilyn had gathered in Florida. They surrounded a papier mache mermaid. A clam shell at each place held a small bracelet made by the hostess featuring shells and imitation pearls.

Lucky guests who came early and stayed late began dining on cavier, went through steaming clam chowder, curried shrimp, and on to floating islands for a dessert. There were twelve all together who celebrate like this once a year. They were all graduated from Central and have remained in this area since.

Suggestions of the Week

Now that the snow is on the ground, it is a good time to look over your evergreens. If you find you need something, put it on your wanted-for-Christmas list... for delivery next spring.

Looking for something unusual for young marrieds? How about an American flag? For youngsters make a cone of lightweight cardboard or wire, cover with attractive wrapping paper, stick through with penny suckers, and tie a child's size tube of toothpaste at the top.

For a friend with a sweet-tooth, fill pitted dates with candied fruit and wrap in aluminum foil.

Scrapbook of the Week

Friends of Martin Conde who knew that he was in the hospital for surgery, sent him loads of get-well cards which he is making into a collection. Since he will be at Blodgett Hospital for some time, more cards will brighten his days and add to the assemblage.

Exchange of the Week

It all started years ago when mothers of children at the Whitneyville School got together to plan the Christmas party for their youngsters. They made the meeting a mini-party for themselves and they have kept up the tradition. They now exchange gifts and welcome new-comers to the neighborhood.

This year's gathering was held at the home of Mrs. Jerome Porter in Alto. Among those present were: Marcella Postema, Shirley Weeks, Jean Warner, Elsie Buys, and Betty Hainer. Enjoying the respite from shopping and baking were also: Rita Bailard, Pauline Johnson Betty Kline, Nancy Norris, and Gwen Hoffman. Myrtle Pyard was there as well as Betty Smith with her daughters, Cathy and Carol.

Hit of the Week

Jack Buys didn't know he had so many friends. They are all stopping to visit now in order to meet his new namesake. She is a lively young donkey, fondly named by his family in his honor. 'Jackie' has attracted more attention and more remarks than most new arrivals and people Jack hasn't seen in a long time are becoming very witty.

The total of more than 6,000 years of experienced living were represented by the guests at the annual dinner.

Brenda Fill Becomes a Winter Bride

Brenda J. Fill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence A. Fill, Greenbrier Dr. S.E., was united in marriage in a Saturday afternoon ceremony in St. Paul the Apostle Church to William J. Collins.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert John Collins of Mount Pleasant.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory satin skimmer gown appliqued with pearls and alencon lace. A pearled rosette cluster caught her tiered veil.

Bridal attendants were Susan Fry, Barbara Collins of Mount Pleasant and Lynne Hale of Hastings. Carrie Fill was flower girl.

Robert Faldese of Mount Pleasant served as best man. Ushers were Larry Fill, Richard Pullen, Gregory Vossekull and Thomas Collins of Mount Pleasant.

Mr. and Mrs. Collins greeted guests at a reception held in Blythefield Country Club.

The couple will make their home in Fort Lee, Virginia.

Cheryl Crum Named to Honor Group

On December 7, in the Western Michigan University Student Center, Cheryl Janine Crum was initiated into the Alpha Pi Chapter of Kappa Phi sorority. Kappa Phi is a national service sorority for college women.

Miss Crum is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Crum, 7064 Thorncrest Drive S.E., and is a senior majoring in Special Education of the Crippled at Western Michigan University.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank the many friends who remembered me with their prayers, the many gifts, the Alto Garden Club, South Boston Grange, West Campbell Club, the Jolly Workers Club, the Hope Church of the Brethren and the Rev. Heisler for his calls while I was sick. These will always be happy memories to me.

Happiness Is a New Bike

CHRISTMAS is for kids, and nothing seems to bring the light of happiness to a youngster's face on Christmas morning like a new bicycle. High style and rugged dependability are the hallmarks of today's American-made two-wheelers, and they come in a wide variety of models and styles to fit every taste and every budget. Educators and medical men know cycling provides good exercise for growing bodies, but all the younger generation seems to care about is that a bike is fun. Ho Ho Ho, and like that.

CAR CARE TODAY

MARCE KROPP DUKE THOMET

Here are some guides if you have to change a flat tire:

First, move car entirely off traveled surface of the highway. Set the hand brake. If the car is on a grade, block wheels with stones. Remove the spare tire from its compartment.

Rest the jack on flat solid ground or a block of wood. Remove hub cap cover and loosen wheel nuts. Raise the axle, wheel-rim or bumper. Then remove lugs from wheel.

Next, remove wheel and put on the spare. Replace and tighten all wheel nuts. Replace the hub cap cover.

The flat is then placed in the spare tire carrier. Finally, the jack is let down and wheel block removed. Put away all tools.

Get flat repaired immediately.
