See Record Turnout for Lowell School Millage Vote

A possible record turnout...the aftermath of a massive voter registration for the November 5 general election... is expected next Monday when Lowell Area School District residents trek to the polls for the second time in three months.

School officials expect almost 50 percept of the district's more than 3,500 qualified electors to cast ballots in the special millage election that seeks seven additional mills for operating Board members are not prepared to state what plans they have in the event the millage once again fails. However, by state law, it is possible that a second consecutive year of operating in the red could jeapordize local control of school matters.

Qualified persons wishing to vote, but who will be out-oftown Monday, may pick up absentee ballots at the superinten-dent's office at Bushnell School until this Saturday at 5 p. m.

The Cascade-Thornapple River Association is still seeking a solution to the problems of operating and maintaining the Cascade dam when and if Consumers Power Company no longer controls it.

According to Lloyd R. Winslow, secretar; of the association, the power company is re-quired to maintain the flowage level of the waters behind the Cascade dam until it can find

In the meantime, the association is searching for an answer that will satisfy the citizens of Cascade Township as possible owners.

"We don't want to see the water leave, " Winslow said. "We hope to operate the Cas-cade Dam under River Management Act 253.

"The wording of the act will have to be changed to allow one unit of government to operate alone," Winslow adds. "Presently the act requires that two or more units of government work together, but we have a bill in Lansing which could change this wording when the legislature convenes in January.

This act refers to navigable streams and provides that a local government may buy the dam and set up a River Man-

"Those of us who live on the river are already paying higher assessments." ed Winslow. "We feel that we don't want to pay taxes for everyone. Anybody can fish here ... there is public access. We want the people who derive the benefit of the river to pay and that means all of the township. One of the biggest reasons that so many have moved out this way is the river."

Some of the people on the water own as much as 200 feet of river frontage. They couldn't possibly afford to pay per foot, it would be too high.

"The Water Resources Commission has set aside $25,000 to survey, hold hearings, and help set up a River Manage-ment Board in our township. The cost of operation would be borne by all of the town-ship. Cascade Township is valat $17,000,000 and if it cost $15,000 a year to operate the dam, that would be a drop in the bucket. It would come to about a quarter of a mill

Council Scores Delays

Lack of action on the pari of city department heads to initiate installation of safety standards in the vicinity of Bushnell Elementary School today had prompted three mem-bers of the City Council request immediate action to protect student pedestrians.

By a vote of 3-0, with two members absent, the council passed a resolution at its Monday night meeting expressing concern over the lack of progress and requesting that the city manager and police department expedite steps to cor-rect the situation immediately.

The recently-organized Bush-nell Parents Club had sought city assistance a month ago to install street markings and signs, sidewalks, assignment of crossing guards and several other projects designed to curb the flow of traffic near the Al Andrews, a member of the Parent Club, appeared be-fore the council to deplore the lack of action.

"If we can't turn to you," he told the council, "we just don't know where we can go to get help on this matter.

Councilman Harold Jefferies sponsored the resolution and commented further:

"I see no reason why something couldn't have been done before now. If nothing else. at least the street markings should have been painted when the weather was dry. It might he too late now.

Voting with Jefferies were Mayor Pro-Tem Herb Reynolds and Councilman Carl Anderson. Mayor Arnold Wittenbach and Councilwoman Virginia Meyers were absent.

The council also took into consideration the possibility of seeking funds to maintain a staff of crossing guards.

Anderson noted that the city also is seeking installation of a signal light at Main and Monroe which could be operated only during peak hours for school bus traffic at the intersection.

Reynolds noted that a plan to create a one-way street on Amity also was being consid-

BY SHIRLEY DYGERT

If you must move away, it's nice to know that you will be missed. Judy and Bob Homkes discovered this last week when Shirley and Richard Cooper gave a farewell party for them. Couples from the Ada Christian Reformed Church who were invited for the evening included Ron and Dorothy Boersma, Don and Helen DeVries, David and Helen Jeltema, Bruce and Shirley Ostema, Bruce and Shirley Os-terhaven, and Ben and Bea Broersma

Broersma.

The Homkes' were leaving for Valley Forge, Pennsylvania where Bob will work in the Space Laboratory of the General Electric Company.

Also wishing them well at the Cocper's were: Don and Alice Pruis, Ron and Paula Reitsma, Tom and Jeanne Rockett, Ted and Arlene Systema, Neil and Carol Van Spronsen, Cory and Marian Van Spronsen, and Kern and Jane Visser.

Something new turned up at a luncheon given by Gretchen Johnson. Along with the curried shrimp and crisp tossed salad her guests; Mary Mail-er, Joanne Timlett, and Sue Ellsworth, enjoyed a different hot bread.

Here is a classic example of community effort and cooperation. Several years ago the Cascade Businessmen's As-sociation decided to put up a display on the hill at the end of 28th Street at Christmas time. They cleared the space and made the village look fes-tive for the holidays, Enthusi-asm ran high. Help was forthcoming, it was fun to work together.

The years passed, the help dwindled. Whether it was because the businessmen were more tired, more tied up with other affairs, or simply were willing to "let Charlie do it," the work was being done by a very few volunteers. Either the project had to be dumped or help would have to come from some other source.

Looking around, the interested members discovered the boys of the Key Club at For-est Hills High School. These young men are full of vim, vigor, and good breakfasts. They are also always on the look-out for a good service project to aid the school and the

Now the two organizations have gotten together and on December 14 Cascade will a-gain view its annual red, white, and green raiment. The businessmen will design and direct the operation and the young men will provide the brawn. In return the Key Club members will receive just payment which will in turn be used for a service project of their own.

Special School Election Lowell Area Schools

Seven-mill operation levy for one-year period

Be an informed voter—then vote Jike vour children's future depended on it!

THIS ADVERTISEMENT WAS PAID FOR BY THE CONCERNED CITIZENS FOR EDUCATION

To the voters of the Lowell Area School District

The future direction of public education in the Lowell School District will be decided next Monday by you, the voter. The school district is in debt, and there are, under present laws, only two ways that the debt can be erased; vote more funds or reduce expenses. Your Board of Education has made all reductions possible without slighting the basic education of the children for this school year, but if this request for additional funds fails, reductions must be made for the next school year that will, in the future, mar the education

Listed below, for your information, are the facts concerning this election. Study the issue, if you have further questions, contact the school or any school board member.

What are we voting on?

THE BALLOT READS AS FOLLOWS:

"Shall the limitation on the total amount of taxes which may be assessed against property in the Lowell Area School District, Kent and Ionia Counties, Michigan, for all purposes, be increased as provided by Sec. 6 of Article IX of the Constitution of Michigan of 1963 by not to exceed 7.0 mills for the year 1969, on the equalized assessed valuation of all property for the purpose of using the proceeds of any taxes levied hereunder to provide funds for the operation of the Lowell Area Schools."

This means that if the issue is passed, the school tax could be increased by $7.00 per thousand of state equalized value of all property in the school district. This tax is for a one-year period and would be on the taxes due and payable in January, 1970.

Why has the School Board decided to hold the Election now?

The special election held in August ended in a tie, and yet the need for funds is still present. In order to erase the deficit of the 1967-68 school year ($110,768) and to plan effectively for the 1969-70 school year, it is necessary to know as much about income as far in advance as possible, and this early election date will allow this fact to be known.

Why is the Board of Education asking for seven additional mills?

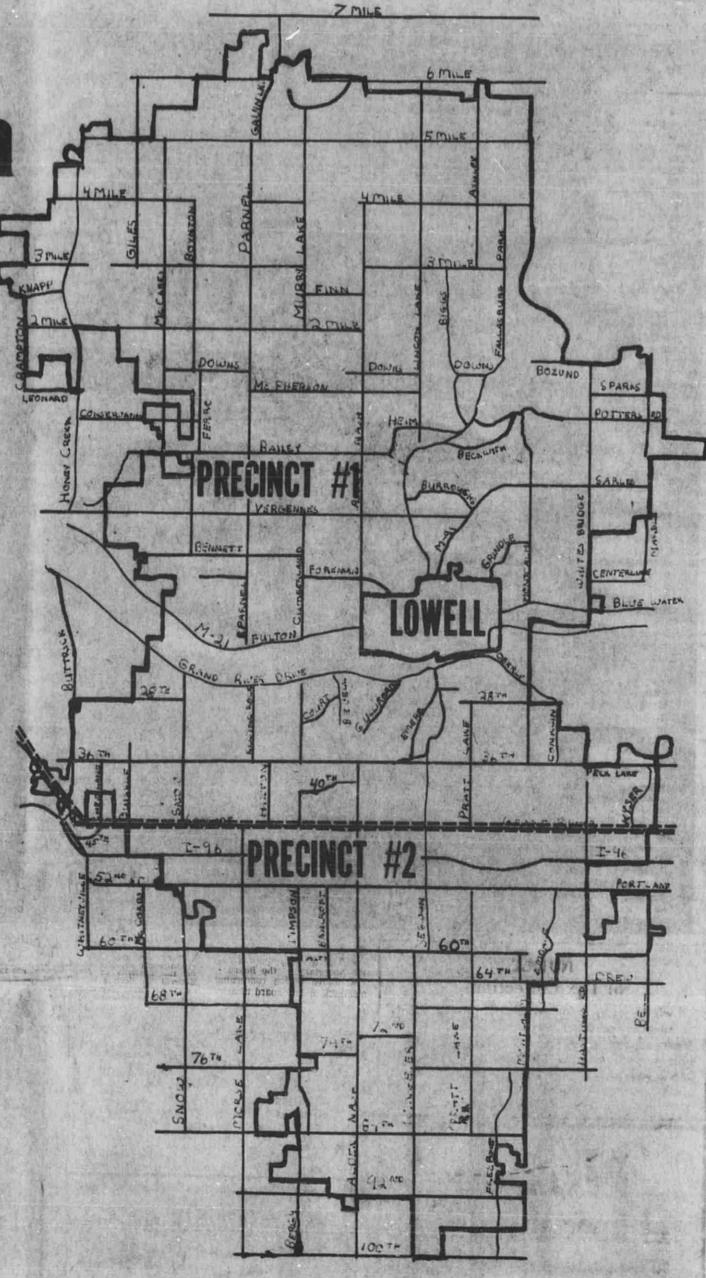

At the election in August, the Board of Education asked for 3.3 mills in order to erase the deficit of the 1967-68 school year. All taxes must be levied on September I in order to be collected in January; therefore, if this issue passes, it cannot be collected until January, 1970. In order to erase the deficit, the board must borrow funds on anticipated taxes: interest rates are about 4%; therefore, if this issue passes, the loan and interest will take about 3.9 mills of the seven mills. This would leave an additional 3.1 mills for the Board of Edu cation to use, if needed, during the 1969-70 school year. The Board of Education is on record to levy only that portion of the seven mills that will be necessary to balance the budget. Until the present school year, the board has not levied full millage, and this past perfor mance of the elected supervising board should speak for itself.

What has the Board done this year to reduce expenses?

The board has made the following reductions in staff for the present school year: 4 elementary teachers; I high school teacher; 2 elementary principals; I Junior High assistant principal; I Business Manager; 6 bus drivers; I secretary; I school nurse; 3 custodians.

How does the Lowell School tax compare to other schools in Kent County?

Out of the nineteen districts in Kent County, Lowell ranks eighteenth lowest in operational will decrease. The 1959 Runciman School addition will be paid this year; the 1955 Runciman School and 1961 Alto School issues will be retired in the next five years.

WHAT? SPECIAL ELECTION WHEN? MONDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1968 WHERE? LOWELL AREA SCHOOLS

Voters living south of Cascade Road (Old 16) will vote at the Alto Area Elementary School, 6150 Bancroft Ave., SE, Alto. Voters living north of Cascade Road (Old 16) will vote at the Runciman Elementary School, 300 High Street, Lowell.

WHO CAN VOTE?

Any registered voter in the school district,

DOES MY VOTE COUNT THIS MUCH?

The bond issue to build the Senior High School passed by one vote. The 3.3 mill election last August lost by one vote. Is your one vote important?

WHAT WILL HAPPEN IF THIS VOTE FAILS?

The Board of Education has reached no answer for this question. Practical considerations dictate that no further cuts can be made this year, but that major cuts would be required for the 1969-70 school year in order to create a balanced budget.

Take Steps to Immunize tor Measles

Two cases of measles were reported in Kent County last month, according to Health Department records

While this is not an alarming number, there may not have been any cases if a proper immunization program were followed, Dr. W. B. Prothro, Kent County Health Officer, points out.

Measles can be a serious disease to anyone who has not previously had the infection or been protected by vaccine. This is especially so in those suffering from chronic disease or who are under par physical-

The infant and preschool child are more prone to complications such as ear infection, pneuminia, and in rare instances nervous system in

Measles, along with whoop-ing cough, diptheria, polio and small pox are all diseases that can be eradicated if proper immunization schedules are

Kent County presently has forty-four cases of whooping cough. The last case of diptheria was reported in 1961 and the last case of smallpox in 1943. The last cases of polio were reported in 1963. While the county record is good, it will not remain so or improve, if we do not continue immunization on a reguchildren and newcomers to the community, Dr. Prothro said.

Persons not adequately im-nunizied should see their family physician or visit one of the county Health Department

Post Marks 50th Year

A dinner marking the golden anniversary of the American Legion Club was held by the Clark Ellis Post 152 last Thursday evening, November

November II, originally called Armistice Day after World War I and now known as Veteran's Day, is the official birthday of the Legion.

Acording to Bob Ellis of the local post, there is one 40-year member of the post, Earl Kinyon, and several 48-year members including Frank Ste-phens, Bruce McQueen and Pete Mulder.

As a result of a yearly mem-bership drive, five Vietnam war veterans were signed by the local post and welcomed by the membership at this dia-

Following the meal, three LHS seniors were on hand to describe their experiences as the Clark Ellis sponsored representatives to the American Legion Boy's State earlier this year. Curt Fonger and Jack Thomet briefly discussed Boy's State

Cla Avery gave his impressions of the event and also told of his trip to Germany last summer as an exchange student under the auspices of Youth for Understanding.
