Letters, Letters! We Get Letters!

In reply to a letter appearing in the "Letters to the Editor" column written by William S. Doyle, appearing in the issue of Thursday, February 20, 1969, we feel it is necessary to call at-tention to many inaccurate figures presented in Mr. Doyle's letter.

The enrollment at the Lowell Area Schools during the 1967-68 school year was 2531. The figure of 2441 used in the letter was the enrollment for the 1966-67 school year.

If Mr. Doyle had done as he requested other people to do, he would have found out at the Kent Intermediate School District office that the directory he refers to was published in July 1968, and therefore all attendance figures are based on the previous school year, not the 1968-69 school year.

Since all the basic data that Mr. Doyle used is incorrect, all of his assumptions on savings and costs are therefore in error. We are reminded again of his opening statement at the public hearing in which he stated that "figures don't lie, but liars fig-

If people are seriously interested in facts and figures con-cerning comparison of Lowell and other school districts, they are readily available. We would caution all persons to be sure to know on what basis the comparisons are made. Some of the districts that Lowell is compared with do not offer basic educational needs and have been unable to build needed school buildings. Residents of the Lowell School District must decide what type of education they want their children to have and then pay for it. Voters are not deciding on March 17 what type of education the students in Belding and Cedar Springs are to be offered, but what type of education is going to be offered in the Lowell

Twice rejected by voters in appeals for additional operating millage, the board is seeking approval for an extra sev-en-mill operating levy for one year in a special election scheduled for March 17.

During its meetings of December and January, the board re-affirmed its pledge to vot-ers that it would assess only that portion of the seven mills required to operate an "aver-age" education program.

A lesser levy is a definite possibility if tentative figures for the 1969-70 fiscal year are to be used as a base.

the City of Lowell plus an expected increase in SEV in township properties included in the district could boost total SEV from $25,008,911 for the present fiscal year to approxi-mately $26,300,000 for 1969-70.

The school's budget for 1969-70 is currently being projected at slightly more than $1,300,-

Superintendent James C. Pace, but current projections indicate that total operating millage required to operate the school next year ... and at the same time wipe out a deficit of about $91,000 ... would be 22.1.

This is five mills greater than the 17.1 mills allocated (10.1) and previously voted (seven) under which the district has been operating this vear.

Pace projects that total needed millage for 1969-70 may not exceed 28.6. The present 7.5 debt millage will be reduced to 6.5 with increase in the district's SEV, inclusion of four rural districts in the district's debt retirement program for the first time and retirement of the 1959 debt tax.

"The single biggest 'if' is, as it always has been, the as it always has been, the amount of state aid that can be expected," says Pace, "We won't know this figure much before June, but it could be from $5 to $35 higher per pu-pil than for 1968-69."

Forest Hills High's basketball team will be shooting for a winning record for the 1968-69 season when they complete the regular campaign this Friday night.

Coach Don Kemp's Rangers struck for an early lead, then hung on to edge neighborhood rival Lowell on the Forest Hills hardwood Tuesday night, 88-83,

Senior guard Doug Koessell turned in the finest game of his prep career to pace the Green and White cagers, net-ting 21 points and adding four assists

Tom Teft connected for 19 points, Glenn Collins chipped in with 13 more and Scott Wingeier and Dan Mosher each pumped in 10 for the winners.

They insist on taking an "all or nothing" attitude by asking for 7 mills when it becomes obvious they could ask for enough to pay the deficit and get it (they say 3.9).

They are quoted as saying they expect more income from state aid, more tax base from added country school districts and they supposedly have sav-ed from $15,000 to $19,000 on what they like to call a semiausterity budget, perhaps this would be enough additional operating money.

To The Editor:

In his eagerness to prove his points regarding Lowell Area School costs, Bill Doyle has apparently become confused with his own figures. In his talk on February 2, he divided the 1967-68 budget by the 1966-67 enrollment to come up with a cost per student which is meaningless. In his letter in the Feb. 20 Ledger he quotes numbers of teachers and membership for last year (1967-68) and labels them 1968-69 figures

Mr. Doyle must have been reading the Kent County Directory statistics for the previous year in each case. The facts I quote have been computed by his methods, but using the correct amounts. In condensed form, these facts line up as follows:

1967-68 Expenditures 1967-68 Membership 1967-68 Gross Operating Cost per Stud 1967-68 Teachers 1967-68 Teacher-Student Ratio	Doyle Statements $1,321,390 2,441 lent $541 115 21.2	Correct Figures $1,321,390 2,531 $522" 112 22.6
1968-69 Membership	2,531	2,583
1968-69 Teachers	115	107°
1968-69 Teacher-Student Ratio	22	24.1*

"The 107 teachers include librarians, remedial reading, counselors, elementary physical education-everyone except adminis-trators, If we divide 2583 students by 99 regular classroom teachers we get a ratio of 26.1 and of course the class load in many classes runs much higher than this

"The $522 includes about $3 for Capital Outlay and Interest on Short-term Loans.

Now everyone knows that 1967-68 was the expensive year, but there is no call to distort costs to make the picture look worse than it is. The system is being run on a much more economical basis this year, as can be seen by reading this year's figures.

We should not get so involved in fiscal problems that we for-(Continued on page 2)

Many of the millage supporters play on the emotions, sympathies and compassions the voters, making retirees and grandparents feel guilty about not sacrificing more money for education.

While sympathy and compassion are very admirable traits in their place, it will take cash to pay your taxes. Even with our Government receiving all of these taxes, they have managed to go in debt over 300 billion dollars. "I have heard," said a recent caller, "that the board of education will keep this millage on the books indefinitely."

Well, friends, nothing could be farther from the truth. If district voters approve this millage (or any other, for that matter), it must only be for that period of time so stated on the ballot.

In this instance, the ballot specifically reads "for the year 1969." No more, no less,

I don't know, by exact count, the number of times we have been criticized for not publishing certain items . . . when, in fact, most were published and, oft-times, given prominent position in the newspaper.

It also is disturbing, that stories based on conjecture . . . with appropriate words to so designate them . . . are accepted as fact.

No doubt there are many reasons why people tend to mis-interpret the written or spoken word. In the eyes of the world, we Americans are viewed as rather crude individuals who move too fast to properly digest that which sustains us most ... knowledge and food!

Perhaps the time has come for all of us to slow down. The pace we are leading is a killer.

More to the point, perhaps the time has come for each of us to take time for self-appraisal . . . and to take corrective steps to strengthen our weaknesses, no matter what they be. * * *

Several weeks ago, you may recall a story that appeared about a once-in-a-lifetime event that cribbage players dream about, but seldom ever see.

It happened to Ronnie Heether, a fine lass from up Parnell way, who put together a perfect 29 hand while playing in a sixhanded game.

We have played cribbage for many years and several times have had all the ingredients for such a hand. On most of these occasions, we were fortunate enough to come up with a 28 hand, which may mean nothing for those of you who do not participate, but is quite an accomplishment in itself.

Good Friend Wife and I enjoy sitting down to a competitive hand or two of cribbage now and again, probably because it's one of the few games at which she has been known to beat me.

A few years ago, acting on advice from an old friend, we tried to encourage the younger ones to learn the game. It moves fast and requires skill at addition, which is one subject not too many of them excel in.

"We taught our kids how to play cribbage," counselled Old Friend, "and it was amazing how fast they learned to count."

Well, to make a long story short, our gang just never quite took to the game. But they've made up for it many times over since we bought 'em a Yahtzee board two years ago.

Talk about adding fast ... now there's a game! Even little Kerry (who was dubbed "Harold" at an early age and has never really outgrown it, which is bad for a girl!) gets in on the ac-

This line of thinking certain-ly has great merits, both in a private family way of living and in a business operation. After all, the one big Lowell school district is made up of the many small family groups and what makes a sound business operation for one, makes the same for the other. I be lieve most of the good citizens of Lowell township have lived by this way of thinking, or we would not have a financially sound district. But has the Lowell school board run our schools on the same basis? Schools on the same basis? Have they been driving the Cadillac when they should have been driving the Chevrolet? BEHIND the COUNTER -----with -

CHARLES WESTON

There is a widespread be-hief that physicians must limit themselves to prescribing only those drugs that are absolutely safe. And we expect the gov-ernment and the pharmaceu-tical industry to provide us with this protection, without realizing that it isn't realistic or wise.

r wise. You see, no form of medical treatment is absolutely with-out risk. We realize this when out risk. We realize this when we're talking about surgery, but many of us don't accept this when it comes to medi-cines. We expect "wonder drugs" and medical "cures" to be available without any dan-ger of side-effects—and that is almost impossible. Naturally, we want to keep the danger to a minimum—haturally, we want to keep the danger to a minimum — (and the FDA does a good job in providing that protection) — but we must realize that each and every drug has more than one effect on the body's com-plex chemistry. This applies not only to prescription drugs, but to all those others we use without a second thought: cof-fee, tea, alcohol, tobacco and aspirin.

This doesn't mean we should stop using drugs, or stop searching for the best form of medical treatment. It does mean that the patient must be extremely careful in following the advice of the doctor and harmacist regarding a pre-cription, One tablet twice a ay, means just that, two tablets four times a day won't work any better, and could be dangerous. And it does mean that we must be careful about aving such drugs around there they can be swallowed y children or "borrowed" by iends and relatives. In short, take as directed." Cascade

HERE ARE THE ANSWERS TO THE CONCERNED PARENTS AND TAXPAYERS

Why 31.6 mills?

The maximum operating levy will be 24.1 mills. Bond millage will be reduced, before your next school tax bill, to 6.6 mills. This means a maximum levy of 39.7 mills, not

Why a 7 mill increase-3.9 will pay the deficit?

The 7 mills is FOR ONE YEAR ONLY, 3.95 mills will pay the deficit. The remaining 3.65 mills, FOR ONE YEAR ONLY, is for operation of the schools 1969-1970 year, including work on buildings and equipment not done this year, because of lack of funds.

Why does it cost more for education in Lowell per pupil than in other comparable schools?

It does NOT cost more. In a survey conducted by a dis-Interested party, the East Grand Rapids Public Schools, in February, 1969, Lowell's Cost Per Pupli ranked 16th out of 19 schools in Kent County, This is for the current year. Compared with all of the State's 526 High School Districts, Lowell ranks number 288, or a little below the average throughout the state, according to the Michigan epartment of Education's Bulletins 1011 and 1012. Compared to the national median or average, according to th anuary, 1969 issue of School Management Maga Lowell ranks below the national average Current En penditure Cost Per Pupil figure of $516.40. This show that Lowell's current costs are not higher, but LESS THAN the normal

Why is the pupil-teacher ratio smaller in Lowell than i other comparable schools?

Parents who are "concerned" for their children's education should be trying to lower the size of the classes, not tion should be trying to lower the size of the classes, not raising them. Here in Lowell, where the dollar seems to be the only guideline considered by the "concerned" citi-zen, it can only be pointed out that the current year's. Official School Membership is 2,583 pupils; which, when divided by this year's 107 teaching nosilions yields a ratio of 24.1. the deficit is expecied to be only $91,000? 28 teachers' salaries does not represent $300,000

Why threaten parents with half days of school when it becomes obvious that this would not be necessary if the board would ask for only enough millage to pay

This question represent someone's opinion, based on un-known figures. The fact is that the Board, whom the elected, has said that payment of the debt by a 4 mill levy will not provide enough money to operate the schools, maintain buildings and equipment and instruct the students for full day program. Lowell High School's basketball team will close out the regular portion of the 1968-69 season Thursday night when it journeys to Comstock Park for what looms as a "warm up" for next week's state Class B District tournament.

The Arrows are heavily favored to hand Comstock Park its 14th loss in a row in the Tri-River League and to clinch out-right possession of second place in the circuit at the same time.

Coach Jack Kempker's squad gained nothing less than a share of the No. 2 spot behind ¹⁹ at the first of the no. 2 spot behind ¹⁹ at the first of the normal states of the normal st unbeaten Rockford by toppling Coopersville in its home finale last Friday, 84-63.

Eight wrestlers from Forest Hills High and seven from Lowell will seek championship honors this Saturday in the state Class B regional tourna ment at Wyoming Park High's gym.

Preliminaries start at 1:00 m, and the evening finals at 7:00.

Undefeated Larry Cardinel, winner of 29 straight matches at 127 pounds, helped spark Forest Hills to the Class B district title in a two-team struggle with Lowell,

The Rangers topped the final team standings with 106 with Lowell just six points off the pace. Ionia and Grand Rapids Central Christian each scored 50 points to share third place, a point in front of Northview. Caledonia followed with 33 and East Christian was seventh with four points.

"It was every bit as close as we thought it would be," declared Forest Hills Coach Chuck Matthews. "Lowell gave us a difficult time in our dual match and they sure looked like they could win it all in the district."

Coach Gary Rivers's Arrows produced five individual champions while Forest Hills came up with three first-place winners in addition to Cardinel.

The 1-2 finishers in district competition automatically advance into the regionals. To qualify for the state finals, a wrestler must finish no worse than fourth in the regionals

Joining Cardinel in the winner's circle for Forest Hills were 103-pounder Jim Leyndyke, Craig VanSluyters (133) and Randy Simon (175).

Runner-up spots for the Rangers were taken by Tee Wietke (95 pounds), Jim Olsen (138), John Olmstead (145) and Bob Roy (154).

Lowell's quintet of winners consisted of Carl Rasch at 95 pounds Kurt Inman (112), Ray Smith (138), Steve Foss (165) and heavyweight Ken Wosin-

Steve Newell (103) and Ben Hall (175) also qualified for the regionals for the Arrows.

Lowell and Forest Hills met head-to-head in four final events and came away with two victories each.

Rasch defeated Wietke by a 5-0 decision in the 95-pound division and Smith topped Olson by a 5-3 count at 138 pounds for Lowell's wins while Forest Hills' Leyndyke pinned Newell at 3:07 and Simon scored an 8-0 win over Hall to give the Rangers their two triumphs

Lowell Ledger-Suburban Life, Feb. 27, 1969 10

This week we are instituting a new weekly column for and about Lowellites.

If you have any items, lit-tle bits of humor, or other material you feel are just the thing for the 'Lamplight-er,' call Patt at 897-9261.

The home of Mary Lou and King Doyle was the scene of a seemingly innocent Valentine's Day party. But to Bob and Carol Reagan's surprise, friends had gathered not only to celebrate the red heart day, but to fete a red letter day for the Reagan's-their 16th wedding anniversary. Helping to remember years past and toast future years were Carl and Jean Christenson, Lloyd and Jo Ritzema, Dan and Phyllis Lessens, Rose Ball, and Bud and Bernadine Norton.

Jan Lippert and daughter, Stacey, recently spent the day in Big Rapids, the town called home before Lowell happily claimed them. They spent a pleasant day visiting old friends.

Spring is just around the corner (I say this with crossed fingers), and once again our "Moose," 80 pounds of Labra-dor-German shepherd, is greet-ing the warm season with mixed feelings. Now Moose is afraid of ab-solutely nothing, with the pos-sible exception of the some-times wierd noises emitted from our dishwasher. He is an excellent watchdog and pro-tector of home and family, as anyone who even so much as drives into our driveway will testify to. As a matter of fact, he is an out and out bully, a vociferous protector against noisy trucks and boys on bicycles.

Birds, however, appear to be his nemesis.

Now the birds in our neigh borhood aren't dumb. They know a patsy when they see one, and Moose is their special patsy. All spring, summer and fall, birds swoop over his head, just out of reach. They sit not two feet from the end of his chain, just staring at him while he slowly goes out of his mind.

Ah, spring. How do you soothe the jangled nerves of a bird-persecuted canine?
