At this early moment, it is difficult to know whether I feel better or worse. But I am firm in my resolve that this time there will be no return to the nasty nicotine

You'll note that I said "this time." I gave up cigarettes a few years back for all of 36 hours, 10 minutes and 49 seconds!!

Then, just when it appeared I had things under control, it was time to fill out my income tax . . . and down the drain went all chances of continuing my crusade.

At last glance, it has now been more than 70 hours and it appears I may be well ov-

None of this slow withdrawal for me. Quit 'em cold, I did. That's the only way, just like going into a pool. Dive in and get wet all at once or don't even bother, that's Just one thing more. Give me a call or drop me a note to keep my confidence going. Above all, don't let anyone blow smoke in my face!

The other night we took a trip over the Buicktown, USA, better known as Flint and there spent a few delightful hours renewing acquaintances with some cronies from our days in public relations . . . Frank Cronin and Lynn Reuster of Buick PR, Bill Lampe of McCann-Erickson advertise ing and Budd Lynch, who handles, among other chores, play-by-play for the Detroit

The occasion was a going-away party for Cronin, who is headed for the job as PR boss of General Motors Truck and Coach

I'll never forget Frank and his handling of Buick's new car preview show back in 1966 when I was with Windsor Raceway.

He really showed some class when, out of the blue, he hired two bagpipers to serenade the press and kept them piping for about 24 hours straight! Including while he made long distance calls from border to border and coast to coast, just to let others in on the fun.

Some of the more expert fishermen in these parts claim that the fish pictured in last week's edition wasn't a Coho sal-

Well, I don't claim to be an expert in this field and it's entirely possible that it was some other species. But when the guy who caught it says it was a Coho . . . and says he knows a Coho when he sees one

... then I got to go along with his story. And, besides, it made one heckuva good picture!)

March came in like a lamb, went out like a lion and we are happy to see it finally gone. But the first day of April offered no prospect that things are going to be any better, at least for a while.

In fact, at this writing I still haven't been out on the golf course. This will be cured, I assure you, before the week is over.

Annual Town Meetings to Be Held

'Uncle Carl' Does It Again!

BY SHIRLEY DYGERT

"Uncle Carl" Behnke of 4804 Cascade Road has long been known for his generosity to young people . . . and now he's done it again.

A recent retiree, Behnke just completed work on 12 martin houses, which he intends to give to various organizations. Most of them are ear-marked for delivery, including a 32-apartment birdhouse that has 16 windows on each of colonial mansions, most feature white walls, green shutters and red chimneys. There are pillared porches and some even have attached garages.

Martins are mighty particular birds, so Behnke has followed their desires regarding room sizes and prepared each to be 51/2" x 5" x 5." The interiors all have light colored walls and, in some houses, each apartment has a different color.

Behnke also spent spare time building traffic boards in order to teach children road safety. The boards resembled roads and small cars could be run on them to make understanding of hazards more complete.

Now Behnke has retired after many years with Hartford Insurance and he can devote more time to projects whenever he is given enough material with which to work.

Sometimes lumber yards, such as Meekhof's, have saved choice pieces of lumber for him because they understand the value of his hobby.

Behnke is always looking for more oddments that he can use. Some of the pillars, for instance, were made from old coffee table legs.

Recipients of the current crop of martin houses will include Camp O'Malley, the Youth Commonwealth at Alaska; John Ball Park, where it may be placed high on a pole in the center of the duck pond; the Mary Free Bed Guild Camp at Amen Park; Pine Rest; the Little Sisters of the Poor Home; St. John's Home; Villa Maria; Villa Elizabeth; and the Allegan County School of Special Training.

Carl Behnke likes to make people happy. Retarded children, orphans and the aged are among those he tries to please.

When he heard that St. John's Home was in need of story books, he gathered a carload in one weekend and delivered them in time for Easter.

Charcoal Sale Is Scheduled for April 12

Ed Buell, chairman, has announced that the annual Charcoal Sale sponsored by the Thornapple Valley Lions Club will be held on Saturday, April 12.

Proceeds from the sale will go toward purchasing playground equipment and installing toilet facilities at the Lions' Community Park.

Will Hold Joint Services for Easter

During Holy Week 1969, all churches of the area have planned an accelerated schedule of services beginning on Maundy Thursday and culminating in the observance of Easter Sunday.

On Good Friday afternoon the members of the First United Methodist and First Congregational Churches of Lowell will unite for services conducted by the Rev. Frank Currie of Urbanna, Illinois.

Joint services will also be held by the members of the Baptist churches of Alto, Caledonia, Alaska and Eastmont at the Alto Baptist Church on Good Friday after-

The area Catholic churches will feature an Easter Vigil beginning at 11 p.m. on Saturday evening and followed by an East-er Midnight Mass.

An Easter Sunrise service, open to mem-bers of all faiths will be held at the Civic Auditorium in Grand Rapids. Members of several area churches have made plans to attend in a body this early service beginning at 6:30 a.m.

Sunrise services will also be held at the First United Methodist Church of Lowell and the Cascade Christian Church.

He attempted to put out the blaze, but when it went out of control, the Alto department was called. Chief Metternick then put in a further call for assistance from Caledonia.

Estimated damage to the barn, a nearby shed and contents was set at $4,500.

Rev. Bailard was given oxygen at the scene of the fire, then was removed to Blodgett Hospital for overnight observation. He was released Tuesday.

Police Complete 1st Aid Course

Three members of the regular Lowell Police force and two members of the reserves have successfully completed standard and advanced first aid training

Successful completion of the 27-hour course was attained by Patrolmen Al Eckman, Ronald Speckin and Bob Perrin of the regular force and by Dave Steenwyck and Arthur Fraley of the reserves.

All five members of the regular force now have qualified in advanced first aid and six of the 12 members of the reserves have passed the course, according to James C. Pace and Terry Bambrick. local instructors for the YMCA.

List Scholarship Winners

For the first time since its organization, the Forest Hills Music Association has granted two-week scholarships to top music students of both Forest Hills Junior and Senior High Schools.

After difficult elimination with many eligible students, six were granted scholarships to a summer music program of their choice, pending acceptance by the admissions office of the music camp or school. Representing the Varsity Band are Holly Chadwick, Bob Shoof, and Chip

King.

Holly is a skilled pianist, often acting as accompanist for other band members.

She holds the first chair in the French horn section of the band. She has had four years of private lessons, has earned four blue ribbons in district and state solo and ensemble festivals, and plays in the Grand Rapids Youth Symphony. Bob is first chair clarinet in the varsity band, has also had four years of private lessons, and has earned a total of seven blue ribbons. He, too, is a member of the Grand Rapids Youth Symphony.

Chip, after three years of private lessons, plays the first bass bassoon, holds a total of seven First Division ratings, and is also a member of the Youth Symincluding the Easter Cantata "HALLELUJAH, WHAT A SAV-IOR!" sung by the combined Ada and Cascade Caristian Re-formed Church Choirs.

Martin Meyers of 8565 66th Street SE, Alto, passed away

The good news of Easter Sunday must always be viewed against the dark background of Good Friday. On Calvary our Lord Jesus was crucified. He died and He was buried in the tomb of Joseph of Arimathea. That seemed to be the end of the marvellous ministry of Jesus. But the women who came to anoint the body of Jesus early on Sunday morning received from an angel of the Lord the most surprising and the best news they had ever heard. They were told that Jesus was no longer in the grave and they were invited to inspect the empty tomb.

To these faithful women was granted the wonderful privilege of being the first to hear the good news of the Savior's resurrection from the dead. To them was also given the command: "And go quickly, and tell His disciples, He is risen from the dead." "They departed quickly... and ran to bring His disciples word." (Matthew 28)

To us too there comes the urgent command to go and tell the

Skylarks meet at the church,

They welcomed the flowers and greenery after winter with a festival. The very name Easter derives from the Norsemen's celebration and also the emphasis on new birth of life.

It is clear that Easter for a very long time has been man's season for rejuvenating himself. The troubles and mistakes of the past are put aside. In addition to a rebirth of spirit which, hopefully, we all feel at Easter, it can be a more appropriate time than New Year's to resolve to do better in the spring and summer ahead so as to reap a productive however in the fell.

Skylarks meet at the church, they will start to learn the Missions of the Church.

Wednesday, April 9, Midweek worship service, 7:30 p. m. Speaker to bring lesson, Priest Marvin LaLone, theme, "I Am A Witness to His Love."

Thursday, April 10, Women's Study Section at the church 7:30 p. m. Guest speaker Jack Curtis of Lansing, topic "A Roundtable Discussion on Stewardship."

Easter, which sometimes is criticized as commercialism, actually is symbolic of the new season as the drabness of winter gives place to the freshness of spring. Man has been doing this for centuries and Mother Nature has been doing it forever.

Home in Alaska

March 31st marked the departure north to a new home for Edward and Carol Laux and their six children, ages 6 to 13, who formerly resided on Grindle Drive in Lowell. Also in the party is Edward's brother, Robert.

Their objective is the 160 acres Edward is home-stead-ing near Anchorage. A house, built by Laux during the past six months awaits them.

Traveling in a converted school bus, the three adults plan to drive straight through, taking four hour shifts at the wheel. This should bring them to their destination secretions. to their destination sometime Easter Sunday, if all goes

Taylor U. Grid Coach to Feature Sports Fete

Davenport of Taylor (Ind.) University will be the featured speaker at Forest Hills High School's all-sports banquet this

The affair is scheduled to be held on Tuesday, April 29, at 6:30 p. m. at Adrians' Ramona Terrace in Comstock

Buck Mathews of WOOD-TV and radio will serve as master of ceremonies,

Varsity letter winners in all sports, including cheer-leading, will be honored. The public is welcome to attend. Reservations may be made by contacting Mrs. Robert Witzel at 949-3814.

In addition to his duties as head football coach at the Upland, Indiana school, Daven-port is a founder and director of the "Wandering Wheels," a group of students who each year participate in long-dis-tance bicycle trips.

He will present, along with photographer Julian Gromer, a ute film feature of a trip taken last summer from San Francisco to New York,

Davenport twice won All America football honors as a fullback on the UCLA teams of 1954 and '55, helping to power the Bruins to the national championship in 1954.

He played two years of pro-fessional football with Winnepeg in the Canadian Football League, then accepted the Tay-or U. position in 1968. His teams have won the Hoosier Conference grid title 4 times.

Name Scholarship Winner on April 29

A five-man committee today is working on selection of this year's recipient of the John Blanchard Memorial Scholarship, awarded annually to a senior football player repre-senting Forest Hills High School

The winner's name will be revealed on April 29 during the annual all-sports banquet, according to athletic director

The committee is made up of Principal Howard Dallman, Shy, head football coach Frank ngren and two area residents . . . Lloyd Heneveld and Tommy Ray.

The scholarship fund was created in memory of John Blanchard, former Forest Hills football coach who died in 1967.

Last year, Bill Cardinel was selected as the first winner of the annual $200 grant, which was applied to his college tuition. He is completing his freshman year at Western Michigan University and was a member of the freshman wrestling squad.

Shy announced that the scholarship fund recently was enriched by $100 following re-

FUEL TAX BITE TOPS $8.2-BILLION

It is estimated that motorists have paid an average of $22.9 million a day in state and federal fuel taxes in 1968, for an estimated total of over $8.3 billion for the year.

Can't Curb Inflation, Poll Shows

President Nixon is not likely to curb inflation without a recession, according to results of the Community Opinion Poll conducted by Union Bank at its Ada Branch.

A majority of 57 percent who answered the poll indicated they did not feel the present nistration can successfully control the upward spiral without running into difficulty.

Sixty-two percent of those polled felt that individuals who continue to drive with a re-voked license should have their cars taken away from them.

Several indicated, however, that this might impose an un-due penalty on other members of the family or on car owners used by such errant drivers.

On the question of whether prostitution should be legalized, a slim majority of 55 percent said they felt this would be a good move. It was not too sur-prising that 60 percent of the men polled favored such leg-islation while 53 percent of women were opposed
