Judge White meted out the jail terms Tuesday to Pat Witherell, 17, of 2620 Timpson and William Atkinson III, 18, of Grand River Drive SE, following their arrest 24 hours earlier by Lowell police.

According to police, Witherell and At-kinson assaulted Orin Comdure, 16, in a hallway in Lowell High School Monday. School officials broke up the fracas, but Witherell and Atkinson were picked up while standing just outside school proper-

The complaint was signed by the boy and his father, Theodore Comdure, of Route 1, Lowell.

The Comdure boy suffered cuts under one eye and bruises.

In addition to pleading guilty to simple assault, Witherell also entered pleas of guilty on two other counts pending against him. Manager's Departing... Or Is He?

Bernard C. Olson is scheduled to clean out his desk at Lowell city hall tomorrow ... but chances are the recently-resigned city manager will leave behind a few pens and pencils for future work.

That was the indication following Monday's lengthy council session, which ended with a number of future projects and routine chores still undecided and an obvious intent by the city fathers to hire Olson on a per-diem basis to handle some of the Olson is scheduled to take over his new duties as general manager of Alignment Systems, Inc. in Grand Rapids next week.

"I would only be kidding you if I said I could get everything that needs to be done accomplished in four days," said Olson at the conclusion of the meeting.

Olson's final session in the manager's chair was more than three hours long as council members attempted to get the record straight on several pending matters.

A lively discussion regarding parking along Main Street and on Hudson Street, per a request from the State Highway Department, resulted in a rare split vote of

Mrs. Virginia Myers, Harold Jefferies and Carlen Anderson voted in favor of a plan that would ban parking from Broadway to Lincoln Lake on both sides of Main Street and a further ban on the west side of Hudson from Chatham to Main and on the east side from midway in the block

Mayor Arnold Wittenbach and Councilman Herb Reynolds both objected to the plan, citing the need for parking to service downtown merchants.

Council also learned, to its dismay, that the Michigan Public Service Commission may order a new safety signal device at the C & O crossing on South Hudson due to a report by a private individual that the intersection was the scene of a near-miss ac-cident recently.

The MPSC recently advised the city it must participate in installation of a signal on Foreman Road at an approximate cost

Much of the meeting was devoted to discussion of money matters, during which

It's Auction Time Again!

BY SHIRLEY DYGERT

Whether Ada has a bigger and better fireworks display this Fourth of July will depend largely upon the competitive bidding spirit of those attending the fifth annual Fireman's Auction.

The event is scheduled to start in the center of the village at 7 p.m. this Friday night . . . though articles that will go under the gavel will be on display earlier in the Ada' fireworks spectacular has long been a summer tradition, but only in the past four years has the auction been used to develop a source of revenue to purchase the incendiary display.

In the past some live animals, horses, goats, and kittens have been on the block. But no more . . that was too much trou-ble. However, large appliances (that work), ladders, paintings, sinks, and antiques are among the varied articles to be found at the sale. No clothing will be available.

Donations will be gratefully accepted by the firemen. This will be a classic case of "the more the merrier."

Auctioneer for this year will be Al Vander Laan of Caledonia, who has donated his services for the non-profit project.

See Light Turnout in Lowell

Activity at the polls is expected to be considerably lighter in the Lowell Area School District's annual election next Monday than in the past three elections.

A light turnout is expected in view of the fact that incumbent Harold Metternick is running unopposed for the lone four-year term available on the board of Educa-

Superintendent Carl Hagen reminds voters, however, that only registered electors owning taxable property in the district are eligible to vote on a special ballot which would require four rural districts . . . While the indebtedness ballot requires property ownership as a qualification, this is not true in the balloting for the lone vacancy in the board.

Bond Issue, Vacancy Feature Vote in FH

School officials remained hopefully optimistic to-day that taxpaying voters in the Forest Hills Public School District will approve a $2.9-million bond issue request in Monday's annual election.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. at Collins School, 4368 Heather Lane, and at Forest Hills High School Multi-Purpose Room, 5901 Hall Street.

Only qualified property owners in the district are eligible to vote on the bond issue proposal, which would raise monies needed to complete the present senior-junior high school complex.

In addition, all qualified voters will be asked to vote in separate balloting on election of three members of the Board of Education.

The additional seat became vacant with the resignation of John Wardrop, who had served but one year of a four-year term before leaving the district.

Four candidates are seeking the short term seat. They are Mrs. Sarah Hamp, Gerrit Lamain, Kenneth Klynstra and Roger Mathhews.

Incumbent board members running unopposed for the regular four-year terms are James Banta and Wil-

Superintendent Robert R. Masten has outlined plans that will call for expanding the present seniorjunior high school complex to fit the anticipated school population needs of five years hence.

"We feel this project will answer the needs of our fast-growing district up to and including 1974 or 1975," said Masten. "If further expansion is required at that time, it probably will have to be in a different

Highlight features of the bond proposal include construction of a 100,000-square foot building to house the upper two grades of the high school; renovation of the present senior high (which would house grades nine and ten) and addition of 20,000 square feet, including 12 classrooms and a physical education area and industrial arts area, at the junior high.

It is planned to incorporate a small auditorium and a non-spectator gymnasium in the proposed upper grade building.

Under the board's plan, bonded indebtedness would be raised 1.5 mills to 8.35 . . . below the limit of nine mills pledged by the board in the past.

All four candidates for the short term vacancy have been active in community affairs, as indicated in the following biographical sketches:

Showboat Helped Launch Career for Lowell DJ

BY ALGENE FEUERSTEIN

"The Dick Lee Show" currently heard on station WZZM-FM from 9 p. m. until 1 a. m. is another chapter in the story that began on the Lowell Showboat stage in 1965.

That was the year that the Headhunters, a local rock and roll group, played the show as backup band for the famous Vogues, Spotlights, crowds and applause proved a heady mixture for the young group and the show business bug seems to have bitten hard.

Dick Lee, manager and men-tor of the Headhunters, has been a well-liked and wellknown young man about Low-ell since his high school years. An honor student at LHS, he was a member of the graduating class of 1967.

During his last two high school years, Dick worked at Art's TV, took care of his managerial duties for the Headhunters which included keeping their wide variety of electronic equipment in good working order and managed to find time to participate in many school activities. He was chosen a Junior Rotarian, Junior Lion and a representative to Boy's State while in high

Following his graduation from LHS, Dick began working at radio station WYON, continued to work at Art's and attended Grand Rapids Junior College for the past two years.

AN OPEN LETTER

To the Kent County Road Commissioners and the Ada Township Board

Gentlemen:

The writer of this letter resides at 5396 Michigan Road, East, in what we are pleased to call "The Valley of The Willows." The house and the acres around it was settled much over one hundred years ago. My neighbors, Sam and Marie Hill, live across the road in a centennial home that was part of the original homestead of the pioneer Hill family.

Taxes have been paid for over 100 years for this land and for the road that passes through it. Two years ago East Michigan Road was blacktopped from Grand River Road until it reached the edge of my farm. There it stops. From that line to the border of Grand Rapids Township, which is the west line of the Kentree Riding School and Polo grounds, it is all still gravel. It is one of the few gravel roads left in this part of Kent County.

On a bad curve, where a creek crosses the road on my property, several auto accidents have happened. After the last accident I phoned the Township Road Garage and asked if a load of gravel could be dumped where the auto left the road.

The net result so far has been a red flag that faded with time and finally toppled over-an invitation to another accident.

Through the summer many people bring their children to the Kentree riding school and each week-end many come to attend the polo games. They all travel over a loose and rutted gravel road in front of the Kentree property.

The writer is aware of the fact that the Township's share of any road improvement comes only from their sales tax returns, but the Road Commission gets part of its millions each year from the autos that travel this road.

It is a trifle ironic that the writer of this letter was the author of the "Salestax Return" and directed the drive for over 300,000 names to the petition that placed the amendment in the State Constitution.

This amendment has brought billions of dollars to schools, cities and townships since its adoption in the late forties, yet we still drive over an accident prone gravel road in the Valley of The Willows.
