New Deputy Clerk Finds Post Is Busy One

Ada Township has a new attraction in its government building.

Making life and duties, if not lighter, at

One time Good Friend Wife got mad at the Smithy and uttered something about my being "for the birds."

I had never really bothered to examine the expression until a man who really knows something about birds proceeded to tell me just about the same thing in letter form this week.

We refer to a note from John Ham of Laraway Lake Drive who, among other things, is engaged by the Federal government to band birds for purposes of studying their habits and providing a census of the various species.

John reminds one and all that the onset of winter weather is the time to consider feeding of birds during the frigid months ahead.

The letter also indicated that the Smithy has chosen to ignore our feathered friends, which may be true. The only birdies that I know with any certainty are those scored on a golf course.

Oh, sure, I recognize robins, woodpeckers, blue jays, cardinals, sparrows, crows, meadowlarks and other more common birds. But once you get beyond them, I'm lost. I doubt seriously I would recognize an American bald eagle if we met eye-to-eye.

John suggests that perhaps a bird column would fit into our weekly rendering, which may be OK. But only if enough readers want one. All those in favor, send a postcard. Don't call! We spend enough time on the telephone as it is!

A reminder to folks in the Forest Hills area: This is the week of the annual Boosters Club subscription drive in which students from the junior high will be out selling subscriptions to our weekly offering.

We're happy to cooperate in the venture and hope that you will sign on the dotted line when your student salesman rings the doorbell.

The club gets 50 percent of the money, and has used it in the past to help underwrite many projects for the school athletic program.

Didn't realize how fast time was flying until several of our advertisers inserted mention this week of Christmas layaway sales.

There are 53 shopping days to Christmas... which could be altered if some of the stores open on Sundays as is now being considered.

Speaking of time flying, this weekend marks the 24th anniversary of nuptial bliss for GFW and the Smithy.

Happy 24th, GFW. If you're nice and wait another year, there will be a nice present for you. Unless, of course, the government recalls all those silver dollars.

Residents Act to Save Cascade Backwaters

BY SHIRLEY DYGERT

Petitions seeking establishment of a special assessment district to operate the Cascade Dam were being circulated throughout Cascade Township today in an effort to head off possible loss of the dam and its valuable backwaters.

The movement followed attendance by approximately 175 interested residents with township officials at a special public meeting Monday night.

Residents no doubt were stirred by the spectre of the area without its backwaters. Consumers Power Company lowered the waters 10 days ago to inspect the dam and would, if the dam is abandoned, drop the waters to their normal level... some 17 feet lower.

Signatures of at least 152 property owners are needed, representing two-thirds of those with land abutting the backwaters, before the petitions can be presented to the Kent County Board of Supervisors for further action.

Supervisor Al Heemstra told the large turnout that the township could take title of the dam and its flowage rights for $1 under a proposal offered by the power company, but that this could be done only if property owners agreed to the special assessment district.

Title could be taken under Act 146 of 1961 known as the Lake Level Act, which was used in establishing a similar district behind the Ada Dam last year. Inasmuch as the Cascade-Thornapple

Association, many of whose members are interested property owners, is not a corporation, it cannot legally take title to the dam, Heemstra pointed out.

After a lengthy period of questions and answers, and expression of interest was asked for by Heemstra. At least seventy-five percent raised hands in favor of the proposal.

Following the meeting, petitions were made available for signatures, fifty-seven of which were obtained, each representing one parcel of land.

One resident inquired why Act 253 could not be used. This act permits two contiguous units of government to act as co-owners. Heemstra replied that neither Ada nor Caledonia Townships were interested in joining with Cascade in operation of the river.

The next question was whether the same act could not be used between Cascade Township and Kent County.

Heemstra said that supervisors of Kent County had refused to entertain that idea when the Ada-Dam was to be sold.

The total valuation on the river at present, according to the township supervisor, is $1,772,350. If this valuation should be decreased through the return of the river to its original state, the economic blow to the township would be great, said Heemstra.

In reply to another resident, Heemstra said that no plans have been discussed to establish the backwater as a reservoir. Water and sewer facilities are being brought out to Cascade from the City of Grand Rapids and special assessment districts are being created by residents who desire the service, Heemstra noted.

HIGH 'N DRY - A float boat is shown in temporary "drydock" after backwaters of the Cascade Dam were lowered to permit inspection of the facility. Residents and township officials are seeking ways to save the dam and backwaters, which may be abandoned by Consumers Power Company in the near future, met Monday night to hear an outline of the problem by Cascade Supervisor Al Heemstra.

Booster Club Subscription Drive Gets Underway

The annual Ledger-Suburban Life subscription drive got underway this week with young salesmen from the seventh and eighth grades at Forest Hills Junior High seeking to raise funds for the Boosters Club.

In addition, there will be prizes for the top six salesmen during the week-long event, daily prizes and a prize for every student of the homeroom that posts the greatest number of sales.

The drive ends next Wednesday, October 29.

Fifty percent of the money from the subscription drive will be given to the Forest Hills Athletic Boosters Club. In turn, this organization will use the money to help support the high school and junior high athletic programs.

The Boosters Club has long been recognized as a pioneer in assisting the Forest Hills athletic program. First organized in 1957, the club is open to all adults in the district... parents of non-athletes as well as athletes.

This year, a board of 28 was selected to serve as liaison representatives with all sports teams sponsored by the district. When the district was new and there was practically no program of athletics, the Boosters bought the first football uniforms used by Ranger teams.

The first major outlay of funds by the Boosters was for lighting of the football field... a project which cost $15,000.

In 1962, when school mileage was in jeopardy, the Boosters organized a door-to-door campaign for funds to help pay the coaching staff.

Other activities in which the Boosters have aided the athletic program include building the baseball diamond and backstop; purchase of wrestling mats for the varsity, junior varsity, and the junior high teams; and the development of the track.

Monies raised through the annual subscription drive for Suburban Life have also been used for track modifications, jumping pits and runways, pads for shot-putting and discus throwers, and a charging sled. Even the snappy new uniforms that the cheerleaders are wearing were partially funded by Booster's monies. The annual All Sports banquet was started and is financed by this organization.

Passenger Injured in Collision

A 19-year-old Lowell woman was slightly injured in one of three minor accidents reported by Lowell police during the past week.

Dianne Sisson of 622 N. Monroe was a passenger in a car driven by Ronald L. Krick, also 19, of 6772 Knapp NE, Ada, when it reportedly ran into the rear end of an automobile driven by James R. Jeluso, 21, of Grand Rapids.

Both cars were westbound when the accident occurred on West Main Street near Amity.

Miss Sisson was taken to Blodgett Hospital for observation of a neck injury and released. Neither driver was injured.

A Saranac man was handed a jail sentence of four to 14 years in Southern Michigan Prison when found guilty in Kent County Circuit Court of passing phony checks in the Lowell area last summer.

James Alexander, 27, of 68 Dewitt was arrested by authorities in Indianapolis last August 2 following a tip from Sgt. James Hutson of the Lowell department and Detective Dick Williams of the Kent County Sheriff's Department.

Alexander was accused of forging six checks, amounting to about $180, and passing them in this area.

Lowell officials reported a break-in early Sunday at the Showboat Restaurant on East Main. Several boxes of frozen food were taken, two of which were later recovered from a nearby field.

Entrance was gained by breaking a lock on the back door.

City Sets Dates for Leaf Pickup

City Manager Blaine Bacon announced today that the city's sanitation department will make special pickups of leaves on this Friday, October 24, and again on October 31. Residents are advised that leaves must be placed in bags or cardboard containers.

LOWELL BEER STORE—Open every day and evening 11:30 a.m. Sunday until 9 p.m.

Minor Items Considered by Council

A number of minor items occupied the Lowell City Council in an abbreviated semi-monthly meeting Monday night.

Much of the time was spent on considering a request by Lowell YMCA executive director Terry Bambrick for an additional appropriation of $400 to help defray costs of operating the King Memorial swimming pool.

The city annually authorizes a grant of $1,000 from the Lee Fund to support the pool operation.

Council members indicated they were willing to consider the Y's request, but asked Bambrick to submit a detailed report of the pool operation before authorizing the expenditure.

Two sewer projects, one scheduled for installation this fall, also were considered. A public hearing on a special assessment roll for a sewer on Foreman Street was held with no objections from affected residents. The project will cost about $6,804 with the city paying approximately two-thirds of the cost.

Council also set a November 3 hearing date for establishing an assessment roll for a sewer on High Street east of Division. The vote was 4-1 with Councilwoman Virginia Myers casting the negative ballot.

City Manager Blaine Bacon told council that it would be too late to install the sewer this year even if residents in the proposed special assessment district approve the roll.

At the request of the city manager, council approved waiver of bids for installing a new gas heat conversion unit in the municipal garage along with two overhead heaters. Cost of the project was set at about $1,000.

Old-Fashioned Halloween Set

A good old-fashioned Halloween party is planned for the children in Ada this year which will include bobbing for apples, prizes for costumes and traditional cider and doughnuts.

Little ghosts and goblins and bigger pirates and ballerinas will be welcomed on Friday, October 31, at the Ada Township Hall where activities are being planned for the parking lot. In case of bad weather, the party will be held indoors.

Ada Firemen, who have long sponsored the annual party, are being joined this year by the Eastern Star and Blue Lodge of the Ada Masonic Temple.

Costumes will be judged between 7-8:30 p.m. Each age group will have a prize. There will be one for pre-schoolers, one for kindergartners, one for those youngsters in the first through third grades, and a prize for the best costume in the fourth through sixth grades.

GHOSTS AND GOBLINS ON PARADE

The Cascade Fire Department will once again sponsor Halloween doin's for the children of the area on Allhallow's eve.

A parade will start at the Cascade fire barn at 7 p.m., followed by free cider, donuts, apples and bags of candy that will be handed out.

Auto-Truck Crash Fatal to Woman

A 72-year-old Ada woman became Kent County's 63rd traffic fatality for 1969 last Thursday in a multiple-vehicle accident at 28th Street and East Beltline.

Dead on arrival at Blodgett Hospital after her car was struck and run over by a semi-trailer truck was Mrs. Florence A. Murray of 684 Honey Creek Avenue NE, a resident of Ada for the past four years. Mrs. Murray was headed east on 28th Street, according to the report of Kentwood police, and was turning north onto the Beltline when her car was hit by a westbound truck driven by Lloyd Trask, Jr., of Flint.

Another truck in the other westbound lane, narrowly averted the crash, then plowed into a pickup truck driven by James Wheeler of Cannonsburg and a car driven by Robert Pratt of 4649 Bonnie SE, Grand Rapids. The second truck, driven by Carlton H. Lang of New Philadelphia, Ohio, caused damage to both vehicles, but none of the drivers was injured seriously.

Any resident in Lowell Township, Vergennes Township, or Lowell city that has not been contacted by the United Fund and would like to pledge or donate, call 676-1012 before November 1, and we will get in touch with you.

Christmas Mail Deadlines Set

Target dates for sending Christmas mail to servicemen overseas have been set, area postmasters announce.

Civilian overseas mail has a November 1 date line for overseas points other than the Far East.

Exchange Student Enjoys New Life

Have you met Christian Friis? He is that blond six foot three inches of lively student from Denmark whose contagious personality exudes enthusiasm for everything he has seen and everyone he has met.

Chris readily admits that he is a very curious person. And that he likes to travel. So he put these attributes together and applied for the Youth for Understanding program.

"Finally one day the letter came that said I could go to a new country. I was most happy," said Chris. "Then when I got off the plane, I looked this way and that for the people whose pictures I had. When I found them, I was glad I had come."

Chris is staying with the Everett Thompson family where he has an American sister, Ginny. At home in Virum, a suburb of Copenhagen, Chris left three brothers aged 14, 8, and 2. The Thompsons have three boys too, Dan, Doug and Bruce.

Full of energy, Chris plays a great deal of tennis, occasionally walks to school from Briarcliff Drive, sleeps about six hours a night and writes letters home to family and friends constantly.

He also has an after-school job at a grocery in Cascade where, in his words, he has met "millions of people."

This is important to Chris. He wants everyone to talk to him and show him this new country in which he will live for a year. His refreshing candor on what he is learning puts a different light on many subjects.

Although only sixteen, Chris has been to the continent twice with his parents. His father is the anesthetist at a Copenhagen hospital. He and a friend also traveled to England last year so that his command of the English language is excellent.

Under the Youth for Understanding program, all foreign students are required to take three specific classes: speech, U. S. Government and English. Chris also elected to take psychology and typing.

The latter is standing him in good stead as he produces a column a month for his hometown paper. His initial article gave his impressions of the first school dance he attended here. Fortunately he found everyone congenial and enjoys today's music.

Chris' bounding ambition means that he never slows down and his tennis game proves it. He hopes to try out for the high school team in the spring. At home Chris also played soccer and in the winter enjoyed table tennis.

"The nature and the climate here are similar to my home," said Chris. "I like living in the country, but near a city, so this is perfect. And I also feel just like part of the family now."

Watch out for Chris. He's liable to charm you right off to Copenhagen. Denmark couldn't have sent a better ambassador.

NOTES AND NONSENSE FROM "WINDY NOB"

Thanks to a very good friend, the "Six Seeses" have been feasting on chinook salmon. There are some people who don't eat because of various reasons. The DDT content, strong flavor, flavor unlike that of canned salmon, etc. I will be honest and say that I did goot with nice small Coho on two occasions a couple of years ago. With a little bit of experimenting, I came up with a tasty way of fixing salmon. (In fact I now fix all fish this way except suckers. They are very good baked, if fixed right, but we like them fried.)

Everyone has their own way of cleaning fish, and this is my way. Take one fresh fish, a good cutting board, and a strong butcher knife, well sharpened. The hide of salmon is thick and tough. Remove the entrails after cutting the entire length of the belly from the vent (anal opening) to the head. Remove dorsal fin, or large back fin, by cutting the flesh on both sides of fin. Then pull forward toward head of fish, removing fin with root bones attached. Remove other fins in same manner. Never cut off fin as the bones at the base will be left in the fish. Cut off head and tail. Now, using a toothbrush or small vegetable brush, scrub inside of fish.

Fish can now be cut in chunks and frozen, or time permitting, it can be cut into steaks and frozen in meal size packages. I usually leave the skin on the fish until I'm ready to use it. Then I lay the steaks on a cutting board and using a sharp knife, I remove the skin and the strip of dark meat immediately next to the skin. This dark meat contains a strong flavor.

For 10 steaks, one inch thick, you will need one pint sour cream... two tablespoons lemon juice... one half to one teaspoon garlic salt... one-half teaspoon pepper. Mix thoroughly. Dust, dip or roll steak in whole flour, dip in cream mixture so that each is heavily coated. Now roll in a mixture of crumbs made from one pack or 20 saltine crackers crushed... about one cup wheat or bran flakes, crushed slightly... one half cup white flour.

Fry in butter and vegetable shortening. Oleo can be used. Place steaks in hot fry pan, cover and immediately reduce heat. Fry at low temperature for six to 10 min. Coating should be brown on bottom and steaks nearly done. Remove cover, turn, and raise heat. Place thin sliced onion between steaks and fry on medium or medium high until deep golden brown. Turn again to crisp first side. Serve. This is very rich, and very tasty.

Wide Variety Marks 'Y' Fall Program

The Lowell YMCA has started its fall program with a variety of subjects designed to appeal to persons of all age levels.

Included in the "Y" program are art classes both for beginners and advanced students. These classes are being held on Monday nights and on Tuesday afternoons, under the direction of Mrs. Philip Johnson, popular local artist. Subjects offered are sketching and the use of oils and water paints.

Guitar lessons will be offered again this fall on Monday and Tuesday evenings from 7 to 10 p.m., with private lessons given by Gil MacGregor.

The "Y" is offering a new class this year. It is instructions in decoupage. For those not familiar with decoupage, it is best defined as the art of cutting, pasting, and then finishing colored pictures with several overlays of varnish or lacquer.

Decoupage is ideal for artistic lining of trunks, and picture frames. In addition subjects may be pasted on wood, metal, or glass, and are ideal for inexpensive decorations in the home.

This class begins on Wednesday at 1 p.m. and is under the direction of Mrs. Alice Bauer, who has samples of decoupage for demonstrating purposes to learners.

Classes to be offered in the near future include first-aid, bridge lessons, knitting, ceramics, photography and judo. Any one interested in any of these classes or suggestions for other programs are asked to please call the YMCA.

Youth programs include Jr. Hi-Y and Jr. Tri-Hi-Y; club programs for boys and girls in Jr. High School; Tri-Hi-Y for girls in High School; bowling, guitar lessons, and tackle football for boys 10-14 years of age.

Fall program brochures are available at the "Y" office. Interested persons are asked to call the "Y" at 897-7375 or stop in anytime regarding questions on any program.

Homecoming Week a Busy One

Amid shouts and cheers of "victory," the annual Snake Dance got Lowell High School's homecoming activities off to a roaring start last Wednesday.

Starting at the football and field and wending its way through town to the high school campus, the parade culminated in the symbol of Cedar Springs High was burned in effigy.

During the week each day had a special theme. Monday was sign up day; Tuesday the day to deck out in red and white; Wednesday saw Blair Cahoon emerge as the school's "mister irresistible" with the hearts of close to 30 of the schools fair sex; Thursday was sock-it-to-me day, and Friday was victory and dress-down day.

No homecoming is complete without the queen's court and the floats and this year saw beauties in both categories. This year's homecoming queen was Luanne Blough, with Ken Roth as king. Representatives in the court were freshman Sue Myers, sophomore Nancy Roth, juniors, Lynette Swan, and seniors, Chris Kropf, Debbie Cooper and Vicki Hagener.

Theme of homecoming activities was "Indian Summer," and the freshman class' float, "A Bird in the Hand" (the Cedar Springs Red Hawk, naturally) took first prize.

Forest Hills Hi-Lites

BY SHIRLEY DYGERT

Despite the unusually wet weather last week, a number of people managed to enjoy the out-of-doors and came home with memories of autumn colors in the wilds. Reservations must be made before October 24 with Mrs. Charles Rider, 58 Clover Street, Kent City or Mrs. Earl Stauffer, 80 South Street, Sparta. There is a small registration fee. The Lowell club will present a program on Home Life. Other entertainment will be offered at the all-day affair.

An annual vacation from household chores was again taken by Jane Belding and Pat Walker at their hostess' cabin near Bletely. Mary and John Chapman have a hide-away in the woods there where the girls spend a few days each year. Husbands joined in the fresh air living over the weekend and attempted some bow and arrow hunting.

Meanwhile back at the Middle Villa, the Adma Swiderskis were celebrating their twenty-third wedding anniversary Saturday night. They were joined by the Donald Graczyk of Hilliards who were celebrating their sixteenth anniversary. The two couples thoroughly enjoyed the dinner and dancing during the evening which was climaxed by the playing of the Anniversary Waltz for both couples.

The first word back from the Doug Maracakis who are driving down to Rio, was "Buenos dias." They have arrived safely in Mexico and are touring the capital, the resorts, and some native spots suggested to them by travel-wise friends. They closed with "Hasta la vista" and a mention that they will next be heard from in Guatemala.

Staying home and playing cards following an elaborate dinner at the Bill Howards were Susan and Fred Richard, Joyce and Marion Howard, Betty and John Little, Jan and Tom Jones, and Elayna and John Howard.

Featured on the menu was Chinese Roast Duck which means it was prepared and baked in special Baker's Cally. The outside wrapping is "washed" at the table to reveal honorable duck, fragrant with ginger, agleam with soy and honey, and stuffed with oranges.

Mrs. Don Lear is moving from her home on Orlando, but she won't be far from her friends. Her new abode will be on Village in the Georgian Apartments.

What Next, Ladies? Menus by Computer

Now there's a "kitchen computer." It can make hundreds of menu selections and can also be programmed as an "appliance" to handle such chores as budgeting, checkbook balancing and children's homework.

It's the featured gift for affluent homemakers in this year's Neiman-Marcus Christmas catalog. Edward S. Marcus, board chairman of the high-fashion specialty stores, released information about the catalog at a recent news briefing.

In addition to the "kitchen computer" by Honeywell, the catalog also features a one-of-a-kind Kojah mink coat made up of skins costing $2,700 each, a petting zoo complete with zoo keeper that can be leased for a year, and a 100,000-gallon tanker truck full of men's cologne.

Marcus said, "the kitchen computer is listed in the catalog at $10,600, including a two-week course in programming know-how."

T. Paul Bothwell, vice president and general manager of Honeywell Computer Control Division, looked beyond the suggested use of the mini-computer in the kitchen. He indicated that the concept of a computerized household is "very realistic. The technology is available—it's only a question of when and how," he said.

"In my opinion," Bothwell added, "that day is not far off. The only major factor is cost. You can't get a home computer for the price of a television set. But, in all likelihood, within five or six years computer prices will fall in the range of the family automobile. This is in marked contrast to a few years ago, when the cheapest computers cost over a hundred-thousand dollars."

B&PW Observe National Business Women's Week

National Business Women's Week, established in 1927 by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, is being observed this week throughout the United States, the Philippines, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

The National Federation was formed in St. Louis, Missouri in 1919 and in this golden anniversary year the national convention again met there with headquarters in the same hotel. Dr. Anthony Brown, president of Lindenwood College, St. Charles, Missouri and opening night speaker, remarked "What a half century it has been! We have split the atom, reached the moon, defeated dread diseases, learned to transplant hearts and lengthened life expectancy, which for women in 1919 was 54 years, now it is 74 years."

LHS Students Endorse Viet Nam Phase Out

Lowell High School students who balloted on a questionnaire sent to them by Congressman Gerald R. Ford (R-Mich.) voted 565 in favor of President Nixon's policy of phasing out U. S. combat troops in Vietnam, the congressman reported today.

"At the request of principals and teachers, I sent copies of my questionnaire to high schools in Kent County," Ford said. "I found the initial results most interesting, and I will be comparing the school balloting with the public responses to my questionnaires which were sent to voters in the district."

In the Lowell High School balloting of nine other questions in Ford's inquiries, local students favored President Nixon's family assistance and workfare program, his plan to give cities and states a percentage slice of Federal income tax revenue to use as they see fit, a cutoff of students from receiving Federal aid who disrupt college classes, and a constitutional amendment giving 18-year-olds the right to vote, the congressman said.

The students opposed increased spending to put a man on Mars, drafting young men by random selection (lottery) and the creation of a government-owned self-supporting postal corporation.

Arrows Hit Stride in Victory; Fumbles Prove Costly to Rangers

The 1969 season will come to an end much too soon for Coach Al Rowe and his Lowell High School football team. In fact, if Rowe and the Arrows had their way, the campaign would have gotten underway last Friday.

Led by the finest quarterbacking the Red and White has produced in several seasons, Lowell struck early and often to send homecoming fans away savoring a 28-14 triumph over Cedar Springs.

Senior Mitch McMahon turned in the best effort of his prep career, running and passing the Arrows to a 22-6 lead before an injury forced him to the sidelines early in the final period.

Even at that, the Arrows kept their momentum going under junior Denny DeWitt in his first real test at quarterback and struck for six more points with DeWitt sneaking in from less than a yard out with 4:20 left in the game.

Both of Cedar Springs touchdowns were the result of long plays, the first on an exciting 70-yard punt return by Hallback Kris Reyburn with just one second left in the second quarter.

The victory was the second for Lowell this season against three losses and a tie. The Arrows will seek to bring their record up to the .500 mark this Friday night when they invade Belding.

Belding is coming off a 25-14 reversal at the hands of Greenville that all but ended the Redskins' hopes for a crack at the Tri-River Conference championship.

Lowell needs victories in its final two outings to finish above the .500 mark for the season. The Arrows close the campaign against Coopersville in a home game on October 31.

There was just no denying the Arrows last Friday as they mounted a sustained offense that netted 281 yards, including an impressive 205 yards on the ground.

McMahon completed 89 of those yards on 16 carries for a 5.6 average and completed eight of 11 passes for 76 yards.

The 57" senior scored Lowell's first two touchdowns, scampering 30 yards with only 3:18 gone on the scoreboard.

Rowe then cleared his bench and Cedar zipped 51 yards against the subs to score with 1:03 left on a 40-yard pass play from Quarterback Bob McTavish to Reyburn.

Lowell led the Arrows on an 85-yard scoring march that took eight plays with McMahon going the final

Midway in the second quarter, Godwin mustered a 76-yard drive that produced the go-ahead points with Hallback Al Avery contributing a brilliant 44-yard gallop on a reverse. Quarterback Doug Verhulst flipped the TD pass to Hallback Steve Schaphorn from three yards out with 4:34 left in the half and Hallback Ed Lucas ran for the extra points to make it 8-6.

Avery's 31-yard reverse sparked a quick Godwin touchdown following VanderBaan's second fumble at the Ranger 45. Lucas raced to paydirt on the sixth play of the series to give the Wolverines a 1-6 edge at the intermission.

Godwin struck for a swift six-pointer at the start of the third quarter after VanderBaan boomed on his own 40 with End Doug Carl covering the fumble on the Ranger 30. On the first play, Verhulst flipped a payoff pass to End Tom Bartholomew and the latter was all alone en route to the end zone. Bartholomew's extra point placement made it 21-6.

A brilliantly-executed 44-yard sprint by Griffith to the Godwin 33 on the final play of the third quarter gave the Rangers renewed hope for a come-back victory, but the drive bogged down and Godwin took over on downs at its own 32. Godwin chewed up practically the entire fourth quarter on a 17-play series that culminated in the final score with just 1:57 left on the clock. Avery slipping around end on the reverse to negotiate the final 13 yards. Verhulst twice produced long gains on end runs so keep the drive alive. Bartholomew's kick accounted for the final point.

Surprisingly, Forest Hills led a slight edge in total first downs, 11-9, and was barely edged in total yardage, 251-231.

Homecoming Wild Experience for Senior Class President

Nothing in this world is perfect. Just ask Craig Van Sluyters, president of the Forest Hills senior class.

There is bound to be a hitch or two whenever a production as big as homecoming is undertaken, but if the percentages are with you, the overall effect produces an exceptional weekend.

Homecoming for the Class of '70 was a spectacular success in the financial department. The group made the largest amount of money in the history of the school for this particular event.

This much was certainly good. But half-time activities at the homecoming game were both good and bad.

The senior float . . . a huge hippopotamus with pink mouth and large white tusks . . . was supposed to rear on his hind legs.

At the last moment, an I-beam the animal broke and he was unable to perform for the crowds. That was bad.

Other floats worked well. The first place award was delivered into the custody of the freshman class with its representation of a huge aerosol bomb.

The juniors created a perfectly proportioned orange bull which pawed the ground and snorted real steam. An animated Volkswagen was built by the sophomore class.

The Court of Honor paraded around the track in 1970 autor mobiles. The girls and their escorts were presented to the fans. Those chosen for this honor were Karen Zimmer, Anna-Brit Swensen, Debbie Scoles, Bev Drum, and Jean Herrity. Their counterparts among the boys who were voted upon in an earlier election were Jim Meier, Craig Van Sluyters, Rob McCormick, Doug Griffith, and Marty Everse.

Substituting for three of the men of the Court of Honor who were football players were John Robinson, Milejov Jansic, and Rick Lanning.

Jean Herrity, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Herrity was crowned Queen and Doug Griffith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Griffith, was proclaimed King.

When that night was over, Craig slept.

But the next evening he was faced with problems again. The Rush, a group which was to play for the homecoming dance, called at 6 p.m. from Detroit to say that it would be late in arriving.

Craig received a call on Sunday for a crew to clean up mud from automobiles that the Court of Honor had used and a final call from a barn-owner to the president of the class asked for help in cleaning a yard where a soggy float was dripping wild colors all across the grass.

Craig should graduate in June. In the meantime there are other projects to be activated. If the percentages work as well, he may make it without tearing his hair.

REGAL SMILE — Jean Herrity flashes a wide smile for the photographer after she was named Queen of the Court of Honor at the Forest Hills High homecoming last week.

Use Team-Teaching at Alto

The forty-nine fourth graders of the Alto Elementary School and their teachers, Patricia Howlett and Charles Johnson, are again taking advantage of the benefits of the method of instruction known as team-teaching.

Social Studies, reading and English are included on the team-teaching schedule, and Miss Howlett and Mr. Johnson say that they like the chance it gives them to work with smaller groups of children. The children, themselves, respond enthusiastically to the intimate relationships developed in the smaller groups.

The teachers take advantage of the many teaching aids available at the Alto Elementary School including tape recorders, movie projectors, film strips and overhead projectors, usually uniting the full group at this time.

With the good results of this program already evident, it is safe to say team-teaching is here to stay at Alto.

Schedule Annual Dog Show

The annual fall dog show of the Grand Rapids Kennel Club is expected to attract 1,400 dogs of 100 separate breeds, according to club president and show chairman Steve Hurt.

All profits from GRKC shows are donated to area charities and worthy causes after expenses are paid, club president Hurt points out.

Flat River Given Clean Bill of Health

"Flat River is probably the cleanest in the Grand River Watershed Basin."

This was the report given out by two state experts after a four-hour inspection trip by chance at the upper end of the river.

Making the inspection tour last week were Chester Harvey, of the Michigan Water Resources Commission, and John Kenough, executive secretary of Grand River Watershed Council.

Another tour, it is reported, is being planned for the inspection of the river from Belding to the Grand River.

Both of the experts noted, however, that "human influence" such as old tires and bottles dumping, were in evidence, and this would call for constant vigilance and clean-up. This was little evidence of pollution, it was said.

Lose 10 lbs. In 10 days On Grapefruit Diet

HOLLYWOOD, CALIF. (Special) — This is the revolutionary grapefruit diet everyone is suddenly talking about. Literally thousands upon thousands of copies have been passed from hand to hand in factories, plants and offices throughout the U.S. and Canada.

Word of its success has spread like wildfire. Because this is the diet that really works. We have testimonials in our files reporting on the success of this diet. If you follow it exactly, you should lose 10 pounds in 10 days. There will be no weight loss in the first four days. But you will suddenly drop 5 pounds on the 5th day. Thereafter you will lose 1 1/2 pounds every two days until you get down to your proper weight.

Best of all, there will be no hunger pangs. Now revised and enlarged, this new diet plan lets you stuff yourself with foods that were formerly "forbidden," such as big steaks trimmed with fat, roast or fried chicken, rich gravies, mayonnaise, lobster swimming in butter, bacon fats, sausages and scrambled eggs. You can eat until you are full, until you cannot possibly eat any more. And still lose 10 pounds in the first ten days plus 1 1/2 pounds every two days thereafter until your weight is down to normal. The secret behind this new "quick weight loss" diet is simple. Fat does not form fat. And the grapefruit juice in this new diet acts as a catalyst (the "trigger"), to start the fat burning process. You stuff yourself on the permitted food listed in the diet plan, and still lose unsightly fat and excess body fluids. When the fat and bloat are gone you will cease to lose weight and your weight will remain constant.

A copy of this new and startlingly successful diet plan can be obtained by sending $2 to GRAPEFRUIT DIET PUBLISHERS, 1213 Premier Way, Calgary 6, Alberta, Department No. 20. Moneyback guarantee. If after trying the diet plan you have not lost 7 pounds in the first seven days, and 1 1/2 pounds every two days thereafter, simply return the diet plan and your $2 will be refunded promptly and without argument.

Tear out this message as a reminder. Decide now to regain the trim, attractive figure of your youth while enjoying hearty breakfasts, lunches and dinners.
