State Passes Bill Aimed at Aiding Senior Citizens

Less than a week remains for area residents of senior citizen status to file for special exemptions that were broadened by recent state legislation.

The Senior Citizens Homestead Tax Exemption Bill was signed last week by Governor William Milliken and offers additional tax relief to those with limited incomes.

One major change permits eligible senior citizens to have a gross annual income of $6,000, an increase of $1,000.

The second major change removes restrictions on valuation of property owned by the applicant. In the past, any senior

Note Slight Increase in Road Funds citizen applicant was not eligible if he or she owned property exceeding $10,000 in State Equalized Valuation.

All citizens who think they may now be eligible for the Senior Citizens Exemption should check with their local assessor or supervisor prior to the adjournment of the Board of Review.

Senior Citizens, veterans and widows of veterans are reminded that Boards of Review convene next Tuesday, March 3; therefore, they have less than a week remaining to make their applications for exemption from 1970 taxes.

City Election Registration Deadline Near

VOL. 76 NO. 46

The conversation at home the other day got around to the fact that just a few more weeks and oldest daughter Kathy would reach that magic age of 21.

"Of course." I said to Good Friend Wife, "it must be getting close to her birthday because it's almost state tournament time.

For the unitiated, the reference is to the state high school basketball tournament which I covered for more than a dozen years of writing sports.

I don't recall if I have ever divulged to the loyal readers of this corner just what a hectic day Kathy's birth date was, so this may be as good a time as any to recount the details

Kathy was born on probably the busiest day of my life.

As sports editor of the old Monitor-Leader in Mount Clemens, I was assigned to cover a local team (Roseville-Eastland) in the Class C finals at East Lansing.

I also worked for the affiliated FM radio station WMLN and had been given the duty of producing, directing and emceeing a kid's quiz show on the stage of a local theatre ... which was to premier at noon on the same day of the basketball finals!

How to be not just two places . . . but three . . . at one time was more than my addled brain could figure out.

Three? Don't forget that GFW was scheduled for the hospital.

So there I was in Lansing on that Satur-day morning ready to drive back to Mount Clemens for the radio show and a quick visit to the hospital . . . and it began to SNOW.

Not little flakes, mind you. Not with my luck. This was thick, heavy snow that stuck to everything on which it landed, especially the highway.

Almost four hours after leaving Lansing, I made it to the radio station where I just had time to pick up a sheaf of questions before racing to the theatre.

The program went off without a hitch and exactly 10 seconds after we were off the air, I was on the way to the hospital several blocks away. I dashed in . . . found GFW to be in excellent spirits . . . and dashed out for the return trip to Lansing.

As luck would have it, Roseville-Eastland was playing in the second game of the afternoon which started at 2 o'clock. This meant I would miss most of the first half ... and maybe all of the game if the roads remained in bad condition

Notes School Millage Request Only Extension of Present Levy

Lowell Area School officials were busy this week lining up as many appearances before local groups as possible in order to explain a request for 12.5 mills of operating levy.

District voters will be asked to approve the levy, good for two years, in the special millage election on March 16.

"It is important that voters know this is not a request for new millage, in the true sense of the word," said Superintendent Carl Hagen. "Actually, it is a request only to continue the millage levied for the 1969-70 school year."

Last March, district voters authorized a seven-mill levy for one year to go with a previously-voted seven mills. Both of these levies have now expired.

Despite the fact it was given the OK to levy 14 mills if necessary, Hagen points out, the board felt the job could be done on 12.5 mills. Included was retirement of indebtedness amounting to about $120,000. Hagen points out that projections of rising student enrollment and a smaller increase in state aid than had once been expected figured in the 12.5 mill request.

"We plan no major changes or improvements in our budgets of the immediate fu-ture," he said. "It also appears we will be able to maintain our present staff level."

Hagen also points out that local taxes account for only 55 percent of the monies required to run Lowell schools.

"We have heard a number of residents say that local taxpayers foot most of the bill for education," he said, "yet we can offer proof that state and Federal funds actually account for about 45 percent of the money needed to run our schools."

Hagen said plans are being finalized to hold several public discussions in Lowell and Alto prior to the March 16 election.

School Needs Outlined to Ada Board BY SHIRLEY DYGERT

Two representatives from Forest Hills Public Schools were in attendance Monday night at the bi-monthly meeting of the Ada Township Board.

Superintendent Robert Masten and Board of Education President Neil Weathers gave an in-depth explanation of the proposed budget for 1970-71 and the need for 15 mills for operating expenses.

Township residents are being asked to approve the 15-mill operation levy for a three-year period in the March 16 special election.

A detailed report from the planning commission regarding a recommendation to update zoning and building requirements occupied much of the board's time.

A sewer extension to the east of Ada Drive on Thornapple River Drive brought a progress report from the firm of Bruggink and Moore. Plans are now being drawn and bids should be let in mid-March.

New street lights at Paradise Lake and Hall Street and Paradise Lake and Ada Drive have been installed in the recentlyestablished special assessment district.

The board authorized $2,000 to the Kent County Road Commission for a maintenance graveling program. It also accepted an estimate bid on the blacktopping of Argo and Luxemborg streets. It was reported that the cost of new road construction is up 65% and that an estimate on the Council Asks Opinions on SDM Request

A slight increase in monies distributed to Lowell and Kent County from the 1969 quarter collections to the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund was reported today.

Net receipts for the entire state were up 2.5 percent over the last three months of 1968, according to state highway director Henrik Stafseth.

Lowell received $10,282, compared to $10,087 for the final quarter of 1968. Kent County's share was $1,200,597, up $10,-

The highway fund is made up of state gasoline taxes and motor vehicle license plate fees paid by motorists.

After deduction of Department of State collection costs and 1.5 percent for the State Waterways Commission, 46 percent goes to the Highway Department, 34 percent to the counties and 20 percent to the State's 528 incorporated cities and vil-

Under this formula, the Highway Department received $40.59 million, the counties $30 million (including $854,695 in snow removal payments for the winter of 1968-69) and the cities and villages $17.64 million.

In council action last week, City Manager Blaine Bacon was formally named to serve as street administrator for the city.

Residents of Lowell who are not already qualified to vote in the general city election on Monday, April 6, have until a week from this Friday (March 6) to register.

Registrations are being accepted daily from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. by City Clerk Laura E. Shepard. On March 6, the clerk's office will be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. to accept registrations.

At stake in the election will be three seats on the City Council. A field of six is entered in the council race.

HOLD PAPER DRIVE

The Forest Hills Swim Team Boosters will be holding their paper drive this Friday and Saturday (February 27-28).

Accumulations of papers may be left at the Recreation area parking lot. A pick-up service will be available to those calling Mrs. Thomas Rens at 949-1454 or Mrs. Charles Vanden Berg at 949-1026.

Another in City Government Series: Police Reserves Benefit to City

(Another in a series of columns reporting and explaining the operation of city government. This week-Lowell's Police Department).

The Lowell Police Department is presently operating with a complement of four full-time officers including the chief, a sergeant and two patrolmen. A civilian reserve force of 12 volunteers, including a captain and sergeant, also serves the community.

The Chief of Police is the administrator of the department and is responsible to the city manager. The sergeant is directly in line under the chief and is responsible for the general activities of the patrolman. The senior patrolman is responsible for maintenanace and security of equipment. The junior patrolman is in charge of files and records.

The volunteer reserve force primarily is an emergency backup group for use during heavy traffic demands (such as the annual "Showboat," football games or drownings, in case of tornado or enemy attack.) The reserves turned out in force on Hallowe'en night and were primarily responsible for the fact that little or no serious damage occurred in the city.

The reserves fill in, when requested, during illness or absence of regular officers and they voluntarily ride the second cruiser on weekends giving the city security during peak hours.

Lowell has two fully-equipped cruisers to provide emergency first aid and all officers are trained to provide this necessary service. The department now has available two boats with motors for marine patrol or rescue. This is especially important because of the expanse of water area within the city.

There is currently much discussion about the City's Parking Violations Bureau Ordinance No. 42.

This ordinance was adopted early in 1969 primarily to establish a parking violations. bureau under the Revised Judicature Act of Michigan which abolished the Justice of the Peace system and established the District Court system. Had the City Council failed to establish such a bureau, all parking violations tickets would have had to be settled in District Court.

The individual offenses listed in Ordinance No. 42 are violations of the Uniform Traffic Code as adopted by the city in February, 1969 and other ordinances already in effect.

Looking back on it now almost 21 years later, it doesn't seem like it was that busy a day. But it was. Believe me, it was!

We sincerely hope that members of the young-at-heart set known as Senior Citizens will get in touch with their city or township clerks to file out special tax exemptions if they haven't already done so.

Recent state legislation now makes it possible for retail outlets to sell packaged beer or wine within 500 feet of church property.

Members of the council discussed the matter during last week's meeting, but tabled action pending expressions of opinion from residents.

Awaits Court Date on Bad Check Charge

A former Lowell resident is free on $500 bond following her arrest on charges of issuing checks with insufficient funds to cover them.

Kalamazoo authorities last Thursday arrested Beverly J. Wylie, who formerly resided at 210 Maple, and turned her over to Kent County Sheriff's Department officials. An appearance is scheduled before Dis-trict Judge Joseph B. White.

Lowell police said approximately $60 in worthless checks had been issued by the woman in Lowell.

Report Shows

Lowell volunteer firemen responded to four times as many calls for assistance in adjoining Lowell Township and Vergennes Township than they did in the city during Figures released by Fire Chief Frank Baker this week showed that the department made a total of 77 runs during the 12-month period with the majority of them in answer to grass fires.

Baker said that 51 grass fires were handled by the department and that he believed at least six of them to have been deliberately set. The most common cause of grass fires, the report indicated, was from careless burning of trash.

The firefighters answered 36 calls for assistance in Lowell Township and 20 in Vergennes compared to only 14 in the city. Both townships have paid the city for fire protection service offered by the department at the rate of $600 annually for the past several years.

The department handled six house fires during 1969 and responded to two trailer blazes as well as a factory fire. Baker said total damage to buildings was about $27,-000 and damage to contents was set at almost $16,000.

teers assisted on four fires in Boston Township, two in Ada Township and one in Keene Township. Loss to a building fire in Boston Township was estimated at $5,000 by Baker.

Amway Again Honored by Foundation

For the third time in a five-year span, the Amway Corporation of Ada has been singled out for honors by the prestigious Freedoms Foundation of Valley Forge, Pa.

Amway shared the George Washington Honor Medal Award with WZZM-Tv in the category of Economic Education Programs for an editorial film entitled "That Soap Company in Ada."

The Freedoms Foundation honored Amway with awards in 1966 and 1968 for encouraging appreciation of the American way of life.

Rotary Club Celebrates 65 Years

The Rotary Club of Lowell, in conjunction with the nearly 14,000 Rotary Clubs in 147 countries all over the world, is celebrating the 65th anniversary of the clubs' founding.

The local club, with 48 members, sponsors various local youth activities including a Cub Scout Troop, Youty for Understanding, Wolvering Boy's State, Lowell YMCA, Kent County 4-H and the Camp Emery Youth Leadership Conference. The Rotary Foundation, to which individual members and clubs contribute, supports an extensive program of overseas. scholarships for college-age students, technicians and artisans, and a group study exchange program which enables young business and professional men to spend time studying their field in countries other than their own.

in the "One-to-One" program. The program is entirely voluntary on both sides. The young teachers have been recruited simply on their desire to help younger children. Those being aided are not sent to be trained, but rather, they are asked if they would like help. If they are willing to put in the extra hour a week that the program requires, they appear regularly for assignment to a tutor. Most of the teachers continue to work with the same child in some kind of play time. In many cases, the learning process is developed through games such as jig saw puzzles, counting points on stars, flash cards, singing from the printed page or finding places of inter-est on a globe. Sometimes a question sparks a search in the library for an appropriate answer. Hunting through the shelves together can be much more rewarding than having to wander through the books alone or letting the question remain unanswered

The program is given the title "One-to-One" to show the relationship between teacher and student. Generally each pair is in a school room alone. When more than one duet is assigned to a room, they remain far enough apart to avoid breaking con-

Prep Mat Champs Seek New Honors in Regional Meets

Forest Hills High School entered a new chapter in its grow-ing history of athletic success last weekend when Coach Chuck Mathews' wrestling team captured the school's first Class A

Prior to this year, when enrollment in the four upper grades soared over the 1,200 minimum for Class A schools, Ranger teams had competed in Class B.

Mathews' matmen, who swept to the Ottawa-Kent Red Division regular season title and finished second to "B" powerhouse Godwin in the conference tourney, completely domina-ted the Class A district with four individual champions, three runner-up medals, one third-place finish and a pair of fourths.

First and second place finishers in the district will vie for regional honors this Saturday at Hastings. The top four finishers in regional competition then qualify for the state finals March 6-7

Forest Hills registered 92 points while Ionia gathered 72 to finish a distant second in the district tourney held at East Grand Rapids. Ottawa Hills was third with 55 points, host team East Grand Rapids was fourth with 43, Mount Pleasant took fifth with 42, Kentwood was next with 34 followed by Catholic Central (31) and Grand Rapids Central (17). Emerging as champions for Forest Hills were Tee Wietke at 101 pounds, Jim Leyndyke at 110, Craig Van Sluyters at 133 and John Price at 148. Joining them in the regionals were runners-up George Mc-

Garger (140), Bob Roy (158) and Steve Schuster (168). Other point winners for the Rangers included Mark Mollo with a third at 126 pounds and Chip King (118) and Jim Bacon (178), each with a fourth-place finish. Another potential point winner, heavyweight Greg Winters, was sidelined by injury.

Mathews says that representatives from five of the top 10 Class A teams in the state will be in action at Hastings. "Those I consider as most outstanding are Lansing Evart, Lansing Sexton, Battle Creek Lakeview, Grand Ledge and Grandville," he declared.

Forest Hills, which won 10 of 11 dual matches during the season and lost only to unbeaten Lowell, probably should be considered in the same category . . . if the coach weren't quite so modest.

Eight members of Lowell High School's record-setting var-sity wrestling team will seek to claim more honors when they advance to state Class B regional tourney action this Saturday. Coach Gary Rivers will send his District champions, and run-ners-up into action at Wyoming Park High School. Preliminary matches get underway at noon and the championship finals at 7 p.m.

The top four wrestlers in each weight bracket are eligible to seek titles in the annual state Class B finals scheduled at Okemos High near Lansing March 6-7.

"We have four to six wrestlers who should get to the state finals," said Rivers. "Much will depend on pairings for the regionals, of course, but with a decent draw we should be in good shape to contend for the team championship." Qualifiers from district tournaments held over the weekend at Lowell, Godwin Heights, Fruitport and Fremont will be in action in the regionals. Among Lowell's eight entrants is 145-pound ace Ray Smith, ho is one of the finest matters ever to represent the Red Ar-

Smith ray, his season record to 26-0 last week and by wing four matches . . . all by pin. He now has a school record pins for the season and is just two short of the reported national record of 23 set last year by Larry Cardinel of neighboring Forest Hills High.

Three of Smith's victories came in district competition Saturday as a crowd of more than 1,000 watched Lowell score 112 points to far outdistance Belding in the eight-team field. Belding, which won the Tri-River Conference title over Lowell after losing the league's regular-season crown to the Arrows, was 60 points behind at 62, followed by Northview (57), Green-ville (52), Lakewood (43), Caledonia (36), Rockford (31), and East Christian (13).

Smith's other pin came in a 29-18 dual win over Ionia last Wednesday that gave Lowell a perfect 14-0 record for the 1969-70 season and its first undefeated dual campaign in school his-

All 12 members of the squad picked up medals in the dis-trict with 123-pound Bob Graham, Tom Rasch (137), John Lyons (175) and Bob Rottier (185) joining Smith as champions. The Arrows picked up runner-up spots and qualified three more for the regionals when Jim Richard (130), Ken Huver (155) and Gordy Kelly (165) reached the finals before bowing. Kraig Haybarker (115) and Steve Newell (107) gained thirdplace finishes and John Gauw (98) and heavyweight Dave Wisner each took a fourth.

Lowell made it 17 straight dual meet wins over a two-season span in defeating Ionia and got two pins from freshmen Bill Dawson at 98 pounds and John Curtis at 115 in the process. In addition to Smith's pin, a highlight of the match was Bob Rottier's 3-2 victory over Dave Simpson at 185 pounds. It was the first loss of the season for Simpson, who is representing Ionia in Class A state competition. Results of the district tournament follows:

98 pounds – Barry Anderson (Greenville) def. Del Milarich (Cale-donia), 6-0; 107 – Max Babbitt (Greenville) def. Jerry DeRivers (Northview); 5-2; 115 – Randy Hold (Belding) def. Harve Boluyt (Northview), 19-0; 123 – Bob Graham (Lowell) def. Chuck Harger (Belding), 4-1; 130 – Don Korson (Greenville) def. Jim Richard (Low-ell), 12-1; 137 – Tom Rasch (Lowell) def. Bob Milarch (Caledonia), 5-2; 145 - Ray Smith (Lowell) def. Mike Giesler (Northview), pin; 155 - Phil Heintzelman (Belding) def. Ken Huver (Lowell), 7-3; 165 -Alan Deemster (Caladonia) def. Goedy Kelly (Lowell), 5-4; 175 - John Lyons (Lowell) def. Dane VerMerris (East Christian), pin; 185 – Bob Rot-tier (Lowell) def. Dave Punches (Belding), 7-2; heavyweight – Tim Loft-us (Lakewood) def. Jim Alderink (Northview), pin.

Winless FH '5' Facing Powerhouse

When it comes to stepping from the proverbial frying pan in-to the fire, you'd go a long way to beat Forest Hills High's baskethall team

Winless in 14 starts prior to Tuesday's non-league game at Lowell, the Rangers will close out the regular season at home this Friday when they meet Kenowa Hills.

Then it's on to the Class A district tournament at East Grand Rapids where the host team, Forest Hills and Grand Rapids Catholic Central figure to be no match for defending state champion Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills.

The drawing for pairings was not scheduled until Wednesday night. Games are scheduled Monday and Wednesday at East Grand Rapids with the winners advancing to Friday's title contest. All games are at 7:30.

"We probably couldn't have picked a worse time to move in-to Class A," says athletic director Ed Shy, "but we'll be playing most 'A' teams in the area on even terms in a year or so . . . just wait and see."

Scott Vashaw, a slick sophomore guard, gave Ranger fans a peek into the future last week as he scored 23 points . . . 12 of them in the first quarter ... as Forest Hills dropped a 72-68 heartbreaker to Wyoming Park that gave them an 0-12 final mark in Ottawa-Kent Red Division play.

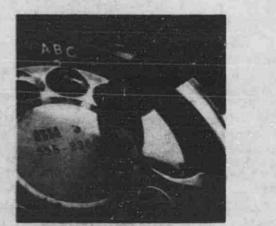

Ron VanderBaan added 15 points and Rob McCormick 14, but it wasn't enough to offset balanced scoring by Wyoming Park. Jim Courtier had 16 to pace five players in double figure

The Rangers appeared en route to a victory when they built up a 29-19 halftime lead, but Wyoming surged back on the strength of free throws to pull away in the final minute of play. The winners sank 30 of 40 charity tosses overall and canned 11 of 12 tries in the final period.

Friday's finale will mark the last home court appearance for four seniors ... McCormick, Marty Everse, Denny DeVries and Curt Linscott.

Randy Lanning scored 22 and Ted Zuiderveen and Joe Wag-ner contributed 13 and 12 points as the JVs ran their record to 5-9 with a 68-64 win.

Coach Larry Wilson also is looking for future help from the freshmen, who raised their record to 13-2 with a pair of wins. Scott Vorel sank 17 and Bill Henneveld 11 to lead a 60-44 victory over Wyoming Park. On Monday, Henneveld scored 17, Dave Slater 15 and Vorel 11 to spark a 52-51 win over Kentwood in the Hadsonville Invitational Tournamen

Soldier Reveals Thoughts on War

Those of us who wait at home for the servicemen's return can really have no idea of the conditions he faces. The following poem shows Vietnam through one man's eyes and gives us a view of one soldier's feelings

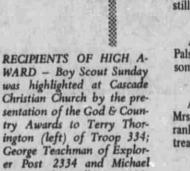

It was written by SP-4 Robert M. Burkhead, normally a resident of Cascade, who is currently in Vietnam. Bob sent it to his wife, the former Barbara Paine, and she. in turn, sent it on to the LEDGER-SUBURBAN LIFE.

VIETNAM AS I SEE IT

Blistering summers, long dark nights Bombings, sappers, and feared firefights.

Sorrow, fear, terror and range; Known by people of every age. Everyone in this land stops to pray,

- For the seemingly far off day When they will be free of war.
- Nontheless, they'll always bear the scar. Soldiers far away from their homes
- Anxious to return and nevermore roam. Wives and girlfriends, weeping and crying; We know it's true, there's no denying.
- The price of freedom is very clear But to us the cost is one small year.
- To the people it's a lifetime of agonizing pain Which must be endured so peace may soon reign.
- An American soldier has a future to come, But not so for a soldier of Vietnam.
- As long as he can last in the war, He must seek the enemy both near and far. War is cruel, but as history has shown,
- War must proceed if Peace is to be known. Man must die for others to be free,
- That's just the way it has to be. Many ask, "What are we doing here,
- Away from freedom and peace for a whole year?" But stop and think before you complain, For in just one year, you will see freedom again.

At the February $7th meeting of the Aowakiya Campfire group we worked on our crocheting. Mrs. Eickhoff is our leader.

ALTO CAMPFIRE GIRLS

On February 2, 1970 we had our weekly meeting at our leader's Mrs. Dottie Prins home. We are filling out our campfire books so we can receive beads we have earned at our Ceremonial Meeting this month. We worked on projects for our parents for Valentine's Day.

With Our Men Honor Area

Life membership certificates are to be awarded to four members of Hooker Chapter, Royal Arch Masons in recognition of their contributions to Masonry in the Lowell area.

The four to be honored during the next few months are Nelson R. Meengs, a member of the Hooker Chapter since November, 1935; Dr. John R. Strykes, who was a dentist in Lowell for many years and a member of the chapter since April, 1929; Charles I. Colbey, a member since April, 1927, and Mc-Kinley A. Watson, who also joined in April of 1927.

The Lowell Masons will hold their second euchre party of the year on February 24 (Tuesday).

The progressive euchre party held in January, catered to 65 members and guests and was one of the most successful parties in several years.

IS NAMED ASSISTANT PROFESSOR

John P. Wolfin, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wolfin of 3971 Causeway Drive, Lowell, has received an undergraudate assistantship from Western Michigan University's Honors College. He will work with Dr. Roger Ulrich, research professor of psychology, on a study entitled, "Effects of Withdrawal of A Positive Reinforcer on Aggressive Behavior in Humans."
