CONSTRUCTION ZONE — Motorists have run into a temporary "stymie" on Cascade Road at Orange in Cascade Township as workers complete an excavation designed to help drill a hole under Cascade Road needed to hook up sewer lines coming from Grand Rapids. This phase of the project is expected to take at least another week to complete . . . and before traffic can be returned to normal again.

Few Changes from Primary Returns:

Election Results Point Up Need to Revise Lowell City Charter

Proponents of charter revision for the City of Lowell favor a move to eliminate the primary election . . . and the results of Monday's general city election help to bear out proposed change.

The outcome of the six-man race for council seats was almost identical to the February primary, which eliminated one of seven candidates then seeking nomination for the council race.

Incumbent Carlen Anderson led the field of six with 258 votes and newcomer Dr. Herbert R. Mueller was a close second with 252 votes. They will serve for the next two years.

Incumbent Mrs. Virginia Myers once again was third in the voting, just as in February, with 228 votes and will serve on the council for a one-year term.

Avery Block (144), Herbert "Ray" Jones (123) and Alice Rittersdorf (49) finished behind the successful candidates in that order.

Anderson and Mrs. Myers will rejoin holdovers Herbert Reynolds and Harold Jefferies at the council table and all four are avowed candidates to replace Arnold Wittenbach as mayor.

Wittenbach did not seek re-election after serving eight years on the council, the last six as mayor.

The position of mayor is determined by a vote of the council members in the first organizational meeting following the election, which is now scheduled for the bi-monthly meeting of April 20.

In the past few years, it was a foregone conclusion that Wittenbach would be returned to the mayor's seat . . . but with the veteran chief executive now out of office, it appears a battle-royal for the job in store for April 20.

"This may be the first time in history of Lowell that every member of the council votes for himself to become mayor," declared one political wag following Monday's vote.

Only 380 voters trekked to the polls and this hardly offered a serious challenge to election workers manning the city's newly installed voting machines. The machine count was available moments after the polls closed and showed the following results:

	Pct. 1	Pct. 2	Total
Anderson	110	148	258
Mueller	117	135	252
Myers	110	118	228
Block	73	71	144
Jones	44	81	123
Rittersdorf	24	25	49
Total Votes	174	206	380

Town Meetings Mark Bows for Two Area Supervisors

Supervisors for two area townships prepared for the final time over annual town meetings held last Saturday.

The dean of township supervisors for the state, Fred Roth, was in attendance for the 53rd time at Vergennes Township Hall. He has told friends he does not plan to seek re-election this fall. A resolution in his honor was presented by Donald McPherson.

In Ada Township, Supervisor Fred Clancy told a turnout of 19 residents that he will not run for the office again in view of the amount of time required to handle the position.

Clancy's announcement came despite a $2,500 salary increase for the supervisor's job authorized by residents following a motion from the floor by Gene Gilmore that compensation for township officers be increased across-the-board.

The supervisor's pay was set at $9,000 while the clerk's pay was raised from $6,000 to $8,000; the treasurer's salary from $5,000 to $7,500 and trustee salaries from $600 to $720.

Ada's budget for the year is expected to exceed $108,000 with present indications that receipts from all sources may top $133,900.

The board also budgeted enough money to initiate payment of a new $40,000 fire rig, which will be ordered for future delivery.

Cascade Township officials also won resident support for new salary schedules that amount to $25,120 . . . up more than $8,000 from 1969 compensation.

The position of supervisor was set at $7,000 and that of assessor at $4,000. Both are presently filled by Al Heemstra. The position of clerk and treasurer were set at $6,500 each and that of utilities development coordinator at $2,400. Trustee salaries were set at $720. Car allowances for the supervisor, clerk and treasurer also were approved.

Lowell Township officers also received pay boosts. Residents approved a salary of $2,500 for the job of supervisor, up from $1,000; pegged the salaries of clerk and treasurer at $1,500, an increase of $500; and set per-meeting salaries for trustees at $12, an increase of $4.50 per meeting.

A major consideration at the Lowell Township meeting was in regards to redesigning Cumberland Drive north of M-21 to eliminate several sharp turns. The road leads to a large new housing development and is expected to carry an increased burden of traffic. Preliminary estimates set the cost at $27,000, well above the figure earmarked for new roads in a total road budget of $40,000.

Another highlight of the Cascade meeting came in Supervisor Heemstra's outline of township growth in real property values in the past four years. In 1966, Heemstra noted, the tax roll was pegged at $14-million . . . less than half the most recent roll of more than $28-million.

Cascade's budget for the year was approved at approximately $139,000, representing an increase of $21,000. The board also noted that sufficient funds are available from a special fire fund assessment to underwrite replacing the chassis on one of the township department's oldest rigs.

Proclaims Earth Day in Lowell

BY PATT BAMBRICK

Mayor Arnold Wittenbach, in one of his final actions prior to retirement from city politics, has proclaimed April 22 as "Earth Day" in Lowell.

Throughout the United States, a movement is underway to hold a national theme to discuss the ecological problems of our society.

A recent magazine article estimated that the U. S. has seven million scrapped cars, 30 million tons of waste paper, 48 billion discarded cans and 28 billion bottles and jars yearly. A million tons of garbage pile up each day.

America contributes 140 million tons of pollutants to the air we breathe; air which circles the earth 40 times a year, 90 million of this is from cars, 15 million from electric power generation.

Other figures reported in the article state that noise doubles in volume every 10 years.

Americans born each day total 5,500 and 100 million more estimated by the year 2000. Lead is deposited in layers on the Pacific Ocean from San Diego's air, and there is concern that the smog in L.A. may cause mass deaths by 1975.

The resolution for Earth Day is: Give Earth A Chance.

Mayor Arnold Wittenbach, in a statement issued early this week, said:

"I urge our fellow citizens, corporate officials, and government leaders to support Earth Day, April 22, and to support and join continuing programs for environmental education and action in this community, state, nation, and world."

Open Forums Discuss Molesting

Steve McCarthy, an officer with the East Grand Rapids Police Department and a resident of Lowell, will be the featured speaker in three open forum discussions of child molestation next Tuesday (April 14) at Bushnell Elementary School multi-purpose room.

Sponsored by the Bushnell Parents Club, the sessions will be held at 10 a.m., 1:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. and will include a dramatic film on the subject.

All parents in the area and other interested residents are invited to attend the sessions in which Officer McCarthy will outline possible solutions to the problem.

Man has been taking a long, hard look at himself in recent months (at least in the United States and Canada) . . . and he doesn't like what he sees, to say the least.

The problem, of course, concerns itself with pollution. Ecologists point out that water pollution and air pollution, if left unchecked and unresolved, will eventually choke the life out of all that surrounds us . . . and, with no doubt, pull the trigger on man himself.

I don't know that the ecologists are absolutely right. Some of what they say may be exaggerated for the simple reason that the American public seldom moves on some matters unless pushed to the brink of panic.

We are disturbed as well by another form of pollution . . . mental pollution.

There is great cause to be concerned with the latter, perhaps more so than the first two forms of pollution. The need to clean up our waters and air is a physical matter, requiring plenty of manpower and plenty of money. Both are available. Perhaps not readily, but available nonetheless.

Mental pollution, on the other hand, must start (if, indeed, anyone really cares that it starts) with the newest of the new-born generation. Over a period of many years, the scars left on society by millions of advocates of a live-it-up-today-and-to-hell-with-tomorrow policy down through the past half-century or slightly longer may have been healed sufficiently to allow man to recognize himself.

Actually, much of what man has brought upon himself in the way of polluted streams and air is the direct result of mental pollution.

About a year or so ago, I received a package in the mail that included what we call "public service" advertising.

This business is tough enough to run on paid ads, but when someone comes along and requests use of these columns on a gratis basis, we take a good look at the "product" involved before permitting the request.

What I saw upon examining the contents caused me to see red. Folks here in the office thought I was losing my mind . . . and maybe I was.

Enclosed in the package were several ads depicting youngsters picking up paper of all sorts and placing it in litter containers. The message encouraged people . . . especially young people . . . to pick up trash. The reason for my disturbed state of mind was that the ads were submitted by an association of soft drink bottlers . . . who, along with beer firms, probably do as much to contribute to pollution as anyone else.

There is nothing more shameful than a throw-away can or bottle flung into ditches . . . or left to clutter up parks and woods and beaches.

The public-at-large will not govern itself to properly dispose of these useless containers once they have been used . . . and only expenditures of vast sums of taxpayers money helps to clean up a pathetically small amount of the debris.

I might not have been so mad if the ads had included pictures that showed cans and bottles. But not a chance! The only thing shown was paper . . . which begins deteriorating as soon as it is exposed to the elements!

Can you say the same for glass or aluminum or steel?

We have always been willing to join the fight. Are you?

Crusade Chairmen Named

Hugh C. VanderVeen of Lowell will again serve as the Cancer Crusade Area Chairman for Northeast Kent County. The drive is held annually during the month of April. VanderVeen has made the Cancer Drive his annual project because of the magnitude of the problem. "Only the continued research, which is made possible by the funds obtained during these drives, can assure the final victory over cancer," VanderVeen commented.

Other volunteer leaders who will operate on the township level during the 1970 Cancer Crusade are: Steve Haarmann, 496 Ada Drive SE, for Ada Township; Mrs. Richard Siegle, 5691 Bancroft, Alto, for rural Lowell and Vergennes Township; C. Loyal Malone, Route No. 2, Ada, for Grattan Township; and Mrs. Lance Molander, 7237 Cascade Road SE, for Cascade Township.

Mrs. Irene Osborne, Route No. 1, Lowell, will act as Cancer Fund Chairman for the Lowell Business and Professional Women who annually conduct the drive in the city of Lowell.

Mobile Home Park Plan Delayed by Timing Error

An apparent mix-up in the publication date of an official notice of hearing has delayed until April 30 the next move on a proposed mobile home park to be constructed on 28th Street in Cascade Township.

A number of township residents, estimated at more than 50, turned out Monday night to complain that the notice of hearing had been published by the township planning commission more than the legal limitation of 30 days in advance of the meeting.

The hearing had been called for March 3 and the notice was first published in the January 29 edition of the Ledger-Suburban Life.

Township Attorney Walter Friehofer agreed with Roger Clark, serving as a spokesman for the group, that the publication timetable may have been in error. Friehofer then recommended that the township board table plans to forward specifications for the proposed mobile home park to the county planning board pending a new hearing.

Peter Price, chairman for the township planning commission, on Tuesday set the April 30 date for the new hearing, which will be held in the township administration

The mobile home park is planned for two hundred units by Garner Associates to be managed by a subsidiary of Foremost Insurance Company. Collins Brooks, vice president and general counsel for Foremost, spoke for the developers stating that all minimums for the park far surpass any FHA and HUD requirements.

He explained that the insurance company was interested in the park as a model and expected it to be the finest in the mid-west.

A large portion of insurance written by this company is for mobile homes and it had been planned to make this park a show place.

Supervisor Al Heemstra told the audience that the planning commission has been wrestling with the problem of a mobile home park for six years. A completely new ordinance has been written by the commission and has served as a model for a great many townships throughout the country. Without a proper place within the township for such housing, it would be possible for mobile homes to be scattered in all areas, Heemstra noted.

In other action the board passed resolutions to tentatively establish special assessment districts for water and sewer extensions on 28th Street from the present construction 2600 feet east of Kraft Ave. to the intersection of 28th and Cascade Road.

Petitions have been signed by residents along the route. A meeting has been set for April 28 at 8 p.m. to hear and consider objections.

Minor Cook and Paul Slater will be attending a school created by the combined efforts of Michigan State University, the Michigan Townships Association, and the Bureau of Local Government, Service Department of Treasury of the State of Michigan. This is scheduled to begin on May 4 under the direction of Colonel Joseph Parisi, executive director. This schooling will enable the officials to follow standard procedure for auditing books of the local governmental body.

The supervisor requested authorization to sign Work orders for roads based on the approval by the electors at the annual meeting Saturday. The total authorized for 1970 was $35,000 of which the road program presently has designated $34,979.

Large Crowd Attracted to Lowell Meet

A large turnout of 87 disappointed Lowell Township residents were little wiser today in regards to what has rumormongered to be a major development planned for the area this summer.

"They were out in great numbers," said Supervisor Elmer Smith, "but the developers had called earlier in the day to advise that plans were not completed."

Smith told the residents that no action would be forthcoming until the May 4 meeting of the township board, which must act before any plan requiring rezoning is placed before the township zoning board.

CAUSE OF GRIEVANCE — Housewives in Lowell have bombarded city hall with demands that something be done to eliminate iron from the city's water supply. Shown above are hunks of solidified iron bacteria that have accumulated in the water system over many years. In the background is a jar of water turned in by one irate housewife . . . and it contained a generous supply of iron bacteria, which is not harmful to users, but does cause stains in laundry.

Two Killed in Accident Known Here

Two area women were killed Monday in an auto collision which occurred on M-57, south of Ionia. Dead are Mrs. William A. (Ruth) Van Coevering, 50, of 2428 Beechwood Drive SE, driver of the car, and Mrs. Robert L. (Lois) Loge, 40, of 2155 Englewood Dr. SE. The women, who were cousins, were on their way to North Branch to attend the funeral of an uncle.

The first accident on M-21 about a half-mile west of Grand River Drive occurred at midnight as Harold Bulken, 44, of Spring Lake lost control of his westbound auto.

A snow plow operator, Ray Richard, 17, of 7960 Hunt, Lowell, escaped without serious injury when the truck he was driving ran into the ruckled over on Cascade Road (Old 16).

Highway Death Rate Drops in March

Michigan's traffic deaths in March numbered 150, which was 23 (or 13 percent) less than in the same month last year, according to State Police provisional figures.

The count was eight less than the average of 158 for that month in the five-year period 1965-69. The high March record of 179 was set in 1966, the low of 75 in 1955 when state record keeping began.

The accumulated total for the first three months this year was 458 which is two percent less than 468 in the same period a year ago.

Residents of East Grand Rapids, they had many friends throughout the Forest Hills area.

For the second week in a row, unseasonal snowstorms on Thursday contributed to poor road conditions and led to a rash of highway mishaps.

Clifton Johnson of Grand Rapids came on the crash scene at about 1 a.m. and applied his brakes after seeing flashes on Kent County Sheriff's Department patrol cars. He also lost control and struck several guard rails just west of the first accident.

Two one-car accidents were reported Sunday. Charles Kilgallon, 42, of Grand Rapids said an object flew into his eye as he was driving on 60th Street near Alaska and that he did not see a turn in the road. His car hit a tree head-on.

A stuck car in heavy snow on Whitneyville Road led to injury of an Alto man Thursday.

Richard A. Cleaveau, 45, of 6981 Whitneyville Road was treated for cuts and bruises after the car he was driving hit the car of 17-year-old Fred Runstrom of Grand Rapids. A witness to the accident was Joseph Server, 21, of Caledonia who had stopped to assist Runstrom.

A snow plow operator, Ray Richard, 17, of 7960 Hunt, Lowell, escaped without serious injury when the truck he was driving ran into the ruckled over on Cascade Road (Old 16).

Census Bureau Plea; Stand Up, Be Counted

Betty Walker, District Manager of the 1970 Census of Population and Housing in this area, says her office is watching every incoming mail for a number of census forms that should have been returned on April 1. She says that if yours is one of the missing, that you fill it out and mail it today. Don't make the Census Bureau come calling for your census form.

Every person must be counted, the District Manager said, whether by mail or by personal visit, and the cost of the census goes up with each household that must be visited. She pointed out that the success of the census depends on the cooperation of every household and every individual in filling out and returning the questionnaire. Helpful examples on how to mark answers to the questions are given on the yellow instruction sheet furnished with the form.

The brown mail-back envelope that came with your census form does not require a stamp.

Your Math Errors May Delay Tax Refund

So far this year 18,402 income tax refunds of Michigan taxpayers have been delayed because of mathematical errors, Thomas A. Cardoza, IRS District Director for Michigan said today.

Under the IRS Automatic Data Processing System, computers verify mathematical computations. When an error is detected, IRS must determine the correct tax before a refund can be issued.

As a result of these mathematical errors, Mr. Cardoza said, some taxpayers will receive a larger one. In some cases, taxpayers who made mathematical errors will be billed for additional taxes.

Of the first 1,420,002 returns processed so far at the IRS Service Center in Cincinnati, many types of errors other than mathematical have been detected. In many cases, Mr. Cardoza said, these have also led to refund delays.

A total of 18,313 failed to sign their return. Every tax return must be signed and two signatures are required for a joint return. Unsigned returns have to be sent back to taxpayers for signature before refunds can be processed.

Mr. Cardoza asked taxpayers to use the Form 1040 pre-addressed name label that came with their blank return. Use of the label allows IRS to process the return more speedily than those without name labels.

The label contains information vital to the processing of the return including name, address, and Social Security number. Taxpayers who detect an error on the label should correct it on the label itself.

The IRS Service Center in Cincinnati up to last week had processed 1,095,794 returns of Michigan taxpayers due refunds totaling $308,413,727.

GVSC Plans Spring 'Flea Market'

Final reports of 1970 Feed Grain Program sign-up in Michigan show 54,571 farmers signed in the Feed Grain Program and 60,391 farmers signed in the Wheat Program, both slightly behind the 1969 sign-up.

Those farmers who signed in these programs have agreed to take out of production and divert to a conserving use 862,867 acres under the Feed Grain Program and 427,197 acres under the Wheat Program. In making this announcement, Nick Smith, Chairman of the Michigan Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee, stated that Michigan farmers will earn payments for setting aside such acreage and at the same time will be doing their part in reducing the production of these grains which are in surplus.

Smith added that although advance payments were not authorized this year, the Department is committed to start making 1970 feed grain and wheat payments as soon after July 1, 1970 as possible and payments should be in the hands of participating Michigan farmers by the end of July or mid-August. To facilitate these early final payments, farmers must accurately certify as early as possible.

Feed Grain and Wheat Program Sign-Up Slow

Final reports of 1970 Feed Grain Program sign-up in Michigan show 54,571 farmers signed in the Feed Grain Program and 60,391 farmers signed in the Wheat Program, both slightly behind the 1969 sign-up.

Those farmers who signed in these programs have agreed to take out of production and divert to a conserving use 862,867 acres under the Feed Grain Program and 427,197 acres under the Wheat Program. In making this announcement, Nick Smith, Chairman of the Michigan Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee, stated that Michigan farmers will earn payments for setting aside such acreage and at the same time will be doing their part in reducing the production of these grains which are in surplus.

Smith added that although advance payments were not authorized this year, the Department is committed to start making 1970 feed grain and wheat payments as soon after July 1, 1970 as possible and payments should be in the hands of participating Michigan farmers by the end of July or mid-August. To facilitate these early final payments, farmers must accurately certify as early as possible.

FERRIS STUDENTS NAMED TO HONOR LIST

Discontinue Two Trains

The Michigan Public Service Commission has authorized Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad to discontinue two night passenger trains between Detroit and Grand Rapids.

The commission ruled that continued operation of the two trains "would constitute an undue financial hardship" on C & O.

Chesapeake and Ohio told the commission that it has been losing in excess of $400 a day on the two trains since the U. S. Post Office discontinued using the trains to transport mail last Dec. 31.

At no time during the last three years, the Commission noted, did the average number of passengers on the two trains equal the four-man crew that was required to operate the trains.

ANOTHER BIRTHDAY DINNER

I had the surprise of my life Friday, when the Phillip Johnson family took me to Schenels for dinner. As we approached the door, a number of people were waiting to get in (I thought). Then when I saw most of my brother R. D. Bancroft's family, I thought it just a coincidence, as they go there often, though I did wonder at Francis and Ann Campau being there. Then someone remarked, "Well, I guess we are all here but the Kalamazoo folks."

When my sister, Leota Dygert, with a third of her family, arrived, 30 of the descendants of my father, Charlie Bancroft, went in for a belated birthday dinner for me... and there were seven families, totaling 35, not represented. Is it any wonder the world is over-populated?

My neighbors, Russell and Denise Stowell, moved from their Valley Vista apartment last Friday to a house on the Livingston farm. Address: 10576 84th St., Alto, Michigan 49302. Phone: 868-6678.

Mrs. Margaret Raab, owner of the "Home Center" on West Main Street, is leaving Thursday to fly to Germany to visit Leipzig, her home town she has not seen for 25 years.

Mrs. Raab met her husband, Bill Raab, an American, in Germany after the War (W.W. II). They came to the United States in 1948 and now reside at Crooked Lake near Pelland. Their son, Terry, will attend the "Home Center" until her return at the end of the month.

Mrs. Leona Campbell, one of my neighbors, whose parents were neighbors when I lived near Campau Lake, was confined to a hospital soon after her arrival here last summer. After about four months she surprised everyone by coming home with a woman on crutches to help her. The woman could stay only a few weeks. Now Leona drives her car to the grocery, laundry, bank or anywhere else she chooses to go.

Mrs. Mildred Schwab Bellows has been Leona's most faithful visitor both at the hospital and at home. Leona and Mildred were in the same class at Lowell High.

Honor City's Mayor

Members of the Lowell city council and city employees gathered last Tuesday evening to honor outgoing Mayor Arnold Wittenbach for his eight years of service on the council.

Among the guests at Evergreen Acres were the Mayor and his wife; Councilman and Mrs. Herb Reynolds; and Councilwoman Mrs. Virginia Myers and Dr. Harold Myers.

Mayor Wittenbach was presented with a gavel to commemorate his six years in office as head of the city government.

Good news for friends of Jim Van Haren. He is supposed to get his body cast this week and that means he will be able to return home after his long stay in the hospital. Doctors feel that he will be able to play tennis next year.

Among those who thoroughly enjoyed themselves at the Forest Hills Country Club buffet luncheon Wednesday were Betty DeWall, Nancy Gordon, Thelma Price, Mae Preston, Marie Cline, and Connie Storm.

Also watching with fascination as the wigs and hair styles were shown were Carol Ray, Marie Schaffer, Nancy Martin, Marjory Gerkin, and Emily Hagot. Not to be left out of the fun and talk of the upcoming golfing season were: Jane De Foor, Myra Dunlap, Marion Smith, Ann Karnes, and Geraldine Greenwood.

A few others who appeared to partake of the goodies and look toward better spring weather were: Sara Clay, Patricia Collins, Virginia Bockl, Barbara Cook and Doris Brinker. Seen here and there were: Lydia Cook, Joyce Glasco, Katherine Havens, Patricia Mieras, and Nancy Pederson. In addition the fever of the season caught Phyllis Ruby, Virginia Ryan, Joanna Van Single, Carol Stevens and Mary Lou Skivrin.

Forest Hills Hi-Lites

BY SHIRLEY DYGERT 676-3721

Congratulations to the FH students who conducted the Get-Registered campaign. Their efforts produced a rash of registrations. We'll give the totals next week. Just proves what good kids can do with all of their energy and growing maturity.

Have you noticed the Welcome Home sign prominently displayed on 28th Street for Jeff Wilcox? His whole family had a real celebration last weekend when everyone was together again. It was the first time in fifteen months. Jeff has spent the last winter in Vietnam where he was a Spec. 4 in the 17th Artillery.

His parents, the Ken Wilcox's kept the Christmas tree up, but they haven't dared turn on the lights... it's a little dry now. Their daughter, Rita and her husband, Larry Beck, of Kalamazoo arrived to help celebrate and found Easter eggs as well.

Karen was able to tell her brother that she had made the Dean's list at Grand Valley for the second time. Pretty exciting family get-together.

Miss Ridgway Wed

MRS. PATRICK PULLEN

St. Andrews Cathedral, Grand Rapids, was the setting as Miss Charlotte Jeanne Ridgway exchanged solemn vows with Mr. Patrick James Pullen in a Saturday morning ceremony. Parents of the bridal couple are Mr. and Mrs. Claude M. Ridgway of Lowell, and Mr. and Mrs. James Pullen of Ada.

The bride wore a gown of lace, fashioned in the bouffant style. Her floor length veil was held by a lace cap.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Virginia Ridgway, sister of the bride. Mrs. David Hoesel, and the Misses Sharon Proos, and Jane and Karen Reagan completed the bride's entourage. Christine Ridgway and Patricia Reagan were flower girls. Donald Reagan was ringbearer.

Best man's duties were performed by Charles Grudzinskas. Seating the guests were David Hoesel, Roy Hein, Craig Schneider and Patrick McGarry.

Honeymoon in West

Mr. and Mrs. Everette La Chappelle are honeymooning in the West following their marriage Saturday in the First United Methodist Church of Lowell. The Rev. Dean L. Bailey officiated at the double ring ceremony uniting Rachel Bigler and Everette La Chappelle in marriage.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. William Huffman of Lowell and the late Mr. Huffman and Mrs. A. R. Wagner of Panorama City, California and the late Mr. Levi La Chappelle.

For her wedding, the bride chose a street length gown of mauve chiffon fashioned with verigated miniature trim at the mandarin neckline, duffed bishop sleeves and modified empire bodice which also featured tiny moss green velvet streamers. Yellow sweetheart roses and ivy leaves complemented her coiffure.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. Lyle E. Ewing of Bay City. She wore a street length gown of apricot chiffon and a headpiece of apricot sweetheart roses and ivy leaves.

Serving as best man was the groom's son, Joseph LaChappelle. Guests were seated by William Bigler of Ann Arbor, the bride's son and Gene Curtiss of Galesburg, son-in-law of the groom.

A reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church immediately following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. LaChappelle will reside in Grand Rapids.

What's Your Health Problem
Most back pains are caused by tripping mechanical defects in the alignment and mobility of one or more spinal segments. A slight spinal segment (vertebra) may be slightly displaced or locked to cause and adapt to the abnormal support of the defective segment... This begins a period of gradual spinal distortion which may continue without pain over many weeks or months. During this period increasing stress is placed on the normal spinal segments and back muscles... This process of distortion continues until severe arthritis or a pinched nerve sends painful and sometimes severe and prolonged spinal disability. Experience has shown that individuals with chronic or repeated episodes of back pain and spinal distortion respond extremely well to the specialized care offered by the chiropractic profession. Chiropractic X-ray analysis and spinal examination reveals even minute spinal distortions... Early detection allows more effective care and prevention of progressive spinal disorders.

Large Turnout Greet
Ranger Net Coach

Looking for a successful year, Coach Elliot Pearce of the Forest Hills High tennis team has been conditioning his team members with wind sprints when they have been unable to use the courts outdoors.

The Green and White team has been placed in the Red Division of the O-K Conference this year. Most of the teams are unknown to Pearce, but he suspects that Godwin and possibly West Ottawa are the ones to defeat.

Three seniors, two juniors, six sophomores, and eight freshmen turned out for the squad, which will be cut to eight men.

Pearce expects to keep about sixteen men in shape for the season.

On Saturday, April 11, Coach Pearce plans to take fifteen of his team members to Kalamazoo for a free clinic from 9:30 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. Featured man of the clinic will be Chuck McKinley, former Davis Cup player and Wimbledon Champ.

Matches this first week of play were both away. The first was with Kentwood on Wednesday and the other will be with Hudsonville on Friday, April 10. Each school in the conference will be met twice on a round-robin basis.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

At the March 17 meeting of the Aowakiya Campfire group, the meeting was spent with Perri reading the play she wrote for the Dad-Daughter Banquet on April 16. We then decided who would play what part, what costumes we would have to wear, etc. The president adjourned the meeting.

At the March 31 meeting of the Aowakiya Campfire group we read through the play at our seats. Then we got up and read through it again to get an idea of where we would stand, etc. The president adjourned the meeting.
