PEOPLE, PEOPLE, PEOPLE - One of the biggest gatherings of local folks every year is the annual Amway Corporation picnic, which drew about 3,000 employees, their families and guests to Fallasburg Park Saturday. There were games for the young and old, entertainment, rides and a lot of other stuff to make even the most eager participant weary (right) by the time all the food and refreshments were gone.

Alto Man Dies in Lake Michigan Fishing Accident

An Alto man was drowned in a fishing accident on Lake Michigan over the weekend, and a companion was rescued after clinging to their overturned boat nearly 24 hours. Lawrence Benn, 40, was found dead by rescurers after clinging to the 15-foot aluminum boat in the chilly Lake Michigan waters through most of the night. His companion, William Lysdahl, also of Alto, was pulled to safety by fishermen aboard a Shakespeare Co. boat.

Bell Lists Proposed New Rates

Michigan Bell Telephone Company has filed new statewide rate schedules designed to produce $14.8 million in additional revauthorized by the state Publ Commission. This is the first general rate increase for the company in over ten years. The proposed rates will not become effective until approved by the commission. "Every effort has been made to simplify the new rate structure so that rates may be more easily understood by customers,' said Robert I. Thole, local Michigan Bell manager. "The new rates also are designed so that customers pay on the basis of the amount of service and facilities they actually use.

Heemstra Drops Bombshell, Resigns Cascade Post

Lee Patterson, life resident of Cascade, will become that township's new supervisor on Monday, September 21.

Cascade Township, one of Michigan's fastest growing communities, felt the weight of a sudden bombshell last week as the announcment of its supervisor, Al Heemstra, was made known.

In a totally unexpected move, Heemstra resigned his position as head of the local government body. The decision came as a surprise to his many campaign backers.

Heemstra was filling, out the unexpired portion of former supervisor Gerritt Baker's term. In this position Heemstra was holding the reins until the November 20 election at which time he would have continued in the office as he was running unopposed.

Since Heemstra's name is alone on the ballot and he will therefore be duly elected, he must resign once again at that time.

However, the township will never be without leadership as the board of supervisors immediately appointed Lee Patterson to the position of supervisor upon Heemstra's announcement that he was leaving for a position in private industry.

Patterson will officiate in the chair until the fall election, filling out the term of the retired supervisor. It is expected that he will then be appointed once again by the board to hold that office when Heemstra's second resignation is accepted.

"I was as unprepared for Al's decision as most people," declared Patterson. "I certainly didn't seek out this position, but now that I have been asked to take over this authority, I will do my best to treat the people fairly and honestly.

"Al has done a tremendous job of organizating the problems of a swiftly growing area. At present I have no plans of implementing anything new; I will try to carry on with the programs already started. I want to do whatever is beneficial to the complete township."

Lee Patterson and his family have recently moved to a new home on Thornapple River Drive. His father is Minor Patterson, also a lifelong resident of the area and a descendent of pinoeer families. Lucy Patterson, Lee's wife, is a former Caledonie resident. Their children, Rexane, 13; Randy, 12; and Kyle, 7; are all students in the Forest Hills school system.

BULLETIN

A report of the murder of Shelly Gay Mills, 19, of 314 College Ave. NE, was received in the offices of the Ledger-Suburban Life just prior to press time.

Mrs. Mills, the wife of Lowell High School band director William Mills, was apparently assaulted by an unknown person between 8:30 and 9:00 a.m. Tuesday morning.

Grand Rapids police are investigating.

landed him the supervisor's seat in that thriving community.

We can only hope that Al will remain active in township matters even though he has returned to private life. His keen awareness of the importance of local matters as they relate to state and Federal government is certain to be missed in an area that may only be a few breaths removed from becoming a prime candidate for cityhood.

Lysdahl, 45, was quoted by rescuers as saying the boat overturned around 8:30 a.m. Saturday as the pair were trying to untangle tishing gear from the propeller. The boat capsized near the shipping lane three miles into Lake Michigan off the Portage Point lighthouse at Onekema.

Lysdahl said he and Benn had lashed themselves to the boat and tried to wave down a passing freighter, but it didn't see them.

Benn's body was found inside the overturned boat. Lysdahl said he had been talking to Benn, who was in an air pocket, as late as 4 a.m. Sunday.

Lysdahl was in good condition Monday with shock and exposure at West Shore Hospital, Manistee.

Benn's body was taken to the Sullivan Funeral Home, Grand Rapids.

Houston Man Finds Bottle With Note from LHS Seniors

A bottle containing a note from the 1970 Lowell High School senior class was recently found floating in Lake Michigan near Ludington. The bottle was thrown overboard by members of the senior class while on the S. S. Milwaukee Clipper during the senior class trip on June 5.

Bruce Ellison of Houston, Texas found the bottle on July 7 while vacationing in Ludington. The note, thrown overboard in the middle of the lake, stated in part, "Whomever finds this bottle is entitled to a $5 reward."

Michael Clark, senior faculty advisor, stated that the reward has been sent to Ellison in Houston. The letter is now on display in the high school.

The message unit billing system is being eliminated. It is currently used in the Grand Rapids area. Local calling areas will remain the same. Interzone calls, between non-adjacent zones or exchanges, will be charged by the minute. Also, calls between Ada and Grattan are interzone. Interzone calls will be five cents per minute for calls up to 20 miles and 10 cents per minute for calls beyond that distance. Customers who dial their own interzone calls will be given a 40 percent discount at any time. Each person-to-person interzone call will have an additional 50 cent charge above the basic time charge.

The new proposed one-party residence rate will be $5 a month as compared to the old rate of $4.85. Other rate changes include $4 for 2-party residence, from the present $3.85; $3.25 for 4-party residence, against the present $3; and $3 for residence budget service in place of the current $2.25.

The proposed one-party business rate is $11.25 instead of $10.60. The new charge for each trunk line will be $16.85. The present rate is $15.75. Two-party business service is being increased the same amount as 1-party business service. Where they now apply, rural residence and business rates remain unchanged.

The proposed new rates apply to all towns in the Grand Rapids area. They include Lowell, Ada, Alto, Byron Center, Caledonia, Door, Dutton, Grattan, Hudsonville, Jamestown, Marne, Moline, Rockford and Sparta.

The company is reducing the monthly instrument charges on some equipment. The present monthly charge of 75 cents for Princess telephones becomes 60 cents. Special telephones for impaired hearing and impaired speech are reduced to 75 cents a month from the current $1 and $1.25.

This could only happen in Alto!

Not that the good folks in that friendly community are at fault, however.

Nope . . . seems that the gremlins are working overtime again at the Kent County Road Commission.

Now whoever heard of 52th Street? In New York City, it's famous as 52nd Street. But 52th . . . that could only happen in Alto, especially at the intersection of Bancroft.

AN EDITORIAL

There have been increasing reports of harrassment by local police against what would appear to be innocent Lowell residents.

The degree of harrassment, all too often, appears to be guided by the social status of the person being harrassed.

The greatest number of incidents also seem, according to these reports, against the younger generation.

This newspaper has long championed the cause of police officers at all levels.

But it cannot and will not tolerate what seemingly is a witless display of overzealousness of office on the part of the men in blue.

Let's not do anytiing to further widen the communications gap between police and citizens. Life is complicated enough as it is!

OK Funds for Boat Ramp Study

Expenditure of not more than $1,000 for an engineering and feasibility study to improve recreation facilities along the Grand River has been approved by the Lowell city council.

Council agreed during its meeting of September 8 to underwrite costs of the study on a 50-50 basis with the Mchigan Department of Natural Resources Waterways Division.

Results of the survey will then be used in determining what, if any, further action will be taken to install boat launching and park facilities along the river.

Funding of the proposed improvements probably would be handled by revenues approved two years ago by Michigan voters to upgrade the state's recreational facilities.

City Manager Blaine Bacon advised council members that pending court action to secure a contested strip of land between the cemetery and airport property was can-celled when John Schneider, owner of the narrow piece of property, accepted the city's offer of $700 for its purchase.

Public Hearing on Caledonia School Budget

A public hearing on the proposed bud-get for the fiscal year 1970-71 for the Caledonia Community Schools will be held at the regular Board of Education meeting on October 12, at 8 p.m. The meeting will be held in the library of the Caledonia High A copy of the proposed budget may be examined prior to the hearing at the superintendent's office.

Says Ada Supervisor Candidate Charges Tax Inequities

at $16 400

The "fair-share" system of equalized value on taxable property has not been applied to all lands in Ada Township according to a candidate for supervisor of the area.

Banjamin F. Smith, running on the Democratic tickets, said that a study conducted by Grand Valley State College's Urban Studies Institute and subsequent investigations of his own showed low assessments prevailed on several large tracts of vacant property in Ada Township. Smith told a group of interested citizens last week that he estimated the vacant lands in question were under-assessed at the rate of $716,000.

According to Smith, other property owners in the township are picking up the tax tab for some $27,400 which the land would produce if rated at 50 percent of real market value as prescribed by state law. He cited purchase of a two-acre tract of land at $60,000 by an Ada firm that event-

A quiet opening of Forest Hills High School belied the crowded conditions faced by students and instructors during the first week of operation.

"The student body got off to a great start," said Principal William DeJonge. "Although the students had to share lockers, sometimes as many as three people trying to put books and raingear in one, their conduct proved that they could behave in a rational manner."

DeJonge also credited the newly enclosed classrooms with aiding in the composure of faculty and students. Superintendent Robert Masten said that an early guess sets the high school population at 1.320. The whole Forest Hills school system presently has a population of 4,259. However, Masten said that several changes may occur in this figure before the "count day" which is the fourth Friday in September. Unless a considerably larger figure is reported, Masten explained that the school system would lose money it had planned to receive. The budget was based on the projection of 4,330 tudents "We seem to have the full amount of students expected in the high school and in the junior high," the Superintendent remarked, "but we may have failed to have as many in the elementary schools as was planned." Because of the Michigan Supreme Court action regarding school books and supplies, the Forest Hills School District will lose between $50,000 to $60,000. "We are studying quantity buying for items such as notebook paper, pencils, and pens," said Masten. "There is also a problem in classes such as shop and home economics where materials for projects are needed."

One of Ada's oldest citizens and at times controversial fig-ures was honored Saturday night at a dinner given by the Mas-

Rex Anthony received his sixty-year pin in a special ceremony. The granting of such an award is unusual as no man may enter the Masonic orders until he is at least twenty-one. Rex Anthony became a resident of Ada at the age of thirteen, having moved there with his parents from Grand Rapids. He was the first rural mail carrier in the area, receiving his appointment in July, 1902

Never one to stand for the status quo, Rex not only ran for the office of Secretary in the Michigan Rural Letter Carrier's Association, and won; but he also often mixed in local politics as a backer of his favorite candidates. A voluble personality who has never minced words, Rex made friends and enemies among the local citizenry with acid comments, especially during national election years.

Rex's involvement in local affairs brought changes to the area. One instance was in the heighth of the railroad trestle over Ada Drive. Until his intervention, automobiles and trucks often had their roofs torn off as they approached the tracks downhill. With photographs he had taken and a committee which he headed. Anthony presented the case to the C & O Railroad. After much prodding by Rex and others, the corpor ation saw the wisdom of the arguments and at great expense, lifted the tracks.

Rex was also a member of the first western Michigan Independent Grocers Association board. His own store was located in the now empty building on Ada Drive behind his home. His was one of the first IGA stores in Western Michigan.

A colorful figure himself, Rex has always managed to keep his windows full of posters, pictures, newspaper clippings, and signs regarding his pet theories. He often is seen in better weather sitting on his front steps where he holds forth with those who stop for a word of local history or current politics. Although Rex is now eighty-six years old, his conversation remains as sharp and quick as when he was younger, according to his

As a Mason, Rex was the first man to be raised to a Master Mason after the Temple in Ada was erected. The event occurred on September 17, 1910. Later he became a Master, belonged to the Royal Arch York Rite Chapter in Lowell and became a Shriner in Grand Rapids.

Letters from the Grand Secretary, from DeMolay, Knights Templar and from York Rite referring to the honor and glory of so many years of service to the Masons were read at the ceremony. Afterward they were placed in an album and presented to Anthony as a permanent keepsake.

Other honors were bestowed Saturday evening. Corry Cookingham received his Life Membership award from Roger Jansma, Worthy Master and from Russel Ward, Past Master. Fifty-year members who were present included Charles Comstock, Robert Morris, Hugh Slater, Max Souzer and Jansma.

Forty-year members present were Russell Lelly, Walter Afton, Senior, and Ward. Part of the outstanding ceremony included the giving of golden tie clasps adorned with a special Masonic emblem to Past Masters of the Ada Lodge. Those who received the privili-ged decoration were Robert Loesh, Robert Morris, Donald Mc-

Pherson, Wayne Cookingham, Corry Cookingham, Russell Ward, Max Souzer, Gordon Johnson (honorary), Roger Jansma, W. M., Darwin Nellist, Irving Alexander and Willard Marks. The dinner was served by members of the Eastern Star whose Worthy Matron is Alice Rooker and Worthy Patron, Richard Densmore.

Interested in little theatre work? Involvement can be from any angle; production, promotion, play participation. Members of the Thornapple Community Theatre group will be holding an annual meeting on September 27 at 4 p.m. to which they invite all others who are fascinated by this form of the entertainment arts. The meeting will be held on Sunday at St. John's Church Camp, located just off Thornapple River Drive on Bridgewater Road, south of Ada, north of Cascade. The nominating committee has selected fifteen names of which twelve will be elected to the Board of Directors for the 1970-71 season. The following have all served on the board during the past term: Jack Breidenfield, Jane Breidenfield, Bob Gaskell, Gerry Hanes, Ed Jones, Bruce Kennedy, Terry Lorch, Jim Merren, Mae Preston, Pat Roy, Bruce Schlanderer, Bob Shaffer, Sally Silver, Elayne Van Sluyters and DeDe Zimmer. Two productions are now cast and in rehearsal for the children's theatre arm of the parent group. A d: "time production of "Rapunzel and the Witch" and an evening presentation of "Alice in Wonderland" are being prepared to go on the boards shortly.

4-H Photography Series to be Televised

A new 4-H photography television series, composed of six half-hour instructional shows, has been announced by the national 4-H Service committee. The shows will be available for viewing early this fall.

Titled "4-H Photo Fun Club," the six programs are geared for 9 to 12-year-olds and will teach basic photography, from how to hold and aim a camera to telling a story with pictures. Since the photography program was launched six years ago, enrollment in the 50 states has doubled to more than 110,000 members. 4-H leaders predict that adding the new TV series to the program will add thousands of building picture snappers, especially among urban youngsters.

The national prize is a $600 scholarship for each of the six most outstanding youths selected annually from state winners. Recently Kodak, the extension service and the national 4-H service committee developed a training kit for adult and teen More information about 4-H photography is available from

Cocktails at the Bill Schriver's brought together the Walter Perschbachers, the Clint Scobeys, the Jack Barnes, and the Taylor Senkes. The selection of party committees for the coming year was of prime interest as members of the distaff side scooped bal-loons out of the pool. Husbands were allowed to "break" the news by popping the toys and reading the contents. Dinner followed at Cascade Country Club where other committee members, Eric and Betty DeWall and Ed and Elaine

Although the calendar says it is still officially summer, the weatherman sometimes puts up a large argument by forcing chilly days and nights upon us.

There is one benefit, however, those autumn colors will arrive via leaves and flowers. The golds, bronzes, coppers and as-sorted hues that spell an invigorating season just ahead can be saved for winter's days.

Molly Maracek is willing to share her secret of vivid dried flowers with us. That means that you can select the finest example of each favorite flower or weed for preservation. An airtight covered box such as a cake tin with a lid is the first essential. The second is silica gel, the kind you buy at a hobby or flower shop. Molly places only the head and a short portion of stem.

half an inch usually, on a layer of the silica gel. Fill the box with flowers, then carefully cover the whole head of each flow er with more of the material. Seal the box and store. The flowers should be removed when they are dry, but not brittle; you'll have to check once a week. Tie artificial stems on the flowers, et voila, you're almost ready for Christmas giving.

Gather up all of your green and white duds and attend the first FHHS football game of the season Friday night at Wyoming Park. We have a pretty powerful team going into the season, but it needs your support.

That first game is being played against last year's Conference Champ and will be followed the next week with a game against a strong Rockford on their home grounds. Our boys will be putting forth their best efforts, give them yours.

The Rangers marching band will travel to Kalamazoo this Saturday where its members will attend Band Day on the campus of Western Michigan University. Don't forget to attend the home games where this spectacular organization will play for your entertainment. There's a lot of drilling going on which will set your toes tapping.

Warn Housewives of New Bacteria

A new bacteria might be lurking around your kitchen, just waiting for a chance to poison the food.

The bacteria, "clostridium perfringens," is found in soil, water, foods and the intestines of many people, and it could cause a new rash of food poisoning, according to Dr. Richard V. Lechowich, Michigan State University food science expert. "The bacteria is going to become more of a problem," warns Dr. Lechowich. "However, it will make little headway against alert housewives who can get the upper hand by using good food handling procedures.

1. 1. 1. 1.

Food service establishments are also vuinerable, says Dr. Lechowich, Last year in one school alone there were 1,800 confirmed cases of poisoning from "clostridium prefringenes." "Beef, fowl and pork, in that order, are among the most vulnerable of foods to the bacteria," says the MSU scientist. "These are also favorite foods of the salmonella and staph-

Preventing food poisoning is the same with just about any bacteria. Extra precautions must be taken with popular kitchen tools such as the cutting board or mixing bowl. For example, notes Dr. Lechowich, a cook should never place boiled chicken giblets on an unwashed cutting board previously used to cut up uncooked chicken. "When someone puts cooked food on the contaminated cutting board the cooked food can easily become contaminated, warns Dr. Lechowich. "If it is eaten right away, it probably would do no harm, but when it is slowly or insufficiently heat ed or sits around several hours, those bacteria grow and multi-

To avoid food poisoning, food handlers should:

*Keep everything clean. *Keep the temperature of vulnerable foods out of the temperature ranges at which bacteria thrive. (Foods should be kept below 45 degrees F. or above 145 degrees F. Leftovers should be refrigerated promptly and reheated thoroughly.) A practical rule to follow when you are uncertain about a food remains: "When in doubt, throw it out!"

VEHICLE DEFECT SURVEY

The Care Council says the California Highway Patrol believes it has established a connection between highway death and vehicle defects. It said the Patorl studied 409 single car fatal accidents between 1967 and 1969 and found 29 percent had one or more mechanical defects. It concluded two out of three of the defects either caused the crash or contributed to it and that in 6.4 percent of the crashes the mechanical defects was directly responsible for the crash. Brake defects accounted for 35 percent of the crashes, steering systems defects 26 percent and tires 21 percent.

Although it is not the season one generally associates with the sport of tennis, a girls' team is being formed at Forest Hills High School. Competition from other high schools is being sought to keep members of the team literally on their toes. Last year the first team of this kind was organized at FHHS with a successful result. Girls interested in participating are advised to sign up within the next week at the gym office.

Fight Tree Disease

A collection of elm trees from all over the world is the basis of Michigan State University research aimed at finding species of elms which are resistant to Dutch elm disease. Over 600 seed lots were obtained in the summer of 1968 from such areas as Asia, Russia, Rumania, Czechoslovakia, Japan, Pakistan, India, Holland and Italy.

This spring - two years after planting - the 30,000 individual elm trees of 10 different species were inoculated with Dutch elm disease. Initial indications of which elm tree strains carry some resistance to the disease will be available in 1971.

Lowell to Open at Ionia Friday

For the first time in the history of the school, Lowell High's varsity football team is looking forward to a nine game schedule instead of the traditional eight games.

It all begins this Friday evening when the Red Arrows face Ionia in a non-league contest at the latters field. The opening kick-off is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

The Tri-River Conference has a new look this year due to the departure of Rockford and Comstock Park. Consequently Lowell will have only five league games while encountering four non-league rivals. All of the non-league games will be against class 'A' teams.

Head coach Al Rowe feels that the tougher competition should help his chances in the league. "Playing aginst the bigger schools should give us added experience against tougher and bigger schools," Rowe said. "We hope to hold our own against the class "A" schools," he added.

Besides Ionia, the other non-league encounters for the Red Arrows include Grandville, Rockford and Gull Lake.

With only eight returning lettermen, Rowe is depending on a young team in this Friday's opener. "We have good speed and a lot of desire" said Rowe. "We lack size. Our biggest man is only about 185-190, but we make up for it with our speed."

This week the Red Arrows will be trying to smooth out some rough spots that were evident in last week's scrimmage against Belding, in which neither team was able to move the ball well enough for a score.

Returning lettermen include Gordy Kelly, Perry Beachum, Dave Yeiter, Bob Reynolds, Pete Olson, Leo Hardin, Rick Seese, and Denny DeWitt.

Here is the entire LHS Football and Cross Country schedules for 1970:

TVFL Opens Season Saturday

The Thornapple Valley Football League will officially open its season this Saturday at the home fields of all four regions. The league includes Middleville, Caledonia, Forest Hills and Lowell, with each region serving its school district. A total of 26 games, divided by age, weight and ability into four divisions, will play over a seven week period.

Two games will be played at Recreation Park in Lowell this Saturday. The Middleville Ponchos will meet the Forest Hills Jets in an official game at 2 p.m. At 3 p.m., the Lowell Lion Tamers will scrimmage with the Caledonia Scotties in a nonleague contest. The Ponchos and Jets are in the B division, and the Lion Tamers and Scotties are in the AA division.

The Lowell Region, sponsored by the Lowell Area Lions Club, will be represented by four teams with 91 boys eightyears-old through eighth grade participating.

All games will be played on Saturday afternoons. There is no admission charge

Rangers Join Tough Red Division

The Forest Hills football team has become a member of the revised Red Division. This conference boasts several strong teams which will provide a slashing race as the season progress-

The Rangers under the mentorship of Coach Frank Rosengren are entering their third year. After winning the old Red Division title in 1968 with a record of 7-1, the Green and White fell to the middle of the pack last year with a 4-5 record.

"Things are looking up," says Rosengren. "At the end of the last campaign, we graduated only nine seniors and as a result, this year's team is certainly a contender for the title."

There are three other teams that Rosengren also considers as contenders. One of these is Rockford which has always been on or near the top. The others are Kentwood and East Grand Rapids.

"Each of those teams has at least one speedster," declares Rosengren. They also have offensive and defensive lines averaging over two hundred pounds." Although Rosengren listed the three, he added that Godwin could be considered a dark horse in the title race.

The Rangers this year hope to establish a strong running game built around backs such as Craig Wynant, Scott Vashaw, Terry Dosenberry, Ken Strohmeyer, Jim Nanzig, Bob Warner, and Quarterback Ron VanderBaan.

One of the bright spots in this year's pre-season practice sessions has been the duel for the starting fullback spot between Wynant and Vashaw. Wynant, who started to show promise in last year's Northview game in running for nearly one hundred yards followed by a forty-yard touchdown romp, has had his hands full in contending for the starting birth. Vashaw, last year's J. V. fullback is providing the challenge.

"In the line the competition has been tough," said Rosengren. "A final decision on a starting line-up was to be made after the scrimmage game."

At left-end Dave Buell and Jeff Van Strien are in hot pursuit of one another. There are four tackles who are vying for the two positions. Ty Gemmell and Clarence Jagt are closely followed by Dick Powell and Steve Shuster.

The right-end spot is a toss-up between Jim Bacon, Ron Rounding out the offensive line is Randy Rouse followed closely by junior Mike Anderson and senior transfer student Chris Trapka. All of these players plus Bill Vekasi, a defensive secondary man, and Tom Ensing, a defensive tackle, have hopes for a starting defensive assignment.

The leadership for the Rangers is being provided by Mc-Carger, Price and Rouse, according to Rosengren. This is the middle of the offensive line and the heart of the team. Rosengren says that all three boys are great leaders and he is sure that the team made wise choices.

Friday night will see the opening game against Wyoming Park on their field. The following week, the Rangers travel to Rockford for their first conference game.

"It's an awesome schedule," remarked Coach Rosengren, "considering that Wyoming Park was the conference champ last year and Rockford is a title potential."

Rounding out the new conference this year are East Grand Rapids, West Ottawa, Grandville, Godwin and Kentwood. The Forest Hills team will end the season with Belding and a powerful Northview team.

Moore, Lanier, Dave Bing and other standout Piston players will engage the Baltimore Bullets in an NBA exhibition game at Calvin College Knollcrest Fieldhouse on Wednesday, September 30.

It took Moore a season and a half to become the No. 1 center on the Pistons and he reported to the training camp vow ing he will continue to be in the starting lineup. "Sure, Lanier is good," says Moore. "I have proven myself in the pro ranks, that's to my advantage. It's a big step from college to a starting position in the NBA and takes time.

For the first half of the 1969-70 season, Moore was in and out at center, sharing the job with Walt Bellamy. But on the second day of 1970, Moore was given the starting job for keeps.

Moore feasted in his starting assignment. Over a 44-game span he averaged 15.5 points and 15 rebounds a game. Not many NBA centers did better, especially in rebounding.

During the off season Moore added 25 pounds (now 225) and feels the experience and weight give him the inside for the
