SHORT, BUT SWEET: That's the feeling today after the way the Lions took it on the chin in Washington.

I suppose now that the bubble has burst, the boo-birds will be shouting "Joe has to go."

Well, as I always say, you can't win 'em all.

If you're looking for someone to congratulate for the great weather we've had this fall (ain't it something else again?) just give The Old Smithy the nod.

You may recall . . . at least I do . . . that when things were at their worst last spring, your fearless forecaster predicted a brilliant fall.

You can sum it up in one word: Delightful.

Latest disciple of the Mac Fonger "Hit 'em From Behind Club" is Sandra Turnbull.

She was having all kinds of trouble eliminating a certain pesky fly when we arrived on the scene.

"Let me show you how it's done," I said, recalling the deft touch Mac had shown me several years ago. I then explained that flies take off backward and that you have to hit them from behind for sure results.

Zap! Goodbye, Mr. Fly.

The foot-dragging in the present General Motors-UAW confrontation is totally beyond my comprehension, but I suppose the long-range benefits for the unions and expense for the corporation makes it one of the biggest poker games in history.

But I'm still puzzled somewhat. Back in 1955, I went through a 117-day newspaper strike that finally put one newspaper (the Detroit Times) all but out of business and which, additionally, created a hardship for many in the industry for years thereafter.

I don't think there's much chance that GM will fold because of the strike. However, a number of allied businesses . . . such as small parts manufacturers, tool and die shops and the like . . . are feeling a pinch from which they may never recover.

In addition, the loss of tax revenue is astronomical. And the burden of welfare required to aid those left unemployed by the strike (we don't mean GM workers) is placing a strain on budgets already groaning under the heavy load.

It's equally amazing that few in high office have so little interest in the stalemate. I'm sure they care, but do not wish to incur the wrath of either Big Business or Big Labor by sticking their collective noses into a family feud.

There's some concern locally, following a rather insipid and incomplete story in the Grand Rapids Press, that Lowell Showboat may be running aground after two straight flops.

However, no concrete facts and figures have been made available to indicate just how the mid-summer production stands.

At last count, there was a fair amount left in the reserve . . . but the question seems to be one of how many baths Showboat can take before the bank account runs dry.

A community that works hard in an effort to make something of Showboat is entitled to know if the ship is sailing on troubled waters.

Dialysis Fund Goes 'Over Top'

The announcement came Sunday night from Donald Kelly, chairman, that the "Kenneth Beiri Dialysis Fund" had exceeded its goal of $5,000. The generous response of the community made possible alterations in "the Beiri's" home and acquisition of a kidney machine, complete with accessories, in a two-month period.

Support came from all segments of the Lowell community as contributions flowed in from six business firms, 16 organizations and 130 individuals and families.

Organizations utilized luncheons, car washes, exhibits, bake sales, suppers and other menus to raise funds and give everyone interested a chance to help. Gifts were received from Michigan, Alabama, Florida and Viet Nam.

The fund was originated by the Adult Committee of Boy Scout Troop 102, and the Administrative Board of the First United Methodist Church. A fund committee was then formed by representatives of various community organizations. Kelly was named chairman and the State Savings Bank of Lowell the depository.

Several groups have fund raising projects underway or scheduled. These will be completed as monies are still being received for the anticipated maintenances of the dialysis equipment throughout the year.

Major Sewer, Street Project Given Go-Ahead for Lowell

The much discussed, but long-delayed project to renovate Lowell's sewage and storm drain system has moved a step closer to reality.

Acting upon a resolution passed at the most recent meeting of the City Council, city officials have notified the Kent County Board of Commissioners that they are prepared to enter into an agreement to reconstruct approximately eight miles of combination storm drain and sewers.

The project, which also will call for reconstruction of many streets and installation of curbs and gutters in the affected area, has no specific price tag. Early estimates range between $1,000,000 and $1,800,000.

If approved, financing would be handled by the Kent County Department of Public Works. Under terms of the proposed agreement, the city would buy back the improvement over a 15-year period through special assessments to benefitting property owners and other revenues.

City officials are hopeful that bids on the major project, largest in the city's history, can be let next spring and work completed in the fall of 1971.

In preparing plans to separate the city's combination system, city officials are merely abiding by an agreement made five years ago to the state when the present sewage disposal system was installed.

One of the conditions of approval by the state for constructing the sewage treatment facility was that storm waters be removed from the sewage system.

Because the systems are not split on much of the east side, storm waters spill into the treatment plant in wet weather, creating an impossible overload at the sewage plant. As a result, most waters returned to the Grand River are untreated.

Two other items calling for improvement expenditures were approved by the council in its historic session.

Preliminary engineering plans were submitted to the State Health Department for installation of equipment at the sewage treatment plant to remove phosphates from the city's effluent.

Under state order, at least 80 percent of phosphates now entering the river from the Lowell plant must be removed by January, 1972, and thereafter.

The cost is expected to top $33,000 for equipment and an additional $8,000 annually for chemicals to treat the phosphates, a chemical most prevalent in detergents which is said to aid to the growth of algae. The latter is a major contributor to pollution in that its presence in water promotes weed growth.

Approximately 55 percent of the cost for equipment could be recovered through state and Federal water quality control grants.

The city also has approved participation, up to $1,000, for a feasibility study for construction of a marina for boat launching and parking on city-owned property on the Grand River.

No price tag has been set on the proposed project, approved by the Department of Natural Resources, but it is expected that the state will pay 90 percent of the cost from special revenues okayed by the state's voters in 1968.

In other council action, transfer of the SDM license at 209 West Main from Richard E. Bell to Robert E. Reagan and John C. Topp was approved and a recommendation for transfer was forwarded to the Michigan Liquor Control Commission; and Plans to install a sidewalk on the north side of Main Street (M-21) from its present terminus to Valley Vista Drive were discussed and turned over to the city manager for necessary action.

See Increase in School Enrollment

A pending influx of new residents in Housing developments nearing completion once again will place a burden on the Lowell Area School District.

The official count for state aid purposes taken September 25 was set at 2,724, but Superintendent Carl Hagen said that between 100 and 150 new students will have enrolled by the time the 1970-71 term ends in June.

As expected, elementary enrollment was down from a year ago, 1,244 from the 1969 figures of 1,273. However, junior high enrollment (670) and the senior high count (810) increased by 52 each for a net increase of 73 students.

In Monday night's monthly meeting, the Board of Education agreed to seek state approval for borrowing $128,239 on short term notes against anticipated state aid.

The operating funds will be needed not later than November 12, according to Hagen, and $70,000 will be repaid within 19 days. Another $40,000 is scheduled to be retired within 49 days, he said.

Hagen said the board's action marks the first time in years the district has waited this long to borrow money for operating and that the funds sought are less than in recent years.

The board ratified the master agreement with the Lowell Education which calls for salary increases ranging from about seven percent to slightly over eight percent.

New minimums established for BA degreed teachers are a base of $7,500 (up from $7,000) and MA degreed teachers a base of $8,100 (up from $7,600). Maximum for BA degreed is $11,400 (from $10,500) and the MA degreed maximum is $12,312 (from $11,400).

Board members heard from several students on the district's dress code, which Hagen classifies as "neither stringent nor liberal." A committee of students, teachers, administrators and board members will meet to establish possible code changes.

Acting on the request of a parent, the board appointed Gould Rivette to meet with Valley Vista residents to outline board policy and limitations on transportation of students from that area.

Bids were taken for snow removal and bus fleet insurance and referred to their respective committees with power to act.

FH School Count Set at 4,293

According to Robert Masten, superintendent of the Forest Hills School District, something is affecting the school enrollment, but whether it is the use of the pill or whether it has to do with the slow-down in the housing rate, he has not been able to determine as yet.

Although a dropping off in the birth rate would account for a smaller enrollment in most urban schools and certainly in the lower elementary grades anywhere, according to Masten this problem does not affect the Forest Hills district as much as the slower trend in house building. His reasoning is that the district's growth is from families already established who move in after their children have reached school age.

The school board expected 4,350 students to enroll this year, but budgeted at 4,330. However, the September 25 count, which is the official number used in the state aid disbursements, was only 4,293.

The board had projected the high school enrollment to be 1,325, the junior high to be 750, and the elementary 2,275. Since the high school and junior high figures came in at exactly the enrollment planned, the deficit was in the elementary population which now stands at 2,218.

"I suspect that we will find a fewer number in the grades three to six than we had expected," said Masten. "We know, however, that we gain an average of two hundred students a year and will for the next few years at least."

Urban schools, he explained, lose their population as families move to the suburbs and as this area seems to be one of the fastest growing districts in the county, more students can be expected.

Honor Student for Showing in Nationals

A Letter of Commendation honoring him for his high performance on the 1970 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (NMQT) will be awarded to David Blanding, a student at Lowell High School, Principal Donald Kelly has announced. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Blanding of R.R. 2, Lowell.

He is among 35,000 students in the United States who scored in the upper two percent of those who are expected to graduate from high school in 1971. The commended student ranks just below the 14,750 semifinalists announced in September by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC).

GOP Control Seen by Buth

State Representative Martin D. Buth (R-Croston Park) has expressed optimism on chances for Republican control of the Michigan House of Representatives in 1971.

The Assistant House Republican Leader now seeking his seventh term, Buth cited several reasons for his hopeful outlook. He is impressed with key candidates as highly-qualified and hard-working individuals.

Viet Letters from Students at Lowell HS

Students of Lowell High School are participating in a letter-writing campaign to wounded servicemen in Vietnam.

Michael Clark, a teacher at the high school and organizer of the campaign, stated "that a college friend now in Vietnam" brought the need of such letters to his attention.

"I acquired addresses from the Red Cross and posted them in my room. The students took it from there and from 100-150 students are now participating," he said.

"We are now anxiously awaiting our first return letter."

UF Drive Chairmen Now Busy

Many volunteer workers in the Lowell-Ada-Cascade area are directing their energies this month towards reaching the Kent County United Fund campaign goal, $2,300,000. Lowell's share of the total goal is $8,800; Cascade's share is $7,483; and Ada's share is $11,678.

Active in the residential division of the fund drive are: Mrs. Edward Jackobice, 7151 Driftwood, S.E., Ada, chairman of the Ada Township area; Mrs. Richard Hubbard, 6176 Capitone Dr., S.E., Cascade, chairman of the Cascade Township area; Donald McPherson, 1276 Parnell Ave., Lowell, chairman of the Vergennes area; and Mrs. Jake Callier, 515 Hudson St., Lowell, chairman of the Lowell area.

Residents working in the neighborhood business division of the '70 campaign are:

Herbert M. Reynolds, 604 N. Hudson, Lowell area chairman; and David Decker, director of kids program at Calvin College, Ada area chairman.

Volunteer workers on the United Fund drive come from all walks of life and serve in many capacities. Volunteer fund-raising is not easy, but the campaign workers are dedicated, hard-working people who know that the money raised is used efficiently and effectively for services to help people help themselves. Attorneys, accountants, and executives volunteer their expertise on many committees such as accountability of funds, budget requests from the 66 member agencies and allocation of funds.

The first general report luncheon for workers will be held at noon this Thursday, October 15, at Mr. President Motor Inn.

List State Aid

State aid payments in the amount of $195,860 for Lowell Area Schools, $135,850 for Caledonia Community Schools and $92,540 for Saranac Community Schools have been forwarded by the State Department of Education.

The list of payments was made available to State Representative Stanley Powell of Ionia.

Lowell Youngster Selected Kent's CF 'Poster Girl'

Volunteers to assist in the fight against cystic fibrosis, a lung and digestive disease that is prevalent among children, are needed for this area's first fund-raising campaign.

Mrs. Larry (Kay) Keiser of 357 Donna, Lowell, whose 14-month-old daughter Kelly Kay is this year's Kent County "poster girl" will meet with volunteers informally to go over campaign details at her home next Sunday, October 18, at 7 p.m.

A door-to-door solicitation is planned in Lowell during next week, October 19-24. Canisters will be placed in local stores.

Due to intensive research and improved treatment, many youngsters afflicted with cystic fibrosis now are able to grow into their teens with a minimum of lung damage caused by CF.

Because little Kelly was fortunate to have been diagnosed early, Mrs. Keiser reports, she has been able to receive proper treatment that offers hope for her future.

Kelly requires daily medication, physical therapy three times daily to clear lung congestion and she is confined, while sleeping, in a special tent into which a compressor pumps water in mist form. The latter is installed in the Keiser home.

the former Laura Buck of Lowell and the father of six children: Rev. Ervin Basler of Columbus Neb.; Evelyn Hillsburg of Dearborn Heights; Goldie Freeman and Doris Whitaker, both of Garden Grove, William of Montague, Mich., and Vern of Grand Rapids. After leaving the farm, he moved to Lowell where he worked for King Milling and later took a position with Frank McMahon which entailed running of the pumping station north of Lowell. Following that he moved to Ann Arbor where he worked for the Hoover Ball Bearing Co. until his retirement.

MRS. EDITH GHERING

Word has been received of the death at age 94 of Mrs. Edith Ghering, who was born near Lowell on September 7, 1876, where she spent her early years. Mrs. Ghering passed away in Traverse City after a lengthy illness. She had resided in that area since 1905.

MARIE HOWELL CLANCY

Last Friday at Butterworth Hospital, Marie Howell Clancy, 77, died following a long illness. Mrs. Clancy was a member of a pioneer family of Ada. Her grandfather, Hezekiah Howell, established his residence there in 1834 and helped in the development of the village. His brother, Theodore, was a founder of the Ada Congregational Church and one of its first deacons. Mrs. Clancy's son, Fred, is the present supervisor of Ada Township.

Oberlin Captures Third in Harrier Invitational

Zeeland emerged a whisker-thin victor over Northview in the annual Lowell High Invitational Cross Country meet held at Fallsburg Park.

The champions, led by individual winner Terry Verplanck with a time of 10:06 over the two-mile test, produced the low score of 102. Northview was a mere point behind.

Lowell was 11th in the 17-school field, but produced one of the meet's standouts when Mike Oberlin came across the finish line in 10:16, good for third place.

Forest Hills' up-and-coming harriers did not place a man in the top 10, but the Rangers put together a solid team effort to capture third place with 142 points.

Belding was the only Tri-River Conference team in the event and the Redskins finished in 12th place with 273 points.

Meet director Bob Perry of Lowell High said the invitational was one of the finest ever held on the Fallsburg course.

CASCADE TOWNSHIP AN ORDINANCE TO IMPOSE CHARGES FOR SANITARY SEWER AND WATER MAIN ENGINEERING SERVICES

WHEREAS, there exists a contract between the Township of Cascade, Kent County, Michigan, and the City of Grand Rapids, covering the installation, maintenance and operation of sanitary sewer and water supply facilities to service certain areas of the township, and

WHEREAS, pursuant to said contract, the city has installed trunk water mains and sewers in the township to serve various areas thereof, and

WHEREAS, the township in the future may permit property owners and plat developers to install local sewers and water mains which become part of the township sewer and water facilities, and

WHEREAS, in such cases the township engineers are required to check, approve and in some cases inspect said installations and charge the costs thereof to the township, and

WHEREAS, the township has no source of revenues to cover said costs other than charging same to such developers and property owners,

THE TOWNSHIP OF CASCADE ORDAINS:

Section 1.

In each and every case where a property owner or developer desires to construct a local sewer and/or watermain, no construction shall be undertaken until the developer or owner has obtained written approval of the plans for such sewer and/or watermain from the township engineers.

Section 2.

Upon receipt of such approval, the developer or property owner shall also be required to secure the approval of the Cascade Township Board, and shall also be required to post a cash deposit in such amount as the said township engineers shall estimate to cover the costs of examination of and approval of plans, and inspection of such sewer or watermain, plus 5% to cover the township's overhead.

Section 3.

Each such developer or owner shall pay the entire cost of such services rendered by the township engineers, in full, prior to making connection of any individual property to said sewer or watermain, and in default thereof the township may pay said sum to the township engineers out of the cash deposit.

Section 4.

That pursuant to the authority given it by law, the Township of Cascade does hereby impose said charge upon any and all sewers and water mains heretofore constructed by developers or owners in Cascade Township, and hereby requires the payment of such charges by any and all such developers and owners.

Section 5.

The Township of Cascade shall have the authority to disconnect any such privately built sewer or water system from the trunk sewer or water system at any time in any case where any developer or owner is in default to the township under this ordinance.

Section 6.

The provisions of this ordinance are hereby declared to be severable, and should any portion hereof be adjudged invalid, such judgment shall have no effect upon the remaining provisions hereof.

Section 7.

In addition to the penalties and remedies of the township above provided in case of violation of this ordinance, any person found guilty of a violation of this ordinance shall be punished by a fine not to exceed $100 or 90 days in jail, or both.

Section 8.

This ordinance shall take effect on the 31st day following publication thereof, and shall be published within 10 days after enactment in the Suburban Life, a newspaper circulating in Cascade Township, Kent County, Michigan.

The foregoing ordinance was offered by Board Member Chadwick, supported by Board Member Dykhouse, the vote being as follows:

Miner L. Cook
Cascade Township Clerk

I hereby certify the foregoing to be a true copy of an ordinance adopted at a (special) meeting of the Cascade Township Board, held on October 12, 1970.

Rain, Fumbles Halt Arrows in Scoreless Tie

Coach Al Rowe will send his Lowell High football forces back into action in the Tri-River Conference this Friday at Cedar Springs in an effort to remain in contention for the loop title.

The Arrows sport a 1-1 conference mark and are 2-1-1 overall following last week's rain-drenched scoreless tie with Grandville.

As so often happens when rain becomes the equalizer, Lowell completely dominated the game... especially the early going... but came away at the end of 48 minutes with only a moral victory in hand.

The Arrows had four great scoring opportunities, one that just missed when a 45-yard drive following an interception by Guard Gordy Kelly went awry at the goal line.

GOOD FOR GAIN - Quarterback Denny DeWitt turns the end for short yardage against Grandville as Lowell High's football team battled to a scoreless tie in the rain. He picked up a key block from Bernie Harden (22) while Tom Wernet (51) and Gordon Kelly (68) rush over to help downfield. Garry Hoodewind (44) of Grandville finally made the tackle.

Frustration Mounts for Ranger '11'

There isn't much doubt that the 1970 season has been a frustrating one for Coach Frank Rosengren and his coaching aides at Forest Hills High.

The Rangers will be seeking their first victory in five starts when they meet Grandville this Friday in the annual homecoming game. Kick-off time is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Forest Hills appeared within grasp of recording its first win of the campaign last Friday only to see West Ottawa score the tying points on a six-year run by Ron Holstine with just 1:34 left on the clock.

That made it 14-14 and West Ottawa put the game on ice with a two-point conversion on a pass from Quarterback Denny Oosterbaan to Bill VandenBerg.

Rangers Score Two X-Country Triumphs

Following two wins last week against Grandville and Godwin, the Forest Hills High cross country team now stands at 3-2 in the O-K Red Division.

Jerry Saswedal proved himself fastest man on the team in both meets finishing with a 13:57 in the Grandville race. The final score was 23-26. John Rose, Rick Troll, Jim Venekase, and Bill Kenan finished behind Saswedal in that order.

The Godwin match ended in a 15-50 score with the Rangers having the first ten men across the finish line. It was Saswedal, Rose, Kenan, Troll and Jim Grochowalski respectively.

Dirk Van Westreien may be able to return to his team in time for the Kentwood meet this Thursday, October 15, if he has sufficiently recovered from his leg injuries, according to Coach Larry Wilson.

Letters to the Editor

To The Editor:

I was pleased to read in your October 7th issue of the Suburban Life that the Amway Corporation is finally able to announce that they are now doing their part in preserving and improving upon the local environment. They should be commended for their gesture in sponsoring the Boy Scout-Explorer Group which will specialize in ecological studies and activities.

I was somewhat intrigued however, by Mr. Teachout's (Amway's Public Relations specialist) statement that Amway's actions in regard to their future sewage disposal plant were "voluntary" and were put into effect without any prodding by governmental agencies. How does Mr. Teachout define the word voluntary?

Can Amway's recent action be considered "voluntary" in light of the fact that a large group of neighboring homeowners have been trying to get Amway to do something about their inadequate waste disposal facilities for more than four years?

Can it be considered "voluntary" in light of the fact that just seven days ago a new state law was put into effect that would allow any private citizen being offended by Amway's polluting effects to sue the company in the place of the various state environmental commissions who couldn't find the time or the courage to prosecute Amway.

Can it be considered "voluntary" in light of Amway's growing realization that the rising tide of private environmental action groups are beginning to convince politicians, business leaders and uncaring private citizens that they mean business. This movement is no longer just a fad, it is becoming a meaningful and powerful political force.

I will be the first to congratulate Amway when it has actually eliminated its air, water and noise polluting activities. But let's not be so quick in "complimenting the man who has decided to stop beating his wife."

Yours truly,
Stephen B. Graves

Halfback Pete Olson carried for 36 of the yards on five plays with time running out in the half, including a 12-yard off-tackle sprint to the one-yard line. But Olson fumbled just before reaching the end zone on the next play and Grandville took over the ball.

Seconds later, a Denny DeWitt pass, one of the few tried in the soggy weather, was intercepted by Grandville's Tom DenBrink and only a miraculous chase by Kelly managed to stop the fleet little back on the Lowell seven-yard line as time ran out.

That sprint and a bad pass on punt formation that DeWitt grabbed before being dropped on his own 17, marked Grandville's only invasions of Red Arrow territory. Grandville eventually reached the two, but was stopped on a goal line stand.

Lowell put together three rushing first downs and a pair of key advances by penalty to eat up almost eight minutes of the opening quarter before stalling on the Grandville 12.

Early in the second quarter, the Arrows were knocking on the door again, but Grandville's defense stiffened and held off the drive on the 14 where a DeWitt aerial missed the mark in the end zone.

Midway through the final stanza, Olson and Rick Seese sparked a 32-yard drive to Grandville's 10, but DeWitt was trapped for a five-yard loss in the mud and then failed on three consecutive pass tries.

Statistically, the Arrows held a wide edge, rushing for 11 first downs to four for Grandville and reeling off 172 yards on the ground to only 65 for Grandville.
