Santa's Helpers Fill Christmas Boxes

VOL. 77 NOS. 37 & 38

With Christmas only a few days away, "Operation Santa Claus," an annual event conducted by the Lowell Moose Lodge, went into full swing Friday night.

Santa's helpers, on-the-scene, went to work full force to fill Christmas boxes, arrange toys, and select the candy that will be distributed to over 100 families in the Lowell and surrounding areas in time for Christmas.

Ronald Story Named Ionia Bank President

Ronald Story, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Story of Lowell, was elected president of the Ionia County National Bank last week to fill the position vacated by A. Leo McAlary, who re-

Story joined the Ionia financial institution in October 1957 and was named assistant cashier in January 1962. He was elevated to vice-president and cashier in June 1968 and elected a director in December 1970.

Story was born in Lowell and graduated from Lowell High School, Davenport Institute, the schools of financial public relations at Northwestern University, and the graduate school of banking at the University of Wisconsin.

He has been extremely active in civic affairs, heading many community organizations. In 1967 he was the recipient of the distinguished service award presented by the Ionia Jaycess for outstanding community service. Story is Past Master of Lowell Lodge No. 90 F&AM.

Story and his wife, Margaret, and their four children live in the Forest Glen subdivision of south Ionia.

Christmas Home Decoration Prize Winners Named

First place in the Lowell Christmas Home Decorating Contest was an easy one to pick this year. Earl Maynard, 240 Valley Vista, had such an outstanding display that it stood out from all the others, the judges said.

The Maynard home Christmas scene filled the entire front yard with carefully made figures of the wise men and the crypt scene, Christmas carollers and attractive lighting.

The second prize was awarded to the Lee Keech residence at 804 N. Monroe; the setting of the home with its trees and lighting and a Christmas card seene on the side lawn made a beautiful picture.

Third prize was awarded to the William Cunningham residence at 1505 Laurie Gail Drive for its attractive picture of Santa, the reindeer and a lighted ladder to the roof.

Fourth prize went to the Duane MacDonald residence, 423 N. Hudson, for its lighted tin soldier and snowman in the window, all created by the family. Fifth prize went to the fine well-balanced lighting of the Leonard Jackson residence on Birchwood Court.

Honorable Mention

There are many attractively lighted homes in the community and the judges listed them not in their standing but just as they happened to view them: David Myers, 1270 Laurie Gail, Alfred Duke Thomet, 412 N. Division, George Stahl, 803 Avery, Hugh Young, 722 N. Hudson, Thomas W. Johnson, 201 Donna Dr., Harold Collins, 225 N. Jackson, Mirt Rogers, 318 Avery St., Ernest Collins, 420 Riverside Drive, Keith Sypher, 1216 Laurie Gail.

Prizes for the first five selected will be awarded by the Lowell Light and Power Co.

BULB SNATCHERS AT WORK

Several homeowners have reported having their outdoor lights stolen. This is most frustrating when people put forth the effort to help bring Christmas alive. It must give the culprits a nice warm feeling inside to know they contribute so much to the Yuletide spirit.

Jack Beggs New

Hotpoint Dealer

The new Hotpoint appliance dealer in Lowell is Jack Beggs who opened a new and used appliance outlet at 512 East Main Street under the name Jack's Distributing.

Beggs recently sold his interest in the JRB Agency that he has been associated with here for the past 3 years. He was in the insurance business for 16½ years and still represents some

He spent about 8 years as a claim adjuster and field man.
Active in community affairs, he is presently serving as VicePresident of the Lowell Chamber of Commerce and is a member of the Board of Directors of the Lowell Lions Club.

Jack and his wife, Flo, and 16-year-old son, Tom, reside on North Hudson Street in Lowell. LaVerne (Red) Baker, chairman of the Civic Affairs Committee, said the boxes this year will contain a complete Christmas dinner, plus toys and candy, which have been donated to the project by the members of the club and individual donations

Over 250 children will be the benefactors of this program, which has been a major project of the local club for the past several years; and has made the holiday a more enjoyable one for those who are in receipt of "Operation Santa Claus."

Helping with the project Friday evening were Chairman and Mrs. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Snieder, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Young, Mr. and Mrs. Jim LaDue, Jim Briggs, Bob Smith, Artie Hodge, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Kroll Joyce Gross, Pam Briggs, Bev Hodge, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Linkfield and Mr. and Mrs. Herb Swan.

Arnie's Standard Reports Theft From Station

The Lowell Police Department is presently investigating the theft of approximately $3,000 in checks and cash from the Standard Service Station located at 403 W. Main Street in Lowell

The theft was discovered by Arnold DeLoof, station manager, at 1:30 p.m. on Saturday, December 19. DeLoof told the Lowell officers that the cash and checks had been placed in a metal box, then placed in the safe located at the rear of the service area. The safe was closed but unlocked When DeLoof went to the cash box to cash a check for a customer, he discovered the larceny.

The police are investigating a list of persons who were in the station during the morning hours. The money was apparently stolen while the attendants were servicing cars.

Increase In Accidents

As of the 18th of December, ten property damage and personal injury car accidents have been reported for the month to the Lowell Police Department. Patrolman Al Eckman states that this is a sharp increase over those reported for previous months.

Last Tuesday a local woman was sent to the hospital following an accident that occurred on South Hudson Street near its intersection with Bowes Road.

According to the police report, Maynard Leland Barton of 475 S. Hudson Street, was struck in the rear by a car driven by Thelma Ann Roth of 204 Brook Street. A 'chain-reaction' caused the Roth vehicle to be struck by an automobile driven by Ruth Wood of 875 Hillside Court.

A passenger in the Barton vehicle, Mable Barton, was taken to the hospital complaining of back injuries. She was treated and released. Ruth Wood was treated by a local doctor and released.

Principals Urge Health Programs In Schools

The Kent County Elementary Principal's Association's November meeting was held at Ada Elementary School and was presided over by President Joe Popma of Cascade School. Bob Blett, from the Health Dept., and John Sura, of the Michigan State Police, both called alcoholism our biggest drug abuse problem.

Two prominent public service people, active in the affairs of Kent County, urged elementary school principals to use their influence in instituting systematic health programs in their schools. A critical problem of the day, that of drug use and abuse, should be included in this program.

Officer Sura, who has been directly involved in the teenage drug scene as part of his job for the past few years, summarized the primary reasons for drug use among our young people as curiosity, the fact that the drugs are readily available, and pressures of the peer group. He asked for an informative program, with a trained health educator, so that growing young men and women can make decisions based on accurate facts.

WINTER WEATHER TRIPLE THREAT TO DRIVERS

Holiday traffic, slippery streets and poor visibility combine to create a triple threat to drivers, according to Harry Porter, Jr., Executive Secretary of the National Safety Council's Traffic Conference.

"It is unfortunate—and often tragic—that the upsurge in traffic during the holiday season so often coincides with our worst winter weather," said Porter. "Worse yet, most winter driving accidents are needless—they could be avoided by taking a few simple, common sense pregautions."

a few simple, common-sense precautions."

Getting your car ready for winter weather is the first step, he pointed out. "Half the battle is won when your car is in first-class mechanical condition, particularly those items that affect traction and vision, such as brakes, tires, lights, defroster and windshield wipers.

"For driving on slippery pavements, good tires with good treads are a must. Snow tires are helpful for pulling through snow and studded snow tires are still better for added traction on icy pavements. For severe snow and ice conditions, however, reinforced tire chains are far more effective. Carry them in your trunk and be prepared to use them in deep snow and glare ice,"

To combat the other hazard associated with winter weather—poor visibility—he urged drivers to clear snow and ice from all windows, not only the windshield but the side and rear windows as well. "Good visibility to the side and rear is also essential in today's heavy traffic," he said. "Check your defroster to be sure it is functioning properly, and replace windshield wiper blades if they are streaking or smearing. Be sure your windshield washers have an adequate supply of anti-freeze solution.

"Most important of all," he concluded, "check up on your own winter driving habits. Reduce your speed, increase your following distance, signal your intentions to other traffic well in advance of any maneuvers such as turning, slowing down or changing lanes. Remember that other drivers may not be able to see and maneuver quickly enough to avoid an accident."

GREETINGS FROM THE STAFF

Musings by Jane

Christmas time — the season of light and the season of love dissolve into a season of groans heard throughout the land when it comes to the 50c gift, the giving of which is a tradition in many clubs, groups and parties at this time of year. This is all fine except that the true meaning and spirit of giving are somehow lost between the department, drug or dime store.

"What can you get for 50c or $1.00 or whatever the stipulation may be, is repeated by the millions as we scurry to shop for something that falls into the right price range. Upon receiving the 50c gift, we may silently or aloud say "I always get the Carndest things!" And the meaning of the symbolic gesture is crushed along with the tissue, tinsel and bows.

"It is not the gift but the sentiment that counts," is an oft repeated phrase – but how many of us really believe it?

The gold, frankincense and myrrh were tokens of the joy and wonder felt by the Three Wise Men as they beheld the miracle that had come to pass. Is it not possible that Mary and Joseph would have been happier with a warmer room and perhaps another blanket or two? But I'll bet Mary didn't say "I always get the darndest things!"

NOTICE

The Lowell Post office will be closed at 1:00 p.m. Thursday, December 24 and stay closed until Monday, December 28th. They will close again on Thursday, December 31 at 1:00 p.m. and be open for business January 2, 1971 as usual according to Postmaster Charles Doyle.

NOTICE

The Ada Post Office will be closed at 1:00 p.m. Thursday, December 24 and stay closed until Monday, December 28th. They will close again on Thursday, December 31 at 1:00 p.m. and be open for business January 2, 1971 as usual, according to Postmaster Milton Hein.

Home Building On The Rise

Home building is on the rise in Ada Township according to Building Inspector Herm Stukkie. In his report to the township board on Monday evening during the regular bi-monthly meeting, Stukkie listed seven permits issued in the previous month of which four were for new dwellings. Other permits were issued for remodeling of structures. The total valuation for all permits was for $114,715.

Fire Chief Stan Osmolenski announced that the new fire truck cab and chassis ordered last summer had arrived and has been sent on to Battle Creek where apparatus will be installed. The completed truck will be returned in July or early August. The fire chief was authorized to contact the Motorola Company regarding the installation of a two-way radio on the truck.

There were four fire runs during the preceding month according to Osmolenski, one of which was an assist to the Lowell Fire Department when a home in Eastgate in the Woods burned.

A request by Dr. C. Allan Payne for approval of a new building plat to be called Forest Glen and to be located on Spaulding Avenue and Alta Dale Road was referred to the Planning Commission by the board. The plat, if approved, will contain seven lots.

A letter from the Kent County Road Commission regarding the speed zone on Ada Drive near the Forest Hills Junior High School indicated that a check by the Sheriff's Department had been made. The present speed is 45 miles per hour which seems to be in order according to the check. There were not enough violations to warrant action to change the rate of speed. Four-foot gravel shoulders were considered adequate; however, a possible change in the entrance and exit useage of the two driveways at the school was recommended.

Pettis Road in front of Chief Hazy Cloud Park was also checked for excessive speed. It was found that 85% of the vehicles traveling that portion of the road was well under the upper speed limit of 65 miles per hour. The Michigan State Police will contact Reith Riley Corporation regarding heavy truck traffic on Pettis Road.

Township Clerk Ken Anderson has been accepting registrations to vote by eighteen year olds who are stopping in his office. Their cards will be filed separately pending the Supreme Court decision regarding voter age limits.

Doyle Resigns As Showboat Head

William S. Doyle offered his resignation as President of Lowell Showboat at their meeting last Tuesday; he has been head of Showboat for the past six years.

Other elected members of the board of directors, James Cook, Keith Caldwell, Barbara Curtis, Mike Doyle, Roger Roberts, Terry Bambrick, Dr. Clark Vredenburg, Larry Wittenbach and Dee Doyle accepted his resignation with regret.

Doyle, in his farewell report to the board, said that Lowell had received over $50,000 in six years advertising and the organization is in better shape financially now than it was when he took over in 1965.

The organization meeting of the board will be held on Thurs[‡] day, January 14, at the Root-Lowell Manufacturing offices. The board voted to send a letter of appreciation to all the many individuals and groups in the community who made the 1970 show such a great success.

Organize For Fallasburg Bridge Centennial In 1971

The newly elected trustees of the Fallasburg Covered Bridge Centennial met for the first time Tuesday, December 15, at the Lowell Chamber of Commerce offices and duly nominated and elected the following officers.

Pres., Clynis Benson; Vice-President, Leonora Tower; Treasurer, Charles Lippert; and Secretary, Gould Rivette.

Other members are Robert Green, Don Kelly and D. A. Mc-Pherson.

Headquarters are being established in the Commerce Office; letterheads are being ordered, and non-profit corporation papers are being processed.

Their next meeting is to be January 7th at which time some 15 committee chairmen will be selected. The dates of the celebration will also be confirmed for either before or after the 4th of July, in order to eliminate conflict with the Lowell Showboat and the 4-H Fair.

Watch future issues of this paper for progress reports and announcement of various activity meetings of this large scale celebration that you might be personally interested in.

This huge celebration is getting off to a good start and the nucleous of this organization is resolved that each step and phase of it will be carried out in the most efficient and profitable manner.

Liters And Meters

Would you believe that the United States government is seriously considering the idea of abandoning the use of the words pints, pounds and feet as units of measurement?

Well, it is! And you may find it necessary to think in terms of liters, meters, and kilograms under the metric system, a decimal system of measures and weights.

The reason for all this is the fact that much of the world uses this system. When Great Britain decided it would switch by 1975, Australia and South Africa followed suit, and Canada intends to do the same. This would leave the United States almost alone in a world that depends on the metric system.

As a result, Congress in 1968 authorized a study of metric conversion problems by a Commerce Department advisory panel, and next August the Secretary of Commerce is expected to recommend the switch to Congress. The only question seems to be whether it will recommend nearly complete conversion in a limited period of time or a gradual change-over.

What's A Fondue?

American snack. It's a hot saucy dish into which pieces of bread are dipped.

The word FONDUE is French, derived from the word "fondre" which means "to melt." Often thought of as a cheese dish, fondue can be comprised of many different ingredients.

The idea is to keep fondue as simple to make as it is to serve. That makes convenient canned meat spreads perfect fondue inciously different, easy for the hostess and a delight for her guests. Serve them as snacks or as a main dish, for parties or a family supper. Everybody will love a meat spread fondue. Fondue Au Diable cups grated Gruyere cheese 1 4½ ounce can deviled ham teaspoons flour 1" French bread cubes

Mix grated cheese with flour. Heat vermouth just until it begins to bubble. Add cheese gradually to vermouth to melt cheese. When all the cheese has been melted, stir in the deviled ham and heat. Place bread cubes on fondue forks and dip into fondue.

Parties, parties everywhere throughout the holiday season. Getting into the spirit isn't hard to do when the weather invites winter sports fans outside and fireside lovers inside.

Starting off with a huge gathering of neighbors, the Mi-chael Lindhouts held sway Saturday night with a cocktail party for one hundred guests. The house was decorated with fresh holly and lemon leaves interspersed with bright, red carnations Garlands of greens were strewn on fireplaces.

Among those who admired the hors d'oeuvres were the Herb Carpenters, the Jordon Shepards, and the Dick VanderVeens. The table's centerpiece was an arrangement of greens with mag nolia leaves and pine cones. Also gathered to chat together were the Jon Forslunds, the George Beniseks, the Bill Haecks, and the Bud Budnicks.

Others attending the warm reception included the Joe Mooneys, the Dick Murleys the Randy Littons and the Dick Solens.

Still others in the merry group who follow the tradition first begun by Betsy Dennison many years ago were the Eugene Loebs, the Neil Weathers, the Bill Carpenters, the Max Sarrets, and the Leon Siekmans.

Jill Haimsworth has invited the girls in her classroom to a "Ho-Ho-Ho" party the day before Christmas. They will sled and play games during the afternoon and eat frankfurters and drink hot chocolate during the early evening.

MRS. KURT ROUDABUSH

Marriage vows were spoken Saturday afternoon, December 19, in the First Baptist Church by Miss Wilma Heyboer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Heyboer, 10676 W. Peck Lake Rd., and Kurt Douglas Roudabush, son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Roudabush, 961 N. Hudson.

The bride was attired in a full length Juliet style velvet gown. White braid and pearls accented the empire waist and stand-up collar, and a circle of fur trimmed the hem of the gown. A white velvet rose headpiece secured the elbow length illusion veil and a velvet train flowed from the shoulders.

The bridal attendants wore wine colored velvet gowns with eadpieces of ribbon centered with a rose. Serving as matron of honor was Marie Bird, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Sherry Kelley of Lowell, Miss Jean Heyboer of Kentwood, cousin of the bride, and Miss Susan Wilgenhof of Grand Rapids. Assisting as best man was Roger MacNaughton of Lowell.

Groomsmen were Joel Roudabush, cousin of the groom, Paul

Goodwin of Grand Rapids and John Ams of Detroit. Seating the guests were Sam Roudabush, cousin of the groom, and Basil Bird.

Following the ceremony, a wedding dinner was held in the Education Building of the First United Methodist Church with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Heyboer, Jr., of Dorr, Mich., acting as Master and Mistress of Ceremonies. The newlyweds will reside in San Diego, California.

"A good skid can be an invaluable part of driver education," says Prof. Amos E. Neyhart, Director Emeritus of the Institute

"Lest anyone draw the wrong conclusion, I am referring, of course, to planned skids under carefully controlled conditions and accompanied by an experienced teacher," he hastily added.

Prof. Neyhart was reporting on the annual "Skid School" conducted by the National Safety Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards on a glare ice course at Stevens Point, Wis.

"Each year this unique program provides a rare opportunity to some 60 high-school and college driver education teachers to develop the specialized skills needed to control skids on slip-

"Unfortunately, most drivers never have the opportunity of practicing skid control until faced with a real-life emergency situation on the highway," Prof. Neyhart noted. "By building a small cadre of teachers who have perfected these techniques,

TOWING WITH SNOWMOBILES

Since sleigh passengers are usually children, it's particularly im-portant to practice safety when towing, warn Mercury snowmobile ose a rigid tow oar, rather than a chain or rope, when towing a sleigh. If you don't, and have to stop suddenly, the sleigh will run into the back of the snowmobile. The rigid tow bar will also afford better control on turns. If you're towing a sleighfull of children or a skier, ask someone to ride on the snowmobile with you to act as observer. This is a necessary precaution because the noise of your snowmobile engine may drown out shouts from the persons being

When towing, pay particular attention to avoiding ditches, rocks and bushes. Drive more slowly and defensively too. Only an experienced skier should take a tow from a snowmobile. This activity, called "ski-joring," should be done only in areas free of obstructions; an open pasture or a golf course would be suitable. KNOW YOUR MACHINE

Knowing the capabilities of your snowmobile is second only in importance to knowing your own capabilities as far as snowmobile safety is concerned. NOT reading the owner's guide which comes with the machine. It not only tells you how to maintain it (which relates to safety), but usually offers valuable advice on how to operate it safely, say the Develop the habit of checking out your brake and throttle before you begin riding your snowmobile. It's possible that your throttle might stick due to freezing water. If this should happen to you while underway, don't panic - just turn off the ignition and the machine will come to a safe stop. Make sure all your lights - front and rear - are function properly. Carry some spare parts such as a starter rope, drive belt, spark plugs and basic tools. A minimum complement of tools would include an adjustable wrench, screwdriver, pliers and a spark plug

You'd think that close attention to the matter of fuel would be so obvious that it wouldn't be worth mentioning. However, snow-mobilers run out of gas with monotonous regularity. When it happens to you in your car it's usually just embarrassing. Running out of gas in the woods is another matter, because there won't be any long-suffering highway patrolman along to lend a hand. Make sure you have a full tank and take along an extra tank if you're planning a long trip.

SNOWMOBILING AT NIGHT

"The moon on the breast of the new-fallen snow gave a luster of midday to objects below." Thus did poet Clement Moore capture some of the sparkling magic of a winter night in his children's classic, A Visit from St. Nicholas.

Snowmobiling has enabled countless people to sample the wonder of a winter evening in the woods for the first time. Many of the But special precautions are necessary to ensure that enjoyment doesn't turn to tragedy, warn snowmobile experts at Kiekhaefer

Arrow Grapplers Win S. Haven Tourney

By BROOKE JOHNSON

The past week's wrestling matches held several surprises for both the Arrow team and its followers. The first came when the Arrows' 22 consecutive win streak was halted by Muskegon Catholic Central last Thursday night.

The second surprise, a more pleasant one came when the Lowell matmen defeated seven other teams, several of them Class A in the South Haven Invitational Tournament Saturday at South Haven.

The Arrows also won over Cedar Springs 36-13 in their only conference match of the week last Wednesday night.

Lowell Vs. Cedar

The Arrows started by receiving 10 points by forfeit of Cedar's 98 and 105 weight division. Three Arrow pins followed. They were by Dale Dawson, 98 lbs; Jim Richards, 126 lbs; Pete Porritt, 138 lbs. The outstanding wrestler was Gordon Kelly, who went up against Chris Reyburn who last year placed 2nd in State and lost 9-5.

Lowell Vs. Muskegon Catholic Central

In the Muskegon Catholic Central match there was only one pin by Dave Wisner, HWT. Two other Lowell men won. They were Jim Richard, 126 lb. (chosen outstanding wrestler of the match) and Tom Rasch, 155 lb.

South Haven Tournament

Two Lowell grapplers took first place in their division. They were Kurt Inman wrestling at 119 and Tom Rasch, 155, who won his final match by pin.

Taking second place were Jim Richard, 126 lb. and Paul

Placing third were Dale Dawson, 98, Steve Newell, 112 lbs.; Craig Haybarker, 132 lbs.; Perry Beachum, 145 lbs.; Gordon Kelly, 167 lbs.; and Dave Wisner, Heavyweight.

Cagers Drop 2 Games

By BROOKE JOHNSON

The Lowell Red Arrow Cagers dropped two games this week, the first to non-conference Grandville 74-71 last Tuesday night. The loss came in the final seconds of the game when Grandville scored on several foul shots.

The second defeat came at the hands of last year's cochamps, Cedar Springs 103-77.

The Grandville game began with the Arrows leading 25-25 at the first quarter mark. Denny DeWitt picked up 10 of his 28 game high points in the first quarter alone.

Pete Olson scored 8 points in the second quarter with some fine shooting from the key. DeWitt picked off a large number of rebounds against the taller Grandville forwards. The Arrows retired at halftime leading 50-38.

DeWitt sparked the Arrows in the third quarter with six points and several rebounds. Mike Oberlin followed with five

Fouls were abundant throughout the third quarter for both teams, but the Arrows were still ahead 63-58 at the end of the

The Grandville team put on their devastating rally in the 4th quarter as they came on and overtook the Arrows with under a minute left. With 31 seconds left, forward Joe Rinard tied up the score 71-71. The Grandville team added three more points on foul shots in the remaining seconds.

Lowell Vs. Cedar Springs

The Arrows finally got a chance at a team with evenly matched height but then were unable to keep up with the Cedar team later in the game.

DeWitt was the high scorer with 28 points, followed by Denny Kissinger with 18.

Forward Joe Rinard captured most of the Arrow's rebounds during the game and he also chucked in 13 points. Cedar began pulling away during the second quarter, picking up many points from Arrow fouls forced by a Cedar Springs press.

The fourth quarter score was 103-77 despite a fine defensive attempt on the Arrows part.

Rangers Drop Two, at Home December 29

In a basketball game that was tied up seven times and went into overtime, the Forest Hills Rangers came out on the losing end to West Ottawa 62-55.

The final loss came as five Rangers were benched on fouls, leaving only Scott Voshaw as a scorer. He made thirteen out of 28 free throws on conversions and Rick Wagenaar made

The Junior Varsity team played to a 61-55 loss, even though statistics showed they outscored their opponents in field goals, making 24 to West Ottawa's 21.

The Freshman squad, which is now 2-0 for the season, won their encounter 52-20. The team is the defending league champwith the potential to repeat. High scorer was Bill Wagner with

Grandville Game

In the game against Grandville, the Ranger's Varsity squad played its best game of the season according to their coach Larry Wilson. The second and fourth quarters were especially outstanding.

Although the Rangers lost to their opponents 78-74, Ron VanderBaan dumped in 22 points from the floor and Al Heneveld made 15 tallies after coming off the bench. He was 9 for 9

In the rebounding department, Dirk Van Westrienen made 12 towards the Rangers efforts.

The score at the end of the first quarter was 13-7 and at halftime 34-29. Going into the last quarter it was 48-53. According to Wilson, the biggest problem for Forest Hills was Grandville's pickup of speed on scoring in the second half, while the Rangers slowed down considerably in the third quarter. The next basketball game will be on the Ranger's home court December 29, against the league-leaders, East Grand Rap-

Forest Hills Wrestlers Win Trophy

Members of the Forest Hills High School wrestling team arrived home Saturday evening with a large trophy signifying a 2nd place victory.

The squad won its honors in a huge 13-school invitational match hosted by East Grand Rapids High School.

First place went to Lansing Evart High School whose team piled up 94 points. The second place honors were shared by Forest Hills and Mona Shores with each team racking up 54 p

Three Rangers were declared champions in their weight groups after winning four straight matches. They were Tom Sykien, George McCarger, Steve Shuster. John Price advanced to the finals where he lost to Jim Greenhoe of Lansing Evart. Mark Kelley collected two points before being eliminated in
