ALONG MAIN STREET

There's much activity along Main Street, as the business places make final preparations for the two big week ends of the 1971 Lowell Showboat.

On East Main Street, Ball Floral Shop sports a new paint job, and the newly opened Star Furniture Company has paved their parking lot and restored more window space for their displays.

Along Main Street West, the Lowell Cafe's windows sport new fresh crisp curtains to compliment their New Orleans decor that should be completed by Showboat time, and the Lowell Chamber of Commerce Building has on display all the products manufactured in Lowell.

The street-side floral gardens maintained by the service stations along Main Street are in full bloom, and add a touch of color to the busy thoroughfare.

Petunias, zinnias, green foliage, and shrubbery are the plants now in season, and being used by the station's owners to spruce up their drive-in areas.

A representative of the U. S. Army will be the Lowell City Hall from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m. on Monday and Thursdays to recruit new enlistees into the service.

Those enlisting, can fulfill their military obligations while touring the world, or attend a school of their choice if they qualify. With a three-year enlistment, the Army offers a guarantee that your duties will take you to Germany, Alaska, Hawaii or the Panama.

Not too much rapidly is being shown as workmen continue to demolish the old Masonic Building on East Main Street, which housed the Dolphin Restaurant and Zzano's Pizza at the time of its third floor collapse.

Most of the work is being done by manual labor, to insure the safety of adjoining properties.

A new business office has been opened at the Mobil Bulk Storage plant on Ottawa Street, following the purchase of the Store & Thorne Mobile Division of J. P. Burroughs and Sons, Inc., by Russ Jensen.

In changing the company's name to Petroleum Suppliers, Jensen says "only the name has changed, we will continue to offer that good Mobil Service, on fuel oil, gasoline, and lubricants for the auto, home farm and industry."

Everyone says the trouble with people nowadays is they don't communicate enough with one another. So where are we? Your phone is probably tapped; it now costs eight cents to mail a letter; and if you started sending up smoke signals, they'd arrest you for violating the anti-pollution laws!

Valenti Newest Intern

In no time at all, three interns in Rep. Gerald R. Ford's Washington office have become thoroughly infected with "Potomac fever."

The trio—Barbara Valenti, George F. Zeff and William E. Jagger—have fallen in love with the Washington scene and are making the most of their stay in the Nation's capital.

Barbara, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David A. Valenti of 4178 Baywood Drive S.E., is the newest of the interns. She will be a junior at Stanford University this fall, majoring in French and history. During her tenure in Washington, she hopes to explore the opportunities a language major may have in government service.

Zeff, a son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Zeff of 1033 Hoyt S.E., is a graduate of Grand Valley State College. He received a degree in political science last June. George plans to go to law school after working for a year to gather together more college money.

Jagger is a prospective theological student. A son of Mr. and Mrs. Orval G. Jagger of 304 South Front, Belding, Bill is a junior at Michigan State University. He is majoring in ethnic and religious inter-group relations.

Asked why she wanted to intern in Ford's office, Barbara said: "Although I am a French and history major, I have always been interested in political science and government. First-hand experience with government is best. It is difficult to get it out of a textbook."

Zeff said he is seeking "better knowledge of how government works from a practical point of view."

Jagger described his stay in Washington as a period of intellectual and political growth and said he is "benefiting immensely" from the experience.

Register 18-Year-Olds Is Campaign Target

Getting 18-year-olds registered to vote will be the target of a week-long campaign in August by the League of Women Voters of Grand Rapids.

League members, working with the City Clerk's office, will be deputized by Rawson Weaver, city clerk, and will man registration booths spotted around the city August 10 through 20.

The campaign will focus on the newly enfranchised citizens prior to the Sept. 21 special election on the Grand Rapids city charter.

August 20 is deadline for registration, following election laws, which close registration 30 days prior to a general election, says Mrs. Victor Smedstad, voters service chairman of the League.

In town Wednesday to review advance plans, Mrs. Marvin Tomber, Okemos, newly elected state League president, will meet with local League members at conferences in the morning. She will also attend the League's board meeting that afternoon.

Mrs. Robert Mumford, president of the Grand Rapids League, said location of the registration booths will be announced at a later date.

School Board Agenda

The Lowell Area School Board will meet Tuesday evening, July 27 at the senior high school at 7:30 p.m.

The agenda for the meeting includes: building site for new school; 1971-72 bus transportation routes; school bond sale date; and the school board committee assignments.

New Post Commander

Sybrant Dykhouse, Immediate Past Commander of McDonald-Osmer Post 451, American Legion, Cascade, announced this week that a slate of newly elected officers have been named.

Taking over the command of the Post at installation services on July 15 was Ken Wilcox, with Vern Ellinger serving as vice-commander.

Also installed at the ceremonies held at the Post's home on 52nd Street at Whitneyville Road was Lyle Dykhuizen, jr., finance officer; Al Heemstra, Chaplain; Bob Warners, Historian.

Jeff Wilcox will serve the Post as sergeant-at-arms, and John B. Wood, jr., will be the adjutant.

Interrupt Airline Flights At Kent County Airport

In order to accomplish a $4 million lengthening and extension project, the main runway of the Kent County Airport will be closed for the period from July 26 through August 15, 1971. During this period, all United Airlines and North Central Airlines flights will be transferred to the Muskegon Airport with Allegheny Airlines flights being transferred to the South Bend, Indiana Airport.

Private and Corporate aircraft, air taxis and the commuter airline, Air Michigan, will continue to operate on the Kent County Airport secondary runway. The restaurant and other Airport services and facilities will also be continued during the main close-down.

The Kent County Aeronautics Board regrets this three week inconvenience but must take these steps to assure the utmost in air safety while improvements that will provide greater air service for the community are being accomplished.

Showboat Garden Club Seeks Show Entries

There are still lots of schedules for those of you who would like to enter the Lowell Showboat Garden Club flower show being held on July 30 and 31 at the Runciman Elementary All-Purpose Room.

All flowers and plants can be entered either Thursday evening, July 29, between 7 and 9 or Friday morning July 30 between 9 and 11:30. The judging will be done on Friday between 12:30 and 4. The flowers will then be open for public viewing from 4 until 9 p.m. on Friday and from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. on Saturday.

There will be ribbons for all classes and special awards in several of the artistic arrangement classes. The special awards offered are Tricolor, Award of Distinction and Award of Creativity.

The Tricolor shall be represented by blue, red and yellow ribbons combined. To be eligible for this award the exhibit must consist of all fresh plant material. No accessories are permitted.

The Award of Distinction shall be represented by a brown rosette with gold lettering on the ribbon. To be eligible for this award the exhibit must consist of all dried material. No fresh material is permitted. The material used may be naturally dried, treated, or dried tinted material or any combination of these dried materials. No accessories are permitted in this class also.

The Creativity Award is represented by a purple rosette with ribbons attached. To be eligible for this award the exhibit must include some plant material, fresh and/or dried. Artificial flowers and foliage will not be permitted by accessories may be used. Any type of arrangement is acceptable unless otherwise stated in the schedule.

To be eligible for any of these awards however, the exhibit must be a blue ribbon winner with a score of at least 95 points. Also there must be a minimum of three classes with four entries in each or at least a total of twelve entries. We'd like to see lots of entries in all the classes so that someone may go home with a special award.

At the end of the show the Lowell Showboat Garden Club will give two Sweepstake Awards, one in the Horticulture Division and one in the Artistic Arrangement Division. These awards are represented by a rosette ribbon in green and white. They are given to the exhibitor with the greatest number of blue ribbons. In the event on a tie, the red ribbons of the tying exhibitors will be counted to break the tie.

If you'd like to take home this award be sure to enter as many classes as you can.

Showboat Starts Thursday

Everly Brothers Open First Week-end Show

The Everly Brothers, Don and Phil, will capture the spotlight Thursday night, July 22, when the 1971 Lowell Showboat docks at their riverside stadium for the 39th edition of the Showboat's annual variety show.

The colorful craft, which is designed to resemble a double-side-wheeler riverboat of the early 1900's starts its move down the Flat River to the tune of "Here Comes the Showboat" about 8:15. Showtime is 8:30.

The Everly Brothers will appear Thursday, Friday and Saturday, July 22-24. They have been singing professionally for a quarter of a century, starting when their parents were radio entertainers.

The talented duo were known at first as top country-western singers, but have altered their styles to include a more varied delivery. Their first big hit "Bye, Bye Love" was recorded in 1950. Since then such great songs as "Wake Up Little Susie," "All I Have To Do Is Dream," "Till I Kissed You," "Cathy's Clown," and "Walk Right Back," have earned them gold records.

Besides having appeared on all the top television shows, they had their own television show last summer when they replaced The Johnny Cash show, and have toured every state in the union and most of the countries of the world.

The Showboat, a community project, uses their yearly proceeds to promote Lowell community projects.

Featured the second week end (July 29-31) will be singer-composer Ray Stevens.

All seats to the "minstrel show under the stars" are reserved, and can be secured at the Showboat ticket office on East Main Street.

SHOWBOAT WHISTLE TOOTS

Rain, Rain, Rain go away... this was the thought of the Showboat Amateur entertainers as their performance at the Grand Haven Arts Festival in Grand Haven was cut to ½ hour Friday night.

The twelve winning acts were accompanied to the Lowell Showboat Preview by Showboat royalty, Miss Pam Murray, queen, and Miss Patti Curtis and Miss Mary Lou Holmes, court representatives.

The Grand Haven show was jointly sponsored by Lowell Showboat Corporation, the Grand Haven Chamber of Commerce, and the Lowell Lions Club.

- Toot -

Republican Congressman Gerald R. Ford will attend the opening performance on Thursday night, as the Showboat hosts Republican Night.

Other special nights established by Vincent McCambridge and his committee include Veteran's Night, July 23; Mayor's Night, July 24; Service Club Night, July 30; and Travel Trailer Night, July 31.

- Toot -

A pre-show dress rehearsal for the local and amateur entertainers will be held Wednesday night on the Showboat stage at 7:30.

- Toot -

A Dixieland band headed by Max Barnes of Grand Rapids, the Gordon Raynor dancers, the Showboat Chorus under the direction of Paul Balaam, the familiar endmen, community talent, and Interlocutor Gordon Gould will all be part of the 1971 show.

- Toot -

Grand Rapids attorney, John Twomey, who calls himself "A Muralist," will be a nightly feature of the show on the two week ends.

Without any mechanical devices, Twomey will entertain Showboat goers with several musical renditions played on his hands only.

- Toot -

West Michigan Sound Company of Muskegon invaded the Showboat stadium Monday afternoon where they installed the sound system for the show.

Tony Bancroft and his committee have also completed the installation of the electrical wiring for the stage, after a new paint job was dried.

- Toot -

The Showboat's queen, Miss Pamela Murray, was scheduled to make two television appearances prior to the Showboat's opening night. Monday she was a guest on the Buck Matthews' early morning show, and Tuesday, it was off to Lansing for a promotional appearance.

- Toot -

The Everly Brothers, Don and Phil, are both scheduled to arrive at the Kent County Airport sometime on Thursday. Their arrival time remains indefinite, as one will be coming in from Chicago, and the other from New York.

- Toot -

As much confusion will be predominate with the arrival of Ray Stevens as the Kent County Airport will be closed to incoming flights on the 29th. Where Stevens will finally make his Michigan landing is yet to be determined.

The "Famous Chair"

The first chair used by a Showboat interlocutor in 1932, is still being used in the office of the Lowell Ledger.

The chair, recalls Harold F. Jefferies, publisher, was taken from the furniture company, and belonged to Jerry Cook, who then ran the factory. Mr. Cook was the father of George Cook, our local attorney.

Jefferies father, former editor and publisher of the Ledger, the late Remick Jefferies, was a close friend of Mr. Cook. So when the big performance was over 39 years ago, the clean-up crew mistakenly delivered the chair to the Ledger office.

Mr. Jefferies refused to return it at that time, and his friends had a lot of fun joking about the "famous" chair.

Jefferies, who serves the City of Lowell as its Mayor, recalls that his father eventually paid Mr. Cook for the privilege of keeping the historic piece, and it is still being used by the present office staff.

'Here Comes The Showboat'

The happy and rousing shout "Here Comes the Showboat" will echo across the scenic Flat River where it wanders through this pleasant, prosperous town of Lowell.

For the 39th year, the colorful craft that floats on 120 barrels, with a battery of outboard motors pushing her, will sail down the river on two week end performances to dock before audiences.

From opening night, July 22, when the Robert E. Lee docks at 8:30 in front of the stands, until July 31, the last performance for the cast of both amateur and professional entertainers—some 35,000 persons will have been in on the fun.

Started as a community project in the depression years, the Lowell Showboat has been roll, roll, rolling along at a brisk and busy clip through a lighthearted history.

The formula of success is part luck, a lot of hard work by just about everyone in town, the trick of blending top-notch professional stars with the talented homefolks.

The Showboat is billed as a "minstrel show under the stars." It's really more than that. It's a mixture of nostalgia, rock 'n roll, youth, and the young at heart.

The Showboat is a place where businessmen, farmers, housewives, school kids join the big names of television for a program of solid entertainment.

For the imported talent, it's a chance to work your heart out—and love it—before audiences that won't let you give up. It's also a week to relax, swim, walk quiet streets away from the bustle of the big time, become part of a small town.

Professional entertainers booked for the two week end performances this year are "The Everly Brothers," Don and Phil, who will greet the awaiting audiences July 22-24, and Ray Stevens who will perform July 29-31.

As frosting on the entertainment cake, the Showboat program includes a quick-witted interlocutor, minstrel endmen, a gala chorus, a chorus line and amateur talent.

Pictured above is Mrs. Bev Holst (Decorator Dora) and several members of the YMCA Jr. Hi-Y and Gra-Y Clubs as they put on the finishing touches on this year's Lowell Showboat.

Several hours have been donated by this 'crew' in order to make this month's presentation a success.

SIXTY-FIVE YEARS OF EXPERIENCE

Sixty-five years of experience singing, by-playing, doing comedy routines, and ad-libbing to help make the entertainment of the Lowell Showboat move right along, is a product of this year's Lowell Showboat endmen.

Being an endman for the Showboat creates tradition for the participants. Forrest Buck, who holds the record of longevity, 36 years as Endman, Interlocutor, and back as being an endman, where he really enjoys himself and can entertain the patrons in a manner and style all his own.

Next on the seniority list is Richard "Dick" McNeal, a ten-year veteran as an endman. Dick is also the man who makes the melodious music pour forth from the Showboat's Caliope, prior to and during Showboat Week.

Joe Vezino, a man of many talents, will be adding his fourth year to the 1971 edition of the Lowell Showboat. Five-year veteran, Curt Chadwick, will add a bit of comedy, here and there, with some new material.

Dennis (or Denny as his fellow endmen call him) Sisson, will be at his familiar endman's spot for the third consecutive year, trying his best to outwit the veterans of the crew.

The sixth man in the endmen lineup, an old newcomer is Loren Wohlford, who enters the show this year out of retirement. Wohlford, who once was a seven-year veteran on the endmen's roster, has rejoined the crew, to help make the 1971 show something to talk about.

An outstanding entertainer, writer and singer is the only label that can possibly be applied to Ray Stevens, who will appear on the second big week end production of the 1971 Lowell Showboat.

His million selling singles such as "Mr. Businessman," "Ahab The Arab," and "Gitarzan," have all become a part of recording history and labeled him as a great lyricist and recording artist.

Stevens' repeated performances on top television shows speak loud for his popularity. Last Saturday night, he appeared as a special guest on the Andy Williams' show.

He will be making his Showboat appearance on July 29-31.

EACH EVENING

No, he's not camera shy, it's just the way the picture was flicked some 25 years ago, as Guy Monks of Lowell, had his mules in full gear, touring Main Street, publicizing the Lowell Showboat.

Guy, who will be 90 years old on July 21, the day before the opening of the 1971 Showboat, still takes an active interest in the community sponsored project.

At his farm home on Grand River Drive, where he has lived the major part of his life, Guy still has a few horses, but his farming activities have been limited due to health reasons.

Very quick-witted, on a humorous note, Guy still loves a "good game of cards," and is at his best when he can rally any opponents around the table for some serious play.

Helping Guy commemorate his 90th year will be his four daughters, Mrs. Lester Antonides, Mrs. Robert Hemingsen and Mrs. Richard Rutherford, all of Lowell, and Mrs. Arnold Fairchild of California.

Not to be left unmentioned are his ten grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren, who will also be wishing "Gramps" a very Happy Birthday, and many more to come.

A card shower on the 21st, will be the community's way of saying "this is your day, Guy, may the best of everything prevail for you in the years ahead."

Paul Mathews hauled tons to a 9 to 3 win over Belding with Steve Adams and Bob Baker leading lona's attack with two hits each.

In Saturday's action, Fawcote came from behind to beat Sheridan 6 to 2. Dave Holmgren the losing pitcher had given up only two hits over the first six innings as he dueled with winning pitcher Bill Werner.

Wolverine Harness Raceway Opens Second Season

Wolverine Harness Raceway opens its second season starting the Championship Mile Track at Livonia on Wednesday, August 4 with every premise pointed toward the greatest season in its long history.

When the Livonia plant went to the mile track for the first time in 1970, many horsemen and fans felt that the full size track would lack the appeal of the more intimate half-mile.

Racewise, the transition was equally healthy as sheer speed became the by-word with no less than 10 two minute miles posted for ever.

The 1971 season at Wolverine has been lengthened by 16 nights and will close October 30. It is anticipated that the longer season will be to the liking of fans and horsemen alike.

Each participant is to bring along his birth certificate and a $5 registration fee. Boys not signed-up during these weigh-ins will not be eligible to play during the 1971 season.

Eighteen Holes Best - Ball

Eighteen holes of "best ball" will be played at the Morrison Lake Golf Club on Thursday, August 5.

An awards dinner (the famous Golf Club barbecue) will be held at 7:30 p.m. that evening.

Additional information can be secured at the Golf Club, located southeast of Lowell, one-half mile south of I-96, or by calling Saranac 642-9528.

Sports

Kentree Match Won By The 'Youngsters'

Despite the two goal handicap given to them by the "youngsters," the "oldsters" started out strong, but faded in the final chukkers to lose the nip-and-tuck action between the two rivals at the Kentree Polo grounds Sunday.

In the second chukker, the score was tied 5-5, and in the 4th, 8-8, but the youngsters put forth a spurge of scoring in the 5th chukker that rewarded them with a final 12-10 victory.

Joey Hill, a member of the Detroit Polo Club, who joined the Kentree youngsters for the annual game, scored four points for the winners.

In trying to divert the ball, Gene Gilmore, playing on the older's squad, made a slip of the mallet and scored a goal for his opponents.

This Sunday, there will be no action at the Kentree Polo Club grounds as the teams will be traveling to the Detroit Polo Club for scheduled play there.

Women Bowlers Will Organize At Meeting

Discussion evolving around the forthcoming bowling season which will get underway the latter part of August will be the topic of a meeting to be held Monday, August 2.

Meeting at the American Legion Bowling Lanes on East Main Street, the Lowell Women's Bowling Association will organize their business procedures for the 1971-72 season.

Open to all women bowlers, who are scheduled to compete in league action, or those who would like to take up membership on team, the meeting will begin at 7 p.m.

According to the league's secretary, Mrs. Katie Lyons, this is an important meeting, and all women bowlers are urged to be in attendance.

To Begin 12th Year Of Service To Pre-schoolers

When the Cascade Christian Day Nursery opens this fall on Tuesday, September 14, it will begin its 12th year of service to the church and community.

Growing in that time from a small handful of children and one teacher to 72 pre-schoolers and three staff members, the Day Nursery is one of the finest in the area.

Mrs. George Herrity, director, has been with the nursery since its inception, with Mrs. Fred Carr and Mrs. John Folkertsma coming in more recent years to assist her.

Only a few vacancies remain for this fall's session, out of a total enrollment of 72; the number the nursery is licensed to accommodate at the site.

If you are interested in sending your mature three or four-year-olds to day nursery in September, delay no longer in contacting Mrs. Herrity at 949-0478.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Worden and family of Lowell departed Tuesday for Cape Kennedy, Florida, where they will witness the July 26 blast-off of Apollo 15.

Superimposed on a photograph of their landing area on the moon, Apollo 15's crew are shown near the Saturn V rocket in which they will blast off from Cape Kennedy on July 26. They are, from left, James B. Irwin, lunar module pilot, Alfred M. Worden, command module pilot, and David R. Scott, mission commander. The arrow pinpoints the landing area near the base of the Apennine Mountains.

Worden's Brother Is On Apollo 15's Crew

Ever wonder what it would be like to take your first flight into outer space, that would eventually land you on the moon? Or what it would be like if a member of your family was to board a moon-bound space craft?

"You read about, hear about it, but the reality of it all is something that builds within you," Pete Worden of Lowell, said Monday as his family prepared for their Tuesday departure to the Florida launching site, where his brother, Alfred, will be a member of the Apollo 15 crew.

Man has walked on the moon in previous moon-flights, but now he's about to drive on it. The trip will only be 22 miles. And in the most expensive automobile ever: $8 million, which boils down to about $36,363 a mile. Apollo 15 will thus be a blend of America's automotive and space technology.

Mission commander David R. Scott, James B. Irwin and Worden will ride America's fourth moon-landing mission, the Saturn 5 toward the moon on July 26. Twelve days later, they hope to return to earth with enough information to enable scientists to draw an age map of 20 percent of the lunar surface.

Some scientists feel the major scientific research on Apollo 15 won't be done on the surface, but in lunar orbit by Worden.

In an equipment bay of the command ship is a package of cameras and scientific experiments designed to chemically and photographically analyze the 20 percent of the surface over which Apollo 15 will fly.

One of the two cameras contains over a mile of film, to take high resolution stereo photos. To retrieve the film, Worden will take a space walk after the astronauts start home—a hand-over-hand trip to the equipment bay 200,000 miles from earth. The space walk is necessary, because the bay is jettisoned before re-entry and does not return to earth with the astronauts.

"My brother's walk in space, should be one of the highlights of his space adventure," Worden replied, "but who can judge until they splash-down on earth again just what phase of the flight will be his greatest encounter."

Blastoff comes at 1:12 p.m. August 2 after 67 hours on the moon's surface, twice the stay time of any previous crew. Link-up with Worden in the orbiting Endeavor is set for 3:04 p.m. For two more days they'll stay in orbit conducting the scientific tasks Worden has been performing while circling alone for three days.

"The role of the lonely command module pilot has changed," Worden said. "He is still the taxi driver waiting for the other two guys to return, but now he must carry out a detailed, precise orbital science mission."

Apollo 15 will shoot out of lunar orbit at 5:18 p.m. August 4, and the next morning Worden will take his space stroll some 40,000 miles from the moon to retrieve the film cassettes from the two cameras.

The astronauts will then settle down for a long homeward trip, with splash down in the Pacific Ocean scheduled at 4:46 on August 7.

"We're just as excited about the landing, as we are the take-off," the Worden family revealed, as their auto trip to Florida will be only a mild endeavor in comparison to the 12-day moon trip.

Medical experts have decided lunar materials pose no hazard, and Apollo 15 will be the first moon landing crew to escape post-flight quarantine. Worden and his two travel companions will be busy for sometime, however, helping scientists study the photographs and the more than 250 pounds of rocks they plan to bring back.

In their pleasant Valley Vista home on Lowell's West side, the Wordens have individual mixed emotions about the forthcoming flight, but they're all extremely proud of Al, and hope that all goes well for him.

Only 39-years-old, Alfred is a Commander in the United States Air Force and will be making his first space trip. He will be the mission's command module pilot.

When July 26 blast-off day arrives, you can bet more Lowell residents will be at their TV seats with renewed interest, and some might even say, "there goes Pete's brother. Good Luck! Our prayers are with you."

If crustal material is found by the Apollo 15 crew, it could date back 4.6 billion years to the beginning of our solar system.
