DIAMOND SPECTACLES,
Silver Plated Spoons and Forks, warranted for 10 years.
STRICTLY ONE PRICE—The only one price Jewelry House in the city.
38 Canal Street, Grand Rapids.
ED. B. DEKMAN.

Claim that they CAN and WILL SELL THE SAME QUALITY of Goods CHEAPER than any other Jewelry House in the State, for the following reasons:

They buy EXCLUSIVELY for CASH, which enables them to take advantage of the markets.

They are the only Jewelry House in the State that imports their own purchases DIRECT through the Detroit Custom House, paying no commissions to New York importers. They buy directly of the manufacturers, thus saving to their customers the jobber's profit. Their Foreign Watches, French Clocks, Music Boxes and Opera Glasses are made to order expressly for their trade, and are far superior to similar goods offered to the general trade.

Pretty good—that conversation on the "square," between the clerk of Ionia County and the editor of the Standard.

Two young men were struck by lightning in Kalamazoo County, on the 25th inst. One of them being instantly killed and the other paralyzed.

The Ladies' State Temperance Convention at Lansing, was largely attended, and a very interesting and successful meeting it was.

The JOURNAL will contain much more local in the future; and the price of the paper is only $1.50 a year; not quite three cents a week. Tough, ain't it?

The railroad meeting at Kalamazoo last week was a "rouser." Dr. Elsworth of Lowell, was the main speaker. Their quota will be filled.

Mrs. Phelps has removed her stock of goods to the Williams building on the bridge, and has added thereto, ice cream and confectionery.

The presentation of a handsome Past High Priest's Jewel to C. S. Hooker, Esq., which took place on Tuesday evening, will be spoken of in our next.

The July Aldine is fully up to preceding numbers in all its departments. It is decidedly the finest publication in the country for the drawing room.

Never fool with the business end of a bee. A Lansing boy stepped on one with his bare foot, and wants folks to understand that there are other sources of enjoyment far preferable.

The Detroit & Milwaukee railroad depot at this place has been thoroughly overhauled, painted and fixed up inside, and is now one of the cleanest and best kept depots on the line.

Since Swing had that severe Patton on his back, there has been no disturbance among the clergy worthy of mention until the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher received that thrust from the Rev. Theodore Tilton last week. We may look for more lively tilt 'n' now.

You can now get green peas, in the pod, for 12 1/2 cents a quart, if you will return the pods. About thirty-two quarts will make a meal for a family of about four persons, providing three out of the four don't eat peas.

The next regular quarterly meeting of the first Spiritualist's Society of Lowell, will be held at Train's Hall, next Saturday and Sunday, July 4th and 5th. Elder T. H. Stewart, speaker. By order of committee.

Major T. G. Stevenson, Esq., formerly of the Ionia Sentinel is married, and Miss Hannah C., daughter of Hon. John C. Blanchard, of Ionia, is Mrs. T. G. Stevenson. Tom has accepted a position in the Grand Rapids Eagle office we understand. We wish him success in all his new positions.

County Surveyor Robt. S. Jackson is in town surveying a big ditch from the town line north, to Grand river. Drain Com. Leslie informs us that the ditch will be from three to six feet deep and ten feet across, more or less according to the "lay of the land." It will run through the low land on the west side, and thoroughly drain that part of the town. One of the best "moves" ever made in Lowell.

If there is any time when music hath charms, it is at the midnight hour, when Frank Ramsdell, Denny Sunderlin, Geo. Krum, Will Coleman, F. Prindle and Will Brown, come and sit on the front steps and spiel with their violins, guitars, flutes, organs and triangles. We "awoke" to a full realization of this fact Monday night, and the boys have our many "thank yous." They know how to use those instruments.

A young man from Lowell, employed on the Grand Rapids street railroad as a driver, was very seriously, perhaps fatally, hurt while hitching the horses to a car, yesterday morning, 24th. One of the horses threw up its head, and a hook on the neck-yoke, or pole, caught him in such a manner as to shockingly lacerate the lower part of his body. Dr. W. G. Saunders was called, and his patient was made as comfortable as he could be made under such circumstances.—Eagle.

Who is he?

In view of the fact that the stockholders of the Kalamazoo, Lowell, and N. M. Railroad are to meet in this village on Thursday, July 9th, to transact important business, it may be well for them to see whether or not they can vote at that meeting. We have been looking over the laws affecting railroads and find in Section 26 of Article II, the following: "No stockholder shall be entitled to vote for directors, or for any other purpose, who shall be in arrears in the payment of any assessment made on his subscription to stock." Which is so plain that further comment is unnecessary.

At the annual election of Lowell Lodge, No. 90, F. & A. M., held at Masonic Hall, June 23d, the following were elected officers for the ensuing year:

- W. M.—E. R. Crow.
- S. W.—W. J. Medlar.
- J. W.—W. J. Ecker.
- Treas.—E. A. Sunderlin.
- Sec'y.—M. M. Perry.
- S. D.—T. W. Mason.
- J. D.—E. E. Wisner.
- Chaplain.—Geo. R. Sayles.
- Tyler.—E. Bailey.

A VISIT TO CHICAGO.

Desiring temporary relief from the perplexities of business, and to spend a brief season in some secluded spot where solitude and ourselves could have it all our own way, we packed a big fan into our sachel last Tuesday afternoon and started for Chicago. Of course we went across the Lake; and if there is a period in man's existence when he can fully appreciate the wisdom of the Creator in making the earth's surface so largely of water, it is when he leaves the sunny side of a railroad car on a hot and dusty June day and "goes to sea." Arriving at Grand Haven at 8 a. m., we barely had time to get a response to our third order for boiled trout before the whistle of the Propeller Muskegon invited us to haul in. Five minutes later and the Muskegon pulled out. The Muskegon is a handsome boat, strongly built, well furnished and well officered, and that night it was well "passengered." It was a surprise as well as a pleasure, to find friends in the same boat. The happy group we refer to consisted of Ex-Mayor Randall, Col. Ed. Pierce, Col. Messmore, Capt. L. W. Heath, and Mr. Roberts, of Grand Rapids, and they were en route to Chicago to witness the Custom House corner stone ceremonies, which took place on Wednesday. It was a calm, still night, and a cool, refreshing breeze was thrown in with the moon's pale light; and our cup was full. In the ladies cabin it was called perfectly splendid. In the bow of the boat where sat the sterner sex, with their head lights, it was a "rattlin old night, though." Col. M. was awarded the first prize for telling the biggest sea story. With most people life would be too short to learn to spin one properly. The Col. has not lived in vain however. But it won't do to sit up all night even for this, and permit us to observe, that a glorious sleep in a cool and comfortable state room, with the fresh lake breeze rustling through the curtains, is a very happy change to the man who is accustomed during the hot summer months to sit up in bed till midnight, slapping his face and calling mosquitoes by their hardest names. The question of bodily comfort is not the only consideration; the moral effect is what we look at.

At six o'clock the next morning, or thereabouts, we "hove" into Chicago; but before we take our readers up to the Tremont House to breakfast, we will pause just long enough to say that you can't always tell how much real estate a man owns by the style he slings. You can't always tell whether that which glitters is gold or not, by a passing glance. These thoughts were forcibly impressed upon our mind, upon seeing a young man leave the boat who was dressed in the height of fashion, with a silk hat on his head fresh from the curry comb and brush, a pair of kids on his hands that the pure air would almost soil, and a waxed moustache that can't be counterfeited. With the dignity of a duke he went ashore and deigned not to look to the right nor the left, but moved majestically on as if he were going to purchase Chicago that morning, give his checks for the full amount on all the Eastern Banks, and return on the next boat. "Had we not seen him before," said another observer, "we could have taken him for an Alexis." And so we might, but we had seen him before—only the night before—gathering up the spittoons in the cabin, sweeping cigar stubs from the deck, and wiping the chandeliers with a rag. Such is life.

We were then in Chicago. It was a great day there and a hot one too. The Custom House corner stone was laid with masonic honors, and Chicago was filled with processions of knights, soldiers, odd fellows, government officers, firemen, and so on. Martial music and music by the band greeted the ear on every corner.

To sum it up in a few words, it was a grand holiday in name, a most torturing day in fact. Several cases of sunstroke occurred in the afternoon and while the procession was moving through streets many were obliged to leave the ranks and go into shady quarters. Two or three poor fellows were obliged to be put under medical treatment, and one Sir Knight fell in the ranks and died in a few hours. It costs too much to lay corner stones sometimes.

Lowell has several representatives in Chicago, and the first of these that we "went for to see" was H. B. Johnson Esq., who was formerly principal of the Lowell Union School. Mr. Johnson is practicing law in Chicago with good success. His office, on Washington street, is centrally located, and many find their way therein. It is evident that he has made no mistake in choosing his profession. That it agrees with him one need only to gaze at that robust form and beaming countenance, and the question is answered.

The Palmer House is the king bee among the hotels in this country.—Friend Johnson and myself took a walk up there. Behind the office desk was our old townsman John Huggins, checking names from the Register and giving the right change back: which means that he is comfortably fixed as clerk in the Palmer House office. John kindly gave us a "pass" through the house, and we "elevated" and looked it over. But we will attempt no description.

James P. Mills, well known here as one of the boys who sold goods for Sherman & Mills, is a homeopathic disciple and his shingle hangs out on the corner of Western Ave. and Madison street. We met Jim on Clark street, with a book under his arm, and we took his diagnosis at once. His first words were "by gum." We shall hear that familiar expression again the next time we see him. Jim is up and doing and will prosper. But we can't stay in Chicago any longer, so on Thursday we boarded the Menomonee, waved a good bye to our kind friends Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Johnson, who accompanied us to the boat, and whose hospitality and kind attention rendered our visit there so pleasant, and then, at the rate of ten knots an hour we crossed over to Grand Haven, arriving there in time to take a Cutler House cutlet at 7 A. M. An hour later we were homeward bound on the "old reliable route."

As has been previously announced in the JOURNAL, the Ionia District Conference of the M. E. Church, will be held in this village, on Tuesday and Wednesday, July 7 and 8. Opening service, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. Sermon by Rev. T. F. Hildreth. Wednesday evening, sermon by Rev. N. Bray. The programme of literary exercises is certainly an interesting one, as will be seen below.

PROGRAMME:

- J. I. Buell—Does future punishment cancel moral obligation?
- T. F. Hildreth—The proper sphere of woman.
- N. L. Brockway—What are the elements of a successful ministry?
- A. D. Newton—Divine Providence.—What is it?
- J. A. Sprague—Proper range of topics for pulpit ministrations.

- H. W. Hewes—Ministerial Department.

The strawberry and ice cream festival given by the Congregation Society on Tuesday evening, of last week, was a success, a net profit of $40 being the result. The same may be said of the Baptist festival on Friday evening, the receipts there being over $50. Much more might have been taken in by both societies had they not run short of frozen victuals.

THE END OF VOL. IX.

This is the last number of Vol. IX. of the JOURNAL. During our connection with this paper we have endeavored to make it a readable sheet, worthy the generous support it has received.

Next week the JOURNAL will go to its readers ENLARGED TO AN EIGHT COLUMN FOLIO, and containing about one-third more reading matter than is shown in this number.

WHEN AN OPPOSITION denies something not charged, and (by silence) admits many things that are charged against him, it is evident that he has a weak case.

WHEN AN OPPOSITION denies something not charged, and (by silence) admits many things that are charged against him, it is evident that he has a weak case.

Congress adjourned on the 23d ult. It has done some good work and some not so good. It has cut down the national expenses, repealed the salary steal act, kicked the Sanborn contracts overboard, refused to restore the franking privilege, showed a weakness in dealing with the civil rights bill, become, at times, quite out of its head on the currency question, but was sensible towards the last; did a wise thing in not confirming the nomination of Boss Shepherd, and on the whole perhaps are no more men of sin, than at the first of the session.

The two branches of Congress finally agreed upon a compromise currency measure, which was approved by the President last Monday, and is now a law. It provides for a redistribution of national bank notes to the amount of $55,000,000 from the East to the West and South, and for an abolition of reserves on circulation. It fixes the limit of greenback currency at the amount now outstanding. Though not satisfactory to either the expansionists or contractionists, it will be received as a termination of the tedious controversy over a vexed question; and the removal of the uncertainty as to the financial plan to be adopted by the law making power of the Government, which has protracted the effect of the panic from week to week and month to month, will probably have a beneficial effect upon the almost paralyzed business interests of the country.

On the 29th of April Elizabeth Murphy was arrested for breaking open the trunk of Nellie Jennings at the Cass Hotel in Detroit, and stealing therefrom some money and a dress. As, however, only the latter could be found in her possession she was tried for stealing that, and on the 27th of May she was convicted in the Recorder's Court and sentenced one year in the House of Correction. Upon assuming the prison garb her own clothing was removed and put away for her use when her term of imprisonment should have transpired. A few days since she requested permission to wear her corsets, and the matron acceded to her request. Before giving her the corsets, however, they were closely examined, and sewed up therein, $345 were found.

The Woman's State Convention met in Lansing on the 25th. Twenty-two counties were represented. The delegates met in the Senate chamber. The attendance was large. A permanent society was organized, was Mrs. Harriet A. Tracy, of Lansing, for President, with Vice Presidents from each Congressional District; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Devere, of Dexter; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. E. S. Stobbins, of Lansing; Treasurer, Mrs. L. E. S. Bronson, of Detroit.

JUDGE H. G. WELLS of Kalamazoo has been appointed one of the Geneva award commissioners. The judge is eminently qualified for the service. The other commissioners are Martin Ryerson of New Jersey, Kenneth Raynor of Mississippi, Geo. W. Woodward of Pennsylvania and Caleb Baldwin of Ohio. The insurance companies are not allowed to participate.

Miss Clara Shunway a maiden lady living with her sister, in the town of Madison, on the 22d, killed a rattlesnake thirty-two inches long with eight rattles. The reptile had seized a mare owned by the sister, biting it on the head, when the intrepid lady killed it with a club. At last accounts the horse was alive but suffering terribly from the bite.

On Monday the 18th inst, the wood pile of Oren Green, of Medina, was set on fire by the rays of the sun which were reflected back and brought to a focus by the burnished bottom of a large milk can near by. The family were at church and the danger to the property near by was averted by the hired man.

TO-MORROW. To-morrow has "basted" the brightest hopes and anticipations. It has no more respect for innocence and Old Age, than it has for any other man. We have known creditors to refuse so much confidence in the good promises that were to be fulfilled to-morrow, and repeat this so often, that they, too, were finally "basted." By putting off until to-morrow what you can well do up to-day, perhaps you will lose your last opportunity. To-morrow is always an uncertain day. To-day it is fair and just time for labor—the most convenient time to pay honest debts. To-morrow it may rain and, if you are an agriculturist, your hay may get wet, or that outstanding wheat become grown. It is exactly the same with regard to personal reformations. Not unfrequently do people say, "Well, to-morrow I will turn over a new leaf, and try to do better." Why not commence now? You can reform as well to-day as to-morrow. If you owe a merchant or an editor a dollar, why not get down into your pockets like an honest man and out with that dollar at once. To-morrow you may not be a slave. JOHN W. LOWE. New Store! NEW LOCATION! NEW ADVERTISEMENT! It is a very easy matter to write out an advertisement which says "WE WILL NOT BE UNDERSOLD!" "WE HAVE THE BEST & CHEAPEST GOODS IN THE MARKET!" "WE DEFY ALL COMPETITION!" ETC., ETC., ETC. Now the printer would just as soon put this style of language in his advertising columns as any other, but the advertiser would just feel a little chagrined if he could see the incredulous smile on the face of the compositor when he was setting up the type. And the readers of advertisements are getting about as incredulous as compositors. MORAL—Don't believe every thing you hear, especially in the advertising columns. OUR ADVERTISEMENT. MORTGAGE SALE.
 I have been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made by Francis King and Joseph W. Amphlett of the village of Lowell, County of Kent, State of Michigan, of the first part, and to Annie M. Booth of the same place, second part, and dated the 18th day of November, A. D. 1866, and recorded in the Office of the Register of Deeds for said County of Kent, on the 18th day of November, A. D. 1867 as Liber 21, of mortgages on page 48653 on which mortgage their children, do be due at the date of this notice the sum of one thousand one hundred and thirty-two dollars, including an attorney fee of twenty-five dollars as provided in said mortgage, and no suit at law or in equity having been instituted for the recovery of said debt, or any part thereof, now therefore notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and by the statute in each case made and provided in said mortgage, and that on the 15th day of July, A. D. 1874, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at the front door of the building in the city of Grand Rapids, known as Leppig's block in which is held the Circuit Court for the County of Kent, there will be sold to the highest bidder public auction or vendue to the highest bidder, the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount due upon said mortgage, and interest and the cost and expenses of said sale and said attorney fee. Said premises are described in said mortgage as follows, to-wit: All that certain piece of land known and described as being village lots number three (3), four (4), five (5), six (6), seven (7) and eight (8), in a block numbered eight (8) according to Abel A. Verge's recorded plat of the village of Lowell, County of Kent, and State of Michigan, where said premises are situated, excepting the west one third (1/3) of village lot number (7), aforesaid, the same having been discharged from said mortgage on the second day of April, A. D. 1874, together with the hereditaments and appurtenances thereto belonging in any-wise appertaining.
 Dated, April 8th, A. D. 1874.

MORTGAGE SALE. Default having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made and executed by Orlin Douglas and Mary Douglas his wife of Ypsilanti in Kent County, and State of Michigan to Joshua B. Orson, Henry G. Hall of Ionia County, and State of Michigan and James A. Hall of Ionia County in the State of Illinois bearing date the 18th day of January, A. D. 1869, and recorded the 18th day of February, A. D. 1869 at 11 o'clock A. M. in Liber 22 of Mortgages on page 55, in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for Kent County in said State of Michigan, by which default the power of sale mentioned in said mortgage has become operative and upon which mortgage there is due at the date of this notice the sum of ten hundred thirty-nine dollars and eighty-six cents ($1,039 86-100) and no suit or proceedings at law, or in equity, having been instituted to recover the debt now remaining due and unpaid on said mortgage, or any part thereof.
 Therefore notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and of the Statute in such case made and provided, we shall sell at public auction or vendue to the highest bidder on Thursday, the twenty-third day of July, A. D. 1874, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at the front door of the building in the city of Grand Rapids Michigan, known as Leppig's block in which is held the Circuit Court for the County of Kent aforesaid, the lands and premises in said mortgage mentioned and described or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount due on the said mortgage including the costs and expenses allowed by law for the foreclosing thereof, together with an Attorney fee of twenty-five dollars as provided in said mortgage. Said mortgaged lands and premises to be sold as being all those certain pieces of parcels or land situated in Kent County State of Michigan, bounded and described as follows to-wit: All the piece or parcel of land known as lot number 56-68, of section number thirteen (13), in township number seven (7), north of range number nine (9), west. Also part of the north-west quarter of section number twenty-four (24), in said township and range bounded as follows to-wit: Commencing at the north-east corner of said quarter section and from thence running south on the westerly line to the center of the highway running westerly through the quarter section, thence west a line said highway to lands owned by John W. Fallas, thence northerly along J. W. Fallas land in a straight line to the north-easterly corner of the lot on which Levi Waterbury built the house, thence westerly on the northerly line of said lot to a lot now owned by Evelina Graham at the south-east corner of her said lot, thence northerly to the north-east corner of said Evelina Graham's lot, thence along on the northerly line of her said lot to the edge of the highway, thence north along the edge of the mill-rail and bank of Flat river to the west line of said section, thence northerly along said west line to the corner of said section, thence east along the section line to the place of beginning, containing one hundred and eighty-four (184) acres.
