Claim that they CAN and WILL SELL THE SAME QUALITY of Goods CHEAPER than any other Jewelry House in the State, for the following reasons:

They buy EXCLUSIVELY for CASH, which enables them to take advantage of the market.

They are the only Jewelry House in the State that imports their own purchases direct from the manufacturers in New York, paying by commission to New York importers.

They buy directly of the manufacturers, thus saving in their cost the jobber's profit.

Their Foreign Watches, French Clocks, Music Boxes and Open Glasses are made to order especially to their trade, and are far superior to similar goods offered to the general trade.

JOURNAL NOTINGS.

Conference meeting at the M. E.
Church yesterday and to-day.

Attention is called to Drain Commissioner Leslie's Notice in this number of the JOURNAL.

Lowell has a good looking fire department,—that is, the boys look well when they belt up and trot out their extinguishers.

The tail of the comet is said to be about 3,000,000 miles long. Just about three quarters of a mile longer than we thought it was.

An item relative to the Granger meeting and picnic at Doctor's Lake, July 4th, was inadvertently omitted last week.
Have not heard from them, but of course they had a big time.

Arrangements will soon be made to hang every boy that enters the JOURNAL composing room, and Undertakers making the lowest bids will be notified to drive around to the back door.

An anonymous writer has sent us a little poem entitled "Good Bye." And, as we dropped it into the basket and packed it down with our foot to make room for another, we said, "good-bye."

We are authorized to state that the receipts of the fourth of July dance at Cook's Corners were over $400; but money is tight, and they can't possibly raise any for you until they sell their wheat.

Tom Collins was in Detroit Saturday morning, in New York Saturday afternoon, and Saturday night a young man went around to all the principal hotels in Chicago to find Tom Collins, having heard that Tom was in the city.

A subscriber from Grand Rapids writes—"Enclosed find a V. for the JOURNAL, the folks can't get along without it." Now if 10,000 men should do as this man has done, we should be in debt just $50,000. But we have made up our mind to take it as it comes.

The Lowell Silver Comet Band is the boss band now. It takes eleven horns, two drums and a pair of cymbals to go round. Two or three new members recently took a horn. The boys are well drilled, and we hope they will give a few open air concerts this summer.

A gentleman slept in an editor's bed one night and when he arose in the morning his first remark was, "how easy editors lie!" Seeing an editorial in one of our exchanges relative to the vast amount of good work to be accomplished by the Cook Reformers in this State, reminded us of the remark made by the gentleman who slept in that editor's bed.

We are informed that E. W. Dodge, Esq., having finished his work of raising stock on the K. L. & N. M. R. R. Co., now intends to enter upon the practice of his profession—Attorney & Counselor at Law, &c. In a few days his card will be found in the JOURNAL, so that persons desirous of obtaining his professional services, will know where to look for his shingle.

The I. O. O. F. party at Train's Hall Friday night, was a success, the receipts being $167.

Nearly all of the right-of-way for the railroad has been worked up at this end of the line.

Chewing fire crackers was what a small boy was found doing Saturday,—which is one way to in-fuse the spirit of '76 into the rising generation.

Doc. Hendrickson mounted the street sprinkler, Saturday, and delivered a most touching lecture on intemperance. His words were—"look at me!"

Representative W. B. Williams has returned from Washington to his home in Allegan. He brings with him a good record.

Any one desiring information concerning T. T. of the Saturday Evening Post, will please enclose stamps and send to this office.

The Sand Lake burglars, Webster and Campbell, have gone to Jackson to remain in the employ of the State one year and nine months.

P. M. Reed of the Chicago Inter Ocean and C. C. Sexton of the Grand Rapids Times, called last Wednesday. They moved among our citizens somewhat, soliciting subscriptions.

The L. S. C. B. and other invited guests had a joyful time at the house of Mr. John Wilson on the evening of the 4th. It is well that ice cream doesn't intoxicate.

Smiley says he can't, "for the life of him," tell how he came to lie down behind the butcher shop on the afternoon of the great day of our American Independence. Thinks somebody must have put something in his ice water.

In Mote, a young man from Campbell, was drowned in the mill pond near Hew-itt's mill, on Saturday evening, 27th ult.
He went there alone to bathe, and being unable to swim, the supposition is that he got into deep water accidentally.

The Boston Red Stockings and the Grand Rapids Blues played a game of base ball on the grounds of the latter last Friday. Result: Reds, 36; Blues, 5. The Blues were whitewashed six times and Reds once.

This (Wednesday) evening the Baptist Society will hold a raspberry and ice cream festival in Music Hall. Proceeds to go towards paying for a new carpet for the Baptist church. Go and help stretch that carpet.

The Congregationalists of this village are making preparations for another berry and ice cream festival, and on Friday evening of this week if you will drop in on our door east of the postoffice, you will find an abundance of good things for a small amount of change. Try it.

Meeting of the Stock holders of the Kalamazoo, Lowell & Northern Michigan Railroad in this village to-morrow, to act upon the question of changing the gauge of the proposed road to three feet, and for the transaction of other important business. We feel confident that the three feet gauge will be adopted.

Unhappy couple living somewhere.
They were in town yesterday, and the husband told his wife that he'd be smothered (that wasn't the word though), if he wouldn't rather live alone in a pig stye the rest of his days than to live with her in the best house on earth. And she, instead of getting mad and saying ugly things in reply, merely remarked that a hog ought to live in a pig pen anyway.

In response to an invitation extended to them by Mrs. J. H. Weeks, the members of the L. S. C. B. and a few others, repaired to the house of Mr.
Weeks on Thursday evening, to partake of a most refreshing spread of ice cream, strawberries, cake, etc. Excellent music by the band was furnished before and after the feast; and when the time came to depart, all expressed a desire that the hostess might live to see a host of birthdays.

Tue day "we celebrate" has been celebrated. Nearly every village and hamlet in the country have "held the 4th," and the spirits of our forefathers must be just kicking up their heels with joy to think that they and their good works are still remembered. What a glorious privilege it is to see the pig, with a greased tail, tearing through the streets in honor of '76. And yet, how sad the thought that we cannot communicate to the pilgrim fathers the fact that, out of twenty million young patriots who chased that pig, not one was found who could hang on to the tail. Of course all this is done to perpetuate the memory of John Hancock & Co. What does the young man climb a greased pole to get five dollars for, if he isn't to show that the fire of patriotism is alive in his bosom? We know that when a boy puts a bunch of fire crackers into another boy's coat pocket and touches them off, he does it in honor of his country's birthday; and no man can run a foot race in a salt sack on the fourth day of July, without impressing upon the minds of the spectators the awful responsibility that rested upon those men who signed the Declaration of Independence. The days of the Revolution were the days that tried men's souls; and should the time ever come when men refuse or neglect to come out for their country's natal day, with tin horns and false faces, and march through the streets in "horrible" processions, cavelling horses to run away and children to yell, then will the spirit of our fathers mourn and cry out because an ungrateful people has forgotten the blood that was spilled, and the sacrifices that were made to purchase posterity's freedom.

people and patriotism.

ternally. A great internal improvement.

A few days ago Dr. Edie, of this village, was called to visit a sick man, Mr.
Orin Story, of South Boston, and upon examining the patient, he discovered that small-pox was the disease. The doctor immediately informed the board of health at Saranac, and Mr. Story was at once removed to an isolated building, situated about half a mile from the river road, three miles east of this village. No new cases have appeared and the exposures, it is believed, have been few.
The people in that vicinity have been well vaccinated, and but little fear is entertained of the disease spreading further. Later—Mr. Story is dead.

James T. Ainsworth, of this village, is one of the most successful gatherers of curiosities and ancient relics we ever knew. His latest is a copy of the "Boston Gazette and Country Journal," (No.
779), published in Boston, Mass., March 12, 1770: 104 years ago. It is a small sheet in folio form, with three columns to the page. It contains many quaint and curious squibs and advertisements, and the main leader starts off with the assertion that "the Boston Chronicle if guilty of absurdity, foppishry and falsehood." We propose to raise the lid of that curiosity box again, with Jim's consent.

VOLUME X. NO. 1.

The first number of Vol. X. of the JOURNAL goes to its many readers enlarged in form, improved in appearance, with a new head and body, and containing much more reading than hitherto and hereafter our readers may expect between four and five long columns of local each week. The literary, general news and agricultural departments will also be found well filled. But, as a rule, long winded editorials will be looked for in vain, if looked for at all. There is no market for them. They are as much out of place in a local paper as a hundred dollars would be in an editor's pocketbook. The daily and weekly papers published in our larger cities contain much that cannot and should not be published in a local paper. These papers are intended for the people at large and have facilities for supplying the latest intelligence from all sources that the publisher of a local paper does not possess. But the city paper cannot take the place of the local paper, any more than the local paper can take the place of the city paper, and every person who can read ought to take both. We shall endeavor to make the JOURNAL a faithful chronicler of local events that occur from day to day, and may sometimes speak of little incidents that might occur, but never do. Items in brief, wanted from all points to which the JOURNAL is sent.

Mr. George, of the Lansing Republican, continues to administer wholesome doses to Senator Cook, the sentinel of the State Treasury. And it wouldn't be surprising if, after a while, Mr.
