"TIT FOR TAT."

An Alert replies to Lone Star. And now Let us have Peace. The JOURNAL has kindly offered its space, and I am desirous to say a word or two in refutation of the charges preferred by "Lone Star" last week. In his communication I find the following inaccuracies. "The Alerts have resorted to all kinds of excuses for having been so badly defeated." Not true, as our citizens are aware. "Coleman received injuries and retired from the game on the sixth inning." Not so; it was early in the second inning. "The man they substituted was his superior in every part of a field." Only in a hayfield is he his superior; he is a stiffened country lad, with no more idea of a well played game of base ball than a long-haired barbarian has of reporting for a Michigan newspaper. "It was impossible for the Alerts to rally." Ridiculous in the extreme. And Bosworth's misfortune occurred in the seventh inning, not the eighth as he stated. The above are all the points he attempts to make, and every assertion is wholly or partially false! Instead of an existing ill-feeling between the two clubs, and for which he is sorry, they are on the most amicable terms, and his grief, though no doubt deep, is wholly uncalculated for.

A game was played on the Alerts' grounds in this village some weeks prior to the one in question, at which time the Stars came off very badly defeated, and in which game they were granted many privileges. On account of the pitching they virtually threw up the game, and were about to return home, and the Alerts were obliged to substitute a new man and agreed to play "one-old-cat," "barney-ball-base," or "rolly-bowly" for the sake of a game. Now in the last match they claimed the same privileges and were granted drop balls, because they had no good pitcher in their line. This itself was a great advantage. They had the choice of an Umpire, but could not be reconciled to his decisions, and disputed him repeatedly. I do not say this of all the men. The captain in particular, acted like a gentleman, but a few of his men over whom he had no apparent control—one pitcher especially—made much disturbance in this way.

The rules of the game forbid that any player shall bet on the result, but in no way prohibit the game to be for a supper, purse, or other reward.

At a recent meeting of the Alerts it was unanimously agreed that the following challenge be sent to the Lone Stars: To the Lone Star Base Ball Club of Ada, Mich.—We the Alert Base Ball Club of Lowell, Mich., hereby challenge you, the Lone Stars, to play a game of National Base Ball, in accordance with the rules adopted by the National Association for 1875, on neutral grounds, within thirty days from date, for a supper, purse, or the honor of winning, we to give you the odds of fifteen scores and to forfeit the game upon your making a total of twenty-five scores inclusive of gift. And we also agree, if desired, to deposit $25 forfeit, pay or pay, on the conclusion of arrangements. Now "put up or simmer."

But the crack club of Ada has since disbanded, and the Alerts must quietly await the growth of their little town, hoping it may again, in time, be able to boast of another club at least equal to the deceased Lone Stars. ALERT.

Great Caesar! There is a place down in Branch county called Union City. A few weeks ago a gentleman from Lowell went there with an order from the Quartermaster General for a cannon. The gun he didn't know that he was stepping outside of the limits of his jurisdiction when he ordered it sent here. But it isn't to be supposed that one Q. M. Gen. knows everything. There is a supervisor at Union City that knows better. And that supervisor outranks all the military and civil authorities in Michigan. The bump on the top of his head is large enough for a hen-coop, and his ears throw a shade all over Union City. When that gun was put on the train by the sheriff, this formidable township officer emerged from the office of a dignified and learned justice, and with the step of a Napoleon marched up to the cars and replaced the gun from the railroad company. Verily Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like that supervisor. He wrapped the drapery of his Kentucky jean about him and retired amid prolonged applause. That train of cars slid out with its tail between its legs yelping furiously. The deputy sheriff wrote a letter explaining the situation, and we sat down and thought. And we supposed, for instance, should there ever be an insurrection in this State, and the Quartermaster General should order the State's implements of war sent to the seat of danger, and the supervisor at Union City should step up and reply all the big guns, where in the name of all that's great and good would the poor defenceless people of this commonwealth be Great Caesar! we want to hear from somebody. But the end is not yet. It is understood that all the cannon belonging to the State will soon be ordered redistributed to the State troops.

LOWELL, MICH.

The Chandler-Buel libel case came up again last Thursday on an application by District Attorney Dyer for writ of removal to the District of Columbia under a new indictment found by the grand jury in session at Washington. This new indictment raises an entirely new question of law, in that it charges the alleged libelous publication to have been made in Washington, by act of filing the manuscript of a special dispatch to a Detroit newspaper, in the Washington office of the Western Union Telegraph Company. No other complete act of publication is charged in the new indictment and the appearance of the alleged libel in the Detroit Free Press is only mentioned incidentally. The case will turn on the question whether or not the filing of the special dispatch in the office of the telegraph company constitutes a publication in law.
