We are sorry to learn that Hon. S. M. Garfield, member of the House of Representatives from this district, is still suffering from paralysis, with little hope for permanent recovery.
The Rev. Mr. Jewett gave a very interesting talk on India at Train's Hall, Sunday evening. Mr. Jewett has been a missionary in India 27 years and consequently knows whereof he speaks.
Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Hodges of Verdenes go east this week to spend a few weeks at the home of their childhood in Jefferson county N. Y. They are going to see if "the old folks are what they used to be."
The marshal desires us to say that the taxpaying ones will greatly oblige him and many others by paying their taxes on first call, as the money is needed to pay for work done in the way of street improvements etc. Take your receipt at once.
Report says that John Giles of Detroit has leased his old store in Union Block, (the O'Brien place) and will put in a stock of groceries etc. Report does not say whether Mr. Giles will return to Lowell in person or not. He has a host of friends in and about Lowell who would be glad to welcome him back to his old home.
Ludington had a $3,000 fire last week. Prosecuting Attorney Burlingame visited Lowell last Wednesday.
A. J. Greene, firm of Atkins & Greene, exhibited agricultural implements at the Wisconsin state fair last week.
We received orders for over two hundred extra copies of the JOURNAL last week.
Only one fire in Jackson Monday. Dull—very dull in Jackson.
The JOURNAL containing the list of tax sales is on sale at Hall's News room in Grand Rapids.

Parties desiring to exhibit their big garden stuff at the American Centennial will please address Hon. Henry Fralick Grand Rapids.
The autograph of our worthy Secretary of State is somewhat complex we admit and if we didn't know Holden to be one of the purest of men we might expect him to accept a position as Treasurer of the U. S. In this country where a man isn't innocent until he's proven guilty it doesn't take much to arouse suspicion.
Mrs. Sarah B. Kinsley (of this village, mother of Abisha Kinsley, died on the 11th instant, and was buried Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Kinsley was over 80 years of age.
Autumn dance at the Ada hotel. Friday evening Sept. 24. Henry is making big preparations and wants everybody to come.
The Democrat says "put down the rates," and we repeat "put down the rates." Three 15 cent cigars must sell for a quarter or a bankrupt nation will be on our hands before we know it.
Grand Rapids claims to have the largest American Eagle in this country, and Holcomb of the Scientific Institute proposes to take it to the Centennial.
AN IMPORTANT LAW.—At the last session of the Michigan Legislature, a law was passed providing that Sheriff's deeds on mortgage foreclosures shall be recorded in the office of the register of deeds, in a book provided for that purpose, within twenty days after such sale is made. The old law merely required such deed to be filed in the office of the register of deeds—a very unsafe procedure, as they were liable to be mutilated or stolen by interested parties.
BARNS BURNED.—A barn near the M. E. Church, owned by Mrs. Bates, was destroyed by fire Monday evening. The barn was used by Hiram Dawson who lost a ton of hay, a small quantity of grain and a few articles of horse clothing. The fire companies were out promptly and did good work as long as the cistern furnished water. The origin of the fire is a mystery to Dawson and everybody else. We are informed that the barn was partially insured.
AT SNYRNA.—President Cobb and Dr. Elsworth attended the railroad meeting at Snyrna last week. The doctor reports Snyrna up and doing and anxious to see the work pushed forward with vigor. The meeting was an enthusiastic one. Many who have heretofore expressed doubts concerning the completion of the road begin to see things in a different light. They are now satisfied that the road will be completed, and that the cars will be running within a reasonable length of time. The management so far has been safe and efficient and the good work has only to go on.
LAKE DISASTERS.—The storm of last week was a severe one on the lakes. Early on Friday morning the propeller Equinox, enroute from Bay City to Chicago with a cargo of salt, and towing a schooner loaded with lumber, was overtaken by the storm near Point au Sauble. The captain of the Equinox ordered the lines cut which order was no sooner obeyed than the propeller crew and the schooner were dashed to pieces. She had on board a crew of nineteen men and Capt. Dwight Scott, daughter and grand-daughter, of Cleveland, all of whom were lost.
The schooner Ondaga was in a critical condition on Lake Michigan Friday night, and probably went to pieces before morning. The captain was swept from the deck and lost. The vessel was worth $30,000 and was loaded with coal.
A locomotive and several box cars were demolished near Clarkson on the D. & M. Friday morning. Collision.
The fall term of Olivet college will open to-morrow with a full corps of able instructors.
The Johnson's Cyclopaedia man has been in town delivering the first volume of that excellent work.
You can leave Lowell on the morning express train east and reach East Saginaw before noon; see the state fair and come home when you get ready.
Grand Rapids has a Croquet Club and will soon have a tournament. We're balancing a mallet on our chin waiting for a bid.

E. F. Harrington is back on the Eagle as business manager.

Eighty-five bushels of oats to the acre is a pretty good yield, but they are claiming all this in some places.
Several enterprising business firms in Grand Rapids have applied for space in the central enclosure.
The firemen's tournament at Jackson was no great affair.
Portland has been fed on bad meat and a few dealers in the article have been convicted.
Joseph Baxter, one of the pioneer settlers of Grand Rapids, died last Friday morning.
It is a dull day in Jackson when from early dawn till dewy eve there isn't a fire or a fight.
Michigan is making a fine display of fruit at the Chicago Exposition.
Willie Chapman's class in Sunday-school would be pleased to see you at their ice cream festival in Morris' new office this Wednesday evening. Proceeds added to the chandler fund of the Congregational church.
The Congregational sabbath school met and picnicked on the banks of Grand River Saturday. Rowing and rollicking and bustling watermelons were indulged in by old and young.
Excursion trains will run to and from the Spiritualists' camping next Sunday. Going east the train will leave Lowell at 9:15 in the morning, and returning will leave Saranac at 6 p. m.
Many Lowellites will attend.
C. M. Deverend leaves at the Journal office twenty tomes in two clusters; and their name is General Grant. There are eleven in one cluster and nine in the other, and the largest tomato measures a trifle less than twenty inches in circumference. "Rah for Grant!"
Dr. Edie is well pleased with life in Grand Rapids. He is building up a good practice and a reputation that no physician need be ashamed of. His office is in Bliss block nearly opposite the Morton—a very favorable location. The doctor and his "guide wife" have a very pleasant home on Sheldon street.
We have it from the man who did the job that the brick veneering of a three story building, owned by Wm. Stevens of Stanton, containing thirty-three thousand, wall measure, and twenty-eight thousand, kiln count, was put up by A. W. Rush of Lowell in twelve days; the front being filed and penciled in the time. Who can beat it?
The Post says that the land office department of the G. R. & I. railroad has recently issued an immense edition of a paper called The Michigan Advocate, in which is set forth the great advantages of Northwestern Michigan as a place of settlement. Enclose a three cent stamp to P. R. L. Pierce, secretary of the land department, Grand Rapids Mich. and receive in return the company's illustrated pamphlet.
Mr. James S. Crosby, father of Hon. Moreau F. Crosby of Grand Rapids, died in Rochester N. Y. last Thursday. Mr. Crosby was one of the first citizens of Grand Rapids; a man highly esteemed by all who knew him. During much of his sickness he was attended by his son, ex-Senator Crosby. The body of the deceased was brought to Grand Rapids for interment.
AULD ACQUAINTANCE.—Nine years ago Mr. William H. Sperry, the present managing editor of the N. Y. Evening Post, and the present editor of that less renowned paper, the LOWELL JOURNAL, together attended a party at Unadilla, N. Y., and escorted home four of the best looking girls in that section of the country. Sperry graduated from Yale only five years ago. He is now thirty. His father is a Methodist clergyman at Unadilla. Young Sperry has been going up the ladder very rapidly and will soon wear for other ladders to climb.
The Railroad Meeting.
A meeting of the resident stockholders of the Kalamazoo, Lowell & N. M. Railroad was held at Train's Hall on Wednesday evening of last week. Being necessarily absent from town we are indebted to the secretary for the following report:
The meeting was organized by electing D. L. Eaton, chairman, and M. M. Perry secretary. Dr. Elsworth then read a statement of the present financial condition of the company, and made a speech full of estimates and figures for ironing and equipping the road.
Dr. Elsworth advocated the principle of obtaining further subscriptions along the line of said road to raise money to tie, iron and stock the road, instead of bonding it for that purpose.
At the close of Dr. Elsworth's speech, E. W. Dodge offered the following resolution which was unanimously adopted:
Resolved. By the stockholders of the K. L. & N. M. R. R., that the board of directors of this company be advised, by the stockholders of said company, resident at Lowell, to make an effort to raise the necessary amount of money required to iron the road of said company by subscription and along the line; but in case, after reasonable effort they shall find that such amount so required cannot be so raised, that the board of directors issue the necessary amount of bonds for such purpose, and place them on the market, and sell until 25 per cent of the amount required be realized in cash, and issue bonds paying 25 per cent down; bonding for the remaining amount necessary to iron the road.

"BURN THEM."
BY ROBERT TOLSON.
"Burn them? Do they tell a tale,
That never should be told?
Is't ought within their tracings
That memory should not hold?
Is there a wondrous gleam of light
Reflected from each line?
Does not a danger lurk within?
Burn them! They are not mine."
"Burn them! They are the pastime
Of the brain and hand and will;
Written as we would write a friend—
To win an answering sign.
Aye, pile them high upon the grate,
Burn them! They are not mine."
"Burn them! These little innocents,
So fair and pure and strange,
Floating away alone to death,
Upon a tideline range,
Why, they are but a fragile waif,
Upon the noiseless line!
Heap on a thousand tons of coal!
Burn them! They are not mine."
"Burn them! These straying leaflets,
Upon the mirrored ocean;
Are there not rocks and deadly morls,
Awa' not a wretched doom?
Is't ought, 'erein to be unseen,
To an unwearied glare?
I seek not who their funeral pyre,
Burn them! 'Tis 'ere not mine."
"Burn them? 'Tis 'ere so very odd
That those who once he 'e met,
Should take the lightning as 'e met,
And hasten to forget?
These little waifs upon the tide,
Are not a signal fire;
Sink them within the furnace pit,
Burn them! 'Tis 'ere not mine."
"Burn them? The fire will purify
Worse sins than those expressed
In the dashing, harmless letters,
Thy hand hath once caressed.
Let grass and coal and funeral pyre,
And furnace combined,
To blot them quickly from the earth,
Burn them! They are not mine.
Lansing, August, 1875.

JIM CLARX.
Clawson wheat beats the Dehli.
That annual howl for wood sounds familiar.
The devil's to pay every week at this office.
Some men feel so sorry for their creditors that they can't bear to go near them.
Bailey, of Danbury, would lecture, but Moody and Saganay have about exhausted the subject for the present.
There is nothing that matches a young lady's dress so well as an aged but wealthy husband in failing health.
The Ohio election is near at hand and somebody will soon be sitting on the mutilated border of desperation.
Detroit may talk about her pretty girls but Saginaw beats Detroit all to death when it comes to pulling stumps.
We have no more confidence in Ohio than we have in a boy that will go around shouting "Fresh baked peanuts!"
Neguance's tallest man is 6 feet 11 inches, and the common run of folks up there sing out: "Say—you—hello—drop us down a match."
If the ladies would wear those parlous and hold up their hats the eternal fitness of things would be more visible to the naked eye.
The Pennsylvania Democratic Convention defied greenbacks and Thomas Jefferson, and voted to blot out every national bank in the country.
Dr. Hempel, of Grand Rapids, is making a grammar. The citizens of Grand Rapids will find that a grammar is a good thing after they get used to it.
The liquor dealers of East Saginaw, after hearing that Pontiac was going to break loose and go to the state fair, applied to the city fathers for permission to keep their saloons open all night.
The Detroit Evening News publishes a list of candidates for governor, and thereby introduces a number of prominent Michigan men whose names have never before been publicly mentioned. It's a good way to become acquainted and we rather like the idea.
It costs only 25 cents a word now to send a dispatch to Europe, and it's a good time to find out how our bonds are getting along over there and what Europe's opinion is in regard to soft money.
The Evening News says that Geo. W. Davis, of Constantine, claims to have a knife which was swallowed by a cow and carried in her stomach three years. We can beat that. We know a man who swallowed that item.
A man on Hudson street moved his cook stove back into his winter kitchen Saturday night and then sat around all day Sunday doing nothing. He did it to please his wife who thinks it sounds so loud to hear a man swear on the Sabbath.
A silver cup is to be given to each of the three handsomest babies exhibited at the Otisco fair, says the Evening News. There, what do you think of that? You folks who don't come within forty rods of apple trees of having three babies! No silver cup on your plate.
It has been proven by the mathematical man of the Eagle that over 328,000 carloads of rain fell in the city of Grand Rapids last Thursday. That's half-a-ton or more than we make it, but with the railroad facilities they have there the Eagle ought to be able to give the exact figures.
A boot and shoe firm in Grand Rapids begins an advertisement with—"Don't buy up your treasures in Heaven." That firm wants every soul to peg around Grand Rapids to the very last.
In point of population Grand Rapids is perhaps obtaining a faster increase than the former place, but it seems to us that certain inducements are held out at that former place that Grand Rapids doesn't possess. With all due respect to the Valley City—it certainly does seem so.

DETROIT COMMERCIAL ADVERTISER.
The Detroit Tribune, commenting on the article in last week's JOURNAL relative to Joseph Kulu, says: "Aye, marry, that is Joseph!"
"Robert Roland," in other words Hon. E. G. D. Holden, Secretary of State, contributes a poem to the JOURNAL this week that will be read by "other hearts that ache."
The marshal's head is plumb when he says, "we have paid for improvements and now let us improve."
Work on the Congregational Church progresses surely but not rapidly.
"Cespi," the Lowell correspondent to the Grand Rapids Times, writes well.
Judge B. A. Harlan of Grand Rapids has gone to Maryland on a business and pleasure trip. He will look over the home of his early youth before returning.
A. B. Turner, postmaster at Grand Rapids, and senior proprietor of the Eagle, was accidentally shot in the leg near Ludington one day last week.
Thomas Nash of Pontiac felt revengeful, burned a barn, gave himself up, and is now in jail chucking over his success.
The Young Men's Quadrille Club has issued invitations to many friends requesting their presence at Train's Hall, this Wednesday evening. O. O. Adams and aids will do the music; and the bill is 50 cents. All who receive invitations are wanted at Train's Hall to-night.
Read Foster Post's new advertisement two or three times and then see what you think about it. They are doing an immense business, and they can't help it. They keep a mammoth stock of goods to select from; deal squarely and fairly with all their customers, and advertise extensively. They always mean just what they say in their advertisements.

LOSS BY FIRE.—The Preston House at Reed City, owned by Wm. Worden of this village, was destroyed by fire last Wednesday night. The hotel barn was also consumed. The Reed City Clarion says:
"The origin of the fire is not yet known, though it is supposed to be the work of an incendiary. The hotel which was a total loss, was owned by Mr. Wm. Worden of Lowell, and was valued at $4,000.
