Some Mean Folks

Yesterday afternoon, when a Detroit was seen walking down Woodward avenue with a joint of stove pipe under his arm, a gray-haired man, who cannot long escape the grave, stood in a store door and called out:

"Don't fit, eh? Why didn't you hit it with an ax?"

A grocer pawing over a lot of melons, seeming to be rushed to death with business, but had plenty of time to look up and sneeringly remark:

"Been there myself? I always use a maul and wedge!"

The man with the stove pipe didn't seem to hear, but when seven men hanging to the platform of a street car saw the pipe under his arm and waved their hats and cheered.

"Oh, fish worms, but wouldn't I like to be around his house when he gets back home! Oh, stay pipe!"

Just as the man reached a hardware store a gentleman, driving a carriage, called him to the curb stone and blandly inquired:

"Is that a joint of stove pipe?"

"Yes sir."

"Six-inch pipe?"

"Yes sir."

"And are you going to have it cut in two?"

"Well, I'm going to have a piece cut off."

"Yes—very well. Here is my card. We are just starting, and propose to cut funeral expenses to the lowest notch. See you again—good-bye!"—Detroit Free Press.

The Bonanza Kings of California.

Mr. James C. Flood, of the firm of Flood & O'Brien, is now on a visit to this city and the Centennial, after years of absence from here, his former residence and home. His partner, Mr. William O'Brien, has not yet arrived, but is expected during the month.

Flood, O'Brien, Fair and Mackey are the principal owners and trustees of the "Consolidated Virginia" and "California" mines, in the "Consolidated Lode" near Virginia City, Nev. These mines have yielded in silver and gold each over $3,000,000 per month for many months past, and are believed to be the richest gold and silver mines in the world.

The aggregate wealth of Flood, O'Brien, Fair and Mackey is supposed to be $100,000,000. A few years ago each of these men were comparatively poor. Fortune has indeed showered her richest blessings upon them, and although each has become enormously wealthy, yet each has maintained "the even tenor of his way," putting on no aristocratic airs or "shoddy" habits, and the firm have the entire confidence of everybody on the Pacific coast. Mackey is the miner, managing and working the mines; Fair is the financier and business manager in Virginia City and at the mines, and Flood & O'Brien are the business men and financiers, conducting their great operations at the Bank of Nevada (which the firm own), in San Francisco, probably the most substantial and elegant banking house in America.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

A Discreet Juror.

In one of our Western countries, not long since, a man was tried and found guilty of stealing a pig. In writing out the verdict the foreman wrote: "We fine the prisoner thirty cents." One of the jury, who had seen the inside of a school-house, wanted some slight change made in the spelling of the verdict, and the foreman whispered, "I know that spelling is sorter shaky, but you have to pander to the Sheriff and the Judge and District Clerk, for that's the way they all spell. If I was to spell a verdict right, and they were to find it out, the whole jury would be indicted next term of the court, and we wouldn't even get our jury fee for this day's work. You see they have got the drop on us. Let us not expartate them as long as we are in power."

CAMPAIGN NOTES.

The Greenbackers—"the poor man's friends"—have nominated for mayor of New York city the bloated bond and real estate holder John Jacob Astor. Politics do indeed make strange bedfellows.

Look on this and then on that. "I would prefer to go into this war, if I knew I was to die, or be killed in the course of it rather than live through and after it without taking any part in it."—[R. B. Hayes, in 1861.]

I for one will resist under any circumstances the use of force to coerce the South into the Union.—[Samuel J. Tilden, in 1861.]

The Ohio delegation in the next Congress will be a very strong one. Garfield and Monroe, Foster and Van Vorhis are all re-elected, and are all able men and experienced legislators, and they will be reinforced in the next Congress by the Interior J. Dixon Cox, one of the ablest and purest men in Ohio, and by Amos Townsend, of Cleveland, a practical business man, with wide experience in municipal and State legislation.

Some of the Democratic Greenbackers seem to be getting uneasy for fear the Republican Greenbackers will fail to help the Democrats elect a member of Congress from this district. We are glad to see that it is probable that what few Republicans have ever thought of voting for Myron Harris, on account of his Greenback pretensions will decide to do no such foolish thing. The fight on the money question will be as to whether silver shall be remonetized, and if the Greenbacks favor this measure, it is generally understood they do. Judge Stone would be worth the cause, a sane woman like Myron Harris, Judge Stone favors remonetizing silver. The Greenbackers cannot do better than vote for him.—Grand Rapids Sol. Rev. Post.

The Burlington Hawkeye has been investigating this reform business. It reports: John Kelley calls it "re-reform," George W. Julian calls it "re-fohm," Lieutenant Hobbs calls it "re-form," the Hon. John Morrissey calls it "re-furum," Charles Francis Adams calls it "re-fawm," Boss Tweed, with his Spanish accent, calls it "re-forme," Bill Allen lays back the top of his head and calls it "re-f-o-s-w-e-r-m" and the American people with a correct appreciation of its nature call it "bosh."

Sir Joseph Whitworth recently exhibited three hexagonal steel plates at the Kingston museum which were so accurately planed that when one was placed on the other it glided about as if floating, and when one was dropped on the other a "cushion" of air developed the metallic sound, while when the air was squeezed out the contact was so close that the lower plate adhered to the upper when raised. He next made a measurement of 1,000,000th part of an inch with a machine which, at a certain temperature, will measure the millionth part of an inch, and lastly showed the tensile strength of steel, a specimen of which bore a strain of 75 tons to the square inch, without breaking. For bridges, etc., only five tons strain to the square inch are required for safety; for guns 40 tons; for shells, 55 tons.

Gen. Wade Hampton is mixing himself up in curious alliances when he calls to his support the notorious Chief Justice Moses in opposition to the honest and efficient Governor, D. H. Chamberlain. The most manly part of Gov. Chamberlain's career as Governor is the manner in which he turned against the Moses family and the other corrupt elements in his own party. His political weakness to-day comes from his opposition to those unscrupulous and corrupt men, and Gen. Hampton makes a grievous mistake when he seeks aid from them. Of course Justice Moses would not approve of Gov. Chamberlain's proclamation, or of any other act from the same source and the fact of his expressing his disapproval in a letter to Gen. Hampton is merely the advertising of an old grudge, and has no weight as evidence.

This is what Carl Schurz said in his speech at Akron, Ohio, on Friday last, in answer to the ridiculous charge of Know-Nothingism against Gov. Hayes: "This is an utterly reckless charge. I conversed with Gov. Hayes about this reports concerning this matter when I saw him about three weeks ago. The whole thing is based upon nothing but a careless routine answer by Gov. Hayes's secretary to a complimentary letter. I think I have answered similar letters in a similar way dozens of times in my life. To charge Gov. Hayes with Know-Nothing sentiments is the greatest absurdity that can be imagined. Everybody knowing him will confirm what I say. As a foreign born citizen who loves his rights as dearly as anybody, I do not hesitate to declare that if there is a man in this country in whose hands I would consider my rights as safe as in my own, that man is Rutherford B. Hayes. I shall therefore vote to make him President with a feeling of the most absolute safety."

A Nevada miner staked the savings of years on favor, lost, and then killed himself.

"That's going too far," as the Boston man said when his wife ran away to San Francisco with another man.
