The body of John Hilton, who was drowned in Campbell a week ago Sunday, was rescued the following Monday afternoon.

They are pretty much all boy babies around here this summer. And the average is about—well, not quite one a day.

Fanning and Goodrich of Ionia have assisted for the benefit of their creditors.

E. B. Miller, the emaciated "By," is the assignee.

Gen. Dan. E. Sickles was in Ionia one day last week. If he was looking for Keyes why didn't he come to Lowell, Keyes is here.

The Detroit base ball club now stands next to the head in the National league. But they have to pay just as much for their arnica as ever.

The firm of Church and Mitchell is dissolved, Mitchell retiring. Mr. Church will continue to buy wheat, &c., at the old stand at the depot.

The late rains have put new life into the vegetable kingdom. Corn and potatoes will come out all right if they don't have another relapse.

An ice cream social will be held at the Vergennes grange hall on Friday evening, Aug. 19. Everybody invited. Signed by the secretary.

The Daily Pioneer-Magnet of Big Rapids is a right bright and lively sheet. It is a credit to the enterprising publishers and to the enterprising city, also.

The Grand Rapids press gave an excursion to Milwaukee to-morrow. Going over there probably to interview P. H. Best, author of the celebrated work entitled "Milwaukee Lager."

A social will be given by the United Brethren Society for the benefit of the pastor, Rev. R. W. Keeny, at E. R. Power's in Boston on Friday August 12. Refreshments will be served. All are invited to attend.

A Lowell merchant remarked that his "trial balance" didn't come out right and one of his clerks said he could fix it. He went to the platform scales and presented it but they balanced all right.

Here and there is found a mad dog. The best way to muzzle a dog is to put the muzzle of a well fed shot gun close to the dog's head and pull the trigger. If the gun goes off the dog goes off.

Not much more railroad news expected until the last of this or first of next month. Then we shall probably know whether the parties represented by Col. May want to take hold of the project or not.

Our Grattan correspondent "Maud" was at Petoskey and north of there on the lake shore last week attending the grand meeting of the W. C. T. U. She is quite in love with that section of the country.

The W. C. T. U. will meet at the Methodist church Friday afternoon at three o'clock. Programme: Scripture texts on faith; Select reading, Mrs. Trask, Papers by Mrs. Grant.

The 38d annual fair of the Michigan State Agricultural society will be held at Jackson, Sept. 19, 20, 21, 22, & 23, 1881. Reduced rates on all railroads and a chance to visit the prison cell in which you used to sit, &c.

The fourth quarterly meeting of the M. E. Church will be held on Saturday and Sunday Aug. 13 & 14, commencing at 2 o'clock p. m. on Saturday. Presiding Elder Crawford will be present and officiate each day.

"What is extravagance?" asks an exchange, and then the editor goes on and elucidates for about fifteen minutes. Two yolks in one egg is extravagance, your rooster; why spread so much over that?

Many visitors are attracted to the trout ponds and delightful resort of Chas. F. Holt in Cascade this summer. Had he accommodations sufficient many people would go there to spend the season.

A severe wind storm visited Cascade the other night doing considerable damage. Many trees in the orchard and woods of Mr. H. Holt were felled by the wind and some buildings in that vicinity were badly shaken up. It was a furious wind, but fortunately lasted only a few minutes.

The judgment against the village of Lowell of $3,500, in favor of Mrs. Young, and subsequently transferred to S. P. Hicks of this village, still hangs fire. Mr. J. M. Mathewson served an injunction some days ago on the council forbidding its payment and Hicks followed with a mandamus ordering the council to show cause why the judgment should not be paid. Further developments expected soon.

Caledonia Station is booming, also. A button factory, to employ about 40 hands, will be put up there this fall, to be ready for operation about Dec. 1.

We call special attention to the remarks of our South Boston correspondent touching the question of road repairs. And we urge upon our citizens the importance of doing something in that direction. Who will lead off? All that is necessary to guarantee the performance of the work is for some body to take the lead. Our business men should attend to this.

The Ionia Sentinel says that "all the Ionia pilgrims are sojourning on Dakota." Why thus? Lost their sand? Want to see their ma? Well, now, just say to them, please, that nobody expected them to strike "pay dirt" the first day out. Most of the Lowell pilgrims are there yet and propose to stick like burdock to a lamb's tail.

Many loads of extra good new wheat have been marketed here. A load brought by W. H. Lind and sold to Stiff & Stiff Saturday, weight 70 1/2 bushels to the bushel. The yield was 23 bushels to the acre. Such results are decidedly satisfactory. Michigan millers expect to beat the world this year in the quality of flour they turn out.

Friday night, says the G. R. Times, a burglar broke into the residence of E. L. Briggs in Grand Rapids township, northeast of the city about two miles, and made quite a "haul" in clothing and cash. He took four of Mrs. Briggs' best dresses and some other clothing of hers, all of Mr. Briggs' clothes save a pair of pants and the suit he had worn during the day, some clothing from a guest, a Mr. Fitch who was visiting them, and 15 in cash. His plunder will aggregate about $200 in value.

There certainly can be no objection to calling a milk-maid a no girl—"Chag." No, for she is just that kind of a girl you see.—LOWELL JOURNAL. But, is there danger of that kind of nos girl, becoming a bull-dozer?—Lansing Republican. Not much, if you heifer well yoked.—Edon Rapids Journal.

There, there, this thing has gone farrow enough now.

The Henry Collins Grit and Pluck Combination have been playing a few nights engagement at Train's Hall, to rather light audiences. Last night they took a new departure, fixing the general admission at 10 cents, which they propose to adopt as the admission fee hereafter. The company is certainly a well behaved one and play very well. Their last appearance here to-night. See bills.

Norman Wells, who has been living with Mrs. Harriet Grant in this village, died very suddenly Monday afternoon. After dinner he went to his room to take a nap, apparently in his usual health, and in about an hour thereafter was found dead in his bed. He was 84 years of age. Apoplexy the supposed cause of his death. The funeral services occurred yesterday afternoon.

Promptly Paid.

Mrs. J. B. Shear, whose house was destroyed by fire July 14, received Aug. 5, $1,000 insurance on the same, and expresses entire satisfaction with the adjustment. Mr. Abram D. Shear, administrator, also regards the adjustment as fair and equitable and so do others interested in the same. The property was insured in the Watervorn Fire Insurance Company, of which E. A. Hough of Jackson is State agent and F. D. Stocking of this village is local agent.

The Lowell Road.

As was anticipated, the gentlemen for whom Col. May has been investigating the affairs of the Lowell road were found, when Mr. May reached the east, to be out of town at various watering places. He has been to the White Mountains and met one of them there, and another will be back at New York the latter part of August. One of these gentlemen, who was at home, does not express his intentions as that will depend in part on the decision of his partner, but he was evidently impressed with the merits of the enterprise. Further intelligence will probably be received by Sept. 1.—Kalamazoo Telegraph.

"The Best Book Out."

One of the most interesting and instructive works of the day is beyond all doubt the work entitled "Museum of Antiquity" by L. W. Yaggy, M. S. and T. S. Haines, A. M. author of "Royal Path of Life" and other well known volumes. It is a work that cannot fail to absorb the deepest interest of the reader. It gives full and graphic description of ancient life, employments, customs and habits, the cities, palaces, monuments and tombs; the literature and fine arts of 3,000 years ago, &c. &c. The frontispiece is adorned with a fine illustration of the Coliseum of Rome, built 2,400 years ago. There are in the book about 200 historic illustrations, rich in design and workmanship, by German artists.

The recent excavations at Pompeii brought to light many wonderful discoveries confirming the authenticity of the bible records concerning the ancient city and in view of this the work possesses double interest to the general reader. Believers read it and accept as divinely sent to prove to skeptics the authenticity of the holy writings, and skeptics and unbelievers lay it because they want to see for themselves how much of bible history is confirmed by the recent wonderful discoveries. The authors are eminent men and their "Museum of Antiquity" we regard as one of the most valued contributions to the world's literature. The book contains nearly 1000 pages of "revelations." Mr. E. A. Crozier of Grand Rapids, a young man working his way through college, is now canvassing this vicinity, and taking many orders. We have given the work a careful review and can heartily recommend it as "the best book out."

Correspondence.

VERGENNES VISITOR.

Dr. Root and family of Grand Rapids are visiting Mr. and Mrs. S. Bailey and other friends. Mrs. A. Krum will rusticate at Petoskey this week. The W. F. M. S. will meet at Mrs. W. L. Merriman's Thursday afternoon.

FREEPORT AND VICINITY.

Samuel Roush and wife have gone on a visit to Ohio. Rev. C. F. Van Auker administered the ordinance of baptism at the M. E. church last Sunday. The Congregational Sunday School held their annual picnic Thursday, Aug. 11.

The dedicatory services of the U. B. Church are noticed the last Sunday in August. Our district school closed last Friday. Select school begins Monday, August 29. X. Q.

FALLSBURG NEWS.

Old Mr. Davenport is dangerously sick. F. O. Potruif's little daughter is somewhat better. There is a beautiful baby one week old at Geo. Raymond's. Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Fallas of Grand Rapids are visiting J. W. Fallas and family. The meeting of the W. F. M. S. was well attended last Saturday. The ladies will serve refreshments at their meetings for the rest of the year. The "bucket brigade" that turned out so promptly last Saturday at the alarm of fire happily found nothing greater to contend with than a burning chimney at Mrs. Cochrane's. A much needed rain came last Friday night. The thunder and lightning was terrific. A small barn owned by J. W. Fallas was struck and one corner badly shattered. Another bolt struck a tree within six feet of J. O. Goodsell's house. FRANK.

ALTO VOICES.

Meeting of the Mission Band on Saturday afternoon at the Church. Mercury has been rather elevated for the past week, standing some say 100° in the shade last Friday. It was not just too "sweet" for anything. Mrs. Benjamin of Portland spoke to a crowded house at Bowne Center last Sunday evening. Subject Missions and Mission work. Miss May Lowden has been visiting friends at Grand Rapids. Miss May Aldrich commenced the fall term of school at the Merriman school house last Monday. Miss Ida Laver's vacation closed one week ago but she was taken sick and was obliged to again close her school. The meeting at the Merriman school house to make arrangements for the select school was well attended and much interest manifested. The following trustees were elected: W. T. Remington, D. H. Denise, C. Merriman, D. H. Denise, treasurer. There will be two terms of thirteen weeks each, first term to commence Sept. 20th; tuition $5 per term. Arrangements will be made for horses for those wishing to drive from home. A large class is expected.

SOUTH BOSTON NEWS.

Mrs. P. C. Freeman's mother and sister made her a short visit the last of the week. The festival was better attended than was expected, and some more would have been present had there not been so many threshing machines in the neighborhood. Ladies are noted for making a success of everything they get interested in. The project of improving the road from the Lowell bridge, south and east is a good one, and we are informed that those living in that immediate vicinity, and some in Lowell Village are willing to donate generously for said purpose. If this be true let every one in So. Boston who is in the least interested in said road help to make the fund large enough to put the road in such condition that farmers can take 50 bushels of wheat at a load as easy as they can 35 at present. Mrs. David Gilbert has returned home after making some of her many friends a pleasant visit. Mrs. W. S. Storey and son started for Port Huron on Monday to visit relatives. The large white grub have destroyed the soil in some places quite extensively. So much so that a person could roll up sods with their hands large enough for horse blankets. The party who tied that member's vest straps to his chair at the Council reports that it will be his pant straps next time.

CANSON REPORTS.

The harvest is just but the "reaper death" is still at work snatching our loved ones from us. Friday, July 29 at sunset, Mrs. M. J. Hartwell aged 61 years, took her departure from this life. She had been in poor health for about six months but able to be around, oversee her work and visit her friends until the last two days before her death. She was one of those so called "home bodies." Her home was the shrine at which she devoted her time and talent cultivating the choicest flowers, which shed their beauty and fragrance to even the passers by, and enriched her mind with choice books and her heart with broad philanthropic views. How beautiful and sweet the influence of such a life upon humanity. It is like the evening dew upon the thirsty earth. She has lived a widow fourteen years with her only child, a step son who is highly respected. Her brother, Dr. Joseph Chapman and sister and husband Mr. and Mrs. Wales from the east part of the state, were summoned but only reached here in time to attend the funeral services which were held by the Rev. C. H. Howe in the M. E. Church, of which she was a member, Sunday, half past ten. The Cannon Grange paid due respect to their departed sister by appropriate services.

Go! but not forgotten. Though thy feet be or press the green turf again, Or thy hand pluck the opening flowers, Though thy sweet voice we never more shall hear.

Asking God's blessing on the Patrons cause. Yet deep within our hearts we have enshrined Thy memory. And though we travel long life's changeful way Or use the swift river in a day, May we like thee.

Have an abundant entrance To that beautiful home above.

Geo. Anderson has gone to visit his parents in New York accompanied by his brother John and wife of Edgerton. Mr. A. has just finished repairs on his gristmill consisting of raising roof eight feet, new siding and painting completely changing the appearance that it does not look like the same building. Mr. Wm. Hartwell is on the sick list. Mr. Herrington has purchased the house and lot opposite the M. E. church belonging to James Thomas. Has moved into the same. The Grangers held an ice cream social recently for the benefit of a grange library. Had a paper edited by C. S. Juson assisted by Miss Emma Hartwell. A very pleasant time and $12.15 received. C. S. Hartwell and M. Tuttle have gone to Petoskey on business, also Miss Libbie Boker and Miss Jennie Hoag are spending a few weeks in the cooler regions of the state. L. D. Hoag, aged 60, tied up 112 dozen bundles of wheat in a day.

TORNADO AT CASCADE.

"HOD" GETS A BREEZE.

Cascade was visited by a young tornado just before two o'clock last Saturday morning. The most terrific storm of rain and wind dropped down upon us that has ever been known here. There seems to have been two tornadoes or belts of wind, one on the east side of the Thornapple and one on the west. The one on the east lighted down on H. C. Denison's premises doing considerable damage to a new house, demolishing a new hen house and breaking down quite a number of apple trees. Other orchards were somewhat damaged as it passed on to the north. On the west side of the river the wind commenced operations at or just below the mineral springs and from there went nearly north, passing through a tract of valuable oak timber on the premises of H. and H. Holt, breaking down and twisting off in every conceivable shape a hundred or more trees. One side of the storm struck at A. J. Auble's, entering the basement of a large barn tearing up the floor and passing through the barn doors which were thrown off. Near the barn were some large piles of basswood lumber, twelve feet long six inches wide and an inch and a quarter thick. A large number of these boards were carried twelve or fifteen rods where some struck the house, breaking in and demolishing a chamber window sending the fragments against the other end of the room. Another board went endwise against the kitchen door, knocking it into fragments, and when found lay the full length of the board in the room. Just what the family thought is more easily imagined than told, but if their hair didn't stand on end it's a wonder, for beside the wind, the lightning flashed, the thunder rolled and the rain came down in torrents. At the Holt plantation quite a number of large apple trees were broken down

Running a Republican ticket in Virginia is a good deal like running a prohibition ticket in Michigan. It runs well—behind.

Between the Mahone party and Democratic party of Virginia the former is preferable, but it can't win without the aid of the Republican party. The Republican party alone will come in a poor third in the race.

The President's condition took another unfavorable turn Sunday and on Monday another surgical operation was performed, opening a new pus cavity and relieving the patient considerably.

Since the operation favorable reports have been received but it is evident from his weakened condition that there are yet chances against his recovery. The ball is still in his body and further operations may be necessary. How many such shocks he can survive remains to be seen.

The Future of Lowell.

We who are residents here, and who expect to be here for years to come, are of course interested in every scheme or project calculated to add to the growth and prosperity of our town. It is not characteristic of our western people to fold their hands and be content with what they already have.

Lowell is and has long been known as one of the smartest towns in Michigan. It is the central trading point of a large and excellent farming community.

Our exchanges report a better yield of wheat than early estimates called for.

Howard City calls Greenville "a side-track town," and now it's Greenville's turn to say "suthin'."

The State firemen's tournament will be held at Coldwater the first week in September.

Carson City have a fire department worth having. Every man grabs a pail and gets there in about five seconds.

The papers say that E. Bement and Sons of Lansing are making stoves at the rate of 150 a week.

A boat club at Grand Rapids is named the "Neversink Club." What, never-sink? Well, well, we should sink not.

A Lapeer young lady keeps a cadaver in a barrel behind the house—or did until some boys found it. We'll bet that girl dies an old maid.

Bears up at Cheboygan go around frightening unprotected women. Bears never had any manners worthy of special mention.

A Grand Rapids butcher named Danbe sold tainted meat. He was permitted to take his choice—pay $50 fine or go to jail for 40 days.

The Ionia National claims that there is more gambling done in that city than in any other town of its size in Michigan. Wicked Ionia.

The Gratiot County Democrat has suspended owing to lack of support. Bob Smith, however, continues to run the Gratiot County Journal with profit to himself and his readers.

Elder James White, founder of the Seventh Day Adventists and president of the Battle Creek publishing association and college, died in Battle Creek Saturday night. He was a relative of Mr. W. W. Hatch of this village.

Mr. Immen, a Grand Rapids carpet dealer, hired a new clerk just in from Milwaukee. And now the new clerk and $600 of Mr. Immen cash are off on a vacation. Mr. Immen knows more than he did but won't own it.

Three farmers living near Sparta Center drank deep of hard cider and had to pay a fine for getting drunk on it. Look not thou upon the cider when it is hard, for it stingeth like a hornet and swells up a man's head until he cannot put on his hat without stretching the band that encircles it. Drink lacteal fluid and fear not the town squire.

LIST OF LETTERS remaining in the Post-office Lowell, Kent County, Mich., Aug. 16, 1881. Gent's List.—Mr. John Filkins, William Johnson, Samuel Wheeler, Mr. John J. Wood, Andrew D. Waddell, J. R. Warner, Bennie Wright, J. H. Sumbarger.

Not Well Balanced. The cutter in a large tailoring house says that hardly one man in fifty is of well balanced shape. Writers, he says, are low in one shoulder, and seemingly short in one leg, the arm on the misshapen side being apparently longer than the other.

It Was the Hotness. Patrick Quincey was steaming hot as he sat before the bar, although he had been in the cooler all night. "Riotous conduct," his Honor observed as he glanced at the warrant. "I deny it sine die!" protested Patrick.

Cement Wells.

Cheaper and better than brick or tile. These wells are as well protected against surface water and vermin as drive wells are protected, and unlike the drive and tubular wells, are free from the taste of iron, never get out of repair, and can be successfully worked in "quick sand" and water veins, where drive wells are a failure.

WHAT YOU CAN'T DO.
