EDITORIAL TALK. -The nomination of Hon. Roscoo Conkling for associate justice of the supreme court was made by the president last week. At present writing it is not known whether Conkling will accept. If he accepts, he will no doubt be confirmed, and that will be the last of Conkling in the political arena. By nature and education Mr. Conkling is better fitted for political positions than any other. He has in him more of the "executive" than the "judicial." He is a man of strong prejudices and unvielding nature. That he is brilliant in debate, forcible in argument, irrepressible the requisites we look for in a "fair and cordially invited. impartial judge." On the other hand it may be argued that Mr. Conkling is an excellent lawyer and the very personification of dignity. He will be conspicuous on the bench and will do more hard work than any other member. His retirement from the political field will make calm the troubled waters, and the factions of the party he has so long and ably championed will be re-united. The Republican party will not demur at the appointment. Had he been given a cabinet position the troubled waters would have been Inshed into-something; we believe the poet calls it "fury." Had he been given a foreign mission there would have been a heavy sea on for a time and then a placed rest. President Arthur could not well ignore the friendship and services of Mr. Conkling. It would have been ungrateful in him to do so. He has offered him a good place and has perfect confidence in his ability to fill it acceptably. He has offered him a position which, if he does fill acceptably, ness in court. His fitness for the bench the Republican party would prefer he should have to almost any other.

Mason, who sought to avenge the death of Gar-field by shooting at Guiteau, has been, since Sept. 11, confined in a narrow, dark, dirty cell, with only a wooden bench for a bed. At night he is obliged to remain awake to fight rats. His fare is very plain. Guitegu struck a blow at the nation's heart and is treated like a prince. Serg't. Mason tried to send a bullet through the assassin's head and is treated like a dog. We have no defense to offer in Mason's behalf but who shall say that Guiteau is entitled to such tender care and Mason to such cruel neglect? It is enough to almost make a minister swear to think of it.

-Representative Turnbull (Dem.) has offered an amendment to the tax bill, giving the publication of the tax sales to the lowest responsible bidder, and the Detroit Free Press (Dem.) says it ought to pass. The present system, adopted by a Democratic legislature, was good enough for Democrats when they were in power, and, as a matter of courtesy to the opposition, the Republicans ought not to take any action on the question that will reflect discredit on previous Democratic legislation. Certainly not. Banish the thought!

The Band masquerade party, though not so largely attended as the one given a year ago, was nevertheless a success, in point of numbers as well as in other respects. There were just enough present to fill the hall comfortably. Many fine costumes were worn, to designate which would require too much space. The JOURNAL was pleased to find itself so well represented in the person of Mrs. J. C. Moore, who was very becomingly attired in blue, with numerous headings of the Journal very tastefully arranged on the dress and crown. There were ther ladies very neatly attired in costumes of their own making, while some very rich rented costumes were seen in the hall. Howe's orchestra furnished excellent music and the supper at the Commercial House was one of the best ever served in Lowell. The tables were against the proprietors of the Irving laden with "the choicest and best," and presented a most inviting appearance. #### A BAD BREAK,

In Flat River Bridge. About one o'clock this morning a bad break occurred in the earthwork of Flat river bridge completely cutting the street in two and carrying away the building occupied by C. M. Devendorf, agent for sewing machines, organs, &c, and by Henry Mitchell township treasurer. In the building Devendorf had 25 sewing machines, one organ and other articles for a few days. He purposes taking a ofvalue. Some of the machines are being recovered as we write, but Devendorf's loss will be large. The building floated down several rods toward the island and anchored The south embankment. piles and all gave way with tremendous force and a deep fissure several feet in width extends across the street, making the bridge impassable. The waste weir just west of the break is in danger of going out but may be saved. A terribly swift current sweeps down the channel, The water rose so rapidly about midnight that it was reported by some that some of the dams up the river must have given out. We hear nothing so far to confirm the report. Treasurer Mitchell's books went with the building, but the assessment roll he had safe at ome. Mitchell owned the building.

ANOTHER BREAK. At nine o'clock this morning another break occurred, the platform of Curtiss & Church falling in, with some machinery. At this writing Strong, the jeweler is moving his goods out of the store just west of Curtiss & Church. The current is still very swift and it is feared other buildings may be undermined. The gap across the street (bridge) is from ten to twenty-five feet wide.

As we go to press no new breaks have occurred although fears are entertained that Curtiss and Church's building and Strong's store may be undermined. At noon to-day report comes that sever-al dams have gone out above here and the logs are coming. If so there is great danger of more trouble here.

As to the "scare" over the matter there has been a good deal said but all will agree that as a precaution, and when still in doubt, it is much more the part of wisdom to begin with smallpox and end with measles than to begin with measles and end with smallpox. As a precaution, we say, it was wise to announce the case just as it was announced until its full development removed all doubt as to the nature of the Session of the Legislature. The following is the full text of Governor Jeronie's message, read before the special session of the Legislature at Lan-sing Thursday afternoon: Senators and Gentlemen of the House of Repre-

Questions to be Considered at the Special

The Constitution of the State provides that "the Governor may convene the Legislature on extraordinary occasions. Such an occasion has been reached. An emergency of pressing character has caused me to exercise the power at an earlier day than would otherwise have been necessary.

A district covering portions of Huron, Sanilac, Tuscola, St. Clair, and Lapeer counties was widely devastated in September last by forest fires, the property of 3,231 families destroyed, and 14,433 persons made dependent upon public aid. In this calamity 1,521 dwellings were consumed, together with 1,480 mestic animals in great numbers, and vast quantities of household furniture, clothing, and agricultural involved clothing, and agricultural implements, with accumulated stores of food. The losses of those who have asked and received aid, as shown by sworn appraisals, amounted to $2,346,946 or an average of over $726 for each family. To add to the terrible aspects of these dreadful misfortunes, nearly 300 human being perished in consequence by suffocation and by surfame. No reference is made at the estimate to the Joses of those who have neither asked nor re-

those who have neither asked nor required assistance, which are known to men, women and children destitute of either clothing, food or shelter—all that was combustible had been swept away.

It covered a territory of over 1,800 The members of the Board of Control square miles, and in the progress of its having charge of this school have here-ravages swept the entire district within tofore been paid for their services out of from two to four hours after it began. No time was given even to save household treasures. With a furious wind came smoke and intense darkness, followed quickly by a fervent heat that nothing could withstand. The wonder is not that so many perished, but that so many perished, but that so many escaped. The urgent necessities created by this calamity demanded instant relief. Before the fires were exhausted food and clothing were being administered from neighboring communities. The people neighboring communities. The people of this State and of other States responded to appeals to their humanity with a broad and kindly generosity that can never be forgotten. Seldom within the memory of this generation has the kinship of mankind been demonstrated by more marked and tangible manifestations. The theory of the State tions. The thanks of the State are due to every individual who came to the help of our suffering fellow-citizens at help of our suffering fellow-citizens at this trying juncture, and they especially belong to the men and women of our sister commonwealths and the neighbor-ing British Provinces. In addition to large amounts contributed for this re lief by churches, societies and individ-uals directly to the sufferers, of which h ere is no attainable record, but which s known to aggregate many thousands of dollars, there has been received by the State fire relief commission, the De-troit and Port Huron Committees, and the committees of other localities, as reported to me, the sum of $623,437,89 in cash, together with donations in kind which when added to the cash contributions would equal the sum of one million sequently after the first distresses were relieved, the unfortunate people whose wants we are now considering, being left with nothing but bare land, were compelled to ele't between seeking new homes elsewhere or to depend upon being sustained by other than their own resources until they could reach self-support from the product of their own farms. They chose the latter course farms. They chose the latter course, with the most encouraging results thus far, and have devoted their energies and labor to rebuilding houses and fences and to sowing fall grain, the return from which can only be realized at the coming harvest coming harvest. In order to succeed in the course adopted and to continue in the occupancy of their lands as homes, these people must be sustained until their crops mature. They must have food until harest, and food for their animals until the grass grows. They also require seed for their spring crops. The contributed funds will soon be spent and the harvest is months in the future.

The exigencies of the case demand action, and to afford relief is no longer a question of policy—it is an imperative duty. The State cannot permit its people to want for food. In 1859, under similar circumstances to a limited ex-tent, citizens were aided from the Treasury of the state, and the act was in harmy with the judgment and sentiment of the people.

For more specific information you are respectfully referred to the report of the State Fire Relief Commission, which covers the transactions of committees at Detroit. East Saginaw, Bay City, and Flint, and to the report of the Port Hu-ron Committee, both of which are here-to appended. I commend the wants of these unfortunate people to your generous consideration.

The tax rolls for the townships of Forester and Evergreen, in the county of Sanilac, were destroyed in the general conflagration, and legislation is now asked to legalize the action of their au thorities in making subsequent provision for the collection of the taxes in those townships. I recommend that

The commission appointed has performed its work with much labor and intelligence. confidence that upon examination the work of the comision will commend itself in its comprehensiveness as a great improvement over the present system, and will receive at your hands such careful consideration as the importance of the subject demands.

CONGRESSIONAL APPORTIONMENT. A bill for the reapportionment of the popular representation in Congress, on the basis of the tenth census, only awaits the signature of the President to become a law, and it will devolve upon you to adjust the Congressional districts of the State in accordance therewith.

Two members have been added to the epresentation of Michigan, and the relative progress with this fact exhibits will be a subject of general congratula-tion among our citizens. THE STATE HOUSE OF CORRECTION AND RE-FORMATORY AT IONIA.

The number of inmates in this institu-tion, on the first of the present month, had increased to 600. The contracts for their labor cover but one-half this num-her, or 300, leaving 300 unemployed, save those necessary to do the domestic work of the prison. For the fatter pur-pose 60 are sufficient. What can be done to employ the 240 idle prisoners? One hundred of them are now constantly locked in their cells, and the remainder kept at unremunerative and sub-stantially unnecessary work. Thus it is evident that the number of prisoners has evident that the number of prisoners has increased out of proportion to the preparation for their proper employment. This is not for lack of opportunities to contract for their labor. The managers report applications for labor, at fair prices, for manufacturing purposes, to be carried on within the prison walls.

The shops now constructed are occupied by the present contractors, and employment cannot be increased until more room is provided.

The managers have submitted plans for additional shops to cost some $10,000 for material, the prisoners to do the la-bor of construction. They also estimate that the prison receipts can thereby be increased $30 to $40 per day without additional current expense, and the men relieved at the same time from constant confinement. I think the needed appropriation should be made to carry out the plan of the managers.

The delay in selecting a permanent site had prevented the management from adopting a definite plan on which to base an intelligent request for an appropria-

No appropriation has been made for permanent improvements since the ori-ginal act establishing the school. The funds heretofore provided have been ex-hausted and improvements are needed to accommodate the increased demand-for admission. Your attention is re-spectfully called to the subject.

EASTERN MICHIGAN ASYLUM. The completion of the additional wings to the asylum at Pontiac will render its capacity equal to the asylum at Kalama-mazoo, and will necessitate a corres-ponding increase in the medical staff. The present appropriation is insufficient for this purpose, and an additional sum is a necessity to duly equip the asylum. I recommend an appropriation for sala-ries for officers for this asylum equal to that made for Kalamazoo.

MICHIGAN REFORM SCHOOL FOR GIRLS. The Board of Control of the Reform School for Girls calls my attention to the want of facilities for surgical treatdollars.

CONTINGENT DAMAGES TO STATE INSTITU TIONS BY FIRE.

At present there is no insurance At present there is no insurance against losses by fire occurring in any of the State institutions, nor is there any provision therefor. The embarassments growing out of the destruction of similar property in other states during the past year cause a natural feeling of insecurity have considered. curity here, especially among the mana-gers of our asylums.

At a recent meeting of the joint boards of the asylums the following action was Resolved. That the Board of Trustee of the Eastern Michigan Asylum for the Insane, now in joint session, respectfully renew their request to the Governor of the State to recommend to the Legislature at its approaching extra session that a sum of not less than $100,000 be provisionally appropriated to commence the immediate rebuilding of the asylums for the insane in the event of their injury or destruction by fire.

Were either asylum to be destroyed most serious inconvenience would be felt, and the longer the delay in repairing or rebuilding the more embarrassing would be the difficulty. Nothing could be done until the Legislature convened. This would be attended by loss of time; and should an extra session be necessary, by large expense.

Would it not be very wise to place within the control of some State authority a fund sufficient for making repairs or rebuilding to a limited extent any of the State buildings which may be jured or destroyed when the Legislature s not in session?

I have called your attention to these wants of the State institutions, feeling forcibly impressed with their import ance and urgency from knowledge ac quired by personal inspection.
