EDITORIAL TALK.

—“M. Quad” of the Free Press is the author of a series of interesting articles now running in that paper, entitled “SIXTEEN YEARS AFTER,” which means a review of the battles of the late war. Quad is a good descriptive pen juggler but it puzzles us to know how he is coming out. So far he has had the Union forces pretty generally repudiated, bagged or cut up by the confederates, and “it’s a cold day” when Quad doesn’t have the conquered Union forces outnumber the rebels two to one. If this thing continues to run along until he strikes Appomattox, Quad will have to stop and practice in the gymnasium a month or two, before he can make his readers believe that Gen. Lee ever did such a foolish thing as to surrender to Gen. Grant. We never followed up an eloquent case with that degree of interest and anxious speculation that now possess us as we wait for Quad’s closing chapter. The vast superiority of the confederate soldier over the Union army he has so indisputably proven, in almost every battle, makes it doubly hard for us to see how under the great blue canopy and the old tree at Appomattox Gen. Lee was induced to give up his sword. Personally Gen. Lee was too pure a man to be bribed, and too severely earnest to do it for a joke. If there had been any “circumstances over which he had no control,” then we should say that what aided him, but Quad doesn’t even intimate such a thing. No use, we give it up.

—The flood sufferers along the lower Mississippi ask Congress for aid in their distress, and aid should be given them promptly. Whole counties have been submerged and the destruction of property is appalling. They must have help from some source and they appeal to the national Congress for it, instead of asking their own state authorities to come to their rescue. There are times, then, when even the Mississippi recognizes the fact that the nation is greater than a state. In other words the appeal from Mississippi to congress for aid is a curious comment on the states’ rights doctrine. It is, indeed, in a time of deep distress (what better test could be applied?) they look beyond the limits of State for succor—for protection. Give them a helping hand under the old flag.

—The state legislature left the apportionment of the eleven congressional district of this state, standing as follows: First District—Wayne county; Second—Monroe, Lenawee, Hillsdale and Washtenaw; Third—Jackson, Calhoun, Branch, Barry and Eaton; Fourth—Berrien, Cass, St. Joseph, Kalamazoo and Van Buren; Fifth—Allegan, Kent, Ottawa and Ionia; Sixth—Clinton, Ingham, Oakland, Genesee; Seventh—Macomb, St. Clair, Sanilac, Lapeer, Huron; Eighth—Shiawassee, Montcalm, Gratiot, Saginaw, Iosauella and Midland; Ninth—Muskegon, Oceana, Newaygo, Mecosta, Mason, Lake, Oshtemo, Manistee, Wexford, Muskegon, Kalamazoo, AuTrain and Charlevoix; Tenth—Tuscola, Bay, Gladwin, Clare, Roscommon, Genesee, Iosau, Crawford, Oshtemo, Alcona, Ogemaw, Montmorency, Alpena, Presque Isle, Cheboygan and Emmet; Eleventh—Benzie, Grand Traverse, Leelanaw, Manistowick and the Upper Peninsula.

—This arrangement makes this (5th) district the most populous district in the state. We are sorry to part with old reliable Muskegon county and its good men, but if our loss will prove to be their gain all will be well. Muskegon now belongs to the ninth district with twelve other good counties. She still belongs to a strong Republican district, the same as before.

—The Ionia National is nothing if not courageous. Appealing to the greenbackers to rally round the flag, it shouts—“Gird on the armor and plunge into the fight! Onward, all, to victory!” Our esteemed brother of the National will pardon us for mentioning in this connection an incident that occurred in town a few days ago. A stranger stepped out of a saloon pretty full of budge and wanted to fight, claiming he could lick the whole crowd. He had his armor on and was ready to plunge in, so to speak. The bigger the crowd the braver he got, if noise indicates bravery. The crowd was amused but not frightened.

Why is it that Senator Davis is so very anxious to have Edmunds accept a position upon the supreme bench? Davis once held that position himself, and resigned it for a seat in the senate chamber. Does Davis fear Edmunds as a rival candidate for the presidential chair? If that is the cause of his anxiety, he might just as well possess his soul in peace. He never will get there. G. R. Democrat.

That settles Edmunds again. Poor man, he will probably feel now like giving all he’s worth for the privilege of sitting on the fence and seeing the man go by that the Democrat thinks will be the next President.

—Saturday’s Post & Tribune says: Special reports from over 300 points in Michigan, printed in this issue of the Post & Tribune, show over 1,300,000 bushels of wheat in elevators and warehouses, 98,000 bushels of corn and 135,000 bushels of oats. The general condition of the wheat crop on the ground is very favorable, promising the largest yield for the next harvest ever gathered in Michigan. The surplus in farmers’ hands is not large, estimates ranging from nothing up to 35 per cent.

—The public debt was reduced about $10,000,000 in February, but the greenback man says you can’t believe those reports from Washington. Authentic reports from the various departments emanate from such men as Dick Trevelick and Moses Field.

—A letter was recently published in the N. Y. Sun purporting to have been written by Gen. Garfield to Secretary Chase in 1863, severely criticizing Gen. Rosecrans’ conduct of the campaign of the Army of the Cumberland. The friends of the late president say the letter is a forgery. Following this, a most bitter attack upon the personal character of Garfield appeared in the Washington Post last Friday. By whomsoever written it is a cowardly, devilish deed. We care not who he is, or what his name, the writer is at heart a low-lived rot, a shameless, designing cowardly villain, beside whom the professional grave robber is a saint. The attack is the most wanton, heartless and malicious that could be planned. The remains of the murdered Garfield are scarcely laid to rest ere the cowardly foe prepares to desecrate the tomb. Not by stealing in at midnight to snatch the body from the grave for the dissecting room, but by standing over the dead body and thrusting the dagger of hate into his good name. Guiteau, the assassin, will be hanged for taking the life of Garfield, but this invisible foe who stands over the corpse of the murdered president and would mutilate his good name, is an assassin whom the hangman’s rope cannot touch. What kind of a fiend in human form is he who thus enters the home of the broken hearted widow and attempts to take from her all that is left of him who was everything to her? Who is he who seeks to turn a nation’s praises of the martyred president into curses? Let Satan resign until the answer is found.

—The special session of the state legislature practically closed last Saturday. The work of the session has been generally satisfactory and no time has been foolishly spent. The general tax law has been improved and the tax system simplified. The apportionment of the eleven congressional districts has been as fairly and wisely made perhaps as any body of men could have done it. The fire sufferers have been liberally provided for. These were the three important questions before the legislature. Some local legislation was rushed through at the close, which may have been both wise and unwise; time will tell. We are glad that the general impression prevails that the legislature assembled for business, and not for a play-spell, and that the results of its labors are in the main satisfactory.

—Sergeant Mason, who shot at Guiteau, has been sentenced to eight years of hard labor in the Albany penitentiary. He is dishonorably discharged from the service, and loses all pay due him by the government. It is believed that the President will pardon him. The sentence is generally regarded as too severe. It does seem so. True, he violated a very binding rule of the army regulations, but under the circumstances, the clemency of the court would show up big here—were the people the court.

—“The Idler” in “Chaff” says “a flirting woman is a thing to be laughed at, but a professional flirt is something to abhor.” Well, now, isn’t it rather difficult sometimes to tell just where to leave off laughing and begin to abhor? Enclosed find stamp for reply.

The heaviest taxpaying editor in America is James Gordon Bennett of the New York Herald, his assessed valuation being $1,200,000. That is $200,000 more than the JOURNAL was ever assessed, even in war times.

A special dispatch Saturday stated that C. M. Crowell, Jr., son of ex-Gov. Crowell, has been arrested at San Francisco for forgery and highway robbery. The report seems incredible.

—A terrible earthquake in the central part of Costa Rica, destroying four towns entire and burying many thousands of people, is reported. Can anything be more appalling?

—According to latest advices the Mormons are still in Utah. All except those who are going about from place to place all over the country on proselyting excursions.

—Conkling declined, Edmunds declined, and now Judge Blatchford has a chance to decline if he wants to improve it. He will probably accept, however.

—A women’s rights woman steps to the front and proclaims that Job’s patience was no more forbearing than Mrs. Job’s who had to make all the puddings.

—John B. Gough has lost his voice, the papers say. We think there must be a mistake in the report. It must have meant coat tails, not voice.

—Lieut. Gov. Crosby will probably be renominated without opposition. He has done nobly and deserves the usual endorsement.

—Last week’s “Chaff” was one of the brightest numbers we have seen. More money in “Chaff” than in wheat, now a days.

—Scoville’s lecturing tour has not been a success. The people would rather hear him snore than lecture.

—The American navy—but let bygones be bygones.

JOURNAL JOTTINGS.

Donnan and Culver swing out a new sign.

Widow Bedott at Music Hall Friday night.

The firm of Kopf, Hill and Trask is dissolved.

Tragedian Booth at Grand Rapids tomorrow night.

A new bill board has been put up east of Music Hall block.

It is now time to plant spring advertisements in the JOURNAL.

Mr. J. E. Bennett is still confined to his bed at the Davis House.

Miss Mary Laughlan, of Vergennes, is very ill with diphtheria.

B. G. Wilson has been raising the upper story of his house a few feet.

The Ionia National has very sensibly adopted the cash in advance system.

A very pleasant “Impromptu” party was that at Train’s Hall Friday night.

The Hastings Banner has a neat new dress, and is an ably conducted journal.

Myron H. Walker returned from a business trip to Indianapolis Monday night.

The Fontaine engine made six miles in 44 minutes and was only joggling along at that.

Mr. Frank Prindle of Grand Rapids has been spending a few days with Lowell friends.

The editor of the JOURNAL attends the meeting of the State Press Association to-day, at Lansing.

The JOURNAL is again indebted to Senator Ferry and Congressman Webber for public documents.

Sixty-five new converts have recently been added to the M. E. Church at Cadillac, says the News.

Candidates are around fixing up their fences. Yes, and some of them are putting up (at) the bars.

Grand Rapids is to have an all night restaurant. It will probably be “all day” with those who sit up with it.

Anticipating Vennor we beg to observe that the weather Apr. 3d will be rather squally for Democrats.

Senator Ferry and Congressman Hubbell returned to Washington last week, after a brief visit to Michigan.

The Cantata of Esther, “beau-teous queen,” is being presented in various Michigan towns. It is old but good.

As smallpox subsides, base ball breaks out. O. Adam, Adam, why did you boot Eve up in reach of that russet?

Township election two weeks from next Monday. Village election Tuesday following. About time to call a caucus. Where is the committee?

Engene Parrish has arrived here from Ovid to stay. He is associated with Messrs. Danforth and Flanagan in the new manufacturing enterprise here.

An exchange gives a list of the religious journals published in this country as follows: Adventists, 14; Baptists, 73; Christians, 2; Congregationalists, 15; Campbellites, 12; Dunkers, 3; Episcopalians, 32; Evangelical Association, 12; Moravians, 7; Israelites, 16; Lutherans, 83; Methodists, 16; Mormons, 6; Presbyterians, 30; Quakers, 8; Reformed, 10; Roman Catholics, 67; Spiritualists, 6; Swedenborgians, 3; Unitarians, 5; Universalists, 7; United Brethren, 7; Non-denominational, 14. Of the Lutheran journals there are 90 German, 27 English, 6 Swedish, 15 Norwegian, and 4 Danish.

Mabley, the Detroit clothier, has opened a branch store at Ionia, more to give his rival, Hudson, than his customers, fits.

The JOURNAL is glad to hear that Mrs. J. M. Weatherwax has been improving in health since arriving at Santa Barbara, Cal.

The JOURNAL is informed that N. F. Slavson, of Cedar Springs, recently died in Texas whither he had gone to recover his lost health.

A teachers’ examination will be held on Saturday of this week at Train’s Hall in this village, commencing at nine o’clock a. m.

An old man named James Bell was found dead in the barn of Mr. Schermerhorn, Walker township, Saturday night.

The Huxley building and Romig’s barber shop have been raised. If the owners do not look out some of those buildings on the bridge will be razed.

The state association of liberlists and spiritualists will meet at Ionia March 23d and continue in session until the 28th. Noted speakers from abroad are expected.

B. T. Halstead of Freeport, for a long time a valued correspondent of the JOURNAL, has gone to Harbor Springs to practice law. He is an able man and we bespeak for him a bright future.

The Ionia Standard rather caustically criticises the Ladies Library Association of that city for putting on its lecture course such “impostors” as Gen. Cary and Col. Sanford. Impostors?

Prof. G. B. Balcom of this village delighted a large company of Ionians with his violin playing at a musical soiree a few nights ago. The Ionia papers speak enthusiastically of his skill with the bow.

Reserved seat tickets for the Widow Bedott performance for sale at F. D. Eddy’s. If you want to laugh and grow fat go and see the widdler and her Sniffles.

It is a solemn but undeniable fact that Grand Rapids is one of the most noted towns in Michigan for “smouldering sensations.” The art of smouldering sensations is one in which all classes seem to be interested.

We lost a subscriber the other day because we refused to publish thirteen verses of home made poetry. But when we think of the number of subscribers we might have lost if we had published it, a peaceful rest comes and sets on the summit of our conscience, which money cannot buy.

Subject at the congregational church next Sabbath morning: What constitutes a church? Matthew 6: 18. In the evening the pastor commences a course of lectures on “The truth of Christianity,” during which all other pretended revelations will be examined, and infidel objections considered.

At the recent farmer’s institute at Ionia Mr. D. H. English read an excellent original paper on “the best breed of cattle.” He is a firm believer in the “short horn” and cites authorities and personal experience to show that he has “reason for the faith within him.” The subject assigned him was ably treated.

Helen Coleman the Widow Bedott company will perform at Music Hall, in Lowell, Friday evening March, 17th. The “widow” is said to have a strong support. The Danbury News says: “Miss Helen Coleman in her favorite character eclipses them all.” For particulars see bills.

How much more rain will it take to keep a person from a good show than a prayer meeting?—Charlotte Republican.

(1) There was never a rain storm so severe as to keep folks away from a good show. You recollect they tried it in Noah’s time, but Noah had to take his menagerie along, after all. (2) A heavy dew is sufficient sometimes to guarantee a magnificent failure on prayer meeting nights. If you answer this by saying “dew tell”—your a dead man.

The “poor lone widdler” who swindled a few ladies here out of a dollar each a few days ago, is still on the war path, giving out his pitiful story and taking in the dollars. It is singularly strange that she has not been picked up before this. Nearly all the state papers on our exchange list, including the Detroit dailies, have posted her as an impostor, and yet she goes from town to town unmolested, and rakes in the ready cash with neatness and dispatch. If she were a worthy woman she probably would have become discouraged long ago.

Thursday morning’s Free Press contained an article clipped from the JOURNAL of Wednesday. The JOURNAL could not have reached Detroit until about 11 o’clock Wednesday night and the columns of the Free Press, except the telegraphic department, must have been made up soon after midnight. The State editor of the Free Press probably received a bundle of state papers by the same mail. To look them over, make his selections, have them set up, read the proof, and have the selections made up in the forms ready for the electrotype, must have been lively work. And yet with all this to do in so short a time the State editor did not forget to give the proper credit. There is system in the Free Press office and it would be safer to set your watch by it, than by half the town clocks.

Another very interesting temperance meeting at Train’s Hall Sunday night. Hall crowded, good speeches by Revs. Oldfield and Van Wagner, good singing by the choir, and a general interest manifested. The principal address of the evening was from Mr. Oldfield, who made a very logical, convincing, as well as entertaining speech.

Prof. Ward closed a very successful term of school in the Watters District Vergennes, last Thursday. In the evening the school gave an entertainment and although the night was stormy the house was filled and the exercises passed off very pleasantly.

The music, instrumental and vocal, was the feature of the evening.

The violin rendition by Miss Libbie Kellogg, with organ accompaniment, the concert exercises by the school, and singing by a little girl 4 years old, were particularly fine, but the entire school did credit to the training of their teacher.

Professor Ward took his position as Principal’s Assistant in the Lowell school Monday. The people of Lowell are to be congratulated upon having secured the services of so proficient a teacher and accomplished and courteous a gentleman.

The following is the list of names of those who left Lowell for Dakota last week, so far as we have been able to obtain them: L. L. McPherson, Fred Alger, Frank Fox, John A. Cole, Lucius Alger, Geo. Krum, E. L. Bennett, A. W. Morgan, A. Kennedy, A. Black, Mr. Blackmer, D. Hoppough. Next Monday the following persons expect to follow: F. D. Adams, W. J. Atkins, M. S. Stocking and family, Frank Madison,

C. F. Robinson, Mr. Goldthright, C. Boyce, H. E. Triphagen, S. Ashley, Jas. Leak, and their families, Geo. D. Wood, E. Post Jr., Henry Shoop, Lew Alger, E. Bailey and family, F. C. Kendall, Thos. Scarville, Will Sullivan, C. Studd, Marshall Brown, B. R. Wheeler, Mrs. F. J. Fox, Mrs. L. L. McPherson, H. King and family. The above may not be all that will go, but we have given the list received to date at this office.

Hon. Wm. Crosby, of Harbor Springs is in town.

H. Nash’s factory is now run by steam power.

Miss Peck’s entertainment at Music Hall, Wednesday evening, March 29.

Sir Knights Hastings, Swarout, Owen and Kirk of DeMolai Conventary, Grand Rapids, met with Lowell Sir Knights at Train’s Hall last night for drill. In company with about a dozen Lowell Knights they were handsomely entertained and richly banqueted at J. Q. Look’s.

It will be remembered that after Mrs. Barnard’s acquittal, the Greenville Baptist church struck her name from the membership roll. To-day, a council composed of chosen delegates from a number of churches, met at Greenville we are informed, to whom will be submitted the question of whether the church did right of wrong in driving her out of the church. C. Oldfield, E. W. Dodge and L. E. Chase are delegates to the council from the Lowell Baptist church. Acquitted of the crime she was expelled: had she been convicted, what then?

State Teacher’s Institute.

The State Sup’t. of Public Instruction has appointed an institute for Kent Co., to be held at Lowell during the week commencing April 3d. Instructors from abroad will be present, music will be provided, reduced rates of board will be secured if possible, and everything will be done to make the institute a source of pleasure and profit to the teachers of this county. The program and further particulars will be announced later.

Journal State Jottings.

Depot at Minden burned Friday.

Adrian’s missing Mayor still absent.

The Flushing coal mine is to be worked.

New military company mustered in at Jackson.

It cost just $1,005 to run Utica, Mich. last year.

Horse thieves are playing it fine in Oakland county.

Very few greenbackers left in Saginaw valley, says the News.

There are several Jewish exiles from Russia in Grand Rapids.

Bellevue wants $500 worth of fire department. Good thing to have.

William McGann was killed by the cars at Mecosta Thursday night.

Fire at Hudsonville Saturday destroyed the post-office and a well filled store.

Coldwater is said to be a tougher town than Leadville. Look out now for a rush to Coldwater.

A Hillsdale lady cut her finger, while pruning a cactus. Finger poisoned and had to be amputated.

Flint will have a button factory. Some live town ought to start up a button-hole factory. That’s the crying demand.

The cloth pedler is among the farmers once more. Look out for him, especially if he pretends to be a pious chap.

Common Council.

Lowell, March 1, 1882.

Regular meeting of the Common Council.

Present, Messrs. Barber, Train, Graham and Sinderlin.

Minutes of the last regular meeting read and approved.

The following bills were presented, audited and ordered paid.

Bill, M. C. Barber,	$18.39 Gen’l fund
“ R. Marshall,	6.75 “
“ O. M. Coates,	11.00 Fire “

“ E. G. Preston & Co.,	30.00 “
“ E. A. Sinderlin,	50.00 Gen’l “
“ A. F. Jones,	3.00 Fire “

The president presented the resignation of Robert Marshall as village marshal which was accepted.

On motion R. W. Graham was authorized to borrow for the use of the village $500 on 90 days time.

On motion of Mr. Train $12 was appropriated to purchase of W. W. Hatch a spray nozzle.

On motion the council adjourned.

E. A. SUNDERLIN, Recorder.

Neighborhood News. [Correspondents will please send brief, newsy items. Write only on one side of sheet. Separate paragraphs. Letters should reach us not later than Monday evening.]

CASCADE ITEMS. Dr. Danforth's brother, Dr. Clarence Danforth of Grandville is, very dangerously sick with diphtheria. The foot-bridge across the river at C. F. Holt's is washed away again this spring. The party at the Grange Hall Thursday night was a failure on account of the storm, and was postponed until March 28d. We hope that those that ventured out Thursday night will not be discouraged, but come again on other night. L. B. Lowry has rented his farm in Cascade and will move to Victor, Iowa. The funeral of Mrs. Keyes took place on Friday, March 10th. The roads between Cascade and Ada were never so bad. We wish that those that are fighting the road across the river had to travel over them about three times a day. The Ladies Aid Society is talking of getting up a dinner on election day, as there is no hotel in the village now. Mr. A. J. Auble and J. R. Laramy will each build a new house this spring.

SMYRNA SQUIDS. School closes in two weeks. Our hotel has again changed hands. Sam Schelinger now rings the grub bell, having bought the property. One of our blacksmiths is too happy for anything. He is singing "Hush-a-bye" to his first. Mrs. C. Smith is suffering from injuries received by a fall. We have a right smart preacher here. The ladies home mission will meet next Thursday. The little missionaries will have a picnic supper Saturday afternoon. Singing school has fizzled. Walking good—overhead, but very few here seem to be headed that way.

CANNON REPORTS. Mrs. Frank Kromer and her daughter, Mrs. O. O. Clark of Cedar Springs are spending a couple of weeks here visiting friends and relatives. Mr. John Thomas moves on to the Hiram Clark place this week. Mrs. O. L. Chamberlain is very sick with lung fever. Winter term of school closed last Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lacy of Cedar Springs are visiting relatives here. Rev. D. L. Eaton lectured in the Cong. church Sunday evening. Subject—"St. Patrick." He lectures at the Bostwick Lake church next Sabbath evening. Rev. J. M. Aikin is obliged to take a vacation of a month for his health. He left Monday for Barry county. Rev. Mr. Cogshall of Sparta preaches in the M. E. Church at half past ten Sunday March 26.

SOUTH BOSTON NEWS. Mrs. J. G. Fletcher is very sick. J. Leak sold a portion of his personal property at auction on Friday, and intends to start for Dakota this month. Lewis Fletcher of Sand Lake and Elson Fletcher were at their old home last week. The donation for Elder Turner was postponed until Friday night on account of the weather, at which time the receipts were good, considering the condition of the roads. An oyster supper at the U. E. Church Wednesday night. The evening meetings at the M. E. church closed Sunday evening. Geo. Winegar goes to Indiana this week to remain some time, if all parties are satisfied. A petition is being circulated asking the Supervisor to make provisions for the Electors to vote in favor of a money road tax. It is a move in the right direction. Let every body sign it and vote accordingly. Another invoice of short-horns for Ionia Co.

AROUND BOWNE CENTER. Mr. and Mrs. Roswell F. Tyler and their granddaughter, Lena Stark, of Hesperia, are visiting relatives here. Mr. Tyler is one of the pioneers of Bowne. He purchased the farm now owned by James Morgan's heirs, the second day of October 1837 and was the first supervisor of the town from 1849 to 1852. The sugar party at the grange hall Wednesday night was well attended. John S. Walton, youngest daughter entertained the young folks last Friday night with hot sugar and other luxuries. Coppens and Gardner's Bond did the music, the youngsters did the rest. Mr. Nash's family have recovered from diphtheria. James Johnson's family have had a slight attack of the same but nothing serious as yet. Dr. Haskins attending. The ice storm has done considerable damage to fruit and forest trees.

MORSE LAKE RIFPLES. Last Friday saw the close of the winter term of the Morse Lake school. An excellent literary entertainment was presented, the Mapes school participating. The father of Horace Sears died at the residence of that gentleman a few days ago. He had reached the age of 94 years. Sunday school review a week from next Sunday at the M. E. Church. John Hartley has a bad abscess in his hand. Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Kroniger are preparing for a trip to Kansas. Harvey Gordon, of Nashville, is about moving upon the farm of his father-in-law, Deacon Campbell. Earl Curtis shot a wild cat on the bank of McEwen lake, last Friday. It looked as though it would be a tough customer to handle. Lewis Clark has just returned from Sanilac Co. whither he had accompanied his daughter, Mrs. Joel Merriman. He speaks highly of the "burnt country," for farming purposes. Charley Freyermuth and Will Thomas, started for California the 12th. We wish them success. Mr. and Mrs. Calkins, receive very encouraging news from Andrew. The cloth peddler has been here selling English goods. He roped in some Americans.

GRATTAN GATHERINGS. Sleighs are used to some extent and a little more snow falling every day. Rev. T. Robinson will continue with the Ashley and White Swan churches, another year. Nehemiah Smith is now at Ann Arbor, having his eyes treated. The sick list is increasing from colds and lung affections. H. Green has returned from a visit to Fowlerville, Trenton and Detroit. Solomon Tower died at the Franklin House, Belding, March 5, aged 71 years. He was one of the first settlers of Grattan, having lived here some 25 years. The funeral services were held at Grattan Church March 7. Bet B. Mudge of Belding officiating. Mr. Tower leaves three sons and three daughters, and was staying with one daughter when taken with pneumonia; his sickness lasting but one week. School closed in Dist. No. 7, fractional of Oakland and Grattan, last week, and the scholar's paper, "The Town-Hill Advertiser," read by Bertie Lessiter, was commended by many visitors. The teacher, Lewis Hall, starts to-day, Monday, to resume his studies at the Agricultural College, Lansing. Between 3 and 4 o'clock Friday morning the Union schoolhouse at Grattan Center was discovered on fire, and so far gone that nothing was saved—scholar's books, organ etc. all burned. How it took fire is still a mystery. Insurance unknown.
