Editorial Talk.

We notice there is a decided hankering among some of the leading spirits of the greenback party and of the dem ocratic party in Michigan to unite their forces against the Republicans next fall and try very hard to defeat the Republi can ticket. This is no new scheme; it has been attempted before and the re sult has been very gratifying—to the Republicans. If the opposition decide to take another double-handed turn at the crank we trust they will find sound forth such a declaration of principles as shall command the admiration of even their enemies. The hard money democracy of Michigan and the soft money greenbackers of Michi gan can build a platform, if they will, broad enough for all to stand on, but they want to be very careful in con structing it. If they put a soft money plank next to a hard money plank the former will shrink while the latter will not. Therefore they will leave out both these planks and hunt up something else. If they bring up the Chinese question they will break themselves all up and that won't do. Go light on the heathen Chinese. If they try to shove in a tariff or free trade plank the slivers will fly in every direction, and therefore go easy on the tariff business. But there is one grand, noble, soul inspiring something which they can build a big, broad beau tiful platform of, and snug up together on and that is "Anything to beat the Republicans!" That's enough. O, it may be well enough to throw in a few catch words on anti-monopoly, and refer in general way to the individ ual sins of some prominent Republicans who by the way are being duly scourged by their own party (but don't say anything about that), but the one grand central thought is "Anything to beat the Republicans!" and if the opposing parties are strictly honest they will be their platform. The Republicans have been in power in Michigan for a long time. Under Republican control the State has prospered beyond what even the most sanguine dared to hope. There has been no official crookedness anywhere among the state officials these many years. Every department has been able and judiciously presided over. No State in the Union can show a purer or better government than ours. Because this is so the people have said at every biennial election "we are satisfied; let the same faithful, honest servant—the Republican party—continue to serve us." And this is what the people will repeat next fall. They prefer to keep the reins in the hands of those who know which way to drive. How it would look to see a hard money democrat jerking upon one line and a soft money greenbacker pulling away at the other.

If the two opposing parties decide to unite against the Republicans it will be for "spoils" and nothing else. If this is a good reason why the Republicans should be ousted, the people will signify it at the polls. Their intelligence and respect for honest motives, however, will prevent any such coalition succeeding. Like all previous experiments of the kind it will prove a failure. The motive is its defeat.

—United States Minister S. A. Hurt-but at Peru died very suddenly a few days ago. Peru seems to be a good place to die in. After a few more American officials die off there it might be well to investigate and find out if possible the cause of so many very sudden deaths there.

—Hon. J. G. Randall, of Garland, gives brother Bates of the Grand Traverse Herald a pretty good "bill of particulars" showing why Senator Ferry should be returned to the U. S. senate. The Allegan Journal and several other state pap ers have done the same.

JOURNAL JOTTINGS.

The Maxwells to-night.

P. J. Coppens was in town Monday.

There is talk of starting a Liberalistic paper at Ionia.

Dr. Malcolm now offices with dentist Goodson on the bridge.

Herbert Graham has returned from Dakota.

No Uncle Tom's Cabin this week—thank heaven.

Circuses are ripe again and the camel is lurching along this way.

A heavy snow storm last week at Cheboygan.

Mr. Walker of Lansing has arrived and taken possession of Young's Hotel.

Train's new block with its new plate front looks fine.

The Grand Lodge Independent is out in a new dress, and very stylish it looks, too.

A. Rosback has sold his saloon to Paterson brothers, from Freeport and Cas cade.

The M. E. social will be held at the parsonage on Friday evening. All are cordially invited.

Frank Molosta, of Paris township fell from his buggy a few days ago and was fatally injured.

Wed'ra attend a basket picnic in balmly June than move the contents of a print shop.

We have had no time to hunt up items this week, but can promise to do better when we get settled.

Dr. Wells, the veterinarian, now offices on West Water street a few doors north of Young's Hotel.

Mr. Geo. S. Corbit, traveling agent and correspondent of the Detroit Free Press, was in Lowell Saturday.

Mine host Johnson of the Dexter House, Ionia, has given up hotel keeping and will probably take life easy on his farm.

If the JOURNAL is poorly printed this week it is because the ink rollers are in very bad shape. Some new ones in a few days.

It is understood that the new bank in Lowell, if started, will be a private bank. The organization is not as yet perfected but probably will be soon.

The great auroral display a few nights ago caused some people to tremble and pray. A little more of the auroral display.

Greenville proposes to grade and gravel the road from that city to Cook's Corners. Greenville is after more trade from around that vicinity.

Carr and Davis have been driving piles for a side-walk east of Strong's jewelry store. It will seem good to have that gap closed up.

Clark, the colored murderer now confined in the Kent county jail, claims that he sees the ghost of the murdered victim occasionally. Clark is therefore badly broken up.

The Adrian Times, one of the ablest conducted papers in Michigan, now appears in a handsome dress of new type. Its make-up has also been vastly im proved.

Hon. E. C. Watkins, warden of the State House of Correction at Ionia, is expected to deliver the address at the fifth annual reunion of the Grattan Old Settlers, June 7.

Rev. I. B. Jones, who filed the pulp it of the congregational church very acceptably last Sunday morning, will preach there every Sunday morning until the pas return.

Freeman S. Jones, of this city, is making preparations to build several fine stores in Lowell, where he is interested considerably in real estate.—Ionia Sen sinel.

Correct. Mr. Jones came and looked over and made up his mind that Lowell was the best town. His head is level and we're all glad he's coming.

Miss Hattie Martin intends soon to go Colorado in company with Mr. & Mrs. Chapin. Her friends are glad to know she is able to take the journey and trust her sojourn in the west may bring her good health.

Our Alto and Grattan correspondents send obituary notices this week of two well known and highly esteemed per sons—Mrs. Jared Miller and Mr. Shel don Ashley.

The Standard says that Ionia Com mandery Knights Templar are making extensive preparations for the May cam paign in Detroit. They are drilling regularly under the direction of F. S. Hutchinson.

The marshal desires us to say that he shall endeavor to prevent the running at large of live stock in the streets of this village and also the shooting of firecrackers within the corporation, as the laws and regulations require.

It is noted that the young man had his left eye put out yesterday while at work in the axe factory. A piece of steel fell from the trip hammer striking the pupil of the eye, cutting a deep gash. Ira is a fine mechanic and a worthy young man and his misfortune is hard luck indeed.

The Lowell Journal refers to Ionia as the "city of churches," but hasn't a word to say about Ionia's piety.—Ionia Standard.

Well, dear brother, all we're waiting for is for you to get enough of it to make an item of.

To-morrow (Thursday) Miss Franc Lull, of Kent City, formerly of Lowell, and Dr. D. J. Wallace, of Sparta, are to be married. Whatever the programme may be there is sure to be a Lull in the proceedings.

"The Grand Rapids Times has found men who claim that Judge Withey may appear as a dark horse in the senatorial race and others who think that Perry Hamby stands some chance. The same paper thinks that Congressman Webber's chances for reelection are excel lent."—Detroit Post and Tribune.

The mixed train on the D. G. H. & M. railway which left Grand Rapids at 12:30 last Friday, going east, collided with a gravel train at Saddle Bag Swamp, smashing both engines and wrecking several freight cars. No person injured bodily, but a few train hands needed a little nerve to brace them up after the accident.

Mr. F. D. Adams arrived here from Dakota last Friday with the remains of his father-in-law, Mr. Sheldon Ashley, whose death was announced in last week's JOURNAL. The remains of the deceased were buried in the Ashley cem etery on Sunday. Mr. Ashley was one of the oldest and most highly respected citizens of Grattan.

The Impromptu Club announced their last party of the season at Train's Hall on Friday evening, May 5. The series of parties given by the "Impromptu" have been very popular and, it is safe to predict that their last will be a success.

TRAINS HALL.

Thursday Evening, May 4.

Messrs. Balcom and Hunt's Grand Concert.

On Thursday evening, May 4, Messrs. Balcom and Hunt, assisted by some of the best musical talent in the state, will give a grand vocal and instrumental concert at Train's Hall in Lowell.

The following well known artists will appear: Mrs. Emma Forsyth, of Detroit, soprano; Messrs. J. de Zielinski, of Detroit, and G. W. Hunt, of Ionia, pianists; Mr. Arthur W. Holmes, of Ionia, basso; F. Schmieker, of Ionia, contra basso. Of home talent the following: Messrs. G. B. Balcom and A. W. Hine, violin; Mrs. Henry Mitchell and Mrs. F. B. Hine, piano; G. A. Balcom, clarinet; Messrs. Chas. Turner and Will Coleman, cornet.

The programme is one of the finest, if not the very best, ever presented in Lowell, and it is safe to say that the concert will be one of the grandest musical entertainments ever given in our town.

If Train's Hall is not crowded with a delighted audience it will not be the fault of the managers.

The following is from the New York Gazette in regard to Mr. de Zielinski, who is to assist in this concert:

"Mr. de Zielinski next appeared in a piano solo from Liszt which showed to a nicety the perfect master he is. The magnificent Steinway never intimated finer notes than Mr. de Z. on this occasion evoked, anyhow, never in this city; his fingers seemed perfectly adapted to the instrument they played upon. Not a note was lost but throughout Mr. de Z. showed what perfection in piano playing really is. We have yet to hear his equal in this city, such was the unanimous verdict of all those that heard him."

Of Mrs. Forsyth a correspondent of Detroit Chaff says:

"Mrs. Forsyth, the prima donna occa sionally from Detroit for the occasion, claims the first attention and judging from the hearty rounds of applause that followed her selection she had the heartiest sympathy and appreciation of the fashionable audience present. To our critical ear she unfolded in her singing of the Aria from "Bella," a very sym metrical and flexible soprano voice of great range and power, but touched the heart of the listeners through the beautiful deliv ery of Tosti's song "Good Bye," ex hibiting surpassing breadth of tone in lower scales of her voice; many an eye was dimmed with tears, and to the re peated recalls she responded with a quaint little gem entitled "Twickenham Ferry."

Remember the time and place—Thurs day evening, May 4, at Train's Hall. Admis sion 25 cents; reserved seats 35 cents. Do not fail to attend this festival of mu sic.

From J. M. V. W.

SEDAIA, MICH., April 21, 1882.

Dear Journal—We left home with reluctance. "Be it ever so humble there's no place like home." Nothing but coming to look after our "chicks" to see how they were picking up their scrub woods would have induced us to leave.

Waiting six hours at the depot in Grand Rapids for the starting of the West Michigan train is one of the pleas ure of travel. Fifty miles out there came an unsophisticated Dutchman aboard. No sooner seated than he lighted his pipe. I caught the horrible smell, and walked up to him as if clothed with authority and said "no smoking in this car." "Is dot so." and his pipe went under like a log through the chute at Lowell. Would that all pipers would become civilized so quickly.

It always rains when I go to Chicago. It started there and thundered and lightened and poured all the way to St. Louis. When the morning dawned near St. Louis how green and luxuriant were the grasses, fruit trees in full bloom, wheat fields looking splendid and knee high to a pretty smart boy. The pros pect for crops and fruit all through Mis sissippi never looked better. The outcrops are well up, apples and peaches not killed, the forests all leaved out and the red and mocking birds filling the air and branches south.

At the depot at Sedaia were all our children a little anxious to see their mother, and a good many more were there to take us by the hand. The people here are like the wife to her husband in California, she wrote "distance makes the heart grow fonder. The farther you are off the better I like you." Every one asks me on the street, are you going to preach Sunday? What a fondness some people have for the first and last sermon. All between are of little value to them. I saw some heads when I first came to Lowell which will probably be gray before I see them again. "All the Athenians spent their time in nothing else than to hear or tell some new thing." Acts 17-21. Such people do not make a very desirable society. Thus going to church by fits and starts does not amount to much. We must give them a little more grace and then they will come regularly. "Home was not built in one day." When we come back it will be a new sermon again, and we mean to make it new all the time. A better day is dawning for Lowell. I smell it.

The cyclone which destroyed nearly all the town of Brownsville and nearly a score of lives, is only sixteen miles from this point. It occurred only the day before our arrival. No damage was done at this point, though the roar in the heavens above was like Niagara. This was an old southern town, and the worst to be found in old bushwhacking times. Many free state men were shot down at night here. Some are so wicked as to think this is why the cyclone came there. This will not quite work. The papers give full accounts.

IN MEMORIAM.

Died—April 19, at his residence in Bowne, Mrs. J. Miller aged 55 years.

Another sheaf ripe for the harvest has fallen beneath the sickle of death. Another home is made so lonely. Another chair is vacant. Mother is gone. One of earth's noblest and best has left us, and oh, how she will miss her! She was the home fire-side, the church, the Sunday school, the community, and everywhere and in every place where we went to meet her pleasant face and kindly smile and feel the genial warmth of her christian influence will be thought come to us how shall we fill her place? Those who knew her best loved her most. She was an earnest and consistent member of the Baptist church here from the date of its organization which at that time numbered but three beside, and to her earnest and persistent effort is due more than any one else the erection of the pleasant place of worship the church now occupies. Ever zealous in the cause of missions, her loss will be felt in places remote, who can tell how much and how far? Disease laid its hand heavily upon her, yet she never complained, and when during the dark and dreary days of winter she so longed for the pleasant warmth and sunshine of spring, we little thought she was so soon to leave us for the brightness and joys of that eter nality where the flowers are ever bloom ing and the trees are ever green and whose light is the "light of the word." Yes, her days are all bright days now and can we wish her back? God called her and she has entered into her rest. Farewell, wife, mother, sister, friend. We miss thee, yet we mourn not as those without hope, for methinks we can almost hear that voice from heaven saying "blessed are the dead who die in the Lord." Yes saith the Spirit, that they rest from their labors and their work do follow them."

Mrs. Miller was born in Monroe Co., N. Y.; was married to Mr. Miller in 1842 and in 1846 came with him to Bowne when it was almost a wilderness, labor ing with him arduously to make this beautiful home she has left. Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints. Glad.

STUDENT WANTED.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the township burying grounds at Howe Center have transferred to the township board of the township of Howe.

For MAIDEN, WIFE and MOTHER. In a test of nine years in thirty different states has proven itself rightly named.

It needs no introduction and but only a plain introduction to a community, and always after it lives and grows through the good words of those who use it.

DAVID M. SEYMOUR, Pres. STEPHEN JOHNSON, Sec.

DIPHTHERIA!

Its Causes, Symptoms, Treatment and Cure, by Oliver Hess, M. D. is a pamphlet that should be in every household.

In sixteen years practice he has never lost a case. It is written in very plain language so that any one that can read can use it and cure that much dreaded disease.

It is highly recommended by those who use it. No need of large Doctor bills and little ones taken away if you have it by you. A word to the wise is sufficient.

BOYS and GIRLS.
