EDITORIAL TALK.

The Northwest Michigan Press Association held its fourth annual meeting at Grand Rapids on Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 15, and 16. There were present from abroad: Messrs. T. T. Bates of the Grand Traverse Herald; A. S. Kedzie, Grand Haven Herald; J. W. Halleck, Sparta Sentinel; C. W. Bailey, Vicksburg Monitor; Orno Strong, Harbor News; C. S. Hampton, Harbor Springs Independent; E. L. Sprague, Traverse Bay Eagle; J. L. Newman, Carson City Record; L. E. Slusser, Antrim County Herald; E. O. Rose, Big Rapids; W. P. Nesbit, Big Rapids Herald; C. T. Chapin, Cadillac; E. F. Grabbill, Greenville Independent; James W. Hine, Lowell Journal; Johnson, Hastings Banner; H. Potts, Grand Haven Courier; H. M. Rose, of the Benton Harbor Palladium; Jas. L. Lee, Chicago and some others whose names we have not before us. The meeting was presided over by its able and popular president, Thos. T. Bates of the Traverse City Herald. Mr. A. S. Kedzie of the Grand Haven Herald read an able paper written by his son, D. H. Kedzie, entitled "The Newspaper—A History of the Now and Here." E. F. Grabbill of the Greenville Independent gave an excellent paper on "The Pure Newspaper." Mr. J. A. Cresswell, of the Saturday Evening Post, favored the association with a very interesting and spirited paper on "Fearless Journalism." It had the right ring and the subject was ably handled. Discussions of various topics of interest to the craft occupied a good share of the Association's time and were participated in by nearly all present.

The Association after a full discussion of the question decided to extend its territory and change its name, and hereafter the Association will be known as Western Michigan Press Association, and will include all the journalists in the district bounded on the east by Hillsdale, Jackson, Ingham, Shiawassee, Saginaw, Midland, Gladwin, Ogemaw, Oscoda, Montmorency and Presque Isle counties, a trifle more than half the state.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

President—J. W. Hine, Lowell Journal.

Vice-President—E. F. Grabbill, Greenville Independent.

Secretary—E. L. Sprague, Traverse Bay Eagle.

Treasurer—C. D. Barnes, Regl City Clarion.

Executive Committee—T. T. Bates, of Grand Traverse Herald, H. M. Rose, Benton Harbor Palladium, and the other officers ex-officio.

It is the intention of the committee to have some special attractions for the meeting next year which will undoubtedly draw the journalists together from all parts of the territory embraced in the jurisdiction of the Association. The meeting, just held, while it had no formal programme marked out, was a decided success and the members felt well paid for their attendance. The object was not to make a spread but to talk and do business, exchange views, &c. It was a pleasant and profitable meeting.

The democratic and greenback county conventions assembled at Grand Rapids last Friday and nominated a fusion county ticket, composed of about 'aif and aif.' It is to be called "Union Ticket," both party names and principles to be set aside for this campaign. Therefore there will be no democratic county ticket and no greenback county ticket in the field this fall. It is a ticket representing nothing except a great greed for office. It represents no political policy, no declaration of principles—nothing but a personal scramble for spoils. The Grand Rapids Democrat is pleased to term it a "Union against Misrule." That's rich. That same paper and all the opposition papers in this county know and have conceded that the county offices have been filled by honesty and capability and that all talk of "misrule" &c. is the merest bosh. The Republican party of Kent county has nothing to fear. Its record is clean and any attempt to bespatter it with mud will besmear those who do so. The throwing and nobody else. The campaign will be one of constant apologies on the fusion side. Many old line democrats and many honest greenbackers will ask why they have been thus sold out and the answer they get will not be satisfactory. The entire ticket is doomed to an overwhelming defeat just so sure as the Republicans of this county and the independent voters of other parties do their duty, and vote as their judgment dictates.

—In Monday's Grand Rapids Eagle appears a lengthy communication from Hon. N. A. Earle in defense of his action in the legislature on the question of submitting to the people a prohibitory amendment. We are requested by some of his friends to publish the article in this week's JOURNAL and would gladly comply had it not been received before the amendment and believes he was justified in so doing. He says he was not a prohibitionist because, to use his own words, "he believed the plan of taxation and regulation to be a better method of dealing with the liquor traffic, more conducive to temperance and the good of my district and state than attempted prohibition under the present condition of public opinion." In answer to the question whether a legislator should vote on the merits of a proposed amendment or vote to submit it when a large number of people ask for its submission Mr. Earle takes the ground that he should vote on its judgment, of its merits, and quotes letters from Judges Cooley, Campbell and Withey in defense of his position. This is a very brief synopsis of the article referred to but it gives the substance of it as fairly as we are able to state it within the limited space allotted.

—The fusion county ticket reads as follows: For Senator, Lyman Murray, of Sparta; Clerk, O. H. Godwin, city; register, H. McCormick, Grand Rapids; Sheriff, Lyman T. Kinney, city; treasurer, A. J. Stebbins, Sparta; pros, atty, L. B. Turner, city; Cir. court com'rs, Lyman D. Follett, Frank Kuttis, city; Coroners, Des. Morrison and Bradshid, city; surveyor, H. B. Collier, city. The greenback slice of the ticket is senator, sheriff, register of deeds, one commissioner and one coroner. The democratic slice is clerk, treasurer, prosecuting attorney, surveyor, one commissioner and one coroner. Only two nominations were placed outside of Grand Rapids and both of those in Sparta. The entire eastern half of the county is without representation on the fusion ticket.

—Mr. J. M. Mathewson, one of the Lowell delegates to the Democratic county convention, dropped in a few chunks of common sense before the convention on the fusion question. He said: "The idea of fusion merely for spoils was a bad one and could not be detrimental to the interests of both parties in the long run and would eventually have the effect of strengthening the Republican party." Mr. Mathewson was favorable to a permanent consolidation of the two parties but said "the double barrel party" is expensive and unsatisfactory. Mr. Mathewson echoes the sentiments of a vast number of democrats and greenbackers in this county, who are fully convinced that "the idea of fusion merely for spoils is a bad one." Mr. Mathewson declined to act with the convention in its double barrelled performances.

—The Egyptian war continues and is not likely to end very soon. Arabi has been concentrating large masses of troops at points where the British are expected to land. He seems to keep well posted to the plans of the English. Saturday morning, Mr. Long, the American consul at Alexandria, was attacked by 40 natives. He held them at bay with a club until help arrived and the assailants were arrested. Cherif Pasha has been named as president of the new Egyptian ministry.

—The Republicans of the third Representative district of Kent county held their district convention at Rockford Saturday afternoon and nominated L. M. Sellers of the Cedar Springs Clipper as their candidate for representative to the state legislature. Mr. Sellers is one of the most active and enthusiastic Republican workers in this county and will make a good legislator. He will make a vigorous campaign in the northern towns comprising his district and a full vote in that district means a large Republican majority this fall.

—The attention of the Saginaw Herald (anti-Ferry) is called to the fact that the Gratiot county Republicans in their county convention adopted a resolution "recognizing the eminent services" of Senator Ferry and earnestly asking that he be re-elected. Many conventions have already done the same thing, but as the Herald and Gratiot county are in the same congressional district we didn't know but the Herald would like to have us notice the action of this one in particular.

—Senator Ferry arrived at his home, Grand Haven, last week and was given a rousing reception by the citizens of that city, all of whom, regardless of party affiliations, were proud to do him honor. Senator Ferry never had a stronger hold on the hearts of the people in Michigan than he has to-day. From all parts of the state comes the demand for his re-election.

—Wayne county is the largest county in Michigan. Two years ago its total vote was $1,920. Last Friday the Greenbackers of Wayne county held a mass nomination convention in Detroit. There were just thirteen greenbackers at that mass convention. Verily, the greenback party there, is no more.

—Col. DeLand, the vigorous and able editor of the Saginaw Herald regrets our advocacy of Ferry's re-election. So does Kimball of the Pontiac Gazette and that makes two of 'em. The majority seems to be against them so far.

—The annual picnic of the State Grange was held last Wednesday. Gov. Jerome and Congressman Spaulding were among the speakers present.

—The Ovid Register "welcomes the Detroit Evening News to the Democratic fold." And that is so generous in the Register, too.

—The tariff-for-revenue-free-trade party in Detroit is getting along swimmingly. It will need to for it will soon find itself in deep water.

—Congressman Barrows was renominated Thursday by the Republicans of the fourth district and this will be his fourth term.

—Allegan county congressional delegates are instructed to vote for Gen. B. D. Pritchard in the district convention.

The Democrat says small-pox has cost Grand Rapids nearly $8,000. More to be "patted" however, are they who have the small-pox than is the city treasury.

Dr. J. Orton Edie of Grand Rapids was in Lowell Monday on professional duty. The light of his genial presence illuminated the JOURNAL office for a few minutes.

Married—Aug. 16, 1882, at Lansing, by the Rev. L. B. Potter, Mr. Merritt Lewis of Lansing to Miss Charlotte Teeple of North Dorchester, Ont. The bride and groom were in Lowell yesterday. Mr. Lewis is a brother of James Lewis and son of Loren Lewis. The best wishes of their many friends go with them, as they journey on.

With the compliments of F. D. Eddy the architect of these columns has received a box of "Lowell Band" cigars, a brand of the seductive weed which is in high favor with smokers. Perhaps it would be difficult to drum up a better brand. It certainly has the advantage of most brands in that it blows its own horn. Smoking is a bad habit but if people will smoke let them do just what we do, puff the "Lowell Band."

The Republican Lowell township caucus was held at Music Hall Thursday afternoon Aug. 17, at 3 o'clock. Called to order by L. H. Hunt; M. M. Berry elected chairman, F. D. Eddy secretary, L. H. Hicks were selected as delegates to the district convention to be held at Ada on Saturday the 26th.

Officer Coats reports five arrests in this village last week of persons drunk and disorderly, who were required to pay considerable fine money, and while their names are not published this week for certain reasons, it is understood that they will be if the offense is repeated. The officers as well as the public desire to put a stop to such disgraceful doings and the offenders will regret a repetition of their offenses. Decency and good order must prevail.

Burglars, a few nights since, entered the residence of M. N. Hine, occupied by Drs. Grant and Robertson, and carried away Dr. Grant's watch and chain, and a pair of gold sleeve buttons and a small amount of money belonging to Dentist Robertson. The residence of J. C. Train was also entered the same night; the invaders helped themselves to a good lunch and departed. Cold lead is a good thing to feed to burglars. It should be briskly administered in order to take the desired effect. Instruments for this purpose, with full directions how to use them, may be had at any good hardware store.

R. Hunter Jr. of this village, who recently returned from Dakota where his daughter, Mrs. Emma Vinton, resides had the pleasure, if pleasure it can be called, of an interview with Sitting Bull at Fort Randall. Sitting Bull and his tribe of about 300 braves, squaws and 'posses are guarded there by colored troops. Mr. Hunter was not very favorably impressed with the personal appearance of these specimens of the Lo family. He would rather shake hands with the old chief 'W' telephone than the old fashioned way.

Prosecuting Attorney.

We are requested to re-publish the following from the Eagle.

"Having learned that an effort is being made to defeat the re-nomination of Mr. F. A. Maynard for the office of Prosecuting Attorney for Kent county in the coming Republican County Convention, and desiring to do justice to a trusty and efficient public officer, (concerning whom we know of no reason why he should not receive the usual re-nomination to the office he has so faithfully filled) and having been members of the Kent County Board of Supervisors during Mr. Maynard's term, and had abundant opportunity of knowing his method of conducting the business of the office, we feel that it is due to Mr. Maynard and to the public that the people of Kent County should know that the prompt, intelligent and economical administration of his duties has resulted in a large saving to the county.

We respectfully refer to the tax-payers to the tariff of a Special committee unanimously adopted by the Board, Jan. 17, 1882, covering the workings of the office during Mr. Maynard's term to the first of Jan. 1882, which shows a large saving to the county as compared with previous years, and we give it as our judgment that the report was a careful, non-partisan, truthful statement, and did simple justice to a faithful officer.

Chairman of Board 1880-1
R. B. LOOMIS, Ch. Finance Com. 1880-1

Fletcher went to Sand Lake black-berrying and procured a large quantity. Mrs. Hannah Kingston is visiting in So. Boston. Many inquiries are made about the select school and some are inquiring about boarding places. Let the com. consult and be able to report so all questions can be answered correctly.

GRATTAN GATHERINGS.

S. B. Scranton, W. R. Mason and Geo. A. Ranney, were the delegates sent to Rockford to the District Convention, Saturday. Henry Green, Henry Miller, and A. W. Davis, are delegates Grattan sends to the county convention. Mrs. Hollis Brooks, has been visiting Ada and other friends the past week. Rev. and Mrs. T. Robinson have been visiting Lowell and Saranac friends the past week. Messrs E. Storey and F. Smith attended the excursion to Detroit Aug. 17. Report a good time. Black berries are now ripe and very nice; huckleberries still quite plenty. Prof. S. F. Kennedy of Lake View, and Prof. S. Davis of Chicago, were in Grattan Saturday. The largest snake killed here yet is a blue racer measuring five feet. It "took after" C. Smith and showed "flight" to the last minute, climbing an apple tree where it was shot. To Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Weeks August 20, a son. MAUD.

PRATT'S LAKE BUBBLES.

Wheat is nearly all taken care of, but is of a very poor quality. Some have threshed their wheat with a good yield. Report says that B. Dewel threshed 117 bu. from less than 3 acres of land or an average of 39 bu. to the acre. Others have threshed with equally good results but the wheat is of no value for flour. Oats are a fair crop and nearly harvested. Miss Wallace of Grand Rapids is visiting relatives in South Lowell. Charles Rosenberg and family, start today, (Monday) for their new home in northern Canada. Chas. Haner has sold his farm of 61 acres for $1,800. ALTO VOICES.

Miss Mary Miller has gone to Horsey to visit her brother, D. W. Miller. Mr. and Mrs. Hicks and Miss Mattie and Elmer Perrin have gone north to visit friends and gather blackberries. Geo. Delegates to county convention, D. M. Skillmore, W. T. Remington, Wayne Pardee, to representative convention, S. Johnson, W. T. Remington, P. Sinclair. The snake story in Morse Lake Rippled last week, judging from reports, finds an echo almost everywhere. We have heard the remark so many times this summer: "I never saw so many rattlesnakes before in one season." We have not seen but one and that was dead, and came to think, the snake had been taken away too, but the place was left, and that was just as much as we wanted to see. The meeting of Kent Co. Grange at Vergennes has been changed from Aug. 29d to Aug. 30th. CLIO.

Opinions of Others.

[Under this head we shall from time to time as space permits give place to brief letters from the people without comment and without assuming any responsibility for the opinions therein expressed. It is of course expected that this department will be so conducted as to be free from "acrimonious debate" and indecent personalities.]

EDITOR JOURNAL:—"Permit me to say of Mr. 'H. A. W.' the monstrosity that brayed so viciously at me in the JOURNAL last week, that I am afraid of him just as I am of a pole-cat. The spirit he manifested and the work he sought to accomplish are precisely the same. I have always thought a slanderer was a pole-cat reincarnated. If he was born full of pole-cat, or if his parents that would transmit to, or instill into him, such a dangerous phobia. A sire that could pronounce final judgment on boys and send them to hell without hope because of their parent's sins, could burn and rear a son that would serve poor heathen like myself, in the same manner. 'H. A. W.' must indeed be a chip of the old block. Two centuries ago this phobia was more dangerous. Then those afflicted with it burned, starved and contemned like myself at the stake, instead of besmirching their characters with slanderous lies. If H. A. W. is a Christian, and the spirit he manifests is that of true christianity, then, in my judgment, the less the world has of such the better. If he is, he certainly has repudiated the command, 'Love thy neighbor as thyself,' has forgotten the fate of Ananias and Sapphira, and thinks it necessary to lie for Christ's sake. He said, 'I always take exceptions to advice given to boys, etc. through the JOURNAL.' Now, as I have never excepted to, or alluded in any manner, to what has appeared in the JOURNAL, he has willfully lied. Again, he 'don't know who I am,' and yet, he knows I 'always take exceptions to advice,' etc. and 'vulgurisms, Sabbath breaking, and everything that is low and contemptible suit me best.' If he don't know who I am, how does he know this? A man that will lie once, will again and again, especially, if he believes God requires it, and forgive him for Christ's sake.

If he don't know who I am he certainly could not have known that 'vulgurisms, Sabbath-breaking and all that is low and contemptible suit me best,' therefore he is a slanderer, so vile and low that a pole-cat is respectable in comparison. He wants me to go where I can enjoy my heathenism. That is not necessary. I enjoy it right here in Lowell. If to prefer knowledge to faith, if to reject all superstition, all that is foolish and unreasonable, if to have honest convictions based on facts, if to do my own thinking instead of hiring it done, and to realize that I have rights as a human being, and as a citizen of this government, and dare to defend them, make me a 'heathen,' then I am, and am proud of it. I certainly rather be a heathen and dwell with Hottentots, and pole-cats than in the company of slanderers and liars. In regard to J. M. V. I did not, and cannot now see, in his soliloquy, any advice to boys or anybody else. If to tell the boys their parents were dirty, wicked and low, that they would have preferred not to be born at all, rather than had such parents, had they had the chance, and that they would certainly go to hell without any ifs or buts, was giving the boys advice, I have nothing more to say.

A word for 'Maud.' She insinuates that I approve of boys disturbing religious gatherings. She did not notice that I condemned most emphatically all trespassing upon the rights of others, and wanted laws for such Sabbath-breaking, etc. enforced, or else, she had a slight touch of the phobia that afflicts J. M. V. W. & Co. She asks, did not J. M. V. W. show a christian spirit, in saying 'we pity more than blame them?' Yes, he did, precisely the same spirit, and pity, that John Calvin showed poor Scroveaux, when he was burning him to death with green wood, and that the saints in heaven will show to the damned in hell. This same christian spirit has pitilessly tortured to death thousands of the noblest of the race. We want no such pity for ourselves or our boys. Before closing I desire to apologize for inflicting upon the readers of the JOURNAL such unsavory work as the above. It was unavoidable. E. A. C.

A Valuable Work.

We refer to Crann's Illustrated Family Atlas of the World. It contains 227 pages, 200 handsomely engraved illustrations, 81 perfectly executed maps of every country on the globe, showing all the counties and railroads; 160 pages of historical and statistical matter covering a vast period of time up to a recent date. It gives the population of each state in the Union by counties and the distances between railroad stations in the western states and territories. We have personally reviewed the work and can heartily commend it to the favorable notice of our readers. It is printed with handsome type, on excellent book paper and is bound in full and half morocco. Mr. A. J. Brown, of Jackson, the agent will begin canvassing in this vicinity Sept. 1. The books will be delivered on or about Nov. 1st. or those desiring earlier can purchase them of him for cash at any time. We append the following testimonials:

Lowell Mich Aug. 21, 1882. A. J. Brown Agent Crann's Atlas: Dear Sir,—Crann's map and charts have acquired a reputation for completeness and accuracy and the Illustrated Family Atlas fully sustains that reputation. Its maps and plates are invaluable. The work is the most convenient and reliable World's Atlas & Geography I have yet seen. Yours &c. M. H. WALKER.

Lowell Mich., Aug. 22, 1882. I have purchased and perused with care 'Crann's Illustrated Atlas of the World' and can truly say that I deem it one of the best works of the day. The fine engravings, the short and accurate descriptions and the perfect maps of the different countries of the world make this work an invaluable book for families having children of school age and upwards. As a descriptive and reference book of world information it has but few if any equals. M. M. PERRY.

Michigan School Statistics. From the Lansing Republican. The 45th annual report of the superintendent of public instruction for the year 1881, is one of the most complete and valuable of all the reports heretofore issued from that department.

At the date of the report there were 6,520 organized ungraded school districts in the state—an increase of 147 over the number in 1880. Of this number 6,381 maintained schools an average period of 7.7 months, an increase of 2 of a month over the average length of school of the previous year. The whole number of children of school age reported (between 5 and 20 years) was 518,294 of which number 71.7 per cent attended school, showing a healthful increase in the aggregate attendance of over 9,000 children.

The school population above referred to is embraced in the ungraded and graded school districts as follows: in the former 291,431, and in the latter 226,863—the 6,115 ungraded school districts containing the greater share of the school population of the state. These schools encounter many difficulties from shortness and variation in length of terms; irregular attendance; frequent changes of lack of information as to work done by former teachers; diversity of text books, inefficiency of teachers; indifference of parents, etc. The superintendent suggests that a proper classification and course of study would do much toward correcting the evils referred to, and inspire both parents and teachers with more confidence in the schools.

There are 411 graded schools in the state—an increase of 22 over the number reported in 1880. There were 13,151 more children in their population than in 1880, and their actual attendance has been augmented by 10,890 pupils. About 41 per cent. of the pupils of the public schools are enrolled in this class, and the average length of time during which school was maintained in them was 91 months. In them the courses of study are being adjusted more and more to admit of greater freedom in choice of branches, while the harmful tendency to hasten over elementary work at the expense of thoroughness is diminishing.
