EDITORIAL TALK.

Gov. Jerome, in answer to a letter from a committee representing the liquor dealers' association, replied that he stood square on the Republican platform adopted at Kalamazoo. His letter has been complimented on all sides as straightforward and manly. Begole, the fusion candidate, did not see fit to send in his reply. He finds it hard work to stand with one leg on the Jackson democratic platform and the other leg on the Grand Rapids greenback platform. It's a big stretch—no mistake about that. Must be tiresome.

L. M. Sellers, the Republican nominee for Representative in the third district, ought to be elected by a sweeping majority. He has done a vast amount of hard work for that district for the interests of the people, and the people will not forget him at the polls. They ought to give him a handsome compliment and we believe they will.

Congressman Lord was renominated by the Republicans of the first district by a unanimous vote. He is one of Michigan's brightest men and it would be a misfortune to the state should he be defeated at the polls. Let the people of the first district show their wisdom and good sense by giving Mr. Lord a rousing majority.

Joseph K. Fairchild, of the Alcona Review, has been mentioned as a proper man to put on the Republican legislative ticket of his district. It would please the JOURNAL to see Joseph step to the front.

Julius Houseman has written a letter defining his position. He speaks very highly of the National Bank currency, declaring it to be the best currency we ever had. Some greenbackers don't like that kind of talk.

They will not want to try fusion any more in Maine. As the boy said when the hen pecked him—"that's sufficient, thank you."

Hundreds of democrats and hundreds of greenbackers will vote the Republican ticket this fall. They are heartily sick of "fusion."

The Egyptian war is over and the score stands about 50 to 0 in favor of England.

The Vettes party, headed by Be-gol e, will be headed be-gol e.

Peter Hambury died very suddenly early Sunday morning, probably from the effects of hard lifting the night before. The funeral was held yesterday morning. His remains were taken to Grattin for burial.

A magnificent bouquet from the garden of Mrs. J. Maynard has graced the JOURNAL desk for several days and been greatly admired by many callers, one of whom tried to steal it. He didn't succeed and his funeral is postponed.

At the regular meeting of the musical union last week Tuesday evening the following officers were elected for the ensuing quarter: Mr. M. H. Walker, president; Mrs. J. W. Hine, vice-president; Mr. N. B. Blain, secretary and treasurer; Mr. S. P. Hicks, musical director; W. M. Chapman, alternate director.

The base ball contest last Wednesday between a picked nine from the east side and a ditto from the west side was the most exciting game of the season. The game resulted in favor of the west side by a score of 34 to 31. With practice it is believed that these nines could reach a score of over 100 each. Will Coleman was the chosen umpire and was a good one. There were also 25 or 30 other umpires who did excellent service.

The JOURNAL gave the wrong date last week for the democratic and greenback representative conventions at Ada. The conventions are to be held there today and the fusion nominee will in all probability be Mr. J. C. Train of this village. The JOURNAL regrets its mistake in the date and took pains to correct it so far as it could be done verbally. If Mr. Train is nominated, and it is quite certain he will be, we must give the fusionists the credit of nominating their strongest man in this district. He will be pitted against a man equally strong and popular, however, and the contest will be fought on both sides.

Mr. G. W. Hunt, the pianist, has decided to leave Ionia and go to Erie, Pa., flattering inducements having been offered him to take up his abode in that city. Mr. Hunt is an accomplished pianist and will of course find plenty of work wherever he goes.

Wesley Sullivan arrived here from Dakota a few days ago. He brought a few sample onions from his farm—as big as a small hat. He says W. J. Atkins, the "hammer man," got 27 bu. of wheat to the acre and is happy.

The Ionia County Fair will be held on October 3, 4, 5, and 6. An unusual number of attractions are offered by the managers. There will be no races each day of the fair; the school children of Ionia, Montcalm and eastern Kent counties will be admitted free of charge on Thursday, Oct. 5; and Congressman Charles E. Hooker of Mississippi, one of the finest orators in the "sunny South," will deliver the address on Friday, October 6. Liberal premiums are offered in every department.

Several attempts at burglary have been made in town of late. The residences of Dr. Grant, Mrs. Richard's and other people on the west side have been visited by some rascal or rascals who deserve to be shot. Mrs. Richards house was entered Monday night but the visitor was frightened away before obtaining any booty. There is only one way to treat these night fiends. Shoot them as you would a mad dog. Be ready for them and aim straight. Burglars are generally outthroats and should be treated as such.

Mr. Wm. C. Young, one of the best citizens of Cannon, died last Wednesday of Bright's disease, aged 61 years. The funeral occurred on Sunday from the Bestwick Lake church. Rev. D. L. Eaton officiating, who preached an excellent sermon from Job. 17-11. An immense concourse of friends followed his remains to the grave. 150 teams being in the procession. Mr. Young came to Cannon in 1844 and has been one of the most prominent citizens of that town for many years. He has repeatedly been honored with positions of trust and honor and has ever been found faithful and worthy. When such men depart the community mourns.

The Boston Operatic Minstrels under the management of Mr. W. R. Briggs, performed to a large and appreciative audience at the Opera House last night. The want of space forbids an extended notice, and only a few points can be given in this issue. The music was fine. The four-entente consisting of Frank West late of Haverly's Mastodons, the only N. B. Skinner, and Carmody, Mack Morton and Russell. The great sextette of Log Dancers were called back six times, and responded willingly. Will Weber as a female impersonator brought the house down. From the time the curtain rose on the afterpiece, "A Quiet Night's Rest," it was one stream of applause and laughter, until the curtain went down.—Council Bluffs Daily Nonpareil.

A Healthy Indication.

The overwhelming Republican victory in Maine, which shows a clear Republican gain in that state of about 10,000 votes since the election of two years ago, is a blow between the eyes of "fusion" that knocks all hope out of the opposition and justly rebukes the motive that led them to combine against the Republicans. With spoils for their motto and no principles to stand on the fusionists in Maine stood just where the Michigan fusionists now stand, on dangerous ground, and they have now come to a sore realization of that fact. While the Republicans expected to carry Maine their majority was much larger than they had estimated. The fusionists were equally confident of carrying the state and consequently their overwhelming defeat comes with such crushing force as to utterly disorganize the Republican opposition in that state and destroy all hope among them for the future. With the same earnest and active work by the Republicans of Michigan that the Republicans of Maine put into their campaign, the result in this state will be equally gratifying. The Republicans of Michigan will not regard this as an "off year." They know that the opposition are doing their best to "take the pole" and be in good shape for the race in 1884 and the Republicans of this state will not give away their position this fall, not even to please the hungry fusionists. As goes Maine so goes Michigan. Active, aggressive work by every Republican in Michigan is wanted now. That's all. Victory will follow Nov. 7.

The 3d District "Fuzers"

ROCKFORD, Sept. 16, '82.

ED. JOURNAL:—The anti-monopoly-free trade-tariff-for-revenue-only-hard-money-inconvertible-national-labor-greenback-flat-money conglomeration of this district "huddled together" here to-day in two mobs, which after a "right smart" of gab was formed into a single huddle, when it was determined on the part of the sages of the great aggregation that it was of the most vital importance to the people of this district that they be no longer represented by a republican. And with this end in view it was determined to bring the two mobs together and form "a single string of fight" which they did by nominating a stranger named Wilson as their standard (pall) bearer.

But little information can be gotten respecting this stranger, save that his place of residence is in Walker township, one of the rural wards of the city of Grand Rapids. The utmost unanimity prevailed, each faction of the party denouncing the other as d—hogs, for wanting all the offices. In this even Democrats and Greenbackers have been constrained to tell the truth. Give us some more of these facts, gentlemen. They cannot fail to be of interest to the people. No one on this side of the fence will question your right to speak out. S.

Rockford on Deck.

ROCKFORD, Sept. 18th, 1882.

EDITOR JOURNAL: As the Legislative nominations have not all been made, it can hardly be said that the campaign is fully open. Yet the opposing forces are rapidly getting into order of battle, and already on the "picket line" there have been no small number of personal encounters, and here and there some lively skirmishing "in force" with small arms, besides an occasional bombardment from the heavier guns, such as shook the Saginaw Valley of the 24th of August, when Horr, the grand old champion of Republicanism hurled into the disorganized ranks of the famishing "Fuzers," such a shower of red hot shot and with such force, precision and rapidity as will keep the hungry mob dodging from now until after the November election. Let every Republican in the land read Horr's speech and not be satisfied with one reading, but let it be read again, and again, for it would be hard to find a better enunciation of Republican principles, or better reasons why these principles should prevail both in our state and national councils. Our state ticket gives general satisfaction in this community and everything indicates that it will receive an enthusiastic support, and unless the "fin," of prophecy has got on the thumb hand side, it points out one of the grandest victories, this fall, ever achieved by the republicans of Michigan.

The county ticket receives an earnest and sincere support on all hands in this vicinity. There are no "pimples" on anybody's head here, and so far as I am able to learn this is the way it "hangs out" all over the county.

With such assurances as these; with principles to contend for, and with a ticket made up of the names of men every one of whom is worthy of the suffrages of the people we need have no uneasiness as to the results in Oct. Kent.

In this, the 3d Representative district, two years ago we had only 104 majority, but this year we mean to treble that majority for we have in the person of L. M. Sellers a candidate possessing all the requisites for making a thoroughly successful campaign.

Emminently fitted by nature, education, and experience for the duties of the office, deservedly popular among all classes, and thoroughly inspired with a spirit of determination to accomplish whatever he undertakes, there need be no fears but that L. M. Sellers will "get to the front" in the 3d district with a rousing majority. The Gods have so willed it. S.

Political Pointers.

The "combined" opposition press must be hard up for material with which to fight the campaign, for it has already commenced to renege the old exploded lies which were told about Governor Jerome at Yorktown. Throw mud to your full satisfaction, blackguardism will not win in Michigan.—Lansing Republican.

The head of the "combination ticket" truthfully sketched by the Northwestern Tribune published at Mt. Pleasant as follows: "J. W. Begole, the man who has consented to open his 'barrel' and devote it to the success of the fusion party, is personally a fair sort of a man, but intellectually he is a failure. One term in congress satisfied the Republicans of his district that he possessed but little ability, and therefore he was defeated for the second term by a democrat. This soured him and he went to the greenbackers."

The Detroit Evening News in summing up the result in the Pine Tree state says: "Maine's contribution to the greenback contingent in congress is thus eliminated, and a demonstration furnished that the people realize democracy and greenbackism mixed quite as much as they dislike them taken separately. It is ominous of the fate of fusion in Michigan, and we offer heartfelt condolence to the gentlemen who yielded to the temptation of political adultery at Grand Rapids and Jackson."

The greenback organ of Ionia says: "The Maine election is a disheartening blow to Michigan fusionists. The result in Michigan next November will be even more disheartening. If our misguided greenback friends were wise they would now desert a hopeless combination and rally around the old greenback banner. 50,000 votes for a straight greenback ticket this fall would be a grand triumph for principle whereas a fusion defeat would be a humiliating disaster. The one is possible, the other is certain."

Died.

At Good Hart Mich. Sept. 13, 1882, MABEL LUELLA, infant daughter of Mr. & Mrs. A. G. Ball, aged 19 mos. 29 days. The remains were brought to Lowell for interment on Saturday. A sad blow to the afflicted parents and friends.

The Day of Rest.

"The Sabbath was made for man" for his rest, of body and mind, for his improvement; to give him time to think, read and listen to instruction, to change his dress, make clean his linen, think of the past and the future, take his latitude and longitude, enjoy the society of home, elevate society, and get ready for the last of earth. The Sabbath is an institution of heaven, the poor man's friend, the solace of the laboring class. Without the Bible and Christianity there would be no day of rest, but clerks, mechanics, artisans, and all would have to work seven days in a week, and get pay for only six. God has so formed the earth, so fixed the boundaries, so made it bring forth, and endowed man with the power of accomplishment that six days of labor will provide for all the wants of man and beast. And he has so made man and beasts of burden that they will inevitably run down, weaken their powers, and shorten their days if they work seven days in the week. In the long run, both man and beast will do more work in six days than in seven. This has been tested again and again. And in every community where the Sabbath sentiment is low, the morals of the people are correspondingly low. All this professedly Christianized nations well understand, and statesmen have been careful to enact laws with reference to the Sabbath. Thus no hired clerk or laborer of any kind can be forced to work on the Sabbath. No one's wages can be withheld for not working on the Sabbath. No contract can be made on the Sabbath. No note, bank or otherwise, can fall due on the Sabbath. And no stores, nor shops can be open legally on the Sabbath, and no theaters can be opened for amusement, no games can be played nor witnessed on the Sabbath without subjecting the parties to fines and if need be to imprisonment. All this shows the views of statesmen on this subject. We know that some of these laws are a dead letter, nevertheless they are landmarks of what ought and what ought not to be done, and they are no less binding because not enforced. They appeal to the moral sense of every community. The attempt to bring back Christian nations from the observance of the Christian Sabbath, to the observance of the seventh day of the week, has been attempted again and again by a few, lack through the centuries, but always with the same result. A few of a certain class of mind will be carried back, but the great mass of the Christian world will follow the bright and morning star. One seventh of the time is the principle and the Christian world will open up of unanimity, and under the direction of the inspired Apostles have chosen the resurrection day, and not the dark mournful, gloomy day when our Savior lay in the tomb, as their seventh day or Sabbath, and Christ has always been the choice. Let us all hail this day as a most beneficent institution, as a great blessing to us all. J. M. W. V.

Sorry for Them.

The Ionia National, the greenback organ of Western Michigan, says:

The result in Maine foreshadows the result in Michigan. The honest voters of our own state will repudiate the unholy alliance with a corrupt thief even more emphatically than did those of Maine. We are sorry for that, sorry for Murch and sorry for Ladd. We believe all three of these men to be good, earnest Greenbackers. We shall be equally sorry for Begole and others in our own state who have been misled into this thing, but if in the end it will have taught Greenbackers everywhere a lesson, some good may come even from defeat.

He cannot walk much, but rides into Utes on pleasant days and sits in his office when not visiting his sisters, Mrs. Rosamond and Mrs. Nancy Butler.

Where Nashville now stands the first permanent settlement was made in the year 1779 by Gen. Robertson. A fort was erected where the public square is now and called Nashville, in honor of Gen. Nash, of North Carolina. Four years later the name was changed to Nashville. The Canadian papers are discussing a proposition said to be made by residents at Montreal, in the province of Maine for the annexation of that part of the State. The theory is that the district is inhabited by 60,000 Acadians who are loyal to the British, and that Canada with the rest of Maine. Michigan crop reports for September, made up and forwarded from the office of the secretary of state, are not so full and explicit as usual, owing to insufficient returns from counties; but the general situation, as represented therein, is gratifying and encouraging. The rains in early August delayed the harvesting of wheat somewhat. Oats promise to be a fine crop, on an average one and a half bushels per acre. Corn is not so good as last year, but the average yield is about half the average yield.

One of the modern railroad buildings has been the construction of what is known as the "nickle plate" railroad, the main line of which, extending from Chicago 20 miles, was laid and opened for business in the short space of 18 months, having been begun in last week of February, 1881, and completed the 20 miles in 18 months. It passes through Dunkirk, Erie, Cleveland, Painesville and Fort Wayne being for most of the distance run on a level, and close to the line of the Lake Shore road.

relatives, the Krums. Mr. & Mrs. L. V. Dean of Ionia have been visiting their friends, Mr. & Mrs. Ed. Krum. Mrs. John Vanouvan of Croton, is also visiting the Krums. Mrs. W. L. Merriman starts this Monday to visit her old home and relatives at Syracuse, N. Y. Mrs. E. L. Bennett is home from Dakota. Mr. Wm. Robinson has the nicest and largest peaches in the country we think. Some of them measure 1 1/2 inches in circumference, can any one beat it. We think no. D. S. Blanding has sold to parties at Greenville a grade Holstein heifer one year old, for $50. John Murphy has lost two head of cattle by eating Paris Green. After using the Paris Green on his potatoes Mr. Murphy emptied his pail over the fence in his wheat field; after his wheat was cut, he turned his cattle in the field, where they found and ate the poison. JOSE.

(Last weeks Letter.) Mrs. Rix Robinson of Millview, Florida is visiting her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Robinson. Miss Mina Robinson, who has been spending nearly a year with friends in Florida is home again. Mrs. C. W. Parks of Meosta, (daughter of S. Hoag) is visiting friends here. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. We wish them joy with their darling boy. There was a very interesting meeting of the County Grange at the Vergennes Hall Aug. 30. Brother H. of Cascade did you faint by the way side going home, as there were no items from your place last week, we have fears. D. S. Blanding sold to J. C. Richmond a Holstein Bull calf, three months old for $100. JOSE.

OAKFIELD ODDITIES. A stranger came to John Waterman's last Monday without a "rag to his back." He is a juror of the next generation and tips the scale at ten pounds. H. F. McCormick was in town last week viewing the political field through the political kaleidoscope. He counts his election sure if he gets the votes. Why, yes, Mac, of course. Why not? We live in a Republican state where the ballot is free and the count fair. If you wish other results go to "the land where the tropic gales blow," where perennial democracy "raves," where tissue ballots were invented in the state that first tore down the dear old flag that is now floating its 38 stars so proudly over free America. But, H. F., we don't reckon there will be so many McCormick "slips" voted as there were two years ago. Not that you are not a good fellow, but because you have enlisted under the wrong banner. Corn will be cheap but "vittles" can't win this year. A good many farmers are in no hurry about seeding, thinking the weather is too warm and anticipating a late season. Perhaps the campaign may keep it hot. Reading club at G. Bowman's next Saturday evening. The monthly Methodist social was at Mrs. Mary Fry's last Wednesday. On Tuesday, Sept. 12, W. R. Davis was socially reminded that it was the beginning of the 68th year of his pilgrimage on earth and also the 40th anniversary of his wedded life. About 60 friends and neighbors were present. The presents were elegant and attractive. A pair of $8 spectacles will ever reflect the true light of friendship, while the silver cake dish "takes the cake." Mr. Davis settled on sec. 19 in Oakfield in 1838, where he now owns one of the most productive farms in northern Kent. Owing to the too generous use of his name on other's paper he became financially embarrassed and under circumstances where most men would have dodged he went to the front and paid. What better compliment or accomplishment could a man wish? W. H. H. Davis put in a cement well in the fair ground at Cook's Corners last week which will furnish 300 barrels of water a day. He gave the society 25 per cent discount from the usual prices, not that he needs the advertising, but if people see and know the work they will wait till they can get it. M. T. Jr.

A Valuable Work.

We refer to Cram's Illustrated Family Atlas of the World. It contains 327 pages, 300 handsomely engraved illustrations, 81 perfectly executed maps of every country on the globe, showing all the counties and railroads; 160 pages of historical and statistical matter covering a vast period of time up to a recent date. It gives the population of each state in the Union by counties and the distances between railroad stations in the western states and territories. We have personally reviewed the work and can heartily commend it to the favorable notice of our readers. It is printed with handsome type, on excellent book paper and is bound in full and half morocco. Mr. A. J. Brown, of Jackson, the agent will begin canvassing in this vicinity Sept. 1. The books will be delivered on or about Nov. 1st, or those desiring earlier can purchase them of him for cash at any time. We append the following testimonials:

Lowell Mich Aug. 21, 1882. A. J. Brown Agent Cram's Atlas

DEAR SIR:—Cram's maps and charts have acquired a reputation for completeness and accuracy and the Illustrated Family Atlas fully sustains that reputation. Its maps and plates are invaluable. The work is the most convenient and reliable World's Atlas & Geography I have yet seen. Yours &c.

M. H. WALKER. Lowell Mich., Aug. 22, 1882. I have purchased and perused with care "Cram's Illustrated Atlas of the World" and can truly say that I deem it one of the best works of the day. The fine engravings, the short and accurate descriptions and the perfect maps of the different countries of the world make this work an invaluable book for families having children of school age and upwards. As a descriptive and reference book of useful information it has but few, if any equals. M. M. PENNY.
