LOWELL JOURNAL

JAS. W. HINE, EDITOR.

Publisher's Announcement.
During my absence from home this winter the business affairs of the JOURNAL will be left in charge of Mr. CHAS. H. KNIFFIN, the foreman, to whom all subscriptions and other dues to the JOURNAL may be paid. Mr. Kniffin will also have charge of the local department of the JOURNAL and patrons are requested to send him all items of interest that may come to their knowledge. The publisher desires to make special request that all subscriptions, and all other bills due, be paid promptly. Mr. Kniffin will be ready to see the patrons of the JOURNAL at the office in Train's Hall Block, each week day, from 7 a. m. to 6 p. m. Give him an early call.
Weekly editorial letters from Lansing may be expected in the JOURNAL during the winter and the writer will endeavor to make them interesting. Very truly yours,
Jas. W. Hine.

Lansing Letters.

And they fused again. The Democratic State Convention held here last Wednesday nominated one half of the Demo-greenback state ticket and the Greenback state convention, held the day following, nominated the other half, and the combination, double barreled, duplex, selfrevolving ticket reads as follows: For Justice of the supreme Court John W. Champlin, of Grand Rapids, and Thomas R. Sherwood, of Kalamazoo. For Regents, Arthur M. Clark, of Sanilac, and Charles J. Willet, of Grafton. Champlin is a good man, Sherwood is about so-so, and the candidates for Regents are "about middle." It took two conventions two days to give birth to this ticket and it required three times the machinery to deliver the child that was ever seen in use by that "machine party" denominated Republican. In the Democratic state convention the chairman and many of the delegates spoke enthusiastically of the Union party and of Democratic victories. It was the Union party every time and it was also Democratic Victory every time. Some of the greenbackers present as spectators grumbled at this, but as one delegate said to me—"the greenback party has gone up any way, so of course it will be a democratic victory if we win." "Well" said I, "get up and say so before this convention." And his answer was—"O, you are too previous; there's no use of stating a fact every body knows already." And that is about the status of the greenback party to-day. It is being absorbed by the democrats so completely that two years from last fall at the next Presidential election, it will have no identity as a party; it will be simply an auxiliary to the Democratic party, ratifying the democratic nominations; a humble attendant doing the bidding of the democratic bosses without hope of rewards except in faithless promises. Some of the greenbackers in convention said they would never become a part and parcel of the Democratic party but the majority—a large majority—of the greenback state convention showed a disposition to go wherever the democrats may lead and such is the logical course to be pursued. One enthusiastic greenback champion said they (the greenbackers) had admitted it to be true and said they proposed to feed that appetite. It was no longer "principles" they were fighting for; the only object now to be reached was the spoils of office. This was an honest expression but our greenback friend omitted to state that if the Union party wins it will be a Democratic victory and the greenbackers may look on and see the leaves and fishes go to the democrats. No party ever showed such a cheerful readiness to serve another party's purposes as the greenback party in Michigan to-day shows in coming to the support of the democrats. They are not only sold out body and breeches but they, as a party, are actually delivered to the democrats. They have used molasses freely and have caught their flies successfully. The use of vinegar has been prohibited all along the line, and the demand has "more lasses" in every quarter. Wait until it is "sugared off" and then see who gets the cake.

A joint resolution to increase the Governor's salary to $3,000 and the salaries of other state officers to $1,500 and $2,000 a year, was lost in the senate last Thursday. It may come up again but will not be likely to pass in its present shape.

The recent investigation into certain charges preferred against the Flint Asylum for the Deaf and Dumb, was very unsatisfactory and the Senate last week ordered another investigation and appointed a special committee of three to act with the regular committee to make a thorough and complete investigation. The charges are brought by Mrs. O. D. Chapman (wife of a brother of E. A. Chapman, of Lowell) who had two children in that Asylum, both of whom died of diphtheria. The investigation is to show whether the management of the Asylum was guilty of misrepresenting the facts and to what extent it is responsible for the abuses said to have been permitted in that institution. The Senate unanimously voted for a re-investigation and will be satisfied with nothing less than a thorough sifting of the whole matter.

One of the "amosin" things in legislation occurred a few days ago in the Senate. One of the leading Democratic senators, who has at various times posed as a watch-dog at the door of the state treasury, sometime ago introduced a bill largely increasing sheriff's fees in this state. The bill came up for final passage the other day and the Senator who introduced it championed the bill nobly and stated many reasons why it should become a law. After he had finished his remarks a Republican senator expressed his surprise at the attitude of the "watch-dog of the Treasury," in attempting to put through a bill which would cost the taxpayers of the state many thousands of dollars, when there was no demand for such a measure. The vote was then taken and not one voted for it; even the Senator who introduced it and had so bravely defended it, voted against it. This caused a big laugh in every part of the chamber at the expense of the so-called "watch-dog," who subsequently explained that he voted against the bill simply because another Senator for whom he introduced it, had opposed it. It was "too rich to keep." A few attempts for political capital have been made by the opposition but here was an opportunity to let the wind out of that bag and it was let out effectually. The Republicans will not be out done in any effort to protect the state treasury from unjust assaults. They have guarded it well and faithfully for many years and are just as good sentinels now as ever.

JOURNAL JOTTINGS.

Robins and blue birds are here.
Do not be bashful about bringing in items of interest.
Mrs. Jas. W. Hine is spending a few days at the state capital.
The liquor dealers of Kent county paid $51,505 tax last year.
The JOURNAL Office has a large stock of old papers. Cheap.
No masks will be worn at the fancy dress party March 30.
Mrs. Matthew Hunter of Lowell is visiting at Cedar Springs.
The mills have resumed work, after a delay of about a week.
Sundry needed improvements have been made in the post-office.
The next entertainment under the L. L. A. is Prof. Duer, the impersonator.
Mr. Jas. McLeod, of Canada is visiting his son, P. B. in this village.
Baptist social Wednesday evening at M. C. Barbers. All are cordially invited.
The Ladies' Waltz Club will give a party at Music Hall, this week, Friday evening.
Belding again has a newspaper, a bright, newsy little sheet, called the Star.
A very interesting temperance meeting was held at Train's Hall Sunday evening.
C. R. Hine will hereafter give the business of the Lowell Furniture Co. his personal attention.
The Grand Rapids Daily Sun is a neat little paper full of newsy and spicy items.
Who will be Lowell's next supervisor? Time to look around and bring out candidates.
Wiggins, the weather prophet, is no fool. He found notoriety at the expense of many fools.
The water is falling rapidly in Grand river. Not much prospect of very high water this spring.
We have advertising space to let. Call and get figures. The JOURNAL is one of the best advertising mediums in the state.
About 15 feet of the dam at Springbrook mill was washed away one day last week. It will probably not be repaired until the frost is out of the ground.
The best picture of Michigan's new Senator is in Chaff. The dabb in the Evening News ought to bring a suit against that paper for libel.
Mr. Edson English of South Boston is in very poor health. He was born in 1801 and his life has been one of activity and good deeds.
Young people social at Mr. C. G. Stone's, Tuesday evening, March 20. There will be an interesting program consisting of music, recitations, reading etc.
R. A. Maynard has purchased the Sparta Sentinel and will take possession April 1st. Mr. Maynard is a bright fellow and we believe will make a first-class journalist.
Thank Kee gave three of his interesting lectures in this village last week, under the auspices of the Lowell Lecture Association. His lectures were attended by good audiences, and were well received by all.

F. B. Hine, the hardware dealer has a new ad. in this week's JOURNAL.

Married—In Cascade on Wednesday March 3d, 1883. Mr. Joseph Yeiter of this village, and Miss Alida Campbell of Cascade.

A donation at Keene Grange Hall for the benefit of Rev. Mr. Van Antwerp last Thursday evening. A large number of friends were present. The proceeds amounted to $51.80.

Mr. Orton Hill has accepted a situation as traveling salesman for the Reading Hardware company. Ort is a first class salesman, and we wish him heaps of success.

Caleb Dutcher, whose body was found in a snow drift near Prairie Creek is supposed to have frozen to death on Jan. 29th, and was not found until 21 days after.

On Friday last at noon, Mr. Jas. Van Auker, a farmer living in Paris township committed suicide by shooting himself in the pit of the stomach with a small revolver. Temporary insanity. He leaves a wife and one son.

Subject at the Congregational Church next Sabbath morning: "Paul before Agrippa and Drusilla." Text for the evening: "Lo! He hath hid himself behind the stuff."

Miss Julia F. Lee, the eclectionist gave a very pleasing and interesting entertainment at Train's Hall last night to a fair sized audience. Miss Lee will appear again at the same hall, on Saturday evening of this week, with an entire change of program. We bespeak for her a good house.

The G. R. Democrat speaks of the new firm of Langs & McNaughton of Caledonia, and says Caledonia has four furniture stores and two factories. Lowell has a firm named Langs & McNaughton, also four furniture stores and two furniture factories.

Rev. Chas. Oldfield was the worthy recipient of a new harness a few days ago. Presented by some west side friends, who perhaps think it will serve to "pull them through." Ah, how easy it is to trace the delusion. But then, the gift was a generous one, worthy bestowal.

The Ionians are building Railroads (in their minds) and no doubt think there is a "nickel" in the jug, but will find it will take a dollar to get it out. Lyons wants another road, but she has "hollored" now till her cry resembles a whetstone, and she has resolved to wait until there is a move "along the line," when she will step forward and do her share.—(Lyons Herald.)

Prof. Duer's entertainment will be the last of the course under the Lowell Lecture Association, and will be one of the most entertaining. The Prof. is an impersonator of high standing and will make "heaps of fun." This takes place at Train's hall, Wednesday evening, March 21.

Mr. Alfred Knee, while on the point of retiring Friday eve, was surprised by a company of fifty pleasure seekers of South Keene, who after participating in a pleasant chat and partaking of a most palatable repast, such as the South Keene people are celebrated in producing, retired to their several homes in good spirits.

It is now time to advertise for the spring trade. The JOURNAL circulates in every school district within the trading radius of Lowell and is the best and cheapest medium of advertising that can be had. Hand in your advertising now and get the benefit of it early in the season.

To those that do not fully understand the meaning of Fancy Dress Party, given by the Lowell Band, No. 2, March 30. We would simply state that it is similar to a masquerade with the exception of the masks, no masks being worn, which makes it more comfortable for those participating.

Mrs. Strong and some of her pupils gave a very pleasant musicale in the public parlor at Train's hotel Saturday night. Her pupils participating were: Alice Eaton, Nettie Wilson, Flora Andrews of Saranac, Winne Hatch, Kate Enos, Ruby Hine and Minnie Morse. They acquitted themselves admirably at the piano and Warren Wilson showed much promise as a cornetist. Mrs. Strong played two piano solos with the skill of an artist and sang "Oh, ve tears" in an excellent voice.

Michigan soldiers residing in Lowell and vicinity who desire to procure the book entitled "Michigan in the War," will find blank applications at the store of Hunt & Hunter in this village, where a list is now being filled out, which, when completed, will be sent to Lansing and the books will then all be shipped together to this place. It will be necessary for each soldier to make out his application with alidavit before procuring the book. Call at Hunt and Hunter's and file your application at once.

Let there be a Full Vote.

The spring elections will soon be upon us. In addition to the regular township tickets there will be a state ticket in the field. The true political sentiment of a state or community can be ascertained only in one way, viz. in the casting of a full vote. Will not the electors this spring see to it that the true sentiment of the people is made known at the polls? Let every voter do his duty in that direction. See that your names are properly registered and then be at the polls on election day.

The Journal Would Like To Know.
If the citizens of Lowell want another railroad.

If they do why they don't go to work and make an effort to get one.

If our people think it will pay to sit still and let a cut-off be built from some point south to Ionia?

If anybody really believes that another railroad would not benefit Lowell.

If our business men are all content to slide along in the old easy way of doing nothing for the town, while the business men in other towns are putting forth their best efforts to build up and induce capital to come and invest with them.

Put a pin here.

Lowell will have another railroad or a cut-off east and perhaps north.

Another railroad here would add 1000 to our population in two years, bring our freights right to our doors, give us the benefit of competing lines which is reduced rates, give us the privilege of sending and receiving telegrams without going a mile to a telegraph office, enhance the value of real and personal property, stimulate business, build up our manufacturing interests and improve our markets.

It is only a question of time when a railroad will be built to this point from the south or to some near point east of us from the south. We can prevent it coming here but we cannot prevent it going elsewhere. Like sensible business men what is our duty?

The Oglethorpe, Ga., Echo states as a singular incident that at the outbreak of the war, two companies from that county, the Cobb Infantry and the Gilmore Blues started out with the same number men, had the same number killed, the same number wounded, the same number dead from natural causes and the same number dead from wounds.

Senator Vest, having been cornered by women sufferers, stopped them at the argument that women were as competent as men to fill any office—governor, senator, justice of the peace constable, and so forth, exclaimed that he couldn't think of going home to kiss a justice of the peace or telling a friend that he loved a constable; and then fled from the field.

During the icy season the sparrows roosted in a Canton, O., tree found themselves one morning imprisoned by the ice which, during the night, had encased the branches, and released themselves by picking the ice from around their feet. Some papers don't believe this, but those with guileless conscience do. We do.

A bill has been introduced into the Legislature of Texas to punish by fine the use of 'profane or vociferous language in the vicinity of a dwelling house.' If the law were passed and enforced, Texas would shortly have the fattest bank account in the country.

That was an economical couple who a Chattanooga justice of the peace found sitting on the doorstep of his office the other morning. They requested him to marry them as quickly as possible, as the groom did not want to be doctored on his day's work, and had no time to lose.

Some idea of the active work being done by Mormon missionaries may be gleaned from the fact that one of their papers, in its last issue, publishes reports from twenty-eight saints who were seeking converts as far West as Nevada, as far South as Alabama and as far North as Oregon.

The inhabitants of the Sandwich Islands are very fond of shrimps, and eat them uncooked. It is no uncommon sight, at a banquet in that country, to see the crawling things tumble off the plates and squirm over the table. The islanders, however, scoop them up and go on eating as unconcerned as possible.

There is much worldly wisdom expressed in the remark of a Nevada Chinaman, who was angered by being refused payment for laundry work done by him. A friend tried to pacify him by telling him that there are no good men in the world. 'Oh yes,' replied the Mongolian, 'two good men. One him dead, nudda one him no born.'

The widely-spread rumor that Mrs. Theodore Tilton had been obliged to become a nurse in order to obtain a livelihood is pronounced by a friend without a particle of truth. She does not weigh more than seventy or eighty pounds, and is of such an excessively nervous temperament that she is more apt to need a nurse herself than to act as one for anybody else.

The meanest man in the world lives in Trenton, N. J. He recently engaged two boys to shovel the snow off his sidewalk. About 100 square feet of walk had to be cleaned. The boys worked like beavers for more than half an hour, while the man watched them from his window. When the work was completed he raised his window and handed them a cent apiece.

A few days ago a large statue of D. O'Connell, in Limerick, was daubed over with yellow paint, giving the Irish patriot instead of his favorite green, an orange garb. With this measure to the knowledge of Mr. Ambrose Hall, one of the magistrates for the city of Limerick, he denounced the proceeding as 'the most diabolical outrage ever perpetrated in Ireland.'

A Boston ragman, who had received injuries while it was thought would prove fatal was laid out in his own wagon and consigned to a hospital. While en route he became conscious, and, seizing the reins with the remark, 'S'pose I'm going to be buggered through Boston like a corpse!' stimulated his horse with a vigorous kick and drove to his home.
