TEARS OFF THE MASK.

The truly good Begole, who has been trying to deceive the people on the free pass question, has finally had his mask torn off with a sudden jerk. Monday's Post & Tribune publishes several autograph letters of Gov. Begole, reproduced by photo-engraving from the originals, asking Dr. Potter of the F. & P. M. Railroad to send him (the Governor) 500-mile tickets. Dec. 1, 1882, the Governor wrote for one of those "little red books" (500 mile tickets) and at the same time requested Potter not to issue free passes to members of the Legislature. Dec. 4, the Governor acknowledged the receipt of the "little red book" with "thanks." June 2, 1883 the Gov. requested Potter to send him one more of those "500-mile pass books," "also one for Mrs. Begole," for which he has never paid nor offered payment. Get Monday's Post & Tribune and read the letters and note the orthography. See extracts from the Greenback state platform of 1882, adopted by the convention that nominated Begole. Here is one: "We will support no candidate for any official position who will not pledge himself that if elected he will not accept from any corporation a free pass on any railroad or public conveyance, or its equivalent, while holding official position." And Gov. Begole said in his speech of acceptance that he wanted a law passed making the offer of a pass to any public officer "a crime to be punished." The Post & Tribune has done good service in this tearing the mask from the face of the chief political hypocrite of Michigan. There are other evidences to be produced—several other railroads to hear from. O. Reform (?) (such as Begole practices) thy name has become a stench in the nostrils of decent men.

STILL THEY COME.

Niles Republican: "The Hon. R. G. Horr told us in conversation but a few days ago that he had seen Gov. Begole's letter asking the Flint and Pere Marquette for a gratuitous 1,000 mile ticket. The letter is in existence and can easily be procured, to confound the silly twaddle by which our chief help tries to dodge the free pass so unfortunately and uncomfortably forced upon him." Surely the governor of Michigan cannot be guilty of coupling hypocrisy with prevarication—Lansing Republican.
Yes, and another gentleman, as truthful a man as lives in the state, informed us last winter that he had seen the same letter referred to above. There is no lack of evidence to convince the people of Michigan of the governor's double-dealing. Cut the cards as he may, the jack of clubs will strike him every time he denies the free pass charge.—Hastings Banner.
Grand Rapids Leader please copy.

—Our cute little brother, who does the soap-bubble work for the Grand Rapids Leader, is distressed in his little mind because the editor of the JOURNAL who uses free passes himself should upbraid Gov. Begole for doing the same thing. Our little brother, however, knows very well that his point is not well taken. He knows very well that nothing would have been said about Gov. Begole's free passes had not the Governor so vigorously denounced the use of free passes when he was nominated and again when he was inaugurated and at other times and places. He insisted that the free pass should "go" and that to abolish it should be one of the reform (?) steps taken by the greenback party. He made a great ado over free passes during the campaign and tried to make votes on that issue. After his election he not only accepted free passes and free 1000-mile tickets but sent for them for himself and wife, written evidence of which fact is on file. The editor of the Leader, the greenback organ of Grand Rapids and a meek and lowly follower of Josiah, uses free passes himself. Greenback members of the legislature and other greenback officials used free passes last winter. Ask Gen. Innis, Chairman Fuller of the Greenback State Central Committee, and other greenbackers in authority and you will find they ride on free passes. We don't know as any of these have tried to conceal the fact, but Gov. Begole has. It is his hypocrisy and deceit we condemn, not the free pass he uses. Does our little brother grasp this gigantic idea? Is he capable of discerning the difference between honesty and hypocrisy?

—It takes Rowley of the Lansing Journal to rejoice over defeat. He absorbs consolation from the election returns, which is more than other democratic editors can do. To most people it looks as though the Republicans had won about every heat in the race in the November elections. They certainly achieved greater victories than were looked for by the most sanguine. They elected the head of their State ticket and a handsome majority of the Legislature in New York, a large majority of the Connecticut legislature, buried Ben Butler by over 10,000 in Massachusetts, carried Pennsylvania by nearly 20,000; elected everything as usual in Minnesota and Nebraska; a mayor and other officers in Detroit, and left only Mississippi, New Jersey, Virginia and Maryland to the Democrats. Last year the Democrats carried New York by nearly 300,000 majority; and carried Pennsylvania and Massachusetts. This year the tidal wave was the other way. The Republicans are left in excellent shape for the contest next year and with the right ticket in the field will march on to another national victory under the banner of equal rights and protection to home industries.

—An Evening News reporter on Monday "interviewed" officers of various railroads in regard to Gov. Begole's free passes, and although the reporter did his best to shield the Governor in his report it will be seen that the officers of only one road stand particularly that the Governor has no passes over their line. All other answers were evasive—such as he never applied for passes &c. when it is well known that passes were sent to him and accepted and used by him without being "applied" for. The Detroit Evening Journal reviews the Post & Tribune's expose of Begole and says: "The Evening Journal has given him credit for an honest effort to serve the people, and has commended his administration, but in view of his record on the free pass question he can only be regarded as a canting hypocrite. It must be a humiliating spectacle to the supporters of the Governor to find his own acts so completely at variance with his professions, and it is not likely that the people of Michigan will be imposed upon again by an alleged reformer. Begole may as well prepare to go."

—The cleanest and best man on the democratic state ticket in New York was badly defeated, running nearly 30,000 votes behind his ticket. That man was Hon. Isaac H. Maynard, the democratic nominee for secretary of State. He was too pure, too clean for the democracy of N. Y. City and was ruthlessly slaughtered. The writer has known Mr. Maynard for many years and knows he is away from home, and out of his sphere, when in company with such political blatherskites as control the politics of N. Y. City. A man of his character and standing has no business to place himself, or allow others to place him, in the hands and at the mercy of a Kelly constituency, the vilest of all political entourages. Maynard ought to be convinced by this time that he has been training with the wrong crowd.

—The great Art Loan exhibition in Detroit closed last Saturday. It has been a grand success from the start—shrewdly managed. The State press advertised it thoroughly and gratuitously and does not begrudge its donations of space and work. As an enterprise its success depended upon good management; as an exhibition its success depended upon the liberality of the art contributors. During its brief existence the attendance was about 135,000. It is now proposed to establish a permanent art exhibition in Detroit and the project is likely to succeed. The temporary exhibition called to the city many thousands of people who left there many thousands of dollars. A motion to make the temporary show permanent is certainly in order, and Detroit sees it.

—To think that Bob Toombs has become a truly good and pious man is enough to make one look longingly, if not hopefully, after that other Bob who went for Moses. What a pair of Bobs they would make, though, if they should both turn evangelists and go out like Moody and Sankey to convert the world.

—Chamberlain, the late democratic candidate for mayor of Detroit, paid dearly for the honor of a nomination. He was not only beaten at the polls but had to pull his wallet after election and pay out large sums of money for work done in his behalf. The dead horse fetched a big price.

—Congressman-elect Houseman of this district is reported as having said he should vote for John G. Carlisle, Kentucky, for speaker of the House of Representatives. Most of the democrats of the Michigan delegation will probably vote for Carlisle, who is a pronounced tree-trader. The slate has been fixed up.

—Wisconsin's new state capitol tumbled down last Thursday, killing and wounding many workmen. The cause of the crash was not a cyclone but faulty construction. The contractors ought to confine their operations to the building of small barns and sheds.
—The plaintive Grand Rapids Leader says Ben Butler was beaten "by chicanery, fraud, corruption and bribery—the usual Republican weapons." As there is not the slightest excuse for such an assertion it is supposed the editor of the Leader talks in his sleep.
—Butler says he'll go to congress and raise Cain there. He isn't Abel.

—Bro. Bates, of the Grand Traverse Herald, finding too many irons in the fire for him to look after, has resigned as postmaster of his city and will give his whole time and attention to his paper, which is one of the best and most profitable in the state.

—Charley Hampton, of Harbor Springs, made eloquent speeches for Butler in Massachusetts and wrote home interesting letters, confidently predicting Butler's triumphant election; and if we shed tears over the result it will be for Charley, not for Butler.

—Senator Palmer is one of Michigan's most brilliant speakers and when he makes a speech in the United States Senate it will be heard all over the country. Wait and see if that isn't so.
—The Republican party must "go!" Well he's got the pole and strikes the last quarter ahead. And now see him come up the home stretch! Ain't he a daisy?
—Gov. Cleveland's city, Buffalo, gave a good majority for the Republican state ticket. Gov. Cleveland has not been feeling well for some time.

—King Kalakaua is only 36 years old and his wife is 44. When she was a modest sweet sixteen he had not yet emerged from his last speaking scene.
—John B. Gough has lectured in Boston 393 times, says a Boston paper. This makes him out to be the main spoke in the Hub. Eh? We say spoke.

—The editor of the G. R. Leader kindly offers to send us his card and we're experts of the "Jack-of-clubs" by next mail.
—Perhaps it is just as well that Mahone has lost his grip. He isn't just the type of statesman this country is painfully in need of.

—President Arthur has given the country a sample of wise administration. The country made order some more of the same.

—It is now claimed that a good quality of paper can be made of grass. Easy way to get up an agricultural paper.
—Bob Toombs has quit swearing and joined the church. Don't know whether he has joined the Union yet or not.

—Ben Butler was 65 years of age on election day—N. Y. Tribune. We noticed he didn't "run like 60."

—Blaine's success as an author is so great that he has already become a grandfather.
—Tilden's chances for re-nomination are quoted a little stronger since Butler tumbled.

—"The Republican party must go"—right ahead and elect some more presidents.
—We s'pose Ben Butler will come out next year as a fungated reformer, won't he?

—Butler didn't know Robinson was loaded.
—Ohio simply rubbed the Republican ear and said "sic 'em."

JOURNAL JOTTINGS.

Young man, take time by the Langtry bang.
Our Clarksville correspondent is a welcome contributor.
E. R. Colnar has moved into his residence on the east side.
The Grand Rapids base ball club will bat its way through another year.
"Charity covers a multitude of sins," but not if some folks can help it.
Rev. D. O. Ball preached from the congregational pulpit Sunday night.
Mrs. Nellie Wilson (nee Horsford), of N. Y. State, is visiting Lowell friends.
Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hatch and son "Gil" were at the Sherman china wedding.
Next year will be Leap Year. Will the ladies of Lowell make New Year calls?
Friday's Hastings Banner says they want $18,000 more to secure the new railroad.
M. E. Social at the Parsonage on Friday evening of this week. Every body invited.
Rev. B. Morley, formerly of Lowell, is now pastor of the Baptist church at Ludington.
Nellie Mosher teaches in the Cheetham district, not at Lowell Center, as hitherto announced.
D. Stocking was organist and Anna Hunter soprano at the Congregational church last Sunday.
D. O'Brien has moved his saloon into the building formerly occupied by J. H. Wood, on the west side.
Prof. Franklin has gone to St. Johns to teach German, and says he expects to return to Lowell later.
Sunday's terrible gale was very disastrous on the lakes. Seven men were drowned at Petoskey.
Mr. & Mrs. C. W. Campbell and daughter Blanche, of Marshall, are visiting Lowell friends.
C. H. Kniffin, foreman of the JOURNAL office, rides a quadricycle of his own invention and challenges Jay Eye See to a 20-mile dash.
Willie Purple, who accidentally shot himself in the right foot one day last week, is still laid up waiting for the wounded member to recover.

L. W. Davis, "mine host" of the Hewitt House at Mair, will give a Thanksgiving party on Wednesday evening Nov. 28.

J. C. West returned from Dakota Saturday night. He has faith in Dakota's future—that it will be bright as the morning star.

Sanitary convention at Ionia Dec. 13 & 14 under the auspices of the State board of health. Alex. W. Dodge, of Ionia, secretary.
The "Salvation Army" is headed toward Grand Rapids, and if you see the editor of the Leader streaking it toward Omaha, bring him back.
Joseph Wilson Post, No. 87, G. A. R., anticipate a grand reunion of oldvets at their Thanksgiving party at Music Hall, Thursday evening, Nov. 29.

Mrs. I. E. Strong visited friends at Flint and St. Johns last week and Miss Libbie Van Wagner has been spending a few days with friends at Portland.
There will also be a Thanksgiving dance at Train's Hall Thursday night, Nov. 29, under the management of Messrs Train, Speaker and Ransford.

C. A. Kniffin is "mine host" of a hotel at Mackinac City. He sent a big box of fish fresh herring to Lowell friends last week, which were stowed away with thanks.

A plank removed from the sidewalk north of the congregational church leaves a hole large enough and deep enough for a child to fall into. Ought to be attended to before somebody breaks a leg.

A. Romig paid a fine for assaulting O. Knowlton, and the statements made at the examination led to the arrest of Fred Snyder for selling liquor on Sunday.

A drunken man attempted to choke Barrister Burt Saturday night. A bystander mopped the sidewalk with the assailant's agile form, just a little, and he arose and went hence a meeker and wiser man.

An additional telephone line has been put up between Lowell and Grand Rapids, and poles have been erected here for the Lowell exchange. Ten or twelve more instruments will probably be put in here this week.

The little two-year-old son of Mr. & Mrs. Frank Knapp was fearfully scalded the other day by falling into a pail of hot water. Hopes are entertained of the child's recovery, although his case has been a critical one.

The Lowell Mills, owned by Chas. T. Wooding of this place some days ago, will go into his possession to-morrow. What plans are laid for the mill's future operations we are unable to state at this time.

The Sparta Sentinel has a new head and new dress and presents a very handsome appearance. The Sentinel is flourishing and it ought to prosper; it deserves the substantial support of the people in that vicinity.

At the special school meeting of Dist. No. 1, held last Wednesday night, a resolution instructing the Moderator and Assessor of said district to defend the Bible-in-school suit, was adopted by 71 to 0.

Ira Angell, an unmarried man who lived with his father in Caledonia township, committed suicide Friday by shooting himself in the head with a shot gun. About six weeks ago he was struck on the head by a limb from a tree, and it is thought that the hurt received at that time affected his brain.

One more young man has been found who doesn't know how to handle a revolver. Charles Nelson, of Ithaca, this state, killed his sister Anna, Saturday, by snapping a revolver which he thought was not loaded. Both children of Rev. S. Nelson of that place. A most distressing affair.

The Kent county teachers had an interesting meeting in Grand Rapids last week. Prof. Stuart, of Lowell, led the discussion on "How shall teachers be educated to the use of professional help?" The next meeting will be held in Grand Rapids on the third Saturday in January.

Program for L. L. C. Nov. 23: 1, each member to respond with quotation from the writings of Victor Hugo; 2, Life sketch of Victor Hugo, Mrs. Brower; 3, song, Mrs. A. W. Hine; 4, recitation, Mrs. Pease; 5, Reading, Matilda of Scotland, wife of Henry 1st, Mrs. F. B. Hine; 6, Music, Mrs. Barber; 7, humorous reading, Mrs. Dougall. The L. L. C. will meet at 3 o'clock instead of 3:30.

In answer to many inquiries, recently made, the JOURNAL replies that there will be no session of the Legislature the coming winter. The editor of the JOURNAL expects to do the editorial work and attend to the business details of his office from now on—henceforth and forever—or at least so long as he remains in possession of the JOURNAL. Now is the time to subscribe.

Married—At the residence of the bride's parents, Thursday eve, Nov. 8, by Rev. C. Oldfield, Mr. Frank C. Alger and Miss Ella M. Robinson, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. L. J. Robinson. A large company was there and the presents were rich and numerous. The handsome bride and her worthy protector are spending a few weeks east. While congratulations are still in order, there are two vacant chairs at the old home and perhaps "hearts that are lonely." Such is life.

J. Q. Look attends the druggists' convention at Lansing this week.

Chas. McCarty desires the JOURNAL to state that he signed the paper asking for an injunction to restrain Bible reading in our school under a wrong impression and therefore withdraws as a complainant in the case.

The largest clothing house in Grand Rapids is owned by Mr. I. C. Levi, who sends the JOURNAL his advertisement for a year. The Star Clothing House has a wide reputation and deservedly so. Those of our readers who do their trading in Grand Rapids will do well to call there and examine Mr. Levi's mammoth stock.

We understand Mr. Rork paid his respects to the JOURNAL Sunday morning. If he deems his remarks of sufficient importance to be heard by the public ear, and will kindly send us a manuscript copy of the same, we shall be pleased to give them publicity by publishing them in the JOURNAL.

Regular meeting of W. C. T. U. at Mrs. Hodges, Friday 2:30. 1. Response to call with name of some temperance worker and incident connected with same. 2. Report of National Convention by Mrs. D. M. Church and others. 3. Select reading by Mrs. E. R. Peck—"The last saloon of Lemport"—exhibiting relic of said saloon.
COM.

W. S. Stocking, wife and daughter of Fort Benton, Montana, are at F. D. Stocking's. Mr. S. has had many years of "roughing it" in the wild west and can fill a big book with thrilling incidents of his own personal knowledge and experiences. He has well earned the riches he now possesses and with his family will spend the winter in travel. He is a brother to F. D. Stocking and a very interesting man to meet.

The regulation weight of a new born babe is nine pounds, but the one that arrived at Mr. & Mrs. L. J. Post's Saturday night was two pounds better than this. It was a fine eleven pound boy and the young candidate for president is lucky to find himself in such good hands. L. J. P. has hitherto been famous for raising big crops and now he holds up a premium boy worth $2,000 in cash and leaves a box of prime cigars at the JOURNAL office in honor of the event. May the young man live to be an honor to his parents and his country.

A China Wedding.
The 29th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Sherman was very pleasantly celebrated at their residence Monday night. The house was filled with friends at 8 o'clock and for about three hours the company were handsomely entertained socially, musically and otherwise. An elegant full set of table china ware and other useful and ornamental pieces were presented to the worthy twin, Rev. Mr. Eaton during the ceremony, on behalf of the friends, in a very happy manner. Compliments louder than words were bestowed upon the refreshments then served and at 11 o'clock, after having spent a delightful season of three hours duration, the company departed, leaving their best benedictions upon the heads of those they left behind them and wishing them all sorts of good things for the future.

Dr. Spencer was called on business to Ionia the most of last week.

In company with Miss Nellie Judd, who soon returns to her home in Waterloo, N. Y., "Mand" visited the Detroit Art Loan. No common article can give an idea of the charming things in painting, sculpture, ancient curiosities, and almost every art under the sun.

Nov. 9, seventy-six friends and neighbors gathered unexpectedly at the home of Mrs. Dimick, and her son, Lewis Brown, giving them a real surprise, while for friend Lewis it proved not a lasting one. The company thinking to give him a gentle reminder that he was of marriageable age, had a young man dressed in bridal array—false face, mosquito netting veil, peculiar wedding dress, with legging, etc., who was suddenly placed by Lewis' side, and while he was recovering from his astonishment, O. L. Watkins Esq. said the words that make a couple, one. A supper followed that would be a credit to a real wedding, brought by assembled guests with these gifts: Set of silver teaspoons, sugar spoon, ancient knife, fork and spoon, spoon, center table, comfortable easy chair for Lewis "in his declining years," with other testimonials of regard. The friends left Lewis lamenting the disappearance of his transitory bride who left as strangely as she came. MAUD.

CLARKSVILLE CHAT.

EDITOR JOURNAL.—As quite a number of your papers are weekly distributed at this office perhaps a few items from here would be accepted.

Our "ville" is slowly improving, the latest addition being a store erected by M. J. Griswold.

The Merrill family have moved into the house lately owned and occupied by Dr. Youngs.

Jas. B. Post has repainted his house making a decided improvement in its appearance.

The Freeport and Clarksville B. B. nines played a matched game of ball on the latter grounds, Nov. 3 resulting in a score of 20 to 40 in favor of the home club.

Mr. Alfred Hunt residing two miles west of this place is dangerously sick.

Mr. & Mrs. Weaver of Walled Lake, Oakland Co., are visiting at C. L. Howard's.

Mr. Robarge and family from York State, relatives of M. Ferney, will soon here until they find a permanent location.

At a recent meeting of the citizens of Clarksville and vicinity, it was decided to give $500 to any man that would erect a first-class grist mill at this place, with two run of stone. No one need apply unless they mean business.

There is also a good opening for a wagon maker, and no physician nearer than Saranac. C. L. H.

Free Trade Degrades Labor. Many readers of the JOURNAL, especially of the greenback persuasion, valued the opinions of the late Peter Cooper as much as those of any other public man. Here is his opinion of free trade:

"The free traders of other countries have tried to persuade us to adopt their teachings. Should they be adopted our mechanics would be forced to work for starvation wages or abandon their trades and become competitors of the agricultural laborers of the country. Our country would, if those theories were adopted, be reduced to the condition of Ireland, Spain and Mexico. We would produce the raw materials and others would do the manufacturing. Such a policy would bring ruin upon hundreds of thousands of American workmen who have nothing to sell but their labor. Should the tariff be reduced 25 per cent it would cost us at least $1,000,000,000. Free trade in England produced a condition of wretchedness among the working people and gave them barely sufficient to maintain life. The effect in America would be similar."
